Creston Triumphs Narrow Margin

The Creston-Erickson game on Wednesday night gave a big boost to local baseball enthusiasm. The score was 10 to 9 in favor of Creston and indicated the closeness of the play.

The game was to have been called at the end of seven innings so that it would not interfere with the theatre, but both players and crowd were so enthusiastic that everything else was forgotten and the full nine innings were played.

When Creston went to bat at the last half of the ninth the score stood 9 to 8 in favor of Erickson. G. Bayles, pinch-hitter for Creston, scored the tieing run after a heart breaking trip around the bases. Some of the Erickson fans claimed that Bayles was put out at least four times, but in spite of the volume of evidence the umpire, who claims to have friends in both towns refused to agree. The score:

A return game will be played Wednesday, the 25th, and we can safely say that a record crowd will be in attendance. The game will be called for 7 o'clock, instead of 6.30, as there is ample time between seven and dark to go the full nine innings. The attendance at these games has been most encouraging to the players and there is no doubt it will increase if the boys play ball as they did on Wednesday.

Lister

Rev. H. Varley will be here for Church of England service in the schoolhouse at 11.30 on Sunday morning. This will be the second Anglican service in the history of the camp, and a good crowd is expected.

Lister Traction & Transportation Company, which has been operating for about eight months, with E. Thompson in charge of the motor delivery, suspended operations the end of week, and at present a delivery service is being furnished by D. B. Peterson, who has leased one of the board's Ford trucks.

C. Faulkner of the office staff left a few days ago for Vancouver and coast points on a holiday trip.

Building permis for this week include a new residence, which is already under construction for Tooley McDonald.

The four-day closing out sale conducted last week by S. A. Speers, who purchased the company store stock, was a splendid success for all concerned. Mr. Speers did quite a thriving trade and the settlers not only got splendid bargains out of the old Lister store stock, but Mr. Speers replenished it with all the staple lines and Listerites were thus able to supply all their household needs right here—saving transportation charges from Creston.

This week sees 90 per cent of the 1921 orchard area set out to trees. All told fifteen ranches have had five acres each set out to trees, averaging about 60 trees to the acre, and the balance of the nursery stock has been heeled in and will be available for setting out next season. Many of the ranchers are utilizing their five acres for vegetable cultivation and clover crop this year, and will not put out trees until 1922.

Deffnite action was taken on Tuesday night in the matter of reopening a general store at Lister, on which occasion a local company was formed with W. Mitchell as managing director. C. B. Garland was here from Creston attending to the legal features and everything is now squared away and incorporation papers are looked for before the end of the month. The other directors are H. B. Vernon, who was chairman of the organization meeting, Jas. Duncan, John Bird and B. Langston, jr. Working cash capital of almost $3000 is in sight, and the company starts off with about 25 shareholders. The company will operate the store on a spot cash basis. Mr. Speers has removed all his unsold stock to Creston and at the very earliest possible date Mr. Mitchell will again be doing business at the old stand.

West Creston

Spraying operations were under way here last week, the Simmons ranch being the first to commence. There is an exceptionally fine show of bloom on the Northern Spies in this orchard this year.

Tom Harris had a crew at work on the Goat River bridge on Tuesday clearing it of the driftwood that had been landed up on it by the flood waters of the river the latter part of the week.

Angus Currie is making a decided improvement on his ranch here by the erection of quite a commodious bugalow residence.

Mrs. French got back on Friday from a week's visit with her sister at Grand Forks.

Mrs. John Stephens is expected to arrive here the latter part of the week and will remain until early fall before returning to Tacoma, Wash.

From present appearances the end of the week will be the latest date on which the trip can be made to town by team. The water is coming up rapidly and report has it that the snowfall at the head of Corn Creek last winter is ten feet deeper than the winter previous.

While it is welcome news to learn that the new ferry will be an assured accommodation within the next few months, it is to be hopen a move will be made to at least equip the old one with new and longer aprons. The ones at present in use are so short that getting on and off the scow with a load is quite a dangerous undertaking.

Jack Stephens is getting things in shape to erect a 24x30 foot new barn on his place next month. Just at present he is busy putting in a dam on the creek at his place, which will supply excellent irrigation for the garden.

Alice Siding

Manager Kelly of the Alderson ranch is sorry he did not wait until after the full moon before risking tomato plants outdoors. He lost about 300 of them in the frost dips early last week.

Reed & Mather are putting the finishing touches on a new implement shed and will start in on the makeup of strawberry crates. Their berry plants never looked better than they do this season.

A couple of dozen of the residents along the upper road combined for a picnic at the Goat River bridge on Sunday last, and had a most enjoyable outing.

Mr. Anderson, sr., who has been with his son on their newly-acquired ranch—the Darbyshire place—has returned to Victoria. The son is working with Guy Constable, getting a few months' practical experience at ranch operations.

Right now it looks as if Alice Siding was due to have the earliest potatoes. A field of them on the former Rose & Watcher ranch, shows a growth of four inches in some cases.

Daily papers announce that Lord Sholto Douglas, a former owner and resident at Douglas Villa, was remarried the latter part of April at London, England, to Mrs. Mosselman, daughter of a wealthy Dutchman, also of London. Lord Douglas obtained a divorce from his former wife, Loretta Mooney the California dancer (whom he married in 1895), whom some here are acquainted with, in May of last year.

