Hagensborg Farmer Meets With Mishap

Paul Olson, a settler occupying a preemption in the Saloomt Valley near Hagensborg, met with a serious accident on Tuesday last, having the misfortune to fall on the blade of a double-bitted axe, the blade of which penetrated to considerable depth between two ribs inflicting a nasty wound and causing great loss of blood. Dr. Cavanagh, who fortunately happened to be at Hagensborg, was at once summoned. Below decks she has spacious sleeping accommodation, a comfortable saloon, useful galley and forecastle, also well fitted engine-room complete with the latest appliances, a dynamo providing electric light throughout including a powerful searchlight.

The present owner Mr. Rainsford, who is well known in this district, is to be congratulated on his possession of such a handsome craft, which is indeed an ornament to our port.

He gave as an explanation of the crime, that in 1911 he had applied for assistance at the king's palace and had been driven away.

A few days ago the doctors examined Schinas and announced that he was dying of tuberculosis.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

S. S. Princess Beatrice arrived on Friday morning last week bringing a number of passengers for this port including Mr. Trent and son, Mrs. Thorsen and two daughters.

Mrs. Trent is registered at the Grand View Hotel and will probably take a trip into the interior in company with Mrs. F. K. Hicklenton and party.

Mrs. Thorson comes from Stavanger, Norway, to visit her brother-in-law Capt. Thorson, whom she meets for the first time in some thirty years. and will probably spend the summer here.

Mrs. Thorson and daughters booked passages direct from Norway to Bella Coola by the C.P.R.

Mr. W. T. Walker of Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, arrived by the Camosun on Sunday morning.

Mr. Walker comes to join his brother Mr. R. Walker, who is at present engaged in clearing up a farm close to Hagensborg.

Among the outgoing passengers by the Camosun were Messrs R. Leese and S. B. Martin, B.C.L.S.

Mr. R. Leese, who is engaged as fishery officer leaves to take his station at the head of Rivers Inlet where he will remain during the fishing season.

Mr. Martin has been engaged in surveying and locating land in the neighborhood of Hagensborg and the Upper Valley, where he has succeeded in picking up considerable land which he and his friends are purchasing from the government. He shows the proper spirit by publishing all the necessary notices in the Courier.

Karl Brink, of Hagensborg, visited town last week on business in connection with the sale of some of his townsite property.

The necessary arrangements for the Empire Day celebration are now practically completed, and there is every prospect of the occasion being an even greater success than usual, and that is certainly saying a good deal.

Hundreds of Voters Disfranchised

Some time ago the Courier endeavored to show how the action of the Provincial Government in cancelling the old voters' lists and allowing such a short time for re-registration, and this at such an inconvenient time of the year, could not but lead to the disfranchisement of numbers of people properly qualified to vote.

That this is the case is evidenced by the numerous reports to hand from different parts of the North.

Queen Charlotte Islands suffers perhaps more that any other district in the province, inasmuch as just three weeks notice was received from Prince Rupert, the government agent at that place sending over less than forty application blanks, of which about one hundred could be found in the town of Masset, and not another steamer was due for three weeks.

It is estimated that there are more than five hundred persons on the north end of Graham Island who are entitled to vote, but most of them live on scattered pre-emptions, so that had there even been sufficient blanks, there would still be hundreds left off the next voters lists for the reason that they could not possibly be reached in that short time with the news of the government's action.

The same reason hardly applies to Bella Coola where over a hundred persons (as it happens nearly all supporters of the Government) stand disfranchised.

Who is responseful for this shameful state of affairs we are not prepared to say, but it is worthy of note that the local Liberal organization on receiving word of the Government's action at once notified all commissioners.

Many Conservatives, however, refused to credit the information and wasted a matter of ten days waiting for a reply to an urgent wire to W. Manson, M.P.P., asking for information, the latter gentleman having evidently forgotten the existence of his ardent supporters in this district.

° ° ° ° °

Should a bye-election take place in the Skeena district, whatever the result in other localities, Bella Coola could be trusted to show a Liberal majority that would smack of the old days before so many good people were so hopelessly befogged in the steam of the McBride machine.

