NORTH COUNTRY NOT WASTE LAND

I. Robert Jacobs Thinks Telkwa and Bulkley Valleys Have Good Future

I. Robert Jacobs, one of the pioneers of Greenwood, who when passing through Vancouver the other day on his way through to the Coast cities and Spokane and possibly later to Greenwood was interviewed by the Province and had a good word to say for the North country from which so many men have been coming lately with a grievance. The Province on Monday said:

"Mr. I. Robert Jacobs, a well known mining operator who made a big clean-up at Cobalt, has returned here from a tour through several new mining districts in Northern British Columbia. His mission was to examine various propositions which had been submitted to a syndicate of Montreal and New York capitalists which he organized before leaving the east.

Mr. Jacobs spent most of his time in the Telkwa district. He stated that he was very favorably impressed with the mining possibilities of that region. He had examined some splendid copper and silver prospects but only cared to speak in general terms until he had reported to his associates. Development work up north is only in its infant stages, and some years will elapse before smelting and shipping facilities are secured. Under these circumstances only companies with ample capital could hope to carry out operations over a long period on an extensive scale. He had no doubt the Telkwa district was destined to become a large copper producer, possibly larger than the Boundary district, where he formerly operated. He was also favorably impressed with the splendid showings of coal.

Mr. Jacobs could not disguise his enthusiasm about the agricultural resources of the Bulkley Valley.

"I know Southern British Columbia thoroughly and have yet to see any land to surpass the soil in the Bulkley. The crops this year are well advanced and will give an abundant yield. Before I left new potatoes and other vegetables were in the market. Ranchers are few, as the country has been blanketed with war scrip and this may withhold development. Mr. Thompson a rancher who located there three years ago, is fast making a fortune. He says he has struck a paradise and wants no more of Colorado because the wind there blew his seed away. Although 65 years old, he declared that he did not have any regret at seeking a location in such an out-of-the-way place. People are coming in to the country and the ranchers get a market at their doors. Mrs. Learoyd, another landowner, has ten cows that net her $7 50 a day after the wants of her family are provided for."

Mr. Jacobs was entertained today by an old Rossland friend, Count Crowe.

The Myncaster Club.

At a meeting of the residents of Myncaster and District held at the Myncaster Hotel on the 9th inst. there was inaugurated an Association to be called "The Myncaster Club." The object of the organization is for the furtherance of the farming, social and athletic interests of the community. The officials appointed were Mr. J. G. McMynn, President; Mr. A. B Sowter, Secretary and Treasurer, and a committee composed of the aforesaid as ex-officio members and Messrs. Leach, Somers, Courtney, Pearson, Milroy, Donald and Robinson.

The athletic section of the club resolved that a challenge be sent to the Greenwood Cricket Eleven to play them on their home ground a return match on the 30th August.

The club besides its social and athletic activities has a serious purpose of promoting the agricultural interests of the District and at the meeting, it was hoped that other districts would form kindred institutions, and that at some time not far distant, a central organization might be formed in which all the clubs would have representation. It was felt that no movement could be conceived of which could more advance the well being of the farmer than such an Association, whose object will be to bring about that co-operation and unison upon which the prosperity of any industry is dependent.

BOUNDARY MINING

Word received in the city yesterday from Richard Armstrong, of Chicago, says that everything at the Chicago end of the Greenwood-Phoenix Tunnel Co. has been arranged, the way being now clear for preparation to commence actual operations. Every indication now is that long before November 1st, hammer and drill will be pounding the long hole in the big hill, which is filled with untold treasures.

The Diamond-Texas will resume work on Monday. On Wednesday night at a meeting of the members of the syndicate, two new officers were elected, John A. Swanson, of Phoenix, being made superintendent, thus giving the Phoenix delegation in the syndicate adequate representation. T. M. Gulley was elected Secretary-Treasurer. The members of the syndicate are confident that they will reach the ore now in a very short time and when they do, the Diamond-Texas is sure to become one of the best of the high-grade mines. John Swanson who will superintend operations is in charge of the Gold Drop mine at Phoenix.

The man who bought B. C. Copper last year at 7½ and 8 is now saying "I told you so," and if the indications are any good he can continue to say it for some. Two weeks ago enquiries were received in Greenwood for this stock at 6¼ but Greenwood had none to sell at that price. Last week the rise continued and on Monday of this week the Vancouver Province reported that this stock had created a sensation on the exchange there. The report also included a reference to International Coal and Coke, the company from which the B. C. Copper Co. geis its coke supply, The Province said:

On Friday British Columbia Copper closed quietly at $6.00 bid and $6.75 asked, to-day a sensation was caused by the manner in which the stock was bid up to $7.50 without getting any offers. At this price $8 25 was brought out as the selling price. The reason for the rise lies in the facts that trading on the New York curb has driven this stock up to 7 5-8 to 7 7-8. The quotations in other stocks were not of much importance. International Coal and Coke are a little stronger, the bidding price coming up gradually to askers. There has been a good deal of trading done in this stock in Spokane lately, and it is believed that some development is about to take place which may have the affect of broadening its value.

