[SPECIAL TO THE CLAIM.]

New York, Nov. 9.—Robt Peary, the Arctic explorer, arrived at Hopedale, Labrador, on the homeward voyage. Peary got to within 203 miles of the pole, 87 degrees, 6 minutes, north latitude. He now holds the record.

Portsmouth, Nov. 9.—Some 600 British sailors mutined here and wrecked the canteen. They started to break out of barracks and were only prevented by fixed bayonets in the hands of an overwhelming force. The trouble arose from the senior officer wishing to reprimand for breach of discipline. He ordered the front rank to kneel so that he could see the men in the rear. The men resented the order.

Shanghai, Nov. 9.—A terrible famine is on. The conditions are of a most desperate nature throughout the province of Kiang Su, ten millions of people are slowly starving, through the failure of the crops. The scenes of suffering and want are heartrending, the calamity rivals any in the Empire's history. Food riots are occurring daily and many people being killed in the struggle.

North Battleford, Nov. 9.—News of a big gold strike is reported, at Purling, a water tank on the Canadian Northern railway, 40 miles west of this place.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 9.—The returns so far seem to indicate the reelection of Governor Gooding. The plurality shows heavy losses from the vote of 1904.

Denver, Col., Nov. 9.—Incomplete returns are sufficient to show that the republicans are certain to be elected on the state, congressional and judicial tickets. The republican majority in the legislature will elect a senator to succeed Thomas Patterson.

Hongkong, Nov. 9.—A terrible conflagration is raging here. It has already consumed a large portion of the city.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—It has been decided by the officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific to use the Yellowhead pass to reach the Pacific coast.

Letters have been received at Victoria, from Capt. Mikkelsen, of The Duchess of Bedford, which left there early last May in search of lands supposed to exist west of Banks island. San Francisco is still in trouble. Heavy wind storms have caused the collapse of many ruins and walls left standing since the earthquake. Cordons have been placed around dangerous places to prevent accidents. The city authorities have decided to wreck the more dangerous ruins, many of which are swaying with the wind.

A Milwaukee despatch says:—Joe Gans has established a precedent in the pugilistic world, by relinquishing his title to the championship that rightfully belonged to him. Hereafter he will only fight as a light weight, and will never again lay claim to the welterweight title. He held both titles, and those who believed the colored wonder had trouble recently in getting down to 132 pounds, the lightweight limit, are surprised he does not prefer the 142 pound class.

The citizens of San Francisco are ripe for a riot on account of 'Boss' Abe Ruef having District Attorney Langdon removed and himself taking the position. Dramatic scenes took place in the court room at the appointment. Over 100 police protected Ruef from the fury of the people. THE PROSPECTOR.

No new mining district will become famous without the aid of the prospector. Hence let us do what is in our power to help and encourage him. Anything that discourages the prospector gives a set-back to the development of mining in a new country such as this. When mines have been opened, mills set going, railways built to carry ore and to bring in supplies and fuel, then a prospector becomes as useless as a soldier in time of peace. But it will be some time before we reach such a state of development. The greater part of this country is yet untrodden. Areas equal in extent to some of the old-world kingdoms, barely know the imprint of the prospector's boot. Prospecting is hard work, and only those of indomitable will, energy and love of adventure, are fitted for the occupation.

Many people about town have an entirely erroneous impression of the prospector. They see him sitting around, with his shoulders hunched up and his hat drawn over his eyes. He is shy of strangers and suspicious of the city grafter. Sometimes, when he has made the sale of a 'prospect,' after months of hard and difficult work, he is flush for the time being and starts out to create a whisky famine, inviting and expecting everybody to lend him assistance in his mistaken endeavors. This is not always the case, but it is a picture often seen.

But follow this same person into the lonely wilderness or up the steep mountain passes. Share with him all the privations and dangers of his calling. Sometimes he is fighting the elements, against fearful odds, for a bare chance of life, and often suffering the pangs of hunger and the agonies of thirst. You will then see the prospector at his best and quickly change your opinion of him, wondering and amazed at the calm courage with which he overcomes obstacles and his seeming indifference to danger.

Let our law makers and those in authority in high places bear these facts in mind, and make the road of the prospector no more difficult than nature has ordained it to be.

EVOLUTION OF MINING.

None of the leading American industries have made greater progress than mining. There is as much difference between the modern stamp mill or the hydraulic giant and the arrastra and rocker of 40 years ago, as there is between the modern Pullman car and the old time stage coach. Present indications lead us to believe that America will be known to the world, above all things else, as a mining country. Gold is being found in the least expected places, and the Eldorados, Bonanzas and Golcondas are no longer confined to a few favored districts.

Though but a little over 50 years of age, the mining industry of America is yet in its infancy. The uncovering of vast bodies of ore that carry their values in rebellious composition, is making necessary the invention, discovery and manufacture of new machines and methods for the extraction of metals. And so the process goes on, increasing and enlarging until the mind is dwarfed in an attempt to comprehend the possibilities of the future.

The progress in the methods of placer mining has been no less than that of quartz. The great hydraulic mines of the west began with a rocker, a pan and a hardy miner. The same auriferous diggings where today the giants are hurling their mighty streams against the gravel banks, were first scratched over by the prospector's shovel. In the early days mining was a gamble, now it is a business, a conservative business, in which capital and enterprise are the prominent features. —Mining World.

GINACA'S INVENTION.

