A LARGE COMPANY.

A BIG DEAL CARRIED THROUGH.

McKenzie Mann & Co's Properties are Floated For $5,000,000 in the East. W. T. Smith Returns. A Meyers Creek Property Bonded. Mining Notes.

W. T. Smith returned this week from Toronto, where he spent several weeks in assisting to organize the largest company yet floated to develop Boundary Creek mining properties. Mr. Smith always retained his interest in the big properties purchased by Mackenzie, Mann & Co., and in the organization of the company it was important that his interests should be included. Mr. Smith agreed to the taking of shares in the company as payment. The company which was organized several weeks ago but has not yet been registered is called the Dominion Copper Mines Limited. The capitalization is $5,000,000. The properties represent 3,000,000 shares, 2,000,000 has been placed in the treasury and 1,000,000 is held in the reserve. The properties which the Company acquire are a group of six big claims in Greenwood camp, namely, the Stemwinder, Brooklyn, Idaho, Montazuma, Rawhide and Golden Eagle. While all are good properties the development work has been confined chiefly to the Brooklyn and Stemwinder. The Brooklyn is a crown-granted property, located under the old mining act, and is consequently 600 by 1500 feet. The ledge, or more properly speaking the lode, runs north and south and is 100 feet in width. The limestone wall is easily discernable on the surface, and the lode can be traced the entire distance to the opposite wall. A double compartment shaft, 9x4½ feet inside the timbers has been sunk to a depth of 250 feet. This shaft is at an agle of 70 degrees. There are two levels, one at 50 feet and the other at 150 feet. The greater development work has been done at the latter level. The ledge has been crosscut the entire distance of 150 feet. There is also a 75-foot drift on the ore body. It is the intention to crosscut and drift at 250 feet. This work is to be started in a few days. The company have an assay office on the ground which is kept busy turning out values from samples. What the values are has not been made public, but it is safe to say that the Brooklyn ore runs high in copper and also contains good gold values. There are about 500 tons of shipping ore on the dump. A 30x60 shaft-house, 36 feet high, built of lumber and roofed with corrugated iron, shelters two 30-horsepower boilers and hoist. There is also a No. 5 plunger pump, but there has yet been no necessity for its use. The plant has a sufficient capacity to sink the shaft to the 500-foot level. A well built wagon road leads from the Brooklyn to the Stemwinder. Here is a shaft similar to that on the Brooklyn. It is 9x4½ feet in the clear, with an inclination of 70 degrees. Eight inch square timbers and two-inch planking form the sides. The shaft house is 80 feet in length and 50 feet in height. The building is intended for the big compressor plant, which will be installed as soon as the railway is completed, and which will furnish power to the two mines. In the meantime a 30-horsepower boiler, a hoist and pump comprises the plant. The width of the Stemwinder ledge has not been determined, but it is known to be several hundred feet. The dump contains several hundred tons of ore. It runs as high as 20 per cent. copper, will average 10 per cent. copper, and also carries substantial gold values. The shaft is down 175 feet. The ledge has been crosscut at 115 feet and a drift run. The shaft will be continued at different levels established.

R. M. McEntire and Thos. McDonnell, of the firm of McEntire, McDonnell & Co., made several trips to Meyers Creek last week. They were not on pleasure bent; indeed one of the trips was taken on bicycles with the result that neither are saying much but their appearance upon their return spoke volumes. They had the satisfaction, however, of securing a bond on the Review which is considered one of the best properties on Meyers Creek. The price mentioned in the bond is $50,000. The Review is at the foot of Anarchist mountain, across the international boundary line. It is a free milling property and the samples brought down are plainly streaked with the yellow metal. The Review is owned by Robert Allison and J. Mulholland. A 250 foot tunnel has been run in on the vein. The tunnel gave a depth of 125 feet. The vein which has been opened up by this tunnel gives values from $7 to $60 in gold. Messrs. McEntire, McDonnell & Co. intend starting a force of men on the property at once.

NOTES.

E. H. Moss, of Beaverton, was in the city last week.

Jeff Davis, of Grand Forks, paid the metropolis a visit last week.

Jay P. Graves was up at the mines last week. He left for Spokane.

Geo. R. Naden, R. J. Bealey and J. C. Haas returned yesterday from the Similkaeen country.

The townsite of Eholt has been subdivided and lots will be placed on the market in a few days.

It is reported that W. H. Norris has sold the Midway Advance to the Midway Townsite Company.

