GOVERNOR AND SENATOR.

As was stated in THE TIMES last week, Senator McInnes has been appointed Lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, to succeed Hon. Edgar Dewdney whose term of office has just expired. Mr. William Templeman, proprietor and managing-editor of the Victoria Times, has been appointed to succeed Mr. McInnes in the senate. The government has announced that Mr. Templeman had the solid support of the Liberals and of many Conservatives for the Lieut-governorship and would undoubtedly have got the office had he insisted upon it. It was the personal wish of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, however, that he should take an active part in political life at Ottawa. Mr. Templeman also had the united support of the cabinet and his going to Ottawa is expected to strengthen the party in British Columbia.

We were among those who urged Mr. Templeman's appointment to the Lieutenant-governorship and naturally feel disappointed at his not having secured it. That disappointment arises not because we do not believe that the interest of the Dominion and province are better served as matters have been arranged by the Premier, but because Mr. Templeman's services deserved the fullest recognition at the hands of the government.

It is of course true, that a governor of a province is a mere figure-head and that Mr. McInnes is therefore admirably suited for the position, while Mr. Templeman is too useful a man in political life to be shelved for four years. If he sees his way clear to accept the senatorship, the country is to be congratulated upon his appointment; if he has sacrificed his personal interests in the interests of his party as he repeatedly did in the past then the government should have refrained from riding a willing horse to death.

Senatorally the government made a good "swap." Mr. Templeman is a decided improvement upon his predecessor. If the Liberal government make many such appointments, the cry for senate reform will soon be a thing of the past.

Mr. Templeman is a vigorous fighter in the political arena and as a senator he will be free to carry on an aggressive warfare against mal-administration.

The best guage of Mr. Templeman's popularity in the province is to be found in the fact that although a resident of Victoria, his appointment has met with almost universal approval on the mainland. The appointment should have been a mainland one and had any other island man received the position there would be many indignant protests from mainland Liberals as well as Conservatives.

The appointment is particularly gratifying to newspaper men because it shows that the government recognizes the service an honest and capable journalist renders to the state.

The country is also to be congratulated for another reason. Mr. Templeman's appointment prevented Mr. McLagan from getting the position. Mr. McLagan's elevation to any position would have been a political blunder of the worst description.

DAILY MAIL SERVICE.

The Post-office department is calling for tenders for carrying the mail both ways between Grand Forks and Midway on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The mail is to be carried either on horseback or by vehicle at the option of the carrier. It must be carried through Carson, Greenwood, Anaconda and Boundary Falls. Tenders must be in by December 17 and the contract is to run from the first of the year.

As the mail service mentioned in the notice is for the days alternate to those included in the present contract, it is presumed that it is the intention of the post office department to establish a daily service between Marcus and Midway. Owing to the enterprise of the people of Greenwood there is now a daily service (except Monday) between Marcus and Greenwood the government paying for three days in the week and the residents of Greenwood for the other three.

To say the least the method adopted by the post office department to establish a daily service is sure to lead to confusion. When the postmaster-general was requested some time ago to make such arangements as would relieve the people of Greenwood from the necessity of paying directly for a daily service, he replied that the intention of the department was to establish a daily service between Penticton and Marcus. We believe that is exactly what ought to be done but cannot agree that the best way of securing the service is by parceling out small contracts for different portions of the route and different days in the week. A general contract for the speedy conveyance of mails between Penticton and Marcus should be awarded. Then there would be some inducement to the successful tenderer to have a fast stage line on the route.

REGISTER YOUR VOTE.

The people of that portion of the district of East Yale which is situated south of Penticton are hugging a delusion. The majority of them are strongly of the opinion that the revised voters' list for the district contains the names of sufficient electors who reside south of Penticton to force the government to give them a member. The list contains nothing of the kind and it would be folly for the electors to keep on believing that it does. We have sent for the accurate figures, but from information that is reliable we are in a position to state the work of those who undertook to get names on the voters' list was not half done. There are at least 800 men qualified to vote residing in the district south of Penticton and about half of these are on the list.

