RED LETTER DAY.

A PASSENGER COACH REACHES

Greenwood—Large Party of Railway Magnates on Board—President Shaugnessy Will Be Here Next week.

Greenwood is now assuming all the airs of a city, enjoying the advantages which a railway brings. The novelty of seeing an engine and hearing its shrill whistle has worn off and a visit from the iron horse no longer arouses enthusiasm or awakens great interest. The long looked for event—when railway communication would be established and railway rates paid—happened on Wednesday. A big engine decorated with "Union Jacks" and "Old Glories," that looked as if they had campaigned in Cuba, had been rolled in Phillipine mud and had run across Oom Paul's bush rangers, pushed in front of it the tracklayer, which has already been described. The heavy ties and the heavier rails were laid with remarkable rapidity, and by 4 o'clock in the afternoon the engine had passed the C. P. R. hospital. Crowds of people went out to watch the interesting proceedings.

Shortly after four another engine came in with a passenger coach attached. The occupants included Collingwood Schrieber, deputy minister of railways, Ottawa, and his private secretary, C. H. Ross; W. F. Tye, superintendent of the Columbia and Western railway; F. W. Peters, district freight agent, Nelson, B. C.; J. W. Kimball, auditor, Trail; W. H. Aldridge, manager of the Trail smelter; T. Foley, of Mann, Foley Bros. & Larsen: P. Larsen of the same firm; J. W. Stewart, their manager, and R. B. Porter, contractor for the bridges. The party was graced by the presence of Mrs. A. W. Ross, of Columbia; Mrs. Gywnne, of Toronto, and Mrs. Crombie, of Ottawa. They were met by the C. P. R. teams and driven through the city. Dinner was served at the Clarendon and the return trip was made next morning.

Mr. Schreiber, who is a veteran of the railway department, made an official trip of inspection over the the Crow's Nest railway. He expressed his astonishment at the marvellous growth of Greenwood and predicted for it a great future. He was well satisfied with the construction of the Columbia and Western, stating that it was one of the best new roads he ever travelled over.

Mr. W. H. Aldridge was on a still hunt for Boundary Creek ores. He reports smelting matters very active and states that he will gladly welcome all the Boundary Creek ores that can be sent to the smelter.

Mr. W. F. Tye had a happy smile of satisfaction. Upon him was placed the responsibility of superintending the construction of the heaviest piece of railway on the American continent, and he cannot but feel gratified that it is nearing completion.

Mr. Peters—well, it was the same Mr. Peters,—always ready to defend the C.P.R. and always willing to furnish a satisfactory excuse for any freight difficulties. He is going to flood Greenwood with freight in a short time. The merchant who fails to take prompt delivery of his goods will be consigned to outer darkness, because the C.P.R. have no cars to leave for days on a sidetrack.

Mr. Tye and Mayor Hardy discussed railway crossings, and arrangements satisfactory to the city will be carried out. E. R. Redpath, of Robson, has been appointed C.P.R. agent at Greenwood.

HEWITT BOSTOCK, M. P.

Meets the Members of the Board of Trade and Citizens.

Hewitt Bostock, M. P., arrived in the city on Wednesday. He went up to Phoenix Wednesday evening and returned on Thursday. On Thursday evening he met the members of the board of trade and other citizens and discussed matters relating to the district.

Mayor Hardy was in the chair. After a short address of welcome he called on Mr. Bostock. Mr. Bostock's address was confined to local issues. He said that after the railway he did not see any reason why Greenwood should not be made a customs output, and he would take the matter up with the department. The mail service would be improved as soon as the railway was in regular running order. With reference to the railway, Mr. Bostock stated that the rates were under government control and if any discriminatory rates were charged the Board of Trade should report the matter to the railway department. He explained why no effort was made to subdivide the Yale-Cariboo district. No general redistribution could be introduced until after the census of 1901, and no increase in membership could be secured until after that date. Mr. Bostock also explained why the application for the Corbin charter had been withdrawn.

Geo. B. Buchanan, of Kaslo, was invited to address the meeting. He dealt in an able manner with the question of redistribution. He pointed out that the measure introduced by the government last year was avowedly for the purpose of wiping out the inequalities of the act of 1892. While the governmen were prepared to admit that that no general redistribution act could be introduced until after the census, they maintained that previous acts could be amended in order that a more equitable redistribution might be secured. If that principal held good in the east, he saw no reason why it should not be upheld in British Columbia (hear hear). By the census of 1891 Victoria had a population of a little over 18,000 congregated within a limited area. Yale-Cariboo had a population of over 19,000 scattered over a large area. Victoria got two members, Yale-Cariboo one. Here was an inequality that could and should be wiped out without waiting for the census. While we were prevented from using the argument, it was nevertheless true that inequality was now more glaring. Victoria's population had not grown while Yale-Cariboo had now a population of 75,000. Mr. Buchanan dealt with increase of representatives in the Senate, cabinet representation and closed by eloquently complimenting the citizens of Greenwood upon the bright future in store for their city.

