Vol. 4. Barkerville, Williams Creek, B. C., Thursday, October 3, 1867. No. 44.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before Chief Justice Needham.)

William Heron, sworn—I have been acquainted with Grouse creek since the spring of 1865, the Flume co. was then prosecuting their work. There were no claims located near the flume that I know of; the Heron co. was the first. The Heron co. staked off their ground fifty feet, as they supposed, from the flume; the ground was staked off in March, 1866, since that time a survey was made, and in order to have the lines correct, I requested the foreman of the Flume co. to go along with me, and point out the boundary lines. About August, 1865, I wished to stake off a claim which we called the Mount Pleasant co. I asked Cameron to point out the company's centre stake, which he did; it was a sapling, and still stands there; it is marked on the map as sapling. At the point where the sapling stood, the creek was less than 100 feet wide. I worked on the flume myself, the ground has since been worked by miners close to the flume; never heard of Flume co. claiming more than fifty feet from centre of the flume. In 1865, the ground was more valuable on the west side of the creek; I was interested indirectly in the Canadian co.; I helped to stake Canadian co.'s ground; it was supposed to belong to the Flume co. My reason for taking up the ground at the time was that we did not know whether the charter of the Flume co. would be continued, so we took up the ground in order to be first, in case the government annulled the charter of the Flume co. When I found the charter was not annulled, I sent a notice (copy read) to the foreman of the Canadian co., in which I abandoned all claim to the ground, and disclaimed all responsibility for the acts of the Canadian co. I was a member of the Black Hawk co.; did not stake off ground; the Black Hawk co. worked their ground from both shaft and incline, the work was all underground. I have been down the shaft, there is every appearance of a lead, which is a continuance of the Heron lead.

Cross-examined—The Flume co. had ceased to work when the Canadian co.'s ground was located; was not aware that Flume co. had ceased entirely. There was flume laid in 1865, none laid in 1866, but we were ground sluicing and preparing to lay the flume; there was no flume laid this year. Cameron was a member of the Mount Pleasant co., the claim was staked at the base of the hill, and hence may be 100 feet away from the centre of the flume at the lower lines, where the creek widens; at upper end, where the creek is narrower, we came as near the centre of the creek as possible. The ground between our stakes at the base of the hill, and the Flume company's ground, was worked by the American co. Have never seen the stake said to be seventy feet from the flume; the American co. worked on high bed rock in 1865. The Reed, Salt-Spring, Heppel and American companies, are all that I can remember at that time; the Salt-Spring co. is an old co., about five years, I think. Frank Perez worked further up the creek; I believe there were sixteen claims laid over by the Canadian co.

Re-examined by defendants' counsel—I Never saw any side stakes till Cameron put them in, on the recommendation of Mr. Cox. The stake called Baker's stake, does not look as if cut when snow was on the ground; do not remember stake near Conant's house.

THIRD DAY.

Thursday, 26th September, 1867.

J. M. Sanderson, sworn—Recollect when Gillette made a survey of Flume co.'s ground, in 1864. Recollect seeing on the west side of the creek a sapling cut off and squared. In 1865, when I was about to locate ground, I called on Cameron to show me his boundary, and he showed me a stake sixty feet below Connant's cabin; he said he claimed to that stake. It was all of twenty feet nearer the creek than the cabin. The flume is not more than fifty feet from that stake. I lived in Connant's cabin, and worked in front of it within fifty feet of the centre of the creek; have lived near the ground for three years. The ground has all been worked on the west side up to the Flume co.'s lines, by companies different from the Flume co. My claim commenced at the cabin, and ran up stream, and was distant fifty feet from the centre of the creek. I never saw any flume stake on the east side of the creek; never saw what is put down as Baker's stake, had there been such a stake, I could not have helped seeing it. In 1866, I wanted to record a claim 200 feet long by 50 feet wide, along the flume ground, on west side, but the recorder would not consent to it. Mr. Cox gave me permission to do so, and asked me if Cameron had set his stakes; when I told him he had, he was pleased, and remarked that he had sent Cameron an order to do so, with the view of showing miners where to pre-empt. Cameron showed me his stakes, and I recorded my ground up to them.

