BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES

A Weekly Paper published in the interests of the Boundary Creek Mining District.

Vol. V. GREENWOOD, B.C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 7, 1899. 122 No. 18

MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN.

THE year 1899 will be an important one in the history of Greenwood. There are many indications that it will be a year in which the city will make rapid strides, and in which conditions will arise that must be met in an energetic way. It is of the highest importance that the municipal government should be composed of the very best men. It would be extremely foolish for any one having the interests of the city at heart to set aside his public duty in order that he may follow his personal inclinations. If there were nothing to be considered in the contest but personal feelings towards the respective candidates, THE TIMES would not say one word concerning the campaign. It is too serious a matter however to jeopardize the interests of the city to satisfy a personal preference for any candidate.

We regret that there is a tendency to introduce personalities into the mayoralty contest. THE TIMES has refrained from discussing the private acts or the private character of any candidate. We have criticised the style of campaign pursued by Mr. Hardy and his friends. That is the right of any elector or newspaper. We are supporting Mr. Smailes, not on personal grounds but because we believe he possesses in a greater degree than his opponent those qualifications necessary in a chief magistrate. It is no reflection upon Mr. Hardy as a citizen and a business man to say that he would not make as efficient a mayor as Mr. Smailes.

The growth of Greenwood depended largely upon the fact that the people were always united upon everything that tended to advance its interests. The future of the city is bound up in the pursuit of the same policy. Every section, every interest should receive equitable treatment. Mr. Smailes has no election promises to fulfill to any section of the city, or to any faction or any interests. He has not pledged himself to build up one portion of the city at the expense of another. He is pledged to consider all people and all interests.

In order that the city may keep pace with the development of the district tributary to it, many improvements will be needed. If those improvements are to be undertaken, it will be necessary to secure money. Mr. Smailes has had a long and successful experience. He has demonstrated his ability to finance a large business and his experience will be of great service to the city. When a city begins borrowing it is of the highest importance to have some one in control who can make judicious loans, and can make such arrangements as will give the city the money needed, and at the same time make the payments easy for the taxpayers.

During the year men will pour in from every direction. Many will be those who have little regard for law and order. Good order and the due observance of law within the city will require the most careful consideration. Mr. Smailes has not committed himself to any who may be pecuniarily interested in a loose and wide open town. He has sufficient force of character to assist in holding a tight rein, giving everyone ample liberty but no one too much license.

In every progressive city the working man is an important factor. In his humble way he does as much as any one to further the growth and development of the city. His interests must be properly safeguarded. Mr. Smailes in his own business has always treated his employees with consideration and has always paid the highest wages. He has also on more than one occasion declared himself in favor of paying the highest wages upon public works.

Mr. Smailes, in connection with the business which he manages has demonstrated that he is quick in meeting new conditions. Greenwood owes not a little to the fact that Rendell & Co. have been among the first to reach out for the trade of new camps, thereby turning it in the direction of the city, so that every business man received his share. Similar conditions will arise in connection with municipal matters during the current year, and we feel confident that the interests of the city will not be neglected if Mr. Smailes is Mayor.

During the year men of capital will come to the district seeking investments. To a small extent at least they are influenced by the class of men in charge of civic affairs. Mr. Smailes is versatile and affable, intelligent and of good address. He will make a good impression upon strangers coming to the city.

These are a few of our reasons for supporting the candidature of Mr. Smailes. Mr. Hardy possesses some of the qualifications necessary, but in our opinion not in as great a degree as Mr. Smailes. Any government reflects the character of the people. In a young city, particularly, it would be the greatest folly not to elect the very best men.

Every loyal citizen, everyone having the interests of the city at heart, will discourage any policy that has a tendency to destroy that bond which has united the people in the upbuilding of the city. that has a tendency to deceive the electors. They will vote for the best men. For this reason we feel confident that Mr. Smailes will be returned by a large majority, and that the people will give him a council that will materially assist him in giving a wide-awake and progressive municipal administration.

CARIBOO MINES.

Mr. Thos. Miller returned on Sunday evening from a six weeks' business trip to the Cariboo country. He went there in the interests of an English syndicate, represented by Alderman L. S. Moulton-Barrett. Mr. Miller's mission was successful, as he succeeded in acquiring an hydraulic property on Pleasant creek, near Barkerville. The property will be worked during the coming summer, and in all probability Mr. Miller will make a return trip in early spring in order to get the work started.

