SIR WILFRID AT BRANDON

Following are [illegible] extracts from speeches made by Sir Wilfrid [illegible] at Brandon, Man., as reported [illegible] Toronto Globe:

Sir Wilfrid read the resolution by Mr. Borden condemning the government for not giving sufficient protection. The premier reminded the audience that when he visited the west in 1894 he had declared himself for free trade as it was in England. He had added that conditions at that time did not warrant it. He stated that Liberalism would tend towards that goal, with the expectation some day to reach it. The premier traced the steps taken in fiscal progress and reform since his government took office, showing the decreases which had been made in the tariff. His reference to the establishment of the British preference was cheered heartily. "Is there a man in this great audience," said the premier, "who does not believe we have made great progress towards freer trade with our great mother of trade and commerce?" (Cheers.) The premier added that under the British preference free-trade England had become a regulator of prices. Foreign competitors must meet the British prices. "Rest assured," said Sir Wilfrid, "we are not satisfied with what we have done. We look for new reforms. We cannot afford to stand still, we must march forward as the party of reform. The farmer is the basis of all prosperity, but the farmer alone cannot make prosperity. We want also the manufacturer, the merchant, the trader. We want to blend the interests of all harmoniously. That is what has given us fourteen years of prosperity, as it will insure prosperity for the future.

"Your farmers who met me today urged reciprocity with our United States neighbors. Our American friends have been refusing the suggestion of reciprocity for fifty years. So I have said, 'Good-bye, Washington; we will make no more pilgrimages. We will be independent, and try to build up trade for ourielves, and the next pilgrimage came from Washington to Ottawa. (Cheers.)

"We are prepared to meet our American neighbors, on their solicitation, and see how far we can agree on two conditions—first, foremost, and all the time, the British preference, and second, protection to vested interests. I am an admirer of the American people; they stand up for number one. I am of the opinion that we can adopt something of that number one doctrine. (Cheers.) That is where we stand on the tariff question. We have given a fair measure of freer trade, and we are ready to further extend it when the conditions require it for the common good of our common country."

VANCOUVER EXHIBIT

The coming Vancouver exhibition, to be held on August 15-20, will offer untold opportunities for the first real attempt of Canadians to portray their own heritage in some manner. There are prizes offered for the best collection of wood varieties, Canadian woods, leaves and flowers. There are abundant prizes for the skill of the Canadian artist, whether with brush or pen, for the architect, wood carver, modeller in clay and the camera lover. There are prizes even for those of especial originality of mind, such as designers.

Most political blows become blowovers.

WILL BE FINISHED IN 1913

The [illegible] Railway [illegible] trains [illegible] Vancouver [illegible] 1913 if the prophecy made secently by D. D. Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern system does not miscarry—and those who know Mr. Mann and his works are well aware that it is not his habit to shoot into space. When he goes out to gain an object he is generally found holding it down at the end of the trail. Recently M. Mann said:

"All our plans are being made to finish the construction of the Canadian Northern in British Columbia one year ahead of the specified time for its completion. That means the last touch on the undertaking in the summer of 1913 for our agreement with the government of this province calls for the finishing of the work within four years from the first day of the present month."

This statement from the lips of a great builder of Canadian railways means many things. It means that during the next three years millions of dollars will be placed in circulation in British Columbia consequent on the rushing to completion of 500 miles of railway construction; it means construction carried on at many places scattered along the route of the new railway; it means development of agricultural and mineral areas which have lain dormant since they were first located by the pioneers of half a century ago; it means countless other things which makes for prosperity, and to Vancouver it means that in the summer of 1913 another ling between the Pacific Coast, the Great Lakes and the east beyond will be forged.

AN EXHIBIT

"We would respectfully suggest," remarks one of the interesting interior papers, "that Prince Rupert or Chilliwack send an exhibit of 'blind pigs' to the Dry Farming fair at Spokane this fall. These creatures flourish in the 'dry' districts, and Prince Rupert or Chilliwack should be able to make an interesting and instructive display."

IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS

Colonel Seeley, under secretary for the colonies, answering a question by Mr. Snowden, the well known Socialist Labor member in the House of Commons, intimated that the moment had come when the British government, charged as it is with the freedom of British subjects, felt it necessary to make representations to the Canadian ministry regarding the hardships arising out of the enforcement of the new immigration regulations.