Cross-examined—The ground I located in 1866, was nearer the creek at the upper end, than in 1864. The Frenchman was as near the creek as I was. The Canadian co. were working near the flume, on the west side of it, six weeks ago; they were ground sluicing below the head of the flume. The ground on the west side has been worked in places less than thirty or forty feet from the flume. In going from my cabin to McWha's, I had to pass near where Baker's stake stands; I never saw that stake before this summer. I have seen a stake pointed out to me as Baker's stake; it was stuck in alongside of a small stump; there is quite a cluster of stumps where it stands. In 1864, I worked on a bench probably 200 or 300 feet from the flume. Cameron did not move me back in 1865. The flume, in front of McWha's house, runs pretty near the centre of the stream; the creek, in 1864, ran nearer McWha's house than where the flume is now laid. I never measured the distance from Connant's cabin to the stakes. Knew Baker in 1864; he was working at a saw pit on the eastern hill side.

E. C. Gillette, sworn—Am a civil engineer and surveyor; was employed in 1864 to survey the Grouse Creek Bed Rock Flume co.'s ground, by J. P. Cranford. I surveyed the line of the intended flume; he said the company wished to take up 100 feet along the centre of the whole creek. I was instructed to commence at the divide, between Grouse and Antler creeks, and stake the ground out, placing stakes at every half mile, and make a map thereof for the company. I did so; I now identify the map shown me (2nd April, 1864) as the one I made. The tracing from said map now shown me is correct; the red figures represent the numbers of the magnetic courses. The magnetic course is the centre line that I described; from this centre line, at every half mile, I always chose a sapling for a post, fifty feet from said line. These were cut off, squared, and notices tacked on them at every half-mile, on both sides of the creek. Baker's stake stands near course 21, in original map. On second July, this year, I retraced the courses by compass. Baker's stake would be thirty-four feet from the magnetic course, if the sapling point, course 21, is the proper course. This depends on whether the point marked sapling, is the true starting point of that course, and of that I am not certain. I think the sapling post is an original one; if so, it must be the lower end of course 20, which is in the canon. It is cut off six feet above ground, and squared, with old blazes and tacks on it. I retraced the courses to satisfy myself whether it was an old stake, or not; knew that if I retraced them in a crooked or narrow canon, without a correct starting point, I should be thrown out of the canon. I ran up the creek thirty-two chains, to the second mile point, which is course 15, and found myself still in the creek. This was a sufficient indication, to my judgment, though not a conclusive test, that the sapling was an old centre post; and if so, for the reasons already given, it should be the lower line of course 20.

Cross-examined—Have noticed the position of Baker's stake; can't say whether the cabin opposite to it was there at the time of the survey; know Baker; have no reason to doubt his testimony; he planted the stakes. Provided there had been no other cabin beside Connant's at that time, it is pretty good evidence that Baker's stake must be right; otherwise the cabin would be sixty feet further south; although the cabin was put in the map by sight, I don't think there could have been such a variation. On the whole, I would be governed by the courses, and these would make Baker's a side stake. The location of a cabin in a map of this kind, is not a matter of importance. I have not tried the courses from Baker's stake either upwards or downwards. I don't recollect putting in stakes between every half mile. Have no recollection of putting in permanent centre stakes. If I had a datum starting point, I could work out the courses correctly.

E. Dewdney, sworn—Am a civil engineer and surveyor; have been recently employed

OUR JUDGES.