Mr. Bostock was tendered a vote of thanks and the meeting came to a close.

Mr. Bostock was accompanied as far as Grand Forks by Hon. Mr. Fisher, minister of agriculture. His engagement in the east compelled him to return without coming to Greenwood. Mr. Bostock returns via Penticton

McDonnell-Wolfard.

Thos. McDonnell is married. Tom stole a march on the boys and took the important step without consulting anybody. The happy bride is Miss Kate V. Wolford, of Colville, Wash. They were married at the First Presbyterian church, Spokane, by Rev. Mr. Giboney. Ed. L. Kirk supported Mr. McDonnell and Miss Alta Wolfard was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell are expected home today and it is reported that the boys are preparing a jolly welcome. The Times hastens to extend congratulations.

AROUND THE CAMPS

A RICH STRIKE ON THE BURNS.

A Wellington Camp Group of Claims—Winnipeg Sinking on New Strike—Large Specimens From the Golden Crown—Banner Nearing the Ledge—Snowshoe Drifting in Ore.

Jack Farrell is working on the Buttercup, a claim lying north of the Athelstan, in Wellington camp. This is considered one of the most promising properties in the camp. There is a 50-foot shaft on the claim and a number of open cuts. In all about $2,000 has been expended in development. Very rich copper-gold ore has been taken from the shaft. The Buttercup is one of a group of claims situate about a mile from the Winnipeg, which include the Athelston, Mollie Pritchard, Jack Pot, Iron Clad, Butte and Edith L. The Athelston has a 95-foot incline shaft, a 60-foot shaft, and a drift of 50 feet from the bottom of the shaft. The Mollie Pritchard has a 25-foot shaft and two assessments done on surface work. The Jack Pot has a 45-foot shaft and an open cut 12x6x4 feet. The Butte has a 50-foot shaft. The Iron Clad has a 12-foot shaft and several open cuts, one of which is 30 feet in length. The Edith L. had two assessments done on it, consisting of a shaft 10 feet deep and surface crosscuts. Average assays in the group run from $18 to $54. Between this group and the Winnipeg and Golden Crown are the Calumet and Hecla.

The Golden Crown, Wellington camp, is being developed from the 300 and 150-foot levels. Good ore is being taken out at 300-foot. On the dump are two large blocks of ore taken from the shaft, one about 3,000 and the other 2,000 pounds weight. It was intended to send one of these to the Spokane fair, but when the freighter backed up to the dump and found he could not lift either lumps of ore, he concluded not to handle such unwieldly exhibits. The blocks are very fine specimens of ore, and it is to be regretted that they were not among the Boundary exhibits at Spokane.

E. A. Bielenberg brought down a nice specimen of ore from the Burns claim in Deadwood camp on Saturday last. The specimen contained native copper, peacock copper and copper pyrites. The Burns adjoins the Buckhorn and is the property of the Arlington-Burns Gold and Copper company, recently floated by Mr. Bielenberg. The specimen was taken from the shaft at a depth of eight feet. The ledge on the Burns has been proved to be nearly 20 feet in width, and Mr. Bielenberg places it among the great claims of Deadwood camp.

Thos. Walsh, of Greenwood, has had a force of men at work for the past three months on his claims in Greenwood camp, lying east of the Snowshoe and Pheasant. The claims are the Lucy, Emerald, Virginius, Colorado, Cliff and Frisco. On the Emerald their is a shaft 34 feet in depth, and on the Frisco a 25-foot shaft. The Cliff has been developed by an 18-foot tunnel, and on the Lucy two tunnels have been run, one 15 and the other 12 feet. The claims are all showing up well. The ore is quartz, carrying copper pyrites.

Assessment work has just been completed on the Missing Link, a claim lying between the War Eagle and Monarch, in Greenwood camp, about one mile south of Phoenix. The work done on the claim consists of about 300 feet of surface crosscuts. The property is showing up well, and from its position, near the big ledges of the camp, should be one of the shippers. G. W. Rumberger and W. J. Porter are the owners.

J. M. Taylor is working on the Pibroch in Wellington camp. The claim adjoins the Wellington on the north. He has just completed assessment work on the California, another Wellington camp property. The work done on the California consists of a 160-foot tunnel, which has been run in ledge matter nearly the whole distance. The ore is copper-gold and gives good assays.

