THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

BARKERVILLE, SATURDAY, AUG. 26, '65

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Remains of S. Pin Found.

About twelve months since a most profound sensation was created here by the sudden and mysterious disappearance of S. Pin, the head of the firm of S. Pin & Co., traders in Richfield. Various rumors were afloat at the time regarding the missing man. Some attributed his disappearance to his having committed suicide in the woods, but many others held that he had levanted to escape from his creditors, and was subsequently seen on his way to Kootenay, Boise, &c. Active search was instituted in the woods for many days after the unfortunate man left home, but no trace of him could be found. By mere accident the whole mystery has come to light and speculation set at rest forever. The circumstances attending the discovery of Mr. Pin's remains will be gathered best from the evidence given at the

INQUEST,

Held on Wednesday, 23rd Aug. 1865, before W. G. Cox, Esq., and the following jury:—O. J. Trevalllot, foreman; Leopold Kuhn, G. W. Robinson, Charles Florence, Peter Travers, Thomas Guthrie, E. A. Wadhams, James Roberts, Patrick Kirwin, S. A. Smith, Thomas Burrell.

The jury being sworn by Mr. Fitzgerald, the clerk of the Court, Mr. Cox briefly addressed them on their duties.

William Wright, milkman, was the first witness examined; he deposed as follows:—On Monday evening last, about 5 o'clock, I was on my way home from Richfield; I proceeded from the blacksmith's shop straight up the hill; when I came near the edge of the woods I took bearings by the sun for my camp, which is at the head of Stouts gulch; I did not go more than a half or three-quarters of a mile when I saw a dead man lying on the ground; I found the flesh had all gone; the body was lying in a position seemingly of repose at full length; I saw a piece of paper, partly concealed under the right arm, and a small phial at the right knee; I lifted the paper and found it was a letter written in French, but the word "poison" was written on it in English; I thought it then too late in the evening to return to town so I went home; next morning I came to town and reported the discovery of the remains to the magistrate, Mr. Cox.

Francois Lelier sworn, and examined through an interpreter:—I was a partner of the late Mr. Pin; on the 14th October, 1864, Mr. Pin left home at six o'clock in the morning; never heard of him since till yesterday; (the letter found by previous witness, and also a pocket book containing valuable papers, some of them promissory notes of amounts due the firm, a pipe and small rule found on the person of deceased by Mr. Woods, Police Constable, were produced in Court and identified by Mr. Lelier); the letter produced is addressed to me and reads as follows: (Translated by Captain Trevalliot.)

"MY DEAR FRANK,—I see that my murderers are just on me. * * * * * * * * * * * Our business is complicated, and they will not give me time to regulate the same. In another world you will see me again and you shall know that I do regret what I am doing to-day in order to save my honor in this world. Your friend regrets not to see his dear family after so much suffering to bid them good bye. Adieu, Frank, and you, Mr. Lambert, whom I esteem and love as a brother. Farewell to all.

Your most devoted, agonizing,

S. PIN."

Williams Creek, 12th Oct. 1864.

(The action of the weather had obliterated the portion of the writing which we have marked with asterisks). I can recognise the bottle as belonging to the house; it had a label on it marked "poison" with a death's head; the label is gone; I can identify the several articles produced; I have inspected the remains of the body found, and can recognize the clothing as the same Mr. Pin wore on the day he left the house; Mr. Pin was a native of the village of Roman in France; his christian name was "Sermet;" he was a married man, and had a wife and family, (one son and two daughters) living in France; I believe the cause of his committing suicide was on account of his pecuniary embarrassments and the fear of being put in gaol.

O. Lambert, an employee in the firm of Pin & Co., was next examined; he stated as follows:—I have seen the dead body found by Mr. Wright, and am convinced it is that of Mr. Pin; I can easily swear to the clothes being those he had on when he left home; Mr. Pin was a native of the province of Dauphine in France; and was aged about 50 or 53 years; I am sure the articles produced and found in the clothes of deceased belonged to Mr. Pin; I saw the body before it was removed to town, and am of opinion it was not disturbed since death; I believe the poison in the bottle to be strychnine.

Mr. Cox thought this evidence was all that was necessary to convince the jury that the remains were those of Mr. Pin, and that there was no doubt the unfortunate man had committed suicide.

The jury said they were satisfied and brought in the following

VERDICT:

"That Sermet Pin came to his death on or about 14th Oct., 1864, at Richfield, by poison administered by his own hand while he was in a state of temporary insanity produced by pecuniary embarrassments."

OBSERVATIONS.

We would remark that the estate of Pin & Co., having been placed under judicious management, is nearly wound up, and will pay one hundred cents upon the dollar.

LETTER FROM VICTORIA.

Victoria, August 14th, 1865.

THE NEW DIGGINGS.

Once more Victoria is in an excited state, and awaiting with impatience to know more. You are aware that the Government, acting upon the principle of Sir James Douglas, the former Governor, sent out this year a small exploring expedition to look for gold or anything else of value. Buttle, who was with Mr. Lord in the Boundary Commission, had charge of the party, and he is looked upon as a reliable man, but the report of the discoveries made do not come from but through him. Three or four days ago this city was aroused from its hum-drum existence usual during the summer months, by reading a despatch from the aforesaid party, reporting that they had found gold in paying quantities, say five cents to the pan, upon a tributary of Bear river, a stream which falls into Clayoquot Sound, upon the west coast of the Island. The pay dirt would appear to be pretty extensive upon the banks of the river, in fact sufficient to give employment to several hundred men. Now this is really about the whole known of the new diggings. They are easily accessible, but, as far as known, like Leech river diggings, can only be worked during a few months of the year. Of course future experience may show this not to be the case. Every one is and has been talking of the new El Dorado, surmising this and pronouncing that, but no one knows anything more than is contained in the Government despatch, which has been published with all its crudities. Of course every one believes the report to contain more or less of truth, as no one imagines the Government or the exploring party have any desire to deceive. The Otter started this morning and took about 150 men, some miners, some traders and some nothings, the usual mixture, for Clayoquot Sound. Of course they have all gone with big hopes, and every one wishes them good speed. The distance from Victoria is about 140 miles by water, so the steamer may be expected back about the 17th, and won't a crowd rush to the wharf when her whistle is heard. You will see by this account that there is nothing whatever to induce any one to leave Cariboo.

