THE MEETING

More Patriotism Than Politics Wanted Thursday.

CURTIS MEETING A FIZZLE

The Crowd Were Celebrating and Were Not Anxious to Hear Political Speeches.

Owing to the celebration in progress Thursday the citizens were not strictly in the mood for political meetings, and at 8 o'clock the Alhambra theatre was still empty. It was not until 9 o'clock, after the noise and din and excitement on the street had gradually worn itself out, that the Smith Curtis meeting began. There was then a fair-sized audience, but not nearly so large as on previous occasions. C. J. McArthur cupied the chair, and several prominent citizens had seats on the platform.

Smith Curtis opened the meeting and spoke for nearly an hour. His time was largely devoted to personal matters, which are not issues in the campaign. He spoke of the Northwest exhibition, repeating some statements that have already been circulated. and dealt at some length with the Sunset deal. He said that he and Hon. Joseph Martin were friends of Mr. Brown, of Volcanic mountain fame, and the assignment to them was only given as security for moneys which they had borrowed for him. In regard to the charge that he had not paid wages to men in mines owned or controlled by him, he denied it. He said that where miners had not been paid promptly it was the fault of the treasurer of the company and not his. Mr. Curtis made a general reference to the press of the Boundary district as hirelings, several of which had been offered to him, which he refused with scorn. During Mr. Curtis' speech there were several unfortunate interruptions, the result of the day's celebration rather than any desire to interfere with the celebration. Had the chairman acted judiciously, instead of attempting to act the part of the bully, the trouble would have been avoided, but his desire to be dramatic and to make political capital was too strong for him.

Mr. Chris Foley of Rossland was the next speaker. He stated that he had just returned from Denver in the United States and admitted that he was not familiar with the politial issues of the day. Nevertheless he attempted to cover the political history of the province for some years back, with what success it is easy to judge. He was rather personal in his remarks, calling Mr. Goodeve a "snake in the grass" and calling Mr. Mackintosh a worn-out politician, for whom the people of Ottawa had no further use; and further making allusion to the selling of "wild-cats." The way in which his remarks were received demonstrated that the particular section of the audience to whom he referred failed to appreciate that style of argument.

Duncan Ross next spoke on behalf of Mr. Mackintosh. He said he was not supporting Hon. C. H. Mackintosh as a Conservative or as Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, but as a protest against Martinism. At the same time he had confidence in Mr. Mackintosh's ability and integrity. Referring to the speech of Hon. Smith Curtis, he deprecated the introduction of personalities into the campaign, and charged the government candidate with encouraging and following that line of policy.

Hon. Smith Curtis—I deny it.

Mr. Ross—Why, you have spoken for an hour and dealt in nothing but personalities. If Mr. Curtis wants to continue in that line Mackintosh's supporters are prepared to meet him.

Mr. Ross said they all welcomed Chris Foley in Greenwood as a man, and had listened with fome degree of pleasure to his remarks, but he did not think that the laboring man who was a Canadian and a British subject would take his instructions srom Denver, Colorado, from a man who admittedly was unacquainted with the issues of the day. Mr. Ross then took up Mr. Martin's record for the last four years, showing that he had completely reversed his own policy no less than five times on five different matters. Four years ago he was against government railways, today he professes to be for them. Four years ago he was dead against borrowing money, today he was willing to borrow $20,000,000. A year ago he was opposed to the eight-hour law, now he favors it. In 1898 he pledged himself to give Boundary representation, in 1900 he defeated the redistribution bill which provided for a member for Boundary. Mr. Ross gave proofs for each case. He then read telegrams from H. J. Beemeu, president of the Gatineau railway, stating that all the men were paid their wages, and that at no time was Mr. C. H. Mackintosh responsible for payments of any kind. He also read a telegram from James Reilly, ex-mayor of Calgary, who was a member of the Northwest Exhibition committee, entirely exonerating Mr. Mackintosh from any blame not shared by all members of the committee. There was a further telegram from Ottawa to the effect that the accounts were all duly audited, found correct and paid.

Hon. Smith Curtis closed the meeting, speaking for over an hour and a half. As an election speech it was clever, but assuming as he did that it would be the last meeting in Greenwood of the campaign, he was particularly reckless in his statements and in his promises. He promised if the Martin government were elected that the government railway whistle would be heard in Greenwood in two years; that a copper refinery would be established on the Coast, to which the matte of the Boundary would be conveyed and refined for less than 3 cents a pound, as against 6½ and 7 cents now; that millions of dollars of foreign capital would roll in and fill up the waste places of the Province; that through the proposed financial policy of the government poll tax and all other direct taxes would be done away with. In fact, a more lavish display of political generosity was never seen on a platform in this or any other country. The most enthusiastic populist in the adjoining state of Washington never approached Mr. Smith Curtis in the wild optimism of his two months' experience as a statesman. Mr. Curtis concluded his speech by reference to his position as a Liberal. He said he stood upon his own merits and not as a follower of Joe Martin. If Mr. Martin's policy did not suit him he would leave his party and, if necessary, resign his seat. As to the policy of the government, he took a large share of credit to himself, and as for honesty, and sincerity, and independence, and innocence of political corruption, he was the very acme of perfection. He was not running as a Liberal in this campaign, but on the policy referred to, but he was a good Liberal all the same—one of the very best and purest and most disinterested in Canada—and in throwing bouquets to Laurier really did reach heights of eloquence.

The meeting closed at 12 o'clock, and after cheers and counter-cheers. Duncan Ross announced the surrender of Pretoria, which set the audience wild with enthusiasm.

WILL STILL FIGHT.

Boer Delegate Asserts That the War Will Not Cease.

