Second look urged on meters

A second look at water meters for Gibsons water users was advocated by Councillor Fred Feeney at Tuesday night's council meeting when the subject of future water supply was discussed.

Gibsons is now on a flat water rate. Councillor Feeney argued a flat unmetered rate was wasteful and he backed up his argument with comments of engineers who were involved in the New York water shortage.

At present some meters exist in various homes. Council previously decided to leave them. Now they will be checked to see what the experience of this summer reveals from their readings. Councillor Feeney felt that when people paid for metered water they were more careful with water than if they were on a flat rate. Meters save water, he argued.

Stewart Rd. residents asked consideration in next year's budget for the paving of Stewart Rd.

McGowan in a letter approving council's desire to avoid unsightly boat houses thought that council was being too hard on him by insisting on a cement foundation for his proposed boat house. Council will approach Mr. McGowan to see what can be done.

The Kinsmen Club were forgiven their $70 tax on Kinsmen Park property. This has been usual for several years.

Gibsons Public Library has a new roof costing $300.

Additional street lighting will be sought.

Council decided that in future culverts put in by householders will have to comply with municipal specifications.

Mrs. A. Wiren

Death has taken Mrs. Alexandra Aliina Wiren of Gibsons in her 93rd year. She would have been 93 next January. Born in Finland she came to Vancouver in 1903 and to Gibsons in January of 1906, to virgin land which had to be cleared for a homesite.

Mrs. Wiren was one of the early pioneer women who worked hard at making a home which had to be carved out of the bushland, suffering all the inconveniences of frontier life. She was a hard worker all her life and left a family of two daughters and two sons with six grandchildren and five great - grandchildren. During her lifetime she did not venture far from home and could always be found improving her surroundings, making the best of what little she had.

The daughters are Mrs. D. McPhail and Mrs. A. Winbow of Vancouver, B.C. and the sons, Wiljo and Niilo, both of Gibsons. Relatives from Vancouver were present at the funeral service in Gibsons, Monday, Sept. 13 at 2:30 p.m. at St. Bartholomew's Anglican church with Rev. H. Kelly officiating. Burial was made in Mount Elphinstone cemetary with Harvey Funeral Home in charge.

NEW HEAD NURSE

Mrs. Mary M. McGowan has been appointed director of nursing at St. Mary's Hospital, Norman Buckley, hospital administrator has announced. A registered nurse, Mrs. McGowan is a graduate of Royal Columbian hospital, New Westminster and from May 1942 to April 1946 was with the surgical branch of the RCAMC. She was also director of nursing at the Prince George hospital.

Ratepayers organize

The Gibsons Ratepayer's association was revived at a meeting Friday night of last week in the United Church hall when 24 persons attended and elected Earle Dawe, chairman; N. R. Harris, vice-president and Mrs. J. S. Macey, secretary, until the annual meeting in January.

The meeting opened with Mr. Dawe reading over the constitution of the former ratepayer association. He next introduced Robert Lamont who gave some of the background of earlier ratepayer associations. He explained that he was the only one alive today of the 1924 executive of an association which had 84 members, not including the Headlands area which was not then a part of the village.

He said that association kept the municipal council jumping and there were few absentees at ratepayer meetings Gibsons was now going backwards and that was why the meeting was being held, he said. There was lots to talk about. If anybody had any grevious complaints this was the place to bring them. He urged ratepayers to get together and his closing words were that he had done his part in the past and now it was up to the younger ratepayers to go to it.

Discussion followed on membership fees and the area to be covered. Some were of the opinion that confining membership to Gibsons would not serve the community. They argued the fringe area people who will soon be in the village boundaries should also get consideration. Membership fees were settled at $1 per person for the rest of the year with advice to the new executive to charge $2 for the year.

Before the meeting closed Mr. Dawe making a pronouncement on future operations urged the association to have a reputation for responsibility. Wesley B. Hodgson who took a leading part in the organization that existed two or three years ago urged members not to bring grouches to meetings but to bring something constructive.

