The Skagway Alaskan, printed our obituary notice a few days ago, assigning our demise to starvation. Probably the Alaskan was unaware of the Doctor's absence from Skagtown for a few weeks when he was fixing up and sharpening our grinders to enable us to live on dead subscriptions, when live ones played out. The Doctor should notify the Alaskan before leaving, in future, especially when he is on such humain missions.

"The Japs have gone - - - - "was heard on several sides last Saturday morning. It was really amusing to listen to some of the "Hot Guff" about them, and at the same time watch how every one who had anything to dispose of, wet or dry, was pleased to sell to the Yellow Boy, (but such are the kings of the berg)

This paper does not and never did favor the importation of Japs in to Canada, and especially that part of it known as Brititish Columbia, but as the laws of the Great Dominion say, they can come they're Allies, and a lot more rot, all we,ve got left is our kick and vote. The man who runs next year for the Dominion House of Commons who will pledge to alter things in this respect will get our vote and a plumper at that.

The Japs have gone, whether they'll come back next year we do not know, we hope not. We do not think they did any white man out of a job, we may be mistaken and would like to be put right. If they do come back it will be as well to remember they have a right to come, dont attack them, attack those in high places, our politicians, whose principal friends after elections are big corporations and monied men, who employ labor, the cheaper the better. They are the only ones who can cure the ill.

Both the great political parties of the Dominion, are putting on their war paint and feathers, which by the way are easily taken off afterwards, and getting ready for the "Meet", the great meet next year, when all the horses will run. The differance between a great horse meet and a political one is that in the former the horses and in the latter the spectators are doped where necessary, not a particularly great difference. except the dope is a little different. However now is the time for the voters to do some quite thinking, and not wait till the excitement and turmoil of election is on. Make up your mind what is needed for your own District and British Columbia, in artipcular and the Dominion in General.

The big guns on both sides are on tour, listen to what they say and make up your minds which have the greatest immagination,

MUSINGS OF PADDY THE PIG.

"Sure you're young, very young, be sides being new at the business" Said Paddy the Pig, as he sipped a leamonade or somthing in a glass at Dave's; but take a tip from me, who has travelled most every where and knows men, and wimen too for that matter, like a book, men is men and pigs is pigs as the sayin goes, but lots of men are mostly pigs, now look at the Schotch, did you ever see a more cussed, pigheaded, savin, parsemonous lot of critters, they fill themselves up with chop feed and call it mush, why? because its cheap to buy, it costs nothing to cook it fills up quickly, and he can fool his stomach as to its being dear, besides it saves his mental anguish worying over the expense if he had used other grub.

Now there's another thing, if you find a snap you find a Scotty looking after it, they're every where, why I have seen red headed injun kids and as sure as he has the snap he hangs on like grim death, and gets very mysterious, and says what hard work it is, why he's so devlish mean, he's afeered some other fellow might like to play a hand.

I've known them to go to bed in cold weather to save fire, as its cheaper to wear out second hand coverings, then it was to buy second hand wood.

Then there's those merchant fellows, traders they call themselves,- rocks in the beans sand in the sugar, water in the salt, and flour full of mice holes, soes they can give a wee mite on the Sabb ath.

He weighs his hand and the paper and the string, and asks what you think about last Sundays sermon, and to make certain, weighs his hand again, they're a foine lot, but the others are most as bad, now take the Irish. There's one thing they cant do and that is lie and look you in the eye, they can do both sure enough, but not at the same time. You've got to go? well then just this about the Irish, look out for the fellow that's curly at both ends, curly legs and hair, he's most certain to be curly in the middle and inside and out, he cant see, his eyes are twisted, he says nice thing that should make a good fight, he wont fight because his hearts twisted, his mind is canted on one side, he'll do you and all his friends, especially the wimen. Now mind what I say, I was young once, and I got took in till I cut my back molars, now no curly haried, curly faced mick could have my old shoes unless I gave them to him on the curly part of his back.

On leaving Paddy I pondered over his words of wisdom in the main he is right, but not quite broad enough. I have known a few Scotch that would not fill the bill, however I will probably have an explanation even for the exceptions.

