THE CENTURY PLANT.

The "Century Plant," as it is called, is the Agave Americana of the botanists. A considerable attention is being called to this plant, at the present time, from the fact that one of these extraordinary specimens of the floral kingdom is now about to flower in the garden of Mr. G. C. Potter, of Oakland.

The Agave has a short cylindrical stem, terminating in a circular cluster of sharp pointed leaves, some of which continue on the stem for many years. It belongs to the order Amarylladaceœ, and is popularly supposed to flower but once in a hundred years The fact is that its efforescence varies according to the climate to which it is subjected. When grown under most favorable circumstances, in its native climate, it comes to maturity and flowers in ten years. This period varies as above, from ten to seventy years, and it is altogether probable that when raised in a cold climate, and its maturity skilfully retarded, it might be kept from flowering and at the same time vigorous for a century.

Just before flowering, this wonderful plant sends up a stem, often 40 feet high, which puts out enormous branches, forming a cylindrical pyramid of great beauty and symmetry, each crowned with a cluster of greenish yellow flowers, which sometimes continue in bloom for several months. The growth of this central stem from a body which has been so long torpid is one of the most wonderful of the botanical phenomena. In the plant in Mr. Potters garden, some sixteen years ago, a large bull or shoot was observed rising from the centre of the plant. In eight days this shoot had grown seven feet—during one period of twenty-four hours it grew thirteen inches! The prevailing cold weather has probably rendered the growth of this flower stem much slower than it would otherwise have been, although it has now reached a height of about seventeen feet. It will probably reach an elevation of fully twenty feet before flowering—perhaps more. Its greatest elevation is reached only under the most favorable circumstances. And the period of its continuance in bloom is dependent upon the same circumstances. It will not bloom until it stops growing. It is exceedingly interesting to watch from day to day the ascent of this floral column. Mr. Potter has generously thrown open his gardens to the public for the benefit of a committee of ladies who are raising funds in behalf of the Oakland Congregational Church.

The Agave Americana is a native of the inter-tropical regions of America; but it has been naturalized in Spain. Sicily and the Barbary States. It never blooms but once; but like many ephemeral insects, the whole office of its life appears to be devoted to the sole end of the reproduction of its species; this done—its flowering having been accomplished and its seed brought to perfection it dies, and, like the fabled Phœnix, never lives to look upon its successor.—M. & S. Press

COVENTRY ELOQUENCE.—Coventry used to be regarded as a place of punishment; now it seems to be a place for "tall" eloquence. Here is what a Coventry Cicero said on presenting a gold watch to a clever public lecturer: "Take it, sir, and wear it wherever you go; and may the sound of its beating give ease to your throbbing breast! When cast down by the cares and anxieties of public life, may those hands remind you of the swiftness of time, and that duty calls you to your post! Every time you wind it up, may new ideas spring up in your mind, and give a fresh impetus to your exertions! and that hope, with the strength of a lion, may avenge when battling with the enemies of liberty and progress in this, our glorious country." No Yankee in his highest flight was ever so grand as this; such a one could only have improved upon it by saying something about going upon "tick."

AN ingenious attorney, who always made it a point to get his case, was applied to by a fellow who had stolen some pork to defend him. Accordingly in his usual inventive way he ruined the evidence on which the plaintiff relied, and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. After the verdict was declared, as the fellow was leaving the court house, he whispered to his attorney thus:

"Squire, what shall I do with the pork for I have got it yet?"

"Eat it," replied the lawyer, "for the jury say you did not steal it."

☞ If you want good Coffee use Fell's.

THE American Journal of Mining gives the following as the reason why certain shooting stars didn't appear when expected: When the mololygistric temperature of the horizon is such as to cloricise the imperient indentation of the hemisphere analogy, the cohesion of the borax curbistus becomes surcharged with infinitesimals, which are thereby virtually deprived of their fissurial disquisitions. This effected, a rapid change is produced in the thoramoumber of the gympasticustas polerium, which causes a convacular in the hexagonal antipathes of the terrustrium aquaversula. Clouds then become a mass of deodotomized speculæ of ceremocular light, which can only be seen when it is visible.