H. Y. Ceperley, of Vancouver, was in the city last week to adjust insurances in connection with the recent fire.

Among the many offerings at the funeral of the late Mrs. Hardy was a beautiful wreath made by Mrs. J. W. Nelson and her sister, Miss Tony Roth.

The Bank of British North America has opened a bank at Bennett. Mr. D. Simpson is temporarily in charge. Bennet is a growing town on Lake Bennett, the entrance to the famous Atlin country.

Rev. Father Palmer left during the week for Grand Forks to conduct services there on Sunday. The following Sunday he will be in Okanogan Mission and he will return here for Sunday, 23 inst. Father Palmer in the future will visit Greenwood every three weeks.

Rev. H. Irwin, (Father Pat) of Rossland, will hold services in Barrett's hall on next Sunday at 11 a. m. "Father Pat" is anxious to meet all male members and friends of the Church of England at a smoking concert in the same hall tonight at 8:30.

A meeting of the city council was held on Tuesday evening when several bylaws were advanced a stage. The city solicitor was instructed to defend the suit brought against the city by Geo. Foulds for injuries sustained by falling into the excavation for the Guess block. The case will come up for trial at Grand Forks on the 17th inst.

TWO BIG DAYS' CELEBRATION

Greenwood the Center of Attraction for Thousands of Visitors From Surrounding Districts. Everybody Satisfied With the Entertainment Provided.

Every Event on the Long Programme Keenly Contested. The Horse Races. Exciting Firemen's Contest. The Grand Drilling Contest.

The grand drilling tournament on Tuesday evening closed the biggest and most successful celebration ever held in the Boundary Creek District. From the time of the log chopping contest on Monday morning until the last drill was pounded, in what was probably the most keenly contested and highest prized drilling tournament ever held in British Columbia, the celebration was a series of successes.

The crowds began to gather on Sunday and by Monday morning there were probably 3,000 people in the city. The number rapidly increased until Tuesday afternoon and it would be impossible to estimate how many attempted to witness the drilling tournament. The visitors entered a gaily decorated city. The decoration committee, ably assisted by the business men, had transformed the business streets into avenues of decorations. Streamers, buntings, flags and evergreens had been used to such good effect until it was impossible to realize the ordinary every day business street. Lack of space precludes a detailed description of the decorations by business firms. Many showed a large amount of originality and taste. Special mention ought to be made of Hunter-Kendrick's where a fully armed man-of-war made out of articles of hardware attracted much attention. Rendell & Co.'s beautiful arcade was tastily decorated, as was also the Imperial hotel, Greenwood Trading company's store, W. M. Law & Co.'s, St. Charles hotel, Pioneer hotel, Miners' hotel, P. Burns & Co., Smith & McRae's and a dozen other business houses.

At the corner of Copper and Greenwood streets were two streamers, one bearing the inscription. "We Welcome All to the Metropolis," and the other, "Success to the Boundary Creek District." Another streamer invited the visitor to Rendell's Arcade.

WOOD CHOPPING.

The carnival of sports opened with a wood chopping contest at the corner of Copper and Deadwood streets. The contestants were John A. Murray, champion of British Columbia, and Mike Hays. The log was about 18 inches in diameter. Murray who had first choice, made his cut in 1:59 1-5; Hays, the adjoining cut, in 2:21 1-5. In the next trial Hays had the small end and finished in 2:40 2-5, while Murray's time was 2:49. The contest was awarded to Murray.

LACROSSE.

For the first time Greenwood was the scene of a lacrosse match. Canada's national and popular game had been played more scientifically but never more enthusiastically. There were veterans in the teams—old players who knew all the little tricks that so annoy an opponent and amuse the grandstand. There were novices too—men who never saw a lacrosse stick until they saw it in Greenwood. Lacrosse was played sometimes, "shinny" at other times, but the crowd seemed to enjoy the game. The teams were as follows;

No. 1—Medill, Louiser, Brooks, Brooks, Zoellener, Crawford, Kennedy and Patner.

No. 2—Flood, Dalles, Morgan, Hallett, McPherson, Thomas, Hillary and Frith.

HORSERACING.

A horseman is the most independent cuss on the face of the earth. If he owns a blooded horse he labors under the impression that the audience, the judges and every one else must await his pleasure. His impression is usually correct. The crowd becomes impatient and the judges curse, but the races don't start until the king horseman is ready. It so happened on Monday and is likely to happen until there are sufficient entries to make the owners less independent. The quarter mile run in heats, was scheduled to be run at 2:30 sharp. There were four entries, Sleepy Jim, Dan McLung; Raceland, Dan McDonald; "55," J. E. Leckie, and Rossland Maid, Claud A. Cregan. At 2:30 neither "55" nor Rossland Maid put in an appearance and it was after three before they were seen moving at a funeral pace towards the track. It took another half hour to get them off. Rossland Maid won first and second heats easily and Sleepy Jim was just as easy a second. "55" was handicapped by lack of a rider who knew the animal.

