Third Year.—No. 87 48 | Grand Forks, B. C., Friday, September 2, 1904 | ISSUED TWICE A WEEK

THE STOCK LIVELY

M. & B. Con. Shares Sell Around $1.75 on Eastern Curbs.

Circular Gives Some Interesting Figures on Claims Madd for the Mines.

Andrew Laidlaw, who promoted the sale of the Morrison mine in Deadwood camp to the Montreal & Boston company, a couple of days ago stated in Sponkane that the stock in the Montreal & Boston company to be issued in exchange for the Morrison should arrive in that city at any moment.

The stock is reported as being an active trader on the curb in Philadelphia and New York at about $1.75 for the $5 share. The smelter at Boundary Falls is expected to start within a few weeks.

Erom a circular recently issued by authority of the Montreal & Boston Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., Ltd., in New York, some interesting details of what is in prospect for this new Boundary corporation are taken.

Regarding the Brooklyn, it is given out that this mine has 350,000 tons of ore practically ready for shipment, which can be placed on the cars at a cost of $1.25 per ton. Average values from smelter returns are given as 2 per cent copper, 1 ounce gold and 3 ounces sitver, average value $5.62 per ton. Cost of mining and smelting, $3 05 per ton, with a net profit of $2.57 per ton. Total area, 170 acres, and equipment equal to handling at least 500 tons per day.

Morrison group is in shape to ship 150 tons per day, with 200,000 tons in sight. Ore can be placed on cars when spur is built for $1.25 per ton, and on account of containing 20 per cent sulphur is specially desirable for smelting. Average smelting returns show 2 ounces gold, from .5 to 1 ounce silver and .6 per cent copper. Average value, $4.05 per ton. Cost of mining and smelting, $2.90 per ton; profit, $1.15 per ton.

In the Athelstan-Jackpot there are 100,000 tons in sight, which can be mined at 60 cents per ton, being on the open quarry system. Ores run .2 to 8. ounces in gold and .5 to .7 ounces silver, and can be mined and smelted at $3.40 per ton. Ores average $7.90 per ton, leaving a profit of $4.50 per ton. This profit will be increesed by $1 per ton as soon as the spur to the mine is completed.

The Mountain Rose in Summit camp is much of the same character as the Sunset in Deadwood camp, all owned by the company, and valuable chiefly as fluxes, having large excesses of iron, with some gold, silver and copper values. Both have an immense tonnage of this ore that can be cheaply quarried.

As is well known, the company's smelter ie located at Boundary Falls, about four miles below Greenwood, and now has a daily capacity of 650 tons with two furnaces. The third furnace on the ground will make a capacity of 1000 tons daily, when the smelting costs would be $1.50 per ton. During 1903 this smelter treated 112,226 tons of ore, producing 2,551,142 pounds of refined copper, 7705 ounces of gold, and 58,728 ounces of silver. This was the result, however, of operating one furnace 258 days and two furnaces 110 days.

It is estimated that, in order to obtain the best results from a metallurgical standpoint, with four furnaces in operation, the daily charge would consist approximately of the following:

Dominion copper ore.....	700 tons
Morrison	150 tons
Athelstan.....	120 tons
Sunset and Mountain Rose	230 tons
Total.....,.....1200 tons

Such a charge when everything is in full running order would, it is claimed, make a profit of $2,511.50 per day, or $916,697.50 per year, being 14 per cent on the value of the issued shares.

The circular says that allowances for slag losses, freight and refining charges, etc., have been deducted. No estimate has been made except on ore actually developed and blocked out. The freight charges are estimated at from 15 to 30 cents per ton, and there is ore enough now ready to last the smelter two years at 1000 tons per day, the smelter value of which is over $4,000,000. In sixty days the third furnace on the ground can be installed, and in ninety days a fourth furnace can be added.

It is learned direct from at least two reliable authorities that the stock of the Montreal & Boston in the eastern market is active, the average trading for the last two weeks being over 10,000 shares daily, one day 70,000 shares having changed hands. The increase has been from $1.12½ to $2.25 per share.

