Farmers Ready to Co-Operate in Park-Rink Proposition

At the citizens' meeting held last Thursday evening in the Farmers' Hall to hear the report of the Rink Committee, Messrs. Hartry and Smedley reported the success of their canvass, having secured signatures of additional subscribers which brought the amount of subscriptions to the building fund up to roughly $3000.

Mr. Jas. Johnson, who had met with the Rink Committee and prepared plans of a building which was deemed acceptable, referred the plans to the meeting and stated the approximate cost would be in the neighborhood of $4700. This, he said could be cut down some if certain interior finishings could be left out.

The building as planned by him will be 90x180 feet, with dressing rooms, box office, etc., and will have a sheet of skating ice for regulation hockey in the centre, with a sheet for curling on either side, and with a raised walk around two sides and one end of the hockey ice with suitable railing and seats and wire netting, etc. to protect spectators when the hockey games are on.

This building, it was explained, could be used as a dual purpose building if located in connection with the park site along the river being acquired by the city for agricultural and auto and general park purposes; for ice sports in the winter and agricultural fairs, etc, in the summer season. It would also provide a building large enough for any audience that might be brought together for any special occasion which might arise in future.

After the situation had been gone into fully, and the merits and demerits of the whole proposition were discussed, the meeting decided unanimously to accept the site for the building offered by Mr. Walker.

It was then pointed out that there was subscribed the amount of $3000; the cost of the building was estimated at $4,700; showing an amount of $1,700 yet to be raised. This would have to be raised by public subscriptions; how was it to be done and by whom?

Messrs. Hartry and Smedly each put the question up squarely to the young men and parents of children of the town and district. They felt convinced the thing could be done if these men would put into the project the pep and willingness to work which the older men had shown. It was up to those, who wanted to skate, and those who could make use of the building as an agricultural hall to get behind the proposition and see it through. It was recognized, too, that the project would be a good thing for the district as well as the town and would help the farmer quite as much as the businessman and it was felt that the men of the district would show a willingness to contribute to the building fund if approached with a definite project in mind.

A committee of Messrs. Speers, Mack, G. Duncan, Walker, Farmer, Adams, Chas. Johnson, J. Murphy, C. Oppertshauser, C. Reeves, Polson, Skaling and Gilders was named to canvass the district and complete the canvass of the town, the Committee to report Wednesday night at a general meeting to be held in Farmers' Hall.

On Monday the canvassing committee covered portions of the Mara-Grindrod section, meeting many of the farmers at their places and placing the proposition before them. The spirit in which they were met by the farmers may be expressed in the words of Mr. Fenton who said: "Yes, you can put me down for two shares. I believe it is a move in the right direction, and one we should have taken long ago. We should be working together. We cannot get anywhere as a community unless the town and country co-operate. It will mean a good thing for all of us."

Others along the way expressed themselves similarly. While none was prepared to subscribe heavily, all showed a pleasure in shouldering a portion of the load and put their names down for a share or two. Three refusals out of twenty seen is about the proportion reported by the different canvassers.

Following are the names of those contributing since last week's published list:

GRANDVIEW BENCH NOTES

Mr. E. Shindlear was in Enderby on business Saturday.

Mr. A. Bauldwin and Mr. R. Lidstone were visitors to Salmon Arm on Friday.

Mr. T. W. Lidstone spent a few days in Salmon Arm last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stroulgar of Grindrod visited friends here on Sunday.

The many friends of Mr. G. Lidstone are glad to see him able to be around again

ENDERBY BRIEFS

Monday next is Thanksgiving Day.

Dick Blackburn returned from Calgary this week with a carload of beef heifers.

BORN—At the Enderby hospital, Nov. 2nd, to Mr. and Mrs. Sid. Knight, a daughter.

Miss Iva Stewart of Banff spent the week-end with the Misses Wilson on her way to the coast.

Mrs. J. R. Harvey and daughters are expected to join Mr. Harvey in Enderby in a week or two.

