THE

COMPANY, LIMITED.

THE BIG LEDGES OF SNOWSHOE

INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF THE GREENWOOD CAMP PROPERTY BY E. JACOBS.

The Company Owning the Property Has Ample Funds For Its Development.

A Big Showing And the Best Facilities For Transportation of Ore.

In 1899 the British Columbia (Rossland and Slocan) Syndicate, Ltd., a London, England, company having a capital of £100,000, secured an option on the Snowshoe mine, situate about six miles from Greenwood, in the Boundary district of B. C. The chairman of the syndicate then, as now, was Mr. Geo. S. Waterlow, a director of the well known London publishing house of Waterlow & Sons, Ltd., and the managing director, Mr. Anthony J. McMillan, of Rossland, B. C., a gentleman of considerable experiance in Canada and who for years was agent general in England for the province of Manitoda. When Mr. McMillan commenced the development of of the Snowshoe he secured the service as consulting engineer of Mr. J. W. Astley, C.E., who after fifteen years engineering and mining experiance in Montana and Idaho, including nearly five years at the Drumlomond mine, Marysville, Montana, went to Rossland in 1896 to take charge of Mr. Aug. Heinze's mining interests in British Columbia. Mr. Astley has since directed the development of the Snowshoe, visiting it at frequent intervals. After the acquirement of the Snowshoe several adjoining mineral claims were purchased by the syndicate.

In June of the current year the Snowshoe Gold and Copper mines, Ltd was formed in London to acquire and operate the Snowshoe group, consisting of the Snowshoe mine and the Pheasant, Almo fraction and Fairplay fraction mineral claims, containing in all about 120 acres. The Snowshoe company has a capital of £250,000 divided into 250,000 shares at £1. each of which 150,000 fully paid up are to be issued to the British Columbia (Rossland Slocan) Syndicate, vendor and promoter (which spent more than £25,000 on buildings, machinery and development work on the Snowshoe) as the purchase price of the property to the new company. Of the remaining 100,000 shares 50,000 were offered for public subscription at par, payable 5s. per share on application and 5s. per share on allotment, and balance in call not exceeding 5s. each and at intervals of not less than two months. The directors of the new company are the Earl of Chesterfield, chairman; Mr. G. S. Waterlow, deputy chairman; Mr. C. G. Pym, M. P., Dr. H. Lewis Jones and Mr. A. J. McMillan, managing director. A statment issued recently in London by the directors showed that the total number of shares allotted under the terms of the prospectus and upon which 10s. each has been paid, was 47,705. The accounts then submitted exhibited a cash balance at credit of the company of £17,372, ($86,860.

The first underground development done on the Snowshoe was the sinking of an incline shaft, now down 200 feet. From this levels were run at 100 and 200 feet depth respectively. On the former level some 520 feet and on the latter about 740 feet of cross-cutting and drifting have been done, and two raises have been made from the 100 level to the surface. Much of this work, which is in the eastern part of the claim, about midway between the north and south boundary lines, is in ore, a considerable quantity of which, taken out in the course of development lies on the dump. The company's property extends easterly, and the ore bodies dip the same direction.

The mouth of the above mentioned shaft is higher than the level of the railway which crosses the property. Below the railway and in the southern part of the claim, since the shaft was sunk, a tunnel has been run westwards into the hill which raises rapidly to the western boundary of the property. This working is in an ore body apparently a parallel one to that in which the shaft is sunk. For about 300 feet, excepting the a 25-foot dyke of waste crossed it, the tunnel was continuously in ore. Beyond this for another 300 feet the tunnel was extended exploring for other ore bodies, in case there should be any ahead. About 650 feet of crosscutting and drifting has also been done on this level, mostly in ore. A raise on the incline 150 feet to the surface was also in ore, except where it passed through one intrusion of waste About midway between the tunnel and the surface an intermediate level runs west 35 feet and north 160 feet and it is still being driven north. From the the tunnel level a winze goes down vertically 100 feet to No.2 level. At 40 feet down the ore dipped out but a crosscut from the bottom of the winze ran tnto it at 80 feet, and thence for 170 feet continued in ore, encountering the wall at that distance. About 380 feet of drifting has been done besides on this level and a raise 140 feet on the incline has been made in ore to the tunnel level. From No.2 level a winze was sunk 20 feet when water came in, so the diamond drill, with which a considerable amount of prospecting has also been done on both levels, was put to work here and it is now drilling a vertical hole to explore the ground below. Much of the underground now being done is for one important object the determination of the best place at which to sink a main working shaft, the site for which may be to some extent influenced as well by the location of the route for a second railway, already surveyed across the property lower down than that of the existing railway.