LEECH RIVER.

From Leech river there is nothing very decisive (many of the miners have left, of course for Bear river), some of the companies by fluming are making about ten dollars per day to the hand, some less, some—nothing. A good deal of dust is brought to town in small quantities, but, from the general tenor of the accounts, there does not appear to be much energy, industry, or enterprise shown upon the river Leech.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR.

You will have heard that Governor Seymour is going to England almost immediately, and that is the reason for his turning about instead of prosecuting his journey to Cariboo. I am sorry for this, as he can hardly be back from England before next January, and so it is quite possible the gold tax and the other burdens the miners have to bear will not undergo much alteration for another year without the acting Governor will take responsibility, or unless he receives instructions to recommend the removal of these onerous burdens. It is said Governor Seymour is going home to be married. If so, let us wish him every happiness the world can afford. It is probable, however, he may have been called home for other purposes, such as Union and what not, which however no one knows anything about. It is given out that he will return, but what if the tale I told you of should turn out to be correct. If such a young man, almost a beardless youth, as Mr. Birch can make a Governor, surely it does not require much experience for such an exalted position—some colonial bred biped might do as well.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Keenan, on account of the lamentable death of his wife, has given up busines in Victoria and leaves by the next steamer. Drummond, I see, has received the nomination for Chief Engineer.

GOING HOME.

S. Franklin, G. M. Sproat, and W. T. Drake leave the colony for England by the next boat; and by the following one, the Governor of B. C., C. W. Wallace, Sir James Douglas and son, and some others.

THE STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

It is stated that the Brother Jonathan went down within 4 or 5 minutes after she struck instead of 45 minutes.

COD FISHING.

The following extract is from the 'Chronicle' of this morning, and may be looked upon as very important for this colony. Who knows what such a success may lead to not only here but abroad? No wonder that every one looks pleased to-day and moves about with alacrity:

"The schooner Onward, Captain McKay, arrived from the Sea of Kamschatka from a fishing cruise and anchored in the Royal Roads last night. She brings 10,700 codfish of first-rate quality. The Onward was fitted out by C. B. Young, Esq., and other gentlemen in March last, and their enterprise has been crowned with complete success. The captain and crew are all well. They spoke the schooner Kate, Captain Waller, on the 20th of July; she had 6500 codfish and was about returning. Since leaving here they have sighted nothing of any account but the Kate, the codfish and a few Sitka ice-ships, have had disagreeable weather until a few days ago, heard nothing of the Shenandoah nor the whaling fleet, struck the fishing banks in proper season and made a very good haul, returned by the outside passage and met the Otter on her way to Clayoquot.

LETTER FROM CLINTON.

Near Clinton, B. C., Aug. 18, '65.

My neighbors being little addicted to letter writing, I feel bound to buckle to and let you know what is going on here, the state of political feeling, &c., &c.

We are all well pleased with your paper, as it represents far better than the 'British Columbian' our interests, wants and opinions. We would all like to see the Union consummated, with Victoria for our capital; it is our cheapest market; it's good port and splendid harbor are known far and wide, and insurance in San Francisco alone is one per cent. less than to New Westminster. One good town being already built at a cost of many millions we do not see the necessity of erecting another upon a far less eligible spot. We should also much rather see one Governor (and that one Seymour), one Government and one set of officials. We look upon Union as a question of vital importance to the two colonies; it is a question not only of strength but of economy. Heavy taxation has aroused our interest and attention on this subject, and we are certainly unanimous in taking your view of the case.

Business is very dull, and but for the arrival of the stages and the "Cariboo Sentinel" we should begin to despair of the country. There is absolutely no sale for grain but to Barnard, who, being a business man, makes the most of his opportunity. I expect to see barley at 4 cts.; sales have already taken place at 5 cts., teaming over 60 miles included in the charges. At these prices very little barley will be grown here next year, unless some enterprising individual sets up a brewery at Clinton. I believe the concern would pay, as Lager Beer finds a ready sale above and below Clinton, even at its present prices.

The wheat crops are looking splendid, and this year I think will confute those croakers who said that this was no wheat growing country. I have myself a bet about it of a hundred dollars with an Oregonian.

There is a fine site for a grist mill at the Junction with splendid water power. I venture to say there is not so good or central a spot within a radius of a hundred miles. There are hundreds of acres of good wheat growing land in the valleys of the Bonaparte, the Thompson and Cash creek on one side, in the Cut-off valley and the Fraser river on the other. The Cut-off valley is the highest and there the least likely, and yet the Spanish ranch can show fine wheat this year.

There are nine dairies around here and much good butter made; indeed bunch grass seems to make as fine butter as it does good beef. I should like to know from some of your traders, who are store keepers, whether it would not pay them to encourage the manufacture of butter here rather than draw their supplies hundred of miles away? Cheese, eggs, hams and bacon all could be supplied from here fresher, better and cheaper than what they import.

Mr. Chapperon, an enterprising Frenchman at Clinton, has established a fishery at Loon Lake and supplied the market with splendid mountain trout. He has had a rapid sale for both his fresh and salt fish, even down to Lillooet. He conferred a real boon on the public in these days of hot weather, many flies and tainted meat.

We had quite a "re-union" of notables at Clinton during the Governor's stay at Wren's excellent hotel; Mr. Birch, Mr. Trutch, Judges Begbie and Elliott, and Governor's suite. The place looked quite lively. The Governor is very popular, as every one believes he is anxious to meet the wants of the country, and if he has failed let the blame rest with his advisers and the representatives of the people. A young artist, Mr. Gentile, who was accompanying his Excellency to take views, took a very good one of Clinton with Barnard's two stages just driving up to the Clinton hotel.