I.O.O.F. Smoker.

At next Tuesday's meeting of the Oddfellow's Lodge, the Second degree will be conferred on three candidates. Lodge will open promptly at 8 o'clock and the degree ceremonies will commence at 8.15. After lodge, a smoker and social evening open to Oddfellows only will be given and to it not only all members of the local lodge but all visiting brethern are requested to be present.

FERNIE A CITY OF OPPORTUNITY

But Fernie People will Protect Themselves--Remarkable Rise of City.

In a week, Fernie has changed from a city of destruction to a city of opportunity. From various parts of British Columbia carpenters, builders and mechanics and not only these but business men have gone to Fernie looking for business openings. From Greenwood, Kenneth McKenzie, C. H. Archibald, H. McCurdy, H. T. Hunter, and J. McRae all have visited the fire-swept country, the first three to stay to take part in rebuilding the city, Mr. Hunter returning yesterday and Mr. McRae early next week.

Three hundred carpenters are at work in Fernie, drawing from 5 to $6 a day. The Fernie people are standing together, however, and anyone entering business there is required by the city to furnish bonds to the extent of of $500 that they will remain in bueiness over a year.

Real estate in Fernie is high. From $10,000 to $12000 have been been refused for corner lots in the city during the past week. Inside lots with a 30ft frontage are bringing when sold at all between $5,000 and $6,000. No good business locations can be had under $4,000.

The large firms are erecting permanent buildings on Victoria Avenue which is the main business street of the city and at present are doing business in temporary structures. P. Burns & Co. have their meat market in a box car on the C.P.R tracks and the Canadian Bank of Commerce are doing buiness in a tent. Most of the firms whose shops were on Victoria Ave are now doing business in tents, etc., on Pellatt Ave in the vicinity of the Coal company's office. As a means of protecting the town's existence further, the fire limits have been extended two blocks in every direction.

The relief work is said by the local visitors to be carried on admirably. Meals are provided between 7 o'clock and 10 in the morning and between 4 and 7 in the evening. Visitors to Fernie find it advantageous to go to Hosmer in the evening returning in the morning but the Fernie people are in tents everywhere, every lawn containing four and often five tents.

As an illustration of the condition in which the people there found themselves after the fire, one of the officials of the fire department came into Cranbrook on Tuesday of this week to meet his wife who had been taken there to the hospital. They had four children. One he had found at Hosmer, another at Coal Creek, a third had been located at Michel, and on arriving at Cranbrook he learned that the fourth was in the hospital there with the mother.

However, Fernie is recovering and its eagerness to assume its old position is remarkable. Within a year they claim the town will be completely rebuilt. On the 15th inst., the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. will have a pay-roll amounting to over $200,000. The coke ovens were doing business again before the fire had ceased to rage in the line of 100 box cars that had started to burn in the conflagration. The heat of this fire is so intense that the wheels of the cars have been melted by it and flattened out. Early this week the Great Northern bridge was completed, its construction having been rushed day and night. The C.P.R. line is not damaged outside of Fernie.

The smelter of the B. C. Copper Co. this week treated 13,901 tons of ore, distributed as follows: Mother Lode, 9,408 tons; Oro Denoro, 3,622 tons; others, 588 tons.

$25,000 BLAZE AT BOUNDARY FALLS

Machine Shops of Dominion Copper Co. Destroyed--Hard Work Saved Smelter

What might have been a most disastrous fire occurred last night about 9.30 in the machine shop of the Dominion Copper Co's smelter at Boundary Falls. As it was, the fire entirely destroyed the machine shop and blacksmith shop, entailing a loss estimated by Mr. Roosa this morning at from $25,000 to $30,000. Only the hearty, well directed work of the men employed at the smelter and the company's excellent water supply saved the smelter and offices from going.

The building destroyed was a frame structure about 100x30 feet and was situated between the trestle and a temporary machine shop and quite near the blower room. The shop was equipped with a lathe 24in x 20 ft., a smaller lathe 16in x 10ft., a Cincinnatti Radial Drill, a threading machine, a planer, a shaper, and electric motor and a full equipment of tools and was considered to be, it is said, the best in the Boundary. The building was insured in one of the Ceperly Rounsfell & Co. companies but Mr. Roosa did not care to make any statement of the insurance this morning beyond that all their plant was sufficiently insured.