Other mines in the district having found it expeditious and profitable to quarry ore from the furface, attention has lately been given to the big surface showings on the Snowshoe. The surface debris has already been removed from an area about 250 feet north and south by 120 east and west, and it appears probable that the area will be extended to about 450 feet north and south. Farther southward across an intervening draw or gulch (in which the surface debris is so deep that it would not pay to remove it under present conditions) a second but smaller area is being stripped. The decomposed ore, of which there is a large quantity overlying the solid rock wherever stripped, has been found by bulk tests to contain values more than sufficient to pay cost of handling, freight and treatment, so this will be all sent to the smelter. The present intention is to quarry out the whole of the ore down to a level most convenient for loading the railway cars from ore bins without hoisting the ore at all, and it is calculated that the open cut into the ore will go back 120 feet before reaching its western limit, where a face of about 60 feet will be obtainable. The opening up of two quarries is in progress, and the construcion of ore bins below these and the extension of the railway switch under the bins have already been carried out. The method of handling the immense bodies of ore lying below the level of the top of the ore bins will be determened later, but it is probable that the level of the second railway already referred to will be sufficiently low to admit of a second tier of quarries being opened up a a lower level, whence the ore can be trammed to the railway cars without having to be handled more than once.

The Snowshoe ores vary in character the gangue being sometimes silicious, sometimes calcareous, whilst again it is a magnetite or a specular hematite.

All carry copper, either freely sprinkled througout or more generally disseminated in very fine particles. In parts of the mine the several varieties occur in quite distinct bodies and in others they are mixed together. As development has proceeded numerous tests have been made with the object of ascertainidg the best method of treating the ores. Some of these have been by smelters, to three or four of which carload lots from each of the different faces have been sent. Other tests include oil concentration and electrolytic treatment, Mr. Thos. A. Edison having been trying the latter at intervals for more than a year. Experiments are being continued, but development is now approaching a stage requiring that a decision be arrived at, at any rate for the present, even though later it be found advantageous to adopt a different method. The ores appear to contain the self fluxing constituents that make the treatment of the prevailing low-grade ores of the Boundary district possible at a profit The following statement, taken from a report on the mine made in November, 1900, by Mr. E. Nelson Fell, of Felson, B. C., manager of the Athabasca Gold mines, Ltd., relates to the ore body in the tunnel:—I took a representative sample across 25 feet of the vein with the following assay results:

Gold	.32 ozs.	Iron	13.5 per cent.
Silver	1.60 "	Lime	24.2 " "
Copper	3.30 per cent	Silica	20.1 " "

The commercial value of this ore it may be added would be $10.88 per ton. It is unlikely, though, that the general run of Snowshoe ores will average nearly so high as this. But since the Granby company, whose mines are on the same mountain and within a quarter of a mile of the Sowshoe, states that it is making a profit out of its ore there need be little question as to whether or not Snowshoe ores can be made to pay, especially when it is remembered that they occur in immense bodies and that open cuts have shown the presence of ore along a distance of about 1:100 feet in the Snowshoe claim alone. But little development has yet been done on the other claims of the group, but a 50-foot prospect shaft on the Fairplay fraction is in a mass of brecciated material cemented togeather by iron pyrites, carrying gold values but no copper, this ore being entirely different to that on the Snowshoe and having no known connection with it.

No great depth having yet been reached on the Snowshoe the machinery equipment has not needed to be extensive. The power plant on the mine includes two steam boilers, two air compressors together rated at about 12 drills, air receiver, machine drills, hoisting engine at the shaft and an auxiliary hoist in the tunnel, steam pumps, etc. There was a wise economy practised in the direction of expending money on building during the early or prospecting stage of the property. Now however that operations on a larger scale have been entered upon larger buildings are required and a bunk house for about 75 men, boarding house, suitable quarters for the office staff, and a residence for mine foreman Mr. J. H. Trevorrow, have just been completed. A residence for the superintendent, Mr. Astley, is being built as well.

