SMELTER CLOSES

Jay P. Graves Says Duration of Shut-Down Depends on the Market

About 2000 Men Thrown Out of Employment --- Other Sections Affected

The announcement made last Monday morning that the Granby smelter in this city and the company's mines in Phoenix were to close down created a wave of consternaqion among all classes of our citizens, and the matter has since been the sole topic of discussion on the streets and in public places. The report was at first received with incredulity, as it was generally supposed that the Granby was earning handsome profits at the present price of copper. What was at first doubted, however, has since turned out to be a reality. While it is true that some of the furnaces are still in blast running through the stock of ore in the bunkers and effecting a general cleaning up, the probabilities are that by the end of the present week the whole plant will be cold, and the entire force of employees, including carpenters and mechanics, laid off.

In Phoenix the miners were laid off early in the week, and both the Great Northern and C. P. R. ore trains have been discontinued. It is esti mated that the close-down of the Granby mines and smelter will throw about 2000 men out of employment. The B. C. and Dominion Copper companies have also suspended operations, and similar reports have been received from the big mines in Rossland camp; in fact, the suspension of mining operations appears to be general all over the continent.

In an interview in the Spokesman-Review in reference to the closing of the mines and smelters of this district, Jay P. Graves, general manager and a heavy stockholder of the Granby Consolidated, said that, while he thought the shut-down would be temporary, it was deemed necessary in the present state of the market. His statement sums up the situation more comprehensively than could be done by indulging in columns of conjecture:

"All the large mining and smelting industries of the conntry have curtailed their output," said Mr. Graves. "The Anaconda mines have reduced their production one-fourth. We were asked to come in with them and reduee our production, and it appears to us to be advisable under the circumstances. As our ores are low grade we could not reduce our tonnage and operate at a profit, so we decided to close down until the situation improves. At the prevailing market price of copper we cannot continue operations at the present cost of production. I cannot undertake to say when the operation of the mines and smelters will be resumed. That depends altogether on the future state of the market. Diminishing the production of the mines temporarily will help to equalize matters, but as to when a change warranting the resumption of work will be brought about it is impossible to say."

THE PLAY

The audience at the opera house last Wedneseay evening, when Mr. C. P. Walker's company presented "We Are King," was not as large as the merit of the play deserved. This was undoubtedly due to the sudden disturbance of the industrial equilibrium, as the fact that Mr. Walker, of the new Walker theatre, Winnipeg, being back of an enterprise is general sufficient to draw a crowded house in this city. Mr. Walker is known to have high ideals relative to plays and actors, and the people of Grand Forks are always confident of seeing something good when a company is sent out by him. This was the case on Wednesday evening, and rarely has there been a more delighted audience in the Grand Forks opera house than that which witnessed the production of "We Are King." A pleasing effect was created upon the lifting of the curtain for the first act by the elaborate stage settings and the apparent attention to detail. The costumes worn in the third act were the handsomest ever seen on the stage in this city. Mr. David B. Gally, although an unknown quantity as a "headline" to the theatre-goers of the city, quickly gained a favorable impression. In the dual role of the king and the scribe, his changes were remarbably quick. He has a good conception of the dramatic art, and his comedy was bright and refined, while he did not overdo love-making. Miss Clifton, as the princess, was a charming charming character, bright, winsome and natural. The minor parts were well taken, the company throughout being composed of capable actors and actresses.

The Nelson Bruce company, with Miss Helene Scott and Mr. Joseph DeStefani in the principal roles, gave an excellent interpretation of "The Egyptian of Pompeii," a dramatization of Bulwer-Lytton's famous novel, "The Last Days of Pompeii," at the Grand Forks opera house last Friday night to a crowded house. Miss Scott is a great favorite here, and was given a hearty welcome by her many admirers. Mr. DeStefani made a good impression on his initial appearance before a Grand Forks audience—in fact, the opinion appears to be general that he is as great, if not greater an artist as either Nelson or Bruce. The staging of the drama was good, considering the size of the local stage, and the costumes were pretty and historically correct.

NEWS OF THE CITY

P. D. McDonald Will Erect New Hotel Near Great Northern Station

Arrest Made at Weston of a Man Accused of Horse Stealing

P. D. McDonald, of the Queens hotel, this week commenced to move the building in which the bar-room is located from its present location on Government avenue to the corner lot opposite the Great Northern station, on the same street. When the bar has been moved to its new location, he intends to erect a modern hotel building by its side. The new building will be a four-story structure, 40x65 feet, and is to be ready for occupancy by Christmas. It wiil contain 40 rooms. The first story is to be of concrete, and the balance of frame. When completed, Mr. McDonald says he will have one of the best and handsomest hotels in the city.