The many friends of Mr. Louis Ginaca, one of the pioneers of this camp, and late of McKee creek, will be pleased to learn of the good fortune of himself and his brother, as appears by the following article in the "Commercial Advertiser," of Honolulu, of 2nd ult.

"There has been a test of the Ginaca cane harvester. Nobody had heard much about it; there was no excitement on the streets and no meetings of the chamber of commerce; yet there is reason to believe that this harvester will revolution the cane business and simplify the labor problem in this territory as much as the cotton gin did the staple industry and the labor problem of the Southern States.

The Ginaca cane harvester is expected to do the work of 16 men in the sugar fields. The principle of cutting the cane and cutting it right has been worked out and practically applied. But one thing remains to complete the machine, and that is more traction power. The wheels which are depended upon to carry the harvester along the furrows are not big enough. But they can easily be made larger so that the Ginaca machine can move with the certainty of a well-ordered automobile.

What a harvester that will dispense with the work of 16 men means to the sugar interests and to general interests of Hawaii, every intelligent reader can figure out for himself."

In writing, Mr. Ginaca says he still has a warm spot for Atlin, and will be back month during the next year or so.

ATLIN WHIST CLUB.

The first meeting of the Whist Club was held last Monday evening at the Club house. Dr. Cameron was elected president, and R. B. Anderson secretary, for the ensuing season. The club will meet on Monday night of each week. Mr. J. A. Fraser has kindly placed the court room at the disposal of the club for the remainder of the season.

As soon as the business was over the tables were arranged and play began, resulting as follows: Fraser-Smith 2, vs. Williams-Dowling 1, Bourne-Wheeling 2, vs. Cameron-Hathorne 1, Burnside-Gigot 1, vs. Falconer-Cullin 1.

It hoped as many as possible will turn out to the next meeting, when the regular series of games will be started and official scores kept.

A visitor calling on an Irishman, who had the credit of being a lively heckler at political meetings, said: "'Mike, what's that you have in the glass case?'

"Sure that's a brick I got agin me head last election."

"And what's that little flower on the top of it for?"

"Well, sor, that flower is from the grave iv the man who threw the brick."

The servant girl problem solved: "'Wanted—Competent young nurse, for one child, good chance, man kept.—Advertiser, Vancouver."

About the dearest thing on earth is a cheap man.

A one inch single belt travelling at the rate of 600 feet per minute will transmit one horse power.

The measurement of a horse's power of work was founded upon the basis that the average brewery horse was capable of raising 330 lbs 100 feet in a minute, or 33,000 lbs one foot in one minute. When man put horses to work the gain in labor was ten-fold.

Local Events.

Rev. E. Turkington is in charge of the Presbyterian church at Whitehorse.

Dan Clacher and Frank Wallace came in Wednesday with 170 lbs. of mail. There is very little snow on the trail. They left again Thursday morning for Log Cabin.

Geo. Cassells, Hugh Connon R. McDonald, Murdoch Beeton and Norman Fisher left for the outside, with the mail carriers, Thursday. Norman will stop at Log Cabin.

Jack Perkinson, Tom White, Nat Murphy and George Neill have departed on a moose hunt. They intend to corral all the big game in the vicinity of Fourth of July.

A burning flue in the bank building caused a little excitement last Thursday morning. Fire Chief Rosselli, after examination, reported 'all's well, no damage'.

S. O. Wheelock, one time a resident of this district, died at Woodburn, Ore., Oct. 15, of hemorhage of the lungs. Age 68 years. He leaves a widow son and daughter.

W. P. Grant and Frank Brackett have been appointed by Governor McInnes to represent Atlin on the board of directors for the Alaska-Yukon Exposition. Col. Conrad represents Conrad.

Steamer Blair Athol is ashore, in a bay south of McKee creek, the result of wind storms last week. Up to the present time the wrecking crew has not succeeding in getting her off.

Mr. Robt. Grierson called yesterday. He informed us he had for the past two or three days been cutting grass on the ice. What must be the ideas of our eastern farmers when they read of cutting grass on the ice.

Frank and Mrs. Mobley, in company with Louis Gierke, returned from a three week's hunt at the head of the lake. The party was very successful, bagging no less than five moose. Mrs. Mobley had the honor of bringing down the first. One of the heads is a splendid specimen, measuring almost five feet spread.

The domestic bliss of two of the residents of Spruce creek received a severe jarring last week. The male member of the household, so 'tis reported, seized hold of his gun, with the intention of perforating his loving spouse, who had gently aroused him from his peaceful slumbers with a potato masher. He succeeded in boring a few holes in the roof and walls of the cabin. The only fatality that occurred was the lamented death of the faithful yellow dog 'Barney,' who innocently stopped one of the bullets in its flight.

We state on good authority, that, if arrangements now pending be completed, one and probably two steam shovels will be working on O'Donnell river next summer. The property has been bonded by Mr. J. S. Templin, representing a Seattle company. On his last visit he stated he would have machinery in the camp early in June.

ARCTIC BROTHERHOOD.

The A. B. meeting held in Discovery last Tuesday was well attended. Robt. Webster and Walter Sweet were initiated into the mysteries of the Brotherhood and safely guided over the pass. Gold Commission Fraser was present and in a very neat little speech complimented the Camp on the good results accruing from the Brotherhood in this district.

An endeavor will be made by the Brothers in Atlin to visit Discovery at an early date. Camp Discovery is one of the strongest in the Brotherhood, reaching close to the 150 mark.