C. H. Halstead was named adviser to the newly formed executive. Mrs. Macey during her brief remarks said she would like to run for council. One of the discussions during the meeting bordered on the possibilities of the association taking a part in naming school board and council candidates.

Revised fee rate sought

Revision of the Sunshine Coast Tourist association membership fee structure will be tackled by a committee for review of the annual meeting of the association Oct. 17 at Powell River. The revision would offer a sliding scale, according to the size of the operation of the member. The sample fee structure from the Victoria Tourist association was discussed at an executive meeting of the Sunshine Coast association Sunday at Ole's Cove resort.

Discussion on fees took up considerable time. There was the suggestion of a $10 and $15 non-voting associate member fee with the voting member fee remaining at $50. However the idea of a scaled type of membership fee received the favorable vote with Digby Porter, Gibsons representative, opposed.

Improvements to the association publicity at the local level was also discussed and it is planned a greater flow of association activities will be placed before the public through the press.

Suggestions were made as to off-season methods of attracting people into the area such as a skin diving meet, the last one being successful, ways of attracting rock hounds and the possibility of small conventions.

Graduation

Forty-six graduates of Elphinstone Secondary School will crown their secondary school careers on Saturday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium when they will be presented with graduation diplomas signed by the deputy minister of education.

Scholarships, bursaries and other prizes won by the graduating class will also be presented. In the same ceremony students of the previous year's Grade 11 will receive prizes.

The address to the graduates will be given this year by Mr. Klyne Headley, supervisor of music for Sechelt School district.

The public is invited to be present.

Exam result upward trend maintained school board learns

Reporting to Monday's School Board meeting, Mr. G. Johnson, district superintendent said that although the individual marks gained by students in the government exams were not spectacular the results were in general above the provincial average and maintaining the upward trend of the past five years.

All staff vacancies have been filled. Both Gibson's principals, Mr. S. Potter and Mr. G. Cooper reported increased enrolments. There will be a record Grade 12 again this year, 73 students, and owing to the high level of success in Grade 7 last year there will be four classes of Grade 8 students at Elphinstone, 110 students.

The board expressed its willingness to comply with Mr. Potter's request for extra transportation for those taking part in band, choir and other extra-curricula activities. Concern was expressed that school buses are not overcrowded, that adequate insurance be carried and that safety rules are enforced.

Mrs. C. Fisher, chairman of the building committee gave an encouraging progress report. Grade 1 classroom at Roberts Creek should be ready on Wednesday of this week. Barring unforeseen difficulties classrooms at Langdale and West Sechelt should be finished by the end of October. Work on classrooms is taking preference over the work on libraries and activity rooms at Sechelt and Madeira Park.

Looking forward to future classroom needs Trustees studied detailed estimates of future enrolment. The difficulty of this sort of prognostication in a developing area such as this was apparent by the increase already this September over the June forecast. There has been a 5% increase in total enrolment in the district between June and September. Detailed maps of school population density were asked for in areas where classroom space is already barely adequate again.

The board endorsed Mr. Johnson's suggestion that subject to parental approval Robert's Creek Grade 1 class will have the opportunity to use the Initial Teaching Alphabet which has been proven successful in England and North America.

Teachers interested will have a chance to attend a conference with ITA experts in Powell River. Mr. Malcolm asked Mr. Johnson to explore the possibilities of extra tutorial help for students. Trustees asked for a study to be made of Grade 8 students, hoping thereby to improve elementary education. A request was made to ascertain the number of retarded children in the school district for whom at present no provision is made.

Response to the circulars on Night School classes sent through the mail has been good and the board hopes that several classes in each area will be possible as soon as registration forms mailed last week are returned. Teachers are still in demand. It is hoped to start a N.F.B. documentary film club in Gibsons similar to the successful Sechelt venture now in its second year with 60 members. There will be an Industrial Math course in Port Mellon. Mr. P. Wilson and Mr. R. Chamberlain attended the meeting of the Lower Mainland Directors of Adult Education recently in Coquitlam, and report that the group plans their next meeting in Gibsons on October 27th.