Mr. Miller has had considerable experience among the placer mines of New Zealand and Australia. He went into the Cariboo district rather prejudiced against it, believing that there could be but little new in a placer country that had been worked for over forty years. Upon examination, he was astonished to find that no property had been worked thoroughly. Those who made fortunes in the early days left the country and those who remained had not sufficient capital to carry on big work. Capital is turning its attention to the Cariboo country, however, and in Mr. Miller's opinion the next few years will see a large amount of work undertaken in the district.

During Mr. Miller's visit he met a Mr. Bremner, who represents an English syndicate. He invested a large amount of money in hydraulic ground. Through the advice of Mr. Miller, he is now negotiating for the purchase of a $50,000 plant to work ground in the Fraser river.

Mr. Miller was well satisfied with his trip. The Cariboo stages are the best equipped he ever traveled on.

GREENWOOD AND DISTRICT.

Clive Pringle of Rossland has joined the firm of McLeod & Whiteside, barristers. He reached Greenwood on Wednesday.

A. G. Fuller of Vernon arrived on Wednesday's stage to accept the position of accountant for the Russell Hardware company.

Standing room was at a premium at the English church concert on New Year's Eve. The programme as already published was successfully carried out.

At the Lancashire house, Midway, on Wednesday, December 20, Mr. James Atwood and Miss Marian Phipps were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Richards.

Messrs. Arthur Mowat and R. H. Halmer are building an office on Copper street, next to H. A. King & Co's. They will do a general mining and real estate business.

Henry Sauve has opened in the postoffice block with a large stock of fancy goods, stationery, jewelry and smokers' articles. Mr. Sauve is a nephew of Alderman Phelan. He has been in the city for some time where he has many friends, and as he has a good stand and a well-assorted stock, he should do a large business.

NIAGARA.

A Italian named Antonio Servalle was found frozen to death on the road near Niagara last Tuesday morning. He was seen late the previous evening the worse for liquor, and it is surmised he fell asleep on the road and thus froze to death. Dr. Foster from Cascade and Officer Cox left this morning to view the body.

The thermometer registered 30 degrees below zero on Tuesday night, and 25 below Wednesday night, and now an anxious crowd are enquiring the whereabouts of the Niagara real estate agent who assured them last fall, as an inducement to buy property that the birds were in song and the flowers in bloom all the year round at Niagara, owing to its mild climate.

The Italian camps here wear a sad and dejected appearance, and the wily native of the sunny south no longer sings at his work, for the smooth-talking agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company and the private bankers no longer linger here to dilate on the joys and comforts of of travel by the above mentioned steamers, but both Oliver and Stabile have left suddenly for a healthier climate, forgetting in their haste to leave behind the $4,000 that had been entrusted to them by their countrymen. Numerous enquiries are made about them, and even the provincial police are taking a fatherly interest in their welfare and whereabouts. Frank Oliver, it is rumored, is wanted in Nova Scotia for a murder he committed there. He was then traveling under the name of Raphoel Vongaro and has a large scar on his neck, supposed to have been received in his struggles with the man he murdered.

Mr. Angus Stuart, of the inland revenue, paid a flying visit to Niagara yesterday on official business.

The travel between Niagara and the summit has increased so much of late that Mr, Holbrook has had to put additional teams on his stage line. The trip from Niagara to Greenwood, via the Summit, now only takes 3 hours.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

After years of waiting, after petitions to parliament, after numerous broken promises, after subsidies had been voted and never earned, and after many disappointments, the people of Greenwood have at last the satisfaction of being interested spectators of the active preparations that are being made to begin railway construction within and near the city. Pat Welch, the big railway contractor, was a frequent visitor to Greenwood during the week. He was busy directing the establishment of construction camps in the Boundary Creek valley, and made almost daily trips between Niagara and Greenwood.

Mr. Welch's first camp is near Tillman's mill, about five miles from Greenwood. There is a village of tents here and husky Swedes are ready to tackle the rock work in the vicinity. Mr. Welch will establish other camps in the valley, so that in a few weeks the whole distance will be pretty fully covered. It is Mr. Welch's intention to crowd on as many men as can be procured. Men are coming from the Brooklyn end of the line and the tote road is pretty well covered with supply teams and men. Burns and Jordan have secured a sub contract from Mr. Welch and they will establish a camp near Greenwood.

