Fruit, Flowers, Fudge, Featured at Fall Fair

"Most successful yet," is the way the Howe Sound Fair Committee describes the fair held last Friday and Saturday in Gibsons. Three buildings were used for the exhibits, all chock-a-block with displays, and a good crowd was out all through Friday evening and Saturday to see the show.

The school hall showed the home cooking, canning, vegetables, and flowers. On entering the building, one saw long rows of tables spread out, laden with cakes and candy, peas and potatoes, sweetpeas and canned berries, with the lovely display of begonias by A.R. Reeves of Roberts Creek acting as the most beautiful of backdrops.

Mr. Reeve's display, alone, was well worth the visit, but it was only one of many fine displays from Peninsula gardens.

In the other corner, young Bill Jackson had set up his electric train, together with a home made packing house, houses, cars, boats, and an aircraft overhead. His display drew a large crowd from the younger set, as well as adults who were impressed by the ingenuity shown by the young lad in arranging his display.

Awards were not settled by the time this issue of the Coast News went to press. Winners will be announced in the next issue of this paper.

The Parish Hall housed the handicrafts exhibits, and the judges as well as all who saw them, were highly impressed by the calibre of work shown. The old Legion Hall was used for the exhibits of school work, including clay modelling and notebooks by the students.

The committee in charge of the Fair told the Coast News that they were very pleased with the exhibits and with the attendance, and they wish to thank all those who assisted in in any way, and particularly do they appreciate the support received from Roberts Creek and Wilson Creek.

The Gibsons camera club showed a small exhibit of photographs in an anti-room of the main hall.

Norman Seargent, chairman of the Fair Committee, stated that the dance Saturday evening was also a success.

"If we had had two more couples, we would have had to move a wall of the building," he said.

P.N.E. Circus Stars

New Bowling Alley Opens Labor Day

The Peninsula's ultra-modern bowling alley at Sechelt will be open for play on Labor Day. The big building, in the very hub of Sechelt, contains eight alleys, now being finally sanded and oiled ready for use.

On entering the bulding one is immediately impressed with the modern brightness of the building. Everything in the structure is of latest design, including the curved benches for spectators, and the indirect lighting.

A coffee bar at the entrance to the building will also sport the modern of equipment.

Bowling shoes may be rented at the bowling alley. Leagues are now being formed, and full details for those interested in league games will be carried in the next edition of the Coast News.

School To Re-open September 3.

It may be bad news for the youngsters; but many of the parents will breathe a sigh of relief. School doors will re-open in 12 days.

Labor Day falls early this year - on September 1. Teachers are expected back on the job on September 2, and the following day, Wednesday, the young fry will take their seats again for the fall term. They will remain at school the full day Wednesday.

THREE FINED AT SECHELT

R.C. Evans appeared before Magistrate A. Johnston of Sechelt, pleading guilty to the charge of driving without due care and attention. He was fined $20 and costs. Alex McLeod and David E. Hammer, both of Vancouver, were fined $25 and costs for speeding. Both pleaded guilty before Magistrate Johnston.

Pender Harbour Regatta Is Outstanding Success

It was one of those days which calls for superlatives. It was one of the biggest, brightest, and best. The weather co-operated one hundred percent with Pender Harbour last Saturday for their sixth annual regatta, held this year at Madeira Park where a good crowd of spectators lined the wharf and the foreshore to see boys and girls, men and women take part in the well arranged program. Out in the bay, and along the floats, the boats flew flags and pennants. And there were boats aplenty - from dinghies to a steam yacht.

The regatta got under way with Rev. Alan Greene making a short address of Welcome.

Events opened with the best decorated boat parade, the entries showing a good deal of hard work and preparation and not a little ingenuity. While every entry deserves applause for co-operating to make the event a success, applause, too, must go to Bernice Fisher for the well-organized opening event of the big day.

Juniors took to the water in the morning for their races, and after a short recess the adult aquatic events were run off. During the ladies' 75 yard swimming race, one of the contestants became exhausted but had the presence of mind to turn over on her back and float. She was brought to shore by Karen Bergenham, one of the racers.

Two novelty events were a humorous water ballet act by three men dressed as ballet girls, and a lovely precision swimming number done by two visiting aquatic stars.

The two lovely members of the Royal Lifesaving Society who did the precision swimming number were Sybil Berry and Diane Johnson.