CONTINUED.

There was another hydraulic outfit working on Boulder this season, under the managment of Mr. H. Morse. This is not a very big concern, only working on an averge of three men for the season. Hydraulic work commenced June 1st. and was continued until the early part of October. This company was greatly hampered, like the French Company futher down stream, by the scarcity of water, and during the later portion of the season did not work full time.

Only one monitor was used, and during the time water was slack, the boulders and heavy material were removed by a derrick and cable way operated under hydraulic pressure certainly a labor saving and a cheap way to remove the great quantities of rock.

The average depth of dirt removed would run about 18 feet or slightly over. One cut some 200 feet long by about 35 feet in width was made and cleaned up, the oporations netting slightly over $3,000,00, not a very great return to be sure, but very fair for three mens work for so short a time. Mr. Morse did not get into his richer ground till late in the season, and then only in time to prepare for next summer's piping.

This winter he has some three men working with him under wages, dritting into the East bank of the creek, where he left off piping, he is in a depth of about 40 feet with his drive, and is sluicing the dirt and will continue so doing all winter. The ground produces an averaged about $1.30 per square foot of bedrock, and if continuing in any distance will give a nice return for the winters work. Next season Mr. Morse has his ground so arranged that he will handle about double the yardage at the same expense.

The other claims on Boulder paid fairly well, through some were held back by reason of others requiring the water, there not being enough to divide. Altogether the other mines produced in the neighborhood of $17,000,00, representing the work of about 14 men,

In all Boulder Creek produced this season in the neighborhood of $63,000,00.

WRIGHT CREEK.

On Wright Creek Messrs Kershaw and Partners completed their sixth season on the ground.

Work was commenced about the 11th. of May and continued until the begining of October, five men being employed, The ground has a average depth of 18 feet. Two cuts wer piped off, one 300 feet by 35 feet wide and another 140 feet long and 20 feet wide, in all the boys recovered a little over $7000, 00. They still have two or three seasons work on the claims.

There were three other outfits on the creek, and all had fairly good cleanups, in fact all made wages, good wages at that, and then some.

OTTER CREEK.

There are two Companies operating on Otter, one at the lower portion of the creek near its month, managed by M. R. Jameison, an account of which was given a few weeks ago, and the other about eight miles up the creek operated by Messrs Moran, Carmichael, and Steinmetz. This is the ground that was formerly opened up by these gentlemen and sold to Mr. Switzer under time bond, and which was subseqently handed back to the owners after a loss of some $75,000, 00 to Mr. Switzer through bad luck and bad management. Preparatory work was commenced April 25th. but it was May 25th. before water was turned through the monitors.

Work was carried on till the middle of October, like her Sister Creeks Boulder Wright and Birch, was very niggardly with her water during the late Summer and Fall so that after the end of July only a part shift at piping was done each day. About 22,000 cubic yards of gravel were removed uncovering some 21,000, square feet of bedrock, from which the owners recovered in the neighborhood of $7500.00. There were only five men engaged during the summer, and besides removing the pay gravel, considerable work was done on the water ditches, and in a large dam erected at the head of the Creek for the purpose of conserving water. By the use of this dam a full head of water could be obtained for a few hours every day.

Mining on those creeks where the supply of water is so limited and uncertain, is by no means the great pleasure, some imagine,

Because "Pills" did not supply the house with kindlings Mrs. Pillman attempted to chop off her finger last monday, she received a very nasty cut on her index finger and had to have several stitches put in by Dr. Harrison. The Doctor's assistant fearing the worst drank all the brandy.

There have been several very presing offers to help in the bakery, who's who has not yet been decided.

Mr. Chas. Cullen, late ATLIN CLAIM staff, en route, Atlin to Skeena via Princess May was minus his new overcoat when he arrived, somebody evidently got familiar with him, who, or what we have not learned.

The Japs arrived in Carcros a very close second, while Messrs Ruffner and Featherstonhaugh and Wives did not arrive till Tuesday evening. They having gone out in a small boat.
