BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES

A Weekly Paper published in the interests of the Boundary Creek Mining District.

Vol. V. GREENWOOD, B.C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1898. 118 No. 14

MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN.

THE municipal campaigners have practically exhausted themselves. They began work at high pressure, eight weeks before election. The pace was too swift, so they have wisely settled down to the duties of everyday life. It is not probable that the excitement will be renewed until after the New Year. Messrs. Smailes and Hardy are the only candidates in the field for mayor. The fight is going to be in the mayoralty contest. It is quite possible that the aldermen will be returned unopposed. Last year's council have had enough of municipal life. Alderman Galloway is the only one who has declared his intention of running again. Alderman Paton has had enough; Alderman Barrett expects to be away during the summer, and says he won't run; Alderman Kerr is going to visit the "land of the heather," and Alderman Parry is too busy to devote any time to municipal work. Alderman Phelan says he won't stand, but when the bugle sounds it is scarcely possible that an Irishman can resist the temptation of taking a hand in the fight.

There are several new candidates spoken of, Geo. R. Naden, Thos. McDonnell, James Sutherland, Dr. Jakes, A. B. Campbell, Geo. McKague, Thos. Miller and J. W. Nelson being among the number.

There is no good reason why the campaign should not be conducted in a friendly spirit, and the city benefitted by the discussion of municipal affairs. If attempts to divide the people into factions are discouraged, if outside issues are tabooed, and a municipal campaign conducted solely on the grounds of municipal politics, the result will be advantageous to the city. What the people of Greenwood lacked was a keener interest in public affairs. The municipal battle will awaken that interest. There is however a danger that a shallow few will go to the other extreme and consider that political differences arise from personal enmity and personal jealousy.

FIGHTING THE INEXORABLE.

THE Grand Forks Miner, in its very elegant style, asserts that "at present Grand Forks seems to have a lead-pipe cinch on being the wholesale, mining and commercial center of the Boundary country." With a thermometer below zero, lead pipes do not make the safest comparisons. They often require the attention of the plumbers. As far as Grand Forks is concerned, however, the Miner's comparison is an excellent one. Grand Forks' lead-pipe cinch on the trade needs plumbing very badly. We fear that the plumbers at her disposal are not likely to strengthen or repair the cinch. They will make plenty of noise; they will boast loudly of the perfect job, but they will all have different views regarding the proper method of doing the repairing; there will be rival personal interests considered, and the poor cinch will be always getting into a worse condition.

The Miner's reputation for veracity is not so securely established that it can hope to bolster up Grand Forks by extravagant statements unsupported by proofs. There are certain natural laws that control the destinies of mining districts and mining centers. Neither the vain boastings of unscrupulous townsite boomers, nor the extravagant statements of irresponsible newspapers, will change those laws. The product of the mines seeks a market at the most convenient point, and the operators of the mines buy supplies at the most convenient point. Trade follows natural channels. The ores will go to that point which can be reached with the least expense and the least resistance. All Boundary Creek ores will naturally gravitate towards Boundary creek. They will establish a center on Boundary creek, and the ores beyond the Boundary Creek watershed will, to a reasonable distance, follow the Boundary Creek ores.

Grand Forks is outside the Boundary Creek district. The only section tributary to it is that along the North Fork. If its people encouraged that promising mining district, instead of attempting to secure a standing through a district which is not tributary to them, the interests of the city would be better served.

Greenwood did not reach its present position, nor does its people bank upon its future, because of a beautiful townsite or special outside advantages. The town grew because it was the center for those mines which were being developed, and its future is assured because it is situated on Boundary creek and Boundary creek is the natural center for Boundary Creek ores. Greenwood had nothing to fear and has nothing to fear from the competition of a town lying without the pale of Boundary Creek. The only town that stood on an equal footing with Greenwood as far as the trade of the Boundary Creek mining district was concerned was any town which happened to be situated on Boundary creek. It was not then a question of natural law but a question of business enterprise. The people of Greenwood worked together and fought together, and they soon secured a supremacy on Boundary Creek.