A letter from Victoria authorises the Board to make recommendations so that the department of education may appoint a trustee to replace Mrs. M. Ball who has resigned. A committee was arranged to handle this appointment.

Mr. G. Johnson and Mr. J. Horvath will attend a meeting for school trustees and superintendents at Simon Fraser University to aquaint them with the new program of teacher education. Mrs. P. Volen, Mr. R. Chamberlain and Mr. W. Malcolm will attend a conference with North and West Vancouver Boards to discuss the prospects of a Regional College for the north shore, and which is of considerable interest to this district. The next meeting of the School Board will be held in Sechelt on Sept. 27.

Rowdyism criticized

Reports of rowdyism in the Pender Harbour area were made at Sunday's meeting of the Sunshine Coast Tourist association executive at Ole's Cove resort.

Added to these reports were complaints that the fines meted out to the culprits were regarded as insufficient. One of the rowdies was reported to have been fined $50 which the complainant maintained was a drop in the bucket compared to the damage that had occurred to the tourist travel in the area.

Two stories, one of two American families arrived at Pender Harbour with two rifles as protection and the other concerned two elderly people who became involved with the rowdies, who packed up immediately and left the area within 24 hours.

Another story told of efforts of the rowdies who operate in the Madeira Park and Garden Bay area waterfronts, tried to start a rumble with visiting United States naval cadets. It was reported the cadets did all they could to avoid contact.

It was also revealed that numerous American craft that usually visited the harbour area did not do so this year. The Coast News understands that the area has been blacklisted at the Seattle Yacht club.

RCMP place the blame for what is going on directly on the shoulders of parents who apparently could not care less. Police report they have tried to get various complainants to back them up on a charge against rowdies but have been unsuccessful many times.

Within the last month, due to close police surveillance, one gang of lads, some juveniles and others minors or older, were apprehended, charged and fined, including liquor charges as well as rowdyism. RCMP maintain that in most cases people involved sit back and complain but when it comes to starting action they back away. Until support of parents and other adults in the area can be obtained RCMP say they are powerless to do what parents expect them to do. Considerable beer and liquor is involved and when the boys are helped in obtaining the beer and liquor it does not help the RCMP.

Len Larson, president of the Tourist association at the conclusion of the discussion maintained the matter was one for the Pender Harbour Chamber of Commerce to tackle. RCMP and the chamber have been working on the problen

Mr. Larsen in his comment was of the opinion that if the area had a harbor-master it might help to clean up the situation.

Unity in the Community gets things done

Ratepayers organize

Gibsons Landing Ratepayers' association has been revived. At a meeting Friday night the old constitution was resurrected, discussed and left in the hands of a president, vice-president and secretary, to bring to life again.

One can hope that it will become an effective force in the community and that its executive will have sufficient knowledge of not only wanting to achieve but in knowing how to achieve. Ratepayer associations in the dynamic economy in which Britishh Columbia has become enmeshed will have to step lively if they want to attract public attention.

There is always room for a good active ratepayer organization in any community providing its guiding force has a path on which to tread. The specific job of this revived association will be to find the path which will attract the greatest number of adherents. Glib assertions concerning activity to protect ratepayers must be backed up with some show of force.

Having observed the life of ratepayer organization operations in Gibsons during the last 11 years, the activities of this revived organization will be watched with interest. Any help the Coast News can give will be given freely in the hope that it will be of benefit to the community.

Gibsons thrives, regardless

Gibsons should provide Vancouver news media writers and radio-TV speakers with information about the coastline, so close to them, of which they apparently know so little. Gibsons, the largest and wealthiest community this side of Powell River just does not exist in the minds of the supposedly erudite news media people.

Somehow they must be informed that Sechelt is a separate community with its own municipal boundaries and that Gibsons is also a community more than double the population of Sechelt. It is also an organized municipality incorporated on March 4, 1929—36 years ago. Sechelt as a municipality is not yet 10 years old.

Sechelt and Sechelt Peninsula are synonimous but Sechelt and Sechelt Peninsula are 14 miles away from Gibsons, therefore to describe incidents taking place in Gibsons as taking place in Sechelt is pretty much the same as attributing Vancouver happenings to some place like Agassiz.