Miss Francis Mowat returned this week from New York, where she has been for the past two years.

Miss Kate Broom has taken a position in the store and refreshment room of the Enderby Bakery.

Mrs, Coote and daughter who have been visiting Mrs. J. E. Leslie some days, left for New Westminster this week.

Mrs. W. F. Dier and son of Summerland is spending a few days with her parents, coming up by Wednesday evening's train.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carter spent the past week visiting Dr. and Mrs. Keith, Mr. Carter's sister, from their New Brunswick home.

Mr. and Mrs. McMahon of Orillia, Ont., uncle and aunt of Mrs. Jas. Martin, visited their niece the past week on their way to the coast.

R. J Jones came home from Vancouver on Friday, owing to a break down in health. He hopes to regain his health in the Sunny Okanagan.

Samuel Smith of the Hullcar Nurseries, died Sunday night, of natural causes; aged 80 years. Mr. Smith was a native of Kilmarnock, Scotland; a pioneer of the Hullcar district, and leaves a widow and five children.

Henry Torrent returned from Merritt the week-end. He is most favorably impressed by the open nature of the woods there after cutting out a home for himself in the Mabel Lake vicinity.

H. McKee returned this week from the Prairies where he spent the past month or two with friends. Mr. McKee reports Mr. Flewwelling and Mr. Murdock having very good crop returns and their farms in a very prosperous condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hassard returned from their Ontario trip on Tuesday. Mr. Hassard reports rather serious industrial conditions in the East and crop conditions not good in the Northwest, and says we of the Okanagan do not know when we are well off.

Miss Francis Bonniewell, Secretary of missionary work in Africa, gave an intensely interesting and instructive lecture on Africa in the Baptist church Tuesday to a most appreciative audience. The lecture was illustrated with some very fine slides.

The season's cut was finished at the Okanagan Saw Mills Tuesday morning and the saws stopped for the winter, after one of the most successful seasons the mill has had. Day and night shifts were run throughout the season, with no trouble to retard the work or cause uneasiness among the men.

A day or two's work with a team of horses and the road scraper would change the appearance of Cliff Street from a mudhole to a macadamized roadway. Strange what we spent all those thousands of dollars to macadamize this street for only to allow it to get in its present condition for the lack of a day or two's work each year.

Ten phones have been installed on the recently strung Mabel Lake line, and there are nearly as many more spoken for as soon as the leader lines can be put in. It is remarkable to note the new life that has come into being since the Okanagan Telephone Company built the line to Mabel Lake. All along the way the settlers are increasing their efforts in the way of developing their places and adding acreage under cultivation.

There will be no Catholic Church service until Nov. 13th. 1t

Okanagan Teachers Meet in Convention at Vernon

The third annual conference of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association was held in the Court House at Vernon on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21st and 22nd. Almost a hundred delegates from the various points in the Okanagan were present and altogether the gathering was most pleasant and profitable. The weather man, too, favored us with the best of Okanagan weather and consequently the journey to and from the convention point, whether by boat or auto, was a delight to all the travelling delegates.

The first session opened at 2:00 p.m. with an address by the president, Mr. J. L. Miller. After a few words of welcome to the delegates, especially to those who were attending the gathering for the first time, Mr. Miller in a brief but masterful way reviewed the educational progress of the last tweleve months, not only as it was manifested in our own district and province, but also in its national and imperial aspects, especially dwelling upon the Canadian Teachers' conference and The Imperial Teachers' Conference, both held in Toronto during July and August last. In conclusion the president expressed the pleasure that he felt in working with the other members of the executive committee, both local and provincial, and the satisfaction he had found in his endeavors to promote the cause of education, thereby assisting his fellow teachers and aiding in the upward march of our fair province.

