A COWARDLY ATTACK

No more unjustifiable attack has ever been made on any body of public servants in Canada than Mr. Macgowan made in the legislature last week on the judges of the supreme court. If his attack had been based on truth and made for high public motives, it might have been commended, even if made, as it was, in the wrong place. But, if he is correctly reported in the Province, Mr. Macgowan confessed the real reason of his attack to be a desire for revenge, or retaliation, or redress (as he may regard it), in behalf of political friends of his, whom he alleges to have been "brutally treated" by one of the judges. Such a reason for raking up malicious personal charges which were refuted ten years ago, does not commend itself to decent men. And no circumstances could justify the coarse and outrageous language Mr. Macgowan chose to employ.

The attack was the more to be condemned, because it was made deliberately. Mr. Macgowan gave notice of a motion to amend the Supreme Court Act by adding certain restrictions as to the qualification of judges. This amendment is one the Provincial legislature has no power to pass, and which, therefore, he had no right to move. But it enabled Mr. Macgowan to make his assault in a place where his charges could not be effectively denied, and where the privileges of the legislature protects a member in any utterances. That is hardly a course to commend itself to ordinary manliness.

Mr. Macgowan could have satisfied himself, if he had chosen to do so, that the silly allegations respecting Mr. Justice Clement were untrue. He could have learned that, flimsy as they were, they were [illegible] and the sw[illegible] Pe[illegible] [illegible] and having done so, retract the charges and express his regret for a grave injury.

The people of this province, and particularly of this district, where Mr. Justice Clement is intimately known, can form a more reliable estimate of him from his record during the past nine years in British Columbia than from vague, nameless, malicious rumors originating in the Yukon ten years ago. In those days every government official who ventured into Dawson carried his reputation in his hand and was at the mercy of a crowd of adventurers and of a very yellow press. Since coming to British Columbia in 1901, Mr. Clement has been continuously before the public. While he lived in this district, he was very active in public affairs. He was a candidate for the legislature in 1903, and before his appointment as County Judge in 1905 was concerned as counsel in important cases. When he left the Boundary for Vancouver, he carried with him the respect of all classes. So much for his "rusticating in Grand Forks." His record as judge speaks for itself. It is beyond question that his diligence, courtesy, efficiency and honesty in that capacity have been noted and approved by the public. To speak of such a man as "ghoul prowling around a morgue," is sheer, silly nonsense. The five years he has been upon the Bench are themselves a sufficient answer to Mr. Macgowan's stale charges. There will be no sympathy with this attack amongst the legal profession.

In Mr. Macgowan's outbreak there was a reference to another judge, with which we are loth to deal at all. How any man, speaking in a public place, could be guilty of the wanton cruelty of this reference passes comprehension.

SAD NEWS

On Saturday last the death occured at Winnipeg of John Flesher, for the past 25 years Dominion land agent, in his 87th year. The deceased gentleman was the father of Mrs. C. E. Shaw, of Greenwood, and Mrs. W. Frith, of Keremeos. Their many friends extend sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Frith in their sad bereavement.

MONDAY'S SMOKER

On Monday evening last, at Greenwood Auditorium, a most successful Smoker took place, the occasion being a desire on behalf of Greenwood citizens to publicly honor the Greenwood champion hockey team and show them some mark of appreciation for their magnificent prowess this winter. The two magnificent cups won by the boys were exhibited, bedecked in yellow and black, the Hockey club colors. At half past eight o'clock some 150 smokers had assembled, and the chairman of the evening, E. G. Warren, started the ball rolling with a witty speech, which was loudly applauded. Two special policemen, J. Dimmick and W. Fleming, were appointed by the chair to seize and arrest anyone on any pretext, and the victims brought before the chair during the evening contributed to the amusement of the crowd and the funds, being each and all fined for good and sufficient cause.

The evening's program was extremely varied and equally interesting. There were classical and otherwise selections by the Mother Lode orchestra, songs by D. M. Macpherson, the Mother Lode quartette and others. Two capital boxing bouts added spice to the evening's enjoyment. W. McMillan and T. Brady mixed up in a three round contest and were the recipients of much applause. Referee Warren declared the go a draw. Later in the evening George Clerf faced G. Blankenship in the ring and proved himself as handy with the gloves as he is with a hockey stick. Referee Cameron decided in favor of both participants. The wrestling match between Dimmick and de Weile was the event of the evening.

Chairm[illegible] Warren introduced the subject o[illegible] [illegible] prominent business [illegible] to frame this proposal and arrange for putting this projected improvement on a business basis.

Three cheers and then some were given for the Greenwood Hockey team and a vote of thanks and appreciation to Doc Goodeve, who was unavoidably absent, for his excellent management during the season.