The big furnace was let out at the smelter on Tuesday night but it is expected that the company will tomorrow begin to receive its regular coke supply and that the furnace will be blown in again an Sunday night or Monday morning.

CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

The conception of Canada as a nation within the Empire is constantly taking a greater hold on the people of the Dominion. The term "colony" is resented as implying a subserviency that is not ours. Even our large dailies such as the Hamilton Spectator which is known over Canada for the brightness of its editorial columns, however, stumble in ignorance over the constitutional possibility of such an idea. Recently the Toronto Star set the Spectator right on this point in an editorial worth quoting. It is as follows:

The Hamilton Spectator takes exception to the remark made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Quebec banquet. "The colonies acknowledged the authority of the British crown, but no other authority." The Spectator says: "This is of a piece with his perpetual dreaming of Canadian independence, sometimes cloaked, but never abandoned, and not always secluded." It adds that Sir Wilfrid means to elevate Canada into a position of equality with Great Britain "as if Great Britain and Canada had the one nominal monarch, and there was no other connection between them—like Norway and Sweden in days not long gone by. In so speaking he chooses to ignore the fact that the charter of Canada is an Act of the Imperial Parliament; that the Governor-General is chosen by the Ministry of the day in Great Britain and responsible to the Secretary of State for the Colonies; and that, although a good deal of latitude has been permitted for well understood reasons, the only difference between Canada, Australia, etc., on the one hand, and the crown colonies on the other, is that in the one class autonomy under the supervision of the Imperial Parliament is permitted, while in the other the authority of that Parliament is more directly exercised."

The Spectator is talking of the theory, while Sir Wilfrid is talking of the practical working of our institutions. It is true that our charter, the British North America Act, is an Act of the Imperial Parliament, but it is to all intents and purposes of an irrevocable character. The British Parliament has abandoned for all time all but a small part of its legislative authority over Canada. It would not, and virtually could not, make a tariff for Canada, or impose a tax upon Canada, or make alterations in the laws of Canada, relating to education, or commerce, or municipal administration, or property and civil rights or any of the subjects which by the Confederation Act are allotted either to the Dominion or to the provinces. In all these respects Canada does stand upon an equality with the United Kingdom, and the power of the Canadian Parliament and legislatures is as absolute as that of the Imperial Parliament. This state of affairs is not "permitted." It is inevitable; and it is just as inevitable that in the process of development the position of Canada within the Empire will be one of complete equality with the United Kingdom.

The Canadian Government and the Protectionists.

Sometimes a stranger sees our faults or virtues more clearly than we do ourselves. There are Canadians who refuse to see in the tariff policy of the Laurier government anything but a continuation of the old N.P. under which Canada ran into a time of distress as great or greater than that in which she found herself at its beginning. Recently the Boston Transcript touched on the subject and put the emphasis where it was needed. The Laurier government has provided a tariff policy that has been consistent and stable and instead of considering only the manufacturer in making its tariff, it has insisted on recognizing the rights of every producer—farmer and miner as well as manufacturer. The Transcript says;

One of the significant omissions of the Dominion Parliament, just prorogued, was its failure to increase the duty on woollens, even though the manufacturers represented the industry as virtually on its last legs as the result of foreign competition. In stating the position of the government, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, said: "In a country with the climate of Canada, the cost of woollen clothing becomes a question of very great importance. A proposal to increase the taxes on what might be called a necessity of life naturally arouses much oppositon among the consumers and their representatives. . . . We can assure the manufacturers that we are fully appreciative of this industry, and that if we cannot at this stage meet their wishes, it is because we are obliged to consider the wishes of all classes throughout the country."

This concise statement epitomizes the frame of mind in which the Liberal Government under Laurier always has approached the subject of tariff revision. Canada is a protective country, but the government has set its face steadfastly against the policy which would recognize the producer as the exclusive interest to be considered in levying tariff duties. The pressure for higher duties put upon the government by the manufacturers has been continual and terrific, but the Laurier ministry, while diplomatically yielding at times and in studied measure, never has permitted the dictation of customs duties by any one interest.

Educating England

In the British House of Commons the other day, in a very interesting debate on the subject of Asiatic immigration. Mr. A. E. W, Mason called attention to Asiatic immigration into Canada. Mr. Seely replied that the future of the Empire dedepended on the step we now took. The government warmly appreciated the manner wherein the Canadian government had met them; also the work of Mr. Mackenzie King. he hoped there would be a common agreement. He appealed to the House not to adopt a superior attitude and say that any citizen of the Empire should be free to go to any part thereof. The colonies must be allowed to exclude whom they thought desirable. At the same time he urged the colonies to treat with the utmost generosity the Asiatics already therein. He agreed that the question should go to the imperial secretariat.