Now, Mr. Editor, continue your good work of uniting us, and be assured that with the exception of New Westminster and the British Columbian the whole country will back you. Let us follow the good example set us by our brother colonists on the other side of the Rockies, let us listen to the sound advice of the Home Government, and let us unite and reduce the expenses of the Civil list.

Yours truly,

A CLINTONITE.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

BARKERVILLE, SATURDAY, AUG. 26, '65

☞ A SUPPLEMENT containing eight columns is issued with this number of the "Sentinel."

Before another week has elapsed the good ship British Columbia will be without a captain. For six months at least she will be tossed to and fro without a commander, and the interests, the highest interests of the passengers will be left to the unskillful management of the second officer, whose sole experience of administration in a new sphere is that of little over a twelve month. This is a matter of rather more serious importance to every one of us than the servile minions of the Government would have us to believe. Of course we will be told that the Governor's visit to England will only be of four months' duration, but the people of British Columbia cannot be gammoned by any such nonsense. If his Excellency is back in six months he will have accomplished all that it is possible for him to do. It will therefore be the first of March before Governor Seymour is again at his seat of Government, and by that time the spring will have set in and the colonial Legislators will be required at their respective places of public duty. The important changes in the laws which are universally demanded must be kept in abeyance for another year, and the discontent of the people who will remain in the country will be allowed to smoulder until it bursts out in a volcano that will be neither desirable nor creditable to the Executive. Considering the manner in which Governor Seymour, has governed the country, and the ruin and decay which are everywhere observable from the policy which he has inaugurated, we think he should have manifested more consideration for his sinking ship than to have abandoned her at the very moment she required all his skill and energy to rescue her from foundering. His Excellency prefers, however, to leave her to her fate, and no matter whither she may drift in the meantime, even it should be into the haven of Uncle Sam, it is of no importance to him. Will the people of the colony not be convinced of the absolute necessity for Union with Vancouver Island from this circumstance of his Excellency's leaving the country? Will any one have the boldness to say that if union were consummated to-morrow that the united colonies would be left without a head for six consecutive months of the year? We are persuaded that not one will venture on making such an assertion. We should like to know how Governor Seymour will meet Mr. Secretary Cardwell's interrogatories in regard to his Excellency's treatment of the Union question. Will he tell the right honorable Secretary how he declined to have the resolutions on the subject passed by the Assembly of Vancouver Island, and sent to him for consideration by the Council of this colony, discussed in that House, and actually allowed his Colonial Secretary to pass them by as waste paper for another Session? Will his Excellency satisfy Mr. Cardwell that the new Tariff Bill of last Session, framed to injure the colony generally, as well as the sister colony of Vancouver Island, was a measure calculated to promote British interests in the North Pacific? or will he just place the true facts before his right honorable inquisitor and state that the measure was only designed to build up an isolated city on the Fraser of three or four hundred inhabitants at the expense of the national welfare? Will his Excellency go further and give Mr. Cardwell a satisfactory reason for the wholesale depopulation of the country in the eighteen months he has been the ruler over it, and will he plainly inform the Secretary that of those who remain nineteen-twentieths are discontented and dissatisfied with the unequal and grinding taxation of the Government? Will his Excellency tell Mr. Cardwell that every white inhabitant outside the so called capital of New Westminster, the headquarters of the Government, is paying from £20 to £30 per annum for taxes to support unnecessary officials in the colony? Will his Excellency also inform the Secretary that whilst Her Majesty's instructions are to give the colonists five independent representatives he only allows them FOUR? And, lastly, will his Excellency place this fact also before the Secretary of State, that within twelve months after he landed in British Columbia he reversed the policy of his experienced and eminent predecessor, which had made the country prosperous and its inhabitants contented, to inaugurate a policy that has ruined and partly depopulated the country, and brought the people who remain to a state bordering on disaffection? Will he frankly tell this last damning fact to his sagacious chief, and that he was led into the fatal vortex by men who had only the most selfish interests in entrapping him into such a course? If his Excellency has the manliness to make these admissions, it is just possible that instead of his absence being an injury to the country it will prove a lasting blessing to the people he leaves behind.

THE GOVERNMENT EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

The miners fitted out by Government to explore the north-east portion of the Cariboo district started on Monday morning last. The provisions were supplied by Messrs. Oppenheimer, whose tender was the lowest, and the horses (six in number) were purchased by one of the party. The men are fully equipped for two months, and it is only justice to all concerned—both the Gold Commissioner and the exploring party—to state that the most rigorous economy was observed in the equipment for the expedition. This may be easily inferred from the fact of the provisions and mining tools for the whole number (six miners and two axe men) having only cost $754. We have not heard any intelligence of the expedition since it started. Let us hope that it will meet with the highest success.

GOLD COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

(Before W. G. Cox, Esq.)

Tuesday, 22d August.

Oro Fino Flume co'y, by W. E. Boone, vs. Livingston & Co.—This was an action to make the defendants show cause why they should not be ejected from the plaintiffs ground and pay $500 damages. The Commissioner decided that plaintiffs were entitled to the ground, and gave them costs of Court and of witnesses, $16.

P. Kirwin vs. California company, Williams creek.—This was an action for $400 wages due plaintiff per agreement for taking care of claim during last winter. Judgment for plaintiff with costs.

California Creek Bed Rock Flume co'y, by R. R. Munro, vs. Ralph Anderson.—The plaintiffs sued defendant for trespassing on their ground. The Commissioner gave judgment in favor of plaintiffs with $11 costs.

Wednesday, 23d August.

San Francisco co'y vs. D. Powers.—This was an action for an injunction to restrain defendant from working plaintiffs' ground. It appeared the claim had been laid over for a fortnight and when the time expired the defendant commenced to work on it, and was taking out gold. The Commissioner said if a claim was laid over and was workable any one taking it up would be entitled to it. The representative of the plaintiffs said they were in debt for water and that the company were out working to make it up so as to resume operations on the claim. The Commissioner under these circumstances fined the defendant $30, the amount of gold taken out, and ordered him to desist.