The chamber of commerce which is seeking outlets for getting Gibsons to be better known should consider sending missionaries to Vancouver to acquaint the natives with some of the geography just around the corner from Point Atkinson. We do this not to scorch Sechelt. It is done for the protection of both Sechelt and Gibsons. Someday something will happen in Gibsons and be attributed to Sechelt — and will Sechelt be mad! Smarten up you people of Vancouver news media. Veracity is a virtue which could well be practiced in some Vancouver circles, particularly in the news media where it should be paramount.

Minute message

Warning — this water is unfit for human consumption.

Occasionally one reads signs containing a warning of this nature.

No one wants poor water. It is not useful to drink, cook with or bathe in. Purifying such water is a costly and complicated process.

The Bible teaches that the human race has been polluted by the disease of sin. Ephesians 2:23 tells us that fallen men are by nature the children of disobedience and wrath. We are of no use to God in this state. We are unable even to cleanse ourselves by a few good deeds because our very natures are polluted.

But at infinite expense, God made a way for us to receive cleansing. We can be purified by the death of Jesus Christ who "taketh away the sin of the world." For men who see in dismay the signs of their own pollution there is a cure. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Acts 16:31.

Picked up in passing

There is a chap at Pender Harbour who keeps track of his fishing experiences using a diary in which he writes all pertinent facts down concerning the day, type of weather, tides, state of sea, time fishing, where, number caught, weight and so on. It is quite a record and has its uses because it does remind one of what to expect and just about when. Maybe other fishermen would catch more fish if they became more scientific about it.

The B.C. Wildlife Federation announces that it will pay rewards up to $500 for information leading to the conviction of persons doing wanton damage to the property of timber companies, farmers, ranchers, mining companies, and any other companies or individuals allowing hunters and fishermen access to property they control.

In 1964 the Federation established the Rewards Fund for information leading to the conviction of persons wantonly destroying wildlife or wildlife habitat. It is now the wish of the Federation to extend the rewards policy to cover acts of vandalism against property owners who permit recreationists to use land and roads under their control.

Labatt's Breweries of Canada Limited, agreed to go it alone and guarantee full sponsorship for the first nine Eastern telecasts, so football returned to your living room for the 1965 season. The decision of Ford of Canada to join Labatt's as co-sponsors of the Eastern TV slate for the remainder of the schedule starting September 18 brought about the final agreement.

Prior to Ford's move, Labatt's had been prepared to increase its expenditure and pay for the full production costs on both networks in order to prevent any further delay in the telecasting.

When Ford could not commit itself to come in earlier than Sept. 18, the brewery consented instead to fully sponsor the first nine games and get the show on the road.

Traffic accident reports from five major Canadian hospitals, which are now compiling information about injuries to motorists, show that half of the accidents studied so far this year occurred to and from social functions.

Vancouver, Winnipeg and Montreal general hospitals, and Ottawa general and civic hospitals have released their findings to the Traffic Injury Research Foundation of Canada, says the B.C. Automobile Association, which is a supporter of the Foundation.

Under the category of "purpose of journey" the hospitals have also listed these items: to or from work, 17 percent; domestic, 30 percent; business, 3 percent.

Seat belts were reported as fitted in 15 percent of the cars involved and less than three per cent of the victims admitted for treatment were wearing them at the scene of the accident.

The Davis Ottawa Diary

(By JACK DAVIS Coast-Capilano M.P.)

Canada's new Assistance Plan part of the government's war on poverty, is designed to help people who have no other visible means of support. Not eligible for old age pensions or unemployment insurance they cannot get help in any other way. Their members include the blind and the disabled. They may be widows with large families. Or they may be among the 1% of our population which is unemployable. Whatever the reason, they are without jobs and have no other income with which to look after themselves.