The late excitement in relation to the Grouse Creek difficulty, has at last finally subsided. His honor Chief Justice Needham has accorded the Canadian Company all they desired—a patient hearing of their case. Had this been acceded to by Mr. Justice Begbie, much irritation would have been allayed, and a great deal of useless expenditure saved to the Colonial Exchequer. We have no desire to cast the blame upon Mr. Justice Begbie; he doubtless felt that the clauses in the Mining Act, introduced at the last session of the Legislature, were sufficient to prevent his interference in the matter; but we cannot help thinking that in this he was in error, as a clause in the Mining Act expressly provides for such a contingency, and he had the power by the 14th section of that Act "to make, repeal and alter any rules or regulations for the conduct of the business before the Gold Commissioner;" hence he could, we think, have gone into the case de novo, and prevented the vexatious delay and expense to all parties concerned in the late unfortunate affair. As the matter has turned out, however, the Government has taken the best course possible under the circumstances, and we are happy to state that all parties are agreed in thinking that Chief Justice Needham acted throughout in perfect fairness and in strict accordance with law. He gave the case his most careful consideration, and arrived at his decision after the most attentive scrutiny of the evidence. We do not feel called upon to go into the merits of the case, our readers will be able to judge for themselves, after a perusal of the evidence, which we publish as fully as possible, as well as the decision of his lordship, which we will give entire in our next issue. We can only say that Chief Justice Needham has acted throughout in a manner highly gratifying to the community, and bears with him the highest respect of the whole population of Cariboo We have perused a leader in our contemporary the Colonist and Chronicle, by which we learn that Mr. Justice Begbie is to be arraigned before the Executive Council, for some improprieties which our contemporary is not precisely informed about; but which he learns from rumors to be either the necessity which the government feels for a victim, to hide the bungling in the Grouse Creek affair, or to enquire into certain charges, to the effect that Mr. Begbie has been speculating in claims while discharging his judicial functions. We are quite of our contemporary's way of thinking, that if Mr. Begbie acted erroneously, it was from a mistaken sense of duty, but we would humbly submit that a judge of the Supreme Court should be "without fear and without reproach." That Mr. Begbie has never allowed fear to have any influence on his actions, we are prepared to believe; but we must also admit that many reproaches have been heaped upon him, possibly not always with justice. The cases of Wright vs. Cranford; Eddy vs. O'Reilly and others; the parallel case of Waldron vs. the High Sheriff, and the cases in connection with the Aurora Company, on this creek, have all been productive of much discussion. We do not pretend to assert that in any of the above named cases, Mr. Begbie did otherwise than what his position required him to do; but there was, nevertheless, a strong prejudice created in the minds of many, and we think it would have been a wise act on the part of government, if Mr. Begbie's talents had been placed at the disposal of another colony, where such prejudices had no existence. There is probably no public officer who should enjoy the public confidence to a greater extent, than a chief justice; and it is of no avail that he is otherwise irreproachable, if the public feeling is against him. "Trifles light as air," are held up as reasons for decisions on the bench, and the public is frequently led to believe that justice gives place to personal interest. We must admit that such unreasonable conclusions are highly improper, and a monstrous act of injustice to the gentleman to whom they refer; but we think it imperative on the government to spare the feelings of so high an officer as a judge, by replacing him with another gentleman, who being free from such calumnious attacks, would secure the public confidence, and live in harmony with the people amongst whom he is called to preside.

AUSTRALIA.

QUEENSLAND AND SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

People living in the neighborhood of the Agricultural Reserve, near Rockhampton, experienced a slight shock of earthquake on the 13th of May.

The diggings at the Mormish, Queensland, promise to turn up something as valuable as gold, in the shape of precious stones. Six different varieties of stone have been obtained, and forwarded to Sydney, for inspection. Crystal quartz is found in many of the Queensland gold fields, and it remains to be proved whether the specimens obtained belong to that order of crystals, or to the true diamond class.

Want of employment is severely felt by mechanics, artizans and laborers at Adelaide, and the press very strongly urges upon the government the necessity of pressing forward the public works.

Cotton picking is being actively proceeded with in Queensland. Some 200 bales have already been forwarded to Brisbane, for shipment.

Kerosene shale has been obtained near Twowoomba, Queensland.

Messrs. Duffield & Co.'s old Victorian mill, at Gawler, near Adelaide, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 23rd June. Some 10,000 bushels of wheat, and 1,000 tons of flour, besides bran and pollard, were destroyed. The property was insured for £12,000.