Friday, 25th August.

G. Pellin vs. John Lewis.—Suit for $65, wages for working defendant's interest in Union claim last year. The plaintiff said he did not apply for payment until this season, when he was "broke" by prospecting and hard up for money. The defendant said he had not employed the plaintiff, but he admitted that he gave his consent to his being employed by the foreman. The Magistrate said the plaintiff was entitled to his wages, and he made an order that the defendant pay them in three days.

THE SHENANDOAH.—We learn that Admiral Denman has replied to the application of the American Consul to the effect that should the Shenandoah enter this port he will see that she does not depart as an armed vessel. The Admiral also states that if he were aware of her whereabouts he should despatch a vessel to notify her, and if necessary, to see that she did not continue her depredations. At present the information as to her whereabouts is too vague to warrant a vessel being sent.—'Chronicle.'

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A CHALLENGE.

NED ALLEN is surprised at FRED LITTLER not accepting his challenge after gassing so much, and putting Ned to the expense of placing a man to work in his claim and sending a friend of both parties over to Van Winkle with money to make a Match. If Fred means fighting, and not gassing, he can be accommodated from one hundred to one thousand dollars a side. Ned has left one hundred dollars in the hands of Mr. C., at the Pioneer Hotel, Cameronton, which if covered and articles sent to Ned at any sporting house on Williams creek a Match can be made.

☞ This Challenge will remain open for ten days.

A CARD.

MR. JAMES DALGETTY published in the last "Sentinel" a very singular "dun" to James Hood, in which he reflects severely upon Mr. Hood's character. As the agent of Mr. Hood, I desire only to say that Mr. Hood told me a short time before he left that he had settled with Mr. Dalgetty and paid him twenty-five dollars more than he owed him. I am prepared to pay any debt Mr. Hood justly owes in the colony whenever proper evidence of his indebtedness is presented to me. Mr. Dalgetty has presented me an account against Mr. Hood which shows the greater part of his claim now made against Mr. Hood to be for the profit on a lot of horses purchased and sold by Mr. Hood on his own account. By this account Mr. Hood has overpaid Mr. Dalgetty forty-five dollars when the sale of the horses is left out of the account. When Mr. Dalgetty can show any claim against Mr. Hood he will be paid, and not until then.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

BARKERVILLE, SATURDAY, AUG. 26, '65

BURGLARY IN BARKERVILLE.—On Sunday night last a daring burglary was committed in the store of Mr. Lichenstein, in Barkerville. The ruffians made an entrance in the back part of the house, by forcing open the door leading into the proprietor's bed-room. From that they got into the shop, where the "Little Old Man"—Ben Lichenstein—was asleep on a couch, and from his side they took the cash box which contained one $20 bill Bank of British North America, one $5 bill, $2 in silver, about $7 in gold dust and some gold specimens. In their retreat by the back they rifled the bed-room, tossed out the mattress, where they were no doubt disappointed in not getting a large sum of money. They appropriated, however, the following articles: one diamond ring (not first class), one five shooter Colt's revolver and two boxes superior cigars. The cash box has since been found between Barkerville and Richfield, but no clue has been discovered to the perpetrators of the burglary. It is supposed there were two persons engaged in the act, as Madame Bendixen, who occupies the adjoining house to Mr. Lichenstein's, heard two voices in the store at a late hour of the night. It is hoped that something may yet turn up that will lead to the detection and punishment of the roughs engaged in so infamous a calling. We are sure the Police Magistrate will leave nothing undone to ferret them out.

SALE OF COTTONWOOD RANCH.—On Tuesday last Mr. F. V. Lee, of Richfield, sold the fine ranch at Cottonwood, late the property of Mr. Smith, by auction, to satisfy a mortgage due Mr. Laumeister for $6000. There were several bidders but the estate only realized $5500, and it was purchased by Mr. Laumeister in trust. There are 35 acres of most luxuriant oats (nearly 5 feet high) growing on the farm, besides turnips, potatoes and cabbages, in all about 50 acres under cultivation. The ranch contains 320 acres, and is certainly the finest estate in the upper country. Two years since it would have easily found a purchaser at from $10,000 to $15,000. A most commodious dwelling house has lately been erected on the premises, but it is not quite finished. We regret to state that the unfortunate mechanic who erected it has not been paid, and he claims to have expended $2,200 upon it. This is undoubtedly a hard case, and shows plainly the necessity for a Lien Law in the colony.

NEW ROADS.—It is only a week since Mr. Wright commenced the new road on Williams creek, and under his personal supervision we have now a good road for more than half the distance from Barkerville to Richfield. People are actually astonished at the rapidity with which the work is going forward. It is a matter for regret that Mr. Wright did not get this contract early in the season instead of at present as the want of a road has been greatly felt all summer. The new road from Cottonwood is going forward with commendable speed; it is almost finished as far as Beaver Pass. The stages will probably be running as far as Mr. Hamilton's in the course of next week. Parties leaving Williams creek on horse-back will shortly be able to get as far as Cottonwood the same night, and when the road is finished through they will be able to reach Quesnelmouth.

ROBBERY.—A miner residing near Cameronton had $400 in dust and bank notes secreted in the floor of his cabin, a bold thief entered the house when the owner was absent at work work and stole the booty. There was between $300 and $400 besides the secreted money in the cabin not concealed, and singular to state it was left untouched. We think when there are two banks on the creek where the mining community can deposit their gold for safe keeping, it is highly imprudent on their part to keep large sums in their houses. From the numerous robberies which have taken place lately on this creek, miners and traders should be on their guard and not keep money to any amount on their premises.

