THE POLAND CHINA

Recent Surface Work Has Proved a Sixty-Five Foot Vein.

IT IS IN THE MYERS CREEK CAMP

Superintendent Patrick Tells of the Development—Sinking a New Shaft—Other News of the Mines.

Superintendent L. L. Patrick of the Poland China mine, in the Myers Creek camp, was in the city yesterday. He came in from Chesaw with George B. Mecham, the Montreal mining operator, who has the bond on the mine. When work was resumed Mr. Patrick was placed in charge of the development. There has always been a difference of opinion as to the trend and extent of the ore body on the property. In the early history of the camp the fame of the Poland China had spread far and wide. Its surface showing was spoken of as being phenomenal. The quartz was there in abundance, and by a fortunate stroke of luck the early prospecting opened on the surface a rich streak which carried gold that literally ran away up into the thousands. Today there is on the dump taken from one prospect hole ore that is worth hundreds of dollars to the ton. The quantity, however, is not large. It was this streak that puzzled the original workers of the claim. They believed the vein ran north and south; others had different theories, but it remained for Mr. Patrick to settle the question. Mr. Patrick is firmly of the belief that the trend of the ore body is east and west. The vein on the surface, as proven by extensive trenching and many open cuts, measures 65 feet, with a porphyry on the north side and a slate formation on the south.

HOW DEVELOPED.

From Mr. Patrick a Times man gained the following information: The old workings on the claim were three shafts. When the present people went to work they proceeded to continue the developement of a level from a shaft at a depth of 45 feet, as also to devote considerable time to a thorough prospecting of the surface of the claims. At the 45-foot level from the shaft which was sunk on the ore body, a cross-cut was run north through the same for a distance of 45 feet. The ore was quartz heavily impreganated with graphite, which gave it a black appearance, carrying iron and streaks of slate. At the same depth a drift was run west for 40 feet, and as the drift obtained greater depth, on account of the slope of the hill, it was noticable for the last 20 feet that the character of the quartz was changing from the dark material to a much lighter color with here and there streaks of white quartz.

A NEW SHAFT.

The company have now started a shaft 200 feet west of this old shaft higher up the hill. This shaft is being sunk on the hanging wall side of the vein. It is a double compartment 4½x8 feet in the clear, and is down 18 feet. The Poland China group has just been surveyed. There are 14 men employed at the mine.

ON OTHER MINES.

Mr. Patrick said that considerable work was being done on the Crystal Butte group. The management has commenced the running of two cross-cut tunnels to tap the Crystal Butte ledge at depth. Both have only recently started. One is being run on the Crystal Butte claim, under the present workings, and the other is on the Dead Horse claim, adjoining.

On the War Eagle, which adjoins the Wisconsin to the west, they are crosscutting the ore body at the 100-foot level in the shaft.

It is said that work will shortly be resumed on the Yakima. The claim has had considerable money spent on it, opening up a body of galena that runs well. Those who know the property entertain hopes of it making a mine.

On the Review, Mountain Chief and Buckhorn development is being vigorously prosecuted.

He says that Chesaw is lively and that a new hotel, hardware store, law office, a cigar and fruit store are now under construction.

THE LATE JOHN RUSKIN.

To Be Buried in Westminster Abbey—A Short Biographical Sketch.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Dean of Westminster has offered a grave in Westminster Abby for the remains of John Ruskin, who died Saturday afternoon of influenza, aged 81 years.

John Ruskin was born in London February, 1819, the son of a merchant from whom he inherited a large fortune. He distinguished himself at Oxford, and after graduating devoted himself to the study of art. His first work, "Nordem Panilus," was published in 1843, and at once attracted attention from the brillancy of its style, the eloquence of its descriptive passages and the summary manner in which the distinguished landscape painters, old and new, were disposed of and Turner's supremacy advocated. Other works, the result of long visits to the cities of Italy and collection of material, were "Seven Lamps of Architecture" (1849,) "The Stones of Venice" (1853), both works illustrated by himself, "Examples of the Architecture of Venice" (1851), "Study of Architecture in Our Schools" (1865), "Preraphaelism" (1851), "Architecture and Painting" (1854), "Political Economy of Art" (1858), "The Two Paths" (1859), "Sesame and Lilies" (1864), "The Ethics of Dust" (1865, "The Crown of Wild Olives" (1866), "Lectures on Art" (1870). In 1871 he began a series of monthly letters to workingmen, under the general title of "Fors Clavigera," which continued for many years. In 1869 he was elected professor of fine arts in the university of Oxford, which position he held for many years.—ED.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1900.