BOSTON, May 31.—M. A. Fischer, one of the Boer delegates, when shown a dispatch from Pretoria, said: "Even if the whole country is taken and the leaders imprisoned, war will cease only for a time, and will be renewed again and again until we get our liberties." He said the plan had been, if British approached Pretoria, to to evacuate and take to the mountains, and to enter upon a guerilla warfare to last until the last man is killed. The delegates say that they will continue to work this country until officially recalled.

SIDLEY NOTES.

On and after the 1st of June this place is to have an increased mail service, making it tri-weekly.

Last Monday R. G. Sidley, as customs officer, went to J. E. Loucks' sawmill and seized a 12-inch belting for being smuggled. At the same time J. E. Loucks, Henry Basset and Louis Lange were arrested for stealing various articles from the Granite and Banner mineral claim, in Camp McKinney, and were brought before A. Megraw and H. Nicholson, justices of the peace, on the same day. The case was heard that evening, and the decision was postponed until next morning, when the case was dismissed, but a new charge was entered of receiving stolen goods, on which charge Loucks was committed for trial.

The Chinese Trouble.

PEKING, May 31.—The Boxers are massacreing Christian families on every side, burning missions and are growing in numbers hourly. American, British, Japanese, German, Russian, Italian and French troops landed at Tientsin, but were not allowed to proceed to Peking to guard the legations.

CELEBRATES.

Greenwood Gets Enthusiastic Over the Good News.

HOLD A DEMONSTRATION

Which Was Kept Up Until An Early Hour This Morning—Big Procession Parades the Streets.

Greenwood enthused yesterday. From 2 o'clock in the afternoon until early this morning the town was in possession of a shoutingly enthusiastic and patriotic crowd, who availed themselves of every expedient to show their joy at the capture of Johannesburg, and later the surrender of Pretoria. Shortly after noon The Times announced the capture of Johannesburg. Mayor Hardy was notified, and he declared a public half holiday. The banks and all the business houses were closed. Flags and bunting of every description were used to decorate the city. At 2 o'clock a procession was formed at the city hall. The fire department turned out in full force, and they looked splendid in their uniforms. The hose wagon carried Colonel Ned Parker and Frank Miller, who discoursed sweet fife-and-drum music, while in the wagon behind came the Greenwood band. Mayor Hardy, mounted on a gay charger, acted as marshal. In the procession were horsemen and carriages of every description. The "Saints' Rest" was there in all its glory and furnished its own music. The procession marched through the streets and as far down as Anaconda. Upon returning to the Rendell corner patriotic speeches were delivered by Mayor Hardy and A. Ferguson. The enthusiasm was kept up until an early hour this morning. It pervaded the political meeting, where it was not appreciated by those who could not distinguish between opposition and boyish exuberance of loyalty.

A royal salute was fired from Jubilee mountain. Fire-crackers were exploded in every part of the city. Every sort of explosive was turned loose and there was a continued din from start to finish.

The Greenwood Light company exhausted a month's dividends in keeping the whistle of the power house going for some twelve hours. A man became exhausted ringing the fire bell and had to be relieved. The C. P. R. engineer decorated his engine and turned her loose.

In the procession Rendell & Co. had a cage in which was imprisoned "Oom Paul taking his last trip—to St. Helena."

Bicyclists in the most startling costumes helped to make the procession a success

A runaway accident added to the excitement. A four-horse team became unmanageable. They dashed down Copper street and finally became tangled up near the Greenwood hotel, where they were captured.

The city council were in the procession in a body.

Chief McLaren and his officers were there in uniform.

Taken all in all, it was one grand, glorious time—a credit to Greenwood and the loyalty of her citizens.

Demonstration at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, May 31.—[Special to The Times.]—The demonstration which commenced here at midnight on receipt of the news that Pretoria had surrendered, has been kept up at intervals ever since, and arrangements are now in frogress for a still further and fore formal manifestation of the people's joy over what means a successful termination of the war in South Africa. Mayor Payment has issued a proclamation declaring tomorrow afternoon to be a half holiday ynd calling upon all citizens to partake in a demonstration to celebrate the capture of Pretoria and the success of British arms in South Africa. This forenoon the public school cadets walked through the streets headed by their bugle band. and the whole city was gay with flags and bunting.

MARTIN'S TREACHERY.

It is remarkable, but nevertheless true, that Rossland is the only constituency in which organized labor is supporting the Martin government; and even the members of the various labor unions in this district are now beginning to discover that their action in endorsing Hon. Smith Curtis was hasty and ill-advised, and it is quite possible that ere election day labor organizations of Rossland will demand that they be not bound by any action on the part of the Trades and Labor Council.

It is not strange that labor men should look with suspicion upon Hon. Joseph Martin. There is nothing in his Manitoba record to warrant labor men in giving him their support and confidence. Since coming to this Province every important movement on his part has been in the direction of sacrificing the interests of labor to satisfy his own ambitions and to gratify his thirst for vengeance.

As this is the most important election ever fought in British Columbia, and as it is of the utmost importance that no body of men should be placed in a false position by interested parties, we propose to relate certain incidents in Mr. Martin's British Columbia career to show that Martin has no more consideration for labor men than he has for his principles or political friends. He is ready to sacrifice everything and everybody in his own selfish interests.