The finfire show was a credit to the committee in charge. Like most sports programs, the program got behind schedule and a few sunburned spectators left before the final races. And, like most such events, the crowds jammed the floats, ignoring the barriers and the good-natured requests by the master of ceremony to stand back, please.

During the afternoon, an aircraft was on hand to take all and sundry for ten minute rides over the Harbour - for a fee, of course.

Winners in the various events were:

Best decorated boat, C.E. Hassan first, and Mrs. Murdock second. Most novel boats, community club first and Redroofs' Indians second. Most comical boat, for the Coast News cup, Harry Reiter and P. Daly.

The swimming event for children six and under was won by Peter Lee who also won a cup for being the youngest swimmer to enter the events. He was four years of age!

Girls swimming, 9 and under: Roberta Merrilees, Allison Bagshaw, and Beverly Dubois. Boys, 9 and under: John Huntley, Tom Taylor, and Bill Davidson.

Girls, swimming, 12 and under: Katherine Bagshaw, Anne Robinson, and Lynn Campbell. Boys: Craig Campbell, Mike Whitaker, and Brian Cornwall.

Girls, 15 and under: Gail Merrilees, Katherine Bagshaw,

Salvation Army Band Heard Here

Salvation Army bands from the "Sally Anne" camp at Hopkins Landing played in Gibsons Sunday evening in a concert which, despite the cool evening, brought warm praise from all listeners. The massed bands comprised nearly fifty pieces, and there was a choir of 25 girls to add variety to the concert.

Opening with "The Queen", the gathering was led in prayer by Major Ivan Halsey while Instructor G. Lewis read a Bible message.

Over thirty cars were parked on the Kinsman Memorial grounds while others parked along the edge of the road. Spectators sat on the new covered seats, on open benches, in deck chairs, and on the tennis court bank to listen to the numbers.

The musical program started with a march Comradeship, by A Band, followed by a vocal selection, Strength to Strength, by the choir. B Band then played a march, The Saviour's Crown, followed by another vocal selection, Ranks of Truth.

The program followed the same program that was presented the following evening for the final festival and presentation of awards in the Vancouver Temple of the Salvation Army.

A cornet trio pesented The Battle Cry, following which "Max's Midgets," the nickname for the young C Band played a hymn tune and Harold Geinger played a cornet solo. A Band then played In My Redeemer's Praise, followed by a vocal solo by Mary Martin, and a selection by B Band.

Girl's choir sang The Call of Youth which was followed by a march by the instructors entitled Anthem of the Free. The United Students massed their voices for a group of campfire hymns, and the band played the Glorious Standard.

The concert, sponsored by the fire brigade, was held in aid of the Kinsmen Club playground fund and the Salvation Army. But, when half the $45 proceeds were turned over to Laurie Speck for the Kin fund, he in turn, turned the Kinsmen share back to the Salvation Army.

"The Army is doing a great world-wide work," he said. "There is no organization more deserving".

Concert concluded with the girl's choir singing Out of Bondage, and a selection, The Call of Jesus, by the massed bands.

During the last numbers the park was brightly lighted by the circle of cars, spotlighting the band.

First Vehicle Makes Trip to Port Mellon

First vehicle over the road from Gibsons to Port Mellon made the trip in one and a half hours, according to Gordon Ballentine who made the history-making trip along with Bill Brandon in a jeep. Bill Brandon who has some equipment working on the road made the trip last Friday from Gibsons to the "pub" at Seaside Park.

The road, of course, is not yet open to vehicular traffic. Two bridges have yet to be built; the jeep going down one side of the ravine and up the other.

"It was no trip for anything but a four wheel jeep," Gordon said. "We had some rough going in parts.

"But what impressed me was the scenic potential of the highway. We, in Gibsons, had merely asked for a road linking Port Mellon and its payroll with Gibsons, but we did not realize that what we will get will be the loveliest scenic road in the province.

"I was also impressed," Gordon continued, "by the excellent job that is being done on the road. The highway is wide, the curves good, and around each curve is a new scenic vista beckoning the visitor. When the finishing touches are put on, we'll have a highway we can be proud of."

The trip by Gordon and Bill marks the beginning of a new era that has been awaited here at Gibsons ever since around 1917. The fact that the husky little jeep made the trip last week means that it won't be long before vehicular traffic is going over the route to view the wide, sweeping curves, and the scenic beauty.

