C., which was held in the municipal hall, Murrayville, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 3, resolutions were passed urging the need of hard surfacing the Yale Road from New Westminster to Chilliwack. These resolutions will be presented to the provincial convention of the league to be held in North Vancouver, Monday, Oct. 6th.

BUILDERS AND UNIONS FAIL ON AGREEMENT

SEATTLE—"Complete failure to reach any common ground from which the contractors and labor could arbitrate their differences," sums up the outcome of the conference Tuesday between representatives of the Building Trades Council and the Seattle Master Builders' Association as expressed by one of their members

Spokesman for the striking structural trades offered to throw the entire controversy into arbitration, providing the men were returned to work on a flat $10 a day scale pending the decisions of the mediation board. This the contractors refused to do, and the meeting adjourned.

This throws the entire matter back to its original status, and the tie-up in building operations which has closed down over $4,000,000 worth of projects here continues.

ENDORSES NORTH ARM RECLAMATION SCHEME

BURNABY—A plan providing for extensive improvements in the North Arm of the Fraser, which include the construction of a retaining wall along a considerable section of the channel, and the creation of a turning basin

OFFICIAL ORGAN.
The British Columbia Record is the official organ of The Architectural Institute of British Columbia, federated with The Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, and The Engineering & Technical Institute of British Columbia, and as such is used by them as the medium through which to make their official announcements to the general public.
By such selection the British Columbia Record is no wise pledged to editorial support of any policy advanced by these societies, but maintains an absolutely independent position on all matters subject to editorial opinion.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR BOTH SIDES

Increases in wages are being demanded today because the worker has been seeing nothing but a steady advance in the cost of obtaining food, clothing a place in which to live, and all the other elements which enter into what is tersely referred to as the cost of living. It is plain to him that he must have more money or his family will suffer, although he is quite often aware that increased wages are themselves one of the causes of the general trend of increased prices. But he sees no other way out of the difficulties.

If it can be shown to the workers that some sound way can be found of stopping the upward trend of prices and bringing about a price level somewhat akin to that of three or four years ago, it is quite possible that the great bulk of employees, both manual and intellectual, would be willing to call off their demands for higher pay. It has to be recognized that the workers are going to insist for the future on a better standard of living, a reasonable working day and decent working conditions. This has all to be taken into consideration in working out any plans having to do with the future economic conditions in practically all countries.

It is reasonable to assume that in Canada as well as the United States, an honest and vigorous attempt is being made at the present time by the governments to reduce prices. The United States government has been especially active in the way of forcing a reduction in the prices of foodstuffs and clothing by placing upon the market the huge surplus stores amassed under war conditions for the use of the American army and navy and which will not be needed for that purpose now. Unfortunately, the Canadian government is not in a position to take similar action to any large extent as the larger portion of the Canadian army stores are overseas, and some of the army clothing supplies have already been dsposed of at remunerative prices to Greece to reclothe the Greek army.

With representative conferences between labor and capital being held in the immediate future, both in Ottawa and Washington, and both of these conferences having for their object the securing of some basis of settlement for preventing the industrial unrest so prevalent since the war terminated, there is every hope that at least some decided measur of success will be reached by both the Canadian and American conventions. There is a splendid opportunity for both parties to arrive at some basic agreement on the question of wages, to stand for a year at least, which would afford a chance to large employers and contractors to know where they were at in regard to labor costs for that length of time. On the other hand, the employers and captains of industry should be able to give the workingmen some assurance that the cost of the necessaries of life will not soar materially during that time. Then at the end of that period further adjustments can take place. But in the meantime there would be a cessation of this industrial strife which is the worst thing that can possibly happen during this critical period of world reconstruction.

for ships, was submitted to a representative meeting of the affiliated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley, held in the Burnaby municipal hall on Wednesday night, and after being thoroughly discussed the scheme was unanimously endorsed. A feature of the plan in connection with the construction of the proposed retaining wall, is that it will reclaim and create about sixty acres of land near Eburne which would make ideal industrial sites with waterfront and shipping facilities.

The plan, as submitted by Mr. R. C. Hodgson, chairman of the North Arm Harbor Board, comprises part of a more elaborate plan which had been prepared in the pre-war days, but which was considered too costly then. To construct the retaining wall it is proposed to ask the federal government to sell $100,000 in ten-year debentures to defray the cost of the construction of the retaining wall, while the turning basin for vessels using the wharves along the reclaimed industrial sites, could be created by dredging to make the fill behind the retaining wall. As the federal government is already carrying out the dredging, a few thousand additional cubic yards placed behind a retaining wall, would not be a costly undertaking when the results that would be accomplished are considered.

The plan which was endorsed by the affiliated Boards of Trade is to be forwarded, together with the endorsation, to Col. R. C. Cooper, M.P. for South Vancouver, to take up with the government, and endeavor to get put through.