Mr. Snowden declared that British subjects, while in charge of the Canadian immigration authorities had been imprisoned in dirty crowded places and herded with objectionable foreigners.

Colonel Seeley asked for definite instances of hardship, and promised an inquiry. It is announced that the secretary for the colonies is now considering the representations to be made to Canada on the whole question.

Some emigration societies who feel sore at the harshness of the new Canadian immigration regulations are arranging to give immigrants enough money to enable them to land on the understanding that the amount so loaned will be returned to the societies' Canadian representatives. Canadian officials in London say that this manoeuver would soon be detected. Meanwhile, because influenced by the dissuasions of English trades unions, Canadian manufacturers, especially in the cotton, woolen, hat and cap industries are finding it difficult to induce skilled hands to emigrate to Canada. A leading official of the Dominion Textile Co., of Montreal, recently visited Lancashire to secure workers.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Nels Haug, a Norwegian, while assisting in moving a motor from the 4th to the 3rd level in the Mother Lode mine, at 9:30 Wednesday evening, lost his balance and fell a distance of 100 feet down the shaft. Death was almost instantanous. He was about 24 years of age and only came into the country last April.

A PALMY DAY REGRET

"Baseball isn't what it used to be out in my old town," said the boy who was selling soft drinks, cigars, chewing gum and candy. "What makes you think so?"

"People didn't wait till they got thirsty to buy lemon soda and sarsaparilla. What they were after were bottles to throw at the umpires."

CONSERVATIVE MEETING

A special meeting of the executive of the Conservative association will take place on Friday evening at 8:30 p. m., in the store formerly occupied by the McRae Bros., Copper street.

F. W. McLaine, Sec.

BANK MERGER

A circular signed by the president and directors of the Union bank at Halifax has been posted announcing that they had agreed to the amalgamation of the Union and the Royal banks.

"Yes," said the drug clerk, "I am called up occasionally to compound prescriptions at night" "Isn't a man apt to make mistakes working in semi-darkness?" "You bet he is. I took in a plug-[illegible] quarter once."

WHY THIS INDIFFERENCE?

An intelligent interest in the capabilities of "Dry Farming" in the semi-arid belts of the province is due from all who have the welfare of the district at heart. There are many thousands of acres of good lands so situated that irrigation is impossible, but which could be made to yield profitable crops under a system which has for its object the utilization of the natural rainfall. It is not, however, up to the merchants and business men of the city to pay the same attention to the technical part of the farming industry. Mr. Lawrence at a meeting of the Kamloops Board of Trade was rather out of court when he urged the members of the board to attend the lectures to be given by experts upon agricultural subjects. In the name of all that is sensible are the business men of the town to form the greater part of the audience at these meetings? If the farmers and those directly interested in the raising of produce only turn out a bare half dozen how can they expect the business men to attend them? If the farmers of the district cannot or will not produce the goods which the merchant requires the merchant must send out of the district for them. It is a pity that so much good money is sent out of the province every year for butter, eggs, bacon, poultry and other things which might well be produced here, but is the merchant or board of trade member to blame for the shortage of supplies. We venture to say that the whole blame lies with the farmers themselves.—Kamloops Standard.

The prodigal son was a poor ball player. He struck out and then came back to the home plate.

THE GAME REGULATIONS

In another month hunters throughout the province will be preparing for an invasion of the game districts of the country, for according to the regulations issued by the government the first legal day when the quest of game may be undertaken is September 1st, when ducks, geese and snipe may be shot on the mainland and islands adjacent thereto, but on Vancouver island the season will not be open until September 15.

Blue and willow grouse may be shot in Kootenay from September 1 to December 31. Prairie chickens may be shot throughout the province during October. Ducks and geese between September 1 and February 28. Deer may be shot between September 1 and December 15.

RETAINS CUP

Merely a picture of the Minto cup will Manager Findlay and his defeated and disheartened Montreal lacrosse team carry with them to their old home town. But with that photographic copy of the coveted emblem which they sought to lift, goes a bag of gold to cheer them on their way. Nine is the sum total of their efforts in the games Saturday and a week ago to take the Minto silverware, while 23 goals is the proud record of the fast victorious Royals. The score was 10 to 4 on July 16, and the champions, encouraged by that lead of six, made it 13 to 5 in the game Saturday.