Greeters Name Ernie Pearson

Ernie Pearson, Union Estates manager at Sechelt, has been named first vice-president of the British Columbia Branch, Hotel Greeters of America. Having served as second vice-president, he has now stepped up to first vice-president and a director of the B.C. organization for hotel men.

Earlier this year, Mr. Pearson attended a convention of American hotelmen in Seattle.

Mrs. C. Maclean Laid to Rest

Funeral services were held in Roberts Creek at 10 o'clock yesterday for Helen R. Maclean who passed away Monday at her home at Roberts Creek.

Service was also held in West Vancouver United Church yesterday afternoon, and interment was in Capilano View Cemetary.

Surviving is her husband Colin, of Roberts Creek, a sister in New York and a cousin in Edmonton.

Mrs. Maclean was well known in musical circles, especially in West Vancouver, where, before moving to the Peninsula, she was a soloist and choir leader in the West Vancouver United Church.

Garbage disposal

It would be folly, indeed, for us to wait until the polio or some other disease hits us before we do anything of a concrete nature to get rid of the piles of tin cans and other garbage around our back doors, in the vacant lots, and strewn along the lanes. With the long, dry spell making burning impossible, it looks as if the only other solution is for each one of us to take our garbage out in a boat and dump it in Howe Sound; or for the village to institute a garbage pick-up system.

One of the difficulties with the latter is that everyone wants the village to start garbage collections, but no one wants an increase in taxes. With Gibsons property taxes the lowest of any village in B.C., the commissioners are finding it practically impossible to keep up with the present essentials without taking on the added cost of garbage disposal.

Another difficulty is that the village cannot dump its garbage anywhere it pleases. A suitable site for disposal is not easy to find. On the hand, a million other towns have solved the problem of where to put their waste. Why not Gibsons?

Notwithstanding the difficulties of disposal and costs, the problem of what to do with garbage is a serious problem. But the problem should not be hard to solve, if we go at it the right way.

Our low tax rate

Last month, Gibsons gained $7218 from the SS & MA (3 percent) tax. That is 150 percent of what the village gained in property taxes for the year. One-and-a-half times as much!

According to a high official of the departmental of municipal affairs in Victoria, this was never meant to be.

Gibsons he said, is using the SS and MA gift to keep its taxes the lowest in the province. Somebody termed the village "a parasite". And the official said that unless the village carries its full share of the load, the SS and MA distribution set-up will have to be altered.

Last year Gibsons property taxes amounted to $4760; the SS and MA tax amounted to $9562; and the businessmen paid $1604 in trade licences.

The high amount paid into the village coffers from trade licences is away out of line with other villages. Gibsons businessmen pay one-third what the property owners pay. The only other village in B.C. coming anywhere near that figure, collects 16 percent of its total from the business licences. Most villages show less than 10 percent from the businessmen.

It is not that the trade licences are too high here; it is, rather, that the property taxes are away too low. The village is having a tough job to keep up to its present expenses without adding the burden of garbage collection - which is badly needed.

Indications are that the village tax rate will have to be pulled up more in line with other villages. That will mean quite a steep increase.

Reader's Right

Editor, The News,
Sir: —

I am very appreciative of Mr. Humphries exasperation in his letter on "Dusty Roads" in your recent issue. My opinion of all and sundry regarding roads is quite well known in this portion of McKenzie riding.

We are now however entering a new era in political management and I am hopeful that the new Government's policy in regard to making new roads or highways in the district can be changed in at least one respect. That is the making of new roads should be handled by local men and machines, there are plenty of both in the district now.

Having been in the road business more or less I am certain that better results will be obtained in this way. The frivolous waste of money in surveying in this type of terrain is one very bad feature. All that should be necessary is to survey the location and then an occasional consultation is all that is needed.

What the little army of surveyors is doing now on the Port Mellon road is anybody's guess. This much maligned piece of road has already been surveyed four times to my knowledge, furthermore the writer and two men ran a profile of the proposed road from this end to Hillside in two and a half days and presented it to the then Minister of Public Works, Mr. Carson. The peculiar antics that have gone on since then on this piece of road are beyond my comprehension as the job was given to a supposedly knowledgeable contractor who got the job for $150,000 more than I figured the road could be built for minus bridges. I believe the new Government might be swayed to start a new deal all the way round and try something different as we surely could not do any worse than has been done in the past. Mind you, there are 48 ridings in the Province and having recently covered some of these ridings which are road burdened I take my hat off to some of the achievements of the recent Government. For instance the Fraser Canyon is one place where it requires large ideas and local yokels would be out of place, but our setup here is totally different.