The boys' pony race was one of the best races of the meet. There were five entries, Harewood, G. N. C. Hill; Little Bob, D. Beath; Gray, Charlie J. J. Winters; Buckskin Billy, D. R. Campbell, and Curlew, Geo. Archibald. Curlew and Harewood made a hot race for first place, the former winning by a head, and Harewood taking second money.

Robbins came out on top in the Livery men's race. He had three horses in the race and their only contestants was J. Sterrets Charley. Charley had too much flesh to run well and consequently Robbins' Roderick and Pinto carried off first and second money.

Floyd Vaughn took three weeks to bring a donkey from Midway for the slow race. His opponents were two horses. The horses with changed riders made a strong run for second money. Just as we go to press a telephone message from the track states that the donkey is at the three-quarter post and will be in next week. The judges got tired waiting and awarded him first money several days ago.

On Tuesday afternoon the rain had made the track heavy, consequently the horses struggled in the 1¼ mile dash. Rossland Maid won first money, Raceland was second and Victor third. Sleepy Jim falling back to fourth place.

The half mile race was won by Victor; Fairview, an Indian horse, taking second money.

Floyd Vaughn won the gymkana race and Morand was second.

The judges of the horse races were Thos. Maculey, J. Keene and J. W. Nelson. Starters were C. Scott Galloway and D. A. Cameron.

TUG OF WAR.

The tug of war which took place on the Pioneer hotel platform was a magnificent exhibition of strength and endurance. The opposing teams were one from the Mother Lode mine and one representing the city of Greenwood. The Greenwood team were declared winners, but there being some dispute about the result, another trial was made when the Greenwood team again won.

FIREMEN'S RACES.

The two races between the members of the volunteer fire department were keenly contested and attracted a large amount of interest. The first race was a wet test between the members of the hook and ladder company and the hose company. The first team consisted of D. A. McKenzie (Capt.), P. J. McLeod, F. Miller, W. H. Asquith, H. Louiser, Frank Coates, Geo. Inkster, W. Medill, Fred Wilson. The hose team was made up of A. D. Hallett (Capt.), W. S. Keith, W. A. Keith, J. Flood, J. Moody, R. H. Palmer, E. H. Mortimer, M. E. Miller and H. J. Miller. The wet test included a run of 100 yards to the hydrant at the corner of Copper and Greenwood streets and 50 yards beyond. The hose team made the run and had water turned on in 33 seconds. The hook and ladder team had trouble in making connection with the hydrant and were seven or eight seconds longer. In the hub and hub race for 200 yards and carrying 6 lengths of hose, the hook and ladder company won after an exciting race.

BASEBALL.

An unfortunate accident interfered with the success of the baseball match between Greenwood and Grand Forks. In the fourth inning H. Russell, one of the best players in the Grand Forks team had his ankle fractured. He was endeavoring to return to first base and in sliding in he met with the accident. Dr. Foster was called and he had Russell removed to Mr. Edwards' residence where the broken limb was set. Mr. Russell was afterwards taken to the Greenwood hospital where he is recovering. In the same inning W. G. Keith and Moore ran for the same fly with the result that Keith was forced to retire for the rest of the game.

Only five innings were played. Grand Forks had a good team while Greenwood was weak in several places. The score follows.

SMALL SPORTS.

The small sports which were held on Silver street could not be considered satisfactory. The rain interfered somewhat. Then the large crowd persisted in crowding in on the contestants, delaying matters materially. The contestants themselves were slow in making their entries with the result that the time limit was reached before the programme was completed.

The 100-yard dash was won by F. J. Mitchell, with P. J. McLeod a close second.

The boys' handicap race was won by Ed. Medill, Chas. Russell second.

M. D. Richards, from Republic, won the running long jump and V. Ryder was second.

F. J. Mitchell and P. G. McLeod again won first and second places in the 200 yard dash.

J. A. Murray took first money for putting the 16-pound shot. P. G. McLeod was second.

The quarter mile race was won by F. J. Mitchell, P. J. McLeod second.

W. Tilton, M. D. Richards and P. J. McLeod struggled for first place in the running high jump, but after repeated trials they decided to divide the money among them.

A. Hallett won the potato race and R. Tilton was second.

DRILLING CONTEST.

