THE LUCKY PROVIDENCE

Rich Ore Found on the 300 Foot Level.

PLACER MINING RIVER BARS

Good Chances For Small Capital On Kettle River.

Monday night the miners in the Providence struck the ore in the crosscut run from the 300 foot level to connect with the lead. In sinking the shaft to this level the ore was left on the hanging, the dip of the lead being such that following it would mean the loss of the shaft as a working shaft. The ore was therefore left and the shaft sunk on an incline corresponding with that from the 200 level up. At the 300 foot level a crosscut was run to catch the ore, an estimated distance of 75 feet. This distance, however, has been considerably exceeded, showing that the lead has faulted somewhere between the 200 and 300 foot levels, the total distance from the shaft to the ore being something over 100 feet.

The ore from the new level is if anything richer than any yet taken from the mine, silver in all its forms being present in abundance. The width of the lead is about the same, and the local owners are jubliant over the results achieved.

There has been a suspicion among many that these small rich leads did not go down, but even the most pessemistic are bound to admit that they have been mistaken. The presence of ore in the Providence at a depth of 300 feet has greatly encouraged the holders and workers of other high grade claims in the immediate vicinity and it is more than likely that a great number of properties adjacent to Greenwood will be worked during the coming summer.

There are scores of claims here with showings of high grade ore that justify any amount of work being done, and there is no reason why a dozen high grade mines should not be shipping instead of the three we now have on the list.

Considelable excitement is being caused in Vancouver and also in many up country points by the success attending the efforts of various mining companies engaged in dredging the bars of the Fraser river for placer gold. Work along these lines has been carried on in a small way for several years, but it is only recently that any extensive efforts were made to recover the gold known to exist in bars all the way down the Fraser.

Last winter several huge dredges were constructed at various points on the Fraser, some of them with a capacity of 2500 yards daily. One of these built for the Iowa-Lillooet Dredging company has been at work for some two weeks and the returns as given out by the manager are almost startling. In the twelve days in which the dredge was operated the returns have averaged 40 onunces daily for each snift of ten hours, and it is claimed by the management that 100 ounces of gold could easily be secured on a day's run of twenty-four hours. That is something in the region of $2000 daily.

The news of the successful operations conducted on the bars of the Fraser river ought to be of more than ordinary interest to the Boundary in view of the fact that the Kettle river is known to be rich in placer gold. Away back in the sixties large amounts of gold were taken from the Boundary and Rock creeks, and even yet the latter creek is mined for placer at various places extending from its junction with the Kettle to points up near Camp McKinney. All along the Kettle from Rock creek to Cascade City values can be obtained from any of the numerous bars on the river; and at different points, particularly near the mouth of Rock creek, gold is found in sufficient quantities to warrant some efforts being made to recover it. There is a chance here for local enterprise to show itself as it is more than likely that the success attending the dredging on the Fraser will sooner or later lead to the extension of the industry to other parts of the province where placer gold is known to exist.

THE LATE OSCAR HAMMER

Funeral Last Sunday Was Largely Attended—Inquest Held.

The funeral of the late Oscar Hammer was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Presbyterian church, and the large number in attendance was a striking testimony to the esteem in which he was held by his fellow employees and by citizens generally. The Miners' union, of which deceased was a member, marched in procession. The B. C. Copper company's works were closed for the day to enable the men to attend. The body of the church was occupied almost entirely by members of the union, and many citizens desiring to attend could not find even standing room. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McKee who spoke briefly but very eloquently in impressing upon his hearers the uncertainty of life and the wisdom of being prepared for death. After the service the union again formed in line and the remains were conveyed to the cemetery for interment, followed by one of the largest funeral processions ever seen in Greenwood.

An inquest was held at the Court House on Saturday to inquire into the cause of the accident which occurred Friday morning at the B. C. Copper company's smelter, resulting in the death of Oscar Hammer.