Kitchener

Rev. J. A. James of Creston will be here between trains on Sunday for the usual Presbyterian service in the schoolhouse.

Chester Paulson of Spokane and Mr. Mason of Tacoma motored up from Spokane on Sunday, and spent the week-end here.

J. Crowe of the Kitchener Timber Company got back on Sunday after spending several days at Vancouver.

Mr. Ragotte, who has been employed for several months with the Sash & Door Co., left on Monday for Cranbrook, Mrs. Ragotte accompanying him.

Provincial police officer Vachon paid Kitchener an official visit on Sunday.

G. A. Hunt left on Wednesday for Erickson, working on his ranch at that point.

Miss Clara Hart was a week-end visitor with friends at Cranbrook.

Mr. Woodman of the Sash & Door Co. returned on Monday after spending the week-end in Cranbrook.

Mr. Lloyd, proprietor of the McConnell restaurant, spent a few days at Nelson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are giving a housewarming in connection with the completion of their new residence on Saturday night, the affair to take the shape of a dance at the Kitchener Hotel at which they hope to see all their friends. Music will be by Messrs Chorlton and Booth.

Julius Ovre left on Wednesday for Coleman, Alta., where he figures on remaining for the summer.

Berry plants all over the section are now well in bloom and all the ranchers are figuring that there is to be a real fine crop provided the weather keeps up to the present excellent standard.

The ladies met for baseball practice on Wednesday night, and had a fine workout. It looks as if we should be able to field a fast ladies team here.

M. Wigen is now shipping strawberry plants to Alberta points, where the ground is just getting ready for cultivation.

D. J. Dewar has just completed the sale of a block of land—just adjoining the Foxall place—to Mr. Davis of Creston, who is expected to start building and clearing operations at once.

Land sales are still reported here these days. Three deals have been put through this week, and one or two prospective buyers are having quite a time locating any land for sale here.

If the weather continues to hold warm the old timers around here figure that there will be the highest water in the slough this year that there has been for the last ten years.

The Sunday school is figuring on having its annual picnic on Saturday, June 4th, and all the members are eagerly looking forward to that day.

Duck Creek has again shown its popularity for newly married couples. We hear the latest of our citizens to join the ranks of the happy benedicts is George Huscroft, who was married quietly to Miss D. Winch at Creston last Thursday, and have taken up their residence in George's new house here. All of their numerous friends join in wishing them the best there is going in health, wealth and happiness.

The Athletic Club dance on Saturday night was the most successful hop of the season, and the fun of weighing the lady after having hunted all over the hall for her was great fun for both lady and gent. A party of visitors came out from Creston and we should all like to see bigger parties come from the same town. The music, which had been specially engaged, was of the very best. After paying all expenses the club is $14 to the good on the affair. The officers of the club say their only complaint is that the ladies were too light.

The United Farmers had their first picnic on Sunday at a spot near the slough, across Goat River channel. The whole neighborhood turned out in force and the fun was fast and furious from 10 a.m. till 7 p.m. There were races for everyone from the kiddies to the oldest inhabitants; ladies and gents' baseball, and all kinds of games. Everyone enjoyed themselves so much that they did not want to come home. Matt. Hagen is the one who put in the most work, due to the fact that his was the only boat there for a large part of the time, and he very willingly did most of the ferrying. Mr. Ringheim also helped with his motor boat; also Mr. Davis with his new boat.

R.C.M.P. Officer Drowned Sunday

A drowning mishap in which Sergt. Searle, who is in charge of the R.C.M.P. station at Creston, lost his life, and Const. Uren almost met the same fate, occurred quite early on Sunday morning. The two, along with Const. Burden, were en route to the barracks here, after spending the night on watch at the Idaho boundary at Porthill.

The fatality occured at the point on the lower road to Porthill where there is a couple of hundred feet of highway between the long main bridge and a smaller bridge closer to Creston, over which bit of roadway the river at the high water now prevailing rushes with great velocity.

However, on the trip out on Saturday night no trouble was experienced in getting through the flood waters, but it would appear that during the night the water rose considerably, or the late sergeant's horse got into a washout of unexpected depth, and in the struggle in the rushing torrent the rider and horse were both carried out into the main river, and swept down stream.

Const. Uren, who was close behind, got into similar trouble and was unable to lend any help, while Const. Burden found the navigating too treacherous to reach the drowned man in time to be of any assistance.

As soon as news of the fatality reached town a party of citizens at once started to patrol the river, but up until noon Thursday no trace has been found of the drowned man, although the horse was located and rescued late Sunday afternoon, the animal having been swept down stream and lodged against a brush pile upon which it managed to keep itself afloat, its head being just nicely out of water when noticed and finally got ashore.

A reward was at once offered and in addition to citizens a score or more of the local Indians have since been watching the stream, but with the current running strong and steadily rising, and the water spreading over the flats area, the watch and search is no small undertaking.

The deceased sergeant had only been here a few months, coming from Lethbridge, Alta., in March to take over the post from Const. Petty. He was a popular and mighty fine officer and his untimely demise is keenly regretted. He is survived by his wife who, with her mother, are resident at the local barracks, and to both of whom there goes out a very deep sympathy in their particularly trying bereavement.

LOST—At the park, Sunday, May 7, child's cream serge coat with belt. Return to Postoffice.

