TALES OF THE TOWN

Will Begin Laying Steel on Granby Spur About Sept. 15.

Glove Contest Was a Fiasco of Most Flagrant Nature.

It is now stated that the Great Northern Railway company will commence to lay steel on the smelter spur and Phoenix branch about the 15th of September.

The glove contest between Jack Turner, Australian lightweight, and "Kid" Brady, who claims to be champion lightweight of Utah, turned out to be a fiasco of the most flagrant character. In the middle of the first round, after a few seconds of light sparring, the "Kid" fell down, and evidently desired to be counted out, but the referee, Coolgardie Smith, refused to do so. Shortly after the commencement of second round Turner brushed a fly off the "Kid's" jaw. The "Kid" thought this an opportune time to lay down, and acted on the thought. This time he refused to get up, and after he had rested a few minutes he carried out of the ring. Luckily the number of victims who witnessed this exhibition were few In justice to Turner, it must be said that he was fine condition, and he entered the ring with the intention of carrying out the contest as advertised.

W. A. Coplen, superintendent of the mining department of the Spokane Interstate fair, which opens October 3, is getting up a fine diploma which will be awarded for the best mineral exhibits this year. These diplomas will be awarded by the most competent judges for the best samples of the various ores. Mr. Coplen is receiving assurances of fine exhibits from all parts of the country. There is every reason to believe this department will be better than ever before. The railroads have agreed to take all ore samples to the fair free of charge. These will be retained in Spokane and put into a permanent exhibit, which will be kept from year to year for Interstate fair purposes.

Mrs. R. S. Leard and Miss Scanlan, of Nelson, have been visitors at the home of Mrs. M. J. Taylor during the past week.

The masquerade ball given under the auspices of the Grand Eorks and Granby baseball clubs, in the Biden opera last Friday evening, was well attended, between two and three hundred people being present.

Miss Clunis, of Nelson, returned to her home yesterday after visiting her father for a few days in this city.

The Bohemian Concert company will give an entertainment in the Biden opera house on Tuesday evening, Sept. 6th. Among the artistes composing this company are Miss Gertrude Marrack, the eminent Australian contralto; Mr. Herbert Taylor, the famous basso, late of the Carl Rosa Opera company, England, and little Glen, the 12-year-old child comedienne.

Guy Murphy, aged about 38 years, was drowned in the North Fork, a short distance above the dam, while out boating with two companions Friday morning. While separated from his friend she went in bathing, and it is supposed that he was either taken with cramps or else the undercurrent carried him to bottom. The water is about twelve feet deep at the place place where the accident occurred. The body has been recoved. The coroner has decided that an inquest is unnecessary. Murphy came to this city about two years ago from Spokane, and has since been employed at the Granby smelter and Lequime's sawmill. He leaves a family consisting of a wife and four children. The burial took place last Saturday afternoon.

The carnival closed sine die last Saturday night. The rock drilling contest for a prize of $200 was won by George and James Faulds of Greenwood, with a record of 44½ inches drilled in 15 minutes. McGillicray and Sutherland, of Rossland, the competing team, retired with a score of 20 inches after ten minutes' drilling.

Geo. Nyc, a Granby smelter employee, returned last Friday from a three weeks' visit to his mother's ranch on the reservation.

John Temple, of the Granby hotel, has been confined to his room by an attack of fever during the past week.

Forest fires on Observation mountain assisted materially in illuminating the city last Friday night. The fire started at J. A. Smith's place in the North addition, and it took a big squad of fire-fighters from the city to save some of the property in that neighborhood.

It is rumored in society circles that a wedding, in which H. N. Galer, late assistant manager of the Granby smelter, and a well known Grand Forks young lady are to be the principals, will be solemnized in this city about six weeks hence.

The annual meeting of the Kettle River and South Okanagan Pioneer society will be held at the Riverside hotel, Rock Creek, on Thursday, Sept. 1st. Teams will be at Midway on the arrival of the C.P.R. westbound to carry members to the meeting place.

The Kettle Valley railway surveyors, who are running a preliminary line for the North Fork extension, have now reached Lynch's creek.