Reference has been made to the fact that a branch of the Canadian Pacific railway crosses the property and to survey having been made for a competing line. Excellent transportion facilities are consequently assured especially as two smelters are in operation, one within 20 and the other 30 miles of the mine. The right of way for the transmission line of the Cascade Power and Light company, which has announced its intention to be ready to supply electric power to mines early next year, passes within 500 feet of the Snowshoe property, and keeping this in mind the Snowshoe management intends having the larger air compressor that is to be installed at the mine so constructed as to be worked by either steam or electricity, whichever shall be found most advantageous.

The Snowshoe, like the Jewel, lately described has had the benefit of capable and careful management from the time its development was entered upon by its British owners, consequently these, unlike some others who have had an oposite experience, have no good reason to regret having ventured upon mining in British Columbia.

RICH STRIKE ON SUNSET

It will be rembered that some time ago on the 200 foot level on the Sunset in Deadwood camp a body of ore was encountered from which 20 tons were shipped to the Trail smelter, which averaged $20 to the ton. Almost underneath this body on the 300 foot level, a similar ore body was encountered. Samples were taken from the first four feet of this which yielded $21 to the ton. The body has been cut a distance of 20 feet but samples so far have been taken from the first four feet. Should the values continue the Sunset is certainly a rich mine since it is apparent that the ore on the 300 foot is but a continuation of that encountered on the 200 foot level.

CITY COUNCIL

Business Transacted at the Regular Meeting Monday Night.

The first deadlock of the year occured at the regular meeting of the city council on Monday evening. There were present Mayor Jakes and Ald Caulfield, Sullivan, Sutherland, Kirkwood and Ross. The deadlock was occasioned by the ballot on the application for the the combined position of chief of police and fire chief. The firemen's comunication containing a resolution recommending A. D. Hallett for the position of fire chief and that he be given no other duties was first considered and the council unamiously decided to inform the department that they could not see their way clear to accede to the firemen's request. Applications for the combind position were then read, from John Micklejohn, F. H. McKenzie, A. D. Hallett, F. W. Hart and Kenneth McKenzie. The first ballot gave Hallett 3 votes Micklejohn 2 and Hart 1, the second gave Hallett 3 and Micklejohn 3. The council then went into committee to further consider the matter and as the deadlock could not be broken, it was finally decided that A. D. Hallett be temporarily appointed chief of the fire department at $90 a month, and the council recommended that the police commissioner make Mr. Hallett a constable without extra salary and that the salary of constable Lawder be increased to $90 a month. As driver Currie is also special constable, and fire chief Hallett will do day duty as constables while the night work as heretofore will be covered by constable Lawder. The election by-law was finally passed after appointing W. E. Hodges and Robt. Wilson as deputies to assist returning officer Taylor in the event of an election. The early closing by-law was also finally passed, and order ed published.

Dr. Schon medical officer of health interviewed the council regarding improperly constructed cesspools and the matter will be furthur considered and on Monday night, when the scavenger will report on the condition of cesspols in the city. At the request of Dr. Schon a formaldehyde sprinkler to be used for disinfecting in case of contagious diseases, was ordered the instrument to cost $7.

Mayor Jakes informed the coucil that he would be absent from the city for three or four weeks and asked that an acting mayor be appointed by the council. Ald. Ross was so appointed and the council adjourned.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling" Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by Mille Bros, and J. L. White druggist's

"Best" is a much abused word. Its use can be twisted to meet various circumstances. For example, nearly every life assurance company claims to be "best" companies, there is only one "strongest" company—and that company is the Equitable—strongest in the world—surplus sixty six million dollars.

FAIRVIEW IS BRIGHTER

SITUATION HAS IMPROVED SINCE FAIRVIEW CORPORATION COMMENCED OPERATIONS.

Believed That the Camp Will Yet Prove One of the Best in the Province.

Efficient Management and Systematic Development was What The District Needed.

FAIRVIEW, B. C., Nov. 23, 1901.—It is gratifying to note that at our principal mine, the Stemwinder, a most encouraging feature at present is the willingness of people well posted to put in their money. This has been brought about by a change to an assessable company, and business like management, under proper expert direction, which will not fail to give satisfactory results. It will soon be known whether it is a big mine or not for the stamps are now dropping. The mill was put up by one of the best millmen in America. Chas. Ausienberg who properly is put in charge of his own work by the good sense and foresight of a very efficient manager, Mr. Richard Russell. People have so much faith in the success of the Stemwinder proposition that the main belt is being canvassed over again, and it looks as if it will emerge from the underserved cloud under which it was laying ever since the south belt damper fell. It is now remembered that a great number of properties in this main belt have wonderful surface showings and ore of a fair grade. The main or central belt contains many prospects well worthy of development, and miners are now turning towards them. This camp has suffered from femosseless wild catting in days gone by, and not having any productive mine to carry it on was almost wholly abandond when the qoom burst, but now, if Stemwinder justifies the expectations formed of it, capital will again take hold of Fairview to mine in a legitimate way.