SIR WILFRID'S PATRIOTISM.

Those who claimed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had no strength outside his charming personality are discovering their mistake. He is always polished, dignified and graceful, but when the opportunities present themselves he shows that he has also all the characteristics of a great statesman. Some twenty years ago Sir Wilfrid fought one of the bitterest elections ever held in the province of Quebec. His opponents accused him of being in sympathy with those misguided Frenchmen who cannot realize that French prestige perished with Champlain. He took up the gauntlet thrown down, and made a noble defense of Canadian liberalism and he won. Today similar tactics are being adopted by his political opponents. A studied endeavor has been made to make Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal government scapegoats for irresponsible men. The conservative party are taking credit for all the loyalty and patriotism shown during the past few months, and an endeavor is being made to fix the stigma of the disloyal utterances of a few irresponsible individuals on Sir Wilfrid and his government. Those who pursued such a foolish course got their answer at Sherbrooke the other day. No one can read the premier's words without being impressed with the fact that they came from a man intensely loyal. Sir Wilfrid said in part:

"The mother country is engaged in the greatest war, perhaps, that it has been engaged in during the century, the war with the Transvaal republic. We believe it our duty as a British colony to take part in this war and to permit 2000 Canadian volunteers to enlist in the English army and to fight for the mother country. We did it because we believe it our duty to do it in respouse to the unanimous sentiments of the people of this country. We are a free country; ours is a constitutional government, and our duty is to put into execution the popular will, and the moment the popular will was known to us we had but one duty to discharge, and we discharged it of our own free will. There was no power to constrain us to act as we did; but in the plentitude of our legislative independance we had the right to reply to the popular will, manifested to us. We did not do it for the purpose of lending England a material which she did not need, but we rejoice at the opportunity of giving to the world a spectacle never seen before—the spectacle of the colonies behind the mother country—and that we could not remain indifferent when England had a war with one of her enemies. We showed the world that the British empire was above all a land of liberty, and that there was enough liberty in that empire to make it the duty of every citizen to affirm its unity when the occasion presented. We are told that French-Canadians have nothing to do with that war. Gentlemen, I am here to speak no language but the language of truth. I am not here to say anything which I would not wish to repeat elsewhere. The war does not affect English and French-Canadians the same way. With Canadians of English origin it was the voice of the blood that spoke, the most powerful voice that can appeal to the human heart. When Canadians of English origin knew that their brethren were fighting in Africa their blood boiled and they burned to go to their kindred's aid. It was not the same voice that spoke to us of French origin; it was the voice of gratitude, the voice of national solidarity, which summons us all to be united under the flag of the country in which we live."

GREENWOOD'S GROWTH.

Two years has worked a complete metamorphis in Greenwood. Three years ago Hon. T. Mayne Daly, Walter Orde, Andrew Kelly, W. A. MacDonald and other directors of the Brandon and Golden Crown company came to Greenwood. They were supposed to come by the stage but they walked up the hills to relieve the tired horses and sometimes walked down because they were afraid to take chances. The annual meeting of the company was held in a shack on Gold Street. The managing director in a well written report enthusied over open cuts and a tunnel and timidly referred to the time when the mine could boast of a steam plant. Last night the same directors were in the city. They enjoyed the luxury of a first class passenger coach and the scenery along the line of the Columbia & Western railway. They enjoyed the comforts of living at a first class hotel and held their annual meeting in the comfortable parlors of the Armstrong. The managing director's report told about a working shaft, drifts, stoping ore and ore dumps, about a complete mining plant. the near approach of the railway to the mine and certainty of steady shipments at an early date. A first class hotel takes the place of a fifty dollar shack, a prospect becomes a mine, and a rough looking mining village develope sinto a solid city. All of which makes not a bad showing for two years.

THE SHIPPING STAGE.

