34 piece cadet band for July 1 parade

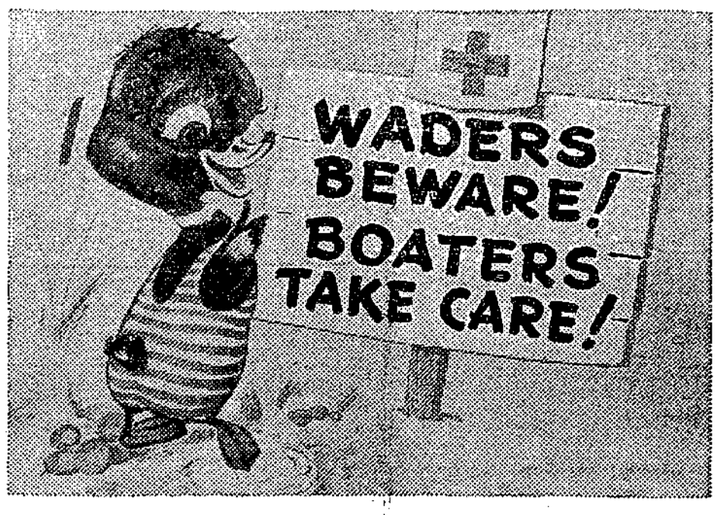
TRAP SHOOTING RANGE OPENS

Sunday, June 21, will see the official opening of the latest trap shooting range of the Sechelt Peninsula. Trap enthusiasts in this area have anxiously awaited the completion of this project, which was begun last February by Gibsons Rod and Gun Club.

During the four ensuing months, club members donated their time and equipment to clear and level the two acre, fan-shaped area; and to build necessary fixtures to accommodate trap fittings. Local businesses who contributed freely of their time and equipment were Bob Nimmo, Ed Shaw, Smith and Peterson Construction Ltd., Walt Karateew, Mel Hough and R. Ritchey. Without this generous assistance, the project would not have been possible.

Trap shooting was introduced to the peninsula recently when Sechelt Rod and Gun Club built a range at Wilson Creek. Great interest was created in this increasingly popular sport and a demand grew for facilities in the Gibsons area. And after many months of hard work Gibsons Rod and Gun Club is justly proud in offering sportsmen in the vicinity another fine recreational facility.

Participants, novice or pro. and spectators will be welcome on Sunday at the opening. The range is located two miles west of Gibsons, opposite Seaview Cedetery, on the highway. This is an interesting spectator sport, there is ample parking space and refreshments will be available. Trap shooters from Sechelt R & G will be on hand for this occasion. So come on, bring those old fowling pieces and join us on the range, Sunday at 1 p.m.



40 member drill team to perform

A 34 piece band with a drill team of 40 will be one of the attractions at Gibsons July 1 celebration.

The band, the 103rd Squadron RCAF Cadet Band from North Vancouver, will support the top-notch drill team of 40 members.

It is expected there will be three bands available for the big parade which will commence at 1 p.m. Efforts are being made to have the Sechelt Elementary School band and the Accordion Band from Sechelt also in the parade.

Sports have been arranged for children following the parade and there will be a water display including races, diving, log rolling, greasy pole for all ages. The day will conclude with square dancing with modern dancing for the wind-up.

All this was arranged at Tuesday night's meeting of the July 1 committee in the Legion Hall at Gibsons under chairmanship of Ike Mason. There were representatives there from various organizations but others should have been present as they were involved in the celebration.

Mrs. Wynne Stewart reporting for the Board of Trade on the float situation said she had about 30 lined up with another 15 or more possible.

Fred Feency reporting on behalf of the Firemen who will be supervising water sports said a good program was lined up but the committee in charge was concerned with tide times and it is possible the water sports might have to be handled in the afternoon instead of the morning. This will have to be decided later.

During the evening's discussion it was hoped that there would be a volunteer available with a long low-bed to use as a platform on the Kinsmen Park grounds to where the parade will wend its way so the Neptune Queen can be selected and crowned.