I can assure Mr. Humphries that we have no monopoly of dust. I saw a field of alfalfa up near Barriere that was white with dust halfway across the field and I would say that man or beast could not touch that hay until rain came and this was a chronic state for miles. In closing, my advice to the local powers that be is to write to Mr. Gaglardi or Mr. T. Gargrave and make some definite recommendations in a general way as there is not a shadow of doubt that the Peninsula has moved into a traffic situation that will rapidly deteriorate our gravel roads and highways into a hopeless mess.

Photography Hints For Amateur Fans

One of life's big disappointments is to see a photograph that you treasure fading with the years. It may be the last photograph taken of your mother before she passed away, a snapshot of a son killed overseas, or a group of the old gang before the matrimony bells rang.

And it is fading. Why?

Hypo is probably the cause.

Hypo is a chemical, more commonly known as a Fixer, which is used in a darkroom to stop the development process. It "fixes" a photograph so that it will not gradually darken in the sunlight as does a portrait proof. Sometimes the photo finisher does not wash the pictures thoroughly after they come out of the fixing bath and the hypo is not thoroughly washed away. This hypo attacks silver salts, fading the photo with the years.

That is the reason some photographs fade.

But there are other reasons.

Hypo is a common chemical. It is used in the manufacture of fine, white paper. So that, if you put a photograph in a book printed on good varnished stock, (like the National Geographic Magazine) the pictures will fade in time because the hypo in the paper attacks the picture. Far better to wrap it in a sheet of paper like that used by the Coast News. It contains much less hypo. Better still, use a rough, black paper, like a photograph album; it contains a minimum of hypo.

Printer's ink contains hypo. Ink on the pages of a book will fade a photo in time. Many pastes contain a high percentage of hypo making them poor bets for pasting pictures in your photo album. Most of the fade trouble, I believe, stems from the paste.

If you want to keep your photographs 20 years or more, don't use ordinary school paste or ordinary mucilage for your photos. Be sure that the paste contains a minimum of hypo. I have had good success with tire-patching compound.

If you want to keep your negatives for years, it is better to put them in a cheap manila envelope than in a good white one. But bear in mind that the paste that holds the envelope together is a hypo hazard.

Above all don't touch the negatives. If you have to pick them up, get hold of them gently by the edges. Fingerprints can eat right into a negative and spoil it forever.

LIBRARY SPACE NEEDED

The Provincial travelling library in Gibsons must be moved immediately. Anyone willing to give space in their home for the books is asked to get in contact with Mr. D.F. Donaldson, custodian, immediately.

The Library is open two hours each week. It offers a worthwhile service, and it is hoped that someone will offer space for the books

IF YOU NEED A PERSONAL LOAN
THINK OF "MY BANK" FIRST
B of M Personal Loans Cost
½ of 1 percent a Month

There are times of emergency or sudden opportunity when you need cash in a hurry. And you may find that paying cash for a big job or purchase is much more convenient and economical than buying by bits and pieces. Your best plan then is to pay a call on Tom Larson, manager of the Bank of Montreal in Gibsons, Sechelt or Port Mellon and talk to him about a personal loan.

These B of M Personal Loans are low-cost - 6 percent per annum, and you pay interest only on what you still owe. If you borrow $100, and repay over a year in monthly instalments, it will cost you just 27 cents a month. The interest on other amounts is in proportion.

If you have a regular income and are in a position to repay, there is money for you at the B of M. Mr. Larson will always be happy to talk over any financial problems you may have - in complete confidence, of course. Lending money is his business, and he deals with all comers according to the bank's guiding principle: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour."

Port Mellon Briefs

by Mrs. Swan

Visit of the "Royal Star" to Port Mellon wound up with a ball game between the crew of the ship and the crew of the mill. Rules put the game into the category of something between softball and rounders, with a touch of cricket thrown in. The game was finally called, with the score tied, when the tide came up and washed away first base. So, players and spectators moved over to Seaside Park tavern where refreshments were supplied by Mr. R. Paradis, Howe Sound Pulp manager.

Previously, the ship had been open to visitors on Tuesday night and everybody in Port Mellon turned out to look her over. While the big Blue Star ship was here, the officers were royally wined and dined by Port Mellon management.

Now that she has sailed away, with her 1,000 tons of Kraft pulp, we'll no longer hear "Where's the pub, chum?' And we shall miss it.