D. Whiteside, barrister, is spending a short outing up in the North Fork country.

The shooting season opens on Sept. 1st.

Frances Feeney, son of Ald. Feeney, will leave tomorrow for Spokane, where he will attend the Blair Business College.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Will Not Assume Obligations of Street Carnival Managers.

City Engineer Reid Will Be Given a Month's Vacation.

The regular weekly session of the city council was held in the council chamber last night. Mayor Hammar, Ald. Clements, Feeney, McCallum, Martin, Hutton and McNee were present.

After the minutes had been read and adopted, a communication was read from the secretary of the carnival directors, stating that a deficit of about $1200 stared them in the face, and asking the city's assistance to meet their liabilities. The matter was discussed at length, but the council refused to take any action. Mayor Hammar suggested circulating a popular subscription paper, stating that he himself would head the list with a donation. Ald. McCallum said he would like to see a certified statement made by the directors of the receipts and disbursements. He thought the people who had subscribed to the carnival were entitled to know what had been done with the money.

On motion of Ald. Feeney and Clements, the water and light committee was requested to arrange with Mr. Waterston and Mr. Savage to do the city engineer's work, so that a month's vacation could be given Mr. Reid.

On motion of Ald. Martin and McNee, the monthly payroll and the following accounts were ordered paid: H. B. Cannon, $6; Clay Mountell, $1; H. Dickson, $6; P. Waterston, 239; L. Steele, $10.50; Kettle River Lumber Co., $29.25; Boundary Iron Works, $2.50; Geo. E. Massie, $35; J. W. Jones, $54.30; F. M. Kerby, $50; Holly Mason, $15.

On motion of Ald. McCallum and Feeney, the matter of connecting the water main with the C.P.R. was referred to the water and light committee, giving the committee power to act.

CITY NEWS

Len Miller and J. R. Pavilla, who were prominently connected with the street carnival, left for Spokane yesterday morning rather hurriedly and a few days earlier than they had led people to believe they were going. The cause of their haste has not yet been ascertained by THE SUN, but it will doubtless materialize in a few days.

It is reported today that a prominent merchant has resigned from the directorate of the Grand Forks Driving Park and Athletic association as a protest against the manner in which the races were conducted last week. If Grand Forks is ever to have another race meet, it would be well for the officers of the association to stipulate that the pool-selling privilege does not carry with it the right to run the horses to suit the bookies.

Mr. Harold Nelson will appear in "Heart and Sword" at the Winnipeg theatre early in September, says the Free Press. This is the romantic comedy in which Mr. Walker Whiteside starred for two seasons. It is a cleverly constructed play, and Mr. C. P. Walker has given it a magnificent production scenery, costumes and light effects being particularly beautiful. The role of Prince Victor is one in which Mr. Nelson is sure to score a hit, as it is just suited to him. Mr. Nelson is now playing a preliminary season, having opened at Owen Sound, Ont., on Thursday evening of this week to a capacity audience. His second regular season under Mr. Walker's management will begin on August 22, when Hr. Nelson will open the new theatre at Fort William. On his western tour, which includes all the principal cities between Winnipeg and Kamloops, Mr. Nelson will present "Heart and Sword" exclusively, reserving his other play and production for the return trip. Clifford Lane Bruce, who made such an excellent impression as leading man with Mr. Nelson last season, has been retained; also Miss Helene Scott, William Blake and William Garette. The new members are capable and add much to the strength of the company.

MYTERIOUS WRECK

Phoenix Branch Mix-Up Probably Caused by Hobos.

Engine and 23 Ore Cars Piled Up In Fantastic Confusion.

The wreck of last week on the Phoenix branch of the C.P.R. afforded the kodakers a choice subject. Near Denoro City a railway engine, 23 ore cars and over 600 tons of ore were piled up in fantastic confusion. It appears that the train was coming down the long grade just beyond Denoro City with a string of 24 laden ore cars, when for some reason the air refused to work when applied, with the result that there was a runaway. The crew realized they had a lost cause when neither air nor hand brakes could be made effective, and having reversed the engine there remained nothing to do but to seek personal safety. This they did by dropping off the train. Down the grade and around the curves rushed the long, heavy train for a couple of miles or so, when it decided to leave the rails. The result was ruin, as may be imagined. The entire train, with the exception of two cars, was a complete wreck. The crew escaped with minor injuries. Eye witnesses assert that the train must have attained a speed of from 60 to 100 miles an hour before becoming derailed.