The jury, consisting of Duncan McIntosh, foreman, John Mulligan, Will Hanna, A. C. McDonald, R. D. McKenzie and David Hunter, viewed the scene of the accident before listening to the evidence. A large number of witnesses were examined and several of them subjected to searching questions by J. R. Brown who appeared on behalf of the Miners' union. Briefly, the evidence was to the effect that a trestle spanned the distance between the crusher and ore bins on which a car track was laid. Originally the trestle was supported in the centre by two upright posts and the end by a shorter bent resting on the ground. That to secure material for foundation of converter the centre bent had been removed and truss rods substituted as a means of support, that sufficient earth and rock had been removed to render the end bent foundation uselee, and that as a consequence the end of the trestle gave way beneath the weight of the loaded ore car.

The jury after an hour's deliberations returned the verdict "That deceased came to his death by the falling of a trestle improperly supported, and recommended that the company immediately make such repairs as were necessary in order that the trestle be safe for traffic."

COUNCIL MEETING

Interesting Session Monday Evening.

NEW FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Reports On Damage by Water—Debentures Taken Up.

Mayor Naden, Aldermen Caulfield, Bunting and McNeil, City Solicitor Grey, City Engineer Johnson and City Clerk Taylor were comfortably seated in the council chambers on Monday evening, it being the regular meeting night of the council.

The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted as read.

Under the head of communications the first to be read was one from the Vernon & Nelson Telephone company regarding the installing of a fire alarm system. Now, a fire alarm system is a necessity in Greenwood, and L. B. Hodge, local manager of the Vernon & Nelson, was there in person to explain the workings of the system which his company is anxious to install. The system is a very simple one, wires being run from different sections of the town to the fire hall where an instrument is installed. Ordinary telephones are placed in weather proof boxes and fastened on the poles at whatever points may be decided on. In case of fire all that has to be done is to open the box and ring the bell which will give direct communication with the fire hall, when the exact location of the fire can then be given to the man in charge there, thus saving valuable time. The cost of installing such a system in this city would be in the neighborhood of $200, and the rental of each instrument is placed at $1 per month, the company to keep the system in repair after it is installed.

After going into the matter the city fathers referred it to the fire department.

Upon being asked as to his opinion in regard to the system Chief Hallett said it was practically only an excuse for a fire system or little better than none at all. He pointed out that even should he be called up by such a system it was as bad as using an ordinary telephone, for, as is generally the case when called up for a fire, the person calling was so excited that he could not get the location, and therefore they would not give the number of the box in this case. In his opinion it would be a useless expenditure of money, and by adding a little more to it a proper fire alarm could be put in and it would be the cheapest.

Phoenix has this system installed but a letter from the city clerk stated that they had had no occasion as yet to test it.

The next communication read was from Munroe & Munroe, financial agents, Montreal, asking if the city cared to take up in advance any more of the debentures they held. It was thought by the council that the city was in shape financially to redeem $7000 worth of such and thus reduce the city's indebtedness.

City Engineer Johnson reported to the council in regard to damage done in breaking of flume by the rush of water coming down Twin creek. He stated that $100 would replace flume to Summit street with improvements, and that $50 or $60 with the aid of the city team would repair the streets. He was instructed to see that the work be carried out.

He mentioned the fact that the bank of Boundary creek near the Auditorium had fallen in and suggested the putting up of a railing until the bank was repaired.

Mr. Vihandre of the Central hotel on Government street entertained the

A CONTRAST.

It has been contended for the Liberal government now in power at Ottawa that the interests of the laboring men have received more attention from their hands than was ever accorded by any previous government. That this is a fact can be proved by a review of the work done, and by a perusal of the Labor Journal issued monthly by the department of labor. That this fact has been and is appreciated by laboring men generally is evidenced by the sentiments expressed by journals whose primary object is place before the public the views of laboring men. In a recent article dealing with the extreme partyism exhibited by the Toronto Globe, the Rossland World draws comparisons between the statesmanship of Gladstone and Laurier very much to the advantage of the latter. It declares "Laurier worthy of backing in 99 cases out of a hundred; that the Liberalism of Laurier is an Imperial and a great thing, and that he will be remembered as an Empire builder when the other man's name is forgotten."