At the Brooklyn mine, on which the chief effort is being concentrated at first, as it is to be the largest shipper of the several groups, the work of getting ready for extensive shipments is steadily progressing. The main incline shaft is being enlarged to accommodate the skip and at the same time retimbered. This work has now progressed upwards from the 250-foot level to the 150-foot level, and here a pocket 30x30x15 feet is being cut. The work is necessarily slow, but is being done in a permanent manner, and may require two or three weeks yet to finish to the surface, when shipments will at once commence.

The water is being kept out ef the Stemwinder mine, it requiring but a few hours' pumping each week or ten days. It will also be worked shortly.

Last week Superintendent Collins spent several days in Greenwood and at the Morrison mine, which is also being made ready for operations shortly, being followed by the Athelstan-Jackpot group in due time.

Bert Rea, of the Betts & Hesperus mine, came down from the North Fork country last evening with his pockets full of prairie chickens.

Long the barber killed twenty-one prairie chickens on the first day of the shooting season.

The family of James H. Kennedo, chief engineer of the V., V. & E., arrived from St. Thomas, Ont., Saturday evening, and have taken up their residence in Rev. Ralph Trotter's residonce, in the West end.

TALES OF THE TOWN

Kettle Valley Line Fngineers Have Reached the Volcanic Mine.

McLellan's Horses Imagine They Are Guideless Wonders.

The corps of engineers locating the permanent line of the North Fork extension of the Kettle Valley road has reached the Volcanic and Golden Eagle mines. The preliminary survey has been completed to Lynch creek, eighteen miles north of this city. W. H. Warrington, general superintendent of the road, says the survey will be extended to Franklin camp, and that construction work will be commenced early next spring.

N. McLellan & Co.'s delivery team became trightened Saturday evening at the donkey engine on the carnival grounds, and left the store without first obtaining a leave of absence. When they reached McCallum's slough they concluded to stop, as they had already done $25 worth of damage to the rig, and one of the horses had an injured leg. Mac now drives a pair of stallions, and he has put on an extra man to hold the reigns while the wagon is being loaded.

A meeting of the Southeast Kootenay Coal and Coke Co., Ltd., will be held in the office of Hay, McCallum & Wright, Columbia street, on Saturday, Sept. 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing directors and transacting other business.

The Bohemian Concert company will appear at the Biden opera house next Tuesday evening, Sept. 6, in a high-class entertainment The artistes include Miss Gertrude Marrack, the eminent Australian contralto; Mr. Herbert Taylor, the famous basso, late of the Carl Rosa Opera company, England, and Little Glen, the 12-year-old child comedienne. All of the above are people of world-wide fame, and a meritorious performance is aesured. Reserved at tickets at Woodland's drug store.

The showing at the 90-foot level at the Barbara mine, Greenwood camp, in the bottom of the shaft is splendid. The vein is from 15 to 18 inches wide, and recently values have increased from $55 to $75 per ton.

John Temple, of the Granby hotel, left yesterday for Halcyon Hot Springs.

The Grand Forks baseball team will play the Republic club next Sunday and Monday (Labor Day) at Republic.

The senior boys of Knox church Sunday school are organizing a "Boys' Brigade." Rev. J. R. Robertson will preach a special sermon to the boys on Sunday night, when the organization will be fully explained. All boys from 12 to 17 years are specially invited to be present. The boys will probably begin drill work next week.

W. H. Itter & Co. are making some valuable additions to their circulating library.

Mrs. R. S. Leard and Miss Scanlan, who have been visiting Mrs. M. J. Taylor in this city for a week, returned to their home in Nelson yesterday.

W. A. Harkin and Bert Rea made a reconnaissance of the North Fork country the first of the week preparatory to the opening of the shooting season.

The carnival grounds have now been nearly dismantled. All that remains of the scene of last week's celebration is the queen's throne. Even the queen's lackey is an out-of-town visitor.

The Jumbo mine, at Rossland, is shipping 50 tons of ore per day to the Granby smelter in this city. It is exyected that within thirty days the shipments will be increased to 100 tons per day. Twenty men are employed at the mine.

POSITION WANTED—Man of thirty, with energy and executive ability. Have had seven years experience at head of general insurance agency in east. Desire position in any line of business with promising future. Have good general knowledge of all lines of business. Personal interview if desired. Address G. M. SEWALL, Red Deer, Alta.