The Hindu Viewpoint.

Mr. Teja Singh is a Master of Arts and a doctor of laws and he is at present in the United States. He is likewise a Sikh. He has been telling a New York reporter some things about India, not very much, because he occupies a delicate position. for if he speaks his mind plainly he may be subject to misconstruction in India. He made one point which ought not be lost sight of. He said that it was hard for a western mind to grasp the Indian situation, because the whole bereaucracy is out of touch and out of sympathy with the native population. He draws a distinction between the English-Indian mind and the native point of view. Speaking of Kipling, he says he is no doubt able to speak for a small minority of the population of the country, who are in the government service, but denies that he is in any way entitled to speak for "intellectual India, which is in thorough touch with Carlyle, Ruskin, Mill, Tennyson and Tolstoi."

The governing of strange peoples remains ever a problem.

In 1896, there were in Canada 11,265 convictions for drunkenness, in 1906, the number had increased to 25,110. The Victoria Colonist will not suggest that this due to the policy of the Laurier administration but rather to the marked falling off in the efsorts made by organizations to promote temperance. Surely the Colonist will soon be converting the Tories!

Compromising with sin is accepting wage from Satan.

Fight the devil with water—fire is his favorite weapon.

Having faith in God means having faith in your fellows.

When a woman with a poodle dog in her arms enters the crowded car we never have any trouble finding something interesting in our newspaper.

The Washington Herald says the world's coal supply has been reduced four billion tons. And we know the location of the furnace that consumed most of it.

The workman who has his hands washed and his coat on by the time the whistle blows is usually complaining because his wage envelope does not grow heavier.

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Everybody Agrees

that COD LIVER OIL and IRON are beyond question the greatest medicines known. Then why does not everybody take Cod Liver Oil and Iron? Simply because most people cannot take the Oil and few can digest the Iron in any ordinary form. These difficulties have been entirely removed by the introduction of FERROL, in which the Iron is scientifically combined with the Oil, rendering the Oil palatable and the Iron digestible. While is manufactured from the best quality of Cod Liver Oil (the whole of the Oil) and is richer in oil than any other emulsion, and while it contains just the right quantity of the best form of Iron and Phosphorus, it is so scientifically prepared that not one person in a thousand finds any trouble in taking it, and infants digest it without difficulty. Moreover the well-established value of the Oil and Iron is immensely enhanced by the process of manufacture, and as the formula is freely exposed it is not to be wondered at that physicians everywhere have fully endorsed FERROL and used it largely in their practice. FERROL is invaluable for the treatment of any kind of Lung or Bronchial troubles, while for wasting diseases it has no equal, and

EXPENDITURE OF THE DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA FOR 1906-07.

The expenditure in British Columbia of Federal moneys for agricultural purposes, has largely increased since 1896. The general expenditure in the whole of Canada for such purposes has increased from $198,098 in 1896 to $547,473 in 1907. As will be briefly explained in the following statements, British Columbia has been given a fair share of of this increase.

British Columbia, the same as the rest of Canada, has benefitted by the rapid development of agricultural organization in Ottawa, under a practical Minister of Agriculture, through the wise legislation from time to time introduced, the valuable experiments conducted and object lessons given, thereby enabling the best information to be available and promptly and widely distributed.

A large correspondence is carried on between the chiefs of the various divisions established by the Minister and the farmers of British Columbia, who are thus put in a position to obtain up-to-date and practical advice. This help is of vital importance and is available to the farmers who choose to write for it to the departmental specialists in charge of each particular class of work.

Besides the services of a general character the Department have sent their leading officers from Ottawa to the Province to conduct educational campaigns, and have representatives residing in British Columbia for nearly every branch of the Ottawa Department.

A few particulars in regard to these services, in so far as they are applied to British Columbia will no doubt be interesting, and herein follow :

At the Agassiz Experimental Farm there has been an expenditure varying from $8,269 in 1896-97 to $10,931 in 1907-08. It reached $13,455 in 1901-2 on account of the new buildings that were added in that year.

Special attention has been devoted at the farm to orchard and garden work and an exhibit has been sent regularly to the annual exhibition at New Westminster.

The Live Stock Branch.—In 1900 the Minister of Agriculture appointed to take charge of the Live Stock interests of the Dominion, a Commissioner who soon extended his operations to British Columbia. In the last six years an expenditure of $12,437.83 has been incurred in this province alone in providing judges for fairs and speakers for conventions and in grants to Live Stock Associations made through the Commissioner.