The Firemen who have been working hard on behalf of their Neptune Queen candidate turned in $60 from ticket sales Tuesday night and asked for more books. Members of the committee expressed surprise at the manner in which the Neptune Queen contest has developed. Ticket sales have been high and the race in the contest for queen is expected to be a decidedly keen event.

There will be another meeting of the celebration committee next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall when it is expected all organizations involved in the celebration will have their representatives present so all loose ends can be tied up and the big event organized completely.

School plans are reviewed

The Board of School Trustees met Mr. J.L. Davies on June 8 in the board office to review the architectural plans of the addition to the Elphinstone High School. Mr. Potter, Mr. Bennie and Mr. Chaster attended and many details were discussed and approved.

Immediately the certificate of appproval of Referendum No. 2 is received from the department of education the secretary will call for tenders for clearing sites for the new schools, and also for tenders for the erection of the school buildings. Advertisements will appear in the Coast News.

Further work on Madeira Park grounds, Pender Harbour school grounds and Egmont school grounds will be carried out, in the hope these playgrounds will be ready for fall classes.

It has been brought to the attention of the board that public passengers have been riding on the school buses, and the secretary was instructed to write to Sechelt Motor Transport advising them that regulations governing transportation must be followed. A special meeting of the transportation committee was called for June 10 to review present routes and arrange transportation for the next school year.

The secretary was requested to send a resolution to the B.C. School Trustees' Association for presentation to the convention, asking that increases in departmental grant for water transportation be given consideration.

Mrs. Mary Hercus, Mr. W.G. Peers and Mr. G.A. Cooper informed the board of their intention of attending various courses at summer school at U.B.C.

Each trustee was given a list of names submitted by the Grade VI and Grade VII students at Sechelt Elementary school and a name will be chosen for the new Sechelt Junior High School at the meeting of June 22.

A letter of thanks from Heather Lang and Merilee Fahrni, on behalf of the Sechelt School Band was received, expressing appreciation to the board for the assistance given in order that they might compete at the Abbotsford Brass Band competition.

Sechelt Legion cleans slate

At the final meeting before summer months Sechelt Legion 140 Branch invited the Ladies Auxiliary to a joint meeting and accomplished a great deal of business both new and unfinished, leaving a clean slate for members when they re-convene in September this year.

Comrades Sheridan, Coffey and Hill were appointed as delegates to the zone meeting at Vananda on the following Saturday.

Donations approved included Kinsmen Club, Sechelt, $25 towards the new ambulance; $50 to St. Mary's Hospital, proceeds of the last Bingo night; $20 to Selma Community Club towards the cost of their street lighting.

In conjunction with the Ladies Auxiliary a scholarship of $20 will be given the Sechelt Elementary School.

A smoker held at the Selma Club rooms was such a success that a repeat will be held each month on the last Friday evening.

Garden club sees new rose

It was real pleasure for about 60 persons at the May meeting of Gibsons Garden Club when Mrs. Whitely of Vancouver fashioned corsages of tiny miniature roses, and yellow daisies

One new rose, no larger than a thumb nail, named Bonica, not yet available in Canada, was especially beautiful.

Driftwood was used in many table arrangements to create jungle and tropical illusions, while more formal arrangements of tulips, iris and lilacs in shallow bowls of all shapes and sizes became artistic gems.

Mrs. Whitely was applauded for her entertaining demonstration. The corsages were drawn for and the lucky winner were, Mrs. Ed Grant, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. Parry and Mrs. Webb. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs Mainwaring at 2 p.m., June 23. Visitors will be welcome.

Pender Harbor PTA gives $100

At the June 11 meeting of Pender Harbour P.T.A. it was decided to donate $100 to the elementary school for the purchase of books. Mr. Spicer stated that the school board will buy a radio for the Madeira Park Elementary School. A PTA program committee has been chosen for the coming school year.

Dr Peter Stonier was the guest speaker and he gave an interesting and informative talk on accidents with children

The Fish Derby will be held July 3, 4 ad 5. There will be $100 in prizes. first prize being $50. There will also be a hidden weight prize. Bumper advertising strips will be available.

