PTA sponsors swim class at Pender Hbr.

Pender Harbour youngsters are again fortunate in having qualified swimming instruction. Classes are being sponsored by the P.T.A., but some financial aid is required. Support of local residents and visitors is urged by attendance at the July 30 tea.

Qualified instruction is being provided by a Red Cross trained instructress whose purpose is to carry out the aims of the Red Cross Water Safety Service. These aims are to reduce the toll of deaths by drowning and to promote healthy recreation.

These aims are reached by bringing the facts and information of boating and swimming to young people. The Red Cross Water Safety service wants to teach control and skill in boating, artificial respiration, and swimming.

As well as training future instructors to teach at the various levels, and sending out examiners to test for the Red Cross system of awards, this branch of the Red Cross also offers technical service in the form of advice regarding safe facilities, and swimming areas.

Support the water safety program by attending the PTA Tea and Home Bake Sale, 2:30 p.m., July 30.

Pound law in effect

The Pound Law is now in effect in Roberts Creek district. Notice of this has been posted at the Roberts Creek Post Office. This means cattle must not run at large now or their owners face court action which could result in a fine of $25 being imposed.

The order-in-council having been signed by the lieutenant-governor brings the Roberts Creek area in line with Gibsons area which last year arranged that the Pound Law would be effective. Since then there has been little disturbance caused by roaming cattle and the "range country" signs have been removed from roadsides.

First notice by those seeking to have the Pound Law effective for Roberts Creek area appeared early in March and during May opposition presented its petition which was apparently rejected resulting in the application of the act to Roberts Creek area.

Accident causes blackout

Failing to take the turn after coming off the bridge at Granthams, four people had a lucky escape from serious injury when their car mounted the guard log about 8 p.m. Saturday and went down into the lot on which the D. G. Poole home stands. The car was described by police as a total wreck.

On the way down the car broke a power line pole and circuit and caused a blackout in the area from the Indian Reserve to Langdale. This resulted in ferry slip machinery having to be manhandled for several hours. TV viewers were left stranded as well.

Occupants of the car from Vancouver were Bert Kios, Gertrude McAnsh, R. B. Sappanan and Emile Makela. Only one received visible injuries and that was a scratched face.

B. C. Electric crews restored power to part of the blacked out area about midnight and worked practically all night and a good part of Sunday rectifying the damage that had been caused.

Oops! Sorry!

In last week's story on the Gower Point gravel hearing in Legion Hall, an error crept in. The story read that Mr. Chaster commented on the "great tragedy of Gibsons Bay area." Mr. Chaster did not speak at all during this meeting. It was a Mr. E. Rea, two seats away from Mr. Chaster who made the observations about Gibsons.

This error was made through wrong identity aided by the fact someone had just previously used Mr. Chaster's name in an observation. The Coast News apologizes for any discomfort caused Mr. Chaster.

TWO IN ONE TRAP

Mr. Rundy of Elder Springs road, near the Black and White store had mice operating in his home so he set a trap. Mr. Rundy has done quite a bit of trapping in the past and bagged some unusual items He found two dead mice in his trap. This is the first time he has ever had two of any animal in one trap.

CELEBRITIES IN GIBSONS

Phil Ford and Mimi Hines, TV celebrities, visited Gibsons Tuesday aboard the cruiser Carolee and spent part of the morning in the harbor. They intended going up coast further but the straits water turned roughish so they popped into Gibsons. Before noon they headed towards Gambier on an exploratory trip.

Maybe! Yes, maybe! It is a dark thought only but has interesting possibilities. Waitresses at certain institutions are wearing short, short skirts leaving their knees exposed. There will be an exhibition of "waitresses" at a certain raspberry social at the Stenner home grounds on Friday evening from 8 to 10 p.m. The "waitresses" will be male members of the hospital study group.

The question to be answered is will they dress so they will have exposed knees? No one can tell. If there is a view to be seen it will not be of the real estate variety so roll up and visit the Stenner grounds, near Pratt Road on Sechelt Highway and see for yourself. The event is in aid of the Hospital Improvement District auxiliary.

Transportation will be available from 8 to 8:30 p.m. from the Post Office. In the event of rain the function will be held in the school hall.

VISITING EDITORS PLEASED

Describing their trip along the Sunshine Coast as far as Powell River as one of the major highlights of their tour, three United States newspapermen left for mainland points and home July 19.

They were brought to this area through the efforts of Danny Smith of Gibsons, a member of the Pacific Northwest Travel association which week trip to various British sponsored the trio on a two Columbia points.

Arriving at Langdale they were met by Mr. Smith and Harvey Hubbs who was their driver for the trip. Peninsula Motors provided the car and the Coast News the driver. The party left early next morning for Powell River where it was entertained by Board of Trade officials, also officials of MacMillan and Bloedel who supplied a conducted tour through the mill.

The three men who came to B. C. for the trip were Louis B. Bates, Salt Lake Desert News-Telegram; Howard Goldberg, Akron, Ohio Beacon Journal and Saul Freidman, Houston, Texas, Chronicle. The B. C. tour started July 10 and ended July 23 at Victoria.

Heading back to Gibsons, the party stopped at Madeira Park where Len Larson arranged a trip on the cruiser owned by L. Wylie of Seattle. During this trip Mr. Goldberg caught a nice coho. At Sechelt the party was entertained at the home of James Parker, a director of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce with Bob Norminton, president of Sechelt's Board of Trade present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Norminton. On parting the trio had their farewells in Gibsons and stated that the day was definitely the best they had had on the entire trip.

This event will take place on the Saturday afternoon.