The Chris Woods spent an enjoyable holiday in Victoria visiting old friends. No sooner had they got home than their son phoned from Prince Rupert to say that his wife had presented him with an 8 pound son. Mrs. Wood has now left for Prince Rupert by air to help out when the baby comes home.

Also holidaying in Victoria were Mr. and Mrs. Wally Brown, where they enjoyed some good games of golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Booth have returned from a trip through the Okanagan and down to Spokane. Weather very hot, they report. They are glad to be back to the breezes of Howe Sound and are spending the remainder of their vacation taking trips in their speedboat.

Mrs. Arthur Mailes, a former Port Mellonite, spent several days visiting the Harris' family.

Janet Swanson celebrated her birthday by inviting her inviting her friends to a beach party.

Jimmy Boa had a party for his eighth birthday. Refreshments were served on the lawn, the hot dogs and ice cream enjoyed by all.

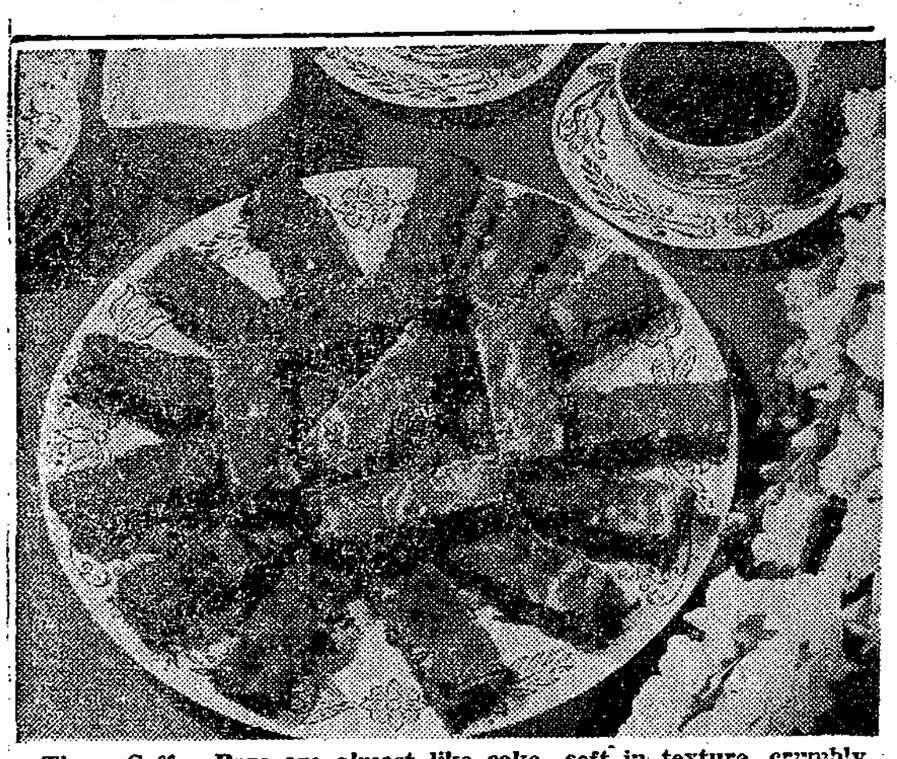
RECIPE HINTS



These Coffee Bars are almost like cake—soft in texture, crumbly and delicious. Flavored with cinnamon and topped with a coffee glaze, they make a fine dessert in themselves.

Coffee Bars

One cup golden raisins, 2/3 cup strong coffee, ½ tsp. cinnamon, 2/3 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1½ cups sifted flour, ½ tsp. baking powder, ½ tsp. baking soda, ¼ tsp. salt.

Combine raisins, coffee and cinnamon; let stand. Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add raisin mixture. Spread batter in greased shallow pan, 10" x 15" x 1" (jelly roll pan). Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 20 to 25 minutes. While warm, spread with coffee glaze made by adding enough strong coffee to 1½ cups confectioners' sugar to get a thin, spreading consistency. Cut bars when cool.

Wonderland Camp Presents a Circus

Wonderland Camp for Girls, at Wilson Creek, was a circus tent on Sunday for the last-of-the-season visitors. The girls prepared the program without assistance, printed their own placards, and spun their own line of ballyhoo. And, like most circuses, the ballyhoo was greater than the performance.