Sheriff Taylor, of Pendletion, Ore., arrived in the city last Sunday, and sought the aid of Chief Savage to arrest a man named McBain, on a charge of horse-stealing. McBain has been working at the Great Northern rouudhouse at Weston during the past three weeks under the assumed name of Wilson. The prisoner voluntarily returned to Oregon with the sheriff without the necessity of extradition proceedings.

James T. Allen, aged 24 years, died at the Grand Forks hospital at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning of typhoid fever, after a protracted illness. Deceased had been employed at the Granby smelter for two years, and he was universally esteemed by his acquaintances. His home was in Peterboro, Ont. One of his brothers resides in this city, and two in Marysville. The funeral was held yesterday, and it was largely attended.

A petition, which has been signed by the majority of our citizens, has been circulated among the ratepayers during the present week, asking the C. P. R. to run its passenger trains through the city over the Kettle Valley line, and to use the Third street station for its passenger traffic.

A number of boys, who should be handled in a strenuous manner in the police court, evidently filched a Kettle Valley line hand car last Sunday, and made the day hideous with their cries by riding up and down Third street.

The new coat of paint on the Eastern Townships bank building is sufficiently heavy to answer all the purposes of warmer winter clothing.

On account of the complete tie-up of mines and smelters the ladies of the Actor Society of the Roman Catholic church express to the public their regret, as resolved at one of their meetings, of being obliged to put off the holding of the bazaar until times get better again, which we hope they will soon. Now, first, we will hold our bazaar certainly as soon as better times allow us. Secondly, we keep an exact record of everything. Thirdly, every one who took chances can get his money back by sending his number to Mrs. McDougall, Grand Forks, B. C.

R. A. Henderson, C.E. & M.E., has just completed surveying a stretch of land claims aggregating 5300 acres, and running a distance of forty-five miles up the North Fork valley. He has secured another large contract, on which he will commence work in a few days.

RANDOM REMARKS

No permanent success was ever achieved by catering to the prejudices of a clique.

POWER TRANSFER

Meeting of Directors Endorses Sale of Cascade Plant to W. K. P. & L. Co.

End of a Bitterly Contested Fight Between the Rival Companies

The consummation of a deal of more than passing importance, says the Nelson Canadian of the 8th inst., was effected last evening when the shareholders of the Cascade Water Power & Light Company, Ltd., met and authorized the issuance of a series of seven hundred and fifty $500 gold bonds, bearing 4½ per cent interest, aggregating $375,000 guaranteed by he West Kootenay Power & Light Company, Ltd., for delivery to the Cascade (1906) Power Company, Ltd., in payment for the assets and undertaking of the Cascade company.

This gives the West Kootenay company complete control of the power business in Yale and Kootenay districts, and is the outcome of the bitterly contested fight between these two rival companies a year ago before the provincial legislature.

The necessary documents affecting the transaction were authorized at the meeting held yesterday, which occupied several hours.

Mr. S. S. Fowler, M.E., president, John Fraser, secretary, and LeBaron deVeber, as directors, will retire shortly and be replaced by the nominees of the West Kootenay company.

The English companies and trustees concerned were represented throughout by R. S. Lennie, of the firm of Lennie & Wragge, and the West Kootenay company by A. H. MacNeill, K.C., of Rossland.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1907

Frankness compels the confession that the outlook for the mining industry in the Boundary at present is by no means roseate; but as far as the business stability of the city is concerned there is no cause for alarm. Grand Forks is more fortunately situated in this respect than many of the other interior towns. Here we do not depend entirely on the mines and smelters for our support, although we draw the greater share of our sustenance from these sources. But of recent years our transportation, manfacturing, agricultural and lumbering industries have grown to quite respectable dimensions, and these is no reason why these should not keep business conditions at an equilibrium until mining operations are resumed. There are some of our citizens who are optimistic enough to express the opinion that the temporary suspension of mining operations is a blessing in disguise. They argue that the loss of the revenue from this source will awaken the people to a realization of the fact that the future and permanent prosperity of the city lies in the development of the fruit growing and agricultural possibilities of the valley, and that redoubled efforts will be made to get all the tillable land under cultivation. There may be more in this trend of argument than the majority of us are willing to admit at present.

A change has again occurred in the editorial and managerial departments of our local contemporary. This time Mr. E. Boyd, of Norwood, Man., assumes the dual duties, vice Martin Burrell and Donald McCallum. The Sun regrets to lose Mr. Burrell from the local journalistic field. While his ability and versatility as a writer, coupled with his scholarly attainments and great personal popularity, has made the Gazette a strong competitor during the time it has been under his editorship, yet the rivalry has always been carried on in an open, honorable and perfectly straight orward manner.