The Canada Assistance Plan, being worked out with the provinces, is a comprehensive public measure based on need. For the first time the varying requirements of people who need this type of assistance will be met within a single administrative framework. Unified in this way, it takes the place of four existing federal-provincial public assistance programs: Unemployment Assistance, Old Age Assistance, Blind Persons Allowances and Disabled Persons Allowances.

Ottawa will continue to share the cost of the present programs for the blind and the disabled. They, in other words, will continue to be in effect until the provinces are satisfied that the interests of Canadians who are now covered in this way, will be fully protected under the new plan.

In the case of Old Age Assistance recipients this program will gradually disappear due to the progressive lowering of the age for Old Age Security payments to 65.

The new plan also provides for three major extensions in the federal sharing of costs: assistance to needy mothers; health care services; and the cost of expanding rehabilitation services.

The new plan, in this way, will bring relief to some 200,000 needy mothers and their dependent children — worthy Canadians who are now excluded under the provisions of the existing Unemployment Assistance act.

The federal government, furthermore, proposes to share in their health care expenses. The outlay, however, under this heading will decline as provision for medicare comes into effect across the nation. In other words, this aspect of the overall Canada Assistance Plan is an interim measure which, fortunately, will become unnecessary as medicare, meeting provincial standards, is put into effect by the provinces themselves.

A third extension in the scope of federal support of helping more people to become self-supporting — in other words for those who receive social assistance to help themselves. Ottawa will help pay for social welfare services so that assistance can more effectively be linked to rehabilitation, vocational training and job replacement services.

All out adoption by the provinces is not compulsory. Some of them may contract out in the sense that they can raise their own taxes and pay for the entire program themselves. However, there can be no doubt that the coverage will be extended and that national standards will be improved from coast to coast as a result of the universal adoption of the major features of the new Canada Assistance Plan which received all but final approval at the recent Federal-Provincial conference in Ottawa.

NOW'S THE TIME TO PLAN FOR YOUR CHILD'S COLLEGE CAREER

Like everything else these days, the cost of getting a college education keeps going up. If you wait until your son or daughter is ready to start college, the money required might well be beyond your means.

That's why the practical plan is to start saving systematically while your youngster is still very young. Many parents who can afford it begin by earmarking their family allowance cheques for a special educational fund at the Bank of Montreal. They find it adds up tremendously over the years. Cheques for one child, saved in a B of M account until the age of 16, total more than $1,600, including the interest, the bank says. And, of course, the money is always available in case it's needed for some unexpected emergency.

Ted Henniker or Ernie Booth, managers respectively of the Gibsons and Sechelt branches of the Bank of Montreal, will be glad to give you a copy of the B of M's folder designed to help you calculate the cost of your youngster's higher-education program. What you save today can do a good deal towards improving your youngster's chances to get the best possible start in life when high-school days are over. Adv.

Food outlook

SEPTEMBER

(By The Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa)

Potatoes: A potential record crop is possible on the basis of present acreage. This would lead to much lower prices than last year after harvest. Meantime, local supplies will dominate most markets and gradually declining prices are expected.

Apples: Production is expected to be below last year in Ontario and British Columbia, but up in other areas. Quebec may lead in size of crop for the first time. Early, short-season varieties are now ready. Prices for later varieties will be about the same as last year except for the west where prices will probably be higher.

Other Fruit and Vegetables: Prices will be firm as a result of relatively light supplies.

Beef: Seasonally lower prices are in prospect for the coming month at levels above those of 1964.

Pork: Following a period of relatively stable prices, the usual seasonal decline may begin in September but levels are likely to remain above last year.

Eggs: Since egg production is still seasonally low, prices are expected to remain firm during the next few weeks.

Coho grilse tags planned

During the period mid-September to early November 1965, biologists of thhe fisheries department will be conducting a coho grilse tagging program in the northern Georgia Strait and Discovery Passage areas. This study, the second tagging program to be conducted in the Georgia Strait region during 1965, is aimed at determining the timing and subsequent distribution of a juvenile coho population which demonstrates a mass movement through Johnstone Strait during the fall of each year.

Because of the immature stage of the salmon, few tags will be recovered during the current fishing season but these fish will be entering the fishery during the 1966 season. Both commercial and sport fishermen can help by returning the tags together with the pertinent recovery information to the fishery officer in their area.