The Kootenay and Boundary districts are to unite in a comprehensive advertising propaganda.

OUR LATE CALAMITIES

What are we going to do in the matter of immediate aid to the sufferers from fires and flood so fearfully prevalent during the past few days and weeks and of almost daily occurrence. Our press of late is filled with the most heartrending accounts of cities and towns totally destroyed, and ranches, through forest fires, being instantly wiped out of existence and tens of thousands are homeless and in dire need of the common necessities of life. Take, for an illustration, that thriving large city of Cambellton, New Brunswick, with a population of 4,000, which in twenty-four hours was so thoroughly consumed that out of thousands of buildings but seven remained after the holocaust, and the people need help and assistance with food and clothing. To come nearer home, how many hundreds of our own B. C. inhabitants are today deprived of all they possess, and valuable lives lost in those lately fire-visited sections. What are we going to do about it? We have read about it in our press reports and commented upon the hard luck of those who experienced those dreadful occurrences, but sentiment don't cut much ice when thousands are clamorous for bread. Let us substitute dollars for sentiment, and the change will prove most palatable. When we think over the ever recurring calls for our aid to the suffering and the God-blessed, whole-hearted responses so generously made by people everywhere, that this has got to be placed among our unforseen liabilities and plans made that a certain amount of our income must be considered available for this purpose only, and that for relief to those who so terribly need it. We may have escaped so far from these frightful ordeals but to put ourselves in their places. What would we think and feel if our neighbors and people gave us the truest feelings of sympathy, but had no dollars to spare. The time has come when the occasion calls for relief in hard money to be given to those unfortunates, and this money should be placed in the hands of those of most undoubted honesty and wisely distributed to those in need.

LICENSE REGULATIONS

"The new license act of the province will go into force the first of next month," says the Slocan Record. "On its success or failure will depend whether the local option agitation will be supported or not by the same people who do not drink intoxicants and who would prefer that liberty should be allowed the individual in choosing what he wishes to eat or drink. This is the class whose votes will either carry or defeat local option. In Ontario the prohibition movement was forced upon the public by the low taverns that were to be found every three or four miles throughout the province. Many of the men who 'ran' these places violated the license law in every possible way. They were got rid of not by the radical temperance people, but by the moderate farmer class who looked upon these people as pests that could not be destroyed with insect powder. The new license act of British Columbia is a fairly good one. If obeyed, there is not much chance for a successful local option movement. Its success or failure will depend altogether upon the hotel men. If the local option movement gains strength it will be due to evasions of the license act by the liquor men. The vast majority of the people are opposed to measures curtailing the liberty of the citizen, but they are unqualifiedly in favor of law and order."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The reception committee charged with carrying out arrangements in connection with Vancouver's welcome to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on his arrival in that city on August 16th, met recently. The Vancouver Exhibition association proposes to tender a luncheon to the premier at the exhibition grounds just prior to the formal opening of the exhibition. This matter was placed before the committee and the invitation was ordered communicated to Sir Wilfrid. A sub-committee was named to take charge of the decoration of the Horse Show building, in which the premier will deliver a speech on the night of the day of his arrival.

THE HOUSEWIFE

She worked so hard, the long, long day, at putting mislaid things away, sweeping all the floors and stairs, and shaking rugs, and dusting chairs, and cleaning grease marks from the doors, and forty thousand other chores. And when her husband came at night, his cottage was a cheering sight. But he, like many of his kind, though having two good eyes, was blind; he never gave a glance or thought to all the things his wife had wrought. He stretched himself upon two chairs, and talked about his selfish cares. She wanted just a word of praise, and he discussed his evil days; she wanted just a little smile, and he observed that times were vile. She wanted bread, and got a stone, and bowed her head to weep alone. A man may lug a lot of gems, and velvet gowns with silver hems, and all such doodads, to his wife, and then not brighten up her life one-half as much as he might do if he would give, at times, a few kind words that do not cost a yen, but make her heart grow young again.—Walt Mason.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorder and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MINES AND MINING

Work is to be resumed at the Comstock mine, near Danville.

The Snowshoe mine is shipping about 1,800 tons per week.

The Granby is mining and smelting about 22,000 tons a week.