Geo. Fraser, M.P.P., is visiting Chas. Thomas in Cascade for a few days. Mr. Thomas will leave in a few days for an extended visit to Maine. He will take in the St. Louis World's Fair on his return trip.

A very pleasant social dance was given at the Yale last evening in honor of Miss Quan, of Ottawa, who is visiting at the home of her uncle, Judge Leamy, in this city. About thirty-five couples were present, and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

In connection with the grievance of some of the shareholders of the Providence mine of Greenwood, application has been made before a high court judge in chambers to have three of the directors removed from office. The causes assigned were falsifying of accounts and other fraudulent acts The application was refused by the court without examining into the merits of the complaint. The ground taken by the judge was that the time elapsed since the alleged wrongdoing argued some measure of consent on the part of the shareholders; further. that this was a quarrel among members of a corporation and was a matter to be settled by agreement or by the majority of the shareholders. It is not decided yet whether or not other remedies will be sought.

T. H. Rea, general manager of the Betts & Hesperus, states that ore shipments to the Granby smelter will be started with the completion of the Phoenix beanch of the V., V. & E.

KILLED AT PHŒNIX

Bernard Schartenburg Fell Down an Inclins at Knob Hill Mine.

Received Fearful Injuries and Died Soon After the Accident.

Bernard Schartenburg, a young man of about 22 years, died Wednesday afternoon at the Phoenix general hospital from the effects of a fall in the glory hole of the Knob Hill mine. The funeral was held today under the auspices of Phoenix Miners' Union, No. 8, of which the deceased was a member, the burial taking place in the Phoenix cemetery. Schartenburg was a nipper at the mine, and was carrying steel to machine men in the upper part of the glory hole or open quarry, when he fell down the rocky incline some thirty feet, some of the ore falling with him. When examined at the hospital it was found that his back was broken, besides sustaining some internal injuries, and that he could not survive. He died five hours after being taken to the hospital. Deceased was a native of Germany, coming from Westphatia. He has been employed in the Granby mine a little over a year, having been employed previously at the Morrissey coal mines. He leaves a widow, having been married but a few months.

The war correspondents are the modern Munchausens. Lloyds' Berlin issue for the week ending Saturday, August 25th, publishes statistics of the news furnished by telegrams from the seat of war in the far east since the opening of hostilities, showing that if every telegram had told the truth Russia would have already lost 28 battleships like the Retvizan, 38 of the Petropavlovsk type, 145 cruisers, 411 torpedo-boat destroyers, 1487 topedo boats, with 86,500 wounded soldiers, 186,000 prisoners of war, and 93,000 killed. Japan, according to news received, would have lost 49 armored cruisers, 84 other cruisers, 98 destroyers and 594 torpedo boats, while her losses in soldiers would have been 98,000 killed, 119,000 prisoners of war, and 131,000 wounded. The same statistics give Port Arthur as assaulted twelve times, in one instance being taken after a desperate fight, and six more time surrendering.

His Honor Judge Martin, of Victoria, will preside over a sitting of the supreme court and assize at the court house in this city on October 17th.

NEWS OF THE MINES

Work is shortly to be resumed on the Blue Jay claim, in Skylark camp, where there is a 200-foot tunnel besides a shaft of about the same depth. Recent assays from the face of the tunnel gave $37.

The Mother Lode is pushing work at its Deadwood camp mines, and preparing for the new ore crusher which recently arrived at the property.

* * *

This week a boiler has been installed on the Silver Cloud, one of the high-grade claims in Skylark camp, which has only been working for a couple of months, but with the best results. The shaft on this property has been sunk 40 feet and splendid ore encountered, which runs $470 to the ton. A test shipment will shortly be made.

And the Band Played On.

The following effusion has been received at THE SUN office from Greenwood's poet laureate:

There was a picnic once not far away,
And the crowd went over to spend the day;
The C.P.R. gave a special rate,
And all were advised not to forget the date—
And the band played on!

The balloon went up 'way into the air;
The folks all said 'twas a jolly good fair;
The mercury, 'twas averred by the ladies and babies,
Was a knocker on the place called hades—
And the band played on!