We are forced to come to the conclusion that the people are altogether too careless about political matters and this accounts for the vicious administration of political affairs. We know constituencies where men are never satisfied until the name of every one entitled to vote is placed on the list. Here, the people do not have sufficient interest in the matter to make an organized effort.

There are 400 names from south of Penticton to be placed on the East Yale voters' list. These names must be enrolled if the district is to receive proper representation.

They cannot be enrolled without organized effort. We would suggest a complete organization of the district with working committees in every section. Cascade City, Grand Forks, Carson, the Boundary Creek mining camps, Greenwood, Midway, Rock Creek, Camp McKinney, Osoyoos, Fairview, Penticton, the West Fork—every locality should have a committee who should never let up until every qualified elector is enrolled. We would urge the Grand Forks Miner and Midway Advance to agitate this matter. If the people of South-east Yale are to be left without direct representation it will be their own fault. Unless they show more interest in this matter, they deserve to be disfranchised.

Register your vote, and your neighbor's.

Extensive Bottling Works.

During his visit here, Mr. L. Blue made arrangements to establish at Greenwood a branch of the Lion Brewery, Rossland, of which he is president. A large boiler will be placed in the saw mill for the purpose of securing sufficient power to run steam bottling works, soda water works, and cold storage. The Lion Brewery is one of the largest establishments of the kind in the province. The beer will be shipped here in carload lots and bottled at the local works. The Greenwood City Mercantile Co. have secured the agency for the Lion Brewery. Work on the new building has been commenced and will be rushed to have the beer on the market as quickly as possible.

Messrs. Blue and Fisher have also decided to secure a portable sawmill which will be placed in one of the timber limits in the district. The lumber will be hauled to Greenwood and the local mill will be used for planing.

Skating Rink.

A meeting was held in the office of Guess Bros. on Saturday night for the purpose of discussing the advisability of constructing an ice rink on Boundary Creek. The attendance was good and the consensus of opinion was to the effect that a well constructed ice rink would furnish amusement during the winter months. The necessary money having been subscribed, a contract for constructing a dam on the old bed of Boundary creek was awarded Mr. D. Beath. He has already commenced work and will have the dam completed in a few days.

The Alpha Claim.

Messrs. J. R. Gillfillen and J. G. Ohlert arrived in the city this week from Eagle mountain, where they have been doing some development work on the Alpha claim. The Alpha adjoins the Eagle mine and is owned by the Rock Creek Gold & Copper Mining Co., of which J. H. Burnett of Spokane is president and managing director. Messrs. Gillfillen and Ohlert did considerable work on the property, sinking a shaft 32 feet and running a tunnel. While working on the Alpha they uncovered two well-defined veins of galena ore, running high in gold.

Messrs. Gillfillen and Ohlert own the Elma and D.A., in Skylark camp, and other properties in the district. They leave in a few days for Orcas Island, where Mr. Ohlert was the first to discover free milling properties.

Hotel Arrivals.

The following were the arrivals at the International hotel during the week: R. R. Gilpin and wife, Grand Forks; George Hendars, Omaha; R. M. McEntire, J. F. Hemenway, Ironsides; C. E. Good progress is being made on the Anaconda group, there being seventeen men employed there.

The material is being hauled on the ground for Ald. S. Moulton Barrett's new block on Copper street.

The Foresters' concert will be held on next Thursday evening. An excellent program has been arranged.

Mr. J. Farrell of the Buttercup mine, left yesterday for his old home in Milwaukee. He will remain away several months.

Rev. Father Rivers, of Rossland reached Greenwood yesterday. He will hold services in the school house tomorrow morning.

Harry Mounce, a well known miner and prospector, has decided to go to Klondyke. He will leave Greenwood for the Coast in a few days.

In all probability a scheme will be made public in a few days whereby Greenwood will shortly be furnished with an electric light system.

The Boundary Mines Company has purchased the Primrose from W. G. McMynn and Jas. Schofield. The Primrose adjoins the Mother Lode.

