GREENWOOD WINS INTERNATIONAL CUP

After Series of Hard Fought Games at Rossland Carnival.

The Rossland Carnival is over. On Sunday last, the special C. P. R. train, which was chartered to take a number of Greenwoodites over to witness the B.C. championship finals, on Saturday, at Rossland skating rink, returned with its load of rooters, the International champions and the open challenge Cup, a most magnificent trophy of prowess, perseverance and good play, won by our boys in black and yellow.

The carnival opened under most fovorable circumstances on Tuesday, February 8, and the hockey games played during the week were largely attended by most enthusiastic crowds.

Rossland and Moyie were the first hockey teams to meet on the ice for the Open Challenge and Championship cups. This game was won by Moyie by a score of 6 to 7 after a most strenuous game, on Wednesday afternoon.

The same evening Nelson and Phoenix played before a packed rink. This game was won by Nelson, who scored 9 goals to 5 for Phoenix. The first part of the game was fairly even, but during the last half Nelson outclassed the team from Phoenix.

On Thursday afternoon Greenwood and Moyie played in the Open Challenge competition. Our home team were fortunate in drawing a bye and this game with Moyie was their first appearance on the Rossland rink.

Moyie has a very strong team and played a magnificent game, but they were not swift enough for the Greenwood seven, who won after one of the hardest fought games ever seen in Rossland by a score of 4-1.

This game has been described as rough by the Rossland Miner, but there was no tripping, no crosschecking or chopping by either seven, the heavy body checking of the Greenwood stalwarts was too much for the Moyie boys, who are good sports, good players and good fellows all round. There was no score during the first part of the game, but the last 30 minutes was perhaps the wildest and most furious of any hockey match seen in the west. Two Moyie men ran into Stonewall Russell with disastrus results. Most of the Moyie boys' injuries were caused by a flying puck. The four goals were shot by Cameron 2, Russell 1, and Bloomfield 1. The boys all played magnificently. The lineup was as follows:

On Friday afternoon Greenwood played Nelson in the finals for the Open Challenge cup, and won. This is spoken of as the best game of the whole carnival week. The score at half time was 4 to 3 in favor of Greenwood. J. J. Rochon, Greenwood's able left wing, was badly injured and permanently disabled from a severe knee check. This placed the Greenwood team at a tremendous disadvantage, not having a spare man, and Nelson refusing, under Manitoba rules, to drop one of their own men to equalize the teams. With only 6 men to Nelson's 7, the Greenwood boys, smarting at the seeming injustice, played the last 30 minutes of the game like very demons. They never let up for a minute, and won by 6 goals to 5 in a most masterful and truly sportsmanlike manner. They deserve especial credit for having, thus handicapped, won the Open Challenge cup and for bringing home the first hockey cup Greenwood has seen.

Greenwood was now due to play Phoenix in the semi-finals on Saturday afternoon for the championship of B. C., and so eager were their friends here to see them win this game and play later against Nelson in the finals, that they chartered a special train, which left Greenwood on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, loaded with hockey enthusiasts and some spare men to reinforce the team, the C. P. R. promising to land them in Rossland in time for the afternoon game. But the ways of the C. P. R. are inscrutable, and as a result [illegible] and a half hours wasted at C[illegible], the train got to Rossland too [illegible] for the eager rooters to see the [illegible] the spare men to be of any u[illegible]

The game itself was too o[illegible]

Greenwood's six surviving [illegible] had not recovered from the e[illegible] the last night's game, and w[illegible] fit to play. Yet, in spite [illegible] they held down Phoenix by [illegible] skill, and only lost by two go[illegible] score being Phoenix 6, Gree[illegible]

In the evening Nelson [illegible] by 6 to 1, and [illegible] team defeating one utterly fag[illegible] It was not the most interesting game of the carnival week, but there was considerable go in the game. Had Greenwood been allowed a day's rest nothing on earth would have kept this second cup from coming over to join the silent vigil of the International cup for the rest of the year in Logan's jewelry store window.

Three cheers for Greenwood Hockey team. They did well, and next year, all being well, they will do still better.