The heavy snow of this week delayed the construction of the contractor's big warehouse, which is being erected on the railway reserve across the creek. The frame is up and it will be only a short time until it is boarded in. Greenwood is to be the headquarters and supply point during construction at this end.

With the commencement of active construction the report is revived that the railway doctors intend erecting a hospital in Greenwood, and that Dr. G. M. Foster, now at Cascade, will be in charge.

Work in Copper Camp.

Henry Brelich of Nelson has started men to work on the Copperopolis and Magnolia claims in Copper camp, properties recently bonded by the Kootenay and B. C. syndicate, which Mr. Brelich represents. Mr. Brelich intends sinking a 3½ by 7 feet shaft on the Magnolia, and doing some work on the Copperopolis. There is already a 50-foot tunnel crossing the ledge on the Copperopolis, and the hanging wall has not been reached. There are two shafts on the Magnolia.

Neil McCallum, of Columbia, one of the original owners of the townsite, was in the city Sunday.

King Rees is married. Everybody in Greenwood knows King. The steaks and chops appeared to be less tough when wrapped up with some of King's wit. He left Greenwood and went to Cascade, where he has charge of P. Burns & Co's meat market. Here is the formal announcement of King's wedding as it appears in the Cascade Record:

"The first of these weddings was that of Kingman Natt Rees, the popular manager for P. Burns & Co. of Cascade, who quietly slipped off to Spokane and was married there last Saturday to Miss Bertha Irene Estabrooks. The ceremony was performed in the Pacific hotel by Rev. Dr. Van Godel, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stocker, who were in Spokane on a visit, were present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Rees returned at once to Cascade and have taken up their residence at Hotel Cascade. Mrs. Rees is a native of New Brunswick, but has been living some years in Boston, Mass., whence she came direct to Spokane last week to meet Mr. Rees."

Mr. Rees is a brother of Mrs. J. P. Flood of this city. THE TIMES extends congratulations to Mr. Rees. May his shadow never grow less nor his steaks less tender.

A. W. Ross of Columbia was again a visitor to Greenwood this week. He confirmed the report that his syndicate had purchased the Williams & Bell stage line and that Columbia would be the headquarters in the future. Mr. Ross also acquired the Cascade Maple Leaf plant and in a short time Columbia will have a newspaper.

MEETING THE ELECTORS.

The meeting called on Thursday evening to discuss municipal matters was well attended. Mr. Ralph Smailes gave a forcible, businesslike address which was frequenty applauded. His opponent, Mr. Hardy, refused to address the electors. He pleaded that he was too busy to prepare a speech and would address the electors on Saturday eveninn. Charges of inconsistencies and of telling half a dozen different stories to the electors were made, but Mr. Hardy refrained from answering any of them.

Mr. Thos. Miller was voted to the chair. He stated that all candidates would have an opportunity of addressing the electors and called on Mr. Smailes.

Mr. Smailes was well received. He stated that judging from the present meeting and the activity displayed during the week, a considerable amount of interest is being taken in the campaign. Usually in a small city municipal matters were treated with apathy and indifference. He was glad such an interest was being taken and hoped that more attention would be turned to municipal affairs. He deprecated that it was necessary to take serious objection to some of the methods being employed by his opponents, because they were not conducive to the best interests of the district. (Applause.) The progress of the city depends largely upon the people working as a unit in its interests. (Applause.) Any attempt at this time at the very threshold of a large city, to create sectional feeling, should be strongly condemned. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Smailes referred to the pressure that was brought to bear upon upon him to be a candidate. He was in the field because a large portion of the electors urged him to be a candidate. He would not have run if a more suitable person could be secured. Before consenting he wanted to know who were his supporters and he then numbered among them Mr. Hardy. Now Mr. Hardy had every right to be a candidate, but he had no right to impute improper motives for his (Mr. Smailes) running. He had no right to charge him with running under cover of the townsite people. Mr. Smailes then briefly related the experiences of Rendell & Co. during the past year in connection with public improvements, to show that as far as his firm were concerned they had nothing in common with the work of last year's council. The assertion that he was the tool of any one is as untruthful as it is unjust. (Applause.) Mr. Hardy fully realizes this but it does not suit the purpose to acknowledge it. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Smailes had no axes to grind, and he did not promise to grind any for other people. (Hear, hear.) He had no election goods to deliver. The battle ought to be fought on legitimate grounds, upon the candidate's adaptability for the position. He urged his opponents to fight fair.

