Tuesday night the whistle of the electric light station and a blaze in that locality brought a large number of citizens in that direction thinking the power house itself was ablaze. It was found to be only a small log shack near the power house. The shack was inhabited by some labo ing men. The firemen got a stream to the burning building and soon extinguished the flames.

The fire department gratefully acknowledges the receipt of a cheque of $25 from the smelter company for turning out to the fire. Through no fault of theirs the boys were unable to render assistance but such marks of appreciation will encourage them to still more closely guard the interests of property holders.

The department have also arranged for an all night telephone connection with the electric light station and alarms can be turned in from there.

CONTRACTS

MEN WHO WILL BUILD MARCUS-REPUBLIC ROAD

P. WELSH AND J. STEWART

Get Their Share—Other Well Known Contractors Have Secured Portions of the Work

Spokane men will build most of the Great Northern branch to Republic.

Subcontracts covering the entire line, except one five mile piece, were let yesterday by Siems & Shields, who have the general contract for constructing the line ready for rolling stock.

These subcontracts are all for preparing the roadbed. The bridging, particularly the work of constructing the big steel bridge across the Columbia, and the laying of the ties and rails, are yet to be contracted.

Beginning at Marcus, Wash., subcontracts on the roadbed have been awarded as follows:

First six miles to Parker & Mulligan of St. Paul.

Five miles to John Grant of Faribault, Minn.

Next five miles yet to be definitely awarded.

Ten miles, or to the International boundary, Patrick Welch of Spokane.

Fifteen miles, covering the portion of the branch in British Columbia, Jack Stewart of Grand Forks, B. C., and Spokane.

Thirty-five miles, from the boundary to Republic, J. A. Caughran of St. Paul and William Winters of Spokane, contracting as Caughran, Winters & Co.

The announcement concerning the subcontracts was made yesterday by Mr. Shields, who added:

"The contractors will start shipping in outfits at once and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible from the start.

"We want to get trains to Republic by winter, and no time can be lost. I expect 3000 men will be employed on the construction within a short time.

"These subcontracts are only for roadbed. There will be much bridge work, wooden structures, which we will take up later.

"Our contract calls for the completion of the road ready for trains, so we will have to lay the ties and rails. We have done nothing yet about this part of the work.

"One big steel bridge is to go in across the Columbia. I think it will be about 1500 feet long, though I am not positive concerning the measurement. This we hope to have completed and in use before the spring high water.

"I expect to remain in Spokane several days to complete the details in connection with the subcontracts."

Peter Siems, head of the firm, who has been sick, is recovering. He said yesterday that the entire matter had been left in the hands of Mr. Shields. Mr. Siems will probably return to his St. Paul home in a few days.

William Winters of Spokane, one of the firms which has the contract for the longest stretch of track, is a partner in the firm of Winters, Boomer & Parsons, which had the contract for grading the depot sites and new right of way of the Great Northern in this city. Mr. Caughran, his partner in the Republic road work, is a well known St. Paul contractor. They said yesterday:

"We will start as soon as we can get men, teams and outfit on the ground. Monday we shall ship our outfit of cars, track, scrapers, plows, drills and stock.

"The horses will be driven in from Myers Falls. The heavy stuff will go by rail to Grand Forks and then be hauled to points where needed.

"We can use 1000 men on our part of the contract. We are looking for men, especially station men? They are fellows who take a contract for a certain specified portion of the work. Sometimes half a dozen men join together on a station. They really will be subcontractors under us."—Spokesman Review.

DEATH OF ALD. MILLER.

Occurred at Los Angeles Sunday Morning Last.

A telegraph communication from J. Ray Miller to his brother Will in this city conveyed the sad news of the death of their father Thomas Miller which occurred ot Los Angeles on Tuesday morning. Mr. Miller shortly after his election as alderman in the North Ward in January last was taken ill and was confined to his bed for several weeks. He sat at the council board on the day of the memorial services in connection with the death of the Queen but he was a very sick man and his physicians ordered him south. He went first to Phoenix, Arizona, and then to Southern California, but he was unable to shake off his illness. His son J. Ray Miller who had enlisted with the South African constabalary resigned in order to accompany his father south and was with him at the time of his death. Mr. Miller was born in Scotland some 61 years ago. Proceeding to New Zealand when 18 years of age, he soon became a prominent figure in that colony and held public office. He came to British Columbia in 1896 and visiting Greenwood in that year he decided to remain here. He invested in Greenwood real estate and was a considerable property holder at the time of his death.

