Ex-Commissioner Green's Libel Suit Disposed of in 15 Minutes

Mr. Justice Clement Speaks Plainly in His Charge to the Jury

VANCOUVER, July 31.—After being out fifteen minutes the jury in the libel suit Green vs. The World, this afternoon brought in a verdict for the defendant with costs.

The principal feature of the suit was the scathing language in which Mr. Justice Clement scored Caron and Green in his charge to the jury.

"It is very difficult for me," he said, "to find language to properly criticize the action of Mr. Adolphe Caron. After all, it seems to me that a man in public life, when a transaction is going through an office, who writes to the head of that office a letter of that description, should have the insignia of royal favor which has been conferred upon him stripped from him. I have not the slightest hesitation in making that statement, and making it as strongly as I possibly can.

"That letter reachad Green," continued the court, "and I say Green at once should have resented the dishonor done him in making him such a proposition. Nor have I the slighest hesitation in saying so. Either Green must be the most innocent of men, unable to see that a proposition of that sort was dishonorable, or else he must have thought that in the long run possibly some benefit would accrue to him from it. There are only two hypotheses, and if you put the worst construction upon the action of Green in respect to that proposition, then I say he has only himself to blame if your verdict should be againtst him.

"I trust that the day has not come when any man in British Columbia makes any difference between his private and his public life."

D. G. MacDonnell, counsel for the World, also scored Caron, alluding to him as "a sly and wily old fox, who was in politics before many of us were born and is still at the game." He claimed that Caron had wittingly enmeshed Green in his toils, and though the latter would have had the grace to destroy the letters at issue, Caron knew too much to trust any such act. MacDonnell closed with a plea to the jury to remember that liberty should be given the public press in behalf of the best interests of good government.

Green himself was the star witness of the day. He acknowledged having torn up the letter in queseion and kept no copy of the answer. He thought that was the only portion of the correspondence with Caron not on record. The letter had evidently been written after his wire to Caron that the Telqua licenses would issue. He had suggested Mackay as the recipient of the shares, but never had a conversation with him concerning their value or disposition. Questioned as to whether the letters were the cause of his resignation, Green answered that he resigned because of personal reasons. It might be possible that he would re-enter politics. Questioned as to his position with reference to the government, he said he wished he could get around his obligation and tell all he knew.

D. W. Higgins, editor of the World, stated that he had secured a hint concerning the letters and had written the famous article. He submitted it to Tupper and Cowan, and both refused either to affirm or deny the facts charged. Then he was sure he was on the right track and published the expose.

On Kootenay Lake

A traveler in the city told a good story in the Yale lobby last Sunday night at the expense of a section of tht province where they are endeavoring to force fruit raising under difficulties.

A fisherman was seated by a small stream patiently waiting for a bite. Suddenly an avalanche of rock came hurtling downing the mountain side, nearly enveloping the lone fishermen, who was compelled to flee for safety. On the top wave of the rocky mass of debris an embryo rancher rode as unconcernedly as if he had been seated in an automobile speeding at the rate of one hundred miles per hour on the boulevards around Grand Forks.

"Great Jupiter," exclaimed the fisherman. "What part of heaven did you come from? Are you badly injured?"

"No," replied the man; "I am getting used to this pleasant diversion. This is only Tuesday, and it's the third time I've fallen off my rawnch this week, by Jove."

B. C. Copper Company

As briefly mentioned in the last issue of The Sun, the directors of the British Columbia Copper Company, Ltd., at a meeting held in New York last week, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share, with an extra dividend of 15 cents per share. The dividends are to be payable on September 4th, the company's head office being in New York. The British Columbia Copdor company is capitalized at $3,000,000 in shares of $5 each, there being 503,000 shares outstanding, the amount to be distributed thus being $210,200. After spending several hundred thousands of dollars in smelter and mine betterments, the company a few weeks ago succeeded in getting all three of the large furnaces at the smelter in steady operation, and close to 2000 tons of ore are now being treated daily. It is estimated that the company should now be producing in the neighborbood of 1,500,000 pounds of copper fine per month when the full battery of furnaces is kept in continuous operation. The chief mine of the company is located in Deadwood camp, and the smelting works at Greenwood, while the company owns and operates mines in Summit camp, Boyd's, Wash., and near Danville, Wash. A good deal of satisfaction is expressed in the Boundary over this first distribution of profits by this company.

There was a match race in Danville Wednesday evening between Curlew Maid and a Danville pony for $100 a side, and a large number of sports from this city went over to witness the contest. The Danville pony won by a length.