The Swing of the Pendulum

The enormous demand for products and goods of all kinds during the war, and the consequent rapid rise in prices not only for such products and goods but for all materials and labor entering into their production for use, created problems in finance and economics which taxed the best brains in all countries. Phenomenal increases in prices of all commodities inevitably forced increased wages paid to workers in order that they might be able to maintain themselves and their families. And increased wages could have no other effect than to give still another boost to the costs of production, and, as a natural result, another advance in prices. Another call for an increase in wages followed, and so the world travelled in a circle.

With the conclusion of the war came a sudden cessation in demand for those articles which were required in enormous quantities during the struggle. Coupled with this cessation in demand, was the return of millions of men from the armies back to civilian life and the necessity of absorbing them once again into the industrial and productive work of the country. Under the conditions it did not take long to make good the shortage of goods in practically all lines which had been created during the war while the energies of all people were devoted to the making of war materials and equipment.

Now the world of finance and business and labor faces the problems of decreased demand and falling prices. Difficult as were the problems created by unprecedented demand, shortage of materials and labor, and steadily rising prices, they were simple compared to the difficulties now confronting everybody because of decreased demand, and consequent unemployment, resulting in a lessened buying power by the public and an inevitable fall in prices of commodities. Yet this new and much more difficult problem must be faced and solved, and all classes must contribute their fair share to the solution.

The chief present difficulty seems to lie in the fact that the workingman remains insistent that the high scale of wages reached during the war period of inflation shall be maintained. Those high wages were the outcome of unusual conditions, and any intelligent and observant person must realize that with the passing of those exceptional conditions, wages, like everything else, must return to a normal level.

In order to stimulate buying on the part of people generally, there must be a decrease in prices: If there is not such a drop in prices, and, as a consequence, increased buying, there must inevitably be a curtailment in production. A dropping off in industrial production means unemployment for the workers, not merely at prevailing high wages but at any wages at all. Any increase in the number of the unemployed means a further lowering of the buying power of the people, and a still further increase in unemployment, or a substantial reduction in the hours of employment—factories running half-time instead of full time. In other words, the world is in danger of again travelling in an economic circle, even more vicious and containing greater possibilities of disaster than the one travelled during the war years.

The unfortunate fact is that, to an appalling extent, people today are being guided in their actions by untried theories instead of by the actual experience of the past. Workers everywhere seem to be demanding the settlement of present problms in conomics on a basis which totally disregards fundamental principles which underlie all business and finance. During the war the pendulum swung to the extreme limit one way, and everybody had to swing with it; it must swing to the other extreme before an equilibrium is reached, and once again everybody is affected. Not by the efforts on any one class alone, but only through the combined efforts and co-operation of all can a normal level be successfully reached.

One of the fallacies, which, however, finds ready acceptance in some quarters, is that any given industry can fix its own prices, hours of labor, scale of wages, etc., without having regard to other lines of industry. For example, that railway executives and railway employees can get together and decide upon hours of labor and scale of wages, and by setting these forth in an agreement ratified and signed by both parties, settle the problem so far as they are concerned. But not so. If as the result of the schedules agreed upon an undue burden is placed on other lines of commercial activity and the public as a whole, then there will be such a falling off in business that the railway companies will be sufferers and the necessity be enforced upon them of laying off countless numbers of their employees. It would be merely a modern application of the old fable of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

And what would be true in the case cited, would prove equally true in relation to any other industry. There are other aspects of this very complex problem, and it is important at this time that people should not dwell too much on theories, but face actualities, fundamental principles, and the concrete facts of the situation.

Northern Inland Fisheries.

The Northern Inland Fisheries have had a very successful season, and the Alberta Fish Company and the McInnis Fish Company, together with the Saskatchewan fish companies, have shipped about two million pounds of fish The greatest source of production was Buffalo Lake. More than 600,000 pounds of the catch was marketed throughout the west, and a large quantity shipped to Chicago for distribution.

Wireless for Northern Manitoba.

To put Northern Manitoba into direct communication with civilization, Dr. R. C. Wallace, commissioner for the north country, has recommended the immediate installation of tweleve wireless stations, costing $55,000, in the north. Dr. Wallace stated that there is already built at the Pas one big station, and he asks that another be built at Piquiconi with ten smaller ones erected at intermediate points.

Canadian Structural Materials in Demand

Value of This Production Increased to a New Maximum.

During the war, building activity was reduced to a minimum, and the total value of the production of cement, clay and quarry products which had reached a maximum of $30,809,752 in 1913 and fallen to $17,467,186 in 1916, increasing to $27,421,510 in 1919. In 1920 the value of this production had increased to a new maximum of $38,184,848. While higher prices have played an important part in this increase of over 39 per cent. in value the actual quantities of cement, brick, lime and stone produced has been considerably increased in 1920 over the 1919 production.

A Protest Long Delayed

Isn't it about time that the stationers manage to lay in some lead pencils which are worth buying? Ever since the war began we have been putting up with substitutes for burned matches and paying from five to eight cents each for them, too. Now our patience is becoming exhausted, and we are looking for a pencil with thick, soft lead and one which can be sharpened without the lead breaking. We bought two pencils during the last 48 hours, and paid six cents for one and seven for the other, and neither of them was worth a darn. We haven't had a good pencil in three years.—York, Pa., Gazette.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women Engineers

Many Branches of Profession For Which Women Are Suitable.