During last session Mr. Martin sold himself and his avowed principles to James Dunsmuir in order to accomplish the defeat of the Semlin government. This combination had its blighting influence on different sections of the country. The redistribution bill was defeated, and Boundary district remained disfranchised. Dunsmuir wanted his pound of flesh, and Martin voted against the Coal Mines' Regulation Act. The intelligent coal miners of Nanaimo were justly indignant that one who was elected as the champion of their rights should sacrifice them in order that his thirst for vengeance might be satisfied. Martin, with that brazen effrontery for which he is noted, went to Nanaimo to bluff the 1,200 intelligent miners who worked for the New Vancouver Coal company into believing that his sale of himself to Dunsmuir was in the public interest. He ran up against the wrong men. The miners of Nanaimo gave Mr. Martin the worst reception a public man ever received. He was hooted and finally hustled off the platform. Martin never forgets nor forgives, and he lost no time in concocting a scheme that would give him his revenge. He applied to the courts to secure an injunction to restrain the New Vancouver Coal company from working its mines. Had the courts acted upon his advice this injunction would have been granted and 1,200 men thrown out of employment for an indefinite time. That there may be no doubts regarding the statement that Martin was prepared to enforce so hellish a device to get his revenge on men whose only crime was that they showed their disapproval of his action, a section of the injunction applied for is given below:

"For an injunction to restrain defendants from mining for, raising, getting or winning any coal, coal substances or other substances upon or from said land under said portion of the sea and upon or from said forshore until the trial or other determination of this action."

There is nothing indefinite about this injunction if granted. The New Vancouver Coal company would have had to close down its mine and over 1,200 men depending upon the company for their daily bread would have been thrown out of employment.

Under the circumstances, it cannot be wondered at that the miners of Nanaimo hate Joe Martin and fear to entrust him with power. It is not surprising that they have issued an urgent appeal to the miners of Kootenay to assist them in crushing the man who showed them no mercy and who was prepared to take their means of subsistence.

The miners of Kootenay and Boundary should read this appeal and then ask themselves if it is not more consistent with the principles of unionism to help their fellow workmen than following the dictates of designing politicians. Mr. Hawthornwaite of Nanaimo has placed the issue clearly before the labor men of Kootenay. Speaking at Nelson he closed a powerful arraignment of Martin by stating that "the working miners of Nanaime feared thai if returned to power Joseph Martin would gratify his lust for vengeance; that if he was successful he would close the collieries of the New Vancouver Coal company. Therefore the working miners of Nanaimo appealed to the miners and union men of Nelson and Kootenay to stand by them in such a crisis. They appealed to the miners especially because they were men who themselves daily faced a common danger and death, men whose kinship in danger should cause them to lend a willing ear to such an appeal. The miners of Nanaimo appealed to the miners of Kootenay in the hour of their present trial, to stand by them in their fight for their homes and their daily bread, and see to it that by no action of theirs did Hon. Joseph Martin or any of his political tricksters have it in their power to wreck their homes and their means of livelihood."

"UNMANLY TACTICS."

Mr. Smith Curtis has for some time posed as an honest and upright believer in fair play. At various meetings throughout the Rossland riding he has declared that under no circumstances would he indulge in personalities, and would stand or fall by the Martinite platform. What do we find? At a meeting in Columbia on Friday night last he stated that "Ex-Governor Mackintosh was the servant of the Dunsmuirs and the C. P. R." Of course, his opponent was not present; but Mr. Curtis knows as well as the electors know that Mr. Mackintosh has over and over again publicly repudiated this assertion; that he stated he had never had a conference with Mr. Dunsmuir; that he did not approve of Mr. Dunsmuir's policy of employing Chinese or other Asiatic labor; that he had no connection, directly or indirectly, with the C. P. R.; that he was a candidate in the interests of the Kootenay country, and he would stand or fall by that pledge. What could be meaner than this policy of detraction? What could more thoroughly prove that Mr. Curtis is a beaten man? Over and over again, in the presence of Mr. Smith Curtis, the ex-governor has proven by documentary evidence that the slanders directed at him had no foundation whatever. To refer to another subject: At Grand Forks on Saturday night last the Martinite candidate was accompanied by one R. A. Brown, the partner of Messrs. Martin and Curtis in a property known as the Sunset in the Similkameen district. He (Mr. Smith Curtis) introduced the Sunset question as a factor in this campaign; and upon written evidence being produced, signed by Mr. Brown, showing that Mr. Curtis and Mr. Martin were his partners, he (Brown) said he did not remember signing such a document. It so happens, however, that the ex-governor has the original letter in his possession, and Mr. Curtis did not deny it when he met him face to face. More than this: Mr. Mackintosh showed at several public meetings that Mr. Smith Curtis had telephoned from Grand Forks to the Bank of Montreal at Rossland several days before the payment on the Sunset fell due asking whether or not the money was in the bank, and received the reply that so soon as the deeds were sent to the bank the money would be paid over. Again Mr. Mackintosh established the fact by producing a letter from Mr. Brown that that person had written to him on the 15th of September, 1899, telling him that he was perfectly willing that the deal should be considered off. After all, however, circumstances go to show that Martinism is dying hard. Nevertheless, why should a man who aspires to represent a large constituency like that of Rossland riding descend to so low a depth as to endeavor to besmirch a man who has met him in a candid, open, honest and manly fashion on every occasion possible? Yet, there are some of the electors who imagine they can vote for Mr. Smith Curtis without endorsing the Hon. Joseph Martin.

A SABBATH CIRCULAR.