Mr. Smailes then referred to the incoming year. Much would be needed in the way of improvements. If elected he would endeavor to see that the city's money was expended as economically and judiciously as his own. He referred to the question of wages. The man who stood on the street corner and shouted $3 a day was not as good a friend of the working man as the man who paid $3 a day when he had work to do. His firm had always paid the highest wages and he was in favor of high wages on public works.

He did not know what was meant by an open town. If it meant disregard for law and order, he was opposed to it. He was in favor of keeping control over such matters. He did not intend to cater to the votes of any section of the city. He asked to be elected by the people. (Applause.) If elected, he would endeavor to discharge his duty justly and conscientiously. Whether elected or not, he was always ready to do his utmost to promote the interests of the city. (Applause.)

Mr. Hardy was asked by the chairman and Mr. Smailes' friends to address the meeting. Mr. Hardy stated that he did not come there for the purpose of addressing the electors. He would hold a meeting Saturday night when they would have the pleasure of listening to him. He was too busy to prepare what he had to say. He did not know of the meeting until last night.

Several attempts were made to get him on the platform, but he refused.

Mr. Naden begged to be excused, as he was suffering from a severe sore throat. He would rather wait and hear Mr. Hardy.

Mr. Thos. McDonnell would like to hear Mr. Hardy's speech. (Laughter.) He was a candidate, and if elected would do what was in the best interests of the city and what the majority of the ratepayers requested.

Mr. James Sutherland was on the Hardy ticket. He wanted to do his talking Saturday night.

Ald. Phelan said that this was the third time he had addressed the electors. He was again a candidate because he was urged to stand. He referred briefly to the work of last year and other matters.

Mr. D. C. McRae never before saw Mr. Hardy when he wasn't ready to talk (laughter). They were all anxious to know what Mr. Hardy really believed in, or which one of the half-a-dozen different policies being circulated he intended to follow. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. C. J. McArthur would have something to say at Saturday night's meeting.

Mr. Ross regretted Mr. Hardy was not ready to tell the people where he stood and believed he would not be ready Saturday night. There were too many policies circulated by himself and his friends to make the task easy of promulgating one straight honest policy. He referred to the $3 a day question and the petition, which Mr. Smailes signed and Mr. Hardy did not.

Mr. Keith attempted to repudiate certain policies which Mr. Hardy and some of his friends had circulated. He was in favor of a ticket to support Mr. Hardy as mayor.

Mr. Miller invited the candidates to express their views on such questions as electric light, tramways and sanitary arrangements.

Mr. Smailes answered briefly; Mr. Hardy did not. Mr. Smailes also pointed out that on Tuesday night Mr. Hardy asked him (Smailes) not to be too hard at Thursday's meeting; consequently he had known about the meeting earlier than the night previous.

Mr. McArthur wanted the day labor petition produced at the Saturday night meeting. City Clerk Taylor said he would produce any document if an order was procured from the mayor.

The meeting adjourned with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

Gone to Dawson.

Mr. A. Scott, the accountant at the Greenwood branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, left hurriedly for the coast on Saturday last, in response to a telegram from headquarters offering him an important position in the Dawson branch of the bank. Mr. Scott was to take passage on the steamer leaving Vancouver on the 5th. During his short stay in Greenwood, Mr. Scott made many friends who wish him success in the frozen north. His place in the Greenwood bank has been filled by Mr. J. N. Hill of Toronto, who arrived in the city on Tuesday.

CAMP McKINNEY MINES.

Messrs. Fox and Renier returned by Sunday's stage from Camp McKinney. Mr. Fox, who is a member of the firm of Fox & Ross, mining and investment brokers, Toronto, was seen by a TIMES representative, and he talked freely about his investments in McKinney. His firm have invested heavily in Minnehaha stock for themselves and clients. He visited the mine and was most favorably impressed. The Minnehaha has shown up well under development. Some remarkably rich assays have been secured from the property. From the first 40 feet in the shaft, the average assays were $100 per ton in gold and some assays gave $200. Assays taken from the crosscut at 65 feet gave $118 in gold. At the 100-foot level a drift was run to tap the vein and the first ore broken into yielded $135. The ore at this depth averaged $27.40 in gold. The pulp from this assay gave some fine showings of free gold, and the concentrates assayed $355.37. A sample from the same ore with the galena yielded $125.50. A heavily mineralized streak in the center gave $177.36.