What was easily the biggist drilling tournament ever held in Canada closed the two days' sports. The celebration committee decided to offer $300 in prizes, 200 going to the winning team and $100 to the second team. This was afterwards augumented by $75 for the winning team given by the Pacific, Windsor and Commercial hotels. Then the mine owners and business men to encourage local teams made up a $595 purse for them. The subscribers being as follows:

There were five teams entered. Mike Burns and E. Stevenson who figured in Rossland contests; Wm. Ross and Dan Murphy two strong men from Ymir represented the outside miners. The three local teams were A. D. McLeod and A. L. Lynch; D. Clune and J. Sullivan; A. L. Holmes and Owen Sandry. The judges of the contest were Mayor Hardy, C. J. McArthur and Harry Howson. The rock a huge piece of hard granite was placed in position at the corner Copper and Deadwood street. The first team to try their prowess were Clune and Sullivan. They went at it with their old time vigor encouraged by an enthusiastic crowd. When it looked as if they were bound to make a new record for themselves, luck turned completely against them, the drill stuck fast and nothing would turn it. Denny threw down his hammer in disgust but urged by the crowd he made a second effort. It was no use however and the champion Boundary creek drillers were forced to retire before 12 minutes had expired. In that time they drilled 26⅛ inches.

Then came the powerful Mike Burns and his partner. Everything ran smoothly enough for them and drills sunk deep into the rock with every blow. When the 15 minutes expired they had drilled 42 inches a new record for Greenwood. They won $275 first money for the contest.

A. D. McLeod and Al. Lynch were the next contestants. They drilled 34¾ inches and won first money for Boundary creek which included $220 in cash, two suites of clothes, two Stetson hats and two pair shoes.

Wm. Ross was probably the best driller who ascended the platform but was handicapped by a partner not his equal. They drilled 36⅝ inches and took second money for the outside teams.

Holmes and Sandry the last team to drill did some pretty work and succeeded in making 33⅜ inches taking second money for Boundary creek teams, Their winnings were $95 in cash, two suits of clothes, two pair of shoes and two Stetson hats.

The contest throughout was a magnificent one. The only unfortunate feature was Clune and Sullivan's mishap which probably changed the result.

THE FIREWORKS.

Tuesday night A. W. Strickland, Thos. Roadley and Geo. A. Guess ascended Jubilee mountain until they could go no further. All being corpulent men the trip was a hard one but they struggled to get high in the interests of the grand pyrotecharcial display which is necessary to round off every big celebration. For upwards of an hour they kept the air space above them filled with rockets and other articles of the firework order. They succeeded in making about as much noise as Pat Welch's construction gang but their work had a much prettier effect.

ENDORSING MARTIN.

Resolution Passed By the Miners' Union of Rossland.

The following resolution was adopted at a meeting of the Rossland Miners' Union No. 38, W. F. M., on Wednesday, June 28th:

Whereas, on the night of June 20th, 1899, there was given in the city of Rossland, B. C., what was known as a public banquet in honor of our most worthy citizen, ex-Governor Mackintosh, one who has the welfare of our city at heart and has done untold good for the community at large. But we regret with shame that when the Hon. Joseph Martin rose to address the banquetters that a good many of those so-called gentlemen should so far forget themselves as to jeer at one whom this province might justly be proud of, and by their action they dishonored the guest of the evening, disgraced themselves, and dragged in the dust the good name our city and citizens have always enjoyed for hospitality to those who may have mingled among us either as invited guests or sojourning among us as friends. Therefore, be it further

Resolved, That we, the Rossland Miners' Union, No. 38, W. F. of M., believe the Hon. Joseph Martin, attorney-general, was grossly insulted by a certain element who attended the said public banquet because of his friendly attitude towards the eight-hour law passed for the benefit of metalliferous miners in this province. And we further believe such a course was carefully planned by a vast majority of those who attended the said public banquet, and the motive for such is easily understood by this union. Be it further

Resolved, That we admire the manly way in which the Hon. Joseph Martin acquitted himself, and we condemn such outrageous indecency by the would-be aristocracy who attended the said public banquet. And in future we pledge our support to the Hon. Joseph Martin and his colleagues, who have proved by their noble acts that they are the friends of the masses and not the classes, and we call upon all honorable citizens to denounce this insult offered to one whom as a citizen this province of British Columbia might well feel proud of and Canada may well admire.

Sound at Heart.

There is a lesson for labor leaders in the almost unanimous public sympathy for the Grand Trunk trackmen.