To facilitate the return of tags sport fishermen are advised that special postage free tag return envelopes will be available during the 1966 season at most boat rental and moorage facilities. The envelopes will be available to commercial fishermen at most fish camps, collectors and packers operating in the south coast region. A nominal reward of 50 cents is being offered for return of tags and recovery information.

Yuma residents can figure on 280 sunny days in an average year.

SOCCER

(By Goalie)

Once again, the season has rolled around and the Gibsons Juvenile Soccer Association is once more planning for a successful 1965-66 season.

Last season's division 5 champions will be moving up to division 4 and there will also be 2 or even 3 teams in division 6.

On Saturday, Sept. 18, a general practice for all teams will be held from 9 a.m. onwards. Any boy desiring to play soccer this year is asked to be on the pitch behind the High School in Gibsons on Saturday morning from 9 to 11 a.m. Coaches and managers will also be there. Any adult who wishes to help in any way is welcome.

The following teams will be entered in various divisions from Gibsons.

Div. 2, Gibsons Legion.

Div. 4, Gibsons United.

Div. 6, Gibsons Legion, Canfor and if we have enough coaches and players.

Gibsons Merchants.

Coaches this season will be Jock Bennett, Peter Mazonkis, Bill Laing, Johnny Ayres and Kevin Murphy.

A new innovation this season will be the merging of Port Mellon and Gibsons. Mr. Glyn Davies, well known soccer coach and refree from the Pulp Town will be assisting the group in Gibsons.

This season we would like to see a team entered from Madeira Park. We hear via the grape vine that there are enough boys up there to form a team, but no coaches. What is the matter? Surely some of the fathers can come out and help with this wonderful team sport. Help keep the boys busy and teach them team spirit. It will showup in later years.

DRAW WINNER

Gibsons Hardware draw for an electric tea kettle was won by Rev. A. F. Willis of Keats Island.

Late ferry?

A move is underway to get the Ferry Authority to run a later trip to Langdale when the winter schedule goes into effect on Nov. 1. Randy Wiren, a CFP mill employee plans to approach chambers of commerce in the area and other institutions to get backing for his objective.

Under the winter schedule the final ferry of the day will leave Horseshoe Bay at 9:30 p.m. With one ferry running on a two hour basis from Langdale it would be 11:30 p.m. before it would sail from Horseshoe Bay, unless the Ferry Authority planned a change in its schedule.

Controls to be explored

Agreement has been reached with representatives of British Columbia fishery organizations on some preliminary steps that might be taken towards controlling the intensity of commercial salmon fishing operations, Dr. A. W. H. Needler, deputy minister of fisheries, announces.

"Progressive intensification of salmon fishing would ultimately make it impossible for the department of fisheries to discharge its responsibility adequately in the conservation of the important salmon stocks," Dr. Needler said. The effect on fishermen's earnings of overcrowding in this fishery has been the subject of representations for a number of years.

In February of this year, Fisheries Minister Robichaud informed the house of commons that it is the intention of the department of fisheries to exercise some kind of control in the issuance of commercial salmon fishing licenses. Full and frank discussion of tentative proposals put forward by the department took place at a recent meeting in Vancouver of Dr. Needler and other senior officers of the department with industry representatives. "As a result, it is now planned to modify the proposed procedure for licensing fishermen and to introduce registration of fishing craft. Proposals for a special permit with a graduated fee structure for entry into the salmon fisheries was also discussed but is was agreed that further consideration of this matter was necessary. A second meeting on these and other aspects of the problem will be held later this year or early in 1966" Dr. Needler said.

Hunting note

With the 1965 hunting season now underway, Director J. Hatter of the Fish and Game branch urges the co-operation of all hunters in respecting private property rights.

Two major complaints of landowners, whether farmers, ranchers or others, are shooting toward buildings, livestock and other vulnerable property, and hunting without permission. Both practices are against the law.