There is no better method of testing the honesty and sincerity of public men than that furnished by their own actions when driven into a corner. This is significantly illustrated by a circular which has been sent by mail to hundreds of electors throughout the Rossland riding and signed by J. A. Yerex, chairman of the provincial government campaign. It is dated Vancouver, May 27th, 1900, the postal date on the envelopes being 23rd and 24th of May. It will be observed that the 27th of May was a Sunday, and this date was no doubt adopted to strengthen the nefarious object the writer had in view, which was to show that it was only published after nomination day, and it is on a par with the rest of the Martinite campaign. One paragraph says: "I desire to know all your requirements and assure you they shall be met as soon as possible." This of course is an intimation that money could be obtained if necessary, as well as a further intimation that the programme of promises is not yet exhausted. The finishing touch is as follows: "We have the opposition on the run and indications at present are that the government will carry at least twenty-five seats." This, of itself, is a proof that Mr. Yerex is a colossal fabrication, not to use what might reasonably be used, a much stronger expression. Mr. Yerex is evidently a past master in the art of deception, but even then there is no reason why he should desecrate the Sabbath in the interests of Martinism. He puts the finishing touch to Martinism. In the first place, living at the coast as he does, he must know that Martinism is already spewed out of the mouth of all honest electors in British Columbia, and Mr. Smith Curtis, the Martinite candidate in the Rossland riding, must assume responsibility for this infamous document. He (Mr. Smith Curtis) has pledged his word that Hon. Joseph Martin is the paragon of perfection socially and politically. In the second place, he has expressed himself willing to accept responsibility for the government's actions, and those who think can readily make up their minds as to the character of the man now seeking to control the destinies of this province. Here we find a circular, proved by the envelopes to have been printed a week ago, dated ahead, and Sunday declared the day of publication so far as the electors are concerned. It is unnecessary to comment at length upon these disgraceful tactics, and this only goes to proclaim, trumpet-tongued, that if Hon. Joseph Martin should by any chance be sustained in office, the interests of British Columbia will at all times be in jeopardy. If any elector has up to the present time been in doubt, we think this shameful effort to mislead and misrepresent should be sufficient to suggest the candidate he should mark his ballot for. We do not doubt the electors of Rossland riding will arrive at at an enlightened as well as a significant conclusion.

MARTIN'S CHARGES.

As time goes on the evidence of double dealing on the part of Hon. Joseph Martin and of sudden changes of policy are accumulating in an extraordinary fashion. One of the most remarkable instances of duplicity was exposed by Mr. Hawthornthwaite at Nelson the other evening. Mr. Hawthornthwaite is secretary of the New Vancouver Coal company, Nanaimo, and the report of his speech as published in the Nelson Tribune, is bristling with charges. As we know, Mr. Martin, ever since he was dismissed from the Semlin government, has been waging war against the New Vancouver Coal company and endeavored to make a great deal of capital out of the fact that the late government had issued a crown grant to that company of certain coal lands under the sea.

Mr. Martin even went to the length of taking action to recover these lands. On every platform he has denounced the late government for the transaction. His sincerity may be judged by the following extract from Mr. Hawthornthwaite' speech in question:

A delegate had been sent over from New Westminster to see if some compromise could be arranged with the Nanaimo party. An effort had been made by the Martinites to bring Mr. Brown into line. He was offered a seat in the cabinet, and finally intimated that he would accept a portfolio under two conditions. The first of these was that Ralph Smith, the labor leader, should also receive a portfolio in the cabinet, and the second was that Martin should discontinue his action against the New Vancouver Coal company. The delegate, George, Kennedy, an estimable man and good Liberal, assured us in caucus in Nanaimo that Mr. Martin had agreed to both of these conditions, and awaited our decision. Replying for the New Vancouver Coal company, of which I am an employee, I stated that the company had received nothing from the Semlin government to which it was not entitled, and wanted no compromise, because if it were in the power of any politician, who temporarily seized the reins of government in this province, to upset their title and close down their mines, they might just as well know it now as in years to come. The miners present at that caucus said emphatically that they would not accept any favor from the common enemy, and to the everlasting credit of Ralph Smith, be it said, that he also spurned the tempting bait hung out to catch him, and stated that he could not support a man like Joseph Martin, or receive benefits from him. (Cheers.)

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

Apart altogether from the merits of the State-ownership of railways and other public franchises, the proposal that the Province should build and operate lines of railway is entirely impracticable. As we pointed out in a recent editorial, the position taken by the Rev. Mr. Vail in his book on the subject is the only consistent and logical one. In order that railways owned by the government may be a success they must be under one management and control and entirely free from competition. For the Provinces to undertake to build railways and operate them, even if they had the resources, would be suicidal, because railways now depend on through lines of communication. Local lines for local traffic cannot be made to pay, more especially in this country with sparse population, long distances and expensive grades. The Times believes, as a theory, in State-owned railways; but first of all the Dominion must acquire the C. P. R. and the Grand Trunk lines, and all other railways built thereafter would have to be tributary to, and part of, the system. Whether under the circumstances it would be wise for Canada to assume such a responsibility is a matter not to be discussed here; but obviously a railway run in oppssition to private lines without connections and without being part of a general system would be an absurd proposal. Ultimately such a railway would either be acquired by one of the existing corporations, as the Red River Valley was in Manitoba, or remain an incubus on the Province.

SMELTER RATES.

A copy of a circular letter which was sent out to the owners of silver-lead mines in British Columbia came to our notice this week. It pointed out the advantages to mine-owners under the present system of purchasing lead ores adopted by the Trail smelter some months ago. By it the miners are paid for the lead at the London prices for Spanish soft lead, less $[illegible] per short ton on 90 per cent of the lead contents. Under the old system they received the New York quotation for 90 per cent of lead contents, less a duty of 1½ cents per pound, or $30 per ton, on 100 per cent of the lead contents.

On May 17th, for instance, the New York lead quotations for smelters were $3.80 per hundred, while London quotations on the same day were £16 17s 6s, or figuring it out it really amounts to the fact that under the present system miners shipping 50 per cent ore are now receiving $7.38 per ton more for the lead than was the case under the old system.

This change was made possible by the action of the Dominion government in allowing Canadian pig lead which had been sent to the States to be refined to be readmitted to Canada free of duty.—Trail News.

"ALAS! POOR YEREX!"