Public opinion forced Sir Wilfred Laurier to move away from his avowed attitude of impartiality, and public opinion developed a strength which made even General Manager Hays unwilling to continue the fight.

The unanimity and power of this public sentiment suggest the truth that Canada is sound at heart on the question of the workingmen's right to living wages.

Every well-considered movement to give living wages to the toiler will be supported by the strength of an almost unanimous public sentiment. The higher politics of trade unionism, like the attempt to deny civic employment to unorganized labor, excite differences of opinions, but there are no differences to cripple any attempt to secure to the Canadian toiler his right to a white man's wages.—Toronto Telegram.

Celebration Notes.

On Monday night a grand ball was given in Barrett's hall under the auspices of the Volunteer Fire department. About seventy couples were on the floor. The music was good and all throughly enjoyed themselves.

Tuesday night Marietta LaDell a noted elocutionist gave an entertainment in the same hall. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Dr. Mathison who was heard for the first time in Greenwood and whose voice is a valuable addition to the local talent. Messrs. Seymour and Simpson also contributed towards the evening's entertainment.

F. H. McCarter, Senior and Junior of the Miner were among the Grand Forks citizens who took in the celebration.

Ernest Kennedy of Kennedy, Rice & Co., Rossland, was among the visitors to the celebration. He left his racer at Grand Forks.

E. Spraggett of Grand Forks took in the celebration.

J. A. Smith, secretary of the Grand Forks Townsite company, took in the celebration and the metropolis at the same time. He thinks Greenwood all right but is enthusiastic about the grand and glorious future in store for Grand Forks.

Claude A. Cregan and Harold Baker of Rossland were among the visitors to the celebration.

Hugh Cameron and Ed. James represented Camp McKinney at the big celebration.

Wm. Y. Williams, superintendent of Jay P. Graves' mining company was noticed among the numerous visitors.

ACTION NECESSARY.

CABINET dissensions and administrative incompentency are having their blighting effects upon the affairs of the province. The proper administration of the affairs of the province is no light undertaking. The many details and those important matters that can be properly regulated only by sound judgment and concerted action are too important to be controlled by men who when they are not fighting among themselves in Victoria, are busy making fools of themselves elsewhere.

The recent stage robbery brings out one of those unsatisfactory conditions that have arisen since the coming of the Semlin government. For years Southern Yale was free from crime because F. S. Hussey, the superintendent of provincial police, was allowed a free hand in the work of guarding the interests of the general public against the depredations of lawless and viscious men who infested the country bordering on the international boundary line. Joseph Martin, from Manitoba, knew more about running a provincial police force than did Fred Hussey, who spent years in the mining sections of the province, and who was thoroughly acquainted with existing conditions and the requirements to meet these conditions. Martin took charge of the department himself. He dismissed officers where they were needed and retained them where they were not needed. He made it impossible and unprofitable for police officers to keep horses; so that when it was necessary to do police duty they were torced to go on foot or borrow their neighbors'. He did everything possible to disorganize and demoralize the departmant. The result was obvious. A stage carrying Her Majesty's mails is held up in the public highways. The robbers deliberately cut open the sack on the road side and after securing what they could, went their way without interruption. No special effort has been made to secure their capture, simply because no policeman are available to undertake the duty.

Again the appointments of all the local justices' of the peace have been cancelled and their successors have not been sworn in, leaving a large district without magistrates. To further complicate matters, the time in which the new justices shall take the oath of office has been extended to the first day of August. The general public are not notified of this postponement; nor of other announcements of the government. The expense of advertising such announcements in the usual way is too heavy and the public unless they subscribe for the B. C. Gazette may remain in ignorance regarding the proclamations of His Honor, the Lieteuant Governor in Council.

Nor is the police the only department whose efficiency has been impaired. The mining recorders' offices, the land registery office and other offices with which the public come into direct contact are found in an unsatisfactory condition. Aggravating delays which ought to be exceptions in well regulated and properly conducted offices are now the portion of nearly every one attempting to do business. The building of roads, trails and bridges are in the same unsatisfactory condition.

After all, certain rules which are observed by the successful business firms are needed in the proper administration of public affairs. A firm with its members quarrelling among themselves usually lands in the bankruptcy court; a similar fate awaits a government, the members of which are busily engaged in the work of destroying each other.

Slowly but surely those who defeated the Turner government are realizing the fact that its successors do not represent them nor the country. It was mere braggadocio for Joseph Martin to tell the people of Rossland that he had the votes behind him. He has nothing of the kind. He had the votes behind him when he assumed an important position in the Semlin caainet, but the votes will not follow him in his wild plunging to political and personal ruin. Already an organized effort is being made on the coast to purge the government, such a movement being necessary because the premier is too weak to do what he himself would like or the country demands.