VICTORIA.

Later dates from Melbourne, via Sydney, are to the 28th June.

H. Willis, manager of the Colonial Bank, Tarnagulla, attempted to escape with £5,000 of the bank cash in his possession, but was apprehended before he got far.

The scheme for altering the system of primary education in Victoria has been withdrawn, and parliamentary controversy on the subject has been adjourned. The religious difficulty was the root of dissension. The bill introduced into the Parliament by the Government provided for an education unsectarian in its character; but several religious denominations offered great opposition to the scheme.

W. M. McCann, one of the members of the Victorian Legislative Assembly, has been charged at the Melbourne police court with having feloniously uttered a certain forged acceptance to a bill of exchange for the sum of £217, knowing the acceptance to be a forgery. He was committed for trial and admitted to bail.

The first part of the statistics of the colony of Victoria has recently been published. The number of immigrants who arrived in the colony during the year was 32,178, of whom 21,142 were adult males, 7,639 adult females, and 3,397 children. The number of arrivals from the United Kingdom has been 4,071 adult males, 3,133 females, and 1,310 children; total, 8,614. From foreign ports the arrivals were 1,439 adult males, 133 females, and 97 children. Of the arrivals from the United Kingdom, 3,610 were warrant holders, and 584 were Government immigrants.

Searle and Bellin have confessed to having murdered Mr. Burke, manager of the Bank of Australasia, Smythesdale, on the 10th of May, and are now awating their trial.

The works in connection with the graving dock at Melbourne, or rather at Williamstown, are proceeding but slowly. The amount at present expended on the work is over £73,000, and the final cost will probably not fall far short of £300,000.

VICTORIA ITEMS FROM COLONIST.—H. M. S. Scout arrived on the 16th from Panama, there were no cases of yellow fever aboard and the crew were all well.—It is reported that a rich vein of silver ore has been discovered between the Straits and Gray's harbor, by some parties who were cutting a trail.—Dr. Trimble has been appointed Health officer of this colony.—A man named James Hamilton got very badly burned about the face by the explosion of gunpowder at Nanaimo.—The rifle match between ten men of the fleet and ten of the Victoria Volunteers, came off at the Naval butts on 10th, and resulted in favor of the Volunteers, who scored a majority of 92 points.—A collision occurred between the ship Helios and brig Josephine, off San Juan island, but no serious damage was sustained by either vessels.

EARTHQUAKE AT SEA.—A passenger who arrived on the ship Day Dawn from San Francisco informs us that on the 7th inst., at 7 o'clock in the evening, when forty miles west of Crescent City, the ship running with full canvas set, and weather clear, a severe shock was felt. She trembled from stem to stern. The sails hung loose, dishes rattled and the vessel's headway stopped for nearly two minutes. The impression obtained at first that the ship had struck on a reef of rocks not down on the chart; but it was subsequently ascertained that she had encountered an earthquake at sea. About the same date, a slight shock of earthquake was felt along the Puget Sound shore of Washington Territory.—B. Colonist.

INTERNATIONAL RIFLE CONTESTS.—The result of the international contest for the Elcho shield, was a victory by one point for the English marksmen. The Scottish marksmen carried off the international prize at Wimbledon. They scored 1086; England, 1048; Ireland, 950. Last year, the numbers were: England, 1070; Scotland, 1052. In 1865, Scotland made 1047, and England, 1029. Next year the prize must be shot for in Scotland.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1867.

COURT OF ASSIZE.—This court was opened last Monday by his honor Judge Needham. The only case on the docket was that of William Williams, charged with felony. The grand jury having found a true bill against the prisoner, he was at once put on trial. The jury, after hearing the evidence for the prosecution, returned a verdict of guilty against the prisoner, on the second and third counts of the indictment, but recommended him to the mercy of the court. His lordship then sentenced the prisoner to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labor. Mr. Robertson acted as prosecuting attorney, and Mr. Park appeared for the prisoner.

