Creston District Will Not Have Celebration on Victoria Day This Year

GEORGE ENGLISH HAS FATAL FALL

Late Tuesday night Dr. Henderson received a hurried call to go to Port Hill which stated that George English had fallen over the cliff and was seriously hurt. He responded at once but when he arrived at Port Hill he was met with the news that the young man was dead

It seems that George was teaming up to the Continental mine and had gone about six miles from Port Hill when the spring of the wagon seat broke and he was hurled over the bank. He held on the right hand line long enough to turn the heads of the team in towards the bank but lost his hold and rolled down the bank to a ledge 70 feet below which threw the body out and down the cliff 200 feet. Old man Craig was just behind the wagon and though partially deaf heard a cry which attracted his attention. As he went forward he noticed the position of the team and looking over the bank could just make out the form of the young man below. Dusk was falling so he hurried for help and in a few minutes several men arrived and carried the body up to the road. There was just a sign of life but it was readily seen that there was no chance for the man whose skull was crushed and whose limbs were broken.

They took him to Port Hill to the Hall there and notified his people. The father, who lives across the flats from Creston was sent for and arrived on Wednesday evening. His brothers live in or near Port Hill and he has a sister down East.

The funeral took place this afternoon at Port Hill Rev. W. G. Blake officiating.

The accident has cast great gloom over the whole community as the young man and his people are very highly thought of both as business men and neighbors.

A bush fire of considerable magnitude appeard near town yesterday much to the alarm of some of our citizens. It was found however that it was only the boys at Winlaws Camv burning a fire guard and putting everything in shape for the summer.

Our enterprising (?) game warden H. R. H. Bedford left today on the West bound train with supplies for at least a week. We learn he is bound for Proctor there to take up the game trails of—A cricket match. The game will be played on Monday at Nelson and the launch leaves Proctor early on Monday morning to pick up the players on the way to the Queen City. Our warden is keen on the game if it is only—cricket or ping-pong.

The road gang at Canyon City are certainly doing some very good work on the roads out that way. The grade at Browell's hill has been greatly reduced and a big fill at the coulee there.

It is rumored that Dr. Henderson has bought a Ford car from R. S. Bevan the local representative of the Company The stork will have to hurry some to get there before the Doctor now. This will be a great addition to the Auto squad and demonstrates again that the Ford is the car for this part of the country. Bob Reid will probably be the next to buy.

TELEPHONE OFFICE TO BE CHANGED

The local Telephone Company is making considerable changes and improvements. The central office will be moved from its present location to the building known as the Metcalf Building. The work of making the change will go forward at once. The change is going to be a great improvement as the central office and the Post Office will be in the same building and in a more commodious and central location. As far as the Post Office is concerned we are going to have one of the nicest little offices in the Kootenays. Mr. Crawford is superintending the change and making the arrangements and assures us that no expense will be spared to place both offices in the best of shape for convenience and service.

There will be an entrance and an exit so that the fear of congestion will be dispelled and there will be considerably more room for the public to gather as also for the postmaster and his assistant to work.

These changes have both been much needed and Bill Crawford is to be congratulated upon the efficient manner in which he is bringing them about.

FIRST BAND DANCE WAS GRAND SUCCESS

The first dance given by the recently organized brass band on Friday evening was a pronounced success from every standpoint.

The committee in charge sent to Nelson and procured the Winters Orchestra who furnished excellent music It was their first appearance in Creston but in all probability they will have other opportunities to return.

The band boys appeared on the station platform shortly before time for the dance to begin and surrounded by a crowd of enthusiastic fellow citizens made their first public appearance in a short band concert, each number of which was received with unanimous applause and before the music of the National Anthem had quite ceased the crowd responded with hearty cheers.

From the station they marched to the Auditorium and the dance began. The dance program was well selected and carried out and the verdict of all present was that it was one of the best dances of the season.

Refreshments were served at about midnight and the second part of the program began.

During the evening the band rendered selections which were received with great applause.

In view of the fact that the instruments had only been in town for a week the progress made by the members of the band is phenomenal and we are safe in making the prediction that at the present rate Creston District will shortly have one of the best bands in the Kootenays.

ALICE SIDING NEWS

A number of farmers moved their cattle from the meadow Sunday taking them up to Wolf Mountain for the summer.

The Mothers will meet at Mrs. Carr's Wednesday to discuss important business.

Everybody is busy getting licences to shoot hawks, gophers and mosquitoes.

Jack and Dick Smith took a short fishing trip to Sirdar last week end. Dick reports lots of fishing but very few fish and what fish there were was terribly mixed up with the water.

A few of the Alicesidingites took in the dance in town Friday night and enjoyed it very much.

We must remember that Creston ranks among the cities of the world if you don't think so just listen to the Brass Band.

E. Butterfield, of Duck Creek was in town between trains today.

J. M. Crookston, of Ladysmith arrived yesterday to take up the position of teller in the bank in place of J. C. Dow.

Mr. A. D. Robarge has resigned his position as leader of the Creston District Brass Band and has been succeeded by Mr. T. Goodwin. Mr. Robarge left today for Spokane on a short visit.