Rebekahs visit

Last week found many Rebekahs attending Rebekah Assembly in Vancouver. Arbutus Rebekah Lodge No. 76 was officially represented by Mrs. Henrietta Chamberlin, district deputy president during the current assembly year.

Arbutus was also greatly honored by the appointment of Mrs. Evelyn Begg, P.D.D.P., as assembly outside guardian.

Hospital master plan outlined

Preparation of a master plan of action was the chief accomplishment of the St. Mary's Hospital study group during its meeting on June 11.

This group was formed to investigate the improvement of hospital facilities for the entire peninsula. The master plan sets out the sequence of action that must be followed before the improved facilities can be realized.

The first step is to prove a need for improved facilities exists. The study group is currently compiling statistics to show the growth of the Peninsula both in population and activity is sufficient to justify an improvement in hospital facilities. Population, school registration, electrical installations, land sales, car registrations, and so on, are being studied to establish growth trends for the Peninsula.

Once the need for improved hospital facilities has been established, approval in principle must be obtained from the provincial government. This will require presentation of a brief to the authorities in Victoria which will describe the area and its past and anticipated growth.

Approval in principle, when received, will allow St. Mary's Hospital officials to retain an architect and prepare plans and estimates. At this time a committee will be formed to organize a Hospital Improvement District which will make possible the raising of funds to carry out the construction work on the new hospital facilities.

These studies are going to require a great deal of work on the part of the study group as well as a certain amount of financial assistance. Welcome donations have already been received, $500 from the V.O.N. surplus funds and $280.25 from Mrs. A. Garry, this latter amount being the proceeds from the concessions operated at Sechelt during the May Day celebrations.

Peninsula organizations who wish to contribute can send their donations to the St. Mary's Hospital study group at St. Mary's Hospital. In addition, organizations are urged to familiarize themselves with and actively support the hospital improvement plans. Speakers will be provided if contact is made to Mr. Harvey Hubbs, Sechelt; Dr. H. Inglis, Gibsons; Mr. A. Lloyd, Pender Harbour; or Mr. E. Sherman, Port Mellon.

Britannia revisited

BY MRS. D. ERICKSON

After a recent trip to Britannia along the scenically magnificent highway it seems some first hand information would be of interest to residents here.

After closing down in March 1958, the mine was re-opened to some extent in December, 1958. The 4100 foot tunnel is the only one used for mining operations. The power house and copper plant are the only operations at the townsite. Before the shutdown there were 800 men at Britannia while the present payroll is about 350 men.

It is doubtful if the large bunk houses, men's hall, and hotel will be used again. Single men can batch and there are private boarding houses. Car pools are arranged to travel to the lower level for each shift.

During the shut-down many families had moved to the Beach, others to Squamish or other mines, but new families are now moving into the houses. During the winter a small store was operated in a house and mail was handled at the Beach. The elementary school has two teachers and other pupils go by bus to the Squamish High School.

Since the P.G.E. Railway has operated, Britannia's property has been enclosed by a six foot steel fence with several gates. Visitors can get in at any time and there is a coffee shop and cafe and a large store.

From Britannia to Squamish there is a gravel road which will be blacktopped as soon as some trouble with washouts is eliminated.

There have been considerable building improvements in Squamish. The Chieftan Hotel, in the new part which was destroyed by fire, is a most attractive building, including a cafe and lounge.

P.G.E. car shops, logging, the Garibaldi Park project and shoppers are keeping the boom in Squamish going.

Tony Gargrave concludes visit

After spending two weeks on the Peninsula, Mr. Tony Gargrave, MLA, left for Vancouver on Thursday, June 18. While in the district he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rees at Gibsons.

Most of the local member's time was spent making personal calls in the district but he did address the Pender Harbour High School graduation ceremonies, the Pender Harbour Board of Trade dinner meeting, and the executive and shop stewards committee of the Port Mellon Pulp and Sulphite Union.