THE decisions of his honor Judge Needham in the cases Grouse Creek Flume Company vs. the Canadian and Sparrowhawk Companies, were given on Tuesday last in favor of the Flume Company on every point. The reasons for these decisions, which were in writing, were so minutely pointed out and so cogent that they could not but carry the conviction to everyone's mind, that the decisions were rendered in accordance with the strictest principles of law and justice; and however much the losing party may feel disappointed at the result, they must, at least admit that their case has received a patient, and impartial hearing at the hands of his lordship.

AMUSEMENTS.—On Monday evening last, Professor Hermann gave a very amusing magical entertainment at the Crystal Palace Saloon, which drew a large audience, among which we observed a number of ladies. His slight-of-hand feats were cleverly executed and were greeted with demonstrations of approval. As a ventriloquist, the Professor possesses great powers, and his inimitable rendering of the character of Miss Black, as a defender of woman's rights, was hailed with bursts of laughter. He will give another entertainment this evening at the same place and hour.

A TELEGRAM was received yesterday by Mr. Brew from the Governor, stating that a telegram had been received by his Excellency from England placing the naval forces at his disposal, if deemed necessary, to quell any disturbance that might arise here. It is unnecessary for us to state that the government need be under no apprehension of any further trouble arising about the Grouse creek affair.

WEATHER.—The showers of sleet that fell on Monday last, led many to believe that the fall rains were about to set in; but the miners' hopes in this respect have been sadly disappointed, by the cold days and frosty nights that have subsequently prevailed. Everywhere the want of water for mining purposes continues to be greatly felt.

EXPRESS.—The express left yesterday at the usual hour, carrying as passengers, Messrs. C. E. Pooley, A. R. Robertson, H. P. Walker, I. Oppenheimer, W. Cochrane, T. Harvey and P. McLaren. A large amount of treasure was sent below in charge of Mr. Barnard's messenger.

NATURALIZED.—On Monday last, Fredrick Augustus Frank, otherwise named "Fritz," of Lillooet, having previously complied with the requirements of the naturalization Act, was duly admitted by Judge Needham as a naturalized citizen of Great Britain.

NEW STRIKE.—It is reported that good prospects have been obtained by a company on Peterson creek, a tributary of Lightning creek, and application has been made by them for discovery claims.

GONE BELOW.—The prisoner Wm. Williams who was sentenced on Monday last to one year's imprisonment, was sent below yesterday heavily ironed, in charge of sergeant McMurphy.

DEPARTURE.—His Honer Judge Needham accompanied by his son Lieut. Needham took his departure for New Westminster yesterday forenoon.

IT was reported last night that a company in Canon Ravine, near the head of Canadian creek, had struck rich pay. They are said to have found a piece weighing four ounces.

CHEAP FARES.—As will be seen by our advertising column, Capt. Irving is making regular bi-weekly trips between Yale and New Westminster, fare $1.

NUGGET FOUND.—Last week, a miner on Antler creek found a nugget weighing $152, on a heap of old tailings.

IF a man sells a watch for $50, buys it back for $40, then sells it for $45, how much does he make by the transaction? It looks as if he made $15, but he don't.

GREELEY says the man who pays more for shop rent than for advertising, don't know his business.

by the Flume co. to run their lines, along with the former witness. We commenced at the Heron sapling, and ran up stream thirty-two chains, following courses 20, 19, 18, 17 and 16, and running them according to the points of the compass. Baker's stump, on plan, was pointed out to me; I made an experiment to ascertain whether that stake could be a boundary stake; the result of that experiment satisfied me that it could not be a boundary stake, because in running the courses up stream, I found that the lines remained in the canon; but assuming it to be so, and working the courses of the map produced, I found that at course 21. I was sixty feet eight inches to the north, and nine feet to the east of where I ought to have been. If I ran the courses southward on the same assumption, I should land on the hill, instead of the creek. My assumption in these experiments was, that Baker's stake was a side stake. The cabin on Gillette's original plan, if measured by the scale, would be one and a-half chains long. The Baker stump does not appear to have been cut more than once. Know the Black Hawk ground; all the underground working that has been done on the disputed ground, up to 14th June, was confined to what is called the twelve feet two inches piece.