Boundary is now a shipping district. A half dozen mines have already sent ore in carload lots to the smelters; they are ready to maintain a steady shipment as soon as cars are available, and other mines will soon be placed on the shipping list. When the returns are received from the smelters the greatness of Boundary as a mining district will then become an established fact. There have been so many disappointments in the mining world that the most experienced mining men are wary about accepting any statements regarding prospects as absolute facts. Big ledges and good assay values will not convince them. Steady shipments and smelter returns alone can establish the wealth and permanency of a mining district.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The strongest factor in influencing public bodies is public opinion. Public opinion was against the C. P. R. when they attempted to coerce the little town of Moyie to accept its harsh terms in reference to the securing of a railway station. Public opinion was against the same company when it undertook to kill the town of Grand Forks by building a rival town in the immediate vicinity. This powerful railway company attempted to run against public opinion for a time but it soon discovered that it was in its interests to regard the wishes of the public. The long and desperate struggle between the railway company and the citizens of Moyie was ended last week by the C. P. R, building a station at Moyie. Because the people of Moyie would not grant the C. P. R. one half the town for the privilege of having a railway station, the company decided to establish a town two miles farther on and called it Moyelle. The railway company has seen the folly of running against the wishes of the public and has built a station in the original town. It is also understood that the Canadian Pacific railway is encouraging the amalgamation of the towns of Columbia and Grand Forks. Even the Canadian Pacific railway, with all its influence, cannot do profitable business in the face of public opinion.

THE MANSION HOUSE FUND.

Every town of any importance in Canada has already contributed largely to the fund for the assistance of those dependent on the brave fellows who are fighting in the Transvaal. Greenwood has been a little slow in taking steps towards making an organized effort to swell the fund, but next week there will be a Pay, Pay, Pay concert in the city and it is hoped that the residents will show not only their appreciation of the efforts of those who worked industriously to make the concert a success but will also tell the world that Greenwood's loyalty is something more tangible than mere words and that her citizens are ever ready to assit Tommy Atkins. Every one cannot go to war but real service can be given one's country without shouldering a musket. Every one in the city should patronize the concert and if not by attending at least by purchasing a ticket.

THE WAR.

The outlook for the British forces in the Transvaal is not so promising as it was a few days ago. Judging from the press dispatches, General Buller's position is rather a desperate one. Any effort made to push forward towards the release of Ladysmith will likely entail a heavy loss to the British forces. The war is knocking out all the hard and fast theories of the military experts, but the final result cannot for a moment be doubted. Every war makes its own heroes and its own generals, and it would not be at all surprising if the credit for restoring the prestige of the British arms and bringing the war to a successful issue should fall to one who has not yet won his spurs, simply because the opportunity did not present itself.

SMALLPOX ON RESERVATION.

The attention of the provincial authorities is directed to the fact that there has been a bad outbreak of smallpox on the Colville Indian reservation. There are over forty cases in a pesthouse at Nespelim. The authorities at Republic have taken precautions to guard the town against the invasion of the epidemic. Indians as a rule do uot take kindly to the modern methods used to stamp out this terrible epidemic, and there is a possibility that some of them may wander north to escape necessary restrictions. The provincial officers should be instructed to take all precautions to prevent the Indians from the affected district coming in contact with people on this side of the line.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE.

The Associated Press is improving its service. It is beginning to understand the kind of news the readers of the Times are looking for and is sending it along. The denizens of Greenwood are getting tired of live war news and will welcome the following salutatory in last night's dispatches:

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Frank Gould has just imported a new St. Bernard dog from England, which has been added to his $75,000 kennel of St. Bernards at Lyndhurst. He is the largest dog of his class in the country and weighs 238 pounds and cost $5,000.

OUR contemporary, the Greenwood Times, now appears as a daily, and a sprightly one it is. It is not a mammoth sheet, but, like the oak and the acorn, with the growth of the interior, it no doubt will expand. We wish it every success. Its enterprise deserves this.—Vancouver World.

On Smallpox.

Dr. Schon, city medical officer of health, addresses the following communication to The Times regarding the rules and regulations governing smallpox:

TO THE EDITOR: Would you kindly give a place in your valuable newspaper to the following:

"Section 52 (Provincial Board of Health; re Smallpox). In every health district where smallpox exists, or in which in the opinion of the provincial board of health or the medical health officer, there is danger of its breaking out, owing to the facility of communication with infected localities, the medical health officer shall require the vaccination, or revaccination, of all persons resident within his jurisdiction who have not been vaccinated within seven years; and that such vaccination, or revaccination, shall be carried out in so far as the same may be applicable in the same manner as for the vaccination of children."