THE APPLE.—Gibson, the sculptor, described Queen Victoria as extremely affable, and even deigned to laugh heartily at some of his stories. One day he said to her,—

"Madam, I was born a thief."

"A thief, Mr. Gibson?"

"Yes madam; for when a child I stole an apple from the stall of an old woman with a wooden leg. Mother found it out, took me back to the old woman, and begged her to beat me with her crutch, which she did lustily I never stole any more."

"Ah!" replied her majesty, "a great deal of sorrow was brought into the world by the apple."

AN old Irish actor of the name of Barry, was rather too fond of whisky punch; one night when he came rolling on to the stage, a voice from the gallery called out, "Barry, you tief o' the wurld! how many tumblers o' whisky punch did yer take to-night?" To which Barry, looking up with a scornful leer, replied, "None, ye blackguard, at your expense!"

A GENTLEMAN advertising for a wife, says, "It would be well if the lady were possessed of a competency sufficient to secure her against the effects of excessive grief, in case of accident occurring to her companion." Amiable forethought!

"HAVE your cabbages tender hearts?" asked a duteous wife of a costermonger. "They can't have anything else, mar'm," was the reply, "for they've been with me crying about the streets all the morning."

HE who asks to see his wife's accounts, is a snob. He who, asked by her, looks at them, is a fool. But he who, after inspection, diminishes her allowance, is a beast.

AN Irishman caught a hornet in his hand, but dropped it, and exclaimed, "Be jabbers, what kind of teeth do your birds have in Ameriky."

THE wheel of fortune must have belonged originally to an omnibus; for it is continually "taking up" and "putting down" people.

FIRE.—On Thursday evening, about ten o'clock, an alarm of fire was raised in Barkerville which produced a very nervous feeling among the inhabitants until it was ascertained that the fire was outside of the town limits. Simultaneous with the alarm, flames could be seen to issue from an old log cabin on the east side of the creek, about a hundred yards from town, and in a few minutes more the building was completely enveloped by the devouring element, the light emitted from which being sufficient to illuminate the whole town. It is difficult to assign the cause of the fire, as the cabin was unoccupied and isolated from any other building. This disaster, happily harmless in its consequences, ought to serve as a salutary monition to the householders in this town, to be bestirring themselves in making some provision against any such casualty happening in their midst. which is rendered all the more requisite now that the dry weather is beginning to set in. We regret to learn that a feeling of apathy has prevailed of late among those who were instrumental in organizing our Fire Company. We feel confident, however, that if some movement is now made in the matter and a meeting called, there will not be wanting the necessary aid in men and money to carry out the objects originally contemplated. Let something be done at once, or else we may find ourselves some fine day in the position of the man "who locked his stable door after his horse was stolen."

STORING OF POWDER.—We would desire to call the attention of the powers that be. to the very great impropriety and danger of permitting large quantities of powder to be kept in stores in this town. We have been informed that there cannot be less than 140 kegs of this dangerous article distributed over town in the hands of traders. When it is considered how liable we are at any moment to accidents by fire, we tremble to think of the consequences that would follow any such catastrophe; besides, the very knowledge of the existence of such quantites of this article in stores, would deter people from rendering that assistance in saving property, in the event of fire, which they would otherwise do, for who would be foolhardy enough to jeopardize his life under these circumstances? In no town is the practice of storing large quantities of powder allowed, provision being always made for having it as far removed from the reach of danger as possible. We think that seeing the inflamable character of the buildings in this town, the sooner a powder magazine is erected at a respectable distance from it the better.

DONATION TO THE LIBRARY.—The members of the Cariboo Literary Institute are indebted to the Government for the donation of a box of maps and books, which came to hand last week. The maps, which have been hung up around the walls of the room giving it a very tasteful appearance, are illustrative of subjects relating to natural philosophy. mechanics, hydrostatics, hydraulics, chemistry, &c. Among the books we noticed a pictorial work on English historical chronology that cannot fail to be of great assistance to the student of English history, or to those who may have occasion to refer to any particular epoch from the invasion of Julius Caesar to the present time. We congratulate the members of the institute on this acquisition, which adds fresh attractions to their already valuable establishment.