Inquest to be held into Unimak tragedy

An inquest into the tragedy which took four lives in vicinity of White Island, a rocky prominence near Wilson Creek Friday night of last week will be held Aug. 8 at 2:30 p.m., most likely in the Anglican Parish hall on Sechelt Highway.

Four of five persons aboard the 55 ft. Unimak, a fish boat bound upcoast in the same direction as the fish packer Cape Flattery was towing a barge, lost their lives. Somehow the Unimak got between the Cape Flattery and the barge, struck the tow cable, careened towards the barge and it is assumed; rolled over on striking the rounded sides of the barge.

The only survivor was Robert Pederson, 30, of Vancouver the cook. He was thrown overboard on impact. Drowned were Miss Joan Hornell, 24, of Vancouver, whose body was the only one recovered, Skipper Wilfred Pcheo, and William Anderson jr., both of Sointula, to where the boat was headed and Dick Joliffe of Langley Prairie.

The mishap occurred about 11.30 p.m. Friday night and Air-Sea Rescue headquarters was notified. Gibsons RCMP were notified at about 2:30 a.m. Const. M. E. Baron and Reserve Const. D. R. Mowat hurried to the scene in George Hunter's water taxi, along with Dr. Hugh Inglis. The Air-Sea Rescue crash boat was then on the scene.

The accident occurred about one mile off-shore and half-a-mile on the Roberts Creek side of White Island. There were then several tugs and smaller boats on the scene, also the CPR Princess of Vancouver, which stood by as a breakwater for the searchers in the roughish water.

As a result of the Air-Sea Rescue alert, Frank Wright, 41, of Mercury Water Taxi, Horseshoe Bay, and Wayne Stanton who was aboard one of the boats standing by, tried to get to those trapped by using skin diving methods. They got the body of the girl from the wheelhouse but eventually had to abandon their work when the overturned hull began showing disturbing signs

It was known there were others in the overturned hull because when a crewman of the Cape Flattery sought to place a lighted marker on the hull, he heard banging noises signifying someone was alive Four knocks were replied to with four knocks from inside the hull. An attempt was made to get towlines attached. One was fastened but when the boat sank it took with it the boom and mast of the freighter Brentwood, which snapped off under the strain.

At about 3.30 a.m. a call was put through to RCMP Const. McDonald at Sechelt who located a portable saw, rushed to the scene but arrived too late to be of any use.

The vessel is now lying at about 50 fathoms and deep sea divers would be needed to get near the hull.

Miss Hornell, fiancee of the skipper on the boat, was on her way to Sointula to meet a friend.

Bucket brigade puts out blaze

Sighting smoke on Gambier Island, Gibsons RCMP hurried to Granthams Landing where Hunter's Water Taxi was waiting. While there, an explosion was noted in West Bay area. On arriving there RCMP found that Dr. C. Ridley's power plant had caught fire and eventually blown up causing a bush fire.

All hands in the vicinity, including women and children immediately formed a bucket brigade and kept the flames from spreading, eventually dousing the blaze. A forestry patrol boat also showed up and the crew damped down the area to prevent any further outbreak.

Pork is free

In keeping with the situation at other centres the free pork distribution by the Civil Defence in the Gibsons area has been approximately thirty percent.

The Civil Defence officer points out that the distribution of the meat is absolutely free to the needy and under no circumstances should any recipient pay for the free pork.

In the Gibsons area free pork has been distributed by the Canadian Legion, the Old Age Pensioners, while the Civil Defence distributed the meat from the United Church hall free of any charge.

A report that recipients in the Sechelt area have been charged for the free meat has been investigated.

VISITING SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of Westmoreland, Calif., are visiting Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Alice Wray of Langdale. This is Mr. and Mrs. Smith's first visit to B. C. in several years. Since Mr. Smith's retirement they have travelled over much of Mexico and the southern states and are now thoroughly enjoying the wonderful weather and scenery of the Sunshine Coast.

Technical problem delays appointment

A technical problem involving the signing of documents and the fact one member of the school board was not present at Monday night's meeting caused postponement of the selection of a chairman to take the place of Alfred Funnell who died recently. The selection will be made at the next meeting.

During Monday night's meeting Mr. I. H. R. Jeffrey, district school representative reopened the Grade nine problem at Sechelt.

Mr. Jeffrey inquired whether the board had obtained permission from Victoria for inclusion of Grade nine in the Sechelt junior high school. Mr. Fahrni explained that a delegation had gone to Victoria seeking approval of construction of a Grade 9 classroom at Trail Bay School. Approval was given by the department.

Continuing the Grade 9 discussion involving people in rural Sechelt, Mr. Jeffrey said he was of the opinion the majority at the meetings wanted Grade 9 at Sechelt. He explained that two years ago it would be better to have Grade 9 at Elphinstone High school. Senior high schools function better at a larger size and Elphinstone has not reached that stage yet. Dr. Plenderleith's report stated it was logical to have Grade 9 at Sechelt with the taking of certain courses at Elphinstone. On the other hand Victoria might wonder about transportation to Elphinstone school for certain courses when the objective is to cut transportation costs.

Mr. Jeffrey explained he had previously agreed Grades 7 and 8 should be incorporated in Sechelt elementary school and that a new school be built at West Sechelt to relieve the transportation problem.

Leo Johnson, Sechelt's new school board member said no matter what kind of a high school was suggested there would be protests. No protest was made when Grades 7 and 8 were incorporated into Sechelt, but inclusion of Grade 9 has aroused argument.

Mr. Jeffrey said from a transportation point of view it was a wise move but he did not think it so good from an academic point of view. He thought the case should be reviewed during the first year of operation. However, he added, it was not his business to make any such observation.