The medical health officer desires it to be stated that he has received intimation from the provincial board of health that smallpox is epidemic in Spokane and surrounding country. He has been req iested to take all precautions to prevent its entrance into this city, and strongly urged as to the need of vaccinating all unvaccinated adults and children.

By regulations provided, it is incumbent upon any householder knowing or suspecting that any person within his household has smallpox to immediately give notice to the medical health officer. A teacher in any school who has reason to suspect that any pupil is suffering from smallpox, or that smallpox exists at the house of any pupil, shall notify the medical health officer immediately and prevent attendance of the pupil.

WILL INCORPORATE

The Citizens of Phoenix at a Public Meeting So Decide.

THE PHOENIX HOCKEY CLUB

The Old Ironsides Company to Build Twenty New Cottages—A Big Smoker Held This Week.

PHOENIX, Jan. 26—[By telephone to The Times].—A largely attended meeting of the citizens of Phoenix, including the representatives of the Cameron, Old Ironsides and New York townsites, was held last night at Miners' Union hall for the purpose of taking steps towards incorporation. The representatives of the Old Ironsides and New York townsites opposed incorporation for the present. However, the citizens appeared to be largely in favor of it, and after a lengthy discussion a resolution was passed authorizing a committee of seven to take preliminary steps, with power to raise funds and send a special delegate to Victoria. About 200 were present and the most friendly feeling prevailed.

The Phoenix hockey club was organized this woek, with 15 members.

The Old Ironsides company is about to start the erection of twenty more cottages for its employees, located on the Victoria, near the new bunk house.

Advices received from Montreal last night confirm the report that steel will be laid into Phoenix this winter and that too very shortly.

The C. O. F. held a smoker in their finely fitted hall this week. Songs, and speeches in seven different languages, with clog dances was the programme. The artists included Darraugh, Simpson, Crawford, Thompson, Wilcox and Doctors Gordon and Slack.

The construction of Vaughan and McInnis' cold storage warehouse on Malcolm avenue is well under way. The building is to be 30x95 feet in size and two and a half stories in height.

CONCENTRATED MINING NEWS.

The sheriff's sale of the property of the McKinney Mines, limited, has been postponed from today till Monday.

H. H. Shallenberger was in the city yesterday from Deadwood camp. He is doing surface work on the Moreen claim, which is the southerly extension of the Buckhorn and has the same ore body. The present exploration work is to locate the best place to sink. Some 70 feet of trenching has already been accomplished. The claim is surveyed.

Ore has been struck on the Hartford claim, in Greenwood camp. At a depth of 60 feet the shaft came into a fine copper showing. Manager Evans will install a whim and other machinery at once. The Hartford is owned by gentlemen who are largely interested in the Eastern Townships' Bank and the Merchants' Bank of Halifax. At present six men are working on the property.

From Montreal comes the information that the B. C. Mining company, which owns the B. C. mine in Summit camp, has been organized with the following board of directors: W. Z. Wanklyn, J. R. Wilson, George A. Greene, Clarence J. McCuaig, C. Z. Porteous, E. G. Rykert and W. G. Ross. The company has made a contract with the Trail smelter for the shipment of 15,000 tons of ore. The B. C. will be one of the first mines in the Boundary district to commence the regular shipment of ore. It is not the intention to place any of the stock on the market until the mine is paying dividends. Recently the crosscut from the 250 foot level encountered the ore body, which is said to have improved considerably with depth. At the 100 foot level the ore was opened up, and it is from this section of the mine that the ore for shipments is coming. S. F. Parrish is engineer in charge.

