ENDERBY CITY COUNCIL QUESTION PETITION FOR EARLY CLOSING

A petition signed by Tecce & Son, E. B. Dill, Enderby Supply Co., S. H. Speers, Geo. R. Sharpe Chas. Oppertshauser, W. J. Woods, Geo. Radford, A. McPherson, Enderby Growers, W. H. Scott, Hop Sing, Long Louie, Sing Kee and Dowe Yuen, was read before the City Council Monday evening, asking that a by-law be passed and enforced compelling every merchant to close his place of business at 9 o'clock Saturday nights. The petition caused some animated discussion. It was the expressed opinion of the members of the Council that the merchants, if they desired to close their stores at 9 o'clock to do so by agreement as is done in other towns, instead of bringing the law in force against the public, for, in a small town like Enderby that is really what such a law amounts to. It was pointed out that such a law would be an obstacle in the way of business, and, while favoring the business man who desired to close at 9 o'clock would work a hardship on the person who wished to trade and the merchant who wished to sell after that hour. The Council was disposed to go more fully into the matter before putting such a law on the books, as it was distinctly class legislation and would tend to put further obstacles in the way of trade between Enderby and the people of the town and district. What the Council desired to see was that, if 9 o'clock closing was to the best interests of all, it be done by agreement between the merchants and not by a law in restraint of trade and that certainly would work a hardship on the person who was unable to get to town or to the store before 9 o'clock. Such an agreement would enable a person from the country to be accommodated by an obliging tradesmen, whereas no law could be framed allowing such latitude. It was the opinion of the Council that entirely too little consideration was shown in the petition for the rights of the buying public, and, it being the duty of the Council to legislate in the larger community interest and not in the trade interest of one businessman against another, the petition was not received favorably, and was laid over for further consideration.

The secretary-treasurer of the Empire Day Celebration Committee reported as follows:

Received from the City	$470.00
Expenditure—
To Armstrong City Band	125.00
To Decoration Committee for prizes, $90.00 less $44 not expended	46.00
To Sports Committee, prizes	208.00
To Mrs. Nichol, meals	12.50
To King Edward, meals	25.50
To Advertising, printing, etc	60.00
	$477.00

There is a request being made by the Armstrong High School baseball team for auto transportation for the team on May 24th. The Sports Committee over-ran their appropriation slightly. The chairman of that committee stated to the High School team that expenses for the team had not been provided for in the Sports Committee's appropriation. If the Council can see its way to pay the amount of $10 asked for it would be appreciated.

The report was adopted and the balance of $17 asked for ordered paid.

Clerk Rosoman reported the total receipts for the day at the recreation grounds amounted to $602.25. There were expenditures by the city on the grounds, special police, etc., which left a balance of $60 or $70. This was ordered to be turned over to the Hospital Board.

Joe Doerflinger of Armstrong was a visitor here on Thursday.

Parting of Friends

A very pleasant gathing assembled at the home of Mr. Marley, manager of the Okanagan Saw Mills, Monday evening when a number of the menfolk of Enderby presented Mr. C. B. Winter, late manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, with a smoking outfit, in recognition of Mr. Winter's many helpful social and business qualities. A few evening before the ladies of the W. A. and friends gave Mrs. Winter a presentation. In any capacity where they could be helpful Mr. and Mrs. Winter have always cheerfully contributed their assistance. Enderby will miss them.

You can save considerable money by paying your city taxes on or before June 30th. Under the Provincial Act the city is required to increase them 10 per cent if not paid by that date. This provision also applies to school taxes.

DEEP CREEEK NEWS

Mrs. Reginald Hadow is expecting a visit from Mrs. Erland Hadow and little daughter this week.

The small fire which started at McNair's ranch on Thursday at noon by 8 o'clock was a full-fledged forest fire, and spreading up Deep Creek towards Mr. Jamieson's Mr. Thos. Sharpe's buildings were in great danger and they had hard work to save them. His fencing was burnt and part of a crop of peas. Mr. Naylor's house also had a narrow escape. The strong wind blowing at the time was responsible for much of the damage.

D. B. Johnson of Kamloops, an old time resident of Armstrong, was in town last Saturday, adjusting fire which took place on A. L Milner's farm. Messrs Sage & Keith are local agents for the Company covering buildings insured.

ENDERBY NOTES

Mrs. Harry Worth was a visitor to Enderby last Saturday from Trinity Valley.

Miss Paradis and Douglas Dow, returned home from normal school the past week.