Mr. Fahrni said this angle had been discussed and if the action was unsuccessful the board would consider necessary action. Expansion would take place where and when needed.

Winding up his explanation Mr. Jeffrey hoped there would be smooth sailing ahead. He thanked the board for having co-operated with him during the last three years. He complimented board members and said he found them a fine aggregation and worthy of deserved support.

This meeting was Mr. Jeffery's last apearance at this district's school board meeting

Boy drowned

William Albert Little, aged nine, a ward of the Children's Aid Society of Vancouver, was found drowned at Keats Island wharf opposite Gibsons on Friday, last week. It is believed the youngster strayed from a swimming party of other youngsters and after they had left the swim area, entered the water himself. He was wearing bathing trunks only. An inquest will be held. RCMP investigated.

PAYNE A VISITOR

W. H. Payne, Conservative M.P. for this area was a visitor in Gibsons and Sechelt last week and discussed with numerous people and organizations subjects on which future development may take place. One of the items was an RCMP boat, which the Board of Trade feels is necessary. The postal delivery problem was also under discussion along with problems at Sechelt including the breakwater.

Sunday fire dangerous

Sunday afternoon's calm was broken by the fire siren announcing a troublesome bush fire on Georgia View Heights, better known as the Headlands. Before the fire was definitely declared out there were two other alarms turned in, one about 11 p.m. Sunday night when it flared up again and the second one around 8 a.m. Monday morning.

RCMP after investigating, are of the opinion a cigaret stub caused the fire as a young couple were seen in the area not long before the alarm was turned in.

Firemen and trucks from the two firehalls attended the fire and several water fills were needed for the trucks to help quell the blaze. Luckily the wind was blowing off-shore. Some 15 volunteers turned out to help the firemen and did good work in keeping the fire from spreading.

The blaze at its worst was quite a spectacle from the water as launches from points towards Gambier mostly, came towards Gibsons to have a look

Last week Forest Minister Ray Williston suspended all camp-fire and burning permits Since then three fires have occurred in this area, the first on Bowen Island about a week ago which was put out by men from Keats Island. The second was on Salmon Arm, Sechelt Inlet, when about two-and-a-half acres was involved but was speedily controlled. The third was the fire on the Headlands Sunday.

SPEAR FISHING WARNING

Spear fishers are warned by RCMP to stay away from the Municipal dock in Gibsons. Recently some spear fishing was done in that area while swimmers were sporting around. RCMP warn of dangers involved with anyone carrying any kind of weapon where diving and swimming are taking place.

Hard work did it!

Hard work coupled with a determination to succeed was a big factor behind the announcement last week that the provincial government health department had announced "approval in principle" for a hospital to be built on the Sunshine Coast.

To amplify the hard work of the effort, one should examine the brief placed before government officials in support of the hospital. It is a complete study of this area as it concerns the population now and in the future. The determination angle can be best expressed by the unselfish attitude of the committee which worked towards production of the brief.

It was a year ago last Feburary the groundwork was laid for the result announced last week. In the little more than a year between the initial meeting and the granting of approval, considerable midnight oil was burned. The committee's one theme was to make sure its arguments were sound. They were, because the brief presented the government is an excellent basis for any future thinking as regards population needs in the area from Port Mellon to Jervis Inlet.

The hope now is that all unverified rumors concerning the hospital will be quieted and that the populace will get behind the organization responsible for measures leading towards construction of a hospital. There is nothing definite as to site or location but these will be worked out with the same determination used to get approval in principle. To those who have worked hard to get the necessary approval the Sunshine Coast populace should reflect pride in the fact such men have taken an interest in this area. No one can say a hospital is not needed.

Future plans will be outlined by the committee at appropriate times. What is needed now is the unanimous support and determination by the people of the various communities to see that the Sunshine Coast gets the hospital it needs.

Beauty vs. economics

The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little.

This remark was passed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt during his second inaugural address. It seems appropriate to the gravel dispute at Gower Point. If one heeds the argument of the proponents of the taking out of gravel from the Gower Point area it fits in nicely.

Those opposed to the operation could also agree with the remark so long as the "providing for those who have too little" does not affect their outlook on life, which is that no commercial operation should disturb their peace.

A natural sympathy is aroused when any area of beauty is affected by commercialism. People in other parts of the community sympathize with those who prefer the area to remain as it is. There are those who would prefer to see the dirt roads instead of paved roads with fast moving traffic. However the inevitable mark of progress has been put on the Sunshine Coast and where it will stop no one knows.

Gower Point people are not opposed to the gravel being removed from the area behind them. They are opposed to having it brought, via an overhead continuous belt, down to the water and dumped into scows. On the other hand the company desiring to move the gravel maintains it is not economic to transport it by truck to tide-water elsewhere.

The government land commissioner who conducted the hearing will be making his report to the provincial department. Summarizing the argument is not a too difficult job. The solution is the stickler. Can an arrangement be achieved to please both sides?

Letters to the editor

Editor: Living right under the Steep Bluff my wife and I had a grandstand view of our volunteer firemen in action Sunday afternoon, and again nearing midnight. returning to put out a brisk flash fire that had started.

One might fill your columns with deserved praise. However we are pleased to let the fighting squad as well as the public know they did a first class job which we sincerely appreciate. Furthermore, it was most comforting to note that this potentially dangerous situation was under guard throughout the night.

There is little doubt but what this was a purely avoidable incident. Let us by all means walk for pleasure, but in so doing be most careful that we are not conducting ourselves in a way that might cause people to lose their homes.

Alice and Dave Rees.

Editor: Two recent developments have made the construction of a road around the Howe Sound from Squamish through Woodfibre to Port Mellon nearer reality.