"Good hunter-landowners relations can be maintained by always obtaining permission to hunt on private lands and by respecting property rights while guests on it," said Dr. Hatter.

Introduction of mechanized looms caused the displaced weavers to riot in Holland in 1620.

Guide trainers confer

One of 138 trainers for the Girl Guides of Canada—Guides du Canada attending the All Canada Trainers' conference in Ottawa, Aug. 15-21, Mrs. Betty Allen of Gibsons, is home again full of new ideas for her Guide work this fall.

Planned to help Canadian trainers gain a better understanding of how adults learn, and to prepare them for the new look the Guide program will take on this September, the conference was a busy time for all.

Director and co-ordinator of the conference was Dr. Alan M. Thomas, Toronto, director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, assisted by R. M. MacDonald of Sir George Williams College, Montreal, and Miss Marjorie Smith, Vancouver, of the Department of Extension, University of B.C.

"We met other trainers from every province, and saw skill sessions presented by them. Between lectures we learned how to use audio-visual aids, received new program ideas for the new Canadian Guide program and learned new games, music and handicrafts.

"We particularly enjoyed a boat ride along the Rideau Canal from Carleton College, where the conference was held to the Parliament buildings. At noon, we heard a carillon concert from the Peace Tower — a program planned especially for us, with Girl Guide songs. Our biggest thrill was hearing our Girl Guide-Girl Scout World song, which was composed by Sibelius. The carillonneur played it to honor us and to mark the centenary of the famous Finnish composer. It was a special arrangement for the carillon and sounded marvellous floating over Parliament Hill. Then we were escorted through the Parliament buildings. In the afternoon we were taken on a bus tour of Ottawa, and Hull, Quebec, and surrounding countryside.

"In the Gatineau Hills, eight miles from the Peace Tower, there is a charming domain, ornamented by gardens and traversed by walks that once belonged to a famous man. On one side lies the valley of the Ottawa, in another direction the mountain loch called Kingsmere while north-westward loom the hills. This is the Mackenzie King estate, the property of the Canadian people, and part of the 75,000 acre Gatineau Park. In this beautiful setting we stopped for afternoon tea.

"In the evening arrangements had been made for a leisurely boat trip along the Ottawa River coming to a spectacular close when we arrived back to the magnificent view of the Parliament Buildings and Chateau Laurier ablaze with lights," Mrs Allen reports.

OAPO opens season

As the fall season begins, so do the meetings of thhe OAPO, with plans to make the meetings more interesting, and numerous outside affairs arranged.

Anyone can join this group of happy people and enjoy working with them.

Social afternoons are held the first Monday of each month at 2 p.m. with some bingo and a cup of tea.

Regular meetings on the third Monday each month cover OAPO business, both of the branch and provinical board. This is a group of 13,000 numbers, throughout B.C., showing that there is more importance to becoming an actual member than just joining the local branch.

Many privileges go with the showing of your OAPO membership card, dental assistance, hearing aid and glasses as examples.

All meetings of branch 38 are held at the Health Centre, Fletcher Rd., Gibsons. Branch 38 covers all the Gibsons area, including Roberts Creek. Nora A. Haley is the secretary, phone 886-2338.

A shipboard day is divided into six watches, each of eight bells duration.

Over 10 million yeast cells are found on each ripe grape at the time of harvest.

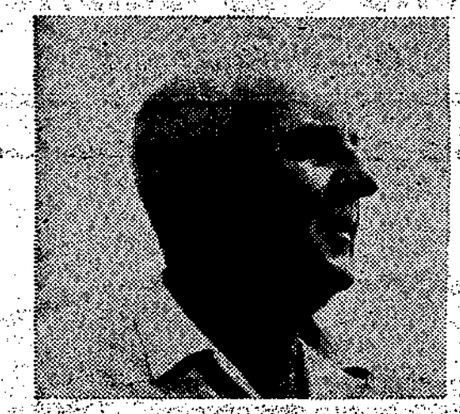
Some people still think electric heating is expensive.

These people don't (They have it.)