Two drillers there were, both pretty good men—
Had won everything wherever they'd been;
With smiles on their faces and hope in their hearts,
They tackled the game, and each did his part—
And the band played on!

Now, wherever you go, and whatever you do,
If you do others, there are some will do you;
And however it happens that you didn't do well,
When you come home don't go around and tell—
You didn't ask the man for the money.

Under the Ice.

Captain Joseph La Barge, one of the early pilots of the Missouri River, was noted for his courage and daring. In the winter of 1834 he experienced the following adventure, which is recorded in the "History of Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River," by Mr. H. M. Chittenden. He had occasion to cross the river, which was frozen deep. There was a path across, which ran between two large air-holes through the ice. The weather was extremely cold, and a blizzard had already begun

Captain La Barge wrapped himself in a blanket coat, held tight to his body by a belt, and was armed with a rifle, tomahawk and knife. He felt confident of crossing all right, for the distance was short, and he knew the way so well that he felt as if he could follow it blindfolded. In fact, that was practically his situation, for the wind drove the snow into his face so violently that it was impossible to look ahead. Getting his bearings as well as he could, he started on a slow run in face of the blinding storm.

It was in any case a reckless performance, considering the existence of the air-holes near the path; but La Barge was not given to fearing future dangers and forged boldly ahead. For once his confidence deceived him. All of a sudden he plunged headlong into the river.

He instantly realized that he was in one of the air-holes, but which one? If it was the lower one he was certainly lost, for the swift current had borne him under the ice before he came to the surface. If it was the upper hole, he might float to the lower.

He soon rose to the surface and bumped the overlying ice. Sinking and rising again, he bumped the ice a second time. The limit of endurance was almost reached, when suddenly his head emerged into the open air. Spreading out his hands, he caught the edge of the ice. He held on until he could draw his knife, which he plunged into the ice far enough to give him something to push against, and after much severe and perilous exertion drew himself out. He had stuck to his rifle all the time without realizing the fact, and came out as fully armed as when he went in.

But now a new peril awaited him. The storm was at its height, the cold intense, and his clothing was drenched through. The belt which he had received had not chilled him much, for the water was warmer than the air outside, and his exertions would have kept him warm anyway, but out in the wind the chances were that he would freeze if he did not quickly reach a fire. Hastily recovering his bearings, he set out anew, and had the good fortune to reach the post without further trouble.

The equipment of these trains is the best, including free reclining chair cars, standard and tourist sleepers, a perfect dining car service, and also personally conducted excursion cars, each in charge of a competent guide, whose business is to look after the comfort of his guests. No more pleasant and inexpensive means of crossing the continent can be found than is provided by these excursions.

SHORT STORIES

It is related that once, when "Punch" printed a cartoon representing an imaginary conversation between James McNeil Whistler and Oscar Wilde, Wilde wired Whistler: "Ridiculous; when you and I are together we never talk about anything except ourselves." "You forget," replied Whistler in a return telegram, "when you and I are together we never talk about anything except me."

The following story is credited to a New Orleans lawyer, who was asked to address the boys of a business school. He commenced:—"My young friends, as I approached the entrance to this room I noticed on the panel of the door a word eminently appropriate to an institution of this kind. It expresses the one thing most useful to the average man when he steps into the arena of life. It was——" "Pull," shouted the boys, in a roar of laughter, and the lawyer felt that he had taken his text from the wrong side of the door.

Recently a boating party, on the Boston Harbor, was passing Rainsford Island, upon which there is a farm school for wayward boys. It being a holiday, these young farmers had the freedom of the island and were apparently having a very jolly time on the shore. A lad of seven, who had been intently watching their sport from the deck of the boat, turned to his mother and said eagerly: "How bad do you have to be to get there, mamma?"

There was good talk at a tea party given once at the observatory of Cambridge, England. Sydney Smith was there, and although he took the wonderful work of the place seriously, he had a light manner of expressing himself. The party had been led up to look at Jupiter, and this was his comment: "Jupiter? If you hadn't told me, I should have taken it for a bad shilling." "Where is Sir John Herschel?" asked one of the guests. "He is at the Cape of Good Hope," said the astronomer. Airy. "He was ordered there to observe the stars of the southern hemisphere." "Ah!" said Sydney Smith. "I suppose you astronomers, when you are ill, are advised to change your stars just as we ordinary mortals are told to change our air."