When in Rossland recently D. A. Holbrook of this city was interviewed by the Miner as follows: "D. A. Holbrook, one of the enterprising pioneers of Greenwood, is in the city on a business visit. He reports that the construction on the smelter of the British Columbia Copper company, limited, at Greenwood, is making excellent progress. It is expected that it will be ready to begin active operations by June at the furthest. A residence for Paul Johnson, the manager of the smelter, and an assay office are being erected. Mr. Johnson and Frederick Keffer, the manager of the Mother Lode, have been in New York consulting with the officers of the company there as to the future plans. The track of the spur to the Mother Lode mine, which is to supply considerable of the ore for the smelter, is being extended. One of the bridges near the Hope property is about finished. This spur should be completed to the Mother Lode in a few days. A new townsite has been established near the Mother Lode, on the McRae ranch. The Canadian Pacific railway track is completed to Midway, but as yet passenger trains have not been run between Greenwood and Midway. It is anticipated that a great deal of the traffic to and from Republic will go via Midway for the reason that there is an excellent road between the two places, over which large loads can be hauled. Mr. Holbrook says that Greenwood is growing rapidly, and a number of buildings are in process of erection there. One of the largest properties to be incorporated in the vicinity of Greenwood is the Ah There. It is in the Deadwood camp near the Mother Lode. A good strike of gold-copper ore was recently made on this property."

IS ORGANIZED.

The McRae Copper Mines, Limited, acquire the Ah There Mine.

Yesterday the organization of the McRae Copper Mines, limited, was completed. The following gentlemen constitute the board of directors: George D. Leyson, John Robertson, H. B. Madden, John Lucy and Scott McRae. George D. Leyson was elected president of the company and John Robertson, secretary. The new company acquires the Ah There and Sydney M. Johnson claims in Deadwood camp. The company is capitalized for $1,5000,000, in one dollar shares. The first allotment of treasury stock has already been subscribed for, practically the 75,000 block at 3⅓ cents per share being taken on this market, with a little in Spokane.

The Ah There, upon which the development has been done is a most promising claim. Recently a Times man examined the underground workings which consist of a shaft down 58 feet all timbered, with a cross-cut east through the ore body at the 50-foot level, of 45 feet. The directors propose ordering a machinery plant at once, and will continue the development down as rapidly as possible. The plant will consist of a 20 h. p. steam hoist and a 40 h. p. boiler, sufficient to thoroughly exploit the claim.

IN THE LABOR WORLD.

For its size Greenwood is becoming one of the strongest labor union towns of the province. Tuesday the plumbers and steamfitters of the city met for the purpose of effecting an organization. This new union, with the Miners', the Tailors', the Printers' and the Carpenters', makes five labor organizations now established here. It is probable that within a short time a Trades and Labor council will be formed, following on the lines of the Rossland council.

PLUMBERS' ORGANIZE.

Nine names were secured to an application for a charter from the head office of the Plumbers' and Steamfitters' union, Chicago, Tuesday evening. A meeting of the steamfitters and plumbers was held in the shop of Charles W. Edwards, when it was decided to form a local union. The temporary officers elected were: President, W. C. Tilsley; vice-president, Howard Burke; past president, Donald McDonald; financial secretary, Tom Burns; treasurer, Fred Wilson; inner guard, Charles W. Edwards; and secretary, Edward H. Bishop. The new union will meet every Tuesday evening.

TAILORS ELECT OFFICERS.

On Monday evening the members of Local Union No. 291, Journeymen Tailors of America, met and completed the permanent organization by the election of the following officers: President, J. R. PEOPLE'S FORUM.

TO THE EDITOR Allow me to refer to the interview with the manager of the Alhambra theatre in the Times of the 19th January. There can be no doubt from the remarks what the character and purpose of that institution is. There never could be much doubt to those who are acquainted with such concerns in other places, or those who are aware of the attempt on the part of those interested in the Alhambra, by corrupt means, to get possession of an opposing petition and prevent it from reaching the authorities. Professions of orderliness and obedience to law are simply bosh. But this aside, it is clearly the purpose of the management to run the lowest place that the city will allow. They must rely upon the sale of liquor to make it (a house of innocent amusement) pay. Not only so, it will not pay unless a free hand be granted to sell in the boxes "from which comes the bigger portion of the revenue." This frank confession speaks for itself. It reveals the purpose of the business. We do not blame anyone for not converting a business enterprise into a philanthropic institution. But it is not yet plain why one or two should have the right to corrupt a community in order to make gain. Are the people of Geeenwood so unwilling to pay for "innocent amusement," that a house well patronized cannot live. We take the words of the management to be simply a threat in order to secure a free hand. The citizens of Greenwood will do well to see that no more freedom be given, and that some of what has been given be taken away and that any place of amusement be clean. The town has nothing to gain from a place of amusement whose influence is demoralising and it has much to lose.

Most sincerely,
DUNCAN CAMPBELL.