Shares of the Hedley Gold Mining company are now listed on the Boston exchange.

Eight inches of Galena have been encountered on the Dynamo claim, near Greenwood.

The Queen mine, near Princeton, is at present loading concentrates for the Trail smelter.

The summary report of the geological survey branch of the Department of Mines, Ottawa, for the year 1909, has been issued.

Work has been begun on the road to the Society Girl mine and other properties in the vicinity. Sixty days is expected to see the road completed.

So rich is the ore in the Sheep creek camp that it is claimed that during the past 18 months more bullion has been produced there than in any other free gold district in Canada.

It is stated that good working coal has been found at Bergen, a few miles west of Midway, and that G. W. Rumberger and associates have located several claims in that district.

Late reports from the Midway coal mine state that the seam has widened out to over seven feet and is of good quality. Experimental work has proved this coal excellent for steaming and for coke.

The B. C. Copper Co. is taking out over 4,000 tons each week from the Mother Lode mine and about 400 tons each from the Oro Denoro and Jack Pine. The company will take ore from the Rawhide as soon as the Greenwood smelter improvements are completed.

Nothing has been heard lately from that fabulously rich gold strike at Stewart. A contemporary remarks that surely a ledge of almost solid gold 20 miles in length and 3 miles wide has not pinched out so soon.

"Bull Dog" Brown, of Hedley, is interesting himself in getting together a mineral exhibit from the Similkameen valley for display at Victoria and Vancouver, being afterwards sent east for permanent display.

Despite the optimism of the leading copper producers of the country, the June statement of the Copper Producers' association, on the surface at least, brings with it no joy to the producer. The statement just issued is emphatically the most unfavorable of the monthly reports given out by the association. There is evidence, too, that exports of copper since the 1st of July, as well as the latter part of June, were largely to warehouses in continental Europe. The returns seem to indicate a shifting of 25,000,000 pounds from the United States to Europe in excess of consumption requirements.

MRS. GEORGE GOULD

The Home-Life at Georgian Court.

One of the most magnificent country houses in the United States is Georgian Court, at the head of the beautiful lake Carasaljo, among the tall, straight kingly pines of Lakewood, N.J., and the wife and mother who makes this palace a home is Mrs. George J. Gould, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kingdon, formerly of Toronto.

The beautiful Edith Kingdon, after completing her education in England, adopted the stage as a career, and her talent, grace, charm and presence were winning recognition when in 1886 she was married to George Gould, the millionaire railway owner, and son of Jay Gould, at one time America's leading financier. Mrs. Gould soon became one of the most popular of the younger society women of the country and a leader in the world of fashion. Beautiful is the house in which she lives, but far more beautiful is the atmosphere of love, sweetness and companionship that fills the home with sunshine and happiness. It is said that wealth often makes fair favorites of fortune forgetful of the privileges and joys of motherhood, sacrificing on the altar of fashion, time and attention that should be paid to loving watchfulness of the welfare of the children; but Mrs. Gould is a model mother to her six children, a devoted companion, confidant and friend.

The Goulds are practically the only members of the ultra-fashionable set who reside in the country the year round. Georgian Court, built of light gray brick and terra cotta in the style of the French Renaissance, lies in beautiful grounds rendered exclusive by a high fence of wrought iron with bases and interspersed posts of gray stone to match the house. The stables, harmonizing in architecture with the mansion itself, are stocked with horses of every description for the family and guests.

Over the stables is the theatre, a dainty, bijou play-house, complete in every detail, furnished in dark red and gold and seating about one hundred and twenty-five. The Casino devoted primarily to sport, has a special race-track, a great plunge swimming tank, courts for all games, and about forty bed-rooms and half as many bath-rooms, to be used when a large house-party overtaxes the hospitality of the mansion. The Sunken Garden, which is sixty feet in width and 120 in length, is floored and walled with flawless marble, and fine sculpture peeping from a dark background of evergreen shrubs and bushes, is reflected in the clear waters of a lagoon. Near by, too, is the wonderful electric fountain, sixty feet in diameter, of white marble; the centre piece consisting of a colossal Nautilus-shell of bronze, forming a chariot on which stands the heroic statue of a man driving a pair of purest marble sea-horses.