MINING AT LAURIER

The Laurier Mining Co., who own several promising claims near Laurier, Wash., two miles south of Cascade, B. C., have done considerable development by diamond drill and are now letting a contract to drive a tunnel to pierce the vein 250 feet below the bottom of the shaft. The surface exhibit is described as immense, having a width of 80 feet and metallic contents being copper, silver, gold and galena having values that range from $20 to $30 to the ton. Success in this undertaking will encourage the Laurier company to venture from the bottom of the mountain, where a tunnel may attain a depth of 2,000 feet.

BIG LAND DEAL

Messrs. H. C. Kerman, F. M. Kerby and C. A. S. Atwood, of Grand Forks, have purchased the W. J. Brown estate of 1300 acres, one mile south of Grand Forks. The consideration is in the neighborhood of $20,000.

He has accepted the position of resident physician for a large mining company near Quesnelle, Cariboo, and will move to his new residence after a short visit to the coast. There have been few men come to Greenwood, who have in so short a time made so many good friends, and everyone who met Dr. Arbuckle will be sorry to hear of his departure, and wish him every good luck in his new sphere of work.

PORTUGESE REPUBLIC

Portugal is drifting surely and rapidly into Republicism. The new ministry of Senor Beiras marks the full exclusion of all other elements in the country other than Progressist.

ST. VALENTINE'S MASQUERADE

The masquerade ball given by the Boundary Valley Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., at the old Masonic hall, on Government street, last Monday, was a huge success The Odd Fellow's dances always are. There was a large attendance and many very original and attractive costumes.

The prize winners were: Miss Deckert, Mother Lode mine, as a Spanish fortune teller, a fancy basket of chocolates.

Miss Ruby Bryant, Greenwood, as Topsy, a set of scissors.

W. C. H. Wilson, Greenwood, as a French Marquis, a gold watch fob.

George Clerf, Greenwood, the only and original goat, a flask—empty.

The judges had a hard task to pick out the winners from so large a number of splendid costumes, and deserve great credit for their decisions. Mr. and Mrs. McLaine, Mrs. Swayne, Miss Beldon and H. Browning were the prize awarders.

Everyone had a lovely time and an excellent supper was served by both the Pacific and Windsor hotels.

Dancing continued till 4 a. m.

McGRADE-MADDEN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Our Lady of Lourdes church, Spokane, when Miss Agnes McGrade and Mr. Wm. M. Madden were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Father Verhagen.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Ella McGrade, while Mr. John Kilkline supported the groom. After a dainty wedding breakfast the happy couple left for Seattle and other coast cities.

A new railroad is projected from Denver, Colo., to Spokane. The exact route has been kept a secret for the present.

CONCILIATION BOARD ENDS

The Conciliation Board concluded its sitting on Monday last and some little time will elapse before the public has access to its decision. From the evidence, it is plain that the Miners' Union are endeavoring to make all workers at the B. C. Copper Co's. mines and smelters members of their Union. Especially is their determination directed against the members of the Electrical Workers, Mechanics' and Carpenters' Unions, who are not also members of the Miners' Union. The company contends that the Union has no cause to strike on this account, and the Board was called into being to hear the evidence and bring the parties together. Their verdict will be sent first to Ottawa, when copies of their report will be sent to the Union and the company simultaneously.

CONCILIATION

Will the efforts of the Board effect a conciliation? The three members of the Board of Conciliation listened patiently, last week, to the great mass of evidence as brought forward by a host of witnesses at the Greenwood court house. Extreme freedom of procedure was allowed by the chairman and the representatives of the B. C. Copper Co., and the Miners' union were given every possible privilege to place any data before the board that might in any way bear on the questions at issue. It remains to be seen if conciliation, which means the meeting half way of the contending parties, can be arrived at by means of this public airing of differences. At least the public has had an opportunity to hear and judge the main issue, and the verdict of the Board will be eagerly looked for.

It is our sad misfortune that the company and the Union are not able to adjust any differences without reference to a board of inquiry. Conciliation means endeavoring to gain good will. Are the contestants in this duel of wordy arguments themselves endeavoring to gain, each, the good will of the other? If so there is no need of a Conciliation Board. If not, what can a Board of Conciliation expect to effect?