IN DEADWOOD CAMP

A Visit to The Mines and Prospects Being Developed.

SURROUNDING DEADWOOD TOWN.

The Crown Silver to Resume—Drills Start To-day on the Buckhorn—Other Notes.

Yesterday a Times representative spent several hours visiting the mines and prospects in Deadwood camp. The first property seen was the Sunset mine. The work of timbering the main shaft is now down to a depth of 125 feet. At the 100-foot (adit) level the crosscut to the ore body is in 110 feet. Quite a force of men are employed on the surface in getting everything into shape for the arrival of the new plant. The 80 h. p. boilers have been set up and bricked in. Work will start at once on the buildings and 30,000 feet of timber has been contracted for to be delivered this week. Superintendent Johns had also the foresight some months back to order a large supply of steel, iron piping etc., which is at the mine, thereby saving to his company a considerable amount as the cost of material has greatly advanced since the order was placed.

THE CROWN SILVER.

Work will stark today on the sinking of the shaft on the Crown Silver claim, adjoining the Sunset and lying to the west of the Mother Lode. The claim is owned by the same company as the Sunset, the Montreal Boundary Mining company. The shaft was started before the Christmas holidays and had reached a depth of 16 feet. When the machinery plant arrives at the Sunset air drills and a small hoist will be installed on the Crown Silver.

THE MOTHER LODE.

At the Mother Lode the recent completion of the air connection between the old workings and the 200-foot level, has given chance for the miners to be put to work in other places. At the 200-foot level two crosscuts are being run, east and west. They were in an equal distance of 15 feet yesterday. At the 300-foot level two drifts, north and south, have also been started in the ore body. These drifts are in a similar distance of 15 feet. In outside improvements are to be noted a new stable with four stalls, and three new cottages for the mine employees.

ST. EUGENE FRACTION.

Northwest and adjoining the Mother Lode is the St. Eugene fraction, owned by James Fisher. He is having the claim prospected by a shaft, which was down 12 feet, all timbered. Next to this fraction is the St. Lawrence claim. A Spokane company owns the property and propose exploiting its big ore body by a 100-foot shaft. The shaft has reached a depth now of 30 feet, all timbered. The company has completed a frame bunk house, as also a frame shaft house and blacksmith's shop combined.

THE BUTCHER BOY.

In the same end of the camp is the Butcher Boy, also being developed by a shaft. It had reached a depth of 50 feet and a crosscut of the ore body was just being started. The shaft is to be continued an additional depth of 50 feet. Superintendent Warrington has gone to Republic on a visit.

THE BUCKHORN.

In the south end of the camp is the Buckhorn mine. The machinery has all been installed, and today, for the first time, drills will be put in use. The main shaft has reached a depth of 100 feet. It is all timbered and is a substantial piece of work. At the 100-foot level a statio :, 10x10 feet in size, is now ing cut out, preparatory to crosscutting to the ore body at this level. The shaft will be continued to an indefinite depth.

THE AH THERE.

Six men are working on the Ah There. The shaft is down 55 feet and will be continued to the 100-foot level, when a plant will be installed. At the 50-foot level a crosscut of 45 feet was run through the ore body. The McRae Mines, limited, is the name of a company being formed here to acquire the Ah There and the Sydney Johnston claims.

THE GREYHOUND.

The machinery has been taken off the cars at the temporary siding on the Deadwood camp spur for the Greyhound mine, and will be immediately taken to the property. The Greyhound is owned by Spokane parties and is to be thoroughly exploited. The owners have built a comfortable bunk and boarding house.

DEADWOOD TOWNSITE.

The Times man noticed a number of people out to the Deadwood townsite. It is a bustling little place just now. A large force is employed by the Yale-Columbia Lumber company in connection with their lumber mill at this point. The mill is being enlarged and considerable machinery added. Then too a force of men are working on the townsite erecting telephone poles. Others are clearing out timber and working on the new buildings. The Columbia hotel is doing a good business and was crowded. A barber has opened up in the office of the hotel. Posty & Walker have about completed their building and today will have their stock of goods on the shelves. They are general merchants and the first ones to open up for business. What appears to be a flourishing business is the new laundry. Judge Spinks before leaving for Grand Forks took a look at the townsite and wes so satisfied that he made an investment in lots. A new hotel, livery barn, assay office and other buildings are shortly to be started. Altogether the outlook for British Columbia's latest townsite is most promising.