The enjoyable evening was brought to a close about midnight with God Save the King.

A SAD DEATH

Gertrude, the 8-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McGillivary, of Phoenix, died at the Sacred Heart hospital, on Thursday last, and the funeral which was largely attended by Phoenix and Greenwood friends took place at Greenwood cemetery on Saturday. The child had not been well for a year, heart trouble being the cause of her death. Much sympathy is felt for the parents, who but a year ago lost another little girl.

HODGES-SACKETT

The marriage of Miss Daisy Hodges, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. W. Hodges, of Grand Forks, to Mr. Blair L. Sackett, of New York, took place last Monday, March 7, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges at the Granby smelter, in the presence of the immediate family only. The honeymoon will be spent at Marion Lodge, Christina Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Sackett will accompany Mr. Hodges to Peru the first week in April.

TOLL OF DEATH

Three Rosslanders were killed in the terrible snowslide at Wellington on the G. N. R. last week. They were Earl Fisher, 19, B. Thompson, an old timer who leaves a wife and 2 children; and Alexander Chisholm, who leaves a wife and 5 children to mourn his loss.

In England 15 people out of every 1000 marry.

CERRO DE PASCO MINING CO., PERU

A. B. W. Hodges, who has been the manager of the Granby Co.'s mines at Phoenix and smelter at Grand Forks since 1899, has resigned his position and accepted the management of the Cerro de Pasco Mining Co., a $10,000,000 organization; with head office in New York and general office at Lima, Peru. This company is controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan and other prominent and wealthy residents of New York. The company is to be congratulated on securing the services of so able a smelter manager as Mr. Hodges.

The Cerro de Pasco Mining Co. owns 941 claims, and 70,000 acres of miscellaneous lands, including copper claims in the Morococha and Yauli districts, and about 400 acres of land that includes three-fourths of the rich Cerro de Pasco district, with a smelter site and extensive coal tracts north of Cerro de Pasco. The elevation is 14,300 feet above sea level, rendering physical labor very fatiguing. The population of the town is 15,000.

Silver was discovered at Cerro de Pasco in 1630 and production to the close of the 19th century is estimated at 450,000,000 ounces, almost entirely extracted by hand labor. The company's ore bodies carry gold, silver, copper, galena, zinc and cobalt.

The reduction works at La Fundicon, nine miles from the mines, and connected therewith by rail, consist of the smelter plant, furnaces, converter, power plant, iron foundry, warehouse, machine shop, carpenter shop, smithy, laboratory, office and dwellings for employees.

The company furnishes its own fuel, owning extensive beds of bituminous coal, of coking grade. The company's brick plant has proved an important success. This plant also manufactures fire and tile pipe. A [illegible] 17 miles from the [illegible] coal, and

The Cerro de Pasco railway, owned by the company, operates under a government concession, connecting with the Central Railway of Peru. The railway is 83 miles long, with several branch lines, and is on a paying basis. The company employs a total force of about 6,000 men.

The Cerro de Pasco is undoubtedly the most expensive copper proposition ever developed. Total investment is said to be $23,000,000.

Warren introduced in his speech at the smoker on Monday night, a committee has been formed as follows: D. McIntosh, mayor of Greenwood, E. G. Warren, Dr. McLean, Thos. Lyons, W. J. Mitchell, Doc Goodeve, G. B. Taylor, Alex Greig, K C. B. Frith, R. J. Saunders, J. A. Russell, and Howard Cameron. This committee is a very representative one and is sufficient endorsation of the worthy project to warrant everyone doing all they can to help promote the object of the committee, the erection of a combination skating and curling rink.

TO THE COAST

The C. P. R., have announced their intention to complete their line from Midway to the coast in two years.

A COMBINED RINK

Greenwood citizens are to be congratulated on the public spirit displayed in the promotion of a combination skating and curling rink, which has been the feature of the week's work. A building of this kind has been needed here for years.

The old rink was out of the way, dilapitated and not large enough for the hockey teams to get a really good game on, and without sufficient accommodation for the keenly interested public.

The roof was conspicuous for its absence and altho this winter has seen the skating rink greatly improved by the lessees, it is still inadequate and inconvenient.

The building which has done duty as a curling rink for several years, perched on the high bank of the creek, is still servicable and quite large, but when curling plays such an important part in the winter evenings, and so many business men, after the day's work, look forward to "the roarin' game," there is no reason why they should not have the very best kind of a rink, just as our champion hockey team are deserving of a larger field for their utilities than the 2x7 old rink.