ENVY

We are all too prone to envy those whose position, socially or financially, is supposed to be better than our own. It is a common thing to hear untraveled men and women express their envy of the life lived by the "so called great." The higher the social plane, and the greater the individual wealth, the more is responsibility and care the burden to be shouldered. We must all pay for what we are and what we become, and pity for those, whose status of life has been thrust upon them by hereditary, whose cares and anxieties are proportionate to the splendor of their position, whose responsibilities and worries are measured by the amount of their rent roll, is more in keeping with the average man and woman than misplaced envy.

The man who owns the hut, however humble, that is his home, and whose daily earnings are sufficient for his daily needs, however frugally he may have to live, is a success, and to be envied; while the great, whose lives are lived perforce in the world's sneering limelight, who live in dread of assassination for themselves and their loved ones, are claimants for our pity and respect.

Who would wish for any sweet girl friend to have had the life of misery and apprehension, of fear and ever present threatening tribulation that has been the portion of the young girl Empress of all the Russias, who is now another sad victim of the unbearable troubles of the great and wealthy, but utterly unhappy, rulers of that awful empire.

To be satisfied with a little and have less woes is the very surest road to contentment and happiness, and the rest is merely a surplus that must cost us dearly. It is incomparably sad that the beautiful Czarina has at last become insane and is dying as a result of the terrible strain of her position and its horrors.

TO OUR BOYS

Since the 8th of February Greenwood Chinatown has been celebrating Chinese New Year, in their own national way, disturbing none. The Chinamen are conspicuously generous to their own, and to every white person they know, at this time of the year; and a like consideration for their personal feelings at this their national holiday should be shown them to that they show us, mere Christians, when we celebrate our gala days and holidays.

There are, unfortunately, only too many illmannered boys in Greenwood, who rejoice in ridiculing and plagueing the wearers of the cue by pestering them in Chinatown and elsewhere, during Chinese New Year. Should there be any more complaints some action will be taken to prevent boys from visiting Chinatown at all

EDITORIAL COMMENT

It took from 1 a. m. to 11 a. m. on Sunday last for the special to arrive here from Rossland. Must have had an awful load to carry. May be the cup was very heavy.

When the coal supply is low, one member of the family stays in bed longer in the morning to keep warm, and refuses to worry about it. That member is an optimist.

The International Hockey cup is here, with bonnie yellow and black ribbons on it, too. Take a look at it at Logan's store, and be proud of our Greenwood Hockey team.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to get a doctor oftens proves dangerous. MINES AND MINING

The Midway coal mine tunnel is now in over 140 feet.

Work on the Swede group, at Poplar, is shortly to be worked by a wealthy syndicate.

Options have recently been taken on a large number of Nicola coal properties, including those of John and James Smith, Henry Lindley and Barclay Bonthrone.

Charles Dempster, manager of the Fife Mines, Ltd., has returned from New York, having completed financial arrangements for the ensuing year. The work at the Fife mines will be vigorously prosecuted.

A rich strike of ore has been made between the old Kellogg shaft and the wagon road, and is at the end of a 380-foot tunnel on the North Star mine at Kimberly. The North Star has been the highest grade silver mine in the province and this new find will further enhance its value.

Another mine disaster was narrowly averted when 150 miners in King's colliery, Zanesville, Ohio., warned through electric signals of fire which poured down the main shaft, made their way to a specially constructed manhole and escaped. Arriving above ground, they joined the small force fighting the flames in the tipple and power house, and the mine itself was saved. The surface buildings were entirely destroyed, the loss being $40,000.

If troubled with indigestion, constiptation, no appetite or feeling bilious, give Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets a trial and you will be pleased with the result. These tab lets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all druggists and dealers.

A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which the sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps.

TAKES WITNESSES

Capt. Robert F. Scott, commander of the British Antarctic expedition of 1900-04 and of a new expedition soon to set out, in a lecture at York last week, defended Commander Peary's action in sending Capt. Bartlett back. He said that some injustice had been done Peary in this respect, and, while it would have been better if he had organized the party so that he would have had another white man to accompany him to the pole, under the circumstances he had no choice because he was bound to send Bartlett back as leader of the Eskimos.