Mr. A. R. Rogers returned to Minneapolis last week after an inspection of his lumber interests here.

Mr. F. J. Bossley is loading six cars with poles this week. Four carloads is his average weekly shipment.

The old Enderby Hotel was reopened this week, under the management of H. McPherson, the name given it being the Union Hotel.

Pte. Ardin Bush came home from France this week. He had the good fortune to be with the Canadian army of occupation on the Rhine.

Lt.-Col. J. C. Henniker has purchased a handsome Maxwell Six, and this week saw the erection of a suitable garage at his farm near town.

Mrs. Darrel, after a month's confinement at the Enderby Hospital, returned to her home at Salmon Arm delighted with the hospital treatment received.

Sergt. Sidney Green arrived from the front Wednesday. He went overseas four years ago; was at Salonica a year and a half. He is in excellent health.

The Auto Club meeting which was to have been held in Enderby this (Thursday) afternoon, has been postponed, and will be held next week at the call of the executive officers.

Pte. Jack Ashton returned from France on Monday. Pte. Ashton was wounded in the fighting on the Cambrai front and carries a maimed right arm—but he carries it with the soldier's smile and the bright side out.

Flight Captain, Kenneth Glen was happy to reach home this week and to meet his friends and relatives after two years more in England and France. He has seen a lot of country in the last few years but nothing that suits him better than the Enderby district.

Eleven hogs seven months old were sold Tuesday by Mr. P. H. Murphy to Mr. Daykin, Salmon Arm, who came over by motor truck and took the pigs home. The weight of these 11 pigs was 3,180 pounds, and they netted him $604.20 at his gate. These eleven pigs were part of one litter. Lo, the poor farmer.

Rev. A. N. Miller preached in the Enderby Methodist Church Sunday evening. It was his first opportunity to speak to the congregation presided over by him ten years ago. In the choir also was Mr. Geo. Bell, now M. P. P. from Victoria, then a member of the local choir. The church was well filled to hear Rev. Mr. Miller.

Enderby's baseball team all but won a game from the crack Kelowna team last Thursday evening. The game was more a comedy of errors for the most part, both teams sharing in the honors for loose playing, but in spots there was some really good work, too. Enderby's battery, Jones and Landon, saved the home team from an awful drubbing. Enderby tied the score in the ninth, inspite of the lead of six given the visitors in the 2nd inning. The score was 12-13 at the close. In one inning Kelowna ran up six, and Enderby did almost as well, getting 5 runs, in either case mostly on errors. But the game was greatly enjoyed, and was anybody's after the sixth inning.

TOBACCO GROWING

Mr. Holman, Pioneer Grower of the Okanagan, Says Our Growers Miss Big Thing.

It is the opinion of Mr. L. Holman, tobacco growers of Kelowna, that the Okanagan Valley is missing a rare opportunity by not taking up tobacco growing as a prime factor in our commercial output. Just now, and probably for some years to come, the price paid for tobacco will be high. A preferential tariff duty of 37c has been imposed by England in favor of the Canadian grown weed. This, with the already high price for tobacco the world over, puts it in a catagory quite alone, and makes sure a high future price.

Mr. Holman very much desires to have more tobacco put in this year in the vicinity of Enderby and Armstrong as he wants farmers to learn the high profits to be had from the crop. Anyone failing to take up his offer of tobacco seed for planting, a few weeks ago, may yet take up his offer of tobacco plants for setting out. This must be done within the next week or ten days. After that it will be too late for the plants to mature. He advises the setting out of an acre, in order to make the experiment worth while on a commercial basis.

Last year at Kelowna Mr. Holman harvested $11,800 worth of tobacco from thirty acres. He thinks results quite as good are to be obtained from land in the vicinity of Enderby and Armstrong.

SOLDIERS OR CIVILIANS

The DeHart Ranch, Near Enderby, Cut Up Into Small Lots for Farming.

For poultry raising, dairying or intensive field truck gardening, one might look the Dominion over and not find anything better than the farm lots recently put on the market by Mr. F. R. E. DeHart, close to Enderby. Mr. DeHart has cut his farm on the Fortune meadow into nine lots, ranging in acreage from 30 to 37 acres, and the price, including crop and buildings, from $125 to $175 an acre.

These lots are primarily for returned men, but they will be sold to civilians as well.

Not Up On Crepe de Chines.

Mrs. Swain had just returned from a two week stay with her parents, and scarcely had she ascended the stairs when a succession of shrieks greeted her husband.

