The City Council

Committees Appointed for the Ensuing Year

The Mayor Favors Reducing the Force of City Employes If Found to Be Larger Than Necessary to Insure Efficient Service.

The first regular meeting of the newly elected city council was held in the council chamber last night. Those present were Mayor Hammar, Aldermen Clements, Feeney, Hutton, McCallum, McLellan and McNee.

The mayor appointed the following committees for ihe ensuing year:

Finance—Neil McCallum and A. L. Clements.

Board of Works—M. R. Feeney and Wm. McNee.

Health and Relief—A. L. Clements and Wm. McNee.

The first named of each committee is chairman.

The following account was ordered paid: Vernon & Nelson Telephone company, $12.

Mayor Hammar made a short address to the council, in which he stated that the chairmen of the different committees would be asked to look into the matter of the salaries now being paid to all city officials, and to see if there were more employes of the city than was necessary to perform the work of each department in a proper manner. If so, they should be discharged. He said he was not in favor of reducing salaries, as he thought the city should pay its employes fair wages.

The council then adjourned.

The old city council held their last meeting Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Mayor Burrell, Ald. Martin, McLellan, McCallum, Feeney, Gaw and Peterson were in attendance. There was no business of importance to transact, but before adjourning Mayor Burrell made a neat little speech to the members of the council, congratulating them on the businesslike manner in which the city's affairs had been administered during the past year, and the good feeling and harmony which existed throughout between himself and all the members. He commented on the financial statement of the city, which had just been made public, stating that it was a matter of great gratification to note the decrease in liabilities over the preceding year.

Ald. McCallum made a brief address, in which he said it was a matter of great satisfaction, as the mayor had stated, that the council of 1903 had worked so harmoniously for the advancement and welfare of the city, which, doubtless, all had at heart. It was gratifying, he said, to note the way in which Mayor Burrell was ever ready to carry out the wishes of the majority of the council, and the relations between the aldermen and the mayor had always been the best.

The council then adjourned sine die.

The mayor and aldermen for 1904, after being duly sworn, then took their seats. The new council is composed of the following members: Mayor Hammar, Ald. McCallum, McLellan, Feeney, Clements, Hutton and McNee. As the meeting was only for inaugural purposes, no business matters came up. Mayor Hammar made a short speech congratulating the aldermen on their election. He said he hoped the relations between them during the year would prove harmonious, and that nothing but good feeling would prevail.

An adjournment was then taken until Monday evening.

A SUCCESSFUL COMEDY

Broadhurst's "What Happened to Jones" Will Be Presented Here - A Notable Theatrical Event.

Manager Walker, of the Winnipeg theatre, will soon present in this city "What Happened to Jones," George Broadhurst's great comedy, which has enjoyed long runs at the leading theatres of New York and London, and which is known in the large cities all over the country. It is a comedy that does not require slap-sticks and funny falls to make it laughable. Its plot is logical and carried out with innumerable complications that are excruciatingly funny. Manager Walker has comedians, and the piece will be presented here witn the same careful attention to costuming and scenery it receives in the large cities. For the first time western Canada will have a metropolitan production of a famous comedy. "What Happened to Jones" will be seen here on Feb. 10th.

SUNSET SAUNTERINGS

The local lodge of the Rathbone Sisters held their first regular meeting in the K. of P. hall last Friday evening. It is the intention of the members to give a social some day during the present week.

The sleighing party given uuder the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Knox church last Friday evening was a most decided success. About 75 people, most of whom were young folks, took in the party. Two four-horse teams with big sleighs, well provided with fur rugs, conveyed the party to W. H. Covert's ranch, where they were warmly welcomed. Games sf all kinds were indulged in, also songs and music, together with a nice basket repast, which the ladies had thoughtfully provided and taken with them. The night was a beautiful ene, and the return trip was immensely enjoyed by all, and many look forward to another like treat in the near future.

W. K. C. Manly opened his new grocery store to the public last Saturday. This department is in charge of J. Livesley, an experienced groceryman, and the patrons of the store can depend on getting the best goods on the market at reasonable prices. The store is one of the largest and best fitted up in Grand Forks, and is a credit to the city. Read Mr. Manly's ad. in this issue of THE SUN.

James McCall, engineer at the Granby smelter, has returned from a month's visit to his old home in Toronto. He was accompanied by his young son Fred.