Great amusement is afforded the electors throughout the country by the reception of a circular signed "J. A. Yerex, chairman of the provincial government campaign," dated the 27th of May (Sunday), the envelopes bearing the postal date of 23rd of May, in which it is stated that "campaign literature" is about to be circulated and asking for information regarding each district. The circular concludes: "We have the opposition on the RUN and indications at present are that the government will carry at least TWENTY-FIVE SEATS!" It is generally conceded that no more barefaced attempt has ever been made to mislead and deceive the electors. The date of the 27th is one day after the official nomination and the manifest design is apparent to all. The circular was printed at least a week before the 27th, as is proved by the postal date of various envelopes. It is conceded that this trickery will injure rather than aid the Martinites, and proves conclusively that they are driven to subterfuge and dishonesty in order to bolster a lost cause. Only Joe Martin could devise a scheme of this nature; it is worthy of his statesmanship and illustrative of the methods by which he hopes to control the unfortunate province upon which he has already brought disaster.

WHILE Premier Martin and his lieutenants are abusing Ralph Smith, as the creatures of the New Vancouver Coal company, the labor leader contents himself with furnishing the reason. It appears that Premier Joe desired to strengthen his cabinet by the addition of Ralph Smith. He wanted Smith so badly that he offered to throw out two of his incapable ministers and make radical changes in his celebrated policy. But Ralph Smith has no confidence in Martin, and refused to sell his influence for personal aggrandisement. This is something which Premier Martin cannot understand, but since he could not purchase Smith's influence he desires to weaken it.—Nelson Tribune.

THE NOMINATIONS.

How the Different Parties Stood on Nomination Day.

The nominations made on Saturday are now pretty generally known. They show a bewildering mix-up. Those papers who have published a tabulated list of the nominees find it necessary to use six columns to designate the politics of the different candidates. There are Martinites, Provincial party, Turnerites, Conservatives, Independent Labor and Independents. So far as known the government have 32 candidates in the field out of a possible 38. The Provincial party have 15, Turner has 17, straight Conservatives 18, Independent Labor 4 and Independents 5. There are no less than 19 Liberals running opposed to Martin. Many of the Martin candidates are running for appearances and have no possible chance of election. From the Coast word comes that not more than six Martin candidates will be elected, and it is quite possible that he and his party will be completely wiped out.

BODWELL WILL PROBABLY SPEAK

The Talented Barrister to Address a Public Meeting in Greenwood.

E. V. Bodwell, Q. C., of Victoria, will probably address a public meeting in the city. Mr. Bodwell is one of the recognized leaders of the Liberals in this province. He is one of the ablest speakers on the coast, and should he find time to address a meeting here he ubwill dotless draw a large crowd. Mr. Bodwell, like all sensible Liberals, is opposed to Martin. At the outset of the campaign, he made his position clear in the following words: "Mr. Martin's political and public acts in the past have very seriously affected the progress and reputation of the province. He has been called to office at the present juncture by a misuse of the power which, under our constitution, is placed in the hands of the lieutenant-governor. I have no faith in Mr. Martin as a political leader. I am opposed to the principal planks in the platform which he has presented to the people, and I believe that the continuance of him and his government in power will be a constant menace to the public and material welfare of British Columbia."

LABOR PARTY

Turn W. W. McInnes Down in Nanaimo.

WILL VOTE AGAINST HIM

Ralph Smith Tells of Martin's Intrigues—McInnes Speeches Come High.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 29.—[Special to The Times.]—The labor party has turned against W. W. McInnes and will endeavor to defeat him in North Nanaimo. They claim that he is responsible for Hon. J. S. Yates running in Nanaimo city against Ralph Smith, labor leader. Mr. Smith held a big meeting in Nanaimo Saturday, when McInnes was formally denounced. In the course of his speech Smith said that George Kennedy came over from New Westminster and asked him to enter the Martin cabinet, saying that if he would do so J. C. Brown of New Westminster would also enter the cabinet, and Cory S. Ryder and George Washington Beebe would be relegated to inocuous desuetude. Mr. Smith asked Mr. Kennedy to make that proposition to a committee of fifteen of his friends. To this Mr. Kennedy assented and the committee were called together to listen to the proposition. A further condition of Smith's entering the cabinet was that suit against the New Vancouver Coal company was to be dropped, although Mr. Brown had since written to Mr. Smith to say that Mr. Kennedy had rather exceeded his authority in making this proposition. When Mr. Kennedy laid his proposition before the committee they declined to have anything to do with it.

At Northfield on Saturday, McInnes said that he had been offered $1,000 to deliver one speech in favor of the Turner government, but refused.

At Nanaimo on June 6 Martin, Cotton and Wilson, leaders of the three parties, will meet in the theatre.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Lieutenant H. R. Eliott Sends an Interesting Letter From Bloemfontein.

The Times has just received an interesting letter from Lieutenant H. R. Eliott, who, at the time of writing, was with his regiment, "The Buffs," at Bloemfontein. He also sent a copy of The Friend, a newspaper published by the war correspondents with the British army. Mr. Elliott says in part:

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 14.—Am sending you a paper which may amuse you and which is rather unique in its way, as it is really published only for the troops here, but has about the largest circulation of any paper in South Africa. There was a Free State paper called the Daily Friend, and when the troops came into Bloemfontein the military authorities decided to start a paper called The Friend, in which all proclamations are made known in Dutch and English, and in fact it is almost the official organ of the troops. The paper has only been started about a month, and when the war is over in all probability it will cease to be published and consequently curio hunters are offering as much as $25 for a complete set of papers from the commencement. I will send you more copies when I think of it and as long as I am here in Bloemfontein. I think South Africa is a rotten country and except for the climate there is nothing to recommend it, as it seems to be just a wilderness of dust. I have not seen a decent farm or a mine yet, but they say that it is a better country farther north. Certainly the Orange Free State is better than Cape Colony, as there is some grass and a few trees. I hope the Transvaal will be an improvement in the same ratio. Bloemfontein, for the capital of a republic, takes the cake, as there are only about three buildings of any note, the best being brick houses with tin roofs. From what I can see South Africa cannot be compared to British Columbia, and if it was not for the mining in certain districts I don't see what would induce people to go out, except for their health. I won't mind when I get back to British Columbia, as I believe it is as good a country as one will find anywhere. I think that our division, after such hard marching and fighting last month, and taking Cronje, will remain here to get the Boers to collect around and some other division will try and cut them off. This is an awful country for thunder-storms, and as we have no tents we get soaked every time, which is very trying, as few have any change of clothing. The number of deaths from enteric fever is awful, and the cause is not difficult to find, as the men on the march get so thirsty (I never knew what thirst was before) that they will drink any kind of water, often from streams and pools full of rotting carcasses of cattle and dead bodies of human beings, and always like pea soup made out of mud. I think that everybody has had enough of the war, and I think that if we once cross the Vaal river and get into the Boers' own country they will give up the game, as they do not want their own property damaged. They don't mind the Orange Free State being overrun, however. Have got to go out on outpost duty tonight, and i looks very threatening, and as I am in charge of an examining guard on a road over the open veldt there is no shelter at all, so I suppose it means rising at 4 a. m. on Easter morn soaked. I wish you would send me "the rag" every week, as I like to keep up with the times in Greenwood, and the one I got yesterday was a great pleasure to me, describing amongst other things the Pioneer club, with A. K. S. as secretary. If you can find time, would be glad to have a line from you sometimes.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Held Its Regular Meeting Last Night—Business Transacted.

Mayor Hardy presided at last night's meeting of the city council. The following communications were dealt with: W. C. Tilsey asked the council to enforce By-law 28, re plumbers doing business in Greenwood without a plumber's certificate; this matter was left over until next meeting. W. M. Brewer, Provincial manager for the Engineering and Mining Journal, wrote giving rates for advertising the mineral resources of Greenwood; resolved that this communication be referred to the board of trade. The Greenwood Dramatic company stated that they were unable to give a concert in aid of the Sandon sufferers on account of Mr. Millis leaving town; clerk instructed to thank them for offer. Percy F. Woodruff made application for situation as care-taker of cemetery farm; his application referred to cemetery committee.

The following accounts were ordered paid: F. J. Mitchell, $40; T. B. Winnett, $50 75; The Greenwood Times, $5; Greenwood Miner, $11; Smith Bros. & Travis, $20 78; D. D. Hardy, $37 90; Cunningham & Anderson, $1 80.

It was decided that a certified copy of the evidence given in Rossland in connection with suit of Rendell vs. City of Greenwood, together with Justice Martin's decision in the case, be placed before the council.

Aldermen Galloway, Sharpe and Bannerman were appointed a special committee to interview Mr. Bodwell on matters relating to Rendell vs. City, and on question of aliens voting in Anaconda on annexation. Mr. Bodwell will be in the city next week.

Alderman Sharpe gave notice that at next meeting he would introduce a by-law to carry out arbitration committee's report on the Greenwood Trading company's claim and that said committee consult city solicitor.

It was moved that the street committee ascertain the amount due men working on the sidewalks and report to the council.

The city clerk was instructed to purchase a Canadian flag for the city hall.

Council adjourned.

BOUNDARY MINES.

Future Operations as Told by Hector McRae to the Rossland Miner.

Hector McRae, who recently visited Greenwood and Republic, told a Rossland Miner representative that "In the Boundary country the City of Paris has from twenty to twenty-five teams hauling ore to the Graves smelter. The Knob Hill and the Ironsides ore bins are filled and are only waiting the completion of the C. P. R. spur to ship to the smelter at Grand Forks. The daily output from these two mines, Mr. McRae understands, is 200 tons of ore per day. The B. C. will commence stoping ore in about ten days, and then will probably ship 200 tons per day to the Trail smelter. The Mother Lode is preparing to stope from the 300-foot level and expect to have their smelter completed by the end of October. On the R. Bell work will be resumed next week under the management of Jack Hanley. The Great Hopes, start work on the first of June. This was one of the first properties located in Greenwood district. Some years ago an arasta was worked on its ore, but the free-milling ore gave out a few feet from the surface and changed to a sulphide. Larson & Greenough paid $12,000 cash, which was the biggest price paid for a property up to that time, 1893. F. H. Oliver is looking after the property in conjunction with his work on the Greyhound, an adjoining property. The Recordia Syndicate properties will resume work in the early part of July. This property is owned by a syndicate in London. The Sunset, in Deadwood camp, crosscut the ledge on the 300-foot level a few days ago. The extent of the showing is not known. Work on the Boundary Creek Mining and Milling company's properties will be resumed some time in June, shortly after the arrival of Lionel W. Harris, of London, who is a director of the London and Canada Syndicate, which is the parent corporation of the Boundary Creek Mining and Milling company. The ore from the property of this company is the richest yet found in the Boundary creek country, shipments to the Trail smelter last winter having netted about $150 to the ton, the values being largely in silver.

MACKINTOSH

Holds Last of a Series of Meetings at Eholt.