"Jack, oh, Jack!" she cried, "come quick. We've had burglars; they've taken everything in my wardrobe!"

"Oh, no, calm yourself. There haven't been any burglars here, and it's all your fault."

"My fault?" she demanded angrily.

"Yes. After I'd nearly starved for three days you wrote and said the key of the pantry was in your crepe de Chine and—"

"Walking skirt," she interrupted none too sweetly.

"Not knowing the difference between a crepe de Chine and a walking skirt, in my longing for food I took the whole bunch out, made a fire, then raked for the key."

When a man hears his wife quoting from the classics he is usually amused, thinking the quotations "samplers" but when he discovers the baby sitting on the kitchen floor thumbing a Horace he is likely to become alarmed.

Capt. C. Dixon, who will pilot the aeroplane which will give an exhibition flight on July 1st at Armstrong, was one of Col. Bishop's lieutenants, and has to his credit the destruction of eight Hun machines.

The dance which was advertised for July 1st by the G.W.V.A. in the Drill Hall has been postponed.

A Grand Ball will take place in the Avalon Theatre on Dominion Day, July 1st at 9:30 p.m. sharp. A big 5-piece orchestra will be in attendance.

HOME TOWN PAPER.

With this issue of the Commoner the arrangement by which Armstrong and Enderby have been served by one paper is brought to an end. Next week we resume the Home Town Paper idea, and will publish a distinctly Armstrong local newspaper and a distinctly Enderby local newspaper. Armstrong will be served by the Advertiser, the name so inseparably associated with the town's good name, and Enderby will retain the Commoner.

In either case, every effort will be made to publish a Home Town Paper alive to and intimately connected with the interests of the community. Arrangements have been made by which both the Armstrong and Enderby districts will be better covered than ever, and we hope to merit the solid support of every good citizen. We intend to continue the effort to do our part, and feel assured that the friendship and help worth having will be given.

We have no regrets to offer nor excuses to make in connection with the effort which has been made to make one larger newspaper cover the field of two smaller ones. We have only this to say, that Armstrong businessmen feel they can be better served by having a distinctly Armstrong newspaper, and while this feeling exists we do not feel disposed to make further sacrifice to demonstrate the superiority of the larger ideal. We shall give Armtsrong and Enderby the best newspapers it is possible to give compatible with the support received.

Big things are pending in this part of the Okanagan. Enderby and Armstrong districts are receiving the attention which their importance demands. They are developing fast, with still greater promise ahead of them.

Railroad construction is sure to bring new business firms to Armstrong and Enderby. There are openings here—excellent openings—for experienced businessmen of vision and adaptability—men prepared to reach out for business and thus turn the tide of trade this way.

To assist all and block the way of none is our sincerest desire.

Help us to make the Home Town Paper just what you want it to be by feeling at all times free to send us any local bit of news that you may be in touch with, or to offer such honest criticism as you may think desirable.

Thank you, all, for the patience and the support given the Commoner in the last year. We fully appreciate what it has meant to you and to us.

ARMSTRONG ADVERTISER,
OKANAGAN COMMONER.

ARMSTRONG GROWERS HARD HIT.

The general industrial strike which has tied up nearly every industry employing large numbers of workmen in the Dominion, and because of which the Dominion Express Company has placed an embargo on all express shipments to Calgary or points east, is being seriously felt by all the early-vegetable growers of Armstrong. Mr. A. Buckley of the Armstrong greenhouses informs us that he has tons of early green stuff which in ordinary years brings eight cents a pound at this time of year, and he cannot ship a pound except to the C. P. R. commissary department. The loss amounts to hundreds of dollars weekly in addition to the labor put into the crop.

Mr. Buckley is only one grower. Mr. Cuthbert and other growers are similarly affected. There is no indication that conditions will be better soon. Indeed, if possible, they promise to be worse, unless some amicable settlement is arrived at within a few days. The tieup affects the workers and their families as much as it affects anyone else. The striker and the non-striker, the laborer, the producer, the businessman and the merchant, each must suffer the inconvenience caused by the strike. And yet nobody seems to have the power to stop it.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING.

It is difficult to understand the logic of the position taken by the Dominion Government declaring that labor unions have not the right of collective bargaining. To admit the right of individual unions to bargain for better terms and conditions and then declare against a number of unions bargaining collectively is most illogical. Indeed, to take up this attitude is in direct conflict with the principles adopted by the Entente governments in winning the war and in framing the peace treaty and the League of Nations.