PROSPECTOR.

AUDITORIUM STOCK COMPANY

Successful Performance at the Auditorium Thursday Night.

A full house greeted the Auditorium Stock company at their initial appearance in Greenwood. The audience was highly delighted with the clever acting. To night (Friday) the company wil give "A Man of Mystery", Tomorrow afternoon the company will give a matinee, the play being A Fireman's Ward, a delightful comedy which is sure to please. On Saturday night the company will conclude their engagement in Greenwood with Daly's comedy "A Night Off". The company is well worth hearing and seeing. The matinee is sure to please the ladies who will doubtless largely patronize the first matinee held in Greenwood.

H. B. Madden this week purchased one of the 25-foot lots on which the Pacific stands. The sale was made through Arthur Mowat acting for the owner J. Jermyn of Toronto, the price paid was $2.940 cash, which shows that Greenwood business lots are not depreciating in value.

Dont forget to go to the South End Grocery for fresh eggs, good spuds, good mocha and java coffee, good tea ad fresh groceries.

E. V. BODWELL.

Mr. Bodwells advent into the political arena has placed one newspaper. The Province's conduct in bitterly assailing Mr. Bodwell because he has decided to enter political life, calls attention to the ease with which a newspaper can wander from the path of duty for which it was created. The daily Province was founded by Hewitt Bostock who at the time had plenty of money, and stood by the people. Financial trouble forced Mr. Bostock to lose control of the paper, and to-day it is found championing a railway monopoly and abusing a man because he has sufficient ability and stability to warrant those anxious to see good government in this province in urging him to enter public life.

The gravamen of the Province's criticism is that Mr. Bodwell having ability and perservance he served his clients so well that it is really dangerous to place such a man in a prominent public position, since he is likely to pursue a simular course when in political life. The Province points out that Mr. Bodwell was counsel for the V. V., & E., railway company, and the Great Northern and that he made such a strong fight for these railways that he almost drove from the power those who opposed him Mr. Bodwell has announced that he has severed his connection with all clients that might in any way conflict with his duties as a public man, but the Vancouver Province apparently disregards this announcement. Able men are always dangerous when their conduct is antagonistic to the public interests, but the surest way to perpetuate bad government is by encouraging mediocres for fear that men of ability could apply themselves in a wrong direction. What is wanted at the head of affairs in this province is brains. The people can be depended upon to protect the public interests, with brains at the head of affairs, but without ability they are helpless.

Mr. Bodwell is bright, able, honest. In his own profession he has earned an excellent reputation. He sacrificies his most lucrative practice to enter political life, and the fact that he served faithfully and ably those who intrusted their business to him, is the very best of recommendation, when he undertakes to serve the public.

PUBLIC MEETING.

SUCCESSFUL public meetings have been held at Victoria, Vancouver, Chilliwack, Ladner and other points in the province at which resolutions were passed expressing no confidence in the Dunsmuir government. Among the speakers at these meetings was Smith Curtis, M. P. P. for this riding. As the people of the mining districts are deeply interested in the railway question, it would be well that a similar meeting should be held in Greenwood so that the citizens might hear the views of the members and others.

Mr. Curtis we feel sure will be only too glad to meet his Greenwood constituents.

READING ROOM.

WE have been informed that the public reading room is not in a good position financially and although it is popular in the city, the necessary funds are not forthcoming to keep it it alive. We have not been furnished with the details of the reading room's position nor do we know what steps have been taken to keep it on a sound financial basis, but we do know that it is an institution that should be encouraged and the public should get together to discuss ways and means to keep it afloat.

GOOD NEWS.

THE announcement that engineers are locating the route for the Midway and Vernog road is gratifying news. The country through which the road will be built is rich in mineral, timber and agricultural products. It will connect the Okanagan with the Boundary affording a good market for the products of the richest farming section in B. C. The development of the West Fork country which can be accomplished only by railway communication is in itself an important factor.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION

Hold Annual Meeting and Elects Officers on Wednesday Last.