There are many branches of the engineering profession for which women are eminently suitable. Proof of this is to be found in the remarkable success of Miss Griff, the first woman to become an associate member of the Institute of Automobile Engineers of Great Britain. Starting as a motor engineer, Miss Griff ultimately acquired such a knowledge of lighting installation, pumping plants, gas and oil engines, from machinery, plow and tractors, that she was able to establish herself as a successful consulting engineer. In England other pioneer women engineers are engaged in electrical engineering, civil engineering, draughtsmanship, patient office work, and the mechanical side of X-ray work.

What One of the Best Known Travellers in Canada Says

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial, as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Heretofore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the slush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my legs and, of course, like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained rather boisterously. The good little wife says: "I will rub them with some liniment I have. Go ahead," I said, just to humor her. "Well, in she comes with a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after, and you can tell the world I said so."

A Frock of Cotton Homespun

By Marie Belmont.

Cotton homespun is a delightful shade of green is the material chosen for the fashioning of this attractive dress for the early days of spring. It shows the long-waisted effect that is so much in style. The skirt is divided into several panels that partly conceal the straight underskirt. These are ornamented with openwork rosettes that are piped with pink taffeta. The Buster Brown collar is set off by a pink silk tie. The sleeves are long and wide-mouthed. This feature is accentuated by the slash that extends almost to the elbow. Decorative motifs enhance their appearance.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK

HEART SO BAD

Many women become run down and worn out by their household cares and duties never ending and sooner or later find themselves with weak hearts and shattered nerves.

When the heart becomes weak and the nerves unstrung, it is impossible for a woman to look after her household or social duties. The least little exertion or excitement leaves her in an exhausted condition, and not fit to do anything.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, you will be wise if you take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N.S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep; I would take smothering spells, and I was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I have used six boxes, and I am completely relieved. I think they are the best medicine for heart trouble there is."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Cost of the British Monarchy

British Monarchs Receive Through Parliament Whatever Amount Nation Cares to Vote Them.

No country gets its Emperor, King or President at a more economical cost than does Great Britain, or to speak more correctly the British Empire. Its monarchs during the centuries had acquired by hereditary rights, by inter-marriages and by Acts of Parliament vast fortunes and immense incomes William IV. of his own free will gave up all these rights and incomes, and accepted instead a greatly smaller sum to be voted by Parliament. Queen Victoria, King Edward and King George did the same, and now receive just what their people, through Parliament, care to vote them. The country receives from the sums ceded very much more than it pays. So that the Empire is actually making money out of its Sovereigns.

GLAD HE TRIED THE TONIC TREATMENT

Through Its Use Strength and Vigor Was Restored.

To be tired after exertion is natural. Rest and food restore the body to normal after such fatigue. But to be tired all the time is a symptom of an anaemic condition that will not be corrected until the blood is built up.

Such an anaemic condition is so gradual in its approach and generally so lacking in actue pains that it is often difficult to persuade the sufferer to do anything for it. But it is not a condition that corrects itself. If the blood is not enriched the trouble will increase. The nerves will be undernourished and neuralgia pains will follow. Digestive disturbances often result from thin blood, sleep is disturbed and a general breakdown may occur.

Mr. Wilson Johnson, Nineveh, N.S., says: "A few years ago my system was in a badly run down condition. My nerves seemed always on edge, and I found myself so weak that I could hardly do any work. I suffered from headaches and from pains in the back and under the shoulders, and was often so sleepless at night that when morning came I felt as tired as when I went to bed. I was taking medicine all the time, but it was doing me no good. Then I read the testimonial of a man whose condition had been similar to mine, and who strongly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to give this medicine a fair trial, and when I had taken six boxes I felt much better. I continued taking the pills until I had taken six more boxes, and I can only say I am glad I did so, as I am now enjoying the best of health, and I advise all men who feel run down to give these pills a good trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dairying in Alberta

Edmonton the Largest Creamery Butter Manufacturing Centre in Canada.

There are unlimited opportunities for engaging in dairy farming in the prairie provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The production of creamery butter has increased from 14,000,000 pounds in 1915 to about 27,000,000 pounds in 1919. The city of Edmonton, Alberta, is the largest creamery butter manufacturing centre in Canada. All the provinces have well organized dairy departments, which give every possible assistance to the industry, and as a result of their efforts the manufacture of butter has been standardized to a high degree.

Owen Sound, Ont.—"I suffered for ten years with female organic trouble, neuralgia and indigestion, and was weak and had such bad pains I could hardly walk or stand up at times. When I would sweep I would have to go and lie down. I could not sleep at night, and would wander around the house half the time. I tried everything but nothing did me any good, and the last doctor I had told me he never expected me to be on my feet again or able to do a day's work. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband said I should try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I thank God I did, for it relieved me, and I am now well and strong. I think there is no remedy like the Vegetable Compound for anyone who has my troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. Red Cross Post War Work

The magnitude of the post-war work, which the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Red Cross is still engaged in, is unknown to, and naturally unappreciated, by a very large proportion of the people in British Columbia. Hence the question which so often rises—"Why the Red Cross in times of peace?" As a matter of fact, there are over 800 returned men still confined to the hospitals and sanitariums of the Province. In these institutions the men have the same status as any ordinary patient, but they are lacking the small comforts which mean so much to sick or ailing persons. In this situation, the Red Cross steps in, giving to these men, the little things which make life bearable. This work on the part of the Red Cross is going on, and will go on until its mission in this particular branch is fullfilled.