A number of railroad men are of the opinion that when the wreck is cleared away the remains of two men will be found. It is said that two men were noticed by passersby stealing a ride on the train after it left Hartford Junction. It would have been a simple thing for one of these men to have kicked the angle cock that shuts off the air after the train started from Williams spur, without knowing the damage he had done. If this is actually what caused the wreck and the loss of some $50,000 in rolling stock to the C.P.R. will not be known until the wreck is fully cleared away.

Geo. Henderson, employed at the Granby smelter, returned today from a three weeks' visit with relatives near Boise, Ida. Mr. Henderson, who was in ill health when he left here, returned home greatly improved.

A. B. W. Hodges, general superintendent of the Granby company, is in Rossland on mining business.

SUNSET SUANTERINGS

Almost the sole topic of conversation on our streets and in public places during the past two days has been the lamentable—lamentable because the good name of the city is at stake—muddle in which the finance committee of the carnival directors found themselves at the end of the celebration. At present there are charges and counter charges being made. The secretary of the committee states that the liabilities exceed the receipts by about $1200. This statement is doubted by a number of people, even by some who were connected with the enterprise. These people make the assertion that there was a sufficient amount of money taken in to meet all obligations and leave a snug profit besides. As to which of these statements is correct, THE SUN is not at present prepared to say; but when the true facts are made known there will be no hesitation on the part of this paper to publish the facts. In the meantime, however, the fact remains that there is an army of unpaid actors, entertainers, theatrical managers, newspaper men and mechanics who are spreading the news broadcast that they have been victimized. The concensus of local opinion appears to be that the good name of the city has received a stain which it will take years to wipe out. In justice to two or three of the directors, it may be stated they claim their views on financial matters were never consulted.

J. W. Ormiston has just returned from an extended prospecting trip through northern British Columbia. Mr. Ormiston, who is an old Cape Briton coal miner, has worked in and inspected all the great coal mines in the United States and Canada, may aptly be described as having been brought up in a coal mine. It is stated that his trip was made with the primary object of searching for coal lands, and that after several months' prospecting he succeeded in locating an eight-foot seam of soft cokeing coal, extending without a break for a distance of six miles. This coal, says Mr. Ormiston, is of an equally high grade as a coking coal as that produced by the Fernie mines, and is so located that the cost of mining will be about one-third less than that produced in the Crow's Nest. A syndicate has already been formed to send Mr. Ormiston back at once to locate a group of these coal claims upon his discovery. Among those composing the syndicate are Thomas Foulston, John P. Loftus, Frank Loftus, and James Thompson, Mr. Ormiston's partner. As to their right to obtain licenses in the territory above referred to, it is claimed that this ground is virgin soil, not even the C.P.R. havihg any claim upon it, and evidently the members of the late government were unaware of its existence, therefore there is no possibility of a contingency arising whereby the issue of the coal mining licenses for this ground will be delayed. Several applications have already been made to Mr. Ormiston to locate claims for them in this group.

J. D. Spence, barrister, is up in the North Fork country for a brief outing.

Dr. C. M. Kingston returned home yesterday from Vancouver, where he has been attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical association. He reports that Dr. K. C. MacDonald has undergone a successful operation for appendicitis, and is now rapidly recovering.

Two little girls were engaged in an animated discussion as to the merits of their respective homes. "Well, anyway," said one little maiden in a triumphant tone, "you may have more bedrooms than we have, but we have more cream than you do. We have enough for our cereal every single morning." "Pooh!" said the other, "that's nothing. We own a Jersey cow, and we get a whole cowful of cream twice every day."