Grand Forks is foolish to fight an inexorable natural law. She ought to cultivate what she has rather than run after something she can never secure. Grand Forks is not, nor can it ever be the center of the Boundary Creek district. It is not even in the Boundary Creek district.

❋ ❋ ❋

THE CITY COUNCIL.

THE city council at its regular meeting wrestled with figures furnished by the city treasurer. As was expected, the estimate of six weeks ago, when sufficient money to finish flume and waterworks was outlined, proved of little value. The flume which, according to the engineer's estimate, was to cost $1,400, cost over $2,100. The last estimate showed a credit to waterworks of $2,136.57; streets, $19.40, and general fund, $494.52, making a total of $2,650.49. The cost of flume, $2,100.01, left a credit balance of only $550.48. Sundry bills unpaid reduced this credit balance to $393.72. To land the water pipe in Greenwood will cost about $700, so that another deficit is staring the council in the face. They hope to secure enough money to lay the pipe by postponing the payment of a promissory note for $500 and borrowing $600 or $700 on the rails.

Work on the streets was ordered discontinued. After transacting some minor routine business, council adjourned.

THE RUSH TO GREENWOOD.

JOHN H. STONE, the well-known contractor for mine timbers, returned to town yesterday. He stated to a Miner reporter that the rush of men into Greenwood was something wonderful. Yesterday 120 people, on their way to the new Mecca, dined in Bossburg, 107 on Friday and 115 on Thursday, and this influx has been going on for some time. Four stages go out every day loaded with passengers, besides a great number of private rigs. The rush is enormous.—Rossland Miner.

GREENWOOD AND DISTRICT.

T. M. Gulley left Wednesday on a business trip to Spokane.

W. T. Smith has returned from a business trip to Spokane.

M. Kane has returned from a visit to the old home in New York.

D. McDuff has leased his blacksmith shop to A. H. Sproule of Fairview.

Mr. Geo. R. Naden made a flying visit to Camp McKinney this week.

L. M. Rice, the C. P. R. engineer, was in the city from Summit camp this week.

Chas. Cusson and Miss Duford of Upper Grand Forks were married by Rev. Father Palmer last week.

A. W. Strickland arrived from Rossland on Monday evening to accept a position in the Bank of Montreal here.

Duncan D. Munroe and Miss Alice Hay, daughter of Charles Hay, Upper Grand Forks, were married by Rev. Mr. Wallace last week.

Norman McLeod, who has heavy real estate and mining interests in Rossland and Ymir, is in the city seeking investments.

D. McD. Hunter is now in charge of the Greenwood school. He was teaching at Sidley until last week. Mr. Hunter is an experienced teacher.

A. H. Harrison and E. E. Barchard of the B. C. mine have returned from Rossland. Mr. Barchard was in the city this week, but had nothing new to report concerning the rumored sale of the B. C.

The Bealy Investment company has acquired the small fractional claim lying between the Barbara and the townsite. This gives the company the full frontage on Government street.

Mr. E. J. Edwards left on Monday on a visit to his old home in Missouri. On Saturday evening a farewell party was given at his new residence in Shawville. About thirty couples were present. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

The suit begun in the supreme court by Mr. J. W. Powell against the Greenwood Townsite company has been settled out of court. The action was for alleged damages because of the widening of Greenwood street and consequent shortening of Mr. Powell's lots.

Mr. McDonnell, who has a contract near the summit, was in the city this week. On Monday last two men in his gang were injured by the premature explosion of powder. The men were filling the hole with black powder when it went off. Fortunately they were not seriously injured.

Mr. S. E. Rigg, the president of the Old Ironsides company, was in the city with J. F. Hemenway this week. He visited the Old Ironsides and also the City of Paris, in which property he is also interested. Mr. Rigg had not been in the district for two years and was therefore astonished at the remarkable growth of Greenwood.