After the necessary committees had been appointed the gathering broke up into the following sections: High School—for a round table conference; Senior Grade—for a discussion on the English of the Public School curriculum; Intermediate Grade—for a discussion on methods and devices for teaching Arithemetic, Language, and Spellings; Junior Grades—for discussions on Moral Development in the Junior Grade and on Primary Readers; while the Manual Arts delegates held a round table conference. All the Sectional meetings were exceptionally good, the teachers taking part most freely in all discussions. The general comment on this part of the program was, "We had a fine discussion but the time was far too short."

The early part of Saturday morning's session was revoted to the election of officers and the reports of the various committees. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. L.C. Kennedy; Armstrong, Vice-President, Mr. A.S. Matheson; Penticton, Treasurer, Mr. W.M. Keatley; Enderby, Recording Secretary, Mr. Clarence Fulton; Vernon; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Jean Bell; Vernon.

MARA NOTES

Wm. Cadden since his return from the coast last week has been confined in the house with neuritis, but we hear he is now on the mend.

I. W. Smith left last Thursday for the coast in connection with his mining claim.

The Mara Lake Local, U. F. Dance last Friday, owing to the state of the weather, was not well attended but there were several parties from outside and all had a very enjoyable time.

Wm. Owen spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Vernon on business.

Little Walter Gray died early on Tuesday morning of heart failure. It was quite a shock to the community to hear this news and general sympathy is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Gray in their sad and sudden bereavement. Walter, though a little boy, two years old, was a sturdy chap and a general favorite with everyone.

NORTH DEEP CREEK

The Misses E. and A. Phillips of Salmon Arm visited their parents here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Blackburn and son and Mrs. W. Blackburn and little daughter Bertha, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sharpe on Sunday last.

Mrs. Enoch received the distressing news on Saturday that her two little nephews, sons of Mr. F. Beddington of Granby have been badly burned, the eldest one losing his life, when the home of his parents was house by themselvesf the time has a destroyed by fire last week.

A. Watkins has returned from Armstrong where he has been working for the past few weeks.

Messrs. W. and A. Johnston have returned from their hunting trip.

Mrs. W. Johnston was at her home here for a few days last week, returning to Enderby on Sunday.

Enderby Bakery Changes Hands

On November 1st J. R. Harvey, late of Vancouver, took over the bakery business formerly conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McPherson, the sale having been completed a few days previously. It is Mr. Harvey's intention to continue the business along similiar lines established by Mr. McPherson, which have proved so successful in the past year or two, and we bespeak for him the general patronage of the people of the district.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson and Miss Cutler, who have conducted the business so successfully, won the friendship of the people of Enderby. They are moving to the coast, and take with them the best wishes of all for continued success wherever they may locate.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson leave Enderby very grateful for the generous treatment received from all.

GRINDROD NOTES

L. Anderson and R. Pernell returned from the prairie this week. Mr. Anderson has been in Saskatchewan for sometime and reports that the rain is excessive there and that the grain is now growing in the shooks. Mr. Pernell has been in Alberta and says they can't do their fall plowing owing to the lack of moisture. We have much to be thankful for in the Okanagan Valley.

Miss H. Graham has been unable to open school this week owing to her being confined to her home with a severe cold.

Mr. Stickland is in Tappen on a business trip.

Miss B. Monk spent a few days in Amstrong visiting friends this week.

Raw Hallowe'en Trick

To steal a man's car that is not stabled is bad enough, but to force the lock on the garage door, roll a new Gray Dort car out into the road and push it a distance of a hundred yards or so past the house and cover it up with hay in the hay barn, neatly closing all doors after them, is a hallowe'en trick that is about as mean as stealing the car and getting away with it.

But this is what happened at the Butchart farm on the road to Salmon Arm. It is a likely spot for the perpetration of such a trick without the culprits being detected, and it is not strange that the theft should be reported to the Provincial police and he in turn should wire broadcast to stop the auto thieves before an investigation was made.

After the whole case had been reported and action taken just as if it was a real case of auto stealing, the tracks of the car were traced down the road to the haybarn and in the barn covered with hay stood the Gray Dort.