One development is a statement by the Minister of Highways that its cost would be six million dollars. This is less than I had anticipated and the figure puts the road within the financially possible category.

The second development is the supprt that B. C.'s biggest daily paper is giving the project. The expenditure of this large sum of money can only be justified by widespread support for the road. It appears that this support is forthcoming.

Tony Gargrave

Editor: Attached is a copy of a letter I have written today to the Minister of Highways.

W. M. PENNY

The Honorable P. Gaglardi,
Government Offices,
Victoria, B.C.
Dear Sir—

I am a Vancouver business man who has a modest summer home at Pender Harbour on the Sechelt Peninsula. My family are there during July and August. Last weekend was typical of what I and thousands of other people must put up with during the summer months.

After a busy day at the office I arrived at Horseshoe Bay at six p.m. Friday evening. Three hours later I boarded the ferry. At eleven-thirty p.m. I arrived at Pender Harbour, tired, fed-up and angry.

Coming home on Sunday evening I got to Langdale at 9.30 p.m. Three and a half hours later I got on the ferry, getting home in Vancouver at 3 a.m. Not a very good start for a busy week at the office. I have worked hard, saved and sacrificed to get this little summer place. Six and one half hours of my weekend were spent sitting at a ferry dock. This was just an ordinary weekend, not a holiday. I think you must agree that this is an intolerable situation, and I find it hard to believe that your Government would allow it to exist on the Fraser Canyon road, for instance.

I realize Black Ball has a weekend surge to contend with, but, on the other hand, it would seem that a monopoly carries a definite obligation to provide proper service.

In talking to fellow-travellers we all agree that we would be willing to pay a good stiff toll to be able to drive to our destination. I know nothing of the difficulties that may be involved in completing the Squamish Highway to Port Mellon. To a layman it appears that such a Highway would not be impossible, and that the route could go far behind the mountains, and need not follow the shores of Howe Sound, such as the Horseshoe Bay - Squamish Road does.

I am convinced that thousands of B.C. Citizens, permanent residents of the Peninsula, summer visitors, and tourist, would welcome a definite, clear-cut statement from yourself as to your Government's intentions towards this intolerable situation.

W. M. PENNY

Editor: In a recent issue of a Vancouver paper a letter from N. E. Webster, 2873 West 43rd, Vancouver, tells of the terrible plight of many cats and dogs abandoned by their owners who no longer want them, on the village roads around the Fraser Valley. We have our share of this also. The favorite place seems to be near the Indian Village or the back roads near Hackett Park.

One sees these poor creatures driven from pillar to post almost dead from exhaustion and starvation. However, there is another problem which confronts us and that is neglect through ignorance or indifference. Recently a small dog was wandering around Sechelt for several days. It was terrified of children and its howls, when some boys went near, were dreadful. On investigation it was discovered to have been badly hurt. It was taken to a veterinarian and treated for burns. Apparently the owners had gone on holiday, leaving a boy to feed it. Where it got hurt remains a mystery. Who was it to turn to in its distress, unable to speak for itself and driven away wherever it went?

A campaign in training children in kindness to animals is in order. I recently saw two boys playing catch with a small kitten. The poor little thing hardly had its eyes open and if one chastizes, one gets told off. Surely the parents are not blind or is it that Junior can do no wrong?

It's a wonder to me that some of these children do not get badly bitten. Children who do not know how to care for their pets should not be allowed to have them, and kindness to God's humbler creatures should be taught at all times. Teach children to take care of pets and not abuse or tease them. Discourage children from playing with a ball and a dog, riding a bicycle or other vehicle near an excited dog, or running and playing with a dog if this excites it; petting or startling or taking food from a dog while eating, interceding in a dog fight; touching an injured dog. Don't arouse a sleeping dog abruptly and pick up pups carefully so as not to offend the mother.

A good plan is not to give a pup to any child under six years of age. This might be something for the Scout or Cub master to work for, of much more benefit than tying knots and starting camp fires. Compassion is not taught by putting children in uniforms, and if it is not taught at home it should be taught elsewhere. Otherwise we will be raising a nation of sadists.

Your Teeth

A series on oral health prepared by the B.C. Dental Association.

Why children's teeth turn black

Father, go easy on that brake! You might save a dent in your car, but you could cause permanent damage to your child's teeth.

Rapidly applied brakes often means the youngster's face being thrown violently forward into the dashboard. Worried examination may show only bleeding from a cut lip or from the gums around the necks of the teeth.

A little comforting; the child resumes activity, and the incident is forgotten.

Several weeks later mother notices one or more of her child's nice, white, front teeth turning grey at the top. She becomes quite concerned.

The blow has been forceful enough to cause bleeding or fatal injury to the nerve of the tooth.

The discoloration of the tooth is due to the presence of new chemical products formed from the breakdown of the nerve tissue.

In primary teeth little can be done except to keep a careful watch at home and by the family dentist.

In permanent teeth this darkening of the teeth through injury can be rectified. Nerve canal teatment and bleaching will probably restore the tooth or teeth to normal appearance.

Meantime, mother mind that toddler in his early stages. If he falls and hits his mouth hard, watch for teeth discoloration.

MILK DISTRIBUTION

The Ottawa government has authorized the Agricultural Products board to make for international welfare purposes, through approved international relief agencies, a quantity of whole milk powder purchased by the board as part of the program of the utilization of surplus dairy products. Shorter PNE parade route

A shorter but snappier and more spectacular Pacific National Exhibition parade will strut through Vancouver this year. This year's big colorful procession will take about one hour and 15 minutes to pass any given point. Causes of gaps and holdups have been eliminated.