Rev. J. R. Robertson preached a sermon to the newly elected mayor and aldermen in Knox church last Sunday evening. There was a large turn out, the seating capacity of the church being taxed to its utmost limit. The words of his text were: "This charge I commit unto thee, that thou mayest wage a good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience." Mr. Robertson delivered a careful, earnest and instructive sermon. He paid a high tribute to the city government of the past year, and earnestly called on the incoming council to continue the good work and stand up for a moral city administration. He said it was the duty of every man to extend sympathy, help and encouragement to the men on whose shoulders had fallen the burden of wisely governing the city. He also dealt with the subject of the evil conditions existing in all cities, and the great need for moral reform to be carried out by the city government. Let there be no revenue, he said, derived from any source but an honorable one to help carry on the business of the city. The cry was raised a year ago when the municipal campaign was on, that if the moral reform policy was enforced financial ruin would be the result. Instead, the city's finances for the past year showed a large decrease in the total liabilities over the preceding year, and therefore the last prop on which the people had made that cry was knocked from under them. He hoped the citizens would continue the good fight, and make our city a place of which we need not be ashamed. The choir rendered a beautiful anthem at the close of the service.

Rev. J. F. Betts occupied the pulpit of the Rossland Methodist church last Sunday. Anniversary services were conducted.

Frank Richler and wife, of Keremeos, B. C., are guests at the Yale.

C. A. DesBrisay, Great Northern right of way agent, arrived in the city from Spokane on Sunday.

R. A. McAuley, customs officer at Carson, who has been ill at his home in Midway for the past two month, is able to again attend to his duties. J. K. Dunlop, quarantine guard at Carson, has been attending to Mr. McAuley's business during his illness.

Accident at Eholt

J. W. R. C. Brown Killed by a Falling Tree.

Lingered Twelve Hours and Then Expired---Was a Young Man of Twenty-Three, and a Native of Ireland.

Last Tuesday night a sad accident occurred at Eholt, resulting in the death of a young fellow named James William Richard Cornelius Brown, who had been in the Boundary but a few months, and was highly esteemed by those who knew him.

It seems that Brown, with two companions, Charles Paburn and Albert Hayes, had been cutting timber within a quarter of a mile of Eholt for some little time, although Brown was not an old hand at this work. About 9 o'clock Brown felled a tree, and as it started to drop he ran, as he thought, out of its way. Instead he got into the direct path of the tree, the upper part of which struck his head, almost crushing it to a jelly.

He was taken at once to the home of Constable Darraugh, in Eholt, and Dr. Spankie, of Greenwood, was summoned, who decided that nothing could be done for the unfortunate fellow. After lingering for twelve hours, Brown expired, not having regained consciousness.

It was not deemed necessary to hold a coroner's inquest, as the cause of death was apparent to all. Arrangements were made with Clark & Binns, the undertakers, and the funeral was held Thursday, the interment taking place in the Phoenix cemetery that afternoon, Rev. Wm. Wood officiating. Several sleigh loads of friends and acquaintances from Eholt attended.

Brown was a native of Dublin, Ireland, and after living at Calgary for a time, came to the Boundary last summer. He was a single man, with a good education. He had been considering the starting of a weekly paper at Eholt just before his unfortunate death.

Sam Horner left for Spokane Sunday last on a short business trip.

The Rathmullen, in Summit camp, resumed work last week.

* * *

E. Dufour, of the Queen's hotel, Grand Forks, and Joseph Caron, of the same place, arrived in town Wednesday. They intend to build an hotel on the corner of First street and Poplar avenue, opposite the Inn.—Poplar Nugget.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Liberal-Conservative association, held last night, the following delegates were appointed to attend the convention in Kamloops next Thursday, January the 21st, to nominate a candidate to contest the constituency of Yale-Cariboo in the interests of the Liberal-Conservative party: Jeff Davis, H. C. Hanington, Martin Burrell and Ernest Miller. They left today for Kamloops, and are instructed to give their solid support to secure the nomination of ex-Mayor Burrell. It is stated by prominent Conservatives that it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Burrell will receive the nomination. Letters have been received from all sections of the district stating the he will receive the solid support of his party of the constituency.

Geo. E. Massie left for Phoenix and Eholt today.

H. E. Macdonnell, C. P. R. general freight agent, of Nelson, is in the city. He is a guest at the Yale.

MINING NOTES

A 60-ton consignment of Elmore concentrates from the Le Roi No. 2 oil concentrator has been sent to the Granby smelter for experimental purposes. The ratio of concentration in shipments to date is eleven or twelve tons of crude ore to one ton of concentrates.