Veterinary Branch.—In 1895-06, there was spent in the whole veterinary work of the Dominion, $31,419 ; in 1906-07 the amount had grown to $276,667.

$31,000 was the expenditure of the Veterinary Branch of the Dominion when the English Embargo on Canadian cattle was, in 1896, made statutory. Had the expenditure been more liberal and the organization more complete the results might have been different.

In order to stamp out the disease, a rigid quarantine was instituted in the area affected and anim alsdiseased, and in contact with the diseased, were slaughtered and compensation paid. The system had been successfully followed before in stamping out Hog Cholera when that disease prevailed to an alarming extent, especially in the Counties of Essex and Kent, Ont. While $36,029.35 was paid for compensation, in 1902-3, the sum paid for compensation gradually decreased year by year until it reached $2,811.43 in 1907-08, when the disease had practically completely disappeared.

The same system was applied to the whole of Canada for glanders in horses.

In British Columbia, owing to a violent outbreak of this disease in lumbering camps in the North, no less than $80,330.10 was spent for compensation and general expenses in 1906, but the following year, 1907 the expenditure had already been reduced to $27,806, and the tendency is a decrease towards the vanishing point.

The expenditure of the Veterinary branch from 1896 to 1907 for British Columbia has totalled over $80,000, the work done being an entirely new work instituted by the Department.

In the dairying branch also special attention has been given to B.C. One month after the present Minister assumed the control of the Department at Ottawa he sent Mr. J. A. Ruddick, the present Commissioner to British Columbia to conduct a travelling dairy through the principal districts of the province and at the annual meeting of the Provincial Exhibition at New Westminster.

During that three month's tour the creameries then in existence were visited and advice and help given them.

In 1901 a similar work was again undertaken, conducted by Mr. J. E. Hopkins and an assistant, and again in 1905 when Mr. W. A. Wilson, representing this branch of the Department of Agriculture, conducted demonstrations of butter making in different parts of the country and at the New Westminster Exhibition.

In 1906 a permanent official was engaged to organize and supervise Cow Testing Associations in the province. Seven associations have already been organized, but the services of the supervisor were dispensed with and other arrangements made with local experts to do the milk testing. The annual expenses in connection with this work would amount to about $800.

In 1902 Mr. Maxwell Smith was appointed as a permanent Dominion Fruit Inspector for the Province of British Columbia. He has been engaged there ever since. His salary and expenses amount to about $1,700 per year. Mr. McNeill, the present Chief of the fruit division, and his predecessor Mr. MacKinnon, have both visited British Columbia in the interests of fruit growing.

In connection with the second Conference of Fruit Growers held at Ottawa in March, 1906, the expenses of five delegates were paid from British Columbia, amount in all to nearly $1,000, or considerably over one-third the cost of the conference.

In the Seed Branch, which was started eight years ago a representative was in 1905 given special charge of inspection work in B.C. and was stationed at Calgary. Last year the trade in clover and grass seed was made the subject of special investigation and this year, the work is being continued. In this as in all the departments much help is given in Institute meetings.

From the preceding statements it seems justifiable to conclude that the general policy of the Department, so far as British Columbia is concerned, has been characterized by a wise expenditure of public moneys for necessary purposes. That expenditure has been increased with the increasing business and development of the farming interests of the province, with due regards to the needs of the farming population and the proportion of that population to the rest of Canada.

Her voice is one of excellence, and her song, "You Know I can't because I'm Married," took the audience with a sweep. The lawn party on Tuesday evening, at the Church of the Sacred Heart attracted a very considerable crowd of people and resulted altogether in a most enjoyable evening. In the afternoon and early evening, it was the children's time and the grab bag, and the numerous races for boys and girls graded according to age and size aroused lots of interest. Some very fine prizes were given. In the evening, the lawn behind the house and between it and the church was filled with people who listened to an extended and very excellent program of music contributed by the orchestra, a chorus which sang the "Marseillaise," Mrs. Oppenheimer, Miss Caldwell, Messrs. McLaine, Curtis, Venables, and by Etta Murray and Geo. Biner, accompanied by Miss Hughes, of Spokane. The amount cleared was $125.65.

Gloria Dare and her Vaudeville Show will be the attraction at the Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights of this week. Miss Dare comes to us highly recommended as an artist of ability. The Vancouver World has the following to say regarding her work: "Miss Gloria Dare is the feature of the program. She possesses a voice that is streets above vaudeville and shows evidences of good training. Miss Dare also has a winning manner that captivates an audience the minute she appears on the stage, while her face and figure must be the envy of every soubrette on the circuit."