Before Mr. Gargrave returns to Powell River where he hopes to spend the summer he will spend five days in Regina as the guest of Mr. T.C. Douglas, premier of Saskatchewan. When Mr. Douglas was visiting Vancouver recently he invited the Mackenzie member to visit Regina to study the activities of the government there.

NIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE

Graduation at Pender Harbor

Pupils and parents of the Pender Harbour High School at Kleindale gathered at the school on Friday for the annual dinner and party for the graduation class.

This year the class was smaller than usual, there being only six to graduate. This did not dampen the enthusiasm for the party.

A feature of the evening was the giving of a trophy donated by Mr. Gordon Lyons to the school, to be presented each year to the pupil having the highest standing. In the absence of Mr. Lyons, Mr. Jeffries, school inspector, presented the trophy to Mr. Buckley, principal of the school. Several former pupils gave an impromptu concert during the evening, at which Mr. Alan Moberg starred. Dancing followed. This year's class was evenly divided, Albert Haddock, Frank Gough and Nelson Miller taking the university program, while Judith Klein, Susan Nield and Bernice Duncan the high school graduation program.

Driver training

A summer course in driver education for secondary school teachers will be offered by U.B.C. extension department, June 29 to July 17. Supported by a grant from the All Canada Insurance Federation, its purpose is to equip teachers in the organization of driver-training programs, and to qualify them as instructors in the classroom and "behind-the-wheel."

For further information write or telephone the Driver Training Course, Extension Department, University of British Columbia, Vancouver 8. There will be grants given those travelling distances.

Dance academy auxiliary planned

Steps toward formng an auxiliary to the Academy of Dance taught by Miss Anne Gordon are being taken. A number of needs have arisen, including the helping of young dance students, financially and otherwise.

To outline a program and to discover how many adults would be willing to help in the encouragement of ballet education in the community, an informal meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, June 23, at 8 p.m. in the J. Warn home at Roberts Creek on the Lower Road. All who are interested are cordially invited.

Visit Vananda

Representing Roberts Creek at the Legion Zone meeting, which this year took place at Vananda, were Mrs. R. Hughes Mrs. B. Cope, Mrs. B. Davidson Messrs. A. Danroth, C. Wells, F. Pacquette, W. Gilbert, F. Skinner, G Mould, T Shaw, J. Thyer and G. Mortimer.

The branch was pleased at receiving the plaque for the largest membership in the district. A call goes forth to all veterans of Roberts Creek to join their Legion so that the award may be repeated next year.

Property purchased by the Legion for a Boys' Town which did not materialize is soon to be sold.

Crown and River

"Canada has a rich heritage in which nothing is more important than the tradition of the crown and the influence of the Great River. Both have moulded her history and her development. Both with their magic touch have benefitted all Canada.

"The Crown is the foundation of her government and institutions: the basis of her unity within herself and with the the world. The River is the great artery of the nation, serving all Canadians wherever they may dwell or in whatever occupation they may be engaged.

"Both are shared, the Crown with many nations, the River with one. Yet each is distinctively and indivisibly, Canada's own. Without either, the Canada of today could not, and would not be."

The above paragraphs are taken from a beautiful book of about 20 pages published by the Canadian Pulp and Paper association, combining the Royal Visit and the opening of the St. Lawrence seaway. The thought The Crown and the River, is given impressive association in the paragraphs above which are the work of G. Herbert Lash, public relations top-notcher with the wise counsel of George V. Ferguson, Montreal Star editor. Both are to be congratulated. The paragraphs quoted above can be read and re-read and each time there will be a new beauty revealed. In fact the whole book. with its beautiful art work and printing is a worthy addition to a library no matter how large or small.

Run fast to stand still

International conferences in this enlightened age coupled with efforts of the reluctant dragon sheltered behind a self-imposed iron curtain have a similarity one has come to expect.

Here is a comment made in a monthly publication dated June, 1951, on one such conference, which reads as follows:

"At times the proceedings in Paris have had the appearance of a children's game. After each day's session the usual bulletin has been a purely negative report. Once we were told that while no progress had been made, the session had been one of the most successful held — a pronouncement recalling the wisdom of the Red Queen when she told Alice, (Alice in Wonderland) that, 'Here, you see, it takes all the running you can do, to keep in the same place."