Such unstinted commendation coming as this does from what is practically a labor organ, must be a severe disappointment to such papers as the Westminster Columbian which is vainly endeavoring to arouse hostility to the Laurier government among working men because of the disallowance of the provincial acts relating to the restriction of Japanese immigration. The World evidently is willing to concede what the Columbian has failed to comprehend, namely. that we are only a part of an empire and that we must be willing to give and take in the game of building it up; that it is not only impolitic but unwise to press for legislation irritating and insulting in character to a nation that is a close ally of the empires, and that while it may be well to protect ourselves from all forms of Asiatic immigration, the necessity for so doing is not so urgent that we need press for it at a time when it will clash with imperial interests. The efforts of the Columbian to stir up opposition to the government on a plea of this description will fall flat, partly because the necessity for disallowance is well understood in the province and partly because it is too generally known that the passage of the bill itself was purely for campaign purposes as the local government were fully aware of the fate of the measure before it had ever passed the house. We advise brother Taylor to try a different tack.

MISDIRECTED ZEAL.

The leaders of the local Conservative association are certainly deserving of commendation for the zeal they display in looking after the interests of their party. In their efforts to work injury to the Liberal standard bearer they have placed a new interpretation on the elections act, which, if sustained by the judge of the court of revision, will add a new worry to any individual who may have the misfortune to travel beyond the limits of the province of British Columbia. According to these modern political Solons, when a voters travels takes him beyond the geographical limits of B. C. he should leave some guarantee that he is going to return, otherwise it is right that he should be disfranchised. Acting upon this brilliant idea the local Conservative magnates have filed with the collector of votes objections against the names of eighteen citizens being retained on the lists, the grounds in nearly all cases being given as "absence."

It may be worth noting that in all except one case, (and that one through a mistake) the parties objected to are good Liberals, so that evidently this new law applies only to individuals of that political persuasion. It is only just to say that some of these names should be removed, and removed for the reason given; but to most of them it will not apply, and to attempt to disfranchise voters because of temporary absence from home, for short periods ranging from three weeks to six months, is a violation of the spirit of the act, unfair and unjustifiable, and will have a tendency to introduce into the contest a spirit of bitterness that is uncalled for and unnecessary in a fight of this description.

Of course there is not the slightest chance of the court sustaining this contention, but if by any chance it should be done, Liberals who may find it necessary to be absent during the revision of the list should, in order to be free from disfranchisement, file a declaration of their intention of returning with the president or secretary of the Conservative association. Blanks will or ought to be given on application.

A BOOMERANG.

A sensation has been caused in political circles in Ottawa by the announcement that Hon. Mr. Borden in a recent address had been making copious quotations from a document known to have been stolen from the railway department. Questioned about it by members of the house he claimed that the document had been placed in his hands by responsible parties, but he refused to give any names. The leader of the opposition thus finds himself in an awkward position as in addition to using information obtained in a manner hardly to be commended, he is bound to refuse information to the department that would lead to the detection of the criminal, and is thus deliberately screening a thief and standing in the way of justice. It is unfortunate that such an incident has been brought to light, as the general public, regardless of party, have a desire to see their leading politicians above such petty and questionable practices as those which the recent exposure has shown up.

SOON TO START

The Montreal & Boston Copper company have succeeded in reaching an agreement with the owners of the big Phoenix properties, the Brooklyn and Stemwinder. The consolidation scheme was approved by the ininterested stock holders at a meeting held in Montreal on April 20th, and an agreement submitted to the Knickerbocker Trust Co. to be signed by depositing shareholders.

The capital stock of the enlarged company is $7,500,000.

It is understood that work will be resumed at all the properties controlled by the new company at an early date, Mr. Pemberton of the smelter staff has been at the smelter for several days, and it is confidently asserted that his presecce here is in connection with the reopening of the smelter plant at Boundary Falls.

CAUSED BY FLOODS.

Slides and washouts all the way through the mountains still continue, and as a consequence traffic is greatly interrupted. The roads leading from B. C. to Spokane are closed to traffic and mails and freight are shipped via Bonners Ferry to Kuskonook and thence by boat to Nelson. On the Columbia & Western trains are delayed almost daily in spite of the great efforts made to keep the road clear. A considerable washout occured above Greenwood at Hall's meadows, necessitating a transfer across the damaged sections for a couple of days. The waters from Granite creek, the outlet of Long Lake, in some way became directed from their old channel and in addition to the damage to the railroad, played havoc with the big ranch. As considerable rain has fallen the last few days, it is more than likely that still further trouble will be experienced.