Cross-examined—My datum point was Heron's sapling. It was pointed out to me as a stake belonging to the Flume co., by Mr. Sparrow. The whole strength of my assumption that Baker's stake is not a flume stake, rests on the Heron sapling as a datum point. If I am wrong in my datum point, I am wrong in every point.

Benj. Boake, sworn—Was on Grouse creek in 1864. Worked for the Flume co. laying their flume; it was laid as near the centre of the creek as possible. Made little enquiries as to the boundaries of the ground; saw a stake in the creek, on which a notice was posted, the notice read, Grouse Creek Flume co., centre stake. It was near to a stump 200 or 300 feet above the head of the flume. I showed this post to Mr. Sparrow. I assisted to stake off the Black Hawk co.'s ground in the spring of last year, with Cameron and others; in doing so, we kept fifty feet from the flume. Have heard about Baker's stake, but can't say anything about it. The stake before described, was a sapling with the top cut off; it was standing nearly opposite the Wild Goose claim. Opposite McWha's house the creek was so wide that a small impediment would divert the stream for a considerable distance on either side. The water ran all over the ground at that point; we tried to lay the flume where the rock was lowest.

I. M. Sparrow, sworn—Am agent for the Grouse Creek Flume co.; the preceding witness showed me a post about a week ago. It was that marked on the map as Heron's sapling, and about 300 feet above the head of the flume. There are no other saplings like it in the vicinity; work was commenced on the flume ground last April, and carried on continuously till the 18th or 20th July, when we were prevented by the Canadian co. I have frequently been threatened with violence, if I continued on the ground, or appeared on it. This was prior to the location of the Sparrowhawk co.; was present in court, before Mr. Spalding, on 22nd April. The Canadian co. were not then prevented from calling witnesses; heard nothing of Baker's stake; they made no claim then of vacant ground between the Flume co. and Black Hawk co.'s claims. Booth claimed the ground as being forfeited, I think; he tendered no witnesses before Mr. Spalding.

Cross-examined—I emphatically swear that Mr. Spalding never said to Booth that he had made up his mind, and if he (Booth) was dissatisfied with his decision, he could appeal it. Don't remember hearing Mr. Spalding say anything about witnesses. The company have not attempted to lay a flume this year. Have nothing to do with the working department; am only an agent, the company having sub-leased the ground. We were working the lead from our own shaft on the disputed ground, when we were interrupted.

James Heal, sworn—Was on Grouse creek in 1865; was present at the time Cameron showed the American co. his stake. Saw the stake again, three days ago; it was a sapling squared with an axe, and is situated eighty or ninety feet above McWha's house, on west side of flume. It was fifty feet from what would be called the centre of the stream; I believe the flume is laid as near the centre of the creek as it could be. Have never seen the Baker stake; ought to have seen it if it was in existence.

Jas Laidlaw sworn—Was foreman of the Heron Co.; their ground was taken up in March, 1866; I went there in April, when the stakes were pointed out to me, they were intended to be placed 50ft. from the centre of the flume. There was a regular channel or lead in the Heron claim, which was worked up stream 400 feet, from which we took out about $140-000, up to February last. The lead runs partly on the Black Hawk and partly on the Flume Co.'s ground, and is from 12 to 18 feet wide at that point.

J. K. Suter sworn—Was Cariboo Secretary to the Flume Co. in 1864-5; there had been about $30,000 expended up to the time I left. In 1864-5 I looked at the stakes, but can't now say where they stood. We had some trouble with F. Perez. Our foreman told me he had encroached on the Flume ground, and that he ordered him off, when he went away.

Cross-examined—Perez plea was that the foreman had no right to turn him off; he did not seem to understand why a company should roam over such an extent of ground. My own impression is that the Flume Co.'s stakes were not 50 feet from the flume. Have often had occasion to go up to Baker's sawpit, but never saw any such stake as he describes; don't remember seeing any stakes between Baker's stake and McWha's house.