Sixty-five persons drowned, houses piled on the beach by a cloudburst and flood and the town cut off from communication by wire, is the report coming from Britannia Beach.

Co-operation the Mother of Progress

The decision of the meeting of Enderby citizens last Thursday evening to accept the site offered for a combined skating rink and agricultural hall in connection with the proposed park which the city is acquiring along the river in the Polson addition, marks the begining of a larger development of Enderby and the closer working together of the city and district. And if the whole project goes through—if the city and district, working hand in hand, put it over and the proposed building is erected on the plans now considered acceptable—we shall have in Enderby one of the most serviceable buildings in the Valley,—a combined skating and curling rink for winter sports, and a hall that can be used for agricultural fairs as soon as our farmers can organize for this purpose. More than this—we shall have a recreation ground second to none in the Okanagan, and a combined pleasure and auto park that will be inviting enough to be an attraction that nobody will pass up. The town and district will then have a pleasure site that can be made of inestimable value; giving access to the river for bath houses and suitable grounds for out-door gatherings of any nature. The opportunity will be there, and the fulness of its development will depend entirely upon the spirit and vision of the people. Knowing what has been done by other localities with less to start upon than we have, it is not difficult to visualize the spot of beauty and pleasure that may be built here if, as a community, we rise to the occasion.

Enderby and district never have failed to go over the top on any occasion when there was a determined effort made, and there is no reason to feel that the present progressive movement will fail.

When the building is started, and it will not be long, it will go up with a swing, for the people are back of it and are determined to see it through.

The few grouchers, who always may be expected to be heard, will soon be turned into boosters, for young men and old, businessmen and farmers, all are lining up behind the proposition.

J. A. MacKelvie's Advantage

J. A. MacKelvie's long residence in the Okanagan, and his close touch at all times, as editor of the Vernon News, with every step of the Valley's development, gives him a distinct advantage over his opponent in the federal election, Mayor Sutherland of Kelowna. More than this, his experience as member of parliament the past session, places him in touch with proceedings at Ottawa, and he already has placed before the various departments many matters of vital interest to his constituency.

With due regard to the personal and executive qualities of Mayor Sutherland, there does not appear to be any possible chance of his election, though, of course, no one can foretell what the outcome of an election will be at this time. This is certain, however, Mr. MacKelvie has everything in his favor; he is as popular and as much esteemed today as ever he was, and has the rail in the running.

In this particular locality Mr. MacKelvie has held the confidence of the people a great many years, and still holds it.

Speaking of Mayor Sutherland's nomination, the Kelowna Courier, his home paper, says:

"The news of Mayor Sutherland's nomination as Liberal candidate for Yale comes as a surprise to many who had gathered from recent utterances of the Mayor and his impatience of party restraint that he had no desire to enter the political arena, and it is also fresh in recollection that he stoutly protested against his name being placed in nomination at thhe Liberal convention for South Okanagan, held prior to the provincial election last year. At the same time he is undoubtedly the strongest man the Liberals could place in the field and he should poll a large vote.

"The uncertain factor in the election will be the attitude of the veterans who supported Col. Edgett last year. The Colonel has announced his intention to run again as an Independent, but he made the annoucement prior to the Liberal convention and at that time it seemed possible that he would again have Mr. MacKelvie as his sole antagonist. A triangular contest would considerably impair Col. Edgett's chances of success, and he may recognize the changed circumstances and withdraw. In that event the soldier vote would have a strong influence in determining the result of the election. To the bulk of returned men the name of Mackenzie King is anathema, and should Col. Edgett withdraw, it will remain to be seen whether Mayor Sutherland's personal popularity and undoubted ability will weigh with them more than the fact that he has ranged himself under the banner of a leader for whom they have no respect and will not follow."

