King George Visits Doctor

Pictures like this of the tired, taut face of KING GEORGE as he visited a London doctor roused speculation in the British capital that something is seriously wrong with His Majesty. Breaking occasionally into a deep cough, the King had interrupted a vacation in Scotland to confer with Dr. George Cordiner. After a detailed examination, the King returned to Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

Combined Vet Move To Put M.Ps in Limelight

Veteran's organizations throughout the Peninsula and Gambier Island will squarely put James Sinclair, M.P., on the spot with regard to future veteran legislation.

He will be urged to break party lines in order to back a pending all veteran brief which will contain requests for an across the board pension increase for pensioners and their dependents.

Both Legion and Army, Navy and Airforce Veterans in Canada, Canada's largest veteran groups will be behind the move aimed at every M.P. in Canada.

There are approximately 600,000 veterans in Canada, according to A and N Veterans National President, Major A. J. Wickens, K.C., who, with Legion National President Captain Alfred Watts, have drawn up the "put them on spot," directive going out to every unit of both organs plus many of the smaller veteran groups which operate throughout the country.

In a long distance call Major Wickens told this paper a concerted veteran effort would be made to have the government, this fall, consider the combined brief.

Prominent Vancouver M.P's, including Howard Green, have hinted this will be a tough concession to get. The government, in its special sitting, will consider only two or three major issues. It is believed

United Boards To Unite On Roads

A united Peninsula Boards of Trade effort will be made to have roads in this district improved prior to start of next year's tourist season.

The Gibsons Board of Trade delegate to the Powell River Board of Trade conference was charged by the local board with organizing an all out effort for improving road conditions here.

The Powell River Board will be asked to name delegates to a conference of local bodies at some early date in order to iron out having increased amount of road work done prior to next summer.

Suspended Sentence For Roberts, Marshall

NELSON ISLAND. — L. H. Roberts was given suspended sentence when he appeared before Magistrate A. Johnston, Monday, on charges of pointing a firearm.

H. B. Marshall also received suspended sentence when he appeared on a charge of common assult.

Both men were bound over for one year to keep the peace.

R.C.M.P. from Sechelt were in charge of prosecution.

Theft Brings Heavy Fines

SECHELT. — H. E. Hoopwood and S. E. C. Ruegg, both of Redroofs, were each fined $200 and costs when they appeared before Magistrate A. Johnston, Monday, on charges of theft.

Both men pleaded guilty.

Charges were laid and prosecution conducted by R.C. M.P.

Commission Will Hear Board Representations

Village Fathers will be approached by a man sized delegation at next session of Village Commission — "all the members, if possible, of the Board of Trade.-'

Bank manager Tom Larson was chosen as spokesman for the delegation which will request audience and will plead for better traffic regulations on wharf approaches.

The Board of Trade meeting, Monday, under Acting President Jack Marshall, heard Joe Schutz of the S and S Garage complain about "three of our gateways being blocked off by traffic awaiting the ferry. The same applies to Sunset Hardware. People wishing to enter either of these establishments when the ferry lineup is long, have to climb over bumpers or little cars."

The Board recognized the difficulty and placed onus on the village commission for clarification.

"We are paying license in this village in order to carry on our business, but we are cut off, because the village will not keep the driveways or entrance clear."

The same committee was authorized to go further, if that is necessary, by getting the Black Ball company and the government to intervene in the chaos which results from long lines of parked cars.

Criticism of the slowness in getting the Bay Road widened in order to accommodate the increased traffic was also heard.

Board Answers Water Questions

With a $45,000 water by-law in the offing, many residents of the village find themselves faced with queries re cost of installation and the method of raising money and many other details.

Gibsons Board of Trade correlating committee will try and answer these troublesome questions, but first it must know what the questions are.

A general request has gone out from the committee for all interested parties to send in their queries to either Locke Knowles or Tom Larson. These questions will be gone into by the fact finding committee and answers broadcast.

It is pointed out this committee is unbiased and has no axe to grind in the matter of getting at the facts.

Indian Reserve Will Get Increase In VON

HALFMOON BAY — Annual, Peninsula wide drive for Victorian Order of Nurses funds has fallen short of the $2,500 quota set for the area during early spring.