Gay floats and bands will make up most of the big parade that will delight and draw thousands to the downtown area Aug. 20, as a prelude to the fair that runs to Sept. 5.

Making a welcome reappearance will be 15 members of the King County Sheriff's Posse from Seattle, riding silver saddles on a string of golden palomines.

Swooping over the route in salute will be the Golden Hawks, the RCAF's low-flying precision acrobatic team, who will also appear during the fair.

The big parade will step off smartly at 10 a.m. from Georgia and Burrard. It will swing down Burrard to Hastings, and along Hastings to Vernon Drive. Saluting base will be in front of the old Post Office.

HER FIRST VISIT

Mrs. M. Huhtala, Pratt Road, Gibsons, recently visited Vancouver Island and brought back her mother, Mrs. Sidgwick from Kitti Coleman, B.C. and her sister Mr. Garvey and nephew Shawn Garvey for a week's visit. Mrs. Sidgwick who will be 80 in August is enjoying her first visit to Gibsons and is quite impressed with the area. Mrs. Huhtala held a garden party in their honor when 15 ladies from Pratt Road attended.

Shipments of asbestos from Canadian mines rose 13.5 per cent in 1959 to 1,050,703 tons.

A book worth having

A. J. C.

In these days of high prices the desire to get one's money s worth is common to all; with this in mind anyone who is intending to buy Will Dawson's "Coastal Cruising" may be assured of full value for the price of $6.25 tax included.

Considering the work put into it, the great amount of reliable information on the whole subject and many useful odds and ends having to do with the safe handling of boats, evidently drawn from the author's own experience, the book could well be called cheap at the price.

With its aid a newly-arrived boating man — or woman — could embark at once on one of the shorter cruises described and extend their range thereafter as local knowledge and confidence increased.

This book was needed, and it is all that is needed for this coast is, as the author himself terms it "The finest cruising-ground in the world" and will speak for itself upon introduction. We who love it are indebted to Will Dawson.

Payne meets airport men

Sechelt council's airport committee reported at last week's council meeting it had met with W. H. Payne, M.P. for this constituency over affairs concerning the Sechelt-Gibsons Municipal Airport and as matters now stood the prospects for the future looked bright. Councillor William Swain, a new Sechelt member of the airport board, made the report.

Council was also notified that Dick Kendall is the new secretary of the committee, which council greeted with satisfaction. The garbage collection cost problem was brought out and council decided it wanted to see garbage collections continue and that something will have to be done. This item will be given further consideration.

It was also arranged that a water pipe be laid to Porpoise Bay wharf.

New director

Appointment of W. R Hourston, 38, of Ottawa, as Pacific area director, Department of Fisheries of Canada, is announced by Deputy Minister of Fisheries G. R. Clark. Mr. Hourston, who succeeds Area Director A. J. Whitmore who retires in mid-August, will arrive in Vancouver to take up his new duties early next month.

Mr. Hourston, a native of Vancouver, will be responsible for administration of fisheries in the Pacific Area under Federal Government jurisdiction.

Mr. Hourston, named chief of the fish culture development branch, Ottawa, in 1958, became associated with the Fisheries Research board while studying biology at the University of British Columbia. He first worked on Skeena River salmon investigations for the Nanaimo Biological Station in 1945. In 1949, he joined the department's fish culture development branch as biologist in the Vancouver office. He was subsequently promoted to chief biologist, Pacific area, a position he held until his appointment as chief, fish culture branch, Ottawa. During World War II he served with the R.C.A.F. and was discharged in the rank of flying officer

Mrs. Yablonski

The funeral service was held in Gibsons Memorial United Church, Sat., July 23, for Mrs. Juliet Ethel Yablonski with Rev. David Donaldson officiating. Mrs. Yablonski was the wife of Eugene Yablonski, a teacher at Elphinstone High School. Mr. and Mrs. Yablonski were a popular young couple in Gibsons and were in the process of completing their home on Marine Drive. Mr. Yablonski had just undergone a knee operation.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Les Peterson, William G. Peers, W. S. Potter, principal of Elphinstone High school, William Wright, George A. Cooper and Stan Fallows. Burial was made in Seaview Cemetery. Harvey Funeral Home had charge of arrangements. During the church service Mrs. Ran Vernon sang the solo The Old Rugged Cross.

Mrs. Yablonski was born at Sutherland, Sask. and had lived in the Gibsons area for the last three years. Besides her husband, Eugene, she leaves her mother, two sisters and three brothers.

H.I.D. meeting

The auxiliary to the Hospital Improvement District organization held its monthly meeting Monday, July 18 at the home of Mary Stenner.

Mr. Harvey Hubbs of the H.I.D. Study Group was speaker. The group completed plans for a raspberry social to be held at the Stenner home on July 28.

Anyone interested in joining this group is invited to the next meeting which will be held Mon., Aug. 15 at 8 p.m. the location to be made known at a later date.

TAKES OVER STATION

John Divall who left Madeira Park for Ladner some time ago is back there operating the Madeira Park Service station. He left Madeira Park about 1955 when he went to the G. M. A CORRECTION

Last week's police court news concerning Stanley Scoular of Pender Harbour, stated several people were severely injured. This was incorrect as only one person was severely injured.

In 1959 sales in Canada's department stores reached a record $1,420,311,000, up 5.6 percent.

School Board

before he moves to Mission district. His successor, Mr. G. Johnston was present and introduced to members of the board Mr. Fahrni was acting chairman.

Other members present were Mrs. C. Jackson, Wilson Creek; Mrs. A. E. Ritchey, Gibsons; Don Macklam, Port Mellon; Leo Johnson, Sechelt and Mr. R. Spicer, Pender Harbour. There were also four representatives of the new Sechelt Rural Wilson Creek Ratepayers association present.