There are now 210 miners working on the properties in Greenwood camp, besides carpenters, street graders, etc., making the total number of men employed in the camp about 400; a payroll of $1,300 per day in the camp. This force will be doubled before the end of the year. And Greenwood is only one of the six great camps of the Boundary district.

Assessment work has been done on the Bullion for this year. The work done is a 40-foot shaft. The Bullion lies north of the New York and Brook-

MONTREAL-BOUNDARY CREEK

Company—Description of the Properties Owned by the Above Named Corporation—Big Ledges of Pay Ore on the Sunset and Crown Silver.

Extensive Preparations Which Are Being Made to Develop the Claims Under the Management of Mr. Henry Johns—A Big Plant.

A visit to the Sunset, the principal property of the Montreal Boundary Creek Mining company, limited, cannot but impress one with the magnitude and importance of the intended operations of the country. The excavation for large buildings to house a big plant, the erection of residences and offices, and the many signs of activity shown—all impress one with the confidence the company have in the success of their big undertaking.

On Saturday last the writer was the guest of Mr. W. L. Hogg, who took a party to visit the mines. Mr. Hogg has been connected with the Sunset for several years. He spent a large amount of money in developing the property and always had the greatest confidence in it. Included in the party were Mr. Edward Woodhead, a wealthy business man of Liverpool, England, Mr. F. J. Finucane, manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mr. John Hamill, of Armstrong, B. C. Under the guidance of Mr. Henry Johns, the manager, the party visited the workings, saw the big ledges and were interested in the extensive preparations that are being made to install the big plant. Mr. Hogg is very greatly pleased at the changes in the Sunset since the tmie he bonded the property three years ago.

It is a different looking Sunset to that of two years and a half ago. The writer then visited the property and there was nothing to be seen excepting a tunnel which was being run into the mountain. A short time previous to this Mr. W. L. Hogg, manager of the Investment company of Montreal, bonded the Sunset and Crown Silver. Development work was vigorously prosecuted under the superintendence of J. H. Macfarlane. The C. O. D. and Florence fraction were also purchased by Mr. Hogg. A few months ago Mr. Hogg floated the Montreal Boundary Creek Mining company, limited, to acquire and still further develop the properties mentioned. The flotation was one of the most successful in the history of the mining operations in Montreal—a city which always looked with favor upon Boundary Creek properties.

Mr. Hogg succeeded in interesting some of the strongest financial men of the east, as the personnel of the company will show. Hon. Senator Ogoilve, is at the head of the company, and with him on the directorate are Hon. Senator Turner, Quebec, Mr. T. W. Horn, a wealthy manufacturer of Toronto, Mr. W. Barclay Stephens, manager of the Western Loan and Trust company, Mr. W. L. Hogg, manager of the Investment company, and Mr. James G. Ross, of the firm of P. S. Ross & Sons, the well known auditors, The capitalization is $2,000,000. The treasury stock has been so extensively purchased that the company have ample funds for the purchase of the big plant which is now en route and for the vigorous development of the property.

LOCATION.

The properties owned by the company occupy a unique position, so far as cheap, economical shipping of ore is concerned. They are situated in Deadwood camp, about two miles from the city of Greenwood. The Deadwood camp branch of the Canadian Pacific railway passes within 30 feet of the working shaft on the Sunset. There is a down hill grade to the smelter, which is being built within a mile of the company's properties.

DEVELOPMENT WORK.

The tunnel on the Sunset is 480 feet in length. There are four crosscuts from the tunnel, aggregating 175 feet of work. Ninety feet from the mouth of the tunnel is a winze 60 feet deep. The working shaft strikes the tunnel at a depth of 100 feet and continues another 85 feet. At this level (185 feet) there are 300 feet of drifts and crosscuts. The first shaft has been enlarged to a double compartment working shaft, 4½x5 feet in the clear. It is lined from the collar with 12x12 timbers to a depth of 25 feet, and then by 10x10 timbers. The whole work on the property, including the shaft, totals 1,350 feet.

LEDGES.

The ledges are genuine Deadwood camp ledges, over 100 feet wide and traceable for long distances, with chutes of good values. The dip is about 65 degrees. The visitor to the mine has no difficulty in locating the vein. The railway graders cut through the bright magnetic iron and it has been again uncovered in the excavations for the shaft house. The railway follows the big ledge for a distance of 300 feet. It is at least 75 feet wide, where exposed at the shaft-house, and it has been traced to the Crown Silver, an adjoining property.

Generally speaking, the ore is magnetic iron, carrying gold and copper and yielding average values of $25. There are chutes of calcite carrying chalopyrite which return much higher values. The ore will receive a glad welcome at any smelter. It is practically a self-fluxing ore.