The Cosgrove Merrymakers will appear in Rendell's hall on Saturday the 17th, and the Monday following. The Cosgroves are all well known entertainers. Their entertainments are always refined and artistic. In addition to the usual programme, they have on this tour one of Edison's kinetoscopes, which will show moving pictures of the late war.

MUNICIPAL QUALIFICATION.

There is a movement on foot in other cities of the province, looking towards the amendment of the Municipal Act so that the qualification for mayor and aldermen will be changed. At present a person must have $500 worth of real estate, free from all encumbrances, before he can run for alderman, and $1,000 before he is eligible for the office of mayor. It is felt that this restriction limits the number of good men, and the very best men are needed in municipal government.

The movement is in the right direction. The possession of a few feet of land should not be a necessary qualification for a municipal position. There are fools owning land and wise men without any. In Victoria some of the people went so far as to pass a resolution to the effect that the qualification for aldermen be changed so that a man having the necessary value invested in stock and carrying on a business with the same shall be equally eligible with the man owning real estate. This is a radical move for Victoria and is a step in the right direction. The best qualification for the office, however, is an expression of confidence from the people that a man is fitted to perform the duties appertaining to municipal affairs.

The present restrictions often disqualify the very best men. A man may have thousands of dollars invested in a business. His interests may be the heaviest in the city, but unless he has a few feet of ground, he cannot run for a municipal position. Take the candidates for mayor in this city. Both have thousands of dollars invested in business and only comparatively small amounts in real estate. Had they not invested a few dollars in real estate, the thousands invested in business could not be considered as a qualification. On the other hand, had they not invested thousands in business, the people would not consider the possession of a few city lots a qualification. Messrs. Smailes and Hardy are not strong candidates because they are owners of real estate, but because they are prominent business men. The qualifications respected by the people are not qualifications at all under the present Municipal act.

A NEEDED CHANGE.

Continuous kicking has brought a decided reform in the postal service. Thanks to Mr. Bostock's efforts, the Dominion government has been induced to appoint an inspector for the mainland, leaving Mr. Fletcher in charge of the island. The new inspector for the mainland is Mr. Dorman, who supplied the brains for the inspector's office in Victoria. Mr. Dorman will make his headquarters at Vancouver. It is hoped that the change will bring to Southern British Columbia a mail service more in keeping with the importance of the district.

THE LEXINGTON BONDED.

The Lexington, one of the principal claims of White's camp, has been bonded to J. P. Graves and associates. The owners of the property are very reticent about the deal, but it is reported that the price is $40,000 and that a substantial cash payment has been made. The Lexington has a good showing of copper ore. The ledge has been crosscut by a tunnel and the ore on the dump looks exceedingly rich. The Lexington is located below the City of Paris and is close to the international boundary line. It is owned Geo. Rumberger and Joe. Taylor of Greenwood camp and Marcus Oppenheimer of Marcus, Wash.

This is the first deal of any importance that has been made in the district this fall. It is rather a remarkable fact that nearly all the big mining deals are made after the snow falls and there is some difficulty in traveling. Last fall but few claims were bonded until winter, when the Snowshoe, the Stemwinder, the Brooklyn and half a dozen other properties changed hands.

White's camp is rapidly coming into prominence because of the good work being done at the City of Paris. The tunnel on this property is in about 500 feet. The ore gives high values in gold and copper. Mr. White, the superintendent of the City of Paris, expected to have the compressor plant running this week, but a portion of the machinery was a misfit and had to be sent back to Spokane.

See J. R. Porter for the mining records of Midway and Grand Forks,—at Keith's assay office, Greenwood.

COLUMBIA AND WESTERN SUBSIDY.

A rumor comes from the coast to the effect that the government appreciates the justice of the C. P. R.'s contention that the subsidy shall be granted for the construction of the road beyond the approximate 80 miles mentioned in the B. C. Loan Act. The government feels, however that the act cannot be construed into legalizing the subsidy for the additional distance without beginning construction from Penticton, and consequently will, shortly after the legislature opens, introduce an act amending the B. C. Loan Act of last year. Such an amendment will facilitate the completion of the Robson-Boundary Creek road.