The situation is a critical one and requires some careful engineering. A return to the old order of things under the Turner government will not be tolerated. Tupper's garruility would be an unbearable incubus. The province has plenty of able and enterprising men and it is hoped that the time will place some of them in charge of the affairs of the province.

ROBBED THE MAILS

HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP MAIL STAGE

The Snodgrass Stage Stopped by Armed Men and the Driver is Forced to Deliver Her Majesty's Mails. Secure Registered Sack. No Clue to Robbers. Holdup Takes Place near Rock Creek.

For the second time during the last two months Her Majesty's mails in this district have been looted by highwaymen. The latest robbery is of a serious nature, armed men commanding the driver of the stage to stop and forcing him to throw out the mails. This is the first time in the history of staging in the district that a hold-up of this kind has happened.

About two o'clock Saturday afternoon, Snodgrass' stage for Penticton with Joe Snodgrass driving left Greenwood with through mail from Grand Forks and local mail for western points. There were also four passengers on board, one lady and three gentlemen. The stage had left Rock Creek and was ascending the steep grade near Kennedy creek when two masked men came from behind a large tree on the bank overlooking the road. They commanded Snodgrass to stop the stage. He paid no attention to them when a peremptory order came backed up by two fierce looking revolvers in the hands of each of the men. The stage stopped. One of the men jumped down and took a position at the side of the right wheeler while the other remained on the bank above. Snodgrass asked them what they wanted. "Give us the express box" was the reply. Snodgrass replied that he had no express box. "Well throw out the mail". With four revolvers pointing at him Snodgrass could do nothing but comply. He began throwing out the sacks. The big heavy mail sacks wedged between and underneath the seats were not easy to unload and the robbers becoming impatient at the delay swore at Snodgrass and suggested a quicker movement. "If you think you can get these sacks out any quicker I wish you would come up here and try". The robbers did not accept the invitation and he was asked if he wanted the newspaper sacks. The man at the horses side who acted as spokesman stated he wanted everythink and wanted it d—n quick. After the mail sacks had been thrown out, Snodgrass was asked to move on an lose no time about. Snodgrass drove on and he and the passengers were beginning to breath freely when one of the masked men came out in front of them on the road again having taken a short cut through the woods. You are not moving very quickly he said "now lose no time but get". Not wishing a further interview, the necessary speed was secured and maintained until Hoosier was reached.

In the meantime the stage met Phil J. Hickey coming to Greenwood from McKinney. He was informed of the robbery but he thought those on the stage were joking. He soon came up to the mail sacks scattered on the road. He saw a man a short distance away. Mr. Hickey suggested to him that the stage had been held up and the stranger answered that he would got up and see about it. Mr. Hickey did not remain long in the vicinity but came hurriedly to Rock Creek.

At Hoosier two men were secured who went back to the scene of the hold-up and found the mail sacks. Some of them had been left untouched while others had been cut open. The robbers did not even handle the registered mail very carefully. One letter which was cut open had $25 between its pages which were unmolested by the highwaymen. The mail was taken to Hoosier and forwarded from McKinney next morning. The robbers appeared to be novices and were apparently quite nervous about their desperate undertaking. One, a tall man had a mask which covered only the upper portion of his face, while the other a stouter man was masked in a sheepskin which came down to his chest.

The international boundary line is about three miles distant and can be easiely reached from the scene of the robbery. It is stated that the only provincial police officer in the district is out on foot after them.

Timber Fell on Him.

An unfortunate accident happened a few days ago at the site of the new railway bridge being built over Sutherland creek, by Porter Bros. & McArthur, for the railway contractors. By it a young man lost his life almost instantly.

Shortly after starting work a heavy batter post was being hoisted into position, when it began to totter, John Girard, one of the bridge carpenters, saw it leaning, and jumped to get out of the way. Unfortunately he sprang in the wrong direction, and the heavy timber fell on him, crushing his head and back. A horseman was dispatched at once to Cascade for surgical assistance, but Girard was dead before he could get there, having lived but a few minutes after the accident. No blame is attached to any one for the fatality. Girard was a man of about 27 years, and was unmarried. He came from the town of Arnprior, Ontario, where his people now reside. He was well thought of by his fellow workmen and employes, having been three or four weeks on this bridge, before that on the long bridge over Porcupine creek, 10 miles west of Brooklyn.