So well pleased was Mr. Fox with the property that he telegraphed his partner, J. Hugo Ross, not to sell any Minnehaha stock until his return.

The company has now ample funds to develop it to the 300-foot level and also to purchase a 10-stamp mill and all necessary machinery. In fact the president of the company, Professor Montgomery, mineralogist of Trinity college, is now en route to Camp McKinney, and in all probability the necessary plant will be purchased and installed immediately upon his arrival.

Speaking of other Camp McKinney properties, Mr. Fox stated that he believed the Sailor the best prospect in the camp. Good work was being done on the Waterloo under the superintendence of Joe Murphy.

An effort was being made to boom the stock of the McKinney Reefs company in Toronto. This company hold the Flying Dutchman and Last Chance claims. They are selling stock on the assertion that the Cariboo vein passes through the Flying Dutchman. There is not the slightest possibility of the Cariboo vein running in the direction of the Flying Dutchman, and Mr. Fox is afraid that the prospects of the camp will be jeopardized by "wild cats" of this description.

Mr. Fox visited the Mother Lode, Knob Hill and other Boundary Creek mines. He says that they heard a good deal in Toronto about the Knob Hill, but refused to credit it. He was astonished at the showings. He will make an effort to convince his investing friends that Boundary Creek properties have not been boomed, but the showings are as stated.

Mr. Fox believes Greenwood will be the mining city of the district, but is also firmly of the belief that Columbia is going to be a large commercial and residential city.

COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION.

The regular meeting of the Greenwood Mining and Commercial association was held in Rendell's hall on Wednesday evening. President Anderson presided. A. W. Whiteside reported on behalf of the mining committee certain amendments which they considered should be made to the mineral act. After discussion, the association decided to recommend to the minister of mines that the act be so amended as to make it obligatory to make location notices legible and permanent, always giving the locator reasonable time to put up such notice. Another amendment suggested was one to discourage the practice of abandonment, by increasing the fees for abandonment to $10. The association also recommended that a clause be inserted to the effect that the interest of a co-owner refusing or neglecting to do his share of assessment work, goes to the other owners 30 days after the time for doing assessment has expired, and he has been served personally with a notice regarding the matter.

Another recommendation was one giving the agent of an absentee claim holder the right to file the necessary documents in an adverse claim. The report of committee as amended was adopted.

Messrs. Clive Pringle, J. Edwards Leckie and Ronald Harris were made members of the association.

The report of the committee on by-laws was adopted.

Officers Installed.

The officers of Boundary Valley Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., were installed on Tuesday evening by D. D. G. M. Thos. Hardy, assisted by the following staff: G. W., R. Smailes; G. M., B. Garrison; G. S., W. M. Law, and G. T., W. J. Harber. The following are the officers of the lodge: N. G., T. M. Tulley; V. G., H. B. Munroe; Rec. Sec., D. Ross; F. S., N. H. Lamont; Treas., G. B. Taylor; Warden, Geo. McKague: Conductor, J. J. Gulley; R. S. N. G., W. J. Harber; L. S. N. G., R. Smailes; R. S. V. G., R. F. Coates; L. S. V. G., J. McKenzie; I. G., Thos. McDonnell; O. G., Thos. Hardy; R. S. S., Sidney M. Johnson; Chaplain, Rev. Thos. Oswald.

After the installation ceremonies refreshments were served and a pleasant hour spent by the members.

Two-Cent Postage.

Postmaster-General Mulock has inaugurated a domestic rate of postage of two cents for ordinary letters. The rate went into effect on January 1. The local postoffice has been notified of the change, but there is a scarcity of two-cent stamps, so that people will be temporarily under the necessity of using three cents. The change is an important one. Some time ago an imperial postage rate of two cents was established.

The oldest inhabitant cannot remember any colder weather than that of this week. The thermometer at the government office, Midway, registered 39 degrees below zero on Wednesday, and Friday morning was 42 degrees. It ran 30 below in Greenwood.

B. C. Mine Sold.

The B. C. mine of Summit camp is sold. The negotiations which had been pending for the sale of this famous property were closed at Rossland on Tuesday last. R. G. Edwards Leckie, representing a Montreal syndicate, paid Messrs. Harrison and Barchard $50,000, being one-sixth of the purchase price, $300,000. Reference to the sale and the mine itself have been made in THE TIMES of recent date.