The work from the Summit to Greenwood is comparatively easy. There is but little rock work and the grade is very light. The grading will be made very quickly, as a number of contractors have finished their work at the Robson end and are anxious to move their plants and men over here.

NIAGARA.

The Greenwood stage is now arriving daily. There is considerable travel between Niagara and Greenwood on account of the numerous railroad camps scattered along the road.

Several business men from Cascade and Brooklyn were here during the past week, purchasing lots and making preparations for doing business during the ensuing month.

The three-story addition to Messrs. Wyberg & Benson's building, the Fisherman hotel, is about completed. This will give them more accommodation for their numerous patrons.

Mr. Wickwire, the enterprising manager for W. M. Law & Co., is occupying his spare moments in studying the Italian language. He made his first attempt to hold a little conversation with a swarthy-looking customer yesterday morning, but as the man turned out to be a Russian, no headway was made in this conversation.

There were two cases of drunk and fighting last week. Both offenders were fined $5 and costs.

The citizens of Niagara are organizing a skating rink. The North Fork is frozen over and a nice skating rink could be started at very little expense.

The contract has been let for a small town hall. The building will be used as a place for entertainments. It will have seating accommodation for 400 people.

Mr. Ernst, of the California Wine company of Nelson, purchased six lots on Columbia street and two on Main street. Mr. Ernst is thinking of starting a wholesale wine and cigar store here, and will send his manager from Nelson to take charge of the branch here.

Mr. P. Welch has fifty additional men at work now, and will increase still more until he has in the neighborhood of 400, which is the number estimated to fulfill his contract.

Mr. Kempt of the Stockholm hotel is daily expecting his billiard and pool tables, and is going to give a prize of $25 for the highest score made the first day the new table is played on.

New Firm of Brokers.

Messrs. Thos. McDonnell and R. M. McEntire have opened offices in Greenwood and Camp McKinney. They will deal in real estate and mines. Both are well known. Mr. McEntire will take charge of the Camp McKinney office. Messrs. McDonnell and McEntire and their associates have heavy interests in Camp McKinney. Mr. McDonnell, who is one of the old timers of the district, will take charge of the Greenwood office.

FIRE PROTECTION.

The Greenwood street flume has destroyed the efficient system of fire protection which did duty in Greenwood during the summer. The duty which the flume is supposed to perform is to carry off the surplus water after the eight-inch pipe is filled from the large and well-constructed reservoir. The eight-inch pipe is snowed under in Dakota, or has been stolen by Montana cowboys. In consequence of this absence of pipe, the waters of Twin are being utilized to keep the trench clear. The result is that it is impossible to secure a bucket of water anywhere along the flume, and Boundary creek is the nearest point from which water can be taken. In the palmy days of last summer the volunteer fire department built dams and damlets along Twin creek so that the bucket brigade might have plenty of water at their disposal. Should a fire start in the city under present conditions, the bucket brigade would have to do other duties besides handling water.

In the absence of water pipe, we humbly offer the suggestion that a small reservoir be built at the corner of Greenwood and Copper streets, so that when the opportunity presents itself the bucket brigade may show the benefits of regular training.

CAMP McKINNEY.

The plan of the new townsite at Camp McKinney has been completed by Sidney M. Johnson, C. E., and lots are now on the market. The demand for real estate in the new town is something enormous. Lots were eagerly sought before the plot was subdivided. The townsite on the Sailor is exceptionally well situated. The main street is level from end to end. The lots are 35 feet wide and 100 feet deep. Profiting by the experience in other cities the townsite is well subdivided. The streets are wide and an alley runs at the back of lots.

Heavy Travel.