LOCHLOMOND HOUSE.—A Victoria merchant en route home writes to us that the old Crimean hero, Sergeant McMurphy, has his house in first rate order for the reception of travellers. Everything is comfortable, and guests are treated with fare which is not excelled in the best hotel in either colony. The Sergeant has plenty of beds, and he can accommodate any number of travellers at night. We hope when our mining friends are on their way down in the fall they will make the gallant old soldier's a point for stopping over night.

WILLIAMS CREEK POST OFFICE.—The Post Office has been removed from Richfield to Barkerville, a change that will be hailed with satisfaction by the people generally on Williams creek.

CARIBOO MARKETS.—There is no change in the markets since our last report.

ANOTHER PROSPECTING PARTY.

A NEW CREEK DISCOVERED.

A prospecting party has been fitted out by number of miners on this creek for the purpose of prospecting a new creek, distant from Williams between eighty and one hundred miles. The new creek is larger than Williams and so far as it has been tested promises well, but nothing very startling has been discovered. A shaft was partly sunk last fall but the men's provisions running out they had to abandon it and return here. They went out again this spring and resumed work but failed to get down to bed rock from water flowing in upon them. Prospects of gold were obtainable from the dirt all the way down. The men when they return intend to put in a tunnel with the hope and belief that they will strike a channel. The sum subscribed for carrying out the objects of this expedition amounts to $3,000, or $500 more than was granted by the Government for the exploring party referred to elsewhere. The following persons are the spirited supporters of the enterprise: Messrs. James Loring, P. E. Devine, R. R. Clark, W. R. Collins, C. F. Jones, D. McNaughton, J. Christie, M. Prager, B. P. Anderson, James Cummings, B. W. Bingley, Francisco and Angel Gortarrs. Three of the original prospectors are going out with the expedition, which is composed of six men, with thirteen horses laden with provisions. Four head of cattle will be sent out hereafter for the men to kill during the winter, as it is their intention to remain there to next summer. The prospectors will not receive wages, and they are bound to work up to the 1st of June, 1866, without any further cost to the subscribers. Their remuneration will depend solely on the result of their labors, so that there will be a sufficient stimulus to make them exert themselves. It appears there are two or three creeks within a short distance of the new creek which look very favorable, and on one of these a miner named Paul Laramie, well known in Cameronton, has been working with a rocker all summer, with what success is not known, but those who know the man are certain he would not remain long there if he were not making wages at least. The country we understand in the neighborhood of the new diggings abounds in game, and there is fine salmon trout in a lake near the place. The men think it will take them about thirteen days to get to the creek and it is their intention to cut a trail through, so that if anthing is struck hereafter there will be little difficulty experienced in getting to the place. The prospectors are James Cain, B. W. Bingley, W. D. Vaughan, Thomas Wilson, — Rosario and ———. The party started to-day.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

EXCITEMENT ABOUT BURNES CREEK.

During the present week an excitement sprung up about Burnes creek which has attracted a considerable population to that hitherto neglected region. The creek is situated between seven and eight miles from Williams in a straight line, and between four and five from Van Winkle. It takes its rise in a range of mountains lying between Lightning and Jack of Clubs creeks, and it empties itself into the latter below the lake of the same name. The creek was discovered in 1861, but up to a week ago the prospecting carried on upon it has been of the most superficial character. Surface diggings is all that it was considered good for, and until recently miners who have been working on it never thought of putting down a shaft. At a depth of five feet there is blue clay, precisely like that found from the canon up on Williams creek, and miners have taken it for bed rock and never attempted until now to penetrate through it. Fortunately, however, two companies more bold than any of their predecessors determined to sink shafts, and getting everything in readiness they set to work. They found very little difficulty in getting through the blue clay and were not long in reaching bed rock—one company getting it at 25 feet and the second at 30 feet. The Rolly co'y got 13 1-2 ozs. of gold in the bottom of their shaft, and the French co'y were rewarded with even a better prospect. The news of the success of these companies soon spread, and it was not long until there was a general stampede of all the idle hands from the surrounding creeks; claims were soon staked off and up to the present time nearly 50 claims have been recorded. Even men earning nine dollars a day on Williams creek have left their employment and gone to the new diggings. Several of the oldest miners on Williams have visited the creek since the news of the new "strike" spread, and they have stated to us that they are extremely well satisfied with the general appearance of the creek as being highly indicative of possessing auriferous deposits. Burnes creek is about 2 miles long, and is very like the upper part of Williams creek in its general features as well as in the various strata through which miners have to sink to find the bed rock. There will probably be 100 men at work on it by Monday next, and a very general feeling of confidence prevails that Burnes creek will turn out an easily worked and profitable gold mining camp.

WILLIAMS CREEK.

During the present week a good deal of rain has fallen, which has been of great service to most of the claims on this creek. Several companies were obliged last week to get their claims laid over from the scarcity of water, but fortunately relief soon came and they are all at work again. Three or four prospecting companies have taken out encouraging prospects since our last issue, and generally more confidence is felt in the hill claims. The Hibernia co'y, in Barkerville, got into a channel and obtained prospects of coarse gold a few days since.—The Welch company are still making a little over wages.—The Hit or Miss co'y are not doing so well as formerly.—The What Cheer co'y are sinking a new shaft.—The Morning Star claim is still yielding its average of 25 ozs. per day.—The Bald Head co'y will be at work in their shaft next week; they are completing a deep drain round the shaft house.—The Sheepskin co'y are sinking a new shaft.—The Aurora still continues steadily to yield over 300 ozs. a week.—The Wake up Jake co'y took out a large prospect yesterday of coarse gold.—The Davis co'y are taking out steady pay, about 20 ozs. a day.—The Caledonia has commenced to pay a little over expenses.—The Nevada Tunnel co'y had good prospects from their ground a few days since.—The New York co'y are at work, but not making much.—The Beauregard and Confederate claim continues to give her treasure, between 200 and 300 ozs. a week.—The Last Chance co'y have been doing well.—The Cameron claim pays 40 ounces per day—The Raby company are making over wages—The Dead Broke company are just doing about the same, they are only working one shift—The Forest Rose claim has given a good prospect since our last in the upper shaft; the company will commence to drift next week; the shaft next the creek has been paying well during the week—The claims below Cameronton are generally making expenses.