Mr. Miller took a keen interest in the affairs of the city and was electod an alderman for the North Ward in January last. He was a member of the A. F. & A. M. He leaves two sons and a daughter Mise Jean Ray Miller who is at present residing in Vancouver.

The remains were interred at Los Angeles.

DEATH OF MR SMYTHE.

The death of Mr. J. W. H. Smythe, the manager of the Greenwood branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, occured on Thursday evening last. Mr. Smythe had been ill for some time, bright's disease followed by uraemia claiming him as a victim Two week's previous to his death he was forced to take to his bed and notwithstanding the best medical attendance and a careful nursing the dread disease had too firm a hold and he rapidly sank.

Mr. Smythe came to Greenwood in 1899 as successor to D. A. Cameron the present manager of the Seattle branch. Affable, courteous, and energetic he soon made personal friends and friends for the bank. Born in Berlin, Ont., 32 years ago, he was one of the youngest of the bank's managers. He entered the service of the bank at Strathroy 14 years ago and his promotion was rapid. He came west during the construction of the Crow's Nest railway to take charge of the bank's branches at Fort Steele and Crambrook. At the latter place about 18 months ago he was married to Miss Maude Keay who survives him and who with her mother and Miss Keay were present at the time of death.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended by the citizens. The solemn services at the Episcopal church and cemetery were conducted by Rev. W. A. Robins. The pall bearers were Geo. R. Naden, A. E. Ashcroft, W. G. H. Belt, C. Scott Galloway, Arthur Mowat and P. W. H. King.

MAYOR.

A WESTERN WEDDING.

We take pleasure in announcing the marriage of Alexander Whillans, M. D., to Miss Mary S. Dunlop.

The young couple are well known in Princeton and district, Miss Dunlop having been a most popular teacher of the local school for the past five months.

The ceremony was performed at Fairview on Saturday last, by the Rev. H. Irwin, (better known as Father Pat) the bride and groom stealing away quietly to escape the publicity of Princeton enthusiasts, who had decided to royally celebrate the event if it took place in town.

Leaving Princeton quietly on Friday afternoon, the Doctor and his bride rode 60 miles, received the ministeral blessing, and were home again by Sunday evening, having ridden fully 120 miles on horseback in two days.

Dr. Whillans comes from Ottawa, Ont., and is a graduate of McGill University. He settled in Princeton 18 months ago and has proved himself a capable and hardworking physician.

Miss Dunlop came to Princeton from Vancouver, where she received her education at the high school.

Her many friends there will be pleased to learn of her happiness.

Doctor and Mrs. Whillans have settled down in their new home on Bridge street.—Star.

OIL TALK.

Oil talk is still in the air and it certainly looks as though the genuine article had been discovered here, everyone who views the wells from which the oil is being pumped agreeing that what comes out is the real thing and no mistake.

The Vancouver company which has an option on the Ward ranch is preparing for energetic development and already has its order placed for lumber to build a derrick for the necessary drilling. The requisite machinery has been purchased and will arrive here either today or early next week when drilling will shortly be commenced. A hand drill capable of working to a depth of three hundred feet will be used at first and it is expected that boring will be under way by the end of next week. After the hand drill has been worked to its full capacity it will be transferred to another place and, and if indications warrant, a power plant will be installed and work pushed. The company has plenty of backing and expects to develop a well.

W. E. Pickering of Saginaw, Mich., owner of considerable mining interests in this section, and who was raised in the oil regions and has had considerable experience in oil, declare after visiting the property where the indications occur, that there can be no doubt but that oil exists there.