Japanese Aggression

No student of current events considers the Japanese asleep, but few realize the skill and ingenuity they are showing in their transition from Oriental to Occidental industrial methods. Many of the Germans who fought against Japanese troops at Tsingtao have been induced by the Japanese to settle in that country and Korea, where their technical skill makes them valuable aids in the transition and some half dozen of these Germans are now farming three thousand acres of hitherto untilled land in Korea, where Japanese capitalists have advanced steam plows and other up-to-date machinery, and the first crop of soya beans and peanuts has already been harvested. All profits above 5% are shared equally between the farmers and the Japanese capitalists who financed them.

In this connection a writer in Leslie's Magazine, referring to the Oriental question in British Columbia says:

"Come ashore with me and we will talk to the citizens of British Columbia. High and low they tell us that they have a Japanese problem on their hands and that the problem is serious. Let us condense all the interviews into one that shall be as nearly typical of all as one may be. For the facts that our compound Canadian will give us I am deeply indebted to Mr. Lukin Johnston, of the Vancouver Province, and to Mr. J. S. Cowper, of the Vancouver World.

"The total population of British Columbia is 450,000," our informant begins: "58,420 of these are Orientals. There are 40,877 Chinese, 2,363 natives of India and 15,180 Japanese."

"We look at each other and smile. "I should think you would be more concerned about the Chinese than the Japanese," you say. "I can't for the life of me see why you consider 15,180 Japanese in your province a serious problem.

"The Chinaman is a good domestic servant and worker," our informant explains. "Our laboring people object to him because he lowers wages. But we have a different case against the Japanese. They are more aggressive than the Chinaman. It is only a few years ago when one could find a Japanese store only in the small Japanese section of any given city. Now they own and operate some of the largest and most expensive shops in the centers of our various larger cities. They enter many lines of commerce and have practically monopolized our fisheries.

"Of the 4,566 gill-net licenses for salmon fishing in the season 1919-1920, 2,272 were issued to Japanese, wheras British subjects, including native Indians, took out only 1,766 licenses. The herring fisheries of the coast are now almost entirely in the hands of the Japanese and during the war, to assist this industry, all the Japanese boats running between British Columbia ports and Japan were compelled to allot a certain amount of space to herring. In this way they built a large business at a time when British shipping was busy helping with the war."

You nod vaguely and look puzzled. You do not understand why there should be so much fuss about so comparatively few Japanese. Our informant tells us then of the Okanagan Valley, one of the most beautiful bits of fruit country in the world, and of how the Japanese have struggled to get a foothold there. They have not succeeded to any great extent. There are a dozen here, fifteen or twenty there. But our informant shakes his head in expression of misgiving.

"Wherever they get a start the whites move out," he says. "One moves in to-day and within ten years the whole territory's yellow."

He tells us then strange wild stories of Japanese spies; of high officers working as servants in British Columbia homes; of strong ships ostensibly blown ashore on the British Columbia coast but actually having been deliberately driven ashore by the Japanese crew. The reason for this is a bit vague but you are assured that it is sinister."

Will Liquor Act be Amended

From many sections of the Province there is the demand for an amendment to the Moderation Act allowing beer to be served at hotels. A Victoria dispatch says: "Premier Oliver promised a delegation of browers on Saturday that their requests regarding the sale of beer by the glass in hotels and regular eating places would be placed before the Legislature at an early date. A. B. Macdonald, K.C., who appeared as counsel for the delegation, pointed out that 80% of the space in the Government liquor stores was being used for handling beer and that the overhead cost of administration could be cut in half if the stores did not have to carry beer. Premier Oliver said that the passing of the Liquor Control Act had been the work of the members of the Legislature and that any amendments to the Act would have to be brought about after a careful consideration of the matter on the floor of the House. It is expected that Attorney-General Farris will introduce a bill shortly to provide for the opening up of the Act. This will afford a full opportunity to the members to discuss the beer question."

Failing to get the nomination at the Farmers' Convention at Penticton a week or two ago, Mr. Makovski of Armstrong entered the Liberal Convention last week and made a run for it there. Mayor Sutherland beat him out. As this is the last convention to name a federal candidate, we wonder if that bug will leave Makovski now, or will he nurse it until next time?