LEAD BOUNTY PAID.

The first payment to mine owners under the Lead Bounty Act, was made on April 13th.

The following is a complete list of the twenty-one lucky claimants who have received cash:

The Sovereign mine, Highland, Whitewater, Enterprise, Sullivan, Rambler-Cariboo, Black Prince, Wilcox, Silver Cup, Bluebird, Red Fox Nepawa, Mercury, Idaho, Alama, Ymir, Payne, North Star, Province, Bosum, Pontiac and Marion mines.

TORONTO BADLY SCORCHED.

Toronto has experienced the worst fire in the history of the city. Fire broke out on Tuesday night in one of the big wholesale warehouses and before it was got under control had swept out of existence the principal warehouses of the city and put 250 firms out of business for the time being. The area covered by the fire is three blocks in length and from half a block to two blocks in width.

All told 114 buildings were destoyed and it is estimated that 6000 people are thrown out of employment.

Help was sent from Hamilton, London and other Canadian cities as well as from Buffalo on the American side of the line, but the combined efforts of the firemen were unable to check the flames until the wholesale quarter of the city was in ashes. The loss is estimated at $10,000,000 with a total insurance of $7,000,000. The city is in no sense dismayed at the catastrophe, but are already beginning to clear off the debris and arrange for the reconstruction of the destroyed buildings.

The year 1904 so far is a record year for great fires, and it is generally expected that a heavy raise in fire insurance rates will be initiated by all insurance companies as a result of the recent losses they have sustained.

IMMIGRATION.

Considerable numbers of immigrants are coming in these days to the Okanagan country. The district between Revelstoke and Vernon is fast filling up with new settlers and in many parts of the adjacent country new settlers are arriving daily. It is pleasant to note that the new arrivals are emigrants of the best class, and in two instances have brought with them sawmills, which they have set up and are cutting all the material necessary in the construction of their home and farm buildings.

It is to be regretted that the wild lands of British Columbia are still unsurveyed, and that little information is obtainable in the various government offices regarding land at the disposal of the department. While a proper survey of these lands would no doubt cost considerable the government would be justified in expending any reasonable amount in surveying all unoccupied lands, and in furnishing their officials throughout the country with maps of each district so that intending emmigrants can secure the information necessary in the choice of land, more readily than is at present possible. Another matter apt to be confusing to new comers is the amount of land held as railway reserves and as grants already given to railway companies. These grants have been many and large and no proper surver of them has ever been made. The consequence is, settlers looking for land are unable to tell where they are at, and being unable to get any information from local men, give up in disgust and go somewhere else. Steps should be taken to remedy this state of affairs, and every effort made to place before intending settlers the desirability of this province as a place of settlement, so that British Columbia will secure her share of the vast tide of immigration that at present is flocking into eastern Canada.

THE GROWTH OF IMMIGRATION.

The immigrant arrivals in the last five years of Tory rule were as follows:

1892	27,898
1890	29,632
1894	20,892
1895	18,790
1896	16,835
Total	113,984

The arrivals during the calendar year 1903 numbered no less than 139,357, or 20 per cent more than in the five years just cited. They were composed as follows:

British	50,141
Continental	38,009
American	51,207
Total	139,357

LOCAL EXTRACT

WANTED.—A good reliable lady to take orders for our stylish custom made dress skirts and walking skirts, also skit supporters. Write quickly. Dominion Garment Co. Guelph, Ontario. Box 209.

C.Kinney is installing for the Union Meat company the largest refrigerator in the Boundary country. Stored in this the meat will be as fresh and tender as during the winter months. The new meat company are sparing no expense in their endeavors to furnish their customers with the best the market affords.

The many customers of the Maxwell Photo Co. will regret to learn they are closing their studio for an indefinite period. Mr. and Mrs. Libby came to Greenwood from Spokane four years ago and during that time have been doing a successful business in Greenwood, giving perfect satisfaction in artististic portrait work. The closing of their siudio will deprive the Boundary people of being able to secure first-class work in photography. 1tf.

J. M. McCloskey, who some two or three years ago lost his eye sight in an accident in the mines in Phoenix, will appear in Greenwood on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 5th and 6th, with a comedy company including a band, of which he is manager. Favorable reports have been received from various points where the company has showed, and as Mc is well known, his enterprise under the circumstances if nothing else should draw him a bumper house.