Wm. Cochrane sworn—Am Gold Commissioner's clerk, and have charge of the records. Rent has been paid to me by the Grouse Creek Flume Co., under their new charter for the two quarters ending 25th Sept., 1867. Several Bed Rock Flume Charters have been forfeited lately. The usual practice in such cases is for the Gold Commissioner to enter the facts of the forfeiture in a book, publish a notice at the court house door and attach a similar notice on the property so forfeited. This is all that is done. No such proceedings have been taken with the Grouse Creek Flume Co., and no entry to that effect exists in the books, either with respect to the first or second charters. Some charters have been forfeited in consequence of the non-payment of the rent.

Cross-examined—No charters have been forfeited before 1st June, 1867.

Daniel Siddall sworn—Am a shareholder in the Flume Co.; I bought shares of Baker. Sometime in March last Baker told me he would do all he could to make the Flume Co. lose their ground. I would believe Baker under oath.

After various documents and plans were put in by the defendants, the case was declared closed on both sides. By consent of both parties, all questions of estoppel were withdrawn.

Messrs. Walker and Robertson, on behalf of the defendants, then reviewed at great length, the whole of the evidence adduced, and discussed the different points of law involved in the case, but as their speeches occupied several hours in delivery, our limited space will not allow us even giving a synopsis of them.

Mr. Park followed, on the part of the plaintiffs, in an equally long speech.

His honor said that he would carefully consider the evidence and documents produced, and render his decision in writing on Tuesday.

Grouse Creek Flume Co. vs. Sparrowhawk Co.—Messrs. Robertson & Walker for plaintiffs, and Mr. Park for defendants.

By consent, the evidence taken in the Canadian case was allowed to be put in as evidence, in this case. As the title of the parties to this action hangs on the decision that will be given in the Canadian co.'s case, it was not thought necessary to adduce any further evidence than that of the foreman of the Flume co., John Adair, to show that the plaintiffs were forcibly dispossessed of the ground. Judgment was therefore postponed till Tuesday.

Saturday, 28th Sept., 1867.

By consent of the respective parties, proceedings were dropped in the cases Grouse co. vs. Canadian co., and Grouse Creek Flume co. vs. Black Hawk co.

The case of the Williams Creek Bed Rock Flume co., respondents, vs. P. H. Synon, appellant, was then called. After some discussion as to which party should open the case, it was decided that appellant should do so.

His honor, in answer to some remarks that fell from respondents' counsel, said that he did not consider the 16th section of the Gold Fields Act of 1867, excluded any party from bringing forward additional facts on appeal. It had reference simply as to facts already decided on in the inferior courts.

Mr. Robertson stated the case for the appellant. An action had been brought by Respondents in the Gold Commissioner's Court to eject appellant from 900 feet of ground lying adjacent to the Flume. At that trial the defence was limited to 600 feet, and that was all that was now claimed; this ground is known as the California Co.'s claims Since 1861, a number of transfers have been made, but the title of the appellant dates from May last. This title was derived from P. Kerwin, who purchared from J. Weston. Weston deriving his title from the Sheriff of British Columbia, who sold the property under an execution against the California Co. The appellant recorded his bill of sale on the 17th May, and entered into possession on that day. At the commencement of the working season the appellant, along with the foreman of the respondents, obtained an order to lay over the ground from the 20th May, until the respondents' flume should reach the appellants ground. This was the position of things until the 3rd June, when the respondents brought a suit of ejectment against appellant; on that trial the respondents relied on an ordinance called the Williams Creek Flume Ordinance, 1866, as giving them the title to the ground. The last annual record of the claim was made on 9th May, 1866, for three interests, and on the 14th May for the other three interests; the title remained in that state till November, 1866, when the property was sold by the Sheriff. Weston's bill of sale was recorded on the 14th November and and on the 17th May, 1867, appellant made a re-record of 6 claims; upon this state of facts it was contended by respondents that appellant had not recorded within the year, that he ought to have re-recorded three interests on the 9th May and three interests on the 14th May, 1867, and that therefore the ground became vacant or abandoned. Mr. Robertson then called the appellant