Next in order of importance in the post-war work, which the Red Cross is now conducting, is the workshop for disabled soldiers. There is now established in the City of Victoria, in the former G.W.V.A. headquarters, one of these workshops. As yet, in its initial stage, the workshop is on a comparatively small scale, but it is now furnishing employment to twelve disabled men, who, from the nature of their disabilities, are unable to undertake work in the open labor market. It is the idea behind this workshop to teach these men a trade which will finally make them self-supporting, and, while teaching them, to pay them wages, which, at present, are based on a minimum of 30c. an hour, increasing as they acquire a knowledge of the particular craft for which they are fitted. It is modelled somewhat along the lines of the Lord Roberts Memorial Workshops in England, where marvellous results have been obtained by the training of apparently hopelessly crippled men. The workshop, itself, has bright airy rooms, fitted with workmanlike machinery, specially designed to suit the needs of crippled mechanics. It has a spacious showroom and office, and by no means least in importance—a restroom which tells its sad tale of men impaired in health by the vicissitudes of war. Some of the men now employed are capable of but a few hours' work a day, but as they improve in health and skill, six or even eight hours' work can be undertaken. This workshop is the second of its kind in Canada. It is hoped to extend its quarters, and in time establish workshops of a similar nature at different points throughout the Province.

Safeguard Against Forest Fire Loss

Both by the enactment of regulations that make readily available more and better equipment for fighting forest fires, and the rigid enforcement of that feature of the act governing the setting out of fires in brush piles and log heaps by permit the forestry department is hopeful of still further reducing the timber losses by fire this season, according to Norman Moore, district forester for East Kootenay, who was here from Cranbrook yesterday on an official visit.

As to the added equipment Mr. Moore stated that the Forestry Act had last session been amended so as to compel all mills, logging camps or other bush operations where up to twelve men are employed to provide an outfit of six 12-quart buckets, 6 shovels, 3 mattocks and 3 axes which are to be painted red and kept in a compartment where they are readily available for fire fighting only. The equipment is subject to monthly inspection, and any firm refusing to supply these cannot claim a refund in case of fire and are, besides, liable to prosecution for such neglect.

As to the enforcement of the act in respect to failure to secure buruing permits, Mr. Moore stated that already this season, which is hardly three weeks old, one prosecution had already been made, stipendiary magistrate Leask of Cranbrook having fined L. Meachen of Marysville $10 for setting out a fire without obtaining a burning permit. The lightness of the fine is accounted for in that the blaze was got under control before any damage was done to standing timber. Discussing the case Mr. Moore said action will be taken by the provincial police as well as forestry officials in every instance where it can be shown that the provisions of the act in respect to the prevention of forest fires has been violated. "A determined effort will be made this year," said Mr. Moore, "to reduce the annual loss through forest fires caused through careless burning and campers fires, and offenders may look for the fullest penalty imposed by the Forest Act."

For the year 1920 Forester Moore stated that the total loss of timber due to fres was almost $78,000 in the East Kootenay territory which extends from Kootenay Landing to the Alberta boundary and north about 100 miles beyond the C.P.R. main line. In connection with handling these fires and maintaining the forestry service in East Kootenay the cost had been $42,000.

To keep these loses down to the minimum the maximum of efficiency in the men employed was absolutely essential. This is at once apparent when it was stated that 80 per cent. of the 1920 forest conflagrations was due to lightning. The department's idea was to prevent fires, as well as excel at extinguishing such outbreaks.

Bush operations last winter Mr. Moore stated were at least 40 per cent. lighter than the winter previous, and had it not been for the splendid demand for ties and poles the comparison would be more unfavorable. Taking the year as a whole he expected the slump would be almost 50 per cent.

To appreciate what the shrinkage will be in the output of lumber he stated that the cut last year with practically all the mills running was just under 200 million feet. Right now it is doubtful if more than a dozen of the 42 sawmill plants in his jurisdiction are running—and the silent ones in a few of the bigger producers.

THE POST WAR WORK OF THE RED CROSS throughout the world is still a vital factor—a colossal task. This call for increased membership is one to which no person in British Columbia, placed in possession of even a few facts, will fail to respond.

Returned Men Still In Hospitals In the hospitals and sanitariums of British Columbia there are still over 800 returned men seeking to regain health. True, these men have all the attention which crowded hospitals and over-worked nurses and attendants can bestow, but they are lacking these little things of comfort—these small, simple luxuries which mean so little to you who are strong and healthy; so much to them who are ill and suffering. The Red Cross supplies them with tobacco, socks, pajamas, underwear, sweaters, slippers, razors, shaving soap, and so on. Their wants are few and simple—their needs are great.

Workshops For Disabled Soldiers In a memorandum drafted by the workshop sub-committee of the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross for submission to the Federal Government, Clause 1 states:

"That even after all that has been done by the Government of Canada, through its various departments, for the welfare of returned men, there remains in this country a residue of disabled men who are unemployable in ordinary industry, a residue for which no provision exists, namely, those who possess some potential capacity, but can only exercise it if some special arrangements are made to enable them to do so."

Confer Again on Flats Reclamation

A conference of engineering authorities representing the state of Idaho and British Columbia as to the best plans to follow to determine the feasibility of draining Kootenay Flats is to be held at Creston at a date on or about June 15th, is the news that was brought to Creston on Tuesday by four representative citizens of Bonners Ferry, Idaho, one of whom was A. J. Kent, who up till last fall was one of the Boundary county representatives in the state legislature, and along with him were B. E. Hawks, J. E. Spurling, and Mr. Devoine, the county treasurer. Announcement to this effect reached Bonners Ferry on Monday afternoon.