N. Clerf, who lives on the new townsite, had his ankle badly shattered this week. While hauling wood he slipped and the heavy wagon ran across his ankle.

Householders who have resided in Greenwood since November 1st last year, are reminded that it will be necessary for them to make a declaration before their names can be enrolled on the municipal voters' list for 1898.

A social dance was held in Rendell & Co's. hall Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance. Porter's orchestra furnished the music. It is the intention to have similar dances weekly during the winter months.

W. T. Smith has transferred the Eclipse, Ruthie Bell, and Alice Maud mineral claims, to M. R. Galusha, J. Hoover, E. J. Dyer, W. M. Shaw, W. O'Brien, M. B. Donnelly, G. R. Dodson, J. A. Drain, C. Hoffman and A. Castleman. The claims are located in Deadwood camp.

An article from the pen of P. A. O'Farrell appears in the Coast papers. It deals with the mines of Boundary Creek and makes interesting reading. The mines of Greenwood and Wellington camp are mentioned, excepting one of the best—the Golden Crown. This oversight was probably not intentional.

It is reported that Richard Armstrong, representing the Canadian Trust & Loan Company, of Toronto, has offered 95 cents for Grand Forks bonds and that the offer will be accepted. The company desired however that Contractor Davey who has the contract for the waterworks should endorse the bonds.

Mr. C. J. Lundy of Midway is on the sick list.

Secretary Penfeld of the Old Ironsides Company has received the second payment of $5,000 on the block of 20,000 shares of treasury stock recently sold to eastern parties.

Mr. J. W. Mcfarland of the firm of Mahon, Mcfarland & Mahon, Vancouver, and one of the directors of the Prospecting Syndicate of B. C., arrived in Greenwood on Thursday.

The Imperial hotel is nearing completion, the plasterers having almost finished their work. It is expected that the new hotel will be ready about the first week in December.

Mr. Ronald, of Camp McKinney, is making application to the rural license commissioners for a license to sell liquors at the new hotel which has just been erected at Camp McKinney.

The many friends of Ald. Hamill will regret to learn that he has contracted typhoid fever. He is receiving the best of medical treatment at Armstrong. The case is not an unusually severe one.

Instead of a bridge, the government has decided to place an overhanging ferry across the West Fork of Kettle river. A bridge would cost more money than can be spared out of this year's appropriation for the district.

Delayed Mail.

Yesterday's stage from Penticton was over two hours late in consequence of having been delayed by two of Mr. Bassett's freight teams which came to grief on the road. This was the first time for months the stage was late, Snodgrass' line being a model for punctuality.

The roads have been exceedingly heavy for the past week and freighters are having great difficulty in climbing the mountains.

A Delighted Visitor.

Mr. C. E. Gault, a prominent Montreal business man, was among the visitors to Greenwood last week. Mr. Gault is one of the directors of the Old Ironsides Company, and spent some time examining the Old Ironsides mine. He expressed himself as delighted with this property in particular and the district in general. Mr. Gault was accompanied by Mr. Graves the manager of the company. They returned to Spokane on Sunday; Mr. Graves intended leaving for the east immediately upon his arrival there.

The machinery at the Ironsides is working admirably and good progress is being made in the shaft. The ore has become softer and is getting richer as depth is attained.

The Summit Road.

The Summit road will be completed. Mayor Wood has so determined and of course the matter is definitely settled. When the Mayor returned last week he was greatly disappointed when he found that the work had been discontinued. In fact were he not a Christian, he would have sworn. As it was he used some pretty strong language and within 24 hours after he arrived a gang of men were at work under the supervision of Mr. Chas. Rendell. As there is now less than a mile to build the road will be finished to the B. C. in a week or ten days.

On the 23rd, 24th, and 25th, of this month, a raffle will be held at the International Hotel, the prizes being turkeys, ducks, etc.

Mr. W. Haultain a mining engineer of Toronto is examining properties in the district. Mr. Haultain has but recently returned from South Africa.