Could anything more suitable be written about the conference which has been underway in Geneva during June of 1959? Perhaps it may be an achievement in international affairs these days to be in exactly the same position after the conference as you were in before the conference. It causes one to wonder whether the expense of running as hard as you can to maintain the exact same position is worth the effort.

It is possible that from these conferences each side reveals clues which might be developed at some later date but the machine set up to cause the distillation of such clues seems out of all proportion to the results achieved.

However, diplomats will be diplomats and conferences will be of the type we have today as long as the reluctant dragon remains reluctant. Secret diplomacy of the past was cast aside in the belief the open forum would produce more lasting results. Well the present negative results are lasting, no doubt about that, but under the present division of world powers the diplomatic stalemate is keeping a balance which future historians might regard as an achievement of first rank. It is living with it in the present that is to us, the worst. So we shall apparently have to be satisfied with "running as hard as we can to keep in the same place."

Fare refunded if Japanese train is late

By Eric Sanderson

Mr. Sanderson, Vancouver newspaper man, is completing a two-month, 12,000-mile voyage to the Orient aboard the Orient & Pacific liners Himalaya and Chusan. He writes about some of the ports he has visited.

Passengers who made the inaugural journey in the Orient and Pacific Lines' SS Himalaya from North America to the Orient saw Mt. Fujiyama clearly as the ship cruised into Yokohama harbor and on arrival in the giant port began a round of sight-seeing trips.

Some Vancouverites remained in Japan for a five-day stay, then flew to Hong Kong to rejoin the ship. Others, staying longer, will return in SS Chusan when she makes her maiden voyage into the north Pacific.

A train ride from Yokohama is an experience in punctuality while a taxi ride from Yokohama to Tokyo — a distance of about 25 miles — is a nightmare.

The Japanese are exceptionally proud of their railway system. Engineers on the trains would rather commit suicide than be late. If the train from Yokohama to Tokyo is 15 minutes late, passengers are refunded their fares and if the train is 5 to 15 minutes late, half the fare is refunded.

For some unknown reason Japanese taxi drivers seldom go slow. They keep their horns blaring incessantly and none likes another to pass him while racing along the highway, which is a busy thoroughfare from sunrise to sunrise.

Several Canadian passengers remained in Japan to attend the Tokyo International Trade Fair. Display area at the Harumi Fair Grounds in Tokyo totals more than 200,000 square yards.

Kyoto, an ancient capital of Japan is a city of intrigue, imposing shrines, temples and palaces with elaborately designed gardens.

Kyoto is also a city of festivals and colorful fetes. It was the capital of Japan for more than ten centuries, from 794 to 1868, when the seat of government was shifted to Tokyo, now considered the world's largest city.

Thousands of Japanese school children make annual visits to this old capital which also is of major interest to tourists. In contrast to Tokyo, which is like any other large city in the world, Kyoto has retained its ancient color.

While many temples and shrines hold the interest of all, a memorial in Kyoto erected by Japan in memory of all those from all nations who lost their lives in the last war on Japanese territory, attracts thousands of tourists.

One of the things that particularly attracts travellers are the boulevards around the temples and shrines. It was pointed out by guides that these were only completed after the war.

One guide — all are specially trained by the Japan Travel Bureau — explained that Kyoto was one of the few major Japanese cities to escape bombing during the war but as a precaution against attack, the government ordered all homes surrounding the ancient temples and shrines to be demolished and fire lines established. After the war, the fire lines have become boulevards that today serve as walks for the thousands of sight-seers.

At Kobe we were fortunate to meet a former British Columbian, John Yoshikuni, with the result there was no language problem. Yoshikuni was born at Cumberland, B.C., and received his education there and in Vancouver. He was interned in Canada during the war but at the end of hostilities returned to Vancouver.