SINKS, Garbage Boxes and Cesspools need attention now. Sometimes sickness in the summer months is due to lack of disinfectants. Be on the safe side—use CREOLIN now.

CREOLIN is a prompt, reliable and safe disinfectant. It is not poisonous, and that is one of the reasons why it is in such demand. Death through carbolic acid is frequent.

IN addition to its use as a general disinfectant, Creolin is an agreeable deodorizer for the sick room, an effective home remedy for burns, cuts and other hurts; and a useful application in treating skin blemishes and parasitic diseases of animals.

THREE table spoonfuls of Creolin mixed with a gallon of water makes a good disinfectant

MR. MARTIN'S SIDE.

He Gives His Version of the Resignation Sensation.

A Victoria dispatch says: Attorney-General Joseph Martin was interviewed by a Globe reporter today, and made the following statement about the incident of Premier Semlin requesting his resignation. Asked if the story published in Vancouver was correct, he replied: "Yes, it is perfectly correct." To the question: "Do you intend to resign?" Martin replied in his well known emphatic way: "Certainly not. If any one should resign it ought to be Mr. Semlin, for he has not the confidence of the whole of his cabinet, or the members of the party in the house."

The whole preceeding on the part of the premier, Mr. Martin pronounced most extraordinary. As was well known, the position of "premier" was not recognized in the constitution, and because he happened to disagree with a member of the cabinet no premier had a right to request that member's resignation, especially without consulting his colleagues.

"Mr. Semlin did not consult his colleagues," went on Mr. Martin. "He acted on his own responsibility, or rather on the advice of Mr. Cotton, as Mr. Semlin is a weak man and is goverened by what Mr. Cotton says. The whole thing is a conspiracy between Mr. Semlin and Mr. Cotton. Cotton is one of those men who likes to stand behind a tree and push some one else forward to do his work. For the reasons Mr. Semlin gave me for asking me to resign, it is most extraordinary that he should have acted without ever requesting me to give any explanation, and I told him so plainly on Saturday." The idea of Mr. Semlin giving as a reason for his action the charge that the attorney-general had neglected his office was, Mr. Martin said, ridiculous. "Why, I defy any one to say that I have neglected the affairs of my office. Not only has everything been kept up to date there, but I have been enabled to make a number of savings, and have put the department in a more efficient state than it ever was before. It is very ridiculous for Mr. Semlin to charge me with neglect of my department after he made such a muddle of the lands and works department that we had to move him into the much less responsible department of provincial secretary, and he is not even equal to carry on that in an efficient way. It is Mr. Semlin's place, if any one's, to resign," Mr. Martin repeated. "We only took him in as premier because we could not help ourselves. Mr. Cotton did not want him for premier any more than I did, but we could not afford, with only a majority of one, to do without him just then, and he threatened if he was not premier to kick over the whole applecart. What Mr. Cotton wants is the whole thing himself."

The charge that he had given away cabinet secrets, Mr. Martin characterized as absurd. "I never gave away any cabinet secrets," he remarked, "but when I found Mr. Cotton making statements outside that were falsehoods, I was forced to place myself right."

The excitement is extreme among politicians, and a meeting of the opposition supporters in the city was held today. The chances are that a coalition will be made, with Mr. Martin out in the cold.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE.

The press of the country had anticipated the retirement of Sir William Van Horne. Not so long ago the announcement of such retirement would have had the most disastrous effect upon the stock of the company. Today even those who were most pessimistic in regard to the ultimate success of this colossal undertaking say that it is one of the greatest institutions of the world. Sir William, though desiring for several years past to retire, had said that he would remain in harness till the stock reached par. It did touch that figure a month ago. The great project which it was said would never earn axle grease is consolidated. The C. P. R. is a dividend earner. The possibilities before it are simply boundless. The system itself is only in its infancy. It is, in fact, in process of evolution. It will grow with the growth of the country—rather it will direct, accelerate, that growth. It would be idle to speculate as to what would have happened had Sir William not taken taken off his coat to the upbuilding of a system which he found inchoate and unconnected; what is certain is, that its successes is due to his genius for administration, to his great courage, to his tactful management of men and interests. He now retires and there is no shock. The public feel that the C. P. R. is secure and strong and potential.