* * *

On the Roderick Dhu, in Long Lake camp, one of Boundary's high grade properties that has been working steadily for several months past, in a drift from a new shaft recently started, a ledge of $125 ore was struck last week. Shipment from this property are expected to be started this week, the ore going to the Greenwood smelter. Tom McDonald is in charge of the work.

* * *

Double shifts are now being worked in the No. 4 tunnel of the Franby mines.

* * *

Bob Fraser reports the finding of an excellent ledge of ore on the Evening Star, Wellington camp.

* * *

Owing to the inability of the smelters to handle all of the ore offered, the management of the Athelstan, in Wellington camp, reduced the force considerably last week.

* * *

It is reported that the Brooklyn and Stemwinder mines, at Phoenix, will start up soon, after a shut-down of two years.

* * *

More men are being put to work at the Emma mine, Summit camp.

THE open door in the far east should not be closed uutil all the Orientals get home.

ON the 10th of February we will be afforded an opportunity to learn "What Happened to Jones," but "What Happened the Coal Licenses" will probably remain a secret forever.

THE first number of the British Columbia Lumberman, a 24-page monthly trade magazine, published at Vancouver, has made its appearance. It is carefully edited, typographically attractive, and should be liberally supported by all engaged in the lumber industry.

THOSE people who are making a kick against the financial statement for the year 1903 by asserting that it is incorrect, etc., should lodge a complaint over their own signatures either to the press of the city or to the city council. There is no doubt but that an immediate investigation would be held. But as long as the kickers are afraid to do so, they cannot expect that any official notice will be taken of their plaints.

SUNSET SIGNALS

Mrs. H. A. Sheads is seriously ill at her home on Bridge street.

Great preparations are being made by the local Scotchmen for their first annual banquet, which will be held in the Yale hotel on Monday evening, January 25th, the anniversary of Robert Burns' birth. A St. Andrew's society will be formed on that evening, and a glorious time is anticipated. Everything points to a large organization, as the men with the "two talks" are bobbing up everywhere, now that active steps have been taken for the formation of the society.

Walter Perkins, who has acted in the capacity of head assayer for the Granby smelter in this city for the past two years, has severed his connection with that company. Mr. Perkins and family will leave next Saturday for Northport, Wash., where Mr. Perkins has accepted the position of assistant superintendent of the Northport smelter. The many friends of the family in this city will deeply regret their departure. They will carry with them the good wishes of the entire community for their future welfare.

It is reported that Hugh Cannon and Ald. Feeney have been recommended to the government for police commissioners for the city of Grand Forks.

Last Thursday evening a meeting of the Presbytery of Kootenay was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Phoenix, for the purpose of inducting Rev. E. C. W. McColl as pastor of the congregation. Rev. J. R. Robertson, of this city presided, and gave the charge to the minister and congregation, while Rev. M. D. McKee, of Greenwood, preached a suitable sermon, taking as his text: "I have set before thee an open door' Rev. Wm. Wood, of the Church of England, and Rev. T. Green, of the Methodist church, gave fraternal greetings in a few well chosen words. After the formal induction a reception was tendered the new pastor by the Ladies' Aid of the church, refreshments being served and an enjoyable evening spent. Rev. Mr. McColl comes to Phoenix from Moyie, where he has been acting as missionary since last October, although he was formerly located in the Boundary, having been pastor at Columbia and having preached in the Phoenix church several times last summer.

H. P. Buckingham, of Rossland, arrived in the city yesterday.

A. E. MacNaughton, of Vancouver, is visiting in the city. Archie was one of the best known lacrosse players in Montreal some years ago, and still takes great interest in the game.

F. H. McKenzie left today on a short visit to his home in Greenwood. His family will shortly leave for Regina, where the will reside in future.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1904 Almanac

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks Almnnac for 1904 is now ready. It will be mailed to any address for 30 cents. It is surprising how such an elegant, costly book can be sent prepaid so cheaply. No family or person is prepared to study the heavens, or the storms and weather in 1904, without this wonderful Hicks Almanac and Prof. Hicks' splendid paper, Word and Works. Both are sent for only $1 a year. Word and Works is among the best American magazines. Like the Hicks Almanac, it is too well known to need further commendation. Few men have labored more faithfully for the public good or found a warmer place in the hearts of the people. Send orders to Word and Works Publishing Co., 2201 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

DONE ON TIME.

In our jewelry store we have a special department "fenced off," so to speak, from the main show room. In charge of this is an expert workman—a mechanic, a genius. You should call at this department quite often, as your watch should be examined at least once a year, or the claws of your diamond ring may be worn off and you run the risk of losing the stone. We never charge for examinations, and all work left in our shop will be fixed in a thorough, workmanlike manner, will be DONE ON TIME it is promised, and the price will be reasonable, satisfactory. If your watch or diamond ring does not need repairing, you may have clock to fix.