Captain Scott expressed the hope that his expedition would arrive at the south pole before the Americans reached that objective and announced his intention of having the four fittest men to make the last journey so that the world would have no occasion to doubt the word of the leader.

While it is almost impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's purse. Invest 25 cents in a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and you are prepared for sprains, bruises and like injuries. Sold by all druggists and dealers.

NEW ANAESTHETIC

Prof. Thibault of Kansas Medical College has announced the discovery of an anaesthetic far more powerful than stovaine. It promises to supercede cocaine entirely.

A MAN EATER

The Madras government has offered £70 reward for the destruction of a tiger which has created panic in the Ganjam villages, having, it is alleged, in the past three years, killed upwards of a hundred and fifty people, carrying some of them off among bands of 20 or 30 men.

The fault of the inconstant only heightens our gratitude to the faithful.

CONCERNING CATS

One of the most fatuous beliefs that ever afflicted mortal man is that he owns a cat. No man has ever enjoyed or ever will enjoy that distinction. He may be giving temporary shelter to an indifferent, saucy and sometimes irascible quadruped to which he vainly tries to offer friendship with a lisping "Kitty, Kitty;" but if he thinks on that account he owns a cat, he is much, ah, muchly mistaken

A man may own a dog. Or he may own a horse. Particularly a dog. He may get this faithful animal out in the fields, throw a stick and his arm out of joint simultaneously, and experience the doubtful pleasure of seeing the noble creature bring back the stick covered with nice, enthusiastic saliva. The doctor will bring back the joint. But did you ever ask a cat to perform that feat of skill and friendship? No, sir; she would open one eye wide, and ask you if you detected an emerald tint therein. That's her. That's the cat.

Now, the horse. Of course you can own a horse. You can harness him up in the morning, and drive him all day long, and then be almost as far from home as you could have been if you had walked. You can put the silliest simpering girl at the reins, who will try to pull the beast astern when she really wants to go ahead, and all the horse thinks will be expressed in a quick glance of pained surprise. You can say "cluck-cluck," or "gee-dap," when the horse is doing what a sensible soul knows is the right thing, and his only reply will be an attempt to gratify your whim. But if you think the cat was born with the strive-to-please soul of a floor-walker, just ask her for half of what she happens to be eating.

Pussy, as she is called by the careless, who know not what they do, and rush in where experienced cat-owners fear to tread—Pussy likes to lie by the fire. For that reason you pick her up tenderly from her seat on the doorstep, and put her down, together with part of your necktie, in front of the warm radiator. Does she thank you? Not at all; she hustles back to the doorstep, there to commune in the light of the moon with kindred spirits from down the street. Then, at the hour when she is due to be placed out on the doorstep, she comes in and lies down in front of the radiator.

However, when the cat wishes to be amiable, I doubt if there is any artifice or dissimulation lacking in her repertory. When you have snuggled down in your favorite chair, with your book properly adjusted on your knees, and have reached the key-word of the paragraph, the cat will hop gaily up, put two soiled feet on the book, and two against your collar, and breathe a medley of calf's liver and fish into your face. To share even the odor of food is the most boundless generosity on the part of a cat.

Of course you stroke the dear, soft pet, and pull her ears (for which offense she would have you drawn and quartered, if she could). Then you rub her fur the wrong way to hear it crackle. Pussy dearly loves that; but she refrains from destroying your eyesight, because she wants you to be able to see the proper food for her in the ice box. Then you lift her up in your arms and rub your face against her silky pelt, and she jumps down. There is a limit beyond which the cat will prefer to starve.

And as she sits there on her haunches, looking up with eyes that may mean much or little, perhaps you imagine that she is admiring your physique, or your vandyke, or is rapt with amazement because you are a member of the school committee or a corporal in the nearest regiment. Very well, if you like to think so.

But listen: After several years of experience we conclude that Pussy is cursing like a pirate bold, only stopping to say to herself, "I wonder when the old dub is coming across with a hunk of mutton?"

That's the cat.