The VON board meeting held Wednesday, also heard complaints from the Indian Deparment, pointing out lack of attention from the nurse.

The nurse made 111 visits during August and 156 during July throughout the entire district.

The Board agreed that the Indian Department had a sound argument and instructed the nurse to increase the number of calls.

She will now visit every home in the reserve, which will give a better picture of actual conditions in the area.

Held at present in the reserve are monthly 'well baby' clinics and monthly visits are made to the Indian Residential School. The complaint emphasized lack of home visits, which will be remedied "immediately."

A move to cancel out the weekly visits to Halfmoon Bay met with stiff opposition.

The meetings will remain, as will the twice monthly visits made to Middle Point.

Five babies were born in the Peninsula during last month, according to the nurse's report.

Following is the list of results from the drive which had officially finished two months ago, but which is being continued by several of the auxiliaries in an effort to meet the quota.

Gibsons, with a quota of $925, managed to scrape up $887 while Sechelt, charged with finding $425, finished with $297. Wilson Creek made slightly over fifty per cent of its quota of $325 with $165 raised, as Roberts Creek came under the wire with $339 of a proposed $450. Halfmoon Bay reported $128 coming in out of a hoped for $225, as Selma Park with a range of $150 came in with $70.

Actual sum raised amounted to $2,056 which was made up of the above sum plus other donations and contributions, including pay for nurse's visits when the person can apy.

Paid visits can run to $600 per year, but have sometimes fallen "considerable," below that.

Refreshments were served the meeting which was under chairmanship of VON Board President, Mrs. C. Haslam, by the Halfmoon Bay Auxiliary.

The meeting was held in Redroof's Dining Room, the use of which was donated by the management.

Church is Slated For New Look With Paint

Gibson Memorial United Church will take on a new look following application of plans now being formed by the W.A. to have the exterior reshingled and painted.

This is the second major project turned out by these energetic ladies. Last year they financed repairing and painting the parsonage and construction of a new garage.

Said one church spokesman, "it is encouraging to see that this church had to be enlarged three times during its 41 years of existence. The needs of today demand that it be enlarged again soon."

Several attempts have been made to have the church, which is deemed a road hazard moved to a more likely area. These have failed owing to the proposers failing to provide money.

Before the church was built on land donated by George Gibson, church services were held at his home. He deeded the land with certain reservations to the church. There is also a private burial ground on the property wherein the Gibson family rest.

The cemetery part will be used in future to a very limited degree according to reliable sources.

Area Publicity

A major move in promoting the Sechelt Peninsula may take place Wednesday in Bal's Hall at 8 p.m. when representatives of the three boards of trade and Black Ball Ferry will gather to discuss a new program of publicity which, it is believed, will include participation by everyone.

Cooper Home is Complete Loss

KEATS ISLAND. — The home of F. Cooper was burned to the ground by a fire of unknown origin late Tuesday.

"Within seconds following the siren sounding, six boats were on their way from Gibsons loaded with volunteer fire fighters."

Assistant Ranger Stretton was loud in his praise and thanks for the fine work done by local fire fighters who were instrumental in stopping the fire's spread.

GAMBIER HARBOUR — Movies, which have been shown in Veteran's Hall, will now be shown on the last Saturday of every month at 7.15 in the same place.

Pass The Bylaw

". . . it will be one of the most important situations which we shall face for many years." ". . . it just has to go through." ". . . things will be unbearable in this area if it should fail."

These are a few of the sentiments expressed by Board of Trade executive members discussing the pending $45,000 water bylaw.

Such thought has been caused by the very ominous suggestion the bylaw can be defeated long before it sees the light of day.

There seems to be a whispering campaign against some members of the present village commission which will reflect itself in a negative vote when the important question is asked.

In the words of one prominent tradesman here, "turning down the bylaw will certainly show these people (Village Commission) a vote of lack of confidence."

One lady intends to spoil her ballot. One block of residents have every intention of turning down the bylaw rather than let certain elements have the handling of such a great sum.

This is not ghost raising. These thoughts are actually rampant in the Village of Gibsons.

They are dangerous thoughts and can only result in chaos, and a complete turning back of the wheels of progress.