WHY GO EAST

Over the sun-burned, sage brush and alkali plains, when you may just as well take a delightful, cool and comfortable ride through the heart of the Rocky Mountains in view of the grandest scenery on the American continent?

This you can do by traveling on, the Rio Grande system, the far-famed "Scenic Line of the World," the only transcontinental line passing through Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Leadville, Colorado Springs and Denver enroute to eastern points.

Three daily express trains make close connections with all trains east and west, and afford a choice of five distinct routes of travel. The equipment of these trains is the best, including free reclining chair cars, standard and tourist sleepers, a perfect dining car service, and also personally conducted excursion cars, each in charge of a competent guide, whose business is to look after the comfort of his guests. No more pleasant and inexpensive means of crossing the continent can be found than is provided by these excursions.

Kitchener's Social Success.

Contrary to what many Englishmen thought before he went to India, Lord Kitchener has been making himself a great reputation in Simla as a host. As soon as he arrived at his post in India, Lord Kitchener began improving the grounds and transforming the interior of "Snowden," the official residence of the commander-in-chief. As soon as he was able to receive, masculine Simla began writing their names in the general's visiting book. This is an immense brass-bound volume, which custom decrees shall be exposed, between twelve and two each day, on a table on the veranda of the commander-in-chief's residence, to receive the signatures of all who consider themselves entitled to have social relations with his military excellency. In due course, this customary courtesy completed, each caller or his wife, where such existed, received, by red-coated messenger, a large official invitation card, with "K" printed in gilt on the top, stating that the commander-in-chief requested the honor of their company at a ball. Those who were either personally known to Lord Kitchener, or whose official position justified the distinction, had meanwhile been entertained at dinner, and Simla had begun to talk of gold presentation plate, of changes for the better introduced into the arrangements of the house, of a pretty taste in flowers displayed by its occupant, and of a really excellent cuisine. The ball, which was attended by Lord and Lady Curzon and some seven hundred guests, confirmed Lord Kitchener's reputation for hospitality. It was noticed that special arrangements had been made to bring every possible room in the building into requisition, and to extend the accommodation by tents and shamianas, so that nobody should be left out of the occasion. The guests were not only entertained on a most generous scale, but they were struck by the carefully planned arrangements for their comfort, and by the infinity of personal pains taken to ensure their enjoying themselves. Lord Kitchener received everyone himself, and his pleasant handshake of good-fellowship dispelled a host of lingering doubts as to the manner of the man.

About Woman Writers.

Mrs. Humphry Ward is known to the world chiefly as a novelist, yet one of the most active aspects of her life is her philanthropic work among the settlements of London. Especially is she interested in the raw material of young life that populate the congested slums of the East End, and the institution which lies nearest her heart and of which she is most proud is the Vacation School founded by her in Bloomsbury in conjunction with the Passmore Edwards Settlement in Tavistock Place. While the readers of England and America have been following with unabated interest the fortunes of Julie Le Breton in "Lady Rose's Daughter" during the summer months, the author has been quietly and unostentatiously pursuing her schemes for the amelioration and gladdening of the joyless lives of the children in the neighborhood of Bloomsbury.

Mary MacLane is at it again. Her publishers promise that before the end of the month we shall have a new book from her radium-tipped pen, called "My Friend, Annabel Lee." They write that the young lady has been living quietly in Boston, working on this book. It is hard to imagine Mary doing anything quietly.

Miss Corelli is always funny when she is hysterical, and she is nearly always hysterical. Her loud protestations against the desecration of Stratford by a Carnegie free library were the first act of a howling farce which has now reached its climax. Sidney Lee, a scholar whose greatest fault is that he is quite incapable of hysteria or any other manifestation of feeling, says that the cause of Miss Corelli's objection is that she once tried to get the site in dispute for a free library of her own, but found the price too high. Miss Corelli, in a voice shriller than ever, retorts that Mr. Lee is a mean thing, and calls on her solicitors to hale him to the courts. Then she writes another pamphlet, call it "The Plain Truth About the Stratford-on-Avon Controversy," and sends it out as her final vindication.

Dowie's Descent on New York.