Sleighs have been in demand for the past week, sufficient snow having fallen to make wheeling almost impossible. The snow appears to be general; in some of the Kootenay towns it is ten inches deep.

F. McGowen, City Clerk, Vernon, has been appointed Judge of the Court of Revision for the Rock Creek division of Yale district. He will hold court at Osoyoos on the 18th, Midway on the 20th, and Greenwood on the 22nd of November.

Mr. R. J. McKenzie, of Toronto, a son of Mr. William McKenzie, the well known railway man, was among the visitors to Greenwood this week. Mr. McKenzie is visiting his cousin, Mr. D. R. Campbell. He stated that so far as he knew, the C. P. R. had no connection whatever with Messrs. McKenzie and Mann in the purchase of the V., V. & E. charter. Mr. R. J. Andrews, of Toronto came in with Mr. McKenzie.

The new company, which is styled the Kettle River Dressed Meat & Provision Co., has a paid up capital of $50,000 and as Messrs. Kerr & Flood retain an active interest in the business, the new enterprise is sure to meet with success.

A meeting of the incorporators was held last week when the following officers were elected: President, Andrew Kelly, of Brandon, Man.; Vice-president, Thos. McDonnell, Greenwood; Secretary, James Kerr; Treasurer, G. H. Collins; Managing-director, J. P. Flood. The latter and Mr. W. J. Porter constitute the Board of Directors.

The president, Mr. Andrew Kelly, is president of the Brandon & Golden Crown Co. He is one of the most successful business men in Brandon and is acquiring numerous interests in this district.

Horse Thieves Captured.

Officers Lawder, Dinsmore, and Gardom and all other provincial officers throughout the district were on patrol last week with a view to capturing two horse thieves who had started south from Kamloops with a band of stolen horses. The patrol was ordered by Superintendent Hussey who seldom allows criminals to escape. Nor was he disappointed in this case, for the officer at Princeton captured the men. They and the horses were returned to Kamloops. The prisoners' names are Joe Pettier and William Leddle. Officer Lawder covered the country between here and Camp McKinney, returning to the city on Tuesday last.

Mr. Woodhouse's Report.

According to the British Columbia Review, an extraordinary general meeting of the Recordia Syndicate, Ltd., was held recently in London. The Recordia Syndicate was organized to send Mr. Woodhouse to British Columbia and the meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the advisability of merging the Syndicate into a large company.

Mr. Woodhouse's report to the Syndicate will prove exceedingly interesting reading to the people of Greenwood. Below are some excerpts therefrom:

"Mr. Woodhouse stated that he and Mr. Munns came out to British Columbia in April to learn whether the reported mineral richness of the province could be corroborated by actual inspection. He came to the conclusion that Boundary Creek district offered the greatest advantages. * * * He decided to direct their energies towards acquiring interests in the remarkable massive deposits of auriferous copper found in the Boundary district, and which deposits, when they had been developed, were found to rapidly increase in the quantity of gold contained as depth was reached. After very careful inspection of numerous properties they selected a group of three mines (Anaconda group), in all 150 acres, which contained several lodes, one of which apparently was of a very massive character, certainly, as it could be proved at the present moment upwards of 50 ft. wide, the ore carrying for surface prospects remarkably rich returns, both in copper and gold. These properties, which lay about three miles from the City of Greenwood, had numerous advantages. * * * The development work on these properties was being most energetically pushed forward by Mr. Munns. The ore deposits of the Boundary country were certainly far greater than anything he had ever seen before, and he spoke with experience of India, Africa, and Australia. Nothing he could say could exaggerate the marvelous mineral deposits of that country, which at the present moment merely awaited the introduction of capital for their development. * * * While recognising this most important feature, Mr. Munns and himself, acting on behalf of this Syndicate, made arrangements with Mr. Thomas Rickard, representing the Dominion Exploration Company of British Columbia, and Mr. A. J. McMillan, connected with the British Columbia Mining Company, by which they were able to obtain interests in various options of great extent and value comprising townsites, thousands of acres of land, water rights, and thousands of acres of coal area—a coal that had been proved by analysis to be equal to any that had been produced in that portion of British Columbia for coking and fuel purposes. In conjunction to the gentleman to whom he had referred they had secured 100 acres of land for a smelter site. In addition to that, they had secured 900 acres for certain, with the probability of another 1000 acres around the smelter site, and they had also the option of purchase of the present town of Grand Forks, which to-day was not only incorporated but had its Mayor and Corporation. Regarding the proposed smelting works, he might mention that they had advanced so far in the matter that a scheme had been roughly drawn up and had been privately shown to influential capitalists, who had given the most favorable consideration to the proposition. It would be, he thought, a really good thing, and it would be a matter for consideration whether it would not be as well for them to see if they could not carry it out themselves and take the bulk of the profit. He might further mention that they had secured interests in options on the town of Osoyoos, and they had further interests and options on coal lands. They had land amounting to 600 or 700 acres in the neighborhood of Boundary Falls about four miles below Greenwood, and in addition to that the water power of the Boundary Falls Creek, with a fall estimated at 350 feet, taking the whole water level. There were many other options or negotiations pending for the acquisition of further interests in this rising country."