HE CARIBOO SENTINEL

MONDAY, JULY 1, 1867.

POLICE COURT.—William Williams was arged before the magistrate at the Police ourt, on Saturday last, by Elizabeth Thur-er, for abusing her, and threatening to take er life, whereby she was put in great bodily ear. Williams pleaded guilty to the charge. is Honor took occasion to remind defend-t that this was the third time he had been onvicted of a similar offence, and cautioned im to be more careful in future; for if he ver came before this court again, the case ould most certainly be sent to a higher tri-unal. Defendant was accordingly fined $25, nd ordered to enter into his own recogni-ance in the sum of $500, and to find two ireties in the sum of $250 each, to keep the eace towards all of Her Majesty's subjects, or the space of twelve months.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We have rearely been ore agreeably surprised than on our visit a w days ago to the Cariboo Exchange Hotel, complete transformation having taken place oth internally and externally. The trades-en who have had the very extensive altera-ons in hand deserve no small praise. The arpenters work by Messrs. John Bruce and ames Mann, for solidity and finish, will com-are favorably with any similar work in the olony; and the papering, painting and grain-g, executed by Mr. W. W. Hill, does him finite credit for the elaborate taste display-d. On the whole, we congratulate our min-g friends on the opening of this establish-ent, as affording them really comfortable arters fully equal to anything of the kind Victoria.

CHURCH AT LYTTON.—A new Episcopal hurch has been built at Lytton to which the v. Mr. Good of Nanaimo has been called pastor. It might appear invidious on our rt to draw comparisons between that small t favored community and our own, which ready contains three empty houses of wor-ip but lacks the good Samaritans possess-g the smallest grain of Christian charity to ccupy them. This state of matters must certainly proceed from either of three causes, amely, that we are too pious to require gos-el ministrations, too poor to pay for them, r too corrupt for a modern apostle to cast is lot amongst us.

DOWN THE FLUME.—"Going up the lane," an oft repeated and significant expression, ut what we have to relate concerns a luck-ess wight who had the misfortune to go down ne. Last week one of the workmen in the urora claim, on Cedar creek, while attempt-g to cross the flume recently constructed by at company, fell in and was carried nolens olens to the extreme end thereof, a distance f 1800 feet, where he was unceremoniously umped among the tailings, sustaining no ther damage to his corpus than a good renching, and the involuntary gulping, to is huge disgust, of a few mouthfals of ra-her impure water.

A GREAT deal of time and labor has been pent by the companies owning creek claims the vicinity of this town lately, in construct-g bulkheads, with the view of diverting the ater of the creek to the east side. The hannel of the creek is now hemmed in by rong breastworks extending from the Chipps laim down to the end of the Raby flume, and f proper care is taken to keep it clear, here will be no cause for any farther appre-ension of danger to the drain from an over-low.

CHERRY CREEK SILVER ORE.—The Cherry reek company have had three samples of re assayed at the Government Assay office ere, and the result is as follows: Specimen o, 1, taken from the black ore lead, gives 591 oz. of silver and 6 dwts. of gold to the on. Specimen No. 2, taken from the hill-ide, gives 1259 oz. of silver, with traces of old. Specimen No. 3, from McWorthy's tun-el, gives 163 oz. of silver, with traces of old.—B. C. Examiner.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon, George Dougherty, foreman of the Discovery claim, on Grouse creek, got hurt on the back, by he falling of a rock from a high bank, under which he was working. We have been un-able to learn the nature of the injuries sus-tained. Dr. Bell was sent for.

A MAN named George Hazelwood, employ-ed at Moody & Co.'s logging camp, Burrards Inlet, had one of his legs badly crushed by a saw log on 17th inst.

THE Steamer Active was to sail from San Francisco for Victoria on the 19th, so that we may expect an eastern mail by next Ex-press.

THE contract for building the new church at New Westminster has been awarded to Mr. T. Trounce.

THE Express will in future close every Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

WILLIAMS CREEK.