Eight special trains, over as many railroads, have been engaged to carry John Alexander Dowie and his "Restoration Host" to New York City next month. A "great mission" is to be held in Madison Square Garden from October 18 to November 1. Dowie will be accompanied, according to advance notices, by the "Zion White-Robed Choir of Hundreds of Voices, Zion City Brass Band, Hundreds of Officers of the Church, and at least Four Thousand Members of Zion Restoration Host."

A man who knows himself to be in the wrong generally tries to end the conversation; whereas, a woman—is never in the wr

$2.25 PER YEAR

A radical change from old methods and prices has been made by the Toronto Daily News. The eyes of the newspvper world have been upon The News for the past few months, during which time several departures have been made which have given that paper a widespread reputation for enterprise and originality. This latest move is to place The News at the price of $1.00 a year by mail. Only a deep-founded belief in the future success of The News could lead the publishers to make such a reduction in price. But just as the dollar magazine has taken hold of the people, so, we venture to predict, The News will secure a vast and ever-increasing circulation, based not only on the popular price at which it is sold, but mainly upon the intrinsic merits of he paper.

We have arrangements concluded which enables us to club the Toronto News with our own paper at $2.25 a year in advance. Such a combination presents many unique features —our semi-weekly giving you all the home and district news, and the big 12-page daily keeping you in touch with events all over the world. Send us your subscription to The News, or if you would like to see the paper first, write us and we will secure a sample copy.

One of Bangs' Political Experiences.

At a recent fraternity dinner John Kendrick Bangs told this story as one of his political experiences, says the New York "Times":

"At the time I was running for mayor of Yonkers I saw a laborer digging in a trench, and I thought I would try to capture his vote. I went up to him and said:

"'Hello, Pat!'

"He looked at me without recognizing me, and said: 'Good mornin', sor.'

"I said it was a fine day and asked him if he had made up his mind how he would vote at the election.

"'Oi don't know, sor; but wan thing is sure, Oi'll not vote for that dahm fule Bangs.'

"'Why not?'

"'Well,' said he, 'he's a swell and a aristocrat and a dood.'

"I explained to him as best I could that Mr. Bangs was none of these things, and, even if he was, it was because he couldn't help it. I invited him to come and have a drink with me; he accepted, and, after having taken two or three drinks, we became very friendly. While he was in a seemingly affable mood I confessed that I was Bangs.

"I had a cigar in my pocket, and as it was the last of a box that Robert Louis Stevenson had sent me from Samoa, I prized it highly. But much as I prized it, I thought it well spent if I could clinch Pat's vote with it.

"I asked Pat if he would smoke, and he said he would. He took the cigar, bit off the end, put it in his mouth, and lit it. Then suddenly he grasped the cigar and threw it violently to the ground.

"In astonishment I asked him: "Isn't it a good cigar?'

"'Yes, sor," he said, 'the seegar is good enough, but in me excitement in meetin' you Oi forgot Oi nivir smoke.'"

On the Road.

Sweet, we must never meet and part again,
'Twere too much pain;
We needs must go our journey through this life
Without much grief or strife for fear we walk too slow
And we have far to go.

Sweet, you and I must never meet and kiss,
'Twere too much bliss;
We have to go our journey soberly
Without much ecstasy for fear we walk too fast
And miss the way at last.

Sweet, you and I must follow separate ways
And pass our days
And not too much remember nor forget
Too utterly, for yet, remains the unknown inn
Wherein
(All our wayfaring being past and done)
At set of sun
After the shine and rain
We take our ease, and maybe meet again
—Ford M. Hueffer, in "Outlook."

A Gentle Reminder.

The following style of typewritten letter is suggested for use when you don't care to say it right out:

"Dear $ir—You will plea$e excu$e thi$ but I am $orry to $ay that the letter i$ mi$$ing from thi$ typewriter, wherea$ I cannot do better. I wi$h to $ay, however, that if you $hould happen up $treet $ome day $oon, I would con$ider it a $ource of great plea$ue if you would $top in and $ee u$ about a certain $mall matter that $hould be $ettled. Your $incere $ervant," etc.—Columbia "Dispatch."

Reversing Things.

We understand that there is a growing fashion among men to wear wedding rings. This is a healthy sign that the fair sex is to be fought with its own weapons. The girls have taken to wearing our collars and neckties and shirt-fronts, so that a moderate course of reprisal seems justifiable. By and by when the change over is a little more developed, we shall see the good wife starting for the city, while her husband in a housekeeper's apron, will stand at the garden gate waving an affectionate good-bye with a soft-haired broom.

Seaside Talk.

She—I feel so sad—we're going back home to-morrow.

He—By Jove! So are we.

She—Oh, I am glad. What train are you going by?