At a dinner in Boston the other evening the guests insisted upon George Ade of "slang fable" fame making a speech. Finally, in sheer desperation, after all the others present had sung songs or told stories, he rose and said: "I will tell you of an excellent trick in parlor magic. You take a tumbler and fill it two-thirds full of filtered water. Then you insert in the water a lump of sugar and a spoon, and you begin to stir. In a few minutes the sugar will become invisible."

A medley of young literary men were once gathered to meet Robert Browning. The most aggressively literary of the group was first introduced, and at once began to pour out his personal delight and admiration with so unceasing a flow that the other introductions were being held in abeyance, and the other literary young men starved. Browning endured it with great good humor for some time. At last he put his hand almost affectionately on the egotist's shoulder and said: "But I am monopolizing you."

The great Simplon tunnel under the Alps from the valley of the Rhone into Italy is about half finished, and it is now believed that it will be ready for traffic within two and a half years. Its cost will be $14,000,000, and this enormous expense has been incurred to shorten the road between Paris and Milan only 50 miles and to save grades of fifteen hundred feet. The length of the completed tunnel will exceed twelve miles.

An editorial writer with a taste for statistics has given to this waiting world a statement in which women may feel some interest. He declares that he recently stood in a crowded thoroughfare of a large city and listened to "scraps of conversation" of fifty women who passed him. Of these fifty women, four were talking about cooking and recipes; seven, about babies; twelve were discussing men and love affairs; and from the lips of twenty-seven rippled remarks about clothes.

About Cats.

The following was the reply to a question on Cats at a recent Board School examination:

"The house cat is a four-legged quadruped, the legs as ushul being at the four corners. It is what is sometimes called a tame animal, though it feeds on mice and birds of prey. Its colours are striped, tortushell and black, also black and white and others. Cats also mow, which you have all herd. When you stroke this tame quadruped by drawring your hand along its back, it cocks up its tail like a ruler, so as you can get no further. Never stroke the hairs acrost, as it makes all cats serat like mad. Its tail is about two foot long, and its legs about one each. Don't teeze cats, for, firstly, it is wrong so to do, and, 2nd, cats have causes which is longer than people think. Cats have 9 liveses, but which is seldom required in this country cause of Christianity. Men cats are allus called Tom, and girl cats Puss or Siss; but little cats is called kittens, which is a wrong name which oughter be changed. This tame quadruped can see in the dark, so rats stand no chants, much less mice."

A Curse, Not a Blessing.

There is something in the saying of a medical journal that if a certain treatment for consumption had turned out to be the magic cure that was anticipated it would have proved a curse to the race. The explanation is that the causes of the disease are known and preventable, and that to dodge the penalty and permit the causes still to operate would be to do a degrading thing, one certain to result in the deterioration of character. The moral way to abolish infectious diseases is to remove disease-breeding conditions, and that is also generally the speediest and safest method.

SHORT STORIES

An amusing story is told of Phil May, the late famous cartoonist of the London "Punch," and an English conjurer at a fair at Stratford-on-Avon. Phil was watching the very clever gentleman who was wrapping up sovereigns and half-crowns in pieces of paper and selling them for two shillings. The "sharp" had a beautiful face—such a face as Phil May loved to draw. So he sketched him furtively. But the gentleman saw him, and made a speech forthwith. "If that there celebrited portrit painter with the tight breeches on will 'and up the pieter, the equally celebrited benefactor to 'oomanity wot is givin' away quids for coppers will reward 'im accordingly!" he shouted. Phil, with a twinkle in his eye, handed up the drawing. The conjurer was delighted with the sketch and pinned it to the tail-board of his cart. With another preliminary speech he threw three sovereigns, three half-sovereigns and several half-crowns into a piece of paper, screwed it up and handed it to the artist. "You'll be president of the bloomin' R'yal Academy some dye, young man," said he. "Here, catch!" "A bargain's a bargain," said Phil, walking off with the packet of gold and silver, which when opened proved to contain two pennies and a half-penny; but Phil said that it was the most entertaining commission he had ever been paid for.

The other day, an [illegible] bought a copy of "Irish Melodies" at a second-hand London book store for a shilling. The bookseller was surprised, a few moments later, when the excited purchaser returned and, shaking his fist at him, cried: "I could kill ye for selling these immortal gems so cheap!"