Lack of confidence in some members of our present commission is perfectly justified. We think some of its members should not be allowed to handle five cents of the community's money, but that still has nothing to do with the main problem, and has really little bearing on the water bylaw.

Acknowledged weak spot in the Commission is the Water Department under James Hill. It is this department that should be actually pushing the passage of the bylaw by every means possible — but it isn't.

There is no gainsaying a large number of ratepayers have no confidence in Mr. Hall. There are many who will flatly turn down the bylaw because it is wrongly believed his department will handle the money.

This is wrong, and on this wrong the public may defeat the bylaw.

When, and if the people approve the bylaw, the work will all be laid out which will consume every penny. The Commission will have nothing to say about when, where and if the money should be spent.

Every penny is earmarked, prior to the vote. Each ratepayer will know where every penny is going. The Commission or the water department has nothing to say in the way in which the water money is spent.

When you vote "yes," on the bylaw, you will be assuring yourself of water for many years to come.

Nothing the commission does can possibly hurt the good you have done.

Vote "Yes," on the water bylaw. You can vote later on the Commissioners, who will be running for election.

. . . and furthermore, the first four pages of the paper are being set up today and tomorrow. Where are those four advance columns . . .?

Thus spake the voice of doom around about 6 this evening. Serene in the knowledge that Saturday A.M. deadline didn't loom till three more evenings had been used constructively. I arose at 7.30 this morning. Lighting the fire, supervising a three-children breakfast, making beds. mopping, sweeping, dusting, a spot of ironing and a haircut and shampoo, left fifteen minutes for coffee before the lunch hour. That was fine and allowed a free afternoon to give myself that home permanent I've dodged all summer.

This is where any males, who happen to be reading, can drop this and tune in to a good fast lecture on gardening. A home permanent is something most of you will never undergo — so the following paragraphs will be of little interest.

If my memory serves me correctly, this is the sixth HP I've had. And from each I emerge firm in the determination that it will be the last. Not that I begrudge the time and effort; not that I don't care for what I hope will be the general effect in time, but simply because during the process of getting permanently curled — fate has a bad habit of stepping in and complicating an already complicated set-up. It always leaves me no more than half a doorway removed from the observation ward of the nearest hospital. Tonight I am rehearsing greetings to the expected men in white coats.

The first time I tried the home touch came after reading an article on the profits derived from beauty aids sold to feminine public. It seemed a little superfluous to add to that staggering figure by contributing the usual fee to another Beauty Salon. I would join the ranks of those thrifty pioneers who whizzed themselves into the latest coiffure while they did the morning chores and bake a couple of cakes — nothing to it.

Buying the kit was fairly easy, once I realized that the druggist wasn't going to inform the International Wig Workers Local 000, that I was about to scab on their members.

I stopped whispering and paid my money with a sudden burst of confidence. That glow was only slightly dimmed upon reading two pages of instructions with accompanying pictures. With the help of both English and French versions, I gleaned that, if I followed instructions, and if I didn't go blind from getting the solution in my eyes, and if I didn't die in agony from getting it

Batt Promises To Try For VON Boost

HALFMOON BAY — B. M. MacIntyre, MLA, has made one attempt to have the government's annual VON grant increased from present $250 to a sum more in keeping with increased expenses and work done by the nursing service here.

The VON Board, at its regular meeting, Wednesday, heard that he will again attempt to have the increase granted.

Mr. MacIntyre had already promised, during his last visit to this area, that he will do what he can to boost the donation. This letter was a reiteration of that promise.

The Indian Department makes an annual grant of $600 most of which is eaten up by visits to the various reserves, particularly the Sechelt unit.

Quota set this year for the VON was $2,500. Actual receipts fell short of this sum.

SINCLAIR KEEPS TAB

Despite being in Geneva attending a conference on behalf of the Federal Government, James Sinclair was still interested in the advent of the car ferry.

Through his secretary, the M.P. requested that he be kept up to date with recent improvements and services.

MUCH ADO

in an open cut, I stood a fair chance of being the possessor of "shining glory" some hours later.

I'll refrain from harrowing you with a detailed account of "parting", "winding", "saturating with solution", "test curls", etc. Four hours from the time of starting, and two nervous collapses later, I emerged with half of an HP.