That the Reclamation project is again attracting attention both in Idaho, as well as with the U.S. federal authorities is indicated in the presence of R. Holt, who is at present at Bonners Ferry investigatidg the scheme on instructions from the U.S. federal Indian department, there being some area of Indian lands in Idaho that will be benefitted by drainage. Mr. Holt, who is in charge of irrigation and reclamation work in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, accompanied the delegation, and stated he was convinced the U.S. authorities were again eager to co-operate with the Canadians in determining whether drainage was feasible and desirable.

A hurried meeting of the board of trade was called by President Bevan and there was a representative turnout of members to discuss the whole matter with the visitors. Chairman Constable of the board of trade reclamation committee sketched the progress that had been made on this side, and which indicated that early in the year the British Columbia government had notified that they had appropriated the necessary funds to finance the engineers of both the province and the Dominion, and that as soon as Idaho provided funds to take care of the expenses of the Idaho and Washington engineers, B.C. would welcome a get-together of the engineers representing the four different governing bodies interested.

Almost two months ago the Idaho legislature voted $3000 for this purpose and by now there has been probably sufficient time for this information to have officially reached Victoria via Washington and Ottawa. In consequence considerable reliance is placed on the information the visitors brought—both as affecting the Idaho state authorities, as well as the U.S. and Dominion federal interests and the B.C. department of lands.

While the meeting was largely informal it was decided to have the board secretary enquire at Victoria as as to whether the B.C. lands department had consented to such a conference.

Soon as Creston board of trade has official information that the conference is contemplated all possible pressure will be brought on Victoria to have them secure a high class engineering authority, preferably Mr. Meurling who made quite an exhaustive survey of the whole area in 1913 and 1914.

Copeland Trimmed

Creston baseball team opened the 1921 season auspiciously by handing out a 13 to 8 beating to the Copeland Idaho, team at Copeladd, on Sunday afternoon. The score, however, hardly indicates the difference in the teams as the Copeland aggregation is a likely looking one, and with a couple of weeks' more practice will give a much better account of itself. Frank Staples umpired the contest, which went the full nine innings, with Creston trying out its two new pitchers, Taylor and Avis, both of whom had no trouble holding Copeland in check, and Taylor showing himself equally proficient with the bat. Eric Craigie is another member of the aggregation who was conspicuous with the stick and in the field. In the centre garden he had an exceptionally busy day and handled everything without a slip, while at hitting he had a couple of doubles and a single to his credit. Ray KcKelvey is being tried out at first base this season and fielded the position in splendid style, while Bill Long, who is shifted from first to second, is equally at home in his new location. Telford did the backstop work with all his old time skill as well as doing some timely hitting, and Billy Hall was quite prominent in the batting when hits meant runs. The Copeland team will play the return game here on Sunday, June 5th, and a great struggle is looked for. They have two practice matches with Bonner's Ferry in the meantime, which with their week-night workouts should just about put them on an even footing with the Creston nine.

Improved Fire Warden Service

To still further increase the efficiency of the forestry protection service in this section fire warden Jim Long is now provided with a Ford car outfitted so as to be able to carry a considerable quantity of fire-fighting equipment, the car arriving the latter part of the week, and was at once put into commission.

For this season Mr. Long will supervise the district from Goatfell to Twin Bay—a point four miles beyond Kuskanook—and with the exception of this four-mile stretch his entire territory can be covered readily, now the Sirdar-Kuskanook highway is open.

Readers' attention is called to the fact that fire wardens have received instructions to enforce to the hilt on every occasion transgressions of the regulations affecting burning slashings, brush, log piles, etc., without the necessary permit. There is no desire to place any hardship on persons wishing to do burning, and Mr. Long has arranged that if word is left either with telephone central or at the Creston Hotel that a permit is wanted he will immediately make the necessary inspection and issue the permit. With an auto for transport the local fire warden should be available every other day for the issuing of these permits, except, of course, when out fighting a fire. If at all possible he would like to have the burning all done within the next month, before the excessive dryness prevails and the fire danger thus enhanced.

To facilitate fire fighting this year a new provision in the Forest Act provides that around mills and logging camps equipment of buckets, shovels, axes and mattocks must be kept in a stated place exclusiyely for fire fighting. Jim has also secured one of the half-dozen pumps available in East Kootenay, along with 1000 feet of hose which at present is located at the Sash & Door Company mill above Kitchener. The pump is equipped with a self-starter engine and has only to be placed on a stream and hose attached, and is ready for business, doing exceptionally fine work through 700 feet of hose.

Women's Institute

Considerable important routine business was put through at the May meeting of the Women's Institute on Friday afternoon which was in charge of the president, Mrs. Geo. Cartwright, and the feature of which was a most interesting and practical paper on radium by Mrs. Mallandaine. Creston institute has nominated Mrs. Chalmers of Thrums as their selection of a Kootenay-Boundary representative on the executive of the Dominion Federated Women's institutes, while Mrs. Lyne and the president were named as delegates to the annual conference, which will be held this year at Crawford Bay, possibly in May or June. The Institute also arranged to put on a dance in the new Staples Fruit Company warehouse at Erickson the proceeds of which will be for fall fair prize purposes.