Miss Ellene Jaqua, a well-known vocalist of Brooklyn, N.Y., is the first person to possess a glass gown which can actually be worn and not once only. It is of spun glass, made in Dresden, Germany, and was modelled and cut in Paris. At the Chicago Exposition in '93 there was a glass dress exhibited, which became the property of the Infanta Eulalie, but it was only for show and could not be worn. A full description of Miss Jaqua's glass gown is given in the "Strand Magazine" for February.

The Chicago "Tribune's" record of legal executions and lynchings in the United States in 1901 shows that 118 persons were executed and 135 were lynched. Of those executed 71 were negroes, and of those lynched, 107. The executions were one fewer than in 1900, and the lynchings were 20 more. It is noticeable that of the lynchings only 39 were for murder and 19 for criminal assault, leaving a remainder of 77 persons lynched for minor crimes. It is noticeable also that the number of lynchings in the Northern States increased from 8 in 1900 to 14 in 1901.

Individualities.

Shortly before Napoleon III. appropriated the vacant throne of France he one day asked a great lady to explain the difference between "an accident" and "a misfortune." "If," she said, "you were to fall into the Seine, that would be an accident; if they pulled you out again, that would be a misfortune."

A little girl was writing a composition on the rabbit, and, never having seen a creature of any sort, enquired of her teacher whether the rabbit had a tail. "Yes, a small one. None to speak of," answered the teacher. This is the way the little girl introduced the matter in her composition: "The rabbit has a small tail—but you mustn't talk about it."

A newly-arrived Westerner was confronted in a street of New York late at night by a ruffian with leveled revolver, who made the stereotyped demand: "Give me your money or I'll blow your brains out." "Blow away," said the Westerner; "you can live in New York without brains, but you can't without money."

BRONCHITIC ASTHMA A HEAVY BURDEN

Asthma is bad enough, but when bronchial symptoms are added the poor sufferer has almost an intolerable existence. An absolute specific is found in fragrant, healing Catarrhzone, which cures chronic cases that other remedies won't even relieve. "For years," writes Capt. MacDonald of Montreal, "I battled with the agonies of bronchial asthma. Often I couldn't sleep for weeks at a time. I spent thousands on doctors and medicines without relief, but one dollar's worth of Catarrhozone cured me. Catarrhozone can't fail; it's guaranteed. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c. H. E. Woodland, druggist.

WHY PRAIN WORKERS BLEAK

Man is not a machine that keeps going as long as the steam is supplied. He is a creature of blood, nerves and delicately balanced organism. Many don't realize this, but overwork their brains and break down. Brain workers need a strong, bracing tonic like Ferrozone to fortify their nerves and keep the blood pure and rich. Take Ferrozone and you'll do more work. You will have the strength, the ambition and the desire to work because your system will be in first-class order. For your health and strength, take Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c. H. E. Woodland, druggist.

THE TORONTO

DAILY NEWS

AND THE

GRAND FORKS SUN

..FOR ONLY..

$2.25 a Year

A radical change from old methods and prices has been made by the Toronto Daily News. The eyes of the newspvper world have been upon The News for the past few months, during which time several departures have been made which have given that paper a widespread reputation for enterprise and originality. This latest move is to place The News at the price of $1.00 a year by mail. Only a deep-founded belief in the future success of The News could lead the publishers to make such a reduction in price. But just as the dollar magazine has taken hold of the people, so, we venture to predict, The News will secure a vast and ever-increasing circulation, based not only on the popular price at which it is sold, but mainly upon the intrinsic merits of he paper.

We have arrangements concluded which enables us to club the Toronto News with our own paper at $2.25 a year in advance. Such a combination presents many unique features—our semi-weekly giving you all the home and district news, and the big 12-page daily keeping you in touch with events all over the world. Send us your subscription to The News, or if you would like to see the paper first, write us and we will secure a sample copy.