The other half went down the sink with the last of the neutralizer, which is what puts the permanent in HP. The result was somewhat similar to a finger-wave in a November fog. Still, I had done it myself. There was some curls, and I had united with the workers of the world to help out excess profits.

This lasted three months. Time having healed the first wounds, I embarked on the second. This was fairly routine, and I cut about half an hour off the time as well as quite a bit of hair that I couldn't put back. I got pnuemonia a few days later so it didn't matter.

HP 3 is memorable for the fact that I got hit in the nose and by the time we had mopped up gore and solution, and got my hair into the final stage of future elegance, there was only energy and time left to boil eggs for dinner.

Four and five were respectively too short and too long. Today I felt I had achieved the ultimate in professional jobs. Not too much nor too little curl. The right length; the minimum amount of time. Today I felt that I had earned an evening of utter relaxation — "What fools these mortals be."

". . . Yes, sir! . . . No, sir! . . . Very well, sir! I'll have it on the 7 a.m. bus tomorrow morning. Yes, sir! I'll remember that from now on, the deadline is on Wednesday morning! . . . Yes, sir! . . . YES, SIR!

Taxi Service is Scored By Board

Criticism was levied at the four Gibsons taxis during the recent Board of Tade meeting.

One member pointed out the shortage of taxis during weekends and the habit of "one or two of them being off the stand for a whole day without any thought of substitution."

Joe Schutz, ex-taxi operator, pointed out this could be done under the taxi franchise, but suggested a meeting with operators and a Board committee in order to iron out the difficulty.

old age pensions, and the sending of troops to Europe, will be main issues at stake.

In outlining the revolutionary move, Major Wickens said, "it is the greatest combined move ever made in our history. Never have the two veteran organizations been so strongly behind a specific attack."

During the last sitting of parliament, the govenrment had given a two millon dollar grant to veterans who were unemployable. Single veterans would be in receipt of unemployability if in receipt of 35 per cent pension while married would be elegible if in receipt the recent "handout."

It is estimated that less than four per cent of the 162,000 war pensioners would gain by he recent "handout."

Howard Green, M.P., guest speaker with Major Wickens at a recent meeting in Gambier Veterans' Hall, minced few words when he called it a "handout to head off an across the board claim for increases following increases in the cost of living."

Wickens points out that the government will, this fall, have to take more than just a cursory glance at the pending brief which will go all out for increased payment of the old age pension to veterans with frontline service when they reach the age of 60.

Board Water Committee Will Be Fact Finding

All ramifications of the pending $45,000 water bylaw will be given a "thorough airing," according to Locke Knowles and Tom Larson, now heading a Board of Trade committee charged with "getting all the facts on this important legislation."

The committee which will include Jack Marshall and A. E. Ritchey, will correlate all information; what is needed in the way of increased water service, what it will cost the average taxpayer, how will costs be distributed and in what proportion, who will benefit, will the present plan be sufficient, and many other angles now disturbing the public.

It was pointed out at the Board of Trade meeting, Monday, many people who will vote on the bylaw are still unaware of the true picture.

The Board committee was charged with getting facts and letting the village know the actual conditions now existing.

It is believed the committee is planning distribution of a pamphlet along the same lines as that used by the School Board during the bylaw, which will ask and answer questions.

A public meeting with an engineer to speak with authority, is also planned for the future.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

On a children's quiz show, a boy about seven was before the microphone. "It's man's best friend," began the M.C., "and the word begins with 'D'."

"Dame," the youngster replied instantly.

Change in Offing For Salmon Rock

In order to "tie in" Gibsons with the already famous Salmon Rock, the Board of Trade will appraoch James Sinclair, M.P., with a view to having the name of the famous rock changed from its present Home Island to Salmon Rock.

The Board's executive, Tuesday, heard about one man who had roamed the Sound in his own boat for two weeks and still unaware that he had been fishing in the vicinity of the famous lurking spot for salmon.

Admiralty charts show our renowned area as Home Island. The Board will attempt to sell the closeness of the Rock to the village in order to cash in on its already wide publicity.

how many managers do you know personally?