The waters of Boundary creek are still dangerously high and are liable to a still greater rise if the prevailing rains continue. A considerable wash out occurred along Silver street, which is being repaired by the city authorities. Below the bridge leading to the warehouses, the creek made a vicious onslaught on the west bank and undermined one of the untenanted pleasure palaces which creened backward into the creek and is only kept from going down stream by a wire cable secured to a telephone pole. At present it resembles a Russian warship after the Japs have had an outing. It is likely the owners will be requested to remove it from its present dangerous position.

Boundary Valley Lodge, I. O. O. F., has gathered together a photo of each Past Grand since the lodge was started, and T. M. Gulley is showing his ability in arranging the photos in a very beautiful frame of highly polished oak. The frame is four feet long by three feet wide, and when the photos are neatly arranged it will be a very pleasing as well as useful ornament in the lodge room. The Noble Grands who have presided at the head of affairs in the Oddfellow's lodge since its organization in this city seven and a half years ago down to the present time are as follows: Thomas Hardy, Ralph Smailes, W. M. Law, M. J. Phelan, T. M. Gulley, H. B. Munroe, Duncan Ross, Jas. Kerr, G. B. Taylor, D. A. McKenzie, Fred B. Holmes, W. Elsen, D. A. Bannerman, J. L. White, E. Foyle Smith.

CITY COUNCIL.

council in regard to damages done him by the overflow of Twin creek and the water being turned down Government street so that it came in his hotel. He stateded that he had been put to a lot of trouble, and estimated his time worth $75.00. The city solicitor and city engineer were appointed a committee to ascertain the amount of damages done to Mr. Villandre's property and report at next meeting.

Ald. Caulfield reminded the council that notice had been brought to him of the fact that Boundary creek was washing away the foundations of two or three houses on Gold street.

The new licensing by-law was here brought up and received its third reading. All licenses in the city will expire on July 15th.

On motion the council adjourned.

The Lost Lode claim, located at Boundary Falls, opposite the smelter is being worked by Greenwood capital. The property is owned by Thos. Wake and has a shaft down about thirty feet. Assays have been taken from the property going $17 in gold Three men were started to work Tuesday morning last. The nature of the bond is not known at present but it is surmised it represents a large figure. The opening of the Lost Lode claim is a welcome move to the people of Boundary Falls.

J. C. Haas, M. E., is in town for a few days. Tuesday he was down inspecting the Bruce which is at present under bond to the B. C. Copper company. In one of the open cuts near the old workings a large body of high grade ore has been uncovered. It is the intention of the management to ship a trial carload this week and the method of development will depend largely upon the returns obtained. Mr. Haas will more than likely spend the summer in the Boundary.

W. T. Smith, who has a reputation for interesting outside parties in mining affairs, will shortly begin operations on some properties in Summit camp in which he is part owner. W. T. did not spend the whole of last winter in the east for nothing. It is understood he has substantial financial backing and as the properties in question have a good showing of ore we may confidently look forward to the prospect of having another shipper from that camp before the season closes.

The B. C. Copper company have received five of the nine carloads of machinery to be used in their new converter plant. The work of installing the machinery will be started immediately. When completed the B. C. Copper company will have a plant that will be a competitor of the Granby's in the refining of the copper ores of this province.

The Best Stock in The Market

At The Present Time IS there is no other which will bring in such returns as this. COAL

The price of coal has gone up all over the world, the consumption is enormous, to buy in any working company now costs a small fortune, THE INTERNATIONAL COAL AND COKE CO., is already a shipper and backed by some of the strongest men in the country, witha conservative estimate of something like Fifty Million of tons of Coal in sight is the one to put your money in. Shares which can now be bought at a nominal sum will reach big figures before long.

I have still a few shares left and when they are gone it will be too late for the small investor to get in, if you want so me hing which will net you a good income, don't hesitate but buy at once. First come, first served. When you see the price reach-three figures you will then realize that you have indeed missed a chance of a life time. I have also a small Block of Northwest Coal, another good thing as well as 3,000 shares of Denoro, this mine is bound to become one of the biggest shippers in the district

TOPICS OF THE TOWN AMD COUNTRY.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee entertained a large number of young people at the manse on Friday evening.