The Swing of the Pendulum

The enormous demand for products and goods of all kinds during the war, and the consequent rapid rise in prices not only for such products and goods but for all materials and labor entering into their production for use, created problems in finance and economics which taxed the best brains in all countries. Phenomenal increases in prices of all commodities inevitably forced increased wages paid to workers in order that they might be able to maintain themselves and their families. And increased wages could have no other effect than to give still another boost to the costs of production, and, as a natural result, another advance in prices. Another call for an increase in wages followed, and so the world travelled in a circle.

With the conclusion of the war came a sudden cessation in demand for those articles which were required in enormous quantities during the struggle. Coupled with this cessation in demand, was the return of millions of men from the armies back to civilian life and the necessity of absorbing them once again into the industrial and productive work of the country. Under the conditions it did not take long to make good the shortage of goods in practically all lines which had been created during the war while the energies of all people were devoted to the making of war materials and equipment.

Now the world of finance and business and labor faces the problems of decreased demand and falling prices. Difficult as were the problems created by unprecedented demand, shortage of materials and labor, and steadily rising prices, they were simple compared to the difficulties now confronting everybody because of decreased demand, and consequent unemployment, resulting in a lessened buying power by the public and an inevitable fall in prices of commodities. Yet this new and much more difficult problem must be faced and solved, and all classes must contribute their fair share to the solution.

The chief present difficulty seems to lie in the fact that the workingman remains insistent that the high scale of wages reached during the war period of inflation shall be maintained. Those high wages were the outcome of unusual conditions, and any intelligent and observant person must realize that with the passing of those exceptional conditions, wages, like everything else, must return to a normal level.

In order to stimulate buying on the part of people generally, there must be a decrease in prices: If there is not such a drop in prices, and, as a consequence, increased buying, there must inevitably be a curtailment in production. A dropping off in industrial production means unemployment for the workers, not merely at prevailing high wages but at any wages at all. Any increase in the number of the unemployed means a further lowering of the buying power of the people, and a still further increase in unemployment, or a substantial reduction in the hours of employment—factories running half-time instead of full time. In other words, the world is in danger of again travelling in an economic circle, even more vicious and containing greater possibilities of disaster than the one travelled during the war years.

The unfortunate fact is that, to an appalling extent, people today are being guided in their actions by untried theories instead of by the actual experience of the past. Workers everywhere seem to be demanding the settlement of present problms in conomics on a basis which totally disregards fundamental principles which underlie all business and finance. During the war the pendulum swung to the extreme limit one way, and everybody had to swing with it; it must swing to the other extreme before an equilibrium is reached, and once again everybody is affected. Not by the efforts on any one class alone, but only through the combined efforts and cooperation of all can a normal level be successfully reached.

One of the fallacies, which, however, finds ready acceptance in some quarters, is that any given industry can fix its own prices, hours of labor, scale of wages, etc., without having regard to other lines of industry. For example, that railway executives and railway employees can get together and decide upon hours of labor and scale of wages, and by setting these forth in an agreement ratified and signed by both parties, settle the problem so far as they are concerned. But not so. If as the result of the schedules agreed upon an undue burden is placed on other lines of commercial activity and the public as a whole, then there will be such a falling off in business that the railway companies will be sufferers and the necessity be enforced upon them of laying off countless numbers of their employees. It would be merely a modern application of the old fable of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

And what would be true in the case cited, would prove equally true in relation to any other industry. There are other aspects of this very complex problem, and it is important at this time that people should not dwell too much on theories, but face actualities, fundamental principles, and the concrete facts of the situation.

Northern Inland Fisheries.

The Northern Inland Fisheries have had a very successful season, and the Alberta Fish Company and the McInnis Fish Company, together with the Saskatchewan fish companies, have shipped about two million pounds of fish The greatest source of production was Buffalo Lake. More than 600,000 pounds of the catch was marketed throughout the west, and a large quantity shipped to Chicago for distribution.

Wireless for Northern Manitoba.

To put Northern Manitoba into direct communication with civilization, Dr. R. C. Wallace, commissioner for the north country, has recommended the immediate installation of twelve wireless stations, costing $55,000, in the north. Dr. Wallace stated that there is already built at the Pas one big station, and he asks that another be built at Piquiconi with ten smaller ones erected at intermediate points.

Canadian Structural Materials in Demand

Value of This Production Increased to a New Maximum.

During the war, building activity was reduced to a minimum, and the total value of the production of cement, clay and quarry products which had reached a maximum of $30,809,752 in 1913 and fallen to $17,467,186 in 1916, increasing to $27,421,510 in 1919. In 1920 the value of this production had increased to a new maximum of $38,184,848. While higher prices have played an important part in this increase of over 39 per cent. in value the actual quantities of cement, brick, lime and stone produced has been considerably increased in 1920 over the 1919 production.

A Protest Long Delayed

Isn't it about time that the stationers manage to lay in some lead pencils which are worth buying? Ever since the war began we have been putting up with substitutes for burned matches and paying from five to eight cents each for them, too. Now our patience is becoming exhausted, and we are looking for a pencil with thick, soft lead and one which can be sharpened without the lead breaking. We bought two pencils during the last 48 hours, and paid six cents for one and seven for the other, and neither of them was worth a darn. We haven't had a good pencil in three years.—York, Pa., Gazette.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women Engineers

Many Branches of Profession For Which Women Are Suitable.