A SUCCESSFTL MEETING

Governor Mackidtosh left this afternoon for Rossland, after a week's stay in the Boundary country, during which time he visited the principal points in the district. His reception was everywhere favorable and he returns highly pleased with the prospects of election, which, though never uncertain, have been greatly improved by his personal canvass and addresses to the electors. Mr. Mackintosh came here almost a perfect stranger, except by reputation, to nine-tenths of the people. He went away the warm friend of all those with whom he came in contact. Before his arrival all kinds of stories had been circulated about him. The impression left by such political gossip has been very largely, if not wholly, dispelled. In particular he was represented as a corporation man and an enemy of labor. His speeches and the publication of his record as a public man have turned very many who were at first prejudiced against him on account of the stories referred to, in his favor, and in Boundarp, as in Trail district, Governor Mackintosh will have a large percentage of the laboring vote on the 9th of June. Mr. Martin, as an alleged friend of labor, has been thoroughly exposed and while some still cling to Mr. Curtis for Mr. Curtis' sake, he cannot, handicapped as he is in the race as a follower of the present premier, pledged to support or standing or falling with him at the polls, expect to win. Mr. Mackintosh is an experienced parliamentarian and will bring much weight to whatever administration he may be allied with and his own interest in the success of the mining industry is the surest guarantee we have of the faithful advocacy of our interests.

Hon. Mr. Mackintosh closed his series of Boundary meetings at Eholt on Saturday night. There were present over 100 residents of the town and surrounding camps. G. Arthur Rendell occupied the chair. After a few introductory remarks he called on Hon. Mr. Mackintosh to address the meeting. In an interesting address, lasting one hour, he placed his views clearly before those present. He effectively answered all the campaign slanders that have been uttered against him. He showed conclusively that he was always a champion of the labor interests and was never opposed to the eight-hour law. He dealt with the specious arguments of his opponents and closed a convincing speech by urging the electors to use their influence in securing a sound and stable government for the Province.

As there was no one present in Mr. Curtis' behalf, the chairman called on Duncan Ross, who dealt with Martin's record. He showed that Martin had violated his pre-election pledges, had sacrificed his political friends in his own interest, and that no matter how sound the policy promulgated by him might be, absolutely no confidence could be placed in him or in his intentions to honestly carry out the pre-election promises which he now makes.

M. Tebo briefly addressed the electors, giving them some sound advice in reference to their duty in this campaign.

Three cheers for Mackintosh and the Queen brought a quiet and orderly meeting to a successful close.

Another Report.

GRAND FORKS, May 28.—Any lingering uncertainty which may have existed as to the overwhelming preponderence of public sentiment in Grand Forks respecting the result of the vote in this city was rudely dispelled Saturday night. The Curtis meeting simply became a Mackintosh demonstration. The large audience gave Mr. Curtis a patient hearing throughout his weary discourse. Mayor Goodeve of Rossland followed. His reply was brilliant, logical and convincing. As he demolished the flimsy arguments of Mr. Curtis and exposed the insidious methods of Martinism, the entire audience burst into cheers. Mr. Curtis seemed to appreciate his position very keenly. He paraded the Mongolian spectre, delivered a panegyric on Hon. Joseph Martin and declared for state-owned railways. The minister of mines did not disclose the methods by which the Martin government propose to raise the $20,000,000 required to carry out its pet projects. Mr. Curtis absurdly declared that Mr. Martin would make the C. P. R. a state railway within five years. A few moments before he had admitted that the projected railway from the Coast to Midway would connect with the C. P. R., and would in a measure be dependent upon the C. P. R. for providing low freight rates on transcontinental business. Mr. Curtis became hopelessly involved on the railway question. Cross-examined by an individual in the audience, the minister of mines admitted that it would take several years to make the railway surveys through the Hope mountains and Similkameen district. Thus the relief promised by the Martin government is very remote.

The meeting concluded with cheers for Mackintosh.

Betting here is 2 to 1 on Mackintosh. Mayor Manly has offered to wager $500 even on the governor.

CHANGE OF TIME

On the Columbia and Western—Close Connection With S. F. & N.

Beginning about June 1st a change will be made in the running time on the Columbia and Western railway. Trains will arrive in Greenwood about 11 o'clock at night and will leave here at 11 o'clock in the morning. Arrangements have been made with the Spokane Falls and Northern whereby passengers from the Boundary can make direct connection with Spokane. F. S. Forrest, superintendent of the Spokane Falls and Northern, announces the change in his line as follows:

"We intend to begin running a night train with a sleeper from Rossland about June 3rd. It will arrive at Rossland about 7:30 or 8 a. m. and will leave Rossland about 11 p. m. This will be in addition to the present train running each way, and will give a double service. The new train will enable passengers from Rossland, as well as those from the Boundary country and Republic, to go either east or west over our line without loss of time and to travel at night in comfort, instead of losing a night on the journey."

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Broken Wagon Spring Causes Four Occupants to Be Thrown Out.

A party composed of Mrs. Jack Parks, Mrs. Fry, Bert McIntyre and Sam Waters, met with a serious accident while driving in from Deadwood camp early Saturday evening. Just as the wagon was crossing the railroad track on the smelter ground, a spring broke, causing the occupants to be thrown violently to the ground. Mrs. Parks and Mrs. Fry were taken to the hospital where an examination of their injuries was made. Mrs. Parks was found to have her collar bone broken and Mrs. Fry two ribs. Bert McIntyre escaped with several severe bruises and a scalp wound, and Sam Waters had a sprained ankle. The two gentlemen were taken to their rooms. This morning it was ascertained that al were doing well.

TWO MINERS HURT

At Okanagan Falls—A Premature Blast the Cause.

OKANAGAN FALLS, via Camp McKinney, May 29.—[Special to the Times]—W. T. Hill and a partner from Greenwood were seriously injured while working in a tunnel near here. They sent Tony Pleasance to look for horses. He was only gone a few minutes when he heard shots go off, and rushing back he found the two men badly hurt. Hill had his legs badly smashed, while his partner from Greenwood, whose name is unknown, was also badly injured. Dr. White was summoned, arriving in five hours. The men were so seriously injured that he immediately sent for Dr. Boyce of Greenwood, who left for the Falls this morning.