An employee of an American steamship company, Yoshikuni is now stationed at Kobe. He drove us over more than 150 miles of roads, most of which are in dire need of repair, between Kobe and Kyoto and showd us acres of vegetable gardens and farms.

We arrived at the war memorial in a mountainside in Kyoto in time to watch a ceremony by three Buddhist monks in a magnificent shrine directly in front of the 80-foot high statue.

Later we saw the famous Higashi Hoganji Temple, a completely wooden structure built of Keyaki timbers. Founded in 1602, it was destroyed four times by fire and the present structures were completed in 1895.

After a Japanese-style meal, using only chopsticks, we went to the renowned Gion Kohu Kabu-renjo Theatre near the banks of the Kamogawa river in the heart of the city. to see the Miyako Odori — a ance comprised of eight different scenes, by some of the most beautiful and talented geisha of the Kyoto area.

The thing that intrigued the audience — the theatre was packed — besides the strange music and dances, was the manner in which the Japanese change sets without dropping the curtain.

All sets were hand-painted and caught the eye of everyone for their design and coloring.

Salt tang lures Bill Milligan

(By Peter Trappitt)

The salt tang of the sea is not new to Bill Milligan.

Born at Victoria, he was raised within sound of the west coast breakers, at his father's logging camp on the Jordan River, about 15 miles west of Sooke.

He has tramped the wide waters of the seven seas as first mate on an ocean-going freighter, taking in stride the hazards of a sea-faring life.

In an unusual transition from a life on the ocean wave, Bill 'swallowed the anchor' when he landed up at Fort St. John in the Peace River country, to take over as manager of the Credit Union in that town. Later, he became accountant to the Providence Hospital at Fort St. John. During his stay in the Peace, Bill was prominent in Junior Chamber of Commerce affairs, and attended the June convention at Nelson, B.C. as delegate.

Now he finds himself again within spitting distance of salt water; this time as administrator of St. Mary's Hospital, Pender Harbour.

Not altogether an uneventful life for a young fellow of 33. Bill, who is married, with one youngster, has now had a chance to take stock of things.

He likes living in the Harbour; likes his job, and likes the people. He finds the hospital staff thoroughly efficient; thinks the two doctors are grand guys (and who doesn't), and speaks highly of the friendly co-operation of the Hospital Board.

Concerning his own affairs, I found him slightly inclined to understatement. I asked him if his sea-going career had produced anything in the way of excitement or adventure.

"No," said Bill, thoughtfully. "I don't think so."

Later, it transpired that he'd been in two ship collisions, and had survived a fire at sea. On another occasion, in the icy wastes of the North Atlantic, his ship was forced to lie hove-to, for four days and nights, whilst riding out a winter gale. Lifeboats were stove in; doors ripped from their fastenings and top-hamper carried away. Before the gale finally subsided, the cold really took over, and flying spindrift began to freeze. Decks, bridge, wheelhouse, cabin structure and masts became shrouded by a massive coating of ice. In the heavy seas, the vessel pitched and rolled drunkenly beneath the additional burden of 1500 tons of ice.

Bill's idea of an uneventful career must be a lot different to mine.

No wonder he likes Pender Harbour.

1. All loans are automatically life-insured. Should you die before your loan is repaid, your debt to the Bank will be cancelled.
2. Monthly repayments can be extended up to two years — or even three, if need be. This means that FFP can be tailored to suit any salary.
3. You can borrow up to $3,500, depending on your income, to buy the things you want for your home and family, or to meet emergencies.
4. Planned repayments help you run your income — instead of letting it run you.

If you have a steady income and can make monthly loan-repayments without hardship, you can finance almost any useful purpose through the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan.
Why not talk to the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch . . . you'll like their helpful attitude. Whether you are a B of M customer or not, you will find a warm welcome.

PENDER HARBOUR

By JUDITH FLETCHER

Mrs. Ted Girard of Sinclair Bay, is spending the weekend in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gould, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bowling, of Vancouver, spent the weekend in Pender Harbour.

The cruise ship Holiday of Tacoma, Washington, with a large party aboard made Pender Harbour one of its stopping points while enroute to Alaska.