LAWRENCE MORRISSEY, Victoria, B.C.
"No maintenance at all. We haven't had to touch it since it was installed. There's been no odour, either. The atmosphere is always clean and fresh."

MRS. G. BOUCHARD, Fort St. John, B.C.
"It's very even heat, with no cool spots, no drafts. I believe electricity is more reliable, too. When we leave the house, there's nothing to worry about."

D.A. PRIOR, Prince George, B.C.
"I like the low cost. We haven't spent a cent for repairs. And it doesn't need as much space, so it's ideal for a no-basement place like ours."



DEREK PARKES, Westbank, B.C.
"I like the thermostat in every room. You can keep the temperature just where you want it. No heat is wasted. We really like it."

MR. & MRS. R. G. STEWART, Ladner, B.C.
"What do we like best about electric heat? Cleanliness. Sure, it's quiet. Takes up less space, too. But most of all, it's the cleanest heat we've ever had."

F. W. STENNER, Gibsons, B.C.
"Complete comfort all through the house. The exact heat we want in each room, because each one is controlled by its own separate thermostat."

At today's low electric rates, over 7,000 B.C. families have learned that electric heating costs little more than ordinary automatic heating systems. But it offers plenty more: (1) Room-by-room temperature control means extra comfort, extra savings. (2) Sunshine-clean electric heat saves drudgery and expense. No dirt, no soot. (3) Equipment is practically maintenance-free. Usually lasts longer, too. (4) Electric heat is easy to live with. Gentle, even heat. Very quiet heat. (5) Compact, too. Simplifies home construction, saves valuable floor space. (6) Resale value? As the trend to all-electric living gains ground, this is the heating system more buyers will be looking for tomorrow. If you're about to build, remodel or extend your home, don't overlook the advantages of electric heating. Ask B.C. Hydro for a heating cost estimate, plus the informative booklet: "Electric Heating Facts." It's free.

LUCKY WOMAN

Visiting Mr. Harry McLean of Halfmoon Bay recently have been his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Oziro of Revelstoke. The three of them went fishing and Mrs. Oziro was the only lucky one. She landed three big cod and a 10 lb. salmon.

Horse crashes windshield

When Ken Moffatt of Halfmoon Bay accompanied his sister Lorraine and Wayne Hindson on a trip to California to visit Disneyland, the rest of the Moffatt family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Moffatt with Elaine and Kit, took off in the opposite direction for a holiday in the Okanagan region.

At Keremeos they had an unfortunate accident when a horse with a rider reared and crashed through the windshield of their car. The horse had to be shot and the rider taken to hospital. The Moffatts were lucky to get off with a few cuts and a shattered windshield but the experience put them out of the mood for a holiday and they turned homewards.

Leads choir

Rev. W. M. Cameron announced from Gibsons United Church pulpit Sunday morning that H. Klyne Headley, supervisor of music from schools, will be choir leader. He was introduced to the choir at Thursday night's practice last week when an informal social gave him a chance to meet choir members.

TIP FOR FISHERMEN

Why fish with a safety pin hook and string as a line when other methods can be more effective? Niel Stanley and Matthew Hoag both about nine years old were on Granthams float on Sat., Sept. 4, when they spied, much to their surprise, a big coho. Rushing to shore they found a rock or two, stunned the fish, then grabbed it and hurried to the Granthams store. There it was weighed and found to be a six pounder.

HUNTING OPENER

The first week-end of hunting season at Halfmoon Bay saw about 200 people patiently waiting at the gate on Doyle's logging road. They had come from Powell River, Vancouver and elsewhere. They returned empty handed.

EVER SWEPT ONE OF THESE?

Then you will know what it's all about!

Some people don't.

In fact some people don't even have one.

Where does their smoke go?

Some people don't have any of that, either.

It's not that they've given up being warm.

They've just given up smoke.

Of course they've had to give up soot and smell and stain too.

But you have to when you're using flameless electricity.

McPhedran's have installed a quarter of a million watts of Markel Electric Heating this year

And not one of them will ever have to be swept.

Of course when we install yours you can keep the chimney.

They come in handy on Christmas Eve.