To those men of families who have suddenly been thrown out of work by the suspension of mining operations, we offer our profound sympathies, and express the hope that their term of enforced idleness will be of short duratiod. We wish we could extend the same sentiments, withont resorting to hypocrasy, to the men who, during their days of opulence and prosperity, became so arrogant as to threaten to run certain citizens—heavy ratepayers—out of town for having opinions of their own, and the courage to express them.

The utter defeat of Bourassa in the by-elections in Quebec last week is a matter of gratification. This gentleman has for some time taken a stand diametrically opposed to the leader of the party of which he claims to be a member. Not content with expressing opinions opposed to those entertained by members of the Liberal party, he has ranged himself in direct opposition to the government of the day, and done his utmost to embarrass Sir Wilfrid Laurier. His most heinous offence as a pretended follower of the premier, was to give aid and comfort to the opposition in an attempt to discredit the administration. In this he followed the dishonorable tactics of the opponents of the government, by dealing in innuendo and circulating scandalous rumors. After flippantly assailing the record of men, the latchet of whose shoes he was unworthy to unloose, he had neither the courage nor the knowledge of fact to make a specific charge. Bourassa will forget much; he is anxious to forget many occurrences in his own career, but there will always remain in his memory the events connected with Sir Wilfrid's reply to his unsubstantiated charges when the premier, pointing at him the finger of scorn, accused him of groping in the gutter for filthy rumors and bringing them into the house. Up to that point Bourassa had been an object of contempt; after Sir Wilfrid had administered this castigation he became more an object of pity. In his unbounded self conceit Bourassa considered himself in the light of a modern Moses, who was to lead the people of Quebec to the promised land. Since the result of the election in Bellechesse, he has assumed the character of Napoleon returning to Moscow. Hereafter he may be eliminated from any consideration of political conditions in this country.

There is no reason apparent why the people should take too pessimistic a view of the temporary shut-down of mining operations in the Boundary district, especially as that course will not facilitate the removal of the lowering clouds one whit the sooner. The close-down is understood to on account of the stringency of the New York money market, and it is unreasonable to suppose that this will continue for a protracted period. Therefore it may be safely predicted that operations in the mines and smelters will be resumed at an date. It is a pity, nevertheless, that industries in this country should be at the mercy of the New York stock gamblers. As far as The Sun man is personally concerned, he can afford to view the future with equanimity. He has enough turnips on his ranch to live on until spring, and an unlimited amount of credit for office rent. The Sun has weathered many a fiercer gale.

A Vancouver dispatch states that Mr. Justice Clement has delivered judgment in the divorce case of Watts vs. Watts on a stated case presented by the province. The learned judge holds that since confederation the provincial courts have had no jurisdiction in divorce proceedings. The case will be taken to the full court at once. If Mr. Justice Clement's point is correct, the legality of all divorces granted since confederation is attacked and remedial legislation by the Dominion government will be necessary.

Pete Donaldson is reported to have been confined to his cabin on his ranch for a couple of days last week by a perfect imitation of a cougar bite.

Eminent Authority Says Home Made Treatment Cures Rheumatism

Shake the Ingredieuts Well in the Bottle and Take After Meals

When an eminent authority announced in the Scranton (Pa.) Times that he had found a new way to treat that dread American disease, rheumatism, with just common, every-day drugs found in any drug store, the physicians were slow indeed to attach much importance to his claims. This was only a few months ago. Today nearly every newspaper in the country, even the metropolitan dailies, is nnnouncing it and the splendid results achieved. It is so simple that anyone can prepare it at home at small cost. It is made up as follows: Get from any good prescription pharmacy Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Campound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. These are all simple ingredients, making an absolutely harmless home remedy at little cost.

Rheumatism, as every one knows, is a symptom of deranged kidneys. It is a condition produced by the failure of the kidneys to properly filter and strain from the blood the uric acid and other matter which, if not eradicated, either in the urine or through the skin pores, remain the blood, decomposes and forms about the joints and muscles, causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

This prescription is said to be a splendid healing, cleansing and invigoating tonic to the kidneys, and gives almost immediate relief in all forms of bladder and urinary troubles and backache. He also warns people in a leading New York paper against the indiscriminate use of many patent medicines.