Dr. and Mrs. P. Stonier and daughter, of St. Mary's Hospital, are spending a few days in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lawson of Hotham Sound were on a business trip to Vancouver and returned home on Monday.

Miss Celina Wise of Vancouver spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wise of Middlepoint.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hannon of Seattle are spending a few days cruising on their yacht.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Garden Bay were in Vancouver for a few days during the week.

Mrs. B. Mettam

Mrs. Blanche Mettam, 85, who had lived in Gibsons for the past 14 years, died June 5 in St. Mary's Hospital. The funeral service took place Tuesday June 9 at 1:30 p.m. in Gibson Memorial United Church with Rev. Edward Kemp officiating. Burial was made in Seaview cemetery. Graham Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Mettam, born in England, lived in Saskatchewan many years before moving to Vancouver. Her husband, a retired stevedore, died some 12 years ago. Mrs. Mettam was quite a horticulturist and had one of the finest gardens in the area at one time. She was quite an active woman throughout all her years and while she did not belong to any organizations she moved around considerably Mrs. Mettam had only recently acquired a house which was being prepared for her so she could move in.

The word, "democracy," is Greek in origin, means literally "rule of the people."

New bank loan policy

Development of a new form of consumer-finance loans by the Bank of Montreal, providing facilities for Canadians to consolidate all of their credit-buying under a single life-insured loan, with a single monthly payment, is announced by the bank's president, G. Arnold Hart.

The system would be known as the "Bank o fMontreal Family Finance Plan" and is now in operation at all of the bank's 781 Canadian offices.

Personal loans under the new arrangements will be made for practically any purpose in amounts up to $3,500 while repayments will be scheduled over periods up to three years, where required. Such loans will be automatically life insured.

Many of the loans will be made on an unsecured basis, although chattel-mortgage and other types of security may be taken here such collateral is normal. The main consideration in making loans will be the customer's ability to repay, without hardship, from regular income.

Interest will be six percent a year on the actual outstanding balance, plus a charge to cover the cost of processing and service. The overall cost to the customer of a loan under the new plan is lower than generally prevails for consumer-financing in Canada and is particularly attractive for a life-insured loan.

The B of M plan includes a special feature which Mr. Hart referred to as "ever-ready credit." Under this provision, the customer may arrange for a standby personal credit, based on his income and commitments and available for his use at any time. He is thus free to make purchases at will and issue cheques on the spot up to the limit of his prearranged credit

"The bank's new plan will by no means be restricted to loans for the purchase of items normally bought on instalments, but will also be readily available for many other purposes such as medical and dental bills, education expenses and vacation costs," Mr. Hart said. "Neither," he added, "will the plan be confined to purely family purchases, but will be equally at the disposal of the single person."

Canada's first electric railway was built in Toronto in 1883.

Christian Scientists meet

Deeper understanding of spiritual resources is vitally needed to meet the sharp challenge of our times. This was a major theme of the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, attended by about 7,500 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world.

Spiritual, not material, power holds a practical answer to the many social. political and international problems perplexing humanity, the gathering was told.

A special message from the Christian Science board of directors to the members said that today's growing interest in spiritual values presents a special challenge — the challenge to represent these great values still more fully to mankind through our demonstration of them.

Named president of The Mother Church for the coming year was Kathryn F. Cook of Boston, Mass. A public practitioner of Christian Science healing for more than 20 years, Mrs. Cook succeeds Leonard T. Carney, retiring president, who is also a member of the board of trustees of The Christian Science Publishing society.

Mr. Carney pointed to the truly Christian standard of thought and action as an unfailing guide in a changing world.

This standard, he said, holds that spiritual power is supreme over all. It is held aloft, he declared, "through the works of healing and redmeption which take place over the world day by day. It is raised whenever lofty prayer lifts thought to God as the only directing and saving power."

New opportunities for proving the practical value of spiritual resources were brought out by key officials in their reports on the progress of the worldwide activities of the Chirstian Science Church

A report giving examples of serious disease healed by Christian Science, compiled from many countries, was read. Gordon V. Comer, Clerk of the Mother Church, made special note of the fine healing work of Sunday School pupils.