PRETORIA TAKEN

Lord Roberts, Unopposed, Entered the Transvaal Capital.

KRUGER LEAVES CITY.

Boer Officials Appointed to Receive the British--The War Is Practically Over.

LONDON, May 31.—The Daily Mail has the following dispatch from the Earl of Rosslyn, who was a prisoner at Pretoria, but who evidently was released as a civilian:

"PRETORIA, May 30—11:40 a. m.—Pretoria will be occupied in about two hours without resistance. President Kruger has gone to Watervaalboyen. Burgomaster Desousa is authorized to receive the British. He, with an influential committee of citizens, including Chief Justice Gregorowski, has been appointed to preserve life and property during the interregnum. Everything is quiet, but the crowds are waiting expectantly in the Church square for the arrival of the British. Fearing possible disturbance and bloodshed among the prisoners of war at Waterval, United States Consuls Hay and Leighwood insisted on 20 officers being liberated on parole to go to the men. Their action cannot be too highly praised. I was permitted to accompany the officers."

LONDON, May 31.—Lord Roslyn's dispatch is confirmed by a message from the Reuter agent at Pretoria, but up to this hour the war office has nothing from Lord Roberts which it will make public; but it is assumed that the press advices are correct. Most of the morning papers, through the courtesy of the Daily Mail, print Lord Roslyn's dispatch and comment upon it as news of the end of the war.

But the critics predict continued guerilla warfare, as it is pointed out that Lord Roberts has taken a considerable quantities of arms or stores and large bodies of Boers must be still in the field somewhere.

Watervaalboyen, where Kruger has gone, is 130 miles east of Pretoria, on the Delagoa Bay railroad. It is a small place, in a mountainous country.

LONDON, May 31.—A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, received late last night, says Commandant Kraus surrendered Johannesburg to Lord Roberts. Passengers from Pretoria assert that the town is utterly demoralized and that a rush is being made for the coast. Five train loads of fugitives are expected here tonight.

Border troubles between the Transvaal and Portugal may come to a head at any moment. The Portuguese authorities are preparing to resist any possible invasion. A mule battery has been sent to the frontier.

By the release of the British prisoners at Waterval a full brigade will be added to Roberts' forces.

CURTIS' CUNNING.

Association with Joseph Martin has not improved Hon. Smith Curtis. Before joining Martin he had ability and a reputation for fairness and veracity. He still retains the ability but is fast losing the reputation. His speech last evening was a clever attempt to make wrong appear right, and black, white. Mr. Curtis, with the courage of desperation, told the audience that the injunction applied for by Joseph Martin did not mean what it said, but something entirely different. He told the audience that Mr. Martin had no intention to throw the employees of the New Vancouver Coal company out of employment. He wanted to secure the injunction, but as soon as the courts granted an injunction to stop working the mines, Mr. Martin intended to overrule the injunction asked for by himself and allow the mines to be worked in opposition to the mandate of the courts. Mr. Curtis all through the campaign has maintained that statements to ordinary individuals have one meaning, and an entirely different meaning to a clever lawyer. The ordinary individual, after reading the injunction, will be apt to conclude, notwithstanding Mr. Curtis' assertion, that Mr. Martin did intend to close the mines. Here it is:

For an injunction to restrain defendants from mining for, raising, getting or winning any coal, coal substances or other substances upon or from said land under said portion of the sea and upon or from said foreshore until the trial or other determination of this action.

ANOTHER CHANGE OF OPINION.

Hon. Joseph Martin, according to Hon. Smith Curtis, has a most convenient mind. He can change it at any time it is necessary to secure votes. Political principles can always be sacrificed in Martin's interests. He is now advocating a policy of borrowing money to build roads and trails. In the bye-election held in Victoria last year, Mr. Martin denounced the policy of borrowing money in the following words:

Then as to Mr. Turner's complaint about there being nothing said about a policy of vigorous development, the government had no desire to follow in Mr. Turner's footsteps in the development of the Province. Mr. Turner said they had expended $700,000 in building roads. That was easy. Why not make it $1,500,000, or $2,000,000? There was no difficulty in spending money, but it had to be borrowed, and the time always came along when it had to be paid, and the country was burdened with interest and charges on the loan. It was sometimes necessary to discount the future, but the policy of the government would be to avoid the contraction of unnecessary loans. It is intended to handle every dollar on business principles. A dollar is as much to the government as to the individual, and as Micawber said: "Income 20 shillings, expenditure 19 shillings 6, prosperity; income 20 shillings, expenditure 20 and 6, bankruptcy."

It would be interesting to know how long Mr. Martin can remain steadfast to any of the principles which he now advocates. Fortunately for the Province, on the 9th of June the electors will give Mr. Martin ample time to make up his mind before being further entrusted with the management of the affairs of this Province.

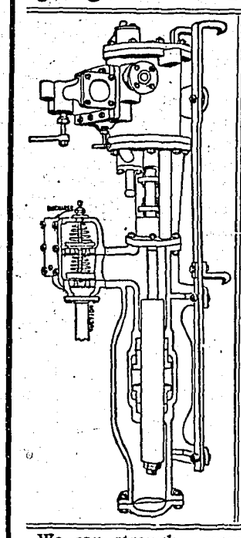
VERTICAL SINKING PUMPS



For Mine Duties

We can strongly recommend this Pump to those requiring its special type. The extreme convenience of the outside packed form enables it to be readily packed and taken up. The absence of the projecting valve gear etc. is a feature in avoiding breakages during hoisting and lowering in the confined space where these pumps are used. It is fitted with convenient suspending hooks and the piping arrangement takes up the least possible space. Mining superintendents and those interested in Mining Machinery would consult their interests by sending for catalogue and quotations before installing their plants. We manufacture Pumping Machinery for every conceivable duty.