The development work so far has not been directed towards blocking out the ore bodies, but rather to place the mine in a position to engage in this work on a large scale. It would be difficult to surmise the vanity of ore that can be taken out of a drift along one of the big ledges. From surface indications, the ledge on the Primrose, that has been cut by the railroad, is a continuation of the ledge running through the Sunset and Crown Silver. In addition to this there is another parallel vein to the west, fully 150 feet wide. It has not been opened up to any great extent, but has been exposed by surface work for 200 feet. The values are similar to those on the first ledge mentioned.

BUILDINGS.

The Montreal-Boundary Creek company were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Henry Johns. His long and successful connection with other big mining properties ensures careful and competent management. Mr. Johns is at present engaged in the work of preparing for the big plant that has been purchased by the company. The shaft house which is being erected will be a substantial frame building, 30x30, and 55 feet in height. Inside is the gallows frame, 45 feet high, built of timbers, 14x16, and of sufficient strength to haul two double-deck cages from a depth of 1,500 feet. The hoist-house is 50x30 and 35 feet high. There is a wing 50 feet in length and 36 feet wide. Here will be installed the electric dynamo, engine and compressor. There are also a carpenter shop, 16x12; a blacksmith shop, 16x12; offices, bath rooms, bunk houses, boarding house, etc. The manager's residence, which is nearing completion, is a model of neatness and comfort. It occupies a delightful position on a slope convenient to the mine. Indeed, no better site could be imagined than that occupied by all the buildings. It is in this respect a happy contrast to that on many other mining properties where there is nothing to relieve the monotony of barren rocks.

THE PLANT.

The plant for the mine was purchased from the James Cooper Manufacturing company, of Montreal, and is now on seven C. P. R. cars on its way to the mine. The plant is the largest yet purchased to develop a Boundary Creek property. It comprises a 20-drill compressor and a 25-horse power hoist with a Ledgewood friction drum and an inch steel cable. There are two 80-horse power boilers and all the necessary appliances that go with a mining plant. This plant will be installed and in running order by the first of the year.

WATER.

Water for the plant and residences will be secured from Deadwood creek, a mountain stream that empties into Copper creek. A pumping station has already been erected on the stream and a large resvoir will be built on the knoll above the mine. This will be sufficient elevation to throw a stream over the shaft-house—thus affording good protection against fire.

SHIPPING FACILITIES.

One cannot visit the Sunset without being at once impressed by the peculiar advantages the mine will enjoy in the cheap handling of ore. The railway passes within 30 feet of the shaft and 50 feet below the shaft platform. This gives just the proper space for sorting ore, ore bins and the cheap dumping of ore into cars.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

When Mr. Johns gets his plant working he intends to attack the big ledges on the properties. The shaft will be enlarged to the 200-foot level. From here a drift will be run along the ore to the Crown Silver, a distance of over 1,200 feet. From this drift a large quantity of shipping ore will be taken. Work will be continued in other directions so that within a resonable length of time the Montreal-Boundary Creek company's properties can be classed among the shippers.

Mining, in many respects, is a speculative business, but the Sunset group bear all the earmarks of making a big mine. Big ledges, good values, a powerful plant, a strong company, plenty of capital and a sufficient manager are sure to bring such a result as will be satisfactory to the shareholders in the Montreal-Boundary Creek company.

DIRECTORS.

R. A. BROWN, Esq., Grand Forks, B. C., President. ALEX MILLER, Esq., Grand Forks, B.C., Treasurer.
DR. GEO. W. AVERILL, Grand Forks, B.C. Vice-President SMITH CURTIS, Esq., Rossland, B. C., Secretary.
J. S. M. MORRISON, Esq., Grand Forks, Asst.-Secretary.

REPORT.

Montreal, Sept. 22, 1899.

SMITH CURTIS, ESQ.,

Dear Sir,—The Sunset mineral claim is a crown granted full sized mineral location 500 yards square, situated on Copper mountain in the Similkameen district of Yale Mining division, and on the east side of the south fork of the Similkameen river.

* * * * * The contemplated route of the C. P. R. to Hope will pass very near to the property when completed.

TIMBER.—The whole of Copper mountain, as well as the adjoining districts, is well timbered with magnificeat pine and fir, admirably adapted for mining purposes.

WATER.—The south fork of the Similkameen river flows about 2,000 feet below the surface of the claim and has an abundant supply of water for all mining purposes throughout the year. * * * * *

GEOLOGY.—The ore is present in a diorite surrounded for the most part by gray granite. In the diorite there is a mineralized zone passing throughout the whole length of the Sunset mineral claim, and into those adjoining, reaching, however, its greatest width in the above-mentioned Sunset, upon the surface of which large areas of copper-stained diorite are seen, one of these areas approximating 10,000 square feet. Apparently about 20 acres of this claim on the surface is thus mineralized, but a great part of it is covered by wash, only larger or smaller areas being exposed, but they all have the same character. The width of the mineralized zone at the south end of the claim is about 100 feet where it joins the Helen H. Gardiner, but on the north end, the width approximates 750 feet, where it adjoins the Vancouver.