"What Mother Thinks You Are"

While walking through a crowded downtown street the other day,
I heard a little urchin to his comrade turn and say:
"Say Jimmy, let me tell youse, I'd be happy as a clam
If only I was de feller dat me mudder t'inks I am.

"Gee, Jim, she t'inks dat I'm a wonder and she knows her little lad Could never mix wid nothin' dat was ugly, mean or bad.
Lots er times I sits and t'inks how nice t'would be, gee whiz,
If a feller only was de feller dat his mudder t'inks he is."

My friends, be yours a life of toil or undiluted joy,
You still can learn a lesson from this small, unlettered boy.
Don't try to be an earthly saint with your eyes fixed on a star.
Just aim to be the fellow that your mother thinks your are.

CANADA AT WASHINGTON

What It May Mean to Dominion if Disarmament Conference Fails

Canada is to be heard at the Washington Conference which opens next month. Sir Robert Borden will speak for the Dominion. And it should be so, for, as Grattan O'Leary points out in McLean's Magazine, it was Canada, through Premier Meighen, that originated the idea of such a conference, and it is Mr. Meighen's, it is Canada's policy that will be on trial in Washington in November. If failure should be its lot, which Heaven forbid, then we in Canada can at least have the consciousness that failure was in a splendid cause. If, on the other hand, the Conference succeeds, if (in the words of Lloyd George) the Pacific Ocean is really made pacific, if a China, united, prosperous and happy is substituted for a China the prey of exploiters, the centre of intrigues and the breeding place of war, then Canada can with just pride claim credit for one of the finest achievements on behalf of humanity since statecraft became the hope of enlightened men.

Should the conference fail, with the result of a race in fighting-ship building, it is hardly necessary to explain what this would mean. In five years we have seen our National Debt grow from $350,000,000 to $2,500,000,000. We have seen our inescapable, obligatory annual expenditures grow from $150,000,000 to $400,000,000 or more. We have seen our railways pass into a position where their losses represent a tax upon the Canadian taxpayer almost as great as the cost the British navy imposes upon the taxpayer of Britain. If, therefore, a situation arose whereby Canada was called upon to engage in the construction of armaments, whence would come the money? The truth is that, having regard to our present position, railway losses, the prospect of an additional fifty or seventy-five millions for naval and military defence simply appals. Such will be our fate, if the Conference fails.

Hence it is that Canada goes to this Conference with a hope and a yearning for peace. With her undefended boundary line, and her Great Lakes without ship or cannon as examples of what good-will can achieve, with her high mission as interpreter of the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race to inspire and sustain her, she will weigh in the balance for peace.

Cloth Bad for Finish of Car

Never use a cloth to wipe dust off the fine finish of a car. This dust is a fine grit, and the cloth grinds it into the surface so that it soon becomes dull. Use a fine-hair duster if you are in a hurry, but the best way to remove dust is to flow water over it. The first flow softens the dust and mud, and the second flow removes most of it. Then a solution of a high-grade linseed oil soap is used to finish the cleaning, the whole surface being thoroughly rinsed before drying with a chamois cloth.

How true it is that one's own good breeding is security against other people's ill manners.

The Moderation League's attitude on the public demand for beer by the glass

The Moderation League has been asked to endorse several petitions which are at present being circulated asking for the sale of beer by the glass.

The consensus of opinion of the League, taken from its organizations throughout the Province has been, and is, in favor of the sale of beer by the glass under reasonable restrictions as being conducive to moderation. Prior to the passage of the present Act the League forwarded to the Legislature a resolution asking:

> "That the Commission be given power to provide for the serving of beer by the glass during limited hours in approved establishments where meals are served. Such privilege to be subject to cancellation in any locality at the discretion of the commission. No beer to be sold over a bar."

Since the passage of the Act public opinion has strongly substantiated the League's resolution, and it has been suggested that the League should urge the matter on the members of the Legislature at the coming session.