It has all the irradescent hues of petroleum and stands all the other usual tests. That it cannot be a vegetable oil is proven, he says, by the fact that it is found so far under ground, vegetable oil never percolating more than a few feet below the surface, while the well where the best oil indications are found is over 30 feet in depth.—Gazett.

GLASGOW EXHIBIT.

Angus K. Stuart of Greenwood, who represents B. C. at the Glasgow exhibition has this to say regarding the mining exhibit:

"The mineral exhibit is attracting great attention here and it is quite impossible to supply me with too much information of all kinds. I am doing my best, but would be much obliged if the provincial government, and the mining community generally would keep supplying me with detailed information of every kind, so as to facilitate my work. At least the British Columbia mining papers might be sent to me as long as the exhibition lasts. Personally, I believe that the mineral exhibit will help immensely to make our resources understood, especially if, after this exhibition closes, the collection is sent on to London and placed there in the city, so that it can be viewed by people practically interested in mining."

HEAD OFFICE AT GREENWOOD.

W. G. McMynn Appointed Government Agent for Boundary.

Greenwood is the capital of the Boundary district so far as the government offices are concerned. Heretofore the business of the government was transacted through the Rossland office and the government officials had to report to agent Kirkup and make all returns to him. The government has at last acknowledged the importance of Boundary and Greenwood by separating the district from Rossland and by making Mr. McMynn a government agent. Grand Forks and other officers in the district will now report to Greenwood and will make all [illegible] the government through Mr. [illegible]

[illegible]ge should be of considerable [illegible] to the district. It is understood [illegible] the appropriation for the [illegible] will be divided and that [illegible]ry's share will be expended [illegible] the Greenwood office.

BOLSTERS PROSPECTS.

A Rich Strike of Galena Ore on the Chrystal Butte.

"Bolster's prospects were never brighter than at present" said a mining man who returned from there this week. The mines that are being developed are showing up bodies of high grade ore. Last week a fine strike was made on the Chrystal Butte between the Review and Bolster. A paystreak of galena runs over $200 to the ton. On Copper mountain east of the town considerable development work is being done.

There is now a first class hotel running in Bolster. Mrs. Cook, well known in Greenwood, has reopened the Review and is conducting it in a first class manner. "Reddy" Young also well known in Greenwood is the mixologist. "Although things are quiet I predict a good year for Bolster" concluded the mining man.

THE HOSPITAL BYLAW.

AMONG the factors necessary to making Greenwood a desirable residential city are good schools and a good hospital. It is of the highest importance that that the children should have the very best educational advantages right at home and also that there should be a well equipped hospital where the sick can receive the best treatment. The two propositions are joined together in Greenwood. As is well known, so decided an objection was taken to the present school site and building that less than half the children of school age in the city attended the public school. This of course militated against the work of the school and would if allowed to continue, be a serious hardship on the ratepayers next year when the maintenance of the schools falls on the city.

The Sisters of Peace arrived with the object of erecting a hospital in Greenwood. The site they selected was where the present school stands and they made an offer to purchase. A delegation was sent to Victoria to interview the government regarding the matter and the minister of education not only granted permission to sell the present site but also promised substantial aid to secure a more central site and erect a school building suitable to the requirements of a growing city.

The Sisters of Peace undertake to begin hospital work in a few days after the by-law is submitted to the ratepayers, and to erect a hospital costing not less than $8,000 within a year. They have made arrangements with Dr. Jakes mutually satisfactory so they are not in any way coming into competition with the pioneer physician's business.

The bonus asked for is $3,500, payments extending three year's and half. As has been pointed out so much is involved in the undertaking that is of great importance to Greenwood that we feel confident the by-law will meet with but little opposition.

DEATH OF MR. SMYTHE.

In the death of Mr. J. W. H. Smythe, the Canadian Bank of Commerce lost one of its highest managers, and Greenwood a citizen who lost no opportunity to advance its interests. A bank manager's life is so intimately associated with that of the business community that it is always difficult to fill the void caused by his removal. This is particularly true in the case of Mr. Smythe who through his great ability rapidly rose to a prominent position and used that ability in promoting the bank's and the city's interests. The sympathy of the entire community will go out to the young widow in her sad bereavement.