Patrick H. Synon, who being sworn, said I purchased the ground in dispute from P. Kirwin, on 17th May last. I recorded and took possession of the ground on that day; I did no work on it except measuring it off until the 21st of May last, when I went that morning with five men and commenced to ground sluice. Mr. McWorthy, the foreman of the Flume co., came to me and said if I went ground sluicing, he could not lay his flume, and proposed that if I would go and work for him until he got his flume up to my ground, he would pay me wages. To this I agreed, if the commissioner would lay over my ground. We both went to the commissioner and got the claims laid over; (order produced). After I had worked a few days, I left, and went to work on a strip of ground at the lower end of my claim. I continued working there two days, when I was summoned for trespass; this lower strip, being 300 feet, I have since given up to respondents

Cross-examined—Can't say whether I was on the ground before 17th May last, when I bought it. I have since sold my sluices, and abandoned the ground, because I could not get a hearing in court. Did not know before I purchased the ground that the record had expired.

Legal arguments were used by the counsel, on both sides, at great length. The judge, in rendering his decision, said he entertained no doubt whatever that the appellant had established his title to the land in question. The record of 17th May, 1867, complied with the requirements of the Mining Act. It was contended that the record was several days too late; but admitting that to be the case, I cannot discover that the Williams Creek Flume Ordinance 1866, confers on the respondents the right to any abandoned or vacant ground, since the passing of that measure. It can only apply to the period between the 1st July, 1864, and the date of its passage, 27th March, 1866. But even supposing that it did operate in this case, the ground was not vacant or abandoned in the popular sense of these terms. Again, the act of respondents' agent in going to the Gold Commissioner with the appellant, was an acquiescence in his title, and on that ground alone, he would be entitled to a decision in his favor. The decision of the court below was therefore reversed, and appellant to be put in possion of the land.

A FRENCH Canadian woman named Marie Bussiere, died in June last, at the age of 114 years, having resided in Canada while it was a French colony.

MYERS F. Truett, an old Victoria pioneer, has been nominated for Probate Judge, by the democrats of Missouri county, Montana territory.

THE UNIVERSAL PRACTICE of mixing Chicory and other adulteratives with Coffee, has very much damaged in public estimation, what ought to be the most delicious of Beverages. So effectually have the public been drugged with such mixtures that the true properties have been lost sight of, and many prefer a black and thick infusion to a drink rich in spirit and aroma. General as is the use of Coffee, it is little known that in condensing the vapors extracted from the berry in roasting, a liquor is obtained of the most nauseous taste, and of a scent the most unbearable. Under such circumstances it is evidently important that all the gases and fluids extracted by roasting should be carried off as quickly as possible, in order to prevent their returning again to the Coffee, which is the case in the confined cylinder. This object is admirably accomplished by the new and patent "Conical Coffee Roaster" as used by FELL & CO., Victoria, in which the berry is directly exposed to the radiated heat, and the vapor extracted carried off instantaneously. In addition to the advantage to be derived by the rapid removal of the steam containing the objectionable properties, the pure aroma of the Coffee is retained; the essential oil being preserved and not exhausted as in the Cylinder Roaster, where the Coffee is required to remain a much longer time in consequence of the steeming it undergoes by the confined steam. It is chemically impossible to retain the qualities or arrest the deterioration of Coffee when ground. The heat engendered by the process of roasting, and especially of grinding, creates an action in the elementary parts which gradually destroys its fitness for drink. But to retain the essential oil which it contains we have it encased in tins, containing from 1 lb. to 28 lbs., and which can be had from any of the respectable dealers. We can confidently recommend those who have hitherto been obliged to refrain from taking Coffee on account of its ill effects that they may use our Coffee, roasted in the Conical Roaster, being recommended by all medical men under whose notice it has been brought, and by numerous other testimonials in its favor.