There are many branches of the engineering profession for which women are eminently suitable. Proof of this is to be found in the remarkable success of Miss Griff, the first woman to become an associate member of the Institute of Automobile Engineers of Great Britain. Starting as a motor engineer, Miss Griff ultimately acquired such a knowledge of lighting installation, pumping plants, gas and oil engines, from machinery, plow and tractors, that she was able to establish herself as a successful consulting engineer. In England other pioneer women engineers are engaged in electrical engineering, civil engineering, draughtsmanship, patient office work, and the mechanical side of X-ray work.

What One of the Best Known Travellers in Canada Says

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial, as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Heretofore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the slush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my legs and, of course, like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained rather boisterously. The good little wife says: "I will rub them with some liniment I have. Go ahead," I said, just to humor her. "Well, in she comes with a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after, and you can tell the world I said so."

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK

HEART SO BAD

Many women become run down and worn out by their household cares and duties never ending and sooner or later find themselves with weak hearts and shattered nerves.

When the heart becomes weak and the nerves unstrung, it is impossible for a woman to look after her household or social duties. The least little exertion or excitement leaves her in an exhausted condition, and not fit to do anything.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, you will be wise if you take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N.S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep; I would take smothering spells, and I was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I have used six boxes, and I am completely relieved. I think they are the best medicine for heart trouble there is."

Cost of the British Monarchy

British Monarchs Receive Through Parliament Whatever Amount Nation Cares to Vote Them.

No country gets its Emperor, King or President at a more economical cost than does Great Britain, or to speak more correctly the British Empire. Its monarchs during the centuries had acquired by hereditary rights, by inter-marriages and by Acts of Parliament vast fortunes and immense incomes William IV. of his own free will gave up all these rights and incomes, and accepted instead a greatly smaller sum to be voted by Parliament. Queen Victoria, King Edward and King George did the same, and now receive just what their people, through Parliament, care to vote them. The country receives from the sums ceded very much more than it pays. So that the Empire is actually making money out of its Sovereigns.

GLAD HE TRIED THE TONIC TREATMENT

Through Its Use Strength and Vigor Was Restored.

To be tired after exertion is natural. Rest and food restore the body to normal after such fatigue. But to be tired all the time is a symptom of an anaemic condition that will not be corrected until the blood is built up.

Such an anaemic condition is so gradual in its approach and generally so lacking in acute pains that it is often difficult to persuade the sufferer to do anything for it. But it is not a condition that corrects itself. If the blood is not enriched the trouble will increase. The nerves will be undernourished and neuralgia pains will follow. Digestive disturbances often result from thin blood, sleep is disturbed and a general breakdown may occur.

Mr. Wilson Johnson, Nineveh, N.S., says: "A few years ago my system was in a badly run down condition. My nerves seemed always on edge, and I found myself so weak that I could hardly do any work. I suffered from headaches and from pains in the back and under the shoulders, and was often so sleepless at night that when morning came I felt as tired as when I went to bed. I was taking medicine all the time, but it was doing me no good. Then I read the testimonial of a man whose condition had been similar to mine, and who strongly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to give this medicine a fair trial, and when I had taken six boxes I felt much better. I continued taking the pills until I had taken six more boxes, and I can only say I am glad I did so, as I am now enjoying the best of health, and I advise all men who feel run down to give these pills a good trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owen Sound, Ont.—"I suffered for ten years with female organic trouble, neuralgia and indigestion, and was weak and had such bad pains I could hardly walk or stand up at times. When I would sweep I would have to go and lie down. I could not sleep at night, and would wander around the house half the time. I tried everything but nothing did me any good, and the last doctor I had told me he never expected me to be on my feet again or able to do a day's work. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband said I should try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I thank God I did, for it relieved me, and I am now well and strong. I think there is no remedy like the Vegetable Compound for anyone who has my troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. The Galt coal people of Lethbridge have just advised H. S. McCreath that in view of the unexpected eastern demand for this well known coal the quantity available for Creston will depend on how early orders are placed with the mine, and to ensure any supply at all the company must know this month how many cars will be required by Creston users. There is no probability of a reduced freight rate before the end of the year and the price of coal is not to be reduced. Mr. McCreath would like to know at once how much coal his customers would be wanting for next season so he can order at once and be absolutely sure of delivery. Parties ordering now will not be expected to take delivery of any coal till at least October.

Danger Point in Fruit Prices

The danger point in fruit prices is reached when the nett returns received fall below the cost of production.

This year there is every reason to expect a considerable drop in fruit prices as compared with 1920, and in order to keep well above the danger point fruit growers must reduce the cost of production. Unfortunately this is a difficult matter.

Labor is only slightly lowered. Spray material shows no reduction in price, and there are such big carry over stocks of paper, boxes and other supplies that fruit packages will cost nearly as much as in 1920.

It seems certain, therefore, that the margin of safety between success and failure will be slight, and it is apparent that the danger point can be avoided only by the most careful judgment in selecting a marketing agency.

We have the marketing connection, and the ability to secure for you the highest obtainable prices. In addition, we have perfected a system of prompt payments without pooling, which guarantees that you will receive what your produce sells for unreduced by amounts to cover pooling or other unlooked for losses.

It is obvious that you cannot afford for this 1921 season to pass up the opportunity we offer you of securing the highest prices foe your produce.