Mr. Hardy has called a meeting for to-night (Saturday) in Rendell's hall. The candidates for municipal honors have been invited to attend.

THE SPECIAL NUMBER.

The exchanges have given the special holiday number of THE BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES many flattering notices, for which we desire to express our very great appreciation. Here are some of the nice things that have been said concerning the issue:

The Christmas edition of the Boundary Creek Times, published at Greenwood City, B. C., is handsomely illustrated with half-tone views of the camps of the district, and contains some ably written mining articles which contain valuable information.—Spokesman-Review.

The special holiday number of the Boundary Creek Times reflects much credit on the enterprise and ability connected with that paper. The general information contained in the issue is good throughout, and the illustrations well done and characteristic of the Boundary Creek district. To any one wishing information regarding the district, or in need of reliable data for friends at a distance, the special edition of the Times will be most acceptable, not alone because of the amount of information contained in the number, but for the reason that the descriptive work has been done by well known and thoroughly reliable men, who have had years of experience in the Boundary country.—Grand Forks Miner.

The Boundary Creek Times of Greenwood, with its usual enterprise, issued a splendid holiday edition. It consisted of 40 pages of well-written matter, and contained a number of half-tone illustrations. The articles are gotten up in good shape and the publication will doubtless be of considerable benefit to the entire district. Cascade Record.

The Boundary Creek Times, printed at Greenwood, has issued a 40-page holiday edition, containing views of the city, the surrounding mines, and general information of the section in which it is issued.—Rossland Record.

The Boundary Creek Times, published at Greenwood, B. C., by Duncan Ross, has issued a holiday number equal to anything of the character ever attempted in British Columbia. The edition contains 22 pages of carefully prepared matter concerning the resources of the Boundary Creek country, and should prove of great benefit to that district. We congratulate Mr. Ross on his enterprise.—Nelson Economist.

The Boundary Creek Times has published a very large and handsome Christmas number, a credit in every way to Greenwood City.—Kamloops Standard.

The Boundary Creek Times has issued a splendid holiday edition. The 40 pages contain views of the city and surrounding mining camps and general information of the district. It is well printed and a credit to the Boundary Creek district.—Revelstoke Herald.

The Boundary Creek Times has issued a fine Christmas number replete with interesting and accurate information regarding the vast mineral resources of the Boundary Creek district and the City of Greenwood. It should be a good advertisement of the lower country, and is in every way an extremely creditable production.—Vernon News.

GREENWOOD AND DISTRICT.

R. M. McEntire has returned from a business trip to Camp McKinney.

A. Fisher has returned from Spokane, where he spent the holidays with his family.

Rev. Father Palmer arrived in Greenwood during the week and will conduct services in the Catholic church on Sunday morning at 8 and 10:30 o'clock.

Martin Walsh is doing development work on the Ten Broek an adjoining claim to the Mother Lode. The work done on the property consists of a 50-foot shaft and a 200-foot tunnel.

Mr. Weeks of the Windsor hotel has just received from Atlanta two cotton plants. They are a curiosity in this northern country and are interesting because they show the cotton as it grows.

Advertisers are again reminded that changes may be made as often as desired; but to ensure attention the copy for change must be in THE TIMES office not later than Tuesday evening of current week.

Geo. F. Horning, of Snohomish, Wash., and Miss Catherine Nelson, of Jerlane, Denmark, were united in marriage at the Pioneer hotel on Thursday, December 29th, Rev. Thos. Oswald officiating.

A. Fleming, who was employed on railway construction in McDonnell's camp, died in the city Thursday. He contracted pneumonia, which was the immediate cause of death. The deceased was about 36 years of age. Nothing was known concerning him. He was buried in the Greenwood cemetery on Saturday.

Early Saturday morning a Chinese wash house on Deadwood street was destroyed by fire. The building was a considerable distance away from other buildings, so that there was but little danger of a fire spreading. The loss is divided among the people who sent their washing to the laundry, the greater portion of which was destroyed. The building was owned by E. Parry.

Mr. G. B. Taylor and bride arrived from Nakusp on Friday evening. They were married at the Episcopal church, Nakusp, by Rev. Mr. Yates, and after receiving the congratulations of their Nakusp friends at the residence of Mrs. Dawson, the bride's sister, they left by steamer for Robson. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have gone housekeeping in their new residence, near the court house.