Owing to the large amount of holiday goods arriving in the city and the large number of passengers coming into the district, the stage lines are unable to handle all the express and baggage. Several people are waiting patiently for their wearing apparel, which is stowed away in trunks lying at Marcus or Bossburg, while business men are anxiously looking for much-needed goods, which were shipped by express. The tie-up at Marcus is worse than at Penticton. The Snodgrass stage line is giving a good service and extra teams have been put on to handle overdue express.

There are now three stage lines running between Greenwood and Grand Forks, and all of them appear to secure plenty of passengers.

Timber Inspector.

J. D. Murray, provincial timber inspector, arrived in Greenwood by Wednesday's Penticton stage. Mr. Murray is here to collect timber royalties from sawmills and also to investigate the charges that railway contractors are cutting timber on mineral claims. Mr. Murray had quite an exciting experience on his way. While traveling on the Shuswap and Okanagan railway, just south of Sicamous, the train jumped the track. The passengers were badly shaken, but no one was seriously injured.

C. P. R. Engineer.

Mr. T. G. Sullivan, assistant chief engineer for the Columbia and Western Railway company, arrived from Trail on Tuesday night. Mr Sullivan went up to Rock Creek to meet the survey party who are surveying a route along the West Fork of the Kettle river. Mr. Sullivan stated that he could not say anything officially concerning the work on this side of the Summit. The work will be begun shortly after the legislature meets in January.

Mr. Porter Returns.

W. J. Porter, superintendent of the Golden Crown mine, returned from the coast on Wednesday. He went up as far as Dyea, intending to go to Dawson over the trail. Unfortunately his partner accidentally discharged a revolver. The bullet struck Mr. Porter on the hip. Medical assistance was secured at Dyea. The bullet was extracted, and after several weeks' medical attendance Mr. Porter was able to travel. He has now fully recovered.

Walter L. Orde, the secretary of the Brandon and Golden Crown company, spent a few days in Greenwood this week. He was accompanied by Mr. Reilly, a prominent business man of Winnipeg. They went to Camp McKinney. Mr. Reilly went out by way of Camp McKinney, while Mr. Orde returned on Wednesday and left on Thursday for Rossland. Mr. Orde was surprised at the rapid strides made by Greenwood since his visit last year.

LACK OF INTEREST.

Too much prosperity is not a good thing for Greenwood or Boundary Creek. When the showers of blessing were few and light, the people were wide-awake and always keen to fight for theier own interests. Now they appear to be careless and indifferent. All around them the people have organized and are going to unitedly fight for that consideration which was denied them by the late government. The Greenwood people have made no effort. The politicians have changed biblical injunctions to suit peculiar political conditions. If you ask, you seldom receive ; if you don't ask, you receive never.

Cascade has set the pace in Southern Yale. Her people are working unitedly in the interests of that locality. A petition of rights has been prepared and presented to the government and Mr. Martin, member for the district. The petition briefly refers to the requirements, including a new school, more police officers, court house and jail, small debts court, roads and bridges, and the care of the indigent.

The Cascade people have at least demonstrated that they are alive and the Greenwood residents should at least show that they are alive. They surely have a capacity for taking interest in public affairs outside a municipal campaign.

THE MORRISON MINE.

Mr. Fred Oliver, one of the officers of the Morrison Mining company, was in the city for a few days this week. He visited the Morrison and was pleased with the progress made. The shaft is down 70 feet, all in ore. Some very high gold values have been secured from the shaft, one sample yielding $352. Seven samples averaged over $30 in gold. Mr. Oliver also visited Republic, where he and his associates have heavy mining interests.

Deputy Sheriff.

G. B. Taylor has been appointed deputy sheriff for the southern portion of Yale district. He has jurisdiction between Cascade City and Penticton. Mr. Taylor received his appointment from Sheriff Pemberton last week. Sheriff Pemberton, who had been in the district for some time, returned on Tuesday to Kamloops. The provincial government recently issued an order that no provincial police officer could act as a deputy sheriff.