The dullness occasioned by the late suspension of mining operations, on the claims in the centre of the creek, is not yet dispelled. Although the work of reopening the drain is progressing steadily, still it will be eight or ten days before many of the claims will be enabled to work. Several of the ground sluice claims above Richfield, and between the latter place and the canyon, will commence cleaning up during the present week, so that our next weekly mining report will, we trust, be of a more flattering character than the present.

Davis co. washed up for the week 122 oz.—Never Sweat co. are making $10 a day to the hand.—Last Chance co. will commence to-day to wash from a strata 30 feet from the surface.—Forest Rose co. having got their drifts all cleaned out, started washing on Friday, when they cleaned up 13 ounces.—Raby co. have commenced washing, and on Saturday could find prospects of $2 50 to the pan.—Prince of Wales co. are taking out good pay from an upper strata, about 20 feet from the bed rock.

CONKLIN'S GULCH.

It is cheering to know that prospects look brighter on this gulch than they have done for some time. We were informed yesterday, on reliable authority, that the Moonlight co., situated about half a mile from the mouth of the gulch, on the south side, had struck dirt that prospected $1 75 to the pan, and had not reached the bed rock. This is important, as no gold in paying quantities has yet been found thus far up.

The Ericcson co., who have been working high ground from one of their old shafts, did well for the week, having washed up 46 oz.—The United co. took out about 18 ounces for the week.—The Reed co. washed up for the week 46½ ounces.—The Indian Queen co. are making about $20 a day to the hand. All the other claims are busy prospecting.

STOUTS GULCH.

The Floyd co. have not been able to resume ground sluicing, and will not, for some time. They are occupied in clearing out their flume.—The Alturas co. only worked three days last week, and cleaned up 152 ounces.—Jenkins co. are taking out good pay.—Mucho Oro washed up for the week 40 ounces.

BLACK JACK GULCH.

Annie Walker co. cleaned up $400 for the week ending 23rd June.—The Legacy co. have amalgated with this company, for the purpose of running a tunnel.

BEGGS GULCH.

Ancient Briton co. are finding good prospects in the gravel, but have not reached bed rock.—Small Hope co., two men were at work on this claim last week, and took out in five days about five ounces.—Another company above this are ground sluicing, and doing well.

LOWHEE CREEK.

Prospects still continue very flattering on this creek, although no developments have yet been made by the company who tapped the channel on the east bank. During the week, we understand, a large portion of the ground on each side of the company mentioned, has been staked off, and no doubt prospecting will be at once begun.

The Jenny Lind co. are engaged in clearing out debris from their tunnel, run in by the high water.—Kelly-Patch or Eureka co. are setting sluices, and preparing to clean up.—Vaughan-Sweeney co. will clean up a portion of their ground sluice this week.—Boyle co. are drifting, but have not washed any yet.—Plumbago co. are making from $15 to $20 a day to the hand.—Now or-Never co. (tunnel) have got fairly through the rock, have their sluices set, and will commence washing to-day.—Flume co. are working over old ground and making over wages.—East Bank co. are taking out about $8 and $9 a day to the hand—Moorhead co. are working old ground, and making wages. Sagemiller co. are making from $10 to $12 a day to the hand.—Chittenden co. are making $8 to $10 a day to the hand.—First Chance co. have sunk a shaft over 80 feet, in which they found good prospects, and are now putting in a pump; will be washing this week.—Calaveras co. have completed 200 feet of their tunnel, but will have 100 feet to run before they get at pay, which will occupy them ten days longer.

GROUSE CREEK.

The news from this creek is unimportant. The Heron co. have been unable to do much work this week, on account of the great distance they have to run their dirt, and the sudden pitch of the bed rock into the hill, which will necessitate their running a new tunnel, before the ground can be advantageously worked.

DAVIS CREEK.

Three companies are at work on this creek, who express good hopes of success.

CEDAR CREEK.

All the companies on this creek have got fairly to work, and are taking out more or less money.

The Aurora co. have finished their flume, which is 1800 feet in length, two and a-half feet in width, and two and a-half in depth. They are beginning to take out pay.—Discovery co.'s ground is yielding about an ounce a day to the hand.

FORKS OF QUESNEL.

Joe Copland and party were about to start from this place to prospect Rose's gulch, situated about three miles above the bridge.