What would have been the results of the war had the Allies continued as individual nations to operate independent of each other? What could they have accomplished had they not centralized upon one policy and collectively acted each in the interest of all? Indeed, what hope is there for the success of the League of Nations if the right to collectively bargain is taken away?

The position is absolutely untenable. No government of the people can adopt a policy for itself and the reverse policy for its people. Yet this precisely is what the Dominion Government is claiming the right to do. If nations have the right collectively to bargain then organized labor must be conceded the same privilege. If it ties up the industries of the country this is a serious matter but there are other ways to settle the dispute between capital and labor without adopting the obsolete policy of suppression.

WILLINGLY NOW OR PER-FORCE THEN.

Many of our growers have an idea that the more buyers of produce they have to sell to and through, the better price and the better service they will be able to get. How this idea works out in practice we are not going to say, but truth demands that the question of doubt be raised. As one has said, there is a certain amount of produce to be sold in an open market. The more buying agencies through whose hands the produce must pass, the higher the cost of selling. If three men are doing the work one man could handle, somebody must pay the upkeep of two men whose services really are not required. This cost must eventually come out of the grower. Somebody must pay the selling charges and it is usual that these charges be paid by the person having the commodity for sale. Produce buyers are not philanthropists. They are in the business to make money. And they make their profits from the produce they sell.

Some day our farmers will realize this better than they realize it today. The past year or two prices for produce have been abnormal. Anybody could sell anything in demand and at a high price. But lean years are coming, and, while we do not believe in going out to meet them, common sense tells us that we should prepare for them. And the only way to be prepared is to proceed to prepare, by more closely combining to save effort and cut out the unnecessary.

We have in Canada too much duplication in church societies, in fraternal societies, social effort and business effort. We are called upon to spend too much money and too much effort to get what little return is given. We are very busy: like a squirrel in a caged wheel, we go fast and furious, but in the end are just where we started from. Unless our growers adopt a more uniform selling plan—unless they centralize their efforts and seek to profit by the mistakes of the past, they will, we fear, soon find themselves at the mercy of conditions over which they can have no control. Now is the time to prepare for the lean years. Now is the time to get together—to combine—to centralize—to co-operate. If our farmers neglect to do so now the time is sure to come when they cannot. And they will find then when it is too late that their salvation depends upon co-operation and centralization. Such co-operation must be more than co-operation in words. It must be in deeds. Many have been ready to take the fruits of co-operation, but few are prepared to undertake its responsibilities. Co-operation means more than being prepared to take the good things; it means being prepared to sacrifice some of the good things in order to help the industry as a whole.

If there is not that willingness to sacrifice now, in order to be prepared to meet the conditions imposed by lean years, the sacrifice will have to be made then even less willingly.

WORSHIPPING MAMMON.

There is a difference in the fundamental principle of agriculture in the Province of Quebec and the other provinces of Canada, our own included. If we are asked the purpose of agriculture we can only answer that here and in most other places, it is to make money, whereas the farmer of Quebec is busy on the land because it is the very best place to be, because there he is his own master (and master of others), because farm life is a healthful occupation and, above all, because the land is the one best place on which to have a home and rear a family. The highest aim of the Quebec farmer is to make his farm a better place than he found it, so that he will enjoy it more in the days of old age. Contentment is his star. Out here it is different. Farmers farm in order that they may, under independent circumstances, gather sufficient money together to retire in later years to the gay lights of the city. The point o fvaluation here and there is entirely different. Here a farm is worth just as many dollars; there it is just as comofrtable or a little more or less comfortable as the case may be. The point we wish to emphasize is just this: that even home contentment is on the point of being commercialized. Let us strive to remember that a farm's value does not merely lie in the fact that it would bring ten or twenty or fifty thousand dollars, but in the degree of comfort and contentment which it affords its owner and his family.—Farm and Home.

IS IT WORTH THE COST?

Five thousand dollars is the amount it cost the B. C. Government to publish the monthly Agricultural Journal in the fiscal year 1917-18. When it is realized that the Agricultural Journal contains in one issue about as much reading matter as the average weekly newspaper for the same period, it will be understood why we need money in the weekly newspaper business. The Agricultural Journal contains very interesting matter but the practice of using public money to enter into direct competition with established private enterprise is not to be commended.

ARMSTRONG RED CROSS

Collections of Money Discontinued for Summer Months—New President Elected.