The combined skating and curling rink will be built this fall, and it will be an attraction to ousiders and ourselves. Its usefulness will not cease with the end of the cold snap. A large building of this nature, centrally located, will be in demand the year round, for Bazars, Agricultural and Mining exhibits, for a drill hall for our Boy Scouts, or the Rifle Brigade. This much needed and most useful building is now in sight, and Greenwood can congratulate itself.

OUR MIND

Next to the joy of owning one's own home, it is incumbent on us to own our own minds. To make up one's mind to a thing is comparatively easy—to keep the make up is extremely onerous. So many people rent other peoples' minds, instead of cultivating their own, and like the man, who rents a room, when he might with the same capital have owned his domicile, a rented mind comes oftentimes more expensive in the long run than a developed mind of one's very own. Besides, after awhile, one has nothing to fall back upon but other peoples' ideas, other peoples' thoughts, and life is very empty at fifty when it might be stocked with the happy accumulations and association of years. If we live in rented minds, nails in the wall don't seem to matter, plaster loosened does not seem to count, whereas our own would have been taken care of, and the inside furnishings and decorations would not only belong to us, but would be worth owning and something to be proud of. Be it ever so humble, there is no place like a mind of one's very own.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

There is a strong probability that this western section of the Boundary mining and agricultural district will have an exposition of its resources this Summer, or during the coming fall. Greenwood is the logical center for this exhibition to take place, and it is to be hoped that all fruit growers and farmers and mine owners will combine to make this a success. The West Fork, Rock Creek and Midway valleys are tributary to Greenwood, and the Greenwood valley itself has farms and mines and natural resources to exhibit, and Greenwood must secure this exposition for itself.

An appropriation of $31,200 for roads in Greenwood riding means that much additional currency to be circulated in this district this year. The smelter and the Mother Lode mine, operated by the B. C. Copper Co., expend some $45,000 each month. Premier McBride assures us that at least 25 miles of the Midway-Vernon will be built in 1910, which will increase the growing payroll of this section very considerably; besides, the fact of this much railway work being started will mean the distribution of considerable monies to creditors of the defunct company which started this line. Nineteen ten looks well from this out.

BUILDING UP

There is every indication that Canada is just entering upon the greatest period of building activity the country has ever experienced. Every city in Canada of any proportions has experienced an increase during January, 1910, of building permits over January, 1909, with the exception of Sydney. Vancouver's increase was 72.66, Victoria's increase 65.19.

A St. Louis woman recently succumbed to the attractions of O'Grady, the "human ostrich" in a dime museum. She is said to have fallen in love with him while he was eating tacks at one of his exhibitions. "I thought I would like to cook for a man like that," confessed the blushing [illegible] peace.

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism is simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. MINES AND MINING

The Greenwood-Phoenix tunnel is now in 450 feet. Superintendent Duncan McIntosh paid a visit to Spokane last week.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Le Roi Two mine company took place February 15 in London. The dividends for the past year were 6 shillings per share, free of taxation; 48,412 tons of ore were mined and treated.

The Black Range, New Mexico, which was a thriving silver mining district 25 years ago, has recently been the scene of a mining revival. The slump in the value of silver and the Apache massacres were the cause of its decline years ago. Today the Apaches are subdued, and silver, copper and gold discoveries have put new life into the old camp.

The Dominion government has appropriated $50,000 to be used in experimenting processes used in the reduction of zinc, for making experiments and for any other purposes that may be deemed advisable for the promotion of production and manufacture of zinc and zinc products from Canadian ores. At present many thousands of dollars are lost annually to Canada through unscientific and inadequate methods of treating zinc ores, especially in British Columbia. The Mines department of the government proposes to undertake experiments and gather information from abroad, with a view to improving the present process and prevent the great waste prevailing in the treatment of ores

The last word from the Iditarod has been brought in by Richard Butler, one of the best known prospectors of Dawson. He said he thinks it will make a fine camp. He made the trip by dog team from the new camp, and confirms the story that good pay dirt has been located on Otter creek and two of its tributaries. On Otter creek the pay streak is 600 feet wide, and has been traced for well over a mile. Butler says the trail is in good shape. He made the trip in 21 days and reports plenty of stopping places. With a light outfit better time could be made. Wada, the Japanese musher, and his two companions, who were sent from Seward to the Iditarod by the Seward Chamber of Commerce with a view to ascertaining the condition of the route to the new gold strike, with Seward as a starting point, returned Saturday.