Invitations are out for a grand ball to be given in Masonic hall on Tuesday evening, April 26th, by the Greenwood Curling Club.

W. T. Smith, who has been in the east most of the winter, returned last week from Toronto, looking well after his long holiday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Redpath will be pleased to learn that their little boy who has been so dangerously ill, is now past the danger point and rapidly recovering

The recent high water in Twin creek did such serious damage to the roads up the narrow valley that the ore from the E. P. U. cannot be handled until the government repairs the washouts. The E. P. U. has two carloads awaiting shipment which it is expected will eclipse in value any previous consignment.

Jessie and Willie Turner, of Beausejour, Manitoba, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. R. K. Steven. The youngsters made the long trip with friends as far Nelson and from there alone. They feel they are great travellers.

The city engineer has a force of men at work repairing the washouts in the streets caused by the overflow of Twin creek. The work is progressing rapidly and the streets are beginning to assume their normal aspect.

James Smith, who has been laid up with a sore eye, has so far recovered as to resume work at the Elkhorn. An item in last weeks issue relating to his consulting a Spokane specialist might be construed as a reflection on the local physician who attended him. This was in no way intended as such. It may not be out of place, however, to remark that the treatment received there was identical with that received here and was cordially endorsed by the specialist mentioned.

Ainslee Megraw, deputy mining recorder at Beaverdell, has a gang of men at work under his direction repairing the ruts in the West Fork road caused by the recent high water. He is expecting daily the arrival of the road foreman from Fairview when a large gang will be put to work on the construction of the road to Beaverdell.

Editor Wilcox of the Phoenix Pioneer, who has been on an extended holiday trip to Vancouver and other coast cities, arrived home Wednesday. Brother Wilcox has in him the making of a first-class missionary and besides enjoying himself on his holiday rambles, took advantage of his opportunities to make the coast people better acquainted with the enormous resources of his home district.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Oppenheimer of Vancouver, parents of Dr. Oppenheimer, are at the Imperial hotel on a visit to the Dr. Mr. Oppenheimer, who has been associated intimately with the growth and development of Vancouver and is a capable judge of the prospects of any locality, is greatly impressed with the resources of the Greenwood district. Mr. and Mrs. Oppenheimer are on their way east on an extended trip that will include a visit to the British Isles and the centres of interest on the continent, before returning.

George Barret of Beaverdell, who has spent the winter at the Mother Lode mine, is in town preparing for another summer in the upper country. The recent favorable reports regarding the railroad and the probability of the completion of the wagon road to Beaverdell has had the effect of stimulating the boys to fresh exertions, and the coming season bids fair to be a busy one in the camps along the West Fork river.

J. Robert Jacobs, who at one time ran the Queen Cigar store in this city, is now in Montreal, manufacturing the "Sunlight," "Marcello" and other high grade cigars. "Bob" always has the agency for the celebrated Gilby's liquors. Even with a rush of business plenty of amusement and many sights to see, Bob cannot forget the balmy days he spent in Greenwood and of his many friends here, so he writes to have The Times sent that he may keep posted.

Just received, new kitchen cabinets. H. J. Clint, Copper street.

OUR CITY BAND.

Band Master Hallett Hard at Work With New Members.

Greenwood should be proud of her band. With the exception of Nelson this city encourages and supports the best and largest band in the interior. Much credit must be given Leader Hallett for his hard labors in keeping together all the old members and the teaching of new ones. The band will give the citizens a chance of listening to them once or twice a week at open air concerts during the coming summer. Their first appearance this season will be next Sunday when they will lead the Oddfellows from their hall to the church, it being the anniversary of the I. O. O. F. order. With the exception of the drums Leader Hallett has the band boys lined up as follows: J. Sanders, bass; W. Webb, baritone; A. Logan, W. H. Harris, C. H. Archibald, J. Swayne, Trombones; L. Hunter, C. Russell, A. Janes, Arthur Prout. Altos; H. Archibald, C. Archibald, J. Galloway, second cornets; E. W. McArthur, first cornet; J. McBain, A. D. Hallett, solo cornets; L. B. Hodge, E b cornet.