Why Not a Court-Room?

Bella Coola is to have a lock-up and constable's quarters, which means that prisoners sentenced to short terms will be kept here instead of being sent to New Westminster at considerable expense to the Government.

This is right and proper and as it should have been long ago, but why could not the plans have included a court-room?

It has been customary here to hold court in the school-house, often to the inconvenience of both teacher and pupils.

Bella Coola is probably no better and certainly no worse than any other district of its kind and occasions do occur when some transgressor is brought to court to face some minor charge; but cases have been few and far between where it has been found necessary to send a person to prison, therefore it is not likely that the proposed free boarding-house will be very frequently occupied.

The Courier contends that a suitable court-room is even more urgently required than the two cells which are provided for in plans as prepared, and cannot but express surprise that such a room was not included in those plans, thus saving considerable of the cost of a court-house which will necessarily have to be erected in the near future.

° ° ° ° °

Two constables, four justices, (and a move-on foot to have another appointed,) two fishery officers, several kinds of wardens, the probability of a stipendary magistrate in the near future, very soon a lock-up, but we must hold court in the school, or if that is not available, in the constable's living-room.

GUN LICENSE AND GAME LAWS.

Dear Sir,

Up to a short time ago if a man took up a preemption in British Columbia he was allowed to kill game at any time of the year for his own consumption. It was a wise and paternal law, as most of the preemptions were in points often impossible to reach with any means of transportation but pack-horses, or worse, back-packing. With the advance of means of transportation and increase of settlers rendering possible for the settler to make a living from his land, it was only reasonable to expect that this law should be restricted to the unsettled or unorganized districts, such as this I am writing you from. Instead we were recently given to understand through a circular distributed to the post offices, etc., in this Valley that all farmers (?) could get a free permit to hunt within the limits of their own land, but should have to obtain a license to hunt outside of it, and in any case only during the open season. First of all I don't think the word farmers can be applied to men preempting land in an unsettled district without any means to carry their produce to market. None of us in spite of desperate attempts at developments and considerable sacrifices of money, involving debts, mortgages, etc., has been able to make a living out of his own place. It is during the winter months that the settler needs the help of the food he can procure by rod and gun. In summer the garden helps him, and he is generally too busy clearing land to hunt; even in winter or any time in the close season none of us kill wantonly or indiscriminately as regards sex, but carefully and only just when hard pressed for food. The proof incontestable of it is that, at least in this part of the country, deer have increased enormously since we first settled. Bunches of 15 to 20 are often met with and I know of several of us spending considerable time and care in selecting bucks and yearlings out before firing; and then we only kill what we need and no more.

Would the Indian do the same? Or the average city sportsman? Yet the Indian is not restricted as to game laws and not even menaced by a gun license.

Indirectly I foresee this game law will discourage lots of settlers from preempting new lands and opening up new country. A law to be a law must be taken to the letter, and this would mean new settlers, like for instance three men who took up land at Sigutla Lake, about 200 miles from any store and who were prevented by heavy snow from getting supplies, would have had either to starve, break the law or abandon their preemptions. Neither of these things should happen.

In regard to the gun license whilst personally I would not mind contributing my mite towards maintaining game wardens where they are needed, I don't think it fair to charge a gun license-to men that are living in districts that are practically in the same conditions (as far as communication and transportation) as in former pioneer days.

Premising that some of us cannot really afford to pay this gun license, and that a man must have a general license (double price) to kill big game, as I understand it from that circular, may I ask what a fellow can do who has an ordinary license only and meets Mr. Grizzly about his plantation or on the trail?

Although fortunately only very few, yet there have been instances when people have been seriously injured by grizzlies in this Valley.

To conclude I think everybody who knows the conditions of this country will agree that, whilst right to tax the gun of the sportsman and restrict him in the limit of his trophies, the man who helps to open up the country under adverse circumstances should be helped, not hindered, by the game laws. What we kill we use properly; we don't let whole carcases lay out to rot after taking only the horns, as I have known certain 'sports' do.

M. W. MARVIN.