MAJOR BENNETT'S ESCAPE

With Messrs. Loper, of Spokane, and Proctor, of Nelson, Major Bennett was visiting the Lucky Jim mine, on the line between Kaslo and Slocan. There were signs that a big fire was raging somewhere in the vicinity, for the smoke hung heavily about. It was impossible for the party to determine the exact direction, but it did not seem particularly near. About lunch time they went down the mine and traversed the various workings. They had been told that the tunnel would be safe even if the fire did approach, but while they were there the foreman of the mine came to them and said the fire was upon them and it would be better for them to go.

With the immense quantity of dry timber in the district, the fire had advanced at a rate of about four miles in half an hour, and it was still rapidly coming on. At top speed the party took the trail for Whitewater. There were about thirty men working in the mine and they had been warned by the foreman of the impending danger, and the party thought the workmen had also got away. Those who first reached Whitewater sent back aid, but information subsequently came that all the surface works of the Lucky Jim had been swept away by the all devouring flames. The fire, driven on by a fierce wind, rapidly approached Whitewater and then, about a mile away stopped, as the wind died down. Unfortunately, the next day the flames sprang up again, and Whitewater was burned up. They subsequently learned that four men were found dead in the Lucky Jim, and this was confirmed. Three others, including a woman cook, were missing. The women and children of Whitewater were taken away on the train.

Major Bennett afterwards went on to Nelson. He says it was a terrible experience. The roar of the flames, the crash of falling trees, were awe-inspiring. About half a ton of dynamite exploded at the Lucky Jim and about one and a half tons in the powder house simply burnt away. He could not account for the death of the men in the mine, as they were told the tunnel would be safe.—Rossland Miner.

JAPAN TREATY

According to information received in London from influential sources, negotiations of an important character affecting commercial relations between Canada and Japan will be commenced, immediately after the arrival of Earl Grey in Ottawa.

The general outline of negotiations have already been discussed between the imperial authorities and Earl Grey and Mr. Fielding. Mr. James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington instructed to afford and assistance the Canadian government may require.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleasne the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all druggists and dealers.

REPUDIATION

Ex-President Roosevelt, the preacher of the strenous life, has repudiated prize-fighting, for which he was supposed to have formerly a some what friendly feeling. Writing in the New York Outlook of the Reno contest, Mr. Roosevelt says:

"I sincerely trust that public sentiment will be so aroused, and will make it self felt so effectively, as to guarantee that this is the last prize-fight contest to take place in the United States, and it would be an admirable thing if some method could be devised to stop the exhibition of the motion pictures taken thereof."

Since the ex-President is supposed to do the thinking for a great many people, his view in this matter will have widespread weight and influence.

Reginald McKenna, the first lord of the admiralty, says the price paid for Niobe, the cruiser sold to Canada, was $215,000.

In some quarters objection has been raised to the cat on the wall. Not so much the cat, however, as the waul.

ASSISTANCE NEEDED

Governor Tweedie, of New Brunswick, who personally visited and inspected the situation at Campbellton, states as follows:

"I think that it is absolutely necessary for the people of the province to act at once. In 12 weeks the cold weather will be upon us and I dread to think of the suffering at Campbellton if people are not properly housed. One can understand how, to the casual observer, the situation looks favorable, but when one stops to think that many are now living in tents, while hundreds of other poor people are staying with friends in the surrounding towns and villages, many of them having little means themselves, the outlook takes on a serious aspect. A great deal of this financial assistance must necessarily be devoted not only to those who have suffered, but to those who are befriending and providing for people who lost everything in the fire. We are apt to forget that whatever insurance was carried will be paid to those who are in most cases able to insure again and will not aid the hundreds of people who have absolutely nothing.

BAD FOR THE WHEAT

Warm, dry weather continues in Manitoba, with occasional scattered showers. There are many reports of showers in Saskatchewan, but it is now admitted by leading grain men that great additional damage was done last week, and that the estimate of one hundred million bushels made public ten days ago is now away above the mark. with no steady rains, and reports of showers very conflicting, it is exceedingly difficult to estimate the exact progress of the crop from day to day, but it now looks as if a half crop throughout the country is the most that can possibly be looked for.