At the monthly meeting on May 29th the following motions were passed: "Collections of money to be discontinued during the months of June, July, August and September, to be taken up again in October if necessary." "A donation of $105.00 to be sent to Red Cross headquarters Vancouver each month during these four months the remainder of money kept in bank until end of September which closes Red Cross year."

Mrs. King intending to leave Armstrong in the near future passed in her resignation as president, which was accepted with much regret. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. King for her untiring zeal and faithful work during her long term of office.

Mrs. Ball was appointed president for the remainder of the year.

If you are a girl and a man asks you to join a little joy party, decide upon where you want to go to when you die before accepting the invitation.

It is simply a matter of viewpoint. What one man considers losing his reputation another considers making it.

PROFITS FROM SHEEP

What One Deep Creek Farmer Has Done Other Farmers May Do.

Harry Grant last fall returned from France. His father has a ranch in the fertile Deep Creek valley, and the son upon his return bought twenty ewes. From these twenty ewes he got twenty-six lambs this spring. Later he cut the wool and averaged $3.00 a sheep for the fleece. Last week he sold six of the lambs for $15 each.

Thus we have, say $60 for the wool from twenty ewes, and, say, $390 for 26 lambs—$450 in all from 20 ewes—and he still has the ewes.

Modern Lighting Plants.

The home electrical plant is no longer a weird contraption of uncertain propensities, apt to to go out of order right in the midst of supper and to plunge the home into the comparative semi-darkness afforded by resurrected oil lamps and lanterns.

No, indeed! The modern lighting plant is practically "fool-proof" and self-operating. One of the more advanced types starts itself whenever the battery needs charging and automatically stops when sufficient current has been generated. The use of better materials and more advanced engineering principles has made the modern home lighting plant, just a few years after its inception, one of the most efficient and dependable pieces of "farm machinery."

"The electrical brain" is the name applied to the automatic control. A little gasoline and oil, occasionally administered, supply the energy controlled by this remarkable device and converted by it into light, heat and power.

When one hears a man say he got his wife to boss the little household job he was engaged in one knows who the architect of the job was.

A CLEAN TOOTH NEVER DECAYS

PYORRHEA OR RIGG'S DISEASE

Any irritation causing the gum tissue to become inflammed and to bleed easily is a start toward pyorrhea.

Disease producing germs start growing in the irritated tissue and pus is formed.

Unless this infection is gotten rid of it spreads, destroying the soft cancellous bone surrounding the roots of the teeth, the teeth become loosened and are eventually lost.

The toxins or poisons from this infection is absorbed and carried to all parts of the body, causing many diseases such as rheumatism, heart and stomach trouble, etc.

By putting the mouth in a healthy condition, many diseases, such as the above mentioned, are brought to mind.

CO-OPERATIVE BUYING

Example of How Farmers Make It Pay Them to Get Together.

The Farmers' Institutes of the province have done good work in co-operative buying and the Robson local may be cited as an example.

This institute in September, 1913, bought feed and flour in mixed cars and have done so ever since. While the buying is done through the institute the account for purchases are kept separate from the regular institute funds. A carload or so is ordered about every eight weeks. The system employed is to secure prices from the milling interests and send with these a form to each member to be filled in with what they require. On the arrival of the goods the members are notified to come and take delivery of what they have ordered. If more is secured than was ordered by members it is taken to a warehouse and stored. Three per cent is added to the invoice price two per cent is awarded the secretary for his work and one per cent to cover any incidental losses. To finance the transaction most of the cash is collected before the arrival of the car. If purchasers are unable to pay for feed when it arrives, sufficient is procured from a chartered bank to meet the obligation, the member paying the interest until the loan is returned. Last year nine cars of feed, costing $11,000, were purchased co-operatively by this institute. These purchases included a certain amount of hay and straw for which a charge of only two per cent was made.

No Room For Doubt.

If any one doubts the need of Canadians continuing to save as they did while the Huns were hammering at the gates of Amiens, let him look at the estimates recently submited to Parliament.

They provide for an estimated expenditure of $800,000,000 dur- 1919-20. Of this $437,000,000 is on civil and $350,000,000 on war account. At best not more than $350,000,000 of this could be raised by taxation.

The rest must come chiefly through borrowing from the people of Canada. This explains why War Savings and Thrift Stamps have been introduced, and, incidentally, they enable every person earning money to invest it in a Government security that pays well.

If you have a charming wife, give her every attention — or somebody else will.