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.

Greenwood has been incorporated over three months and the municipal wheel is still turning without the assistance of a board of license commissioners. This is through no fault of the city council. The city fathers believed that a board of license commissioners was necessary to complete the machinery for municipal government and they told the government so; they even had the temerity to recommend the appointment of two honorable and successful business men of the city to act with the Mayor as license commissioners. All this happened over two months ago, but there are yet no license commissioners. The government would have appointed the commissioners long ago, so the Attorney-General said, but for the Lieutenant-Governor; he had the tantalizing habit of running off to Kootenay when he ought to have known that there were orders-in-council to be signed. But that excuse no longer availeth,—because we read in the Colonist last week that Hon. Edgar Dewdney, lieutenant-governor, opened the new parliament buildings and that his name had been cut in a tablet of brass. Now the Attorney-General must have been at that ceremony, and he is a man of quick resources. We are surprised that when he saw the first syllable of Hon. Edgar's last name, that a celebrated brand of Scotch whiskey did not suggest itself to him. Scotch whiskey would surely suggest license commissioners; there was his opportunity; he should have rushed to the Attorney-General's office, secured the order-in-council, and had it signed before the brass tablet. We sincerely regret that the Attorney-General did not rise to the occasion. His neglect to do so has left Greenwood without a board of license commissioners and the opportunity was lost of conferring a distinct honor on the city by having it associated in this modest way with the brass tablet and the opening of the parliament buildings.

Seriously speaking, the absence of a board of license commissioners will entail a hardship on those who have invested heavily in hotel buildings and is a distinct encouragement to liquor dealers to evade the law. According to the act under which Greenwood was incorporated, it is the duty of the Board of License Commissioners to hold a special meeting at a time to be fixed by the Mayor, not less than one month or more than six weeks after the date of the municipal election. Such a clause surely places upon the government the responsibility of seeing that there is a Board of License Commissioners. The Mayor would have been quite willing to call a meeting of the board had the commissioners been appointed.

In December, five hotels in Greenwood will ask that they be granted city licenses for the first time. To do this they must give the usual notice for thirty days before the sitting of the board. These hotel keepers have no means of knowing when the board will be appointed or when it will sit or whether there will be a board to grant licenses when the old ones expire. Unless the attorney-general wishes to encourage people to sell liquor without license, he will buttonhole the lieutenant-governor some day in the near future and get him to sign that order-in-council.

It is currently reported that the provincial legislature will sit early in January next year.

The Le Roi smelter at Northport is nearing completion. The tall stack will be finished in a few days.

Cumberland has been incorporated under the Speedy Incorporation Act. Cumberland is the new name for Union, a coal mining town on Vancouver Island.