CANADIAN CREEK.

The Clear Grit co. are getting indications of pay, having washed out on Saturday a little over two ounces of very coarse gold.—Miller co. have not bottomed their shaft yet.

LAST CHANCE CREEK.

Grey and company are doing extremely well. There are a number of Chinamen at work on this creek, but it is difficult to ascertain what they are making.

FROM FRASER LAKE.—Mr. Burke, a gentleman connected with the Collins Telegraph Company, who wintered at Fraser Lake, some 600 miles in the interior of the mainland, came down on the last trip of the Enterprise. He reports a severe winter at the lake. During part of the season the mercury congealed. Snow lay to the depth of three or four feet in the valleys; and in the woods it was five or six feet deep. Several head of cattle belonging to the Telegraph Company wandered off during the winter and were lost. Some twenty head of pack animals belonging to the Hudson Bay Company died during the winter. They were principally worn out by the summer's work. Communication with the other telegraph stations was had by means of snow shoes, and the line was maintained intact during the season. Small game was plentiful and our informant and the other telegraph employees managed to pass the weary time comfortably.—B. Colonist.

LOOK ALOFT.

When sorrows and doubts are gathered around thee,
Clouds darkly obscuring thy sky,
Look aloft, look beyond, there's a break in the clouds,
'Twill be sunshine and joy by-and-by.

When gathering gloom, and when sickening fears
Bring tears from thy wandering eye,
Look aloft and discover the bright star of hope,
'Twill be sunshine and joy by-and-by.

When heaven seems distant, or lost from thy view,
And calls from thy bosom a sigh,
Look aloft, for beheld the bright rainbow is there,
'Twill be sunshine and joy by-and-by.

When gathering mists of the river of death
Are dimming thy lustrous eye,
Look aloft, look beyond, there's a break in the cloud,
'Twill be sunshine and joy by-and-by.

EXTRAORDINARY STORY OF A DEAD MAN.—The following curious incident has just come to light: About twenty-one years ago, a young man named Turner was living at a large academy at Amersham, Bucks, filling the position of teacher of languages. One evening he was seized with a fit, he being subject to them—and the next morning his bedroom window was found open, and he was missing from the room. About ten days after, the body of a young man was found, face downwards, in some shallow water, and the body was at once supposed to be that of the unfortunate young man, and on a number of the scholars and the relatives viewing the body, they all identified it as that of their teacher and friend. The body in due course was interred by the relatives, and the mother took possession of a watch belonging to the deceased, and wore it till her death. A few days ago, some of the relatives of Turner received a letter from Ballarat, Australia, and were not a little surprised to find that their relative, whom they had believed to be dead and buried, and whose grave they had kept up ever since, was still alive, quite well, and in a very comfortable position.

GUNPOWDER PRESERVED IN A ROCK FOR 150 YEARS.—A remarkable instance of the undecayable nature of gunpowder has been brought to light in the quarries here the other day. On the estate of Ballachulish there are two veins of slate—the west being the first opened, but it was ceased about 100 years since. Mr. Pitcairn, the lessee, began the old quarry a few years since, and the other day the men came upon an old bore, with a woollen rag in its mouth. The workmen are interested in every fragment of antique remains and they searched the bore, and found that it contained powder, which, when brought out and exposed to dry, took fire like any other powder. It is now believed that the part of the quarry where these remains were found, has not been worked for the last 150 years.—Oban Times.

READY WIT.—A buffoon, having offended his sovereign, the monarch ordered him to be brought before him, and with a stern countenance reproached him with his crime.

"Wretch!" said he, "receive the punishment you merit; prepare for death!"

The culprit fell on his knees and cried for mercy.

"I will extend no other mercy to you," replied the Prince, "except permitting you to choose what kind of death you will die; decide immediately, for I will be obeyed."

"I adore your clemency," said the fellow, "I choose to die of old age."

A STORY is told of a young man in Freeport, Ill., who being crossed in love, attempted to commit suicide lately, by taking a dose of yeast powders. He immediately rose above his troubles.

NO REASON.—Mrs. Partington says because dancing girls are stars, it is no reason why they should be regarded as heavenly bodies.