STOUTS GULCH.

The claims generally on this gulch are doing well. The Alturas company have been taking out between 20 and 30 ozs. per day.

CONKLIN GULCH.

Work is going on briskly on this gulch, and several claims are beginning to pay.—The Reid co'y have done well during the week and the claim now promises to keep up the reputation of the gulch; the amount taken out for the week will amount to 140 ozs.—The Ericson co'y, the members of which are all new, are at work again in two shafts, and are taking out gold.—The Saw Mill c'oy have commenced washing up and have taken out 150 ozs.—The Green Horn co'y have got down their shaft (the fifteenth we believe) and feel confident they are getting into a channel.—The New Zealand have their shaft down over 105 feet.—The Good as Any co'y are still at work, and the Britannia co'y are taking out a little gold.

LIGHTNING CREEK.

The Ayrshire Lass co'y got rather better prospects during the week than formerly, and are taking out about expenses.—The Dutch co'y are doing remarkably well.—The Discovery co'y are making over wages.

LOWHEE CREEK.

The Washburn co'y have sunk a new shaft in the lower part of their ground and are about to erect machinery.—The Chittenden co'y have been doing very well lately, taking out good pay—The Moorehead co'y are taking out a little gold.—The Sage Miller co'y will resume operations next week. When the new ditch is finished several hill claims will commence work.

LATEST NEWS.

[From the British Columbian.]

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—We learn that as soon as the dispatch reached Acapulco, giving the news of the destruction of our whalers by the rebel pirate Shenandoah, the commander of the British war steamer Devastation, then lying in the harbor, sought an interview with Capt. G. P. Scott, of the U. S. steamer Saranac, and informed him that he should set sail immediately with the Devastation in pursuit of the Shenandoah, and should treat the rebel cruiser as a pirate, and capture her wherever she might be found. He left port as soon as his ship could be got under way.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The regatta yesterday attracted much attention, and the contestants were followed by a large number of boats containing spectators. The distance travelled was about 30 miles, and was performed by the yatch Restless in 4 hours and 15 minutes, beating the Mermaid 33 minutes.

Officer Watkins this morning arrested Frederick Jones, a brutal looking negro of the lowest type, on the charge of rape committed upon a little white girl nine years of age, who is now ill from a terrible disease. It is stated that this brute has been in the habit of enticing little girls to his room in Tyson Place on various pretexts, and the result is as stated. The father of the injured child endeavored to shoot the negro.

THE WRECK OF BRO. JONATHAN.—A numbers of bodies including that of Mr. Nesbit, late of the 'Bulletin,' have been washed ashore near the scene of the wreck.

☞ There is no eastern news to-day, the telegraph line is still down.

☞ The telegraph has been finished to Hope.

☞ So great is the rush of visitors to see the tomb of Mr. Lincoln, near Springfield, that a line of omnibusses has been started from the city to accommodate them.

MARRIED.—On the 10th instant, at St. John's Church, Victoria, by the Ven. Archdeacon Gilson, Mr. Charles Adolphe Alisky, to Miss Francisca Carolina Hegele, both of that city.

WRECK OF THE BROTHER JONATHAN

[From the British Columbian.]

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—The steamer Del Norte, which lately took the rescue parties to the scene of the wreck of the Brother Jonathan, arrived at half-past two to-day. The following particulars are received: The Brother Jonathan left San Francisco on Friday noon; the north wind was strong at the outset but the steamer made fair progress until after sunrise on Sunday; the wind then became so violent that less than half the cabin passengers came to the breakfast table. At 12 o'clock—lunch—a still less number were present. Capt. DeWolf told the passengers and informed the officers that the steamer was four miles north of the latitude of Point St. George, which point is three miles above Crescent City. The wind continuing to increase in violence, Capt. DeWolf, at one o'clock, gave orders to turn the steamer for Crescent City harbor, sixteen miles south-eastward. The intention was to anchor in the bay till next morning. The Quartermaster, Yates, says they had run seven or eight miles and were eight miles due west of Point St. George when, without warning, the steamer struck with full force upon a sharp ledge, which at the lowest ebb projected about a yard above the surface. The bottom of the steamer went to pieces with a crash in three minutes. There was no panic among the passengers, though they as well as the officers must have had a full sense of their awful peril.

Captain DeWolf ordered one of the large boats lowered and filled with passengers under the first mate, none of the rescued saw her till she was floating bottom up. The captain then ordered the second mate to lower his boat, which was already filled with female cabin passengers, among whom was Mrs. Gen. Wright; the boat was lowered, but before the seamen had time to man her the steamer careened and upset her, throwing all on board into the water. The mate drew up such of the ladies as he could reach from the steamer's chains where he held on. It was now 15 minutes since the shock and the steamer was going to pieces. The third mate, Mr. Patterson, was in bed when the crash came. He lowered his small boat and hurried on board. Five women and three children, who were nearest at hand, and eleven of the crew leaped after him, including two wheelsmen, steerage steward and two firemen. The load was large and she dipped incessantly, but the strong arm and coolness of the mate brought her within twelve miles of Crescent City harbor. Capt. DeWolf, Gen. Wright, Mr. Lord (Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger), and Mr. Nesbit were on deck when last seen by the rescued crew. The boat probably lies 150 feet below the surface. There were 700 tons of merchandise freight, besides the passengers' baggage, all closely under hatch. We are reluctantly led to believe that not another living person of the 240 on the ill-fated steamer, save the nineteen now here, will ever be found.

EASTERN NEWS.

The telegraph wires were still down across the Plains, and the Eastern news is received via Panama. It is up to July 17th, only two days later. This is the first time since the establishment of the Pony Express or the Telegraph that the steamer via the Isthmus has brought the latest intelligence.