A camp of gypsies arrived on the morning train yesterday and their effects came in later on the freight. They camped out for the night and not finding Creston people easy, folded their tents like the Arab and silently (noisily) stole away this morning. They are headed towards Alberta.

Rev. W. E. Dunham of Cranbrook passed through on the Eastbound train today on his way home from the conference at Kamloops. He says that prospects were never better for the advance movement of the church, and in spite of hard times people are paying more attention to the serious affairs of life.

A. B. S. Stanley - - - Lessee, Editor and Manager

Persistent reports come of breaches of the game laws, mostly by the Indians, but as yet we have to learn of any action on the part of the game warden to stop them or at least reduce the occurences to the minimum. We suggest that the Fish and Game Protection Association take some steps to safeguard the game of the district if the warden remains inactive in the matter. On the other hand his activities seem to be directed against boys and young men who are really justified in shooting gophers and hawks, both of which are destructive to property. Apropos of this subject. An item we published recently was classified as an insult to the Game Warden. We wish to ask if it is not a greater insult to the district to have a man thrust upon it who does not want to come and is either unable or unwilling to fulfil the functions of his office? Furthermore threats and intimidation that have been offered the Editor will not serve as a deterrent but rather as an incentive to voice what is without doubt the sentiment of the greater part of the community.

Oil development upon a large scale is something much to be desired for Calgary and Alberta generally, but in the excitement over oil it would be just as well for people to remember that not even an oil boom of the rosiest sort can compare with the farm crop as a prosperity stabilizer in this and other western provinces. For a couple of weeks past farmers throughout southern Alberta have been worrying considerably. The season was splendid for seeding and crops were got in the ground earlier than usual. But moisture was needed for the young grain, and until Saturday of last week there were no indications of moisture. In the Lethbridge district, one of the best in the south country, conditions were such on Saturday as to cause real alarm. Happily all danger is now past. Copious showers all over the south since Sunday have guaranteed sufficient moisture for the growing crops, and from now on the farmers will breathe easily and watch things grow.

Glad enough to have real oil development, the people should be more pleased that Providence continues to smile upon the work of the farmers, sending those conditirns that guarantee a continuance of agricultural prosperity.—Calgary Herald.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has issued a statement as to his position, and that of those associated with him, in connection with the Colorado strike, in which so many lives were being sacrificed says the Toronto Star.

He recites the various demands of the miners, and claims that the mine owners have agreed to them all—but one. That one demand is that the owners shall recognize their union. This demand is refused.

The men say that the experience of ten years shows them that with this demand refused nothing else matters, because their rights are not in their own keeping, and are granted and withdrawn as owners think fit.

Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., represents himself as standing on the principle of "the right of every American citizen to work on terms satisfactory to himself without obtaining the concent of the union." These words have a fine sound. They are old words and have seen a great deal of use in the long fight between capital and labor. As used by Mr Rockefeller they seem to mean that he is protecting workingmen in their rights as against a union that would oppress them. Does anybody believe that this is really the case? Is he, and and are those associated with him, concerned for the welfare of non-workers? Are they not determined to retain the advantages which they derive from having workers in an unorganized mass to deal with?

What Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., really means is that he and his associates, are contending for the right of every American citizen, or foreigner, "to work on terms satisfactory" to his employer or get out or be thrown out. That is not the way they put it but that is what they mean.

That kind of thing will not do in these times. The terms on which men work govern the conditions in which they and their families live. If hardships and poverty produce vice and crime, society at large suffers. The state knows this and governments are compelled to act on the knowledge. We have factory acts and factory inspection acts relating to working in mines, and all kinds of legislation affecting the relation of employer and employed. But behind and under, actually making, all these laws, is Organized Labor.

As Colonel Goethals will be the hero of the achievement which the exposition is to commorate, this meeting will be one of the most important of hundreds of great congresses to be held in San Francisco at the time of the exposition.

New Rates and Inland Centres, As a result of the freight rates decision of the freight rates decision of the railway commission, important benefits are anticipated by fruit growers and shippers throughout the Boundary district of British Columbia The immediate effect, it is believed, must be a substantial development on inland distributing centres, since unde present conditions it has been customary for freight to be shipped through to coast terminals, then reshipped to interior points at cheaper rates than if shipment had been made direct to interect points from the East.

The effect of these conditions has been to develop coast wholesale houses; but encouragement will now be afforded for the establishment of many wholesale branches at interior points.

Mr. Smith who in his Molaughlin-Buick car is touring the country arrived in Port Hill the other day with the machine in poor running order. He at last got in touch with Dick Bevan who went over to put the car in repair and show the way to Creston. When he arrived there he found the car in such poor condition that it would be necessary to bring the car to the garage and give it an overhauling. This he did and the owner went his way rejoicing that there was an efficient mechanic with a well maintained garage in the Kootenays.

A Lindley of the House of Quality returned yesterday from an extended visit to the prairie market in the interest of this season's crops. He reports the outlook very satisfactory, the crop sold. The people of the prairie have a deep regard for our fruit and if there was more to sell there would be no difficulty in doing so. He had a look at some of the oil that has been produced near Calgary and says it looks very good to him and he thinks the oil find will materially aid us here in that it will give an impetus to all business and furnish employment for a number of workers.