MOOSE AND DEER PLENTY

Moose and deer are becoming bolder near Moncton, N. B. Ken Miller, farmer and milk dealer, living about half a mile outside the city limits called on Chief of Police Ridout and informed him that moose and deer are destroy his crops. He says that he has seen no less than thirteen deer and six moose in his fields at one time, and was compelled to set a dog on three moose to drive them off. The animals have destroyed about two acres of oats and his garden.

Mayor McIntosh arrived in Chicago on last Sunday night.

Mrs. J. R. Jackson and family, of Victoria, are spending the summer at Midway.

R. McCutcheon, son of our Collector of Customs, arrived last week to spend his vacation with his parents.

F. H. Knight, one of the pioneers of this district, leaves shortly for Portland, where he will open a mining exchange office.

Miss Ida Hartinger, daughter of Frank Hartinger the Grand Forks brewer, is engaged as bookkeeper with L. A. Smith & Co., of Anaconda.

Miss Ella Lyden, of Grand Forks, has taken a position at the Windsor hotel. She is small in stature but smart as a trap and no long waits.

The compressor building of the No. 7 mine was struck by lightning on Thursday night last and caused total destruction to the building, and its contents badly damaged.

Miss Beldon, our very courteous and genial post office assistant is off for a few days on a vacation, and will visit at Spokane. What a relief. No mails to make up or assort, or foolish questions to answer at the wicket, that in itself is as good as an outing.

Married—At the Norden hotel parlors on the 19th of July, by the Rev. J. A. Petrie, Wm. Brierly, to Miss Ada Danner, both of Oroville, Wash. Mrs. J. Holmes, of Oroville acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Currie White, of Greenwood supporting the groom.

Bush fires in the vicinity of the Providence mine on Sunday last, assumed such a dangerous aspect as to require a call upon our citizens to assist in stopping it. They succeeded in doing so, and saved some valuable buildings and machinery of the Providence company.

Geo. Redpath, son of E. R. Redpath, of this city who is now at Chatham, Ont., with his mother, having lately had an operation performed, has resulted most satisfactorly and his recovery is proceeding very fast and which will enable mother and son to return to Greenwood early in August.

A convention of all the Provincial as well as the American brotherhood of constables, will be held at Vancouver, B. C., about the 3rd or 4th of August. When a general pow wow of all matters relating to effectiveness and other important affairs will be discussed in council. Our local staff propose attending and feel very enthusiastic over it.

R. H. Coleman, traveller for the Ferry seed house, paid a business visit to the city last week

Geo. Williams, of Mullen, Idaho; J. W. Jobe, of Oroville, Wash.; Oriel Barnett, of Tanaskit are at the Pacific.

We are requested to state, that great difficult was experienced in obtaining men to help to fight the fire to the east of our city on Sunday last, and which were at times a very serious menace to Greenwood. If it had not been for the strenous efforts of Fire Warden Oliver backed up by the C, P. R. Wardens E. Collier and P. H. McCurrah, there would have been a very different ending to the fire.

Rev. Mr. McKeever, of Midway, officiated at the services of the St. Columbia Presbyterian church on Sunday evening last. The resident pastor Rev. Mr. Petrie being absent conducting communion services at Midway. The attendance at this service was not of a flattering nature to a clergyman and a well prepared sermon did not provoke much interest from empty seats, neither was it very complimentary to the pastor.

FISHY

One of our most enthusiastic Walton disciples took a fishing trip to Midway last week and his luck was extra good. Having got a fine raise, he struck his fish good, and succeeded in landing a beauty of a water snake three feet long. A banquet a la burnie is now in order for the boys.

PRICE OF FLOUR RAISED

In Vancouver, local flour, which a week or two ago was quoted at $6.50 per barrel, seems to have taken a balloon ascension, for it is now standing at $7.40, nearly a dollar higher, and the dealers say that before long the price will mount to $8. Crop shortages are responsible.

CORONATION MEDALS

A London, Eng., dispatch says that Bertram Mackennal, A. R. A., has been chosen to design and model the new coinage and the Coronation medal, which will be struck next year in commemoration of King George's accession. The appointment has a special fitness from the fact that Mr. Mackennal was the first artist from the Overseas Dominions to secure election to the Royal Academy. But apart from sentiment, he has justified his latest commission by the beautiful series of medals which he executed for the Olympic games of 1907.