COUNTY COURT.

Cases That Came Before Judge Spinks and the Verdicts.

Judge Spinks was engaged the best part of Tuesday hearing cases in Mrs. Foreman's hall, some of which were settled and others adjourned to the next meeting of the county court. The most important case on the docket was that of John Mulligan v. L. Blue, A. Fisher, J. Lindsay and the Phoenix Lumber company. The action was for damages by reason of the defendants appropriating to their own use the timber on the plaintiff's mineral claim. Following is the written judgment handed down in this case: "The miner is entitled to the use of all the timber on his claim for mining purposes. Any one who takes timber from his claim interferes with that right and commits a trespass. The defendant has cut and carried away trees off the plaintiff's claim, the exact quantity the plaintiff eannot show; but he claims for 91 trees, and the defendant does not contradict that claim. I give judgment for $45 as damages."

The other cases on the docket were disposed as follows: P. J. Russell v. John J. Caulfield—Adjourned; J. E. Schon v. C. Hugh McKee and Barrett — Judgment against defendant McKee; H. J. Evans & Co. v. Andrew Cummings and George Cormack—Judgment against both; J. J. McKee v. J. Morrison—Struck out; John Mulligan v. L. Blue et al.—Judgment for $45 as damages; Canadian Bank of Commerce v. Camp McKinney Mines, Ltd., and Sue Chow Lung—Adjourned; George Walworth v. A. Fisher and the Yale-Columbia Lumber company—Judgment for plaintiff against company; A. H. Sperry company v. E. Escalet—Judgment for plaintiff; S. A. McCormick v. J. H. Clarke et al.—Judgment for plaintiff; Yale-Columbia Lumber company garnishee in re Dobie v. Slock—Judgment against defendant; J. Hedge v. Ines Blanchard—Judgment for $25; C. W. Stack v. P. J. Hickey—Judgment for the plaintiff; Cosens v. A. M. Knapp et al.—Adjourned; M. D. McLeod & Co. v. George Holbrook—Judgment for plaintiff; Cosens Bros. v. A. Joley—Judgment for plaintiff; Fisher v. McRae and Kane et al. v. Fisher et al.—Both cases stand over.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

Brandon and Golden Crown Officials Hold a Meeting and Visit the Mine.

Yesterday the visiting directors of the Brandon and Golden Crown Mining company, under the guidance of managing director, George H. Collins, paid a visit to the mine. On their return the president of the company, Hon. T. Mayne Daly, Q. C., was seen and expressed himself as being well pleased with the outlook for the mine and the work of development. "We propose shipping just as soon as cars can be obtained at Hartford Junction, where the steel is laid on the Winnipeg spur, a distance of a little over a mile from the mine. On the dumps we have fully 2,000 tons of ore immediately available for shipping to the smelter. Briefly the mine is developed by a main working shaft to a depth of 320 feet, with levels at 100, 150 and 300 feet respectively. At the 100-foot level a crosscut is being run to the ore showing that was exposed on the surface by the railroad grade. This work is in 120 feet. From the 150-foot level we have obtained in the drifts some of our best grade of ore. An upraise from this level connects with the No. 1 level. Here we have a large body of ore blocked out for stoping purposes. At the 300-foot level we are also driving a crosscut to encounter the Winnipeg lode. This crosscut has progressed a distance of 350 feet from the shaft. We have arranged to have built as soon as possible ore bunkers. When the railroad spur is completed to the Winnipeg mine we shall be in a first class position to make steady shipmenst to the smelter. You can say that the board of directors are perfectly satisfied with the result of the trip, we have not only had an enjoyable time in your city, but we return home more than ever convinced of the greatness of the mines of the Boundary Creek district—and especially of the Brandon & Golden Crown."

Monday evening the board of directors held a meeting in the Hotel Armstrong to discuss the business of the company generally, and decided upon a policy, as outlined by Mr. Daly, for the shipment of ore. Those present at the meeting were: President, T. Mayne Daly, Q. C., Rossland; Andrew Kelly, Brandon, Man.; W. A. Macdonald, Q. C., Nelson; W. A. Fuller, Spokane; W. L. Orde, secretary, Rossland, and George H. Collins, managing director, Greenwood,