A bylaw to raise $100,000 of the $211,000 plebiscite amount voted some time ago for new school accommodation was approved by department officials and passed with the third and final reading.

To avoid having Sechelt Trail Bay junior high students walking through elementary school grounds after leaving school buses it was decided to arrange discussion with school principals involved on the best procedure in this case.

Mr. Jeffrey, district representative, reported he had noted the Grade 12 exam results and found they were higher in marks than the previous year, and was pleased with the results.

The board granted N and H Pony Ranch use of the Elementary school grounds for pony rides on the two days of the Sunshine Coast Fall Fair.

The board received approval from the department for establishment of Grade 13 at Elphinstone High School.

Letters received from the Sechelt Rural and Wilson Creek Ratepayers association were ordered processed so each member of the board will have copies for consideration.

BE KIND TO YOUR ROSES

Just a little attention and care will remedy the diseases and insects which attack your rose plants. Years ago the gardener had a much more difficult time, as there would be a different spray for each disease and insect, but today it is possible to use one material, a combination of insecticide and fungicide.

Phaltan is effective in controlling black-spot and powdery mildew. Malathion kills many of the most important insect enemies. Amalte gives control of mites including red spider. So try to obtain a spray containing all these materials. If you are not successful, write to this department, including a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and we will advise you.

The effect of mildew on roses is shown in the Garden-Graph. Dust your roses in the early evening, before dark, so the material will be on the leaves during the cool of the night when fungi are likely to be active in the dew which gathers on the foliage.

If you find buds infested with thrips, cut them off and dispose of them. This will help to reduce the thrip population present in your garden. Do not throw damaged buds on the ground, because the insects will quickly desert such blooms and travel to unopened buds on nearby plants. Spray plants every two weeks as there are several generations a summer.

Halfmoon Bay notes

By PAT WELSH

The Sunshine Coast is the mecca for holiday makers and most homes and cottages are bursting at the seams with guests either for the weekend or to spend a vacation lying on the beaches and soaking up the sun. The small fry are brown as berries and making good progress with their swimming.

A cheque for $300 is being forwarded to Mr. Milligan, administrator for St. Mary's Hospital, Garden Bay by the Redwel Ladies' Guild to purchase a steriliser. The cheque is the proceeds of their annual summer fair at the Welcome Beach Hall, July 16.

A letter from Canon and Mrs. A. Greene stated they had actually stood in the underground cell in which St. Paul was imprisoned in Rome, wrote some of his epistles. They are now in Kent enjoying a brief rest. They visited Ireland and Scotland and drove down to Witley to see the ancient old church in which the canon preached as padre in 1917 while encamped there. This church will be remembered by many veterans living on the Peninsula.

Stuart LeFeaux, deputy superintendent and engineer for the board of parks and public recreation in Vancouver, is flying east to attend the Canadian Parks and Recreation association annual convention at St. Catherines, Ont., from July 24 to 28.

Fishing is improving. S. LeFeaux came in with a nice one on Saturday, and W. E. Macdonald who is staying at Irishmans Cove came in with five lovely cohos weighing from five to seven lbs. each and one grilse. Caught on herring off Bertha Rock, this is good news as fishing has been poor lately.

Mrs. I. Hanly was a busy hostess this weekend, her guests be daughter Wanda, Wanda's fianing her son Maurice and his cee, Bud Grav and his brother and wife and a Mr. Vicary all of Deep Cove.

This week's RECIPE

Garden fresh and crackling crisp B.C. grown vegetables are perfect for making hearty salads of all types that go well with summertime meals.

These bright vegetables add color, texture and flavor, as well as good nutrition to your daily menu. They have few calories, but are an excellent source of Vitamins A and D, which maintain growth, good eyesight, glowing skin, healthy gums and tissues and keeps your resistance to infections high.

Salad Making Tips

. . . . Keep fresh vegetables bright, crisp and nutritious by storing them in crisping pans or plastic bags in the refrigerator, after the vegetables have been washed and drained. Lettuce, however, should not be washed or torn until you are ready to use it. Excessive washing causes lettuce to brown.

. . . . Be creative and try unusual vegetables in your salads. Experiment with different types of lettuce, try raw turnips,, cauliflowerettes, raw asparagus tips and broccoli flowers.

. . . . Try different dressings for your cold, crisp salads. The dressing should enhance the flavor of the fresh vegetables. It should coat the vegetables lightly, never saturate them.

There's a wide choice of salad dressings, homemade or bought, that you can use to make your vegetable salads appeal to every member of your family.

* * *

The Louis Dressing is often used with seafood salads, but especially good with a vegetable combination salad or served as a dip with an assorted vegetable platter, so often served with foods you cook over your barbecue coals.

Louis Dressing

1 cup mayonnaise
¼ cup whipping cream
¼ cup chili sauce
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped green onion
Salt and lemon juice to taste
Combine ingredients. Serve with salad.

Remember the Homemade Salad Dressing your Mother used to make and store in the cooler, ice chest or refrigerator to use for potato salad, cole slaw and other family favored vegetable greens? Here's one old-favorite.

Homemade Salad Dessing

4 eggs or 8 egg yolks
½ cup white sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
½ cup sweet or sour cream
¾ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup cold water

Beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, mustard, salt and flour. Beat until light and fluffy. Add cream and beat again. Place vinegar and water in saucepan and heat. When hot, add the egg mixture, slowly, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from heat. Store in refrigerator. Makes 1½ pints delicious dessing.