A well attended meeting of the Liberal association was held in the city hall on Wednesday evening with President J. R. Brown in the chair. A resolution was passed declaring for party lines in provincial politics, the holding of a convention at the earliest possible date at some central point either Kamloops or Revelstoke preferred. The secretary was instructed to notify the provincial executive and other associations of the passage of the resolution and urging associations that had not already done so to take similar action.

The meeting being the annual one President Brown reviewed the work done during the year and compliment Secretary Wilson upon the efficient work done by him. Officers were then elected af follows: President, J. R. Brown (re-elected); Vice-President, C. J. McArthur; Sec-Treas., C. W. Wilson (re-elected). Executive: C. Scott Galloway, Ald. Ross, Ald. Sullivan, A. A. Crowston, W. S. Graham, J. H. McFarlane. The executive were authorized to arrange for holding a public meeting to discuss provincial matters.

GUO VADIS PLEASES

Famous Play Presented to a Large and Appreciative Audience.

The production "Quo Vadis" with its vivid presentation of the atrocities enacted in Rome in the time of of Nero awed, yet pleased an audience of large proportion at Chatterton's last night. The play throughout was most agreeably recieved by even the most casual theatre-goer.

None other of all the plays which have been dramatized and modified from Sinkewicz'c famous novels appeals to our sympathy for the oppressed Christians, as does Quo Vadis. The scenery carried by the company includes some very elaborate views and amply illustrates Nero's palace the Garden of Aulus Platius, the Coliseum the Roman arena, and the burning of Rome. E. J. Carpenters production well meets every requirement.

The clever acting of Harry Morton who appears in the role of Nero the portrayal of the innocent and childlike character of Lygia by Miss Lillian Lancaster, who recently appeared at Castle Square Garen, and James A. Young as Marcus Vinicius, a tribune all won liberal and deserved appreciation. Among the others who were not lacking in applause are Fred B. Clark as Ursus, a slave to Lygia, and C. H. Farnham as Petronius, Arbiter of Elegance. The company by special request, will play a return date here to-morrow evening.—Chicago Tribune.

MILLER BROS

Midway—Vernon Railway.

Last Saturday Jas. Coyle, C. E., of Butte, arrived in town having come through from Midway over the line of the proposed railway between these two points. He made the trip in five days, and effected a careful preliminary survey of the route, taking the elevations at different points. He came down Hydraulic creek, but it is not certain that this route will be followed as it is thought by some that the line might come down Wilkinson creek, in which case the main line could be brought around by Kelowna instead of building a spur into the town.

Mr. Coyle thinks the route a splendid one, presenting no difficulties whatever towards construction, and states that it can be built with a one per cent grade.

He says that Mr. Robt Wood and associates, who secured the charter this spring, have secured American capital to back their scheme, and that $30,000 will at once be expended in surveys and other preliminary work. Three survey parties will be started out within a fortnight, he asserts, one of which will commence at this end. one from Midway, and the third from Carmi, on the West Fork af Kettle river.

Mr. Coyle is an old railway man of varied experience, and is very enthusiastic over the business possibilities of the new road, which will open up a splendid mineral section, and connect the farmers and fruit growers of the Okanagan with the camps of the Boundary. Mr. Coyle left on Tuesday for Grand Forks, and expects to be back in a course of ten days or two weeks.

The news has occasioned quite a flutter of excitement in town, and sincere hopes are everwhere expressed that the project will now be rapidly pushed forward to completion.

Mr. Coyle did not divulge the names of the parties whom he represents, but states that they have ample capital to carry on any schemes they may enter into.—Vernon News.

REDISTRIBUTION

What Smith Curtis has to say on This Subject!

Smith Curtis, M. P. P., writing to the Kamloops Senitel in answer to expression of opinion on redistribution says;

Our provincial representation has yearly grown more and as both the votes cast at the general election 16 months ago and this year's census returns have shown, it has become a scandal. In preparing a redistribution bill, the first thing will be to apportion the number of representatives, the Island and Mainland shall each have and I contend that this should be in the ratio of their population as shown by the census. The urban and rural areas and the various pursuits of their population are very much alike.

The proper preportional repeesentation for Island and Mainland will be the real contest. The Island has furnished nearly all the Cabinet material and the results to the country to date are far from flatttering; on the other hand the Island need not fear that the Mainland having it full representation will be inimical to it for the interior members are not parochial in their ideas of provincial development, nor prejudiced against the Island as the votes last session will show.