Oddfellows' Excursion

A number of the members of Gateway Lodge No. 45, I.O.O.F., went over to Republic last Friday night. The News-Miner has the following to say of the visit: "One of the most splendid social occasions of the season was the banquet given by the Republic Oddfellows at the Delaware hotel Friday night for their guests, Gateway Lodge No. 45, I.O.O.F., of Grand Forks, B. C. The S. & B. C. special train carrying the visitors arrived at 8:15. They were met at the train by a committee and conveyed to the lodge rooms in the Mason building. The visiting lodge conferred the initiatory degree, followed by the third degree put on by the local lodge. The members of Gateway lodge who were present on this occasion were a representative body of men, possessing traits of good-fellowship, congeniality and talent which it would perhaps be difficult to find in any other lodge of comparative size. The supper was a marvel of splendor and variety, surpassing the fondest anticipation of any. Gideon J. Tompkins made a most worthy and excellent toastmaster. The speech-making, in which most of the guests participated, was timely, entertaining and interspersed with plenty of fun and laughter. There were songs and brilliant reparte and lots of Canadian humor that wasn't dry. The banquet ended at 2:15 with the singing of 'America' and 'God Save the King,' in which all joined. The committee on entertainment—Messrs. O'Connell, Stanley and Ritser—and the Delaware hotel management received much deserved praise for the gorgeous manner in which they entertained their guests at supper."

THE BOUNDARY DISTRICT

By the finding of Judge Wilson in the East Kootenay Coal Lands case, the Canada Western Oil Company, Ltd., composed of Greenwood people, acquire an assured title to a majority of the oil bearing lands on Kishenehua creek. The application of five sets of claimants were made before Judge Wilson under the Coal and Mines' Act.

George W. Allen, of Nelson, and Miss Edith Carey Henderson, of Greenwood, were married in the latter city last week by Rev. M. D. McKee. Mr. and Mrs. Allen will reside in Nelson.

H. Eldridge has been appointed postmaster at Midway, as successor to the late Ed. A. Hain.

Arthur Miller, of Bonndary Falls, and Rose Lillian Clarke, of Midway, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, in Midway, last week, Rev. M. D. McKee, of Greenwood, performing the ceremony. After a short honeymoon trip, the couple will take up their residence in Grand Forks.

Kwong Lee, the Chinaman who is leaving Midway as soon as his customers pay up, claims to have been 40 years in the province. He came here about the time of the first Cariboo gold excitement, and is now going back to old Cathay to see his wife and children, who have lived their lives without him.

A consignment of pure-bred cattle has reached Ferry They are all first prize winners at the live stock exposition in Chicago, and are for the ranch of A. C. Mills, who purchased them in the east. They are fine cattle, and will be a credit to Mr. Mills and to the district.

A public concert is to given in Greenwood on Monday, November 18th, in aid of the new sanitarium which is to be erected near Kamloops for tuberculosis patients.

Dr. F. Montizambert, of Ottawa, and Dr. Watts, of Victoria, were at Midway last week arranging with Dr. Oppenheimer, D.H.O., for the stationing of a guard there to hold any suspicious cases of easterners crossing the boundary line. Special precautions are being taken all along the line to prevent the spread into Canada of the bubonic plague.

E. S. Busby, of Vancouver, Dominion customs inspector, inspected the customs offices at Chopaka and Osoyoos last week. He is making a general tour of the offices in the district.

The ore output of the Boundary district for the month of October was 146,731 tons. The copper production for the same period was 3,604,713 pounds.

J. Methot, who was for four years in the customs house at Greenwood, but is now a customs inspector with headquarters at Ottawa, visited Boundary friends last week while on a holiday trip.

At the Sunday school convention for Kootenay and the Okanagan, held in Nelson, S. E. Belt, of Greenwood, was made a member of the executive committee.

It is claimed that residents of Greenwood alone put some $30,000 into Boundary coppers during the recent slump in the east.

It is estimated, says the Butte Miner, that nine hundred million dollars has been paid by American parents for titled husbands for their daughters. This, of course, has been a drain upon the financial resources of the United States, and the worst of it is that a good deal more than half of this money seems to have been invested very poorly, as the records of the divorce courts show. It is hardly to be expected that when the most sacred relation in life is made a matter of barter and sale that the transaction is likely to be successful. On the one side, the American girls sell themselves for a title, and on the other, these members of the foreign nobility dispose of an interest in their names for hard cash. These commercial marriages are certainly disgraceful and it would not be an easy matter to show much better morally these women are who take part in them than their outcast sisters. The loss of this nine hundred million dollars is nothing when compared with the loss of national self-respect these unions have brought about.

We have some of the highest grade paper and stationery for up-to-date commercial printing every brought to the Boundary. Sun Job Office.