ITEM CORRECTED

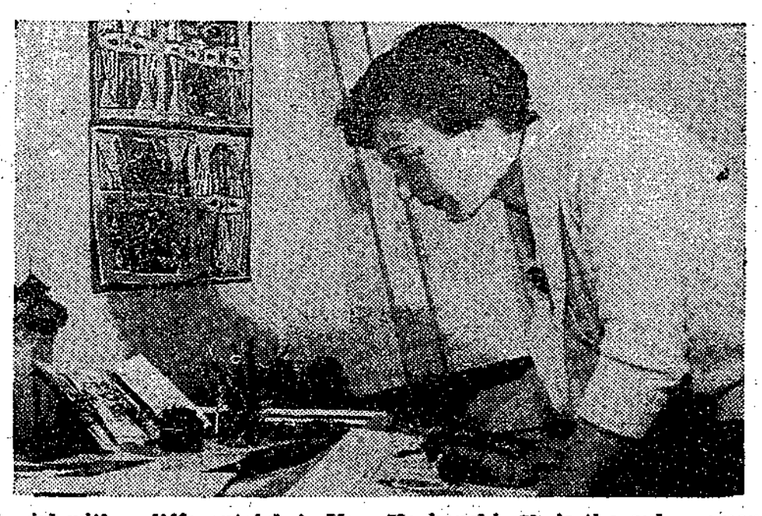
An item in the Nov. 26 issue of the Coast News stated Harold Fearn paid a $5 fine into court for not having a license for his dog. Mr. Fearn reports this to be incorrect as the fine was paid later under protest and he lodged an objection with the attorney-general's department.

Game warden method altered

A new method for selection of game wardens to give opportunities for all interested candidates is being inaugurated by the fish and game branch of the department of recreation and conservation, the Hon. Earle C. Westwood announces.

An examination board comprising the department personnel officer, the regional biologist and the regional inspector will examine and interview candidates on the following dates: Nanaimo, August 15; Nelson, August 17, Kelowna, August 19; Williams Lake, August 22; Vancouver, August 15, Cranbrook, August 15; Kamloops, August 20; Prince George, August 24.

Anyone interested in applying for a position as game warden, under the new program must write to the director, fish and game branch, department of recreation and conservation, 567 Burrard Street, Vancouver 1, B.C. for application forms. If the examination board, after studying his application decides an applicant has a suitable academic background and the required experience, he will be notified



A girl with a different job is Vera Kochanski. She's the only woman set designer in CBC's design department — among 22 men. She previously spent four years with the National Film Board doing illustrations, commercial art, and design for educational films.

Truck Loggers oppose F M L system

By A LOGGER

The Truck Loggers' Association represents the largest group of logging operators in the Vancouver forest district. Recognizing the need for some system of perpetual yield the forest service under direction of Minister of Lands Kenney and Deputy Minister Dr. Orchard, stated a progam of granting Forest Management Licences. These licences give the holder control, subject to definite conditions which obligates him to practice proper forestry upon the lands covered by the licence. They do not give him the timber on the land, he has to pay for it on a stumpage basis computed practically on basis of the upset price of a timber sale, giving him allowance for the cost of forestry as practiced by him.

This sounds like a good deal for the government and it is. We realize and accept the fact that we could not continue a program of uncontrolled cutting. The trouble lies in the fact that at present the management licences granted contain over 50% of the best timber in the coast area and they are held by less than 5% of the operator. leaving 95% of the operators scrambling the odd comparatively small pieces left.

During the last two years the forest service has put most of the remaining timber into working circles or sustained yield units. These have an annual allowable cut.

An applicant for a timber sale has to meet certain qualifications based on his past production before his application will be accepted, then a sale is put up for him, but anyone can bid in it, and if he is bid out he loses his quota and is out of business.

There is no competitive bidding for the timber in an F.M.L.

So on the one hand we have a few, mostly large operators secure of a supply of timber and on the other a large number of would-be, sometimes desperate operators, sprinkled with speculators and opportunists scrambling for what available timber there is.

Realizing the situation, the present government designated two areas in the interior as emergency areas, giving the original applicant the privilege of matching the highest bid. This was supposed to be an experiment but later they added another area.

During the last Sloan commission hearings it was suggested that F.M.L.S. should be put up for auction the same as timber sales at that time Dr. Orchard said that in appraising them the government proposed to take all the timber was worth and anything else had to come out of fair profit; later when questioned regarding bidding for timber sales he did not extend the same consideration, stating that we applicants did not have to bid if they did not want to.

The qualifications of an emergency area as at present are that it shall be an area that is 50% over cut. Because of the efficiency of the forest service in the Vancouver district there are no areas over cut 50%. However, nearly all of the areas are greatly over applied for, and the same emergency exists.

For these reasons the Truck Loggers' Association passed these resolutions on July 15 to be sent to Victoria for immediate consideration:

That this association re-affirms its opposition to the Tree Farm Licensing system in principle; That no further Tree Farm Licences (F.M.L's) be granted or extended; That all existing Tree Farm Licences (F.M.L's) be reviewed by the Forest Service in the light of greater utilization in the mills, and held to the volume of the original application requirements.

The second resolution reads: That in view of the level to which the disposal of Crown Timber in British Columbia has deteriorated: (a) the whole of British Columbia be declared an emergency area; (b) system of pre-qualification of bidders be immediately instituted by the Government to provide stability for that large segment of the industry not favored with Tree Farm Licences (F.M.L's).

Zone meeting attracts many

A good day's outing was enjoyed on July 16 by Legion members and auxiliaries who attended the Zone meeting at Malaspina.

Besides those in the bus from Gibsons and Roberts Creek were five from different branches in Vancouver, who want to come back again.