In an editorial appearing in the Times of last week headed "municipal councils past and present" certain references were made to Mr. Hardy's connection with the Greenwood Miner to which some parties have given a sinister meaning. Owing to an unfortunate error in proof reading there was some excuse for this and as the Times has no desire to do Mr. Hardy an injustice we regret the publication of anything that might unfairly reflect upon him. As far as we know Mr. Hardy's connection with the Miner was secured in a perfectly legitimate way.

SENSATIONAL reports are still being sent from Grand Forks regarding the oil strikes in that locality. The latest is that there is a ranch in Grand Prairie upon which no oil has been found.

OUR esteemed liliputian contemporary the Anaconda News, appears this week in a new dress which adds greatly to its appearance. May it and its youthful editor Master Keffer continue to grow and prosper.

THE death of Ald Miller removes another of Greenwood's earliest and best citizens. He had strong faith in the city and his cheery word of encouragement will be missed by those who knew him and appreciated his many excellent qualities.

HOSPITAL BYLAW.

TO THE EDITOR:—Tuesday a bylaw is to be submitted to the electors, for the purpose of granting aid to the establishment and maintenance of a Sisters Hospital. And as I have been informed that some opposition is being encountered on the grounds that such a procedure would be working a hardship upon me. I beg to state that I am personally and officially in hearty accord with the project, personally because, not having found hospitable business a profitable one, I welcome an opportunity to shift responsibility for hospital care of the sick to the able management of the Sisters, and officially because I think it to the city's interests to avail ourselves of the present opportune chance to secure their services and at the same time dispose of the present school house.

R. W. JAKES,

MCLAREN—WILKIE.

Chief John McLaren of the Greenwood police returned home on Saturday's train accompanied by Mrs. McLaren. The happy event which made the chief a prisoner took place on Dominion Day in Vancouver, the bride being Miss Letitia Wilkie of Sarnia Ont. Rev. Dr McLaren tied the nuptial knot. The happy couple spent the honeymoon in Seattle and other sound cities. The Times joins the chief's many friends in extending congratulations.

CITY COUNCIL.

Business transacted at the last Regular Meeting.

Mayor Jakes presided and Ald Naden Caulfield, Sullivan and Ross were present at the regular weekly meeting of the city council Monday evening. The city engineer was empowered to call for tenders for a bridge across Boundary creek at the electric light station and also for work on Church, Long Lake and Louisa streets. The cemetery committee were asked to put in a gate or stile at the cemetery to allow the public admittance. Arrangements were made to repair the portion of the Phoenix road within the city limits, the government men under foreman D. Beath repairing the other portion. The council decided to meet at seven o'clock next Monday evening and call a public meeting for eight o'clock the same night to discuss the bonus bylaw.

HOSPITAL BY-LAW.

Voting Next Tuesday—Endorsed by Labor Organizations.

Tuesday next the vote on the by-law bonusing the Sister's hospital will be taken from the hours of ten o'clock to four at the city hall. G. B. Taylor will be returning officer. On Monday evening a public meeting will be held for the purpose of discussing the by-law and allowing the ratepayers an opportunity to learn the details of the scheme.

All of the Labor organizations have endorsed the by-law. Last week the Greenwood Miners' union passed a resolution endorsing the action of the city council in introducing the by-law and at Monday night's meeting of the Trades and Labor council the resolution of the Miners' union was endorsed by that body. The resolution follows:

Resolved, that this union heartily endorse the action of the city council in introducing a by-law to give a grant to a Sisters' hospital to be established in Greenwood, and

Be it further resolved, that any improvement on the present conditions will receive the moral and financial support of this union.

THE SIMILKAM

PRINCETON, June 29.—The late railway news received this week is very encouraging. When J. J. Hill's new line reaches the junction of the Okanagan and Similkameen rivers, 70 miles more of the easiest kind of railroad building will bring it to Princeton. As the route is an all-river one, following the Similkameen river, an easy, cheap and natural grade is provided. That the line will come to Princeton is certain, as our coal fields and copper miner will be an irresistible attraction to a businesslike corporation like the Great Northern Railway Company.