The program started with a parade of the performers, including Indians, barkers, and the four barnyard fowl which started off the circus program with a barnyard quartette. Next came a juggling act, the Siamese twins, and then a well-done tumbling act. The show ended with a hula dance in wicky-wacky style.

Over in one corner, an Indian soothsayer had pitched her tepee and the camp guests lined up to hear their fortunes.

The girls also entertained the guests with square dancing and with camp songs, before afternoon tea was served on the campus. A highlight of the tea hour was the cutting of the birthday cake marking the fourth anniversary of Wonderland Camp.

Mrs. C. Forst, owner of the camp, reported that the camp had enjoyed an excellent year with some of the girls staying on as long as one month. The camp was to have closed on August 23, but owing to the fact that several girls wished to stay on, the closing date has been advanced to Labor Day.

During the afternoon, a table of handicrafts was displayed, and two of the girls demonstrated weaving.

WATER BOARD MEETING

Redrooffs Water Board held a general meeting last week, at the home of Mr. C. Dalton. President Charles Lunn in the chair.

Chief item of discussion was the development of the present water system. This would call for a dam 1,000 feet from the end of the present supply, and would impound more than two million gallons of water.

The board could then extend its services to many more than the twenty-three now being supplied. Further information can be had by writing Secretary A.T. Campbell, or Treasurer H.E. Hunt, both of Redrooffs.

The meeting then became a social evening, and many compliments were tendered the host on the quality, and flavour of the "water" served.

FAREWELL PARTY

A farewell party was held last Saturday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lyons, for Mr. Richard Laird. He has been recalled into the R.C.A.F. with commission of Flying Officer. He leaves for London, Ontario en-route to Florida this week-end. Mrs. Laird, Susan, Carol and Ricky will stay in Redrooffs until F. O. Laird is stationed at a permanent base.

Among the guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson, Mr. and R. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. B. Fearnly all of Sechelt; Mrs. Croucher of Halifax, Mr. and Earl Laughlin and Neil. Mr. and Mrs. P. Welsh, Mr. and Tag Nygaard, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Tchaikowsky, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kolterman, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cooper, all of Redrooffs and Halfmoon Bay.

An Indian sweater was presented to Richard as a remembrance gift along with the good wishes and au-revoirs of his friends and neighbours.

SWEETPEA ODDITY HAS MANY BLOOMS

An oddity brought into the Coast News office this week, is a sweetpea stalk with eight large - sized blooms on it, making the single stalk look like a small bouquet. The bloom was grown by Mr. and Mrs. Clare Chamberlin of Gibsons.

The stalk appears to be a double stalk grown together as one; thus the reason for the profusion of blossom.

The flowers are a pale blue color, and the miniature one-stalk bouquet has been displayed in the Coast News window.

Phyllis Clayton Weds In Sechelt

St. Hilda's Anglican church was beautifully decorated with white and pink gladiolus on the occasion of the marriage of Phyllis Muriel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.S. Clayton, to Roy Cameron Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Morris of Raddison, Sask. Rev. H.U. Oswald officiated at the ceremony for which the bride was gowned in white taffeta, bouffant style, with lace overdress. Her head-dress was tiny rose buds and tuber roses and full-length veil. She carried Talisman roses and white heather.

Miss Barbara Bigans of Victoria was bridesmaid, and was charming in pale yellow organdie over taffeta with large picture hat of the same color, and she carried mauve gladiolus and yellow carnations. Best man was Douglas Mack of Edmonton. Ushers were brothers of the bride, John and Dick Clayton. Mr. Sydney Redman of Vancouver played the organ during the ceremony.

Over one hundred guests gathered in the Legion Hall for the reception which followed the wedding ceremony. The young couple left on a motoring trip of Vancouver Island before returning to Victoria where they will reside.

Veterans Asked to Fill Questionnaires

With so many derogatory remarks about the Dominion government's action with referece to War Veterans' Allowance, it has been decided to do some questioning among the veterans concerned. Not one man among those asked was anything but highly incensed over the new Bill and the treatment the veterans are receiving from the government.

Speaking later to an official of the local branch of the Legion, it has been drawn to the attention of the Coast News that the Dominion Command of the Legion has sent out a questionnaire which they request all recipients of WVA to fill in so that they may have adequate data from which to make representations requesting immediate upward revision of the monetary scale in order to bring the standard of living of the veterans up to a reasonable standard.

The local secretary of the Legion, E. Sargant, has these forms for all who wish to help.