DEVELOPMENT.—Near the north end about the center of the claim, a sloping shaft 50 feet in depth has been sunk. This represents the only work done on the claim, but on those adjoining, viz: the Helen H. Gardiner, Copper Farm, Sunrise and Vancouver, similar shafts have been sunk, and in some cases open cuts made. They are all on the same mineral belt, and all showing a similar kind of ore, but not in as large quantities, according to surface indications, as those on the Sunset.

NATURE OF ORE.—Chiefly bornite or copper-iron sulphide, carrying small quantities of silver and gold. The bornite is more or less intimately associated with the diorite, either in seams or in small grains, and varies in richness at different level. Apparently the copper ore was shot through subsequent to the diorite eruption, which accounts for its more or less irregular distribution.

ASSAY VALUES.—A great many have been made, both from the Sunset and the adjoining properties. They vary exceedingly. My smallest assays from copper from the mineralized rock was about 3 per cent, but values of 40 per cent, or more, are obtainable in picked samples. Averages across the whole shaft, side and bottom have given the following returns: 3 per cent, 3.4 per cent, 3.8 per cent, 4.3 per per cent, 5.65 per cent, 6.3 per cent, 9.1 per cent, 9.3 per cent, 10.5 per cent, and 11.1 per cent. When one considers that 5 per cent is worth $12 per ton, and when the enormous deposit is considered, the possibilities of the mine are great, with judicious management and the latest method of treatment.

As far as development so far has been done. I do not think it difficult, with a small amount of hand culling, to get an ore from 6 to 8 per cent in value.

The only question comes, will it continue with depth? That is the risk the investor always has to run, and which we have no means of ascertaining except from development work, and so far enough has not been done to prove the property.

The surface indications are certainly the largest I have ever seen, and it has a great future, if depth can be proven. It is certainly worth developing and spending considerable money on. * * *

The above is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) W. E. DEEKS.

Dr. Deeks spent the spring and summer examining and operating surrounding properties on Copper mountain, and no one is better able to judge of the potentialities of its mining claims

A DISTINGUISHED KNOCKER.

PROMISING properties are often targets for a certain class of mining men, commonly known as knockers. These gentlemen do not make violent pretensions to respectability and are seldom accused of being honest. They are to be found in nearly every mining camp and while they are tolerated their conduct disgusts all legitimate mining men. The Sunset in the Similkameen district, has sufficient merit to attract the attention of a gentleman who is a veritable Beau Brummel among the knockers. The Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, ex-lieutenanant-governor of the Northwest territories, ex-M. P., the founder of the B. A. C., the Cecil Rhodes of British Columbia, turns aside from legitimate mining for the purpose of damaging a property in the Similkameen district. Mr. Mackintosh enjoys the advantages that success brings. He trades upon his position in the mining world in order that he may the more effectively carry out his purposes. His plan of campaign is as contemptible as it is brilliant. The work of his fine Italian hand can be seen in the Toronto Globe. An innocent looking paragraph in the mining column of that eminently respectable paper is not as innocent as it appears. It shows how mean a disappointed great man can become. The paragraph follows:

"Mr. C. H. Mackintosh writes: A telegram dated from Grand Forks, Sept. 30, and published in various newspapers, refers to 'a hitch in the negotiations' with reference to the purchase by me of a property known as the Sunset, in the Similkameen district of British Columbia. A further intimation is made that the owners have decided to stock the property. The very fact that we decided not to stock the property accounts for the 'hitch in the negotiations.' The final report on the Sunset and surrounding claims was made by Mr. W. J. Collins, an eminent mining engineer, and Mr. D. J. Macdonald, formerly superintendent of the Columbia and Kootenay mine, both gentlemen having been connected with the British America Corporation. Our people have determined to place no property on the market unless developed, and the two experts in question decided that there was not sufficient ore in sight to justify flotation, holding that it would require two years to make a proper investigation, and that the surrounding circumstances did not warrant asking the public to invest. As my name has been connected with the property I deem it only fair to make this explanation. Our firm has already expended considerable amount of money, but sacrificed it rather than ask investors to sacrifice theirs."