Now that Sir William intends to bury himself in his conservatory or his picture gallery (than which there is not a finer in Canada). He will take an interest in the great system, and, in the capacity of chairman of the board of directors, will offer his counsel, his direction, if need be. The familiar place, however, will know him no more. He will no longer be found sitting with his face to the back of his chair, legs apart, and cigar at a daring tilt—the embodiment of the democrat day. He was able, but he was also the simplest man in the C. P. R. service. He generally worked in his shirt sleeves. He said "damn" with great unction—in the moment of stress. He was intensely human. He had a large experience. He asked no man to profess anything; he expected the record of the life. No man laughted heartier at tin pot titles than the president of the C. P. R.; a man with a wife and family has often to swallow his principles. It seemed absurd that the democratic gentleman, simple as the first republicans of the United States, should become Sir William; no man perceived the absurdity more quickly than the president himself. At first, indeed, he said "damn" to those who presumed to give him his title; in time (such strange creatures are we) the title became part of the man. He could accept it with gravity; in society there was never question as to its propriety; in his shirt-sleeves, with his favorite cigar, it seemed grotesque in the extreme.

Mr. Morrison—that awful shareholder who heckles the dignateries at the annual meeting—laughed long and loud at the notioa of any human biped being worth $60,000 per annum. "Give a man a big salary and he will cease to work. He will hire other people to work, while himself will loaf." This is his dictum. Sir William has many able assistants; the plan was his. He schemed and thought and dared for the C. P. R.. He put his courage into the directorate. He said "damn" to the word "impossible." It was not the amount of work he did; it was the presence of the man. His name was a tower of strength. It was in the name the public invested. It was a striking individuality which earned $60,000 a year. He dared when others failed. His imagination was almost oriental in its warmth. The splendid optimism of the man was worth—well, there is such a thing as not being able to pay a man enough.

The most limited creature is various. Who would suppose to look at Sir William that he was a poet! Of course I do not mean that he wrote poetry. He felt it. It was his nature. To illustrate, he had a passion for orchids. He loved the lordly and the exotic in plants. Paintings are his hobby. He has a priceless collection of pictures in his beautiful residence on Sherbrook street, Montreal, which he has filled with art treasures from all lands, the east especially affording its quota. He is considered one of the best living judges of etchings. And he has a literary taste; loves good books, and can quote with facility and effect. Finally, he delights in travel, in scenery, in visiting historic places. Still a comparatively young man, thousands of friends and admirers will hope that ample opportunity may be given to Sir William to gratify the bent of his mind.

The Cabinet Crisis.

The following Victoria dispatch under date of July 4th gives the details of the cabinet crisis which was daily expected:

The crisis in the provincial cabinet has come about, after its members have been working at cross purposes for months. Premier Semlin has taken the bold stand of demanding the resignation of Attorney-General Martin. Fighting Joe refused point blank to accede to this request. In the row that followed in the attorney-general's office at Victoria last Saturday, Martin repudiated the right of the premier to make this demand. He says he will never resign on such a request, but that it must come from Governor McInnes, who is now in Atlin. Political circles here and in Victoria are in a great ferment over the affair. Though the details of the row have not yet been made public, it is only too apparent that the government, as at present constituted, cannot live, the breach between the premier and the chief law officer of the crown being irreconcilable. Premier Semlin asked for Martin's resignation on three different counts. First, he was not attending to the business of the department; second, he has been disclosing the private business of the cabinet; third, because he brought the government into disrepute by his actions and remarks at the Mackintosh banquet at Rossland. Martin refused positively to resign, insisting that the business of the department was carried on well. He denied that he had betrayed the government secrets, and said that he had never been asked for an explanation of the Rossland affair. Martin then accused Semlin of being a weak tool in the hands of Cotton. The government supporters say a caucus will be held at once and that H. D. Helmcken, Victoria, will be the new attorney-generel.

Martin took the labor side on the Deadman's Island question, which has been one of the chief factors in breaking up the government. Martin's supporters on the Island question, only a few days ago, announced that they would do anything even to the overthrow of the government, to obtain the dismissal of Cotton. It is considered that a new election is inevitable, and now it will be race between Cotton and Martin, that will finish one man or the other.

The Canada Western Gold Mining & Exploration company has received a letter from the superintendent of the Radja at Camp McKinney. He stated that he has found the ledge at a point 10 feet west of the shaft, and it is more than 20 feet wide of solid free milling quartz. Old timers in Camp McKinney say it is the prettiest thing in the camp.

Among the many rumors circulated in reference to the political crisis is one to the effect that Jos. Martin will resign upon the following conditions: Hume to resign, being anxious to attend to private affairs, and the fifth salaried portfolio to be filled; Henderson of Westminister to be attorney-general; Ralph Smith of Nanaimo, to be minister of mines; and one of Kootenay members, probably Martin of Rossland, to join the cabinet.