The subdivision of the Island and Mainland into ridings will in most cases present no great difficulty. For instance the present Rossland riding is entitled by population as well as by taxes paid to be divided into three ridings corresponding to the three mining divisions of which Rossland, Grand Forks and Greenwood are respectively the three chief cities.

Believing that the members of the house promised to vote want of confidence in the government, are in a majority, I am prepared to support a government formed by them in bringing in a redistribution measure, providing it gives proportionate representation based on the census to Island and Mainland, providing also that any differences in the boundaries of ridings that the government caucus could not settle be by consent referred to the chief justice of the provinee, whose opinion will be loyally accepted as final and also providing such a bill shall be passed and assented to before other bills are put through Area and immediate future growth as well as population to be considered. Cities clearly do not require nearly so much representation as extensive areas like Alberni and Cassiar, but large constituencies like Cassiar and Cariboo should be divided into two, and not have two members each obliged to look after the whole of their vast areas. As to the number of members, I see no necessity for an increase.

Referring to the possibility of an election being unexpectedily called Mr. Curits says: "Were I to run as candidate my first plank would be to have a bill passed as soon as the house could meet, giving fair ripresentation and then to immediately dissolve and hold a general election, and thereby secure a representative Legislature.

BACK FROM SIMILKAMEEN

What Frank Bailey Thinks of the western District.

Frank Bailey has just returned from a three weeks trip in the Similkameen looking after his coal interests. Speaking of his trip he said: I paid Princeton a visit. The coal properties are showing up well. I saw coal burning in the stoves in several houses and was surprised to find that it gave better results than cordwood, in fact it makes excellent domestic coal.

Andrew Laidlaw of Greenwood, has sold some of his coal prospects to a Chicago syndicate, and the money will change hands in a few days. Considerable work has been done on them. On one of the claims a prospecting tunnel has been run in for 42 feet. Most of my properties adjoin the Similkameen Valley Coal Co's. claims. Mr. Blakemore and Mr. Young came in whilst I was there. Mr. Blakemore came out to report on some coal properties for a Toronto syndicate, who have a bond on several thousand acres of coal adjoining the properties Mr. Laidlaw sold for me in Chicago. I visited the new townsite of Ashnola, which is situated in the coal belt about six miles south of Princeton, and has a good site for a town but the name is somewhat misleading, it being located over forty miles from the Ashnola country, and river of the same name. When the mines of Copper and Kennedy mountains are developed, I expect that they will have another townsite at their doors.

Whilst on my way I stopped at twenty mile creek, and put some men to work on the Cannon Ball, and Wellington claims, situate on Twenty Mile creek, about one mile and a half from the Indian Rreservation, a tunnel was run in on the lead, and exposed some good looking ore about twelve feet from the surface.

I stayed most of the time in Similkameen city, and let some contracts for clearing and grading the streets. Building has commenced on the main street. A hotel and a store are to be erected. James McNicol of Midway intends putting in another large large store. Several of the prospectors and miners employed around are building shacks and house and intend staying there. There are few families on the townsite and a school house is shortly expected. The new townsite block is uder construction. Freight is daily arriving from Penticton, the nearest C. P. R., transportation station which costs one and a half cents per pound, the distance being about 55 miles. Chas. E. Oliver, M. E., is about to build an assay and real estate office. J. A. McDonald is constructing another building. Tillman and company are cutting lumber, their new mill runs well, and has a daily capacity of 19,000 feet, and sells lumber from $14.00 per thousand and up.

E. J. Carpenter,s grand scenic production of "Quo Vadis" than which no greater success has ever been accorded a dramatic representation, will be the attraction at the Auditorium Dec. 4th. The stage will be cleared of all scenery belonging to the house, to make room special sets, draperies, perfect copies of furniture, utensils, etc., in use at that period of the Roman Empire. The costumes are historically correct, and the company a large and well balanced one.

R. Bergman of Midway leaves tomorrow for England.

Among the many talented members of E. J. Carpenters "Quo Vadis" company, none attract more attention than a beautiful young girl, named Millicent Evens. She is the daughter of a well known clergyman in a large western city. Her undeniable talent command the interests of the audience from her first appearence, and career will be followed closely by all who witness her charming portrayal of "Eunice" at the Auditorian Dec. 4th.