The honest, straightforward Mr. Mackintosh apparently evinces a very laudable desire to protect investors from sacrificing their money in the Sunset. But what are the facts? Mr. Mackintosh agreed to pay $40,000 for a 15-32 interest in the Sunset. He held the option for 12 months without spending a cent on the property. After D. J. Macdonald, to whom he refers, examined the property, Mr. Mackintosh deposited $40,000 with the Bank of Montreal, Rossland, in payment for the interest in accordance with the agreement, and Mr. Brown, the owner, was notified to put in the title deeds and he would get the money. Afterwards he withdrew the amount because the conveyance from the owner had not been left in the bank. Brown could have forced Mr. Mackintosh to pay the money, but he eagerly jumped at the opportunity to secure a return of his interest in the Sunset,

In his note to the Toronto Globe, Mr. Mackintosh cleverly leaves the impression that his firm had expended a considerable amount of money on the Sunset. The truth is, that neither he nor his firm spent anything on the Sunset. Mr. Mackintosh did drop a thousand in interfering with another man's negotiations for adjoining properties.

If Mr. Mackintosh were as ingenuous as he is ingenious in the art of knocking, he would tell an anxious public that his conduct has been prompted by chagrin; that his experts reports on the Sunset are favorable and that he has still as good an opinion as he ever had regarding the merits of the property. He would say that he was playing a deep game—that he wanted to secure all the interests in the Sunset and surrounding properties, and that he is bitterly disappointed because of the failure attached to his own peculiar method of doing business. This accounts for the extraordinary conduct of Mr. Mackintosh. Even distinguished mining men have their moments of weakness. Mr. Mackintosh will have to change his tactics before he can retain and command the respect of mining men, which is so necessary in carrying on a successful mining business.

Mr. Mackintosh's conduct in regard to the Sunset is so unusual that we took the trouble to make minute inquiries regarding the Sunset. Statements made by mining men who spent the summer in the Similkameen confirm everything in Dr. Deeks' report which appears in another column. In fact D. J. Macdonald, Mr. Mackintosh's own expert, spoke most favorably regarding the property upon his return from the Similkameen.

Mr. Mackintosh's professions on public occasion, are out of touch with his actions in reference to his Similkameen negotiations. At the banquet in Rossland, tendered to him, he is reported to have given expression to the following sentiment: "Mr. Mayor, reference is made to my generous nature and admirable traits of character. I answer, if to love my fellow-man, if to refrain from injuring his feelings, if to endeavor to do unto others as I would have others do unto me—if these be symbolic of a generous nature, I can without vanity accept the compliment."

AN OVERCOAT DINNER.

Mr. W. L. Hogg Entertains Several Greenwood Gentleman.

W. L. Hogg of Montreal was the genial hoist at a very successful dinner given in the Clarendon cafe on Monday evening. Mr. Hogg was anxious to spend the wagers secured from Greenwoodites in connection with the completion of the railway and hit upon a happy plan to do so. F. J. Finucane manager of the Bank of Montreal was at the head of the table while Paul Johnson occupied the vice-chairman. Seated to the right of the chairman, was the hoist, and the following gentlemen were present: L. M. Rice, A. Ferguson, J. Edwards Leckie, A. G. Buck, A. W. Strickland, Harry Houson, Frederic Keffer, John M. Scrafford, Dr. Schon, Henry Johns, Paul Johnson, W. Johns, W. W. Bailey, I. H. Hallett, John Hammill, J. H. Macfarlane, G. Arthur Rendell, A. T. Kendrick, D. Ross, Edward Woodhead, W. C. Noble and Clive Pringle. The dinner itself and the service left nothing to be desired. Short, witty and eloquent speeches materially assisted in making the banquet a very successful one.

The First Brick Block Erected in Greenwood.

The Wallace-Miller company, limited, are now doing business in their large brick block at the corner of Copper and Center street. The big building is of brick and stone. It adds much to the substantial appearance of the city. The block has a 75-foot frontage on Copper street and runs back 100 feet on Center street. It is a two-story building. On the ground floor are four stores, three on Copper and one on Center street. The second floor has several large comfortable and well-lighted offices. The building is heated by two large-sized Pease furnaces.

The stores have all been fitted with handsome plate-glass windows supplied by J. W. Mellor.

The corner store is occupied by the Miller-Wallace company. They are manufacturers of clothing at Montreal and their head office is in Nelson. They carry a large stock in Greenwood, including clothing, gents' furnishings, boots and shoes, trunks, valises, and a large stock of rubber goods. They do a wholesale as well as a retail business.

THE GREENWOOD CLUB BALL.

A Successful Dance in the Greenwood Club Rooms.

The Greenwood club ball was a decided success. There were about 40 couples present. The music was excellent and all present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Some very pretty costumes were worn by the ladies present. At midnight an excellent supper was served by the Clarendon cafe in the club rooms. Outside the enjoyment from dancing, the ladies were curious to examine the men's den and many were the expression of praise at the neat and comfortable quarters. A program of 24 dances was carried out and several extras were also added before the happy dancers were satisfied to adjourn about 3:30 a. m.