Mr. Wallace, late delegate to Congress has received the appointment of Governor of Idaho. Governor Caleb Lyon has been appointed to Washington Territory. There are preparations in progress for a large emigration of Northern people into the South. It is stated that there will be no prosecutions in the case of General Lee and other prominent Southern men. Guerillas are still infesting part of Alabama. The U. S. navy is to be greatly reduced. A serious difficulty occurred between returned Union and Confederate soldiers at Rocky Springs, Hudson County, Tennessee, in which three men were killed and seven wounded. A large number of the Confederate soldiers are joining Maximillian's army. The Union County Convention met in San Francisco on the 12th inst., and nominated the following parties for Legislative honors: For Senate, Frank M. Pixley, B. W. Hathaway. For Assembly, A. B. Forbes, of Wells, Fargo & Co.; Charles Hosmor, merchant; Lewis Conn, commission merchant; W. H. Gawley, lumber dealer; G. B. Reeve, merchandise broker; J. L. Burrett, mining secretary; Gerratt Welton, builder; A. G. Russ, owner of Russ House; B. Dove, contractor; S. S. Cutler, Jr., lawyer; Nathaniel Page, dealer in real estate; A. W. Scott, hay dealer. These were elected.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL.

Barkerville, Williams Ceerk, British Columbia, Saturday, August 26, 1865.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

BARKERVILLE, SATURDAY, AUG. 26, '65

COUNTY COURT.

(Before W. G. Cox, Esq.)

Monday, 21th August.

Allen vs. Reid.—This was an action for £1 15s. 6d., amount of promissory note. Judgment by default.

Boyd vs. Williams.—Action on promissory note for $70. Judgment deferred.

Loring vs. Riviere.—Suit for $250, promissory note. The defendant appeared and put in an account of $1000 against Mr. Loring as a set off; part of the amount was for Madame Riviere's services as pianist. The Judge said that he could not accept the account, and gave judgment for plaintiff.

Floyd & Co. vs. Loring.—This was an action for $145 50, for goods sold and delivered to a party for whom Mr. Loring became responsible after the goods were sold. The Judge held that Mr. Loring was not responsible as he did not pass his word for the goods before they were delivered.

Floyd & Co. vs. Moresby.—Action for $41 25, amount of promissory note. Judgment for plaintiff.

Black vs. Miller.—Suit for £27 7s. 6d., on promissory note. Judgment for plaintsff.

Barnard vs. Fenton.—Suit on promissory note for $100. Judgment by default.

Deighton vs. Milross & Co.—Suit for £11 19s., amount of account for goods sold and delivered. Judgment for plaintiff without costs.

Lovell vs. Guerrin.—Action for £17 2s. 3d. amount of promissory note. Judgment by default.

Neufelder vs. Hodginson.—Judgment summons; order granted.

F. V. Lee vs. Archdale.—Judgment summons; order granted.

Sonnel vs. Bercault.—Action for £5 11s. 11d., for beef sold and delivered. Judgment for plaintiff.

Dr. Chipp vs. McWha.—This was an action for $150 for performing a surgical operation and attendance on defendant. The defendant disputed payment on the ground of malpractice, he failed however to show any ground for his defence. The Judge empanneled a jury of three persons to assist him. The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $125.

Davis vs. Revis.—This was an action for £26 7s. 6d., for goods sold and delivered. The Judge granted a decree. The plaintiff asked for an immediate execution. The Judge said that the issuing of executions was the first step to drive poor but honest men out of the country. He would not resort to such a course unless he saw that a man was about to commit a fraud. Only a few days since a man was sued by a merchant on the creek for the amount of a promissory note. He came and confessed judgment in order not to put the merchant to any further expense, and after that offered $15 per week to pay up the judgment. The merchant would not accept that, but asked for an execution before the County Court sat. The man was forced to go into the Bankruptcy Court in order to protect himself, and the merchant thought he (Judge Cox) was a very strange Judge for not issuing the execution. He (the Judge) would not issue executions to drive men out of the country.

CARIBOO POLICE COURT.

(Before W. G. Cox, Esq., J. P.)

Tuesday, 22d, August.

Mr. Dickson alias "Dixie," the Barkerville hair dresser, appeared on a summons taken out against him for assault on a young woman. The prosecutrix did not appear and the case was dismissed.

THE IMPOSTOR.—The party referred to in our last issue as having attempted to impose on the mining community here was brought before Mr. Cox on Saturday evening last. The Magistrate gave him some hours to clear out and the fellow took the advice and decamped. When apprehended he claimed to be an American citizen.

KOOTENAY.—A packer from Kootenay reports large stocks of provisions and clothing at the mines—enough to last for two years. Pack trains from hope had reached the diggings. Dewdney's trail would be finished in three weeks.—Chronicle.

NEW DIGGINGS DISCOVERED ON VANCOUVER ISLAND.

[From the Victoria Daily Chronicle.]

Bedwell Sound, Aug. 7, 1865.

TO HON. THE COLONIAL SECRETARY—SIR:—I have the gratification to report for the information of His Excellency that gold has been found in payable quantities on the left fork of Bear river, Bedwell Sound.

In my last report I mentioned that it was my intention to return to Bear river to prospect it thoroughly, as I had neither time or opportunity the last time I was up. I arrived at its mouth on the evening of the 27th ult., having been detained a day at the Ahousat village in repairing the canoe, it having been badly broken while being launched from the Cameleon.

On the morning of the 29th I left Mr. Laughton and the larger bulk of the provisions and ascended the river in two parties, each taking ten days provisions. Mr. Hancock, Forgie and two Indians forming one party, taking the left fork; Mr. McCausland, Tomo, two Indians and myself forming the other party. We took the right fork, which we ascended for two days. On the evening of the 3d we came to its head-waters at the foot of several large snowy mountains; here the river broke off into several small streams. The distance travelled up this river was nearly twenty miles, its general bearing being N. E. We prospected for gold all the way up the river, but met with poor success. We got to the bd rock in several places, but could get nothing payable.