SIR R. S. BADEN-POWELL

The father of the Boy Scouts will visit Canada this year. Sir R. S. Baden-Powell has resigned his commission, as Lieutenant General, to devote all his time to the perfecting of the Boy Scouts organization, initiated by him two years ago,

The "father of the Boy Scouts" is very anxious his scheme should be taken seriously and does not wish his young soldiers to figure in popular fancy as youths who carry long sticks, wear distinctive costumes and look picturesque. They are to be far more than that, he declares; they are to learn the rudiments of drill, signalling and troop discipline as well as how to cook their own food, to read the time by the sun, to fight their way through impenetrable scrub and to take whatever gruelling may come.

"Catch the boy and you make a man," says the General.

Major-Gen. French will visit the camp of the Ontario militia at Niagara Falls this summer.

H. M. S. NIOBE

It is understood that the negotiations for the big cruiser Niobe, of the British navy, are about complete and that definite announcement will probably be made in the house as to her purchase in a few days for a training ship.

The Niobe is a very effective ship and is larger than the majority of the battleships which make up the United States navy. She is said to be bigger than the famous battleship Oregon, which was the flagship during the celebrated cruise of the United States navy around the world.

ALIVE AGAIN

Word has been received from Sidney Norman, editor of the Los Angeles Mining Review, that Charles E. Race, formerly editor of the Rossland Miner, is very much alive in San Diego. This happily disposes of the story published in the Vancouver papers and copied by this paper, that Mr. Race was blown to pieces while operating a mine in Durango, Mexico.

AN AMERICAN HAGUE

The American society for the judicial settlement of international disputes now under way is planned to supplement as far as possible the work of the peace conference held periodically at The Hague.

A good house wife never opens the condensed milk can with her husband's razor, nor will a loving husband curry the horse with the nutmeg grater.

ADVERTISING PAYS

Oregon, Washington and Idaho will begin early next month to reap the real benefits of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. A. M. Cloland, of the Northern Pacific, has notified Seattle officials that the colonist rates of 1909 will hold good this year beginning March 1 and ending April 15. This will mean a $25 rate from St. Paul and $33 from Chicago. Great Northern, Northern Pacific and other transcontinental officials admit that inquiries from the east and middle west are very heavy and they expect to see one of the greatest rushes of emigrants in the history of the Northwest. These officials state that the exposition held last summer is largely responsible for the coming rush of settlers. The states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho never received so much advertising in so short a time; in addition, thousands of people took advantage of exposition rates to visit the Northwest and investigate for themselves the stories that out here is the land of milk and honey. They returned home satisfied that from the farming standpoint, as well as from one of climate, the Northwest could not be beaten anywhere in America. They have told their friends, and their friends have repeated the story, so every corner of the Northwest may look for an increased population this year.

The Best Cough Medicine we know of is Allen's Lung Balsam.

OUR TONGUE

In Chaucer's "time," this little word was pronounced "teem." In Shakespeare's day it was pronounced "tame." The last change from our modern "time" is the Cockney's "toime."

Constable Aston climbed the hill on Wednesday. Geoffrey is an admirer of the human form divine, and he saw plenty of it in the wash-house.—Hosmer Times.

Who slept while the ship lay at anchor;
She awoke in dismay
When she heard the mate say,
"Now hoist up the top sheet and spanker."

CHRONIC ULCERS

Mrs. Jas. Elsworth, 902 Selkirk Ave., Winnipeg, says:—"Four years ago ulcers broke out on my left ankle and spread until from the top of my foot to my knee was one extended sore. One ulcer would be almost healed when a second would appear in a new place and in a remarkably short time a deep hole would be eaten into the flesh. The flesh on my leg turned blue and looked shocking indeed. I started using ointment after ointment, but received little or no benefit. The ulcers would heal for a time and then break out afresh. I was laid up in bed for a long time, absolutely unable to walk. My limb was so painful that I had no rest night after night.

"I consulted five different doctors! Some advised my going into hospital; others said there was no cure for me. After using their ointments and preparations until I was positive they could not cure, I almost gave up in despair.

"It was then Zam-Buk was tried and how I bless the hour I got it! Within a day it had given me some ease, and from that time I went on improving! The sores were so bad that it took some time to heal them, but Zam-Buk healed them all. The last was healed over a year ago and I have never had a moment's trouble since, from any form of ulceration."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, piles, festering sores, scalp sores, children's rashes, cuts, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere 50c box, or post free, Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.