French Day and the Snowden boys have completed assessment work on the Oriole and Silkman claims on Copper Mountain. The new development on the Oriole has procueed some splendid ore, the entire bottom of the shaft being covered with the new strike.

Jack Bale is reported to have completed a deal for the Portland group at Aspen Grove. It is said that Jack and his partners will receive $150,000 in cash and stock for the property. The purchasers are an Indiana company, promoted by Mr. C. N. Murphy, who recently visited the Aspen Grove district.

Messrs. McDonald, McAlpine and Miller came in from Aspen Grove this week. They report active development work taking place on several properties all of which are showing steady improvement. The little Sioux, a new location, owned by Frank Garcia, shows some very rich ore on the surface.

Smith Curtis, M. L. A., is expected to arrive in Princeton Monday first.

Messrs. Vedder and Keefer, two well known Greenwood real estate and mining brokers, bicycled in from the Boundary district on Tuesday. While in this part of the world Mr. Keefer made a remarkable bicycle run from Allison to Princeton this week. The distance was about three miles, and all Similkameen records were broken. A wild bull acted as pacer.

Lots in the new government townsite of Tulameen will be sold at Princeton on the 17th of July by the provincial auctioneer.

A number of the mining men and settlers in the district, who are thoroughly convinced of the future of the Similkameen country, are greatly pleased at the opportunity afforded them of securing a location in what they hope will become one of the mining centres of the district.

Fresh strawberries received twice a week at Semerad's, Copper street.

Notice is hereby given that at the next meeting of the Board of License Commissioners for the city of Greenwood I will apply for an hotel license for the B. C. Hotel situate on lots 8 and 9 block 16, map 21 on Government street in the city of Greenwood.

GREENWOOD, B. C.

THE B. C. MINE.

S. F. Parrish, M. E., in the B. C. Mining Record.

This property, the B. C. mine, owned by the "B. C." Chartered Company, Limited, of Montreal, Quebec, is situated in Summit camp, in the Boundary district, in the divide between the North Fork of Kettle river and Boundary creek, about midway between Grand Forks and Greenwood.

The location was made in 1896 and development work was commenced in the summer of 1897. A shaft was sunk to a depth of 160 feet, mostly in ore and vein matter. From this two levels were turned, one at 50 feet and the second at 150 feet, and drifting was started in a general northerly and southerly direction, following the strike of the ore body, far as it could be determined.

A branch of the Columbia & Western railway was completed to the mine in the autumn of 1899, this being a spur from the line from Eholt to Phoenix, and early in January, 1900, ore shipments were started from the dumps of ore accumulated during the development work. In June of the same year stoping was commenced.

The mine is equipped with a sufficient plant to break and hoist more than 200 tons of ore a day through the present shaft.

The country is limestone which has undergone various degrees of alteration from a white crystalised or marbelised rock, containing about 48 per cent lime and 7.30 per cent silica and having a specific gravity of 2.67, to thoroughly metamorphosed limestone, having ordinarily a small gold value, about 3-100 of an ounce, and containing 70 per cent to 80 per cent lime, with a specific gravity of about 3.00. There are different stages of alteration, of course, between the above-mentioned limits, one piece of rock not infrequently showing various degrees of metamorphism.

The microscopical determinations of a number of specimens of this highly altered limestone have revealed the presence of the following minerals, most of which are seen in each specimen: quartz, plagioclase, epidote, garnet, zeicite, magnesium and calcium carbonates, actinolite, kaoline, pyrite, chlorite and serpentine.

Into this mass of rock sheets of porphyry, varying in thickness, from four or five feet to thirty odd feet, have intruded, the intrusions having apparently followed more or less closely the bedding of the limestone. A Microscopical examination of these sheets of eruptive rock reveals the following minerals: plagioclase, orthoclase, microcline, biotite and a little quartz, and the decomposition of these minerals, viz: chlorite, carbonates and kaolinite. An analysis of two different varieties gives respectively, silico 82.69 per cent and lime 2.37 per cent, and silica 53.21 per cent and lime 5.52 per cent; specific gravity about 2.67. It will be noted that the porphyry is not mineralised at all.