On the 2d August I ascended one of the mountains rising from the camp, accompanied by Tomo and the two Indians. At about 4000 feet we came to snow. This continued in various depths till we arrived at the summit, an altitude of about 6000 feet above the level of the sea. It took us six hours and a half to ascend. We had fair travelling, but very steep; we travelled over about one mile of snow; the snow lies in very large fields, miles in length, and in many places 100 feet deep. From the summit I got a good view in the direction of Comox, and, what I should judge, the centre of the Island, I saw a very large body of water—I should suppose about 20 miles long; it is either a chain of lakes or else one large lake, with islands in it. I took its bearings and forward a rough sketch. This is the only view I could obtain, on account of the numerous high mountains rising on all sides. I saw several large glaciers in the deep gulches below me; there are several mountains about here must be at least 8000 feet above the level of the sea. There appears much more snow here than on the Cascade or Rocky mountains in the same latitude or the same altitude.

I returned to the mouth of the river, where I had left Mr. Laughton; here I arrived at 1 o'clock, p. m., of the 5th inst. I found Mr. Laughton quite well, but Mr. Hancock and party had not yet arrived.

At 11 o'clock on the 6th instant Mr. Hancock and party arrived. His report is as follows: The same day that we parted he struck a good prospect of gold about 8 miles from the river, it being nearly dark when they struck it. They did not do anything till next day, when they found they had got a prospect of four or five cents to the pan. They spent most of the day at this place, and it took them all day to get to the bed rock. They found the dirt paying all the same all the way down, but got nothing better at the bottom. The bed rock is a kind of rotten blue limestone. The next two days they continued up the river, meeting with the same results as before. On the 2d, finding the river becoming swampy, and that the prospects were getting worse instead of better, they returned. On their way back they prospected in the bank of the river and found a strata of cement and gravel which they think will pay well; it is just above the bed rock and dips into the hill. They say the river is well adapted for sluicing, but good wages may be made with the rocker. With the exception of two canons the travelling is good, and a pack-trail could be made at a small expense. It is Mr. Hancock's and Forgie's opinion that there are profitable and paying diggings on the river and its vicinity to employ several hundred miners. There are a number of dry gulches and creeks coming into the river, which, if prospected, would pay. There is a good amount of dirt on the river and some large bars.

With the bearer of this—Mr. McCausland—I send the gold (about $2 worth) washed out by Mr. Hancock and Forgie; it is the result of thirty pans of dirt, averaging about six cents to the pan. Mr. McCausland, who is an old, experienced miner, will enter into details and impart more information than I can write.

I should wish to be understood by the public that if they intend to come here to mine to come prepared, at least, with more than a pick, pan and shovel; for I think by the men's report there is likely to be extensive diggings to be met with. This season will be short, for I don't suppose they will be able to work after the middle or fore part of November.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
(Signed) JOHN BUTTLE,
Commissioner of Exploring Expedition.

KOOTENAY.

[From the Lewiston Radiator.]

MR. EDITOR:—I returned to Lewiston from the Kootenay gold mines on Tuesday last, after an absence of seven weeks, and, knowing that merchants and miners would like to have authentic reports in regard to that auriferous region, I voluntarily give them my four weeks' experience at Fisherville.

The Wild Horse Creek, for a distance of about two miles, comprises the whole of the paying mining district, so far as discovered, and, I think I would be justified in saying, is able to maintain about six hundred miners; but many of the claims within those two miles will not pay over wages. The actually valuable claims are very few, and are located on the different town sites. The reputation of the extent and richness of the Kootenay diggings has been greatly overrated, and has caused considerable overstocking of every business. The camp would be capable of maintaining a trade of every description necessary in a mining community—in fact, according to the vulgar language of California, it would make a first-rate one-horse camp—but when ten or twelve of every profession has to divide what would be only a fair remuneration for one, it naturally makes the camp one of the poorest.

Then we must look at the ruinous duties to be paid, and the heavy freight charges. I know of firms there with probably one hundred thousand dollars' worth of stock, whose freight bill and duties amount to about twenty-five thousand dollars, and, from the time of their landing, their receipts have not averaged fifty dollars a day. There are sufficient dry goods in the camp this day to supply two thousand miners five years, and still pack trains are rushing in.

Numbers of hard working men were leaving every day, going to new excitements, most of them having become disgusted with the country, and swearing never to prospect anywhere but on the American side. There are few of any other nation there than Ireland—in fact, I may safely say two-thirds are of that nationality. The English officials are very strict, which is a good feature. It is astonishing with what skill and rapidity they ferret out any misdemeanor. From the time the Kirby counterfeiters first passed their bogus dust, to the time of their apprehension, the collecting together of the bogus dust, and the subpœaning of witnesses, did not take over four hours. These individuals are safe for a trip to New Westminster. The Commissioner, Judge O'Reilly, is a perfect model of a gentleman; likewise, Mr. Young; and if it were not for their collecting nine dollars for every ounce of gold dust taken out of the mines, would be well thought of. But they cannot help it—they are only public servants; but I believe that one Gold Commissioner and a set of hurdy-gurdies would break the city of New York in ten days.

Hired labor is in great demand at seven dollars a day, and for the next two or three months I think the camp will be lively.

The distance from here to Kootenay, according to my journal, is about 336 miles, and, at this season of the year, a most disagreeable trip. The misquitoes are desperate. I was partially blind for about two days; and I think men are fortunate if they get through without losing a portion of their ears.

There are a great number of Lewistonians in the camp: Old Friend, Dr. Church, Dr. Simmons, John Flanigan and Geo. H. Sandy, all enjoying good health; but somehow their faces have a very elongated appearance. It may be owing to the climate, or it may be owing to the hard times——well, never mind.

I have not time to write any more at present, although I would wish to give a more full account of the different excitements. You shall hear from me again.

H. W. S.

The American population at Kootenay had a celebration on the 4th of July. They are said to outnumber the subjects of the Queen.