Choice liquors and cigars at the Log Cabin Hotel.

Voters' List.

In city municipalities the list of voters shall be closed on the first Monday in December or in about six weeks. The advantages of having every qualified resident registered are many. There are many householders having the necessary qualification who will fail to register unless an organized effort is made. A British subject owning real estate in the city and who has paid his or her taxes or a British subject who is a householder and has resided in the city for 12 months is qualified to vote. Householders must make a declaration, and it is here where the danger lies. Unless their attention is personally called to the matter, many householders will neglect to make the necessary declaration.

In this connection the city council ought to interest themselves in the matter of a large voters' list for provincial and federal elections. The political power of a city or district often and very properly depends on its voting strength. If the number of unregistered electors are neglected, the political interests of the district cannot receive that attention their importance warrants.

The city council should make suitable provision to have all municipal voters registered; at the same time those having charge of the registration could attend to the provincial and federal lists.

SUNSET MINERAL CLAIM.

Brief Description of the Property and the Great Promise it Has.

The Sunset mineral claim on Copper mountain, Similkameen distric, has attracted, notwithstanding its long distance from transportation, a great deal of interest during the past two or three years, and has been under option several times during that period, always at a big sum, and each time at a larger figure. Its fame during last year brought many prospectors into its vicinity, and swarms of them this year, and the whole country for miles around has been staked. Its isolation from a railway line will soon be a thing of the past, as the C. P. R. has, during the summer, had a big corps of engineers in the country between Midway and Hope station on the main line, determining and surveying out the most feasible route for their short line across the province, and it is said that the results are very satisfactory, and Engineer Dennis stated that the C. P. R. will build the line in 1900 and the line must go within ten miles of Copper mountain, and a spur line will of course be built to it.

The report of Dr. Deeks on the Sunset is stated by all who know the propert to be a most conservative one. One gentleman who had an option on the Sunset at one time, and who spent a great deal of time in prospecting it, declares that wherever he found rock cropping through the soil and broke into it he invariably got a showing of copper. He sent a 60-pound sample of the better class of ore to the Orient Chemical works at Trenton, New Jersey, and the assay returns were 57 per cent copper and $8.20 in gold. The analyst stated that the ore could be most cheaply treated by electrolysis at a cost of $1,60 to $2 per ton. The ore is one also that will smelt at a very cheap rate.

The dump at the 50-foot shaft was sampled this year by a mining engineer, and gave an average of seven per cent, and this notwithstanding that several tons of the choicest ore had been previously culled out for sampling purposes, and by visitors and prospectors. When the latter were shy of good specimens on their neighbor locations, this dump could always be drawn upon. The values in the shaft sunk have shown a steady increase in value as depth was gained, and by culling out the cleaner ore, which woald not exceed one-third, an averge of 15 per cent copper can be got. Taking Dr. Deek's dimensions of vein—100 feet at one end and 750 feet at the other end of claim—will give an average width of 425 feet, with 1,500 feet length. Taking the 50 feet depth attained will give 31,875,000 cubic feet, and taking 12 cubic feet to the ton, will give 2,756,250 tons. Discarding two-thirds of this as waste, will leave nearly 900,000 tons, which should average 6 per cent to 8 per cent copper (Dr. Deeks' estimate) besides gold and silver values and would have large profits, for such ore would have a gross value of $15 to $20 while with reasonable railway facilities, the cost of mining, freight and treatment should not exceed $6 or $7. There is abundance of water power and excellent smelter sites within easy reach of the property. There is also good lignite coal a few miles away, and at one place it is asserted there is a deposit of coal that makes a fair quality of coke. The geological formation is all in favor of the deposits of copper on the Sunset persisting with depth, the ore being in diorite that has been obtruded through the granite.

With depth copper glance, running 75 per cent in copper, is found. The claim covers 52 acres, and was located in 1892 by R. A. (Volcanic) Brown of Grand Forks, B. C.

The Sunset is the banner claim on Copper mountain, and so far as developed has no competitor for size of lead and values in British Columbia.

Tpe Sunset Copper Company, Limited which is formed to acquire the Sunset has for directors R. A. Brown, Dr. G. W. Averill, Alexander Miller and J. S. M. Morrison of Grand Forks, and Smith Curtis of Rossland. Provision is made for these to add two other directors to their number, and parties who will command the confidence of the public will be chosen. Already the shares of the company have been largely subscribed for in the Boundary country and Rossland, and the price of the shares has been materially advanced. In a few days a large force men will be at work on the property, and it is intended to install a steam plant at an early date. "Volcanic" Brown passed through the city on Tuesday en route to the property to start development work The very best expert advice as to manner of development and later treatment of ore, will be obtained, and every precaution will be taken to open up this splendid property in the very best manner.

lyn in Greenwood camp, and is the property of W. G. McMynn, Forbes M. Kerby and Randolph Stewart. The surface showings on the claim are very large.