"I have one wish I fear will never be fulfilled," said Senator Hanna as he sat in the Senate restaurant at Washington one day last session and ate a very simple luncheon. "What is it?" asked Senator Kean of New Jersey. "I should like to eat everything and then have the work of digestion devolve on some Democrat."

At the Hamilton Club banquet in Chicago recently Speaker Cannon said: "I never wrote a speech in my life, and never but once used one that another man had written. I envy the man who can sit down in cold blood and achieve a thought, then dress it—put clothes on it, pants, coat, vest, shoes and collar; and turn it out in full attire, as Minerva sprouted from the [illegible]."

Salvatore Cortesi, in a very readable article in the "World's Work" on King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, says that after the assassination of his father, Queen Margherita was very anxious that King Humbert should be buried at the Superga at Turin, where all the rest of the House of Savoy lie, with the exception of the great Victor Emmanuel. Moreover, her Majesty did not wish to wound the susceptibilities of the papal party by a state funeral in Rome. King Victor, pale and tired, entered the room where the Queen was, exclaiming: "Well, that is arranged—my father will have a fitting burial in the Pantheon." "Victor," cried his mother, "I see you want to break my heart. You offend my religion as well as my affections." "I am sorry, mother," he said gently, and then added sternly; "the religion which is offended at a martyr being buried in his own capital and lying beside his own father needs radical changes."

A story is told of Labouchere at the very beginning of his editorial career. A friend came in one day, and, seeing a quantity of books around, which had been sent in for review, offered to bet Labouchere that there was one book he had not got in the office. Labouchere enquired the name of the book, and his friend promptly answered, "A Bible." With a laugh, Labouchere offered to bet ten pounds that he had even that book. Turning the conversation in another direction, he furtively sent a note out into the clerk's office, telling the boy to go downstairs and ask the booksellers underneath for the loan of a Bible. Presently he returned to the subject of the bet, and, calling his assistant in, asked him whether he had a Bible in the office. The clerk produced the book, which Labouchere handed over to his friend, giving himself away, however, as he did so by saying sotto voce to the clerk: "I hope to goodness you didn't forget to cut the leaves!" Of course the English Bible does not require its leaves to be cut.

THE TORONTO

DAILY NEWS

AND THE

GRAND FORKS SUN

.. FOR ONLY ..

$2.25 a Year

A radical change from old methods and prices has been made by the Toronto Daily News. The eyes of the newspvper world have been upon The News for the past few months, during which time several departures have been made which have given that paper a widespread reputation for enterprise and originality. This latest move is to place The News at the price of $1.00 a year by mail. Only a deep-founded belief in the future success of The News could lead the publishers to make such a reduction in price. But just as the dollar magazine has taken hold of the people, so, we venture to predict, The News will secure a vast and ever-increasing circulation, based not only on the popular price at which it is sold, but mainly upon the intrinsic merits of he paper.

We have arrangements concluded which enables us to club the Toronto News with our own paper at $2.25 a year in advance. Such a combination presents many unique features—our semi-weekly giving you all the home and district news, and the big 12-page daily keeping you in touch with events all over the world. Send us your subscription to The News, or if you would like to see the paper first, write us and we will secure a sample copy.

BRONCHITIC ASTHMA A HEAVY BURDEN

Asthma is bad enough, but when bronchial symptoms are added the poor sufferer has almost an intolerable existence. An absolute specific is found in fragrant, healing Catarrhzone, which cures chronic cases that other remedies won't even relieve. "For years," writes Capt. MacDonald of Montreal, "I battled with the agonies of bronchial asthma. Often I couldn't sleep for weeks at a time. I spent thousands on doctors and medicines without relief, but one dollar's worth of Catarrhozone cured me. Catarrhozone can't fail; it's guaranteed. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c. H. E. Woodland, druggist.

Take Ferrozone and you'll do more work. You will have the strength, the ambition and the desire to work because your system will be in first-class order. For your health and strength, take Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c. H. E. Woodland, druggist.