A movement is now on foot to float a gigantic merger representing 90 per cent of the asbestos output of the world. Representatives of the Amalgamated Asbestos corporation, a Canadian company recently launched, which has obtained control of about 90 per cent of the asbestos output of Canada, are now coveting the properties of the companies represented at the Denver conference and the consummation of the deal will likely be followed by the absorption of these companies by the big Canadian corporation. The new interests have offered $1,100,000 for the control of the Wyoming asbestos deposits and propose to spend $1,000,000 in developing the property. It is expected that a new company will be formed with $5,000,000 capital. The Englishmen are to take 51 per cent of the stock and the California interests 49 per cent. The local and Wyoming interests who are in the deal own about 1,200 acres of asbestos-producing lands near Casper, Wyoming, said to be about all the available known asbestos supply in the United States. Nearly 95 per cent of the asbestos used in the United States is mined in Canada.

SPRING

The creek, released from Winter's frosty bite,
With joyous leap and rippling laughter bright,
Cutvies the sky in foamy white and blue,
'Tis Spring! 'tis Spring! The world is born anew.
The sheep browse on the benches with their young;
The hill birds sing—all nature finds a tongue;
The cattle low, swift echoes give reply,
The tree-tops bending as the breezes sigh.
From out the distance soft-toned cow-bells ring;
While buttercups, sweet harbingers of spring,
Surmount the snow with tracery of gold,
Reflecting heaven's sunshine thousand fold.
A biding perfume all the landscape fills,
From riverbanks to bluffs on farthest hills.
In goblets, golden glisterred, brewed, 'tis sent
In waftures sweet with noon-day sunshine blent.
Each tree, each plant, bedecked in spring's young glow,
Shakes off the burden of cold Winter's snow.
Each floweret wear's a coronet of dew.
'Tis Spring! 'tis Spring! The world is born anew.

Anemic women and children who frequently feel chilly, are pale and exhausted, will derive great benefit from the use of Ferrovim, the invigorating tonic, which consists of Iron in a form they can assimilate, fresh lean beef and pure Sherry Wine. RECORD EXTRACTION

George W. Coleman, bookkeeper, at a salary of $12 a week, of the National City Bank, of Cambridge, has established a new extraction record which will be interesting to the mining world. Miners think they do well when they extract from 75 to 90 per cent of a given ore deposit; but Coleman beat this record to a frazzle. The deposits of the bank which employed him stood on the books at only $127,432, and he succeeded in extracting about $200,000 without letting anything cave, fall or even a timber split. He made so little noise about it that none of the officials, neither the president, cashier nor any of the directors realized that he had even begun stoping.

Some time ago Coleman thought seriously of stealing the safe deposit vaults in the basement, and also the building. He knew he could do this without any fear of detection, as there was no possibility that the officials of the bank would miss them; but Coleman had grown fat, cloyed and lazy through high living, and he procrastinated. Finally, when it had come to be so easy that the game was no longer interesting, he quietly threw it up and walked away, and several days later one of the officials accidentally discovered that something was missing.

FRENCH ELECTIONS

France is going to have some elections of her own. Everything from the bottom to the top—save the president of the republic himself—will have to go to the polls. Those who ought to know say it's going to be one of the best politicial fights the country has seen, therefore the most interesting. The English style of election, it is said, will be indulged in. Many Frenchmen of political turn took a trip to England recently to look up the finer points of electioneering. Not only did these men return to this country fully determined that it should have a real election in May, but that the colored picture posters, such as the English used, should be a feature.

ABSENT-MINDED

A Canadian farmer, noted for his absent-mindedness, went to town one day and transacted his business with the utmost precision. He started on his way home, however, with the firm conviction that he had forgotten something, but what it was he could not recall. As he neared home the conviction increased, and three times he stopped his horse and went carefully through his pocketbook in a vain endeavor to discover what he had forgotten. In due course he reached home and was met by his daughter, who looked at him in surprise and exclaimed: "Why, father, where have you left mother?"

A BIG BOND

The Granby Co. have bonded 20 mineral claims in Summit Camp. The consideration is about $125,000. Work will be started at once. The claims are the Summit group and other well known mining claims, covering about 1,000 acres. George Rumberger, Thomas Roderick, John Mulligan and L. Y. Birnie, of Phoenix, are the vendors.

A GREAT ARGUMENT

Britishers have nothing to learn in the way of declamatory political argument. For example note the following clipping from the London Daily News, one of the foremost champions of the Liberal party in the late appeal to the people:

Had a Brother, who
Had a Nephew, who
Had a Son, who is the present
LORD NELSON.

This lordly person has received a Pension of £5,000 per annum for 67 years!!! This sum, together with a moderate interest, amounts to

Because—

At least 15000 Chinese troops have entered Tibet. Wireless telegraphy was installed as the army advanced. While these are Japanese trained soldiers they met with a severe reverse, the commander in chief narrowly escaped capture, when the Tibetans ambushed a force of chinese, who lost 400 men and a number of guns. Enormous quantities of war material are being shipped across the Thibetan frontier.