Scandanavians Celebrate

The picturesque Swedish Park in North Vancouver will be the setting for the massive Midsummer Festival, Sunday, June 28. Sponsored by the Scandanavian Central Committee and 15 affiliated organizations, it has become a traditional meeting place for those of Nordic descent on the lower mainland of B.C. The program, starting at 1:30 p.m. will feature the songs, music, folk-dancing and revelry that has become so endeared to the people of the Scandanavian lands. A Midsummer Queen will also be crowned.

Space doled ou

Soaring list of potential exhibitors at the 1959 Pacific National Exhibition has forced officials to "dole" space on a single-week basis.

During the exhibition from August 22 to September 7 all major competitive livestock shows, which formerly ran for the entire fair, will be cut to one week so that the thousands of animals can be accommodated in the crammed livestock buildings.

A special All-Arab Western Horse Show will be featured at the livestock area for the Saturday Opening Day only.

Who was America's first Rhodes Scholar?

Chester B. Martin, eminent Canadian historian, who died in Toronto last year. Martin, who was born in Nova Scotia in 1882, was educated at the University of New Brunswick and in 1904 won the first Rhodes scholarship awarded in America. At Oxford he won additional scholarships and received his M.A in 1907. He organized the department of history at the University of Manitoba in 1909 and remained there until transferring to the University of Toronto in 1929. At the latter institution he was professor and head of the department of history until retirement in 1952.

What Provincial Legislature lacked an opposition?

In the summer of 1935 Walter Maxfield Lea and his Liberal followers were elected to power in Prince Edward Island with an unprecedented majority, not one opposition candidate having been elected. Unfortunately Mr. Lea died the following January. He had been premier of the province in 1930-31 and was leader of the Liberal opposition from 1931 to 1935. A breeder of Holstein cattle and Percheron horses, he spent all his life on the farm and was known as the Farmer Premier.

Magazine for Eskimos

The first issue of Canada's only all-Eskimo magazine has appeared. It is called "Inuktitut" pronounced Ee-Nook-tee-toot, and means "The Eskimo Way." Published under the authority of Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton, the new periodical is not only for Eskimos in the Eskimo language, but was produced by Eskimos.

The first issue includes an Eskimo's account of last year's goodwill mission to Greenland, some Eskimo folk-tales sent in by people from Igloolik, a story of a hunting adventure by a man who was a sanatorium patient not long ago, and numerous other articles. There is also a children's page. There are excellent illustrations drawn by Eskimos, including the magazine's art editor, Miss Mary Panegoosho, who also designed the cover.

The magazine, edited entirely by Eskimos, uses the Eskimo syllabic form of writing, mimeographed with the use of a specially-built Eskimo typewriter.

Inuktitut succeeds the former Eskimo Bulletin, a publication dealing with such subjects as caribou conservation and the maintenance of boat engines. Under its new name the magazine will invite the Eskimos to send in their own stories, encourage literary endeavour and the expression of opinion, and publish photos and Eskimo art, both hand-drawn and cut in stone.

The emotions of being a father...

The emotions of being a father stay constant through the ages. The hopes and fears . . . the wishes and apprehensions. The humbling realization that no other task in all the world carries with it so grave a responsibility, so rewarding a victory as that of being a father.

For where else does a boy look . . . for light which will lead to sure places for young feet to stand . . . for guidance through the great continent of the mind . . . for those words and teachings that will open wisdom's way . . . for a held-out hand, a haven in every sudden storm?

Where else but to a father, who knows that every son is a miracle, like daily light.

More than anything else Fatherhood is guidance and wisdom — the wisdom of setting a good example in thought, in word, in deed. And one principle that surely deserves to be exemplified is the practice of Moderation in all things, including the use of whisky. It is this thought which The House of Seagram wishes to leave with you on this Father's Day, 1959. May it enrich your life with happiness, and your son's thereafter.