Cutting through the above described rock formations are several faultings having a general northerly and southerly strike, with a slight dip to the eas There does not appear to have been any great vertical displacement, but there are indications of a more or less extensive lateral movement. It is in or near this faulting that the ore is found exteneing into the country rock in a lense-shaped mass so far as developed, having an extreme width of about 65 feet by about 200 feet in length. This extends from the surface of the ground to a depth of nearly 300 feet, below which it has not as yet been followed.

As will be seen from the cross section herewith the ore lies in close contact with each porphyritic intrusion, both above and below it, the only effect having been a possible slight throw the ore to the east. The ore itself is chalcopyrite, pyrrhotite and some pyrite, with a small quantity of gold and silver. On the edges of the main ore body bunches of specular iron and zinc blende occasionally occur, but never in the ore mass. The specific gravity of the ore is 3 65 to 4 00. Garnet rock is the mineral most intimately associated with the ore, occuring around the edges of the ore body and occasionally in masses in the midst of it. A noticeable feature in the entire absence of oxidisation of the ore body, at the outcrop or elsewhere.

The main ore mass is made up of more or less horizontal sheets of ore varying from a few inches to several feet in thickness, possibly maintaining very much the form of the original bedding of lime-stone, of which it is probably a replacement. There is no cementing of these layers, consequently great care has to be exercised in breaking the ore, for if too large an excavation be made without careful timbering one sheet will fall from the one above it by its own weight. It has been found necessary to timber the stopes with square sets throughout, there being no other practicable method of supporting the ground. The sets are made of ten-inch square timbers and are placed with five-foot centres.

THE SNOWSHOE

Company Successfully Floated in England. Development Work Done.

Mr. McMillan, brother of A. J. McMillan managing-director of the Rossland and Slocan Syndicate owning the Snowshoe mine at Phoenix camp, was up at the property last week and returned to Rossland on Saturday. He stated that he expected his brother back from England shortly. Word comes from England that the Snowshoe company has been successfully floated and that ample funds are on hand for working the mine.

A recent report regarding the Snowshoe says: The ore bodies existing in this mine are of exceptional magnitude, rivalling the bigger and more widely-famous deposit of the Old Ironsides and Knob Hill mines, which lie near. The property was one of the first locations of the district, and was at one time under bond to Patrick Clark, who, however, was compelled to to abandon it in consequence of the heavy expense of development without railroad facilities.

About 4500 feet of development work has been done on the property. An immense body of ore is now in sight, from which a considerable tonage has been shipped to smelters. Two main ore bodies are under development. They are distinct from one another, but may have a common source at deeper level. A shaft has been sunk 200 feet in one of these ore bodies, with lateral drifts and crosscuts. The surface showing of this ore body is immense, and many thousand tons can be quarried out from the surface. The ore in this deposit carries gold and silver in a decomposed quartz gangue of such a nature that the gold can be freely panned.

The second ore body was first opened up by the Canadian Pacific railroad in the course of the construction of its line, which runs across the group. Here the surface showing of ore is immense, and subsequent development work has shown up an enormous tonnage of ore, the vein in some places being from 100 to 120 feet wide. This ore consists of chalcopyrite and specular hematite in a gangue of quartz, the main values being in gold and copper. Pay shoots of high grade ore are interspread throughout the vein, and the richer bodies run from $40 to $100, but the average for the whole width of the ore body as at present developed is between $8 and $10. The company is reported to have in contemplation the erection of a smelter for their own ore.

The mine is equipped with a five drill and an eight drill compressor, with 60 and 70 horse power boilers, but a larger plant will probably be installed shortly. A large amount of prospecting work has been done with the diamond drill, for which a contract was taken by the Diamond Drill company of Spokane. The result of this work has been to prove the existence of large bodies of ore. As the Canadian Pacific railway runs right through the ground the mine is in direct communication with all the Boundary smelters, as well as those at Nelson and Trail. The power line of the Kettle River Power company also traverses the property, and the latter company will shortly be in a position to supply power to the mine at a cheaper rate than hitherto obtainable.