Theodore Durrant was supposed to have been hanged yesterday morning for the murder of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams at San Francisco, in April, 1895. As Durrant has almost reached the scaffold several times since the murder was committed, it is possible that the hanging did not take place.

The Railway Subsidy.

Representatives of the Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern Railway Co., and delegates from Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, and Chilliwack waited upon the government last week and requested that the subsidy of $4,000 a mile be given to the V. V. & E. The railway promotors expressed their willingness to accept reasonable governmental control of rates, to give conclusive proof that they were financially in a position to build the road and to begin construction at once. The government promised to give the matter its early consideration, and in the meantime the company are asked to give evidence of its financial standing.

The Skylark.

Mr. C. E. Reuger of the Skylark mine has sent 35 tons of very rich ore to East Helena, Montana. This mine has now been developed to such an extent that it would be a waste of time to produce ore without transportation facilities and consequently it will be closed down for the winter. Mr. Reuger will return shortly to his home in Butte.

Trade Licenses.

The city council has been the target for considerable criticism on account of its action in inflicting a heavy trade license on peddlers from the Okanagan district. While we do not believe in restricting trade by the imposition of taxes of any kind, there is a good deal to be said in favor of the license. The peddlers are generally well-to-do farmers who while selling their products live in their wagons. They spend no money in the city, have no taxes to pay and take away considerable currency each trip they make. Were the system of taxation now in vogue an equitable one we would not be in favor of extorting any taxes from the Okanaganers but when we fine our own citizens for being enterprising enough to engage in business and try to discourage their improving the city by taxes on any improvements they may make why should we not discriminate against people who come from a distance ?

The present system of imposing licenses is unsatisfactory alike to the city and to the peddlers. We would suggest that in the new by-law to be introduced provision be made for the collection of a nominal sum on each load of produce as soon as it arrives in the city and that a penalty be inflicted upon the peddler who broaches the load without first paying the amount mentioned. We do not think any peddler would object to the payment of a reasonable sum every time he comes to the city, while he does strongly object to paying $25 for a six months' license. By taxing each load the revenue of the city, we believe, would be increased. We do not think that such a course would be ultra vires of the municipal act.

The governor-general has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 25th, as Thanksgiving Day.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES publishes communications on matters of public interest, but disclaims any responsibility for the opinions expressed in this column.

EDITOR, BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES:

"Several months ago a committee was appointed to investigate certain charges regarding the administration of justice in the County of Yale. I was informed that this committee would sit at Camp McKinney, Vernon and Grand Forks. By last mail I was informed that Judge McColl will sit at Vernon on Dec. 15th next, for the purpose of taking the evidence of any one who may desire to be heard. I have, of course, sent a protest to Judge McColl and also to the Minister of Justice and will take other measures, as I claim it is a denial of justice to ask a man of limited means to bring witnesses over trails from 100 to 200 miles in the depth of winter. Every one living south of Penticton knows that Okanagan Lake freezes over nearly every winter, and as there will be considerable delay in Vernon some may have to return by way of Victoria or Rossland. Besides, the irregularities complained of have happened in this section and the witnesses are all here and of course the charges can not be substantiated without them. I wish, therefore, through the medium of your journal to ask the assistance of every right-minded man in using his influence to see that this commission is held where it was originally intended or else at some accessible point south of Penticton."

R. G. SIDLEY.

Sidley, B,C., Nov. 6th, 1897.

[Without wishing to express any opinion regarding the circumstances leading up to the appointment of Mr. Justice McColl, as a commissioner to investigate the charges referred to in the above communication, we are strongly of the opinion that Mr. Sidley's position is well taken. If the department of Justice considered the charges were sufficiently grave to warrant the appointment of a commisson, it should also see that every facility is offered to those who believe they can substantiate those charges. The commission will prove unsatisfactory to all concerned if held at Vernon because witnesses will not undertake the expense of going there and they will always feel that an opportunity was denied them of attempting to prove the charges made. If the commissioner is determined to sit only at one place, that place ought to be reasonably near the homes of the witnesses.—ED.]