Look around you! There are quite a few of them. Some manage stores, the corner grocery, the barber shop, the drug store—some run service businesses, the shoemaker, the doctor, the dentist, the service station operator. You probably know someone who operates a larger business too.

Just think about them for a minute. By-and-large aren't they decent respectable people, wanting the same things out of life that you do. By-and-large don't they treat their employees well and do the best they can with the business they have?

You wouldn't believe a stranger telling you lies about someone you know well! And generally speaking you discount malicious gossip about casual acquaintances, so when you hear managers in general criticized the only fair thing to do is to compare them to the ones you know.

If you do, isn't it likely that they are, on the whole, a pretty decent group of people?

BY GYPSY TOWERS

Happy days are here again at Bonnie Brook. Mrs. Farnsworth back on the job after a very interesting and extended visit with her daughter and son in law, Dr C. B. Newmarch of Calgary with their two children. After spending a month in Calgary and getting Beverley well recovered after the advent of Marian Jean, the whole family motored from there to Fernie, then down through Idaho to Spokane, Washington, up through Bonner's Ferry and toured the Arrowhead in the old paddle wheeler "Minto", and via train from Revelstoke to Vancouver. Mr. Farnsworth decided by that time he needed a vacation, so he hopped aboard the good ship "Quillayute" and met the little lady in town where they both attended the christening of Nancy Jean Mair at Chown United Church by the Rev. Packham. Now back and all set for the long winter ahead.

Thanks to a cheering visit from brother Joe Dykes and sister, Miss Maria Dykes of Victoria, James Dykes is picking up wonderfully. Mrs. A. B. B. Hill entertaining the ladies of the St. Bartholomew's W. A. mystifying all with a three headed tomato in the exact formation of a club, and the most beautiful scarlet. What a green thumb she must have. Mrs. Bow entertaining once again with a Scottish Country Dance in honor of her houseguest, Mrs. Thomas Bingham of Vancouver, who is enjoying a much needed holiday after her strenuous teaching sessions at the Park Pavilion and various dance groups.

Mrs. F. J. Townsend and daughter Lena back from their very exciting and profitable motor trip to Seattle and way points. They were accompanied by granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Cowan and Mrs. Cowan Sr., of Vancouver.

And the gorgeous summer weather still prevails. What is Old Man Winter going to cook up for us after this?

Johnston Wins Cake

SECHELT. — Captain Andrew Johnston with ticket number 3453 was winner of the three tier cake raffle held under sponsorship of St. Vincent's Mission.

Made by the Sisters at the Residential School, the cake was recently raffled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mayne.

In a recent story on Capt. Johnston, the Coast News credited the magistrate with membership in Selma Park Community Association. This was an error.

"What's new?"

AS HE PULLS UP at the end of his day's run, it's just his friendly way of saying "hello". But if there is some important development in town, he expects his friend the bank manager will know about it: . . . plans for enlarging the school . . . the chance of a new factory opening up . . .

It's part of the bank man's job to know his community. His customers expect him to know "what's new" in other parts of Canada and elsewhere, too . . . business facts, leads to new markets at home and abroad for farm as well as factory.

You will find your bank manager well posted, and ready to serve you. Chartered banks work that way.

Ferry Fund Closed

Only one small bill is outstanding following tabled returns from the Ferry Day Committee, which disclosed total costs of the day-long celebration amounted to $1662.

This was raised by a $521 local merchants' contribution and donations from 15 outside firms interested in the welfare of the area.

In presenting the figures, Locke Knowles pointed out there are permanent assets from the heavy spending.

"We have the 'Welcome' sign at the end of the wharf which cost $250, not counting the labor donated by Bill Smith and his men, who erected the huge structure."

Gibsons now has $275 worth of flags, rope and bunting which can be used again.

Ten tables were constructed for the ferry day, these are still available for use at some future date.

Outside bathrooms are still available and will be loaned to the Kinsmen Club for their new park. Labor in constructing these four buildings was donated by Gibsons Building Supplies.

According to Mr. Knowles (ferry day chairman C. P. Ballentine was unable to attend the meeting), "there was no defecit and the books are now closed."

A vote of thanks to the committee and all they who donated labor and time so generously during the recent celebration was read into the minutes. Bob Burns moved the thanks.