Those who attended from Roberts Creek were: Mrs. Hughes, Sr.; Mrs. Cope, Mrs. Davidson. Mr. and Mrs. N. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thyer, Mr. Harbord, Mr. Gilbert and M. Shaw.

Public rally

A public rally against the testing, stockpiling, and use of nuclear weapons will be held August 5 in Kerrisdale Arena, 8 p.m.

Theme of the meeting, which takes place on the eve of the fifteenth anniversary of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, is to be "No more Hiroshimas!"

Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, chairman of the National Committee for Control of Radiation Hazard, will chair the meeting. Burnaby Councillor Camille Mather, head of the Women's Committee on Radiation Hazards, will introduce Dr. Keenleyside.

The meeting is sponsored by the 20 committees on Radiation Hazards in British Columbia.

DROWSY DRIVING

Reflected glare induces drowsiness. One hour's driving in the sun without sunglasses, can make drivers sleepier than three hours driving in less light.

As of March, 1960, 10 percent of all Canadians in the 18-to-21 age group are attending universities.

At convention

Meetings have been cancelled for the week commencing July 25 at the local Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. This has been necessitated by the large number of delegates leaving here to attend the annual district convention in Edmonton, Alta., and Portland, Oregon, July 28 - 31. Mr. J. R. Risbey, presiding minister announces.

Among those attending, will be Mr. H. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. H. Walters and Mr. and Mrs. R. Burton.

Watchtower officials in Edmonton report an expected attendance of over 10,000 Witnesses to enjoy the four-day assembly.

In Canada there is a branch or a sub-agency of a bank for every 3,600 Canadians. In provision of such facilities, Canada leads the world.

$6,000,000 for 11 hospitals

Hon. Eric Martin, minister of health services and hospital insurance, announces the provincial government has approved 11 hospital projects, total value of which will exceed $6,000,000.

Mr. Martin said these projects were part of an overall hospital construction program which the provincial government was encouraging through its grant-in-aid program. This provides that the provincial government pays 50% of all approved hospital construction costs. Hospitals which have been opened this year, or will be opened, in addition to projects currently under construction and in the process of active planning amount to over $37,000,000.

A Northwest Territories air pilot has decided to get his feet on the gound and has purchased the general store at New Brighton, on Gambier Island.

John Brooks, 25, is the air pilot. He spent about 18 months in the north ferrying freight and passengers in the Great Slave Lake area and surrounding region. Now he wants to maintain a year round store service at New Brighton. His home is in Vancouver but he will be settling on Gambier Island.

BASEBALL

On Sunday July 24, a small crowd at Sechelt witnessed one of the finest played ball games of the year between the Gibsons Kiwanis and the Sechelt Connie Mack boys.

The Gibsons boys scored two runs in the top of the ninth to nip the Sechelt boys 2-1, the big blow being a pinch hit triple by Don Munro.

The game was a pitcher's duel from the opening inning with the two ace right-handers Johnny Lowden and Bob Mikowa holding the spotlight.

Sechelt was holding a 1-0 lead going into the ninth, when a walk, a stand-up double by Danny Coates and Don Munro's pinch triple spelled victory for the Gibsons boys.

Sechelt made a strong bid in the bottom of the ninth when getting the first two batters on base, however, the strong pitching of Johnny Lowden and a fine pick-off by catcher Lowell Pearl saved the day.

Saturday, July 23, the Pink Elephant Laundromat donated its facilities to the ball club for fund raising purposes. The Connie Mack ball club thanks Mr. Norman Burley for his efforts and co-operation.

The fine pitching of Norm McKay and the lusty hitting of Gary Butler carried Port Mellon to a 12-6 win over Powell River Marine Hotel on Sunday in the newsprint centre.

In a Saturday evening game Nelsons downed the Port Mellon club 9-5.

The veteran McKay hurled his usual steady game He ran into serious trouble only once as he tired in the ninth when the Hotelmen tallied three runs.

Butler drove in three runs with two line drive homers. He also homered on Saturday.

The Port Mellon defence tightened up considerably from past performances as they chalked up three timely double plays.

This Saturday at Port Mellon the locals will take on Pacific Veneer, a Canadian Forest Products division from New Westminster, in a doubleheader. Game times are 2 and 6 o'clock.

Button mystery remains unsolved

The button bearing the date 1759, dug up some time ago in the garden of Edward Atlee, Franklin Road, was referred to the Admiralty in London, Eng., and a letter offering what information there was sent Mr. Atlee.

The letter explains the company making the button, Firmin and Sons Ltd., did not become a limited company until 1873, therefore the button was produced after that time. It is not a regimental button and could be a livery button worn on clothing of servants of the individual or corporate body whose crest is on the button. The Admiralty reports the crest cannot be identified. The company has no trace of it either.

During 1959 the index of Canada's industrial production rose 8 percent to 169, basis 1949 equals 100. Another indicator of national growth.

A triple egg poacher is ideal for heating small portions of baby food. There's no danger of burning and the baby can be fed directly from the poacher.

LST burns, sinks

Local people who were witnesses to the burning of a 40 foot LST laden with cedar shingles off Hutt Island at the northern end of Keats Island included the Hammonds of Gibsons who were in Gambier Island vicinity when the fire started and Eric Thomson, Hopkins Landing who telephoned in an alarm at 6.30 a.m.

Arthur Haleta, 33, of Gibsons, owner of the barge, was in the engine room when it caught fire.

He suffered burns to his head, face, neck and arms before donning a lifejacket and going over the side with Albert Jamieson, 24, of Campbell River.

They were picked up by a nearby pleasure craft, unidentified, and taken to Horseshoe Bay. In the meantime the Hammonds had started on their way to the burning craft. Eventually the vessel sank in deep water.