A number of extra men were put to work on the Brooklyn mine this week. Just as soon as more men can be handled economically they are put on. This will be continued and as the mine is developed the working force will be continued to keep pace with development.

In the item in last week's issue of the News, referring to the work on the Old Ironsides, it was stated that drifting was being done on the 100-foot level, This should have been the 300-foot level, as the Ironsides has been worked at that level for some months.

On the Winnipeg, in Wellington camp, sinking has been commenced on the ore body uncovered by the railroad graders. The shaft will be sunk to a depth of 300 feet and a drift run from it to the present working shaft on the property.

Jas. Moran and G. W. Rumberger, have a force of men at work on Myers creek developing a free-milling proposition in which they are interested. The ledge on the property is 16 inches wide and averages over $100 in gold to the ton.

G. W. Rumberger is developing the Yukon, a claim about one mile from Phoenix on the wagon road. The work will consist of a 100-foot tunnel and surface work. There is a large showing on the property.

Thos. Skivington is doing assessment work on the Tamarac in Wellington camp. The Tamarac adjoins the Oro on the east. The work being done will consist of an open cut and tunnel.

The tunnel on the Banner, in Greenwood camp, is beginning to give indications of being near the ledge, and a good ore body is expected to be run into in a few days.

Duncan McIntosh, president and general manager of the Winnipeg Gold Mining company, left for Spokane and Rossland this week on business.

A drift is being run on the Snowshoe at the 300-foot level. The drift is in ore.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Teamster Meets Death on the Wagon Road Near Phoenix.

John Davis, a late arrival in the district, was accidently killed on Friday last on the wagon road, between the Golden Crown and Snowshoe. He was bringing in a load of lumber to Phoenix, and while going up a steep grade fell off the load, falling between the front and hind wheels of the wagon. In falling he either called to the horses or jerked the lines as the team stopped and eased back, one of the front wheels crossing his chest, killing him instantly.

G. H. Collins, of the Golden Crown, notified Coroner Jakes of the accident, but it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest, as there were other teamsters on the road with deceased.

Officer Cunningham, of Midway, went to Phoenix Saturday and brought the remains to Greenwood. The funeral took place from the undertaking rooms of T. Gulley & Co., on Monday.

The deceased was one of the early white settleos of the Northwest territories. He owned and worked a ranch near Calgary for a number of years. He came west from Calgary, working on construction on the Crow's Nest and afterwards on the Columbia and Western. A few days ago he bought a lot in Phoenix and was bringing lumber in to build when he met his death. He was about 60 years of age and leaves one child, a daughter, 13 years old, who is being educated at a convent near Colville, Wash.

A FIRST-CLASS THEATRE.

W. S. Fletcher's Big Building is Being Rapidly Erected.

Greenwoodites will have plenty of amusements to chase away the long hours this winter. W. S. Fletcher is building an opera house which has already been leased to a strong company. The building will be completed about November 20th. The cost will exceed $10,000. The building occupies a 50-foot frontage on Copper street and runs back along Deadwood 145-feet. The auditorium is 45x90 feet. An hotel will be run in connection with the theatre. Already a numerously signed petition has been presented to the license commissioners to grant a license. The building is most strongly constructed the trusses and timbers being the heaviest yet put into a building of this nature.

MONEY BY-LAWS.

Electors Will Be Asked to Sanction Borrowing More Money.

The by-laws authorizing the borrowing of more money received their final reading at the meeting of the city council on Monday night. The voting day thereon was fixed for October 30. W. S. Fletcher wrote in reference to a theatre license and Ald. Wood gave notice to introduce a by-law covering this and the payment of license by insurance agents. The council is calling for tenders for 18 mackinaws and 12 pair of gum boots for the firemen.

Football.

On Saturday afternoon an association football match between the "Saints" and the "Town" was played on the ball grounds, resulting in a victory for the "Saints" by one goal. A cold wind prevented a large number of spectators from witnessing the game, but those who did turn out saw several funny plays and three or four smart plays by the forwards on each side. The backs and half-backs showed some strong playing which prevented more goals being scored. The teams were as follows:

"Saints"—Palmer, goal; Inkster and Robertson, backs; Lewin, Smith and Coulter, half-backs; Mortimer, Chesterton, Shaw, Hill and Grey, forwards.

"Town"—Rice, Goal; Johnson and Smith, backs; Guess, Elliott and Elkins, half-backs; Douglass, Meyer, Moss, Paget, McGowan and Kerr.

Another game has been arranged for next Saturday afternoon.