This the executive of the League is prepared to do. It invites the co-operation of all in favor of a moderate law and holds itself ready to assist in the presentation to the Government of petitions and the resolutions of organizations which have the above object in view.

All communications should be addressed to the Secretary.

MODERATION LEAGUE
Canada Life Building, Vancouver
H. O. BELL-IRVING, Chairman J. S. GLYNES, Gen. Secretary.

Behold, The Man!

Today all up-to-date executives are pleading not for men—but for more man, more manliness, more manhood. More of that indefinable force which acts directly by its very presence, which commands attention, inspires confidence and creates the desire to be dealt with.

We are born believers in this type of man.

To see him is to believe in him.

And the secret of our belief in him is his own belief in himself.

He believes in himself and in the work he has
He believes in the firm for which he works.
He believes in the man who directs his efforts.
He believes in every one of his business associates.
He believes in truthfulness and in loyalty and in perseverance.
He believes in work and he believes in play.
He believes in good cheer and good health.
He believes in sunshine, fresh air, sobriety and sufficiency.
He gives as he goes and grows as he gives.
We are drawn to him, and cry aloud in salutation—Behold, the man!—Norval Hawkins.

"Only the Game Fish Swim Up Stream"

It's easy to drift as the current flows;
It's easy to move as the deep tide goes;
But the answer comes when the breakers crash
And strike the soul with a bitter lash—
When the goal ahead is endless fight
Through a sunless day and a starless night,
Where the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream
"Only the game fish swims up stream."
The spirit wanes where it knows no load;
The soul turns soft down the Easy Road;
There's fun enough in the thrill and throb,
But Life in the main is an uphill job;
And it's better so, where the softer game
Leaves too much fat on a weakened frame,
Where the far call breaks on the sleepers dream,
"Only the game fish swims up stream."
When the clouds bank in—and the soul turns blue—
When Fate holds fast, and you can't break through—
When trouble sweeps like a tidal wave,
And Hope is a ghost by an open grave,
You have reached the test in a frame of mind
Where only the quitters fall behind,
Where the far call breaks on the sleepers dream,
"Only the game fish swims up stream."

MISTAKES

When a lumberman makes a mistake he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake it's just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake he buries it.

When a judge makes a mistake it becomes a law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

When an electrician makes a mistake he blames it on the induction; nobody knows what that means.

Railway Connection Cut

Railway connection with the Coast was entirely cut on Saturday by slides and washouts in the Coast mounatin sections of both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways and the carrying point of the C. P. R. bridge at Coquitlam. The slide and washout trouble on the C. P. R. is in the neighborhood of Lytton, while that on the C. N. R. is about four miles west of Boston Bar. It is not expected that Canadian Pacific trains will be able to get through for four or five days. It is hoped to get a C. N. R. train through from Vancouver somewhat earlier.

The Man of the Hour

In this hour of Canada's most acute national crisis, the country's greatest need is leadership—not class leadership, not sectional leadership, but NATIONAL leadership. A pilot must be chosen possessing the necessary courage, foresight, breadth of vision and determination to lead the nation safely out of the existing economic uncertainty.

And one man stands out head and shoulders above all others as pre-eminently fitted for the task.

Born on a farm near St. Mary's, Ontario, Arthur Meighen is a true son of the people, a toiler who has fought his way to eminence by sheer ability and force of intellect. Entered Parliament in 1908; appointed Solicitor-General in 1914; Minister of the Interior in 1917; and Prime Minister in 1920.

At the Imperial Conference he was acclaimed by the Press of Great Britain as a great statesman, as a strong, virile, vigorous personality—alert in mind, keen and far-seeing in judgment, and with a fearless determination to stand for the right.

Professor A. D. Skelton, of Queen's University, and biographer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, wrote of the present Prime Minister :—"He has already given proof of high administrative capacity. His personal integrity is beyond question."

Of himself, Arthur Meighen said to his constituents the other day :—"You know where I stood on this issue in 1908, in 1911, and as in 1911 I stand to-day."