NEWS OF THE CITY

High Government Officials Inspect Boundary Line Monuments

Kettle Valley Line Now Engaged in Grading Third Street

A party of scientists, consisting of the commissioners appointed by the Canadian and United States governments in connection with the international bounday line survey, arrived in the city Friday evening and left Saturday morning for Rossland. The survey has been rechecked by experts and the trip of the commissioners was in the nature of an official inspection of the monuments before formally certifying to the accomplishment of the work of fixing the boundary line. There are three commissioners, one appointed by the Ottawa government, and the other two by the Washington authorities. Dr. W. F. King, the chief astronomer for the Dominion, is the Canadian representative. Dr. Charles Walton, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, is one of the American commissioners, and the other is O. H. Tittmann, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey. Accompanying the commissioners was Mr. L. D. Burling, geologist and assistant curator of the National museum at Washinton. The inspection of the survey has been finished from the Similkameen to this point. The party went from here to Rossland, thence to Gateway. After leaving Gateway Dr. Walton and Mr. Burling go to the Mount Stephen district to make a geological survey of the Cambrian and pre-Cambrian rocks, with a view of their co-relation with the Montana and Idaho sections. Dr. King and Mr. Tittmann will turn west again to continue the inspection from the Similkameen to the coast, and will thence proceed on a similar mission to northern Vermont. The boundary line between Canada and United States is 3000 miles long—1600 miles by land, and 1400 through water.

The grading of Third street is at present being prosecuted with vigor by the Kettle Valley line, a temporary track having been put down between Winnipeg and Bridge to facilitate the work

Mr. Fred McKeehan, United States immigration inspector at this port, left Wednesday for the east on his annual vacation trip. He will visit his old home in Hillsboro, Ohio, and also intends to make a short journey to the Jamestown exposition, where he will deliver a series of lectures on scientific rotation pool, as he is considered an authority on this subject. Mrs. McKeehan and family, who have been visiting in the east for some time, will accompany him home. Mr. A. H. Cohen, of Northport, is filling Mr. McKeehan's dosition while he is away.

The grade for the new Great Northern spur to the Granby's Victoria mine shaft has been finished, and the laborers have been paid off and have departed for other fields. The spur is about a mile and a half long, not including a sidetrack at the end for a warehouse, and a second track at the end of the switchback for a powder magazine.

Work has been started by Engineer Burnett on the survey for the proposed aerial tramway for conveying ore from the Dominion Copper company's mines in Phoenix camp to the company's smelter at Boundary Falls, an estimated distance of five miles.

J. H. Shaw, who has been cashier at the Royal Bank of Canada for the past couple of years, has been transferred to Vancouver, and will leave for that city in a few days. Mr. Shaw's numerous friends here will regret his departure from this city. J. W. Logan, of New Westminster, will fill Mr. Shaw's position here.

Charles Sterling, of this city, and Miss Anna Kannal, of Worthington, Minn., were united in marriage in Spokane last week. Mr. Sterling a well known Great Northern conductor, running between this city and Oroville.

Quite a number of Boundary residents have invested in B. C. Copper Co. shares this year, and they feel pretty good over it, with a 40 cent dividend announced.

The C.P.R. will probably place one or two switch engines permanently in Phoenix, assembling all ore trains at Hartford Junction and despatching them direct from there to the smelters.

Miss Grace Williams, of Seattle, Wash., is visiting with her brother, David Williams, at the Queens hotel in the West end.

A blaze Sunday afternoon in a small building back of Jeff Davis & Co.'s store called out the fire department. The flames were quickly extinguished.

The Grand Forks fire department will give a grand ball on Friday evening, August 23rd, in the Columbia fire hall. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of a bell for the West end station.

Fred Russell made a trip to Franklin camp last Sunday. He came back with bronzed face and calloused hands merely from viewing the amount of work being done in that camp at present.

Dr. J. W. Frank, government veterinary surgeon, of Nelson, B. C., who was formerly stationed here, was a visitor in the city last Saturday and Sunday.

Promises made by high officials of the C. P. R. for more ore dumps for Boundary traffic have not yet been fulfilled, and nearly all the big shippers have difficulty in getting cars enough to keep things moving.

Big Land Deal

The Carraher ranch, located about five miles south of the city, consisting of 312 acres, and owned by Mrs. J. Carraher, was sold last Friday evening to the Hansel, Langan, Knappen company, of Chicago and Winnipeg, for a substantial figure. The sale was negotiated by G. M. Fripp. Sam Horner recently secured an option on this property, and it is said that he made enough on the transaction to transfer him from the labor to the capitalistic class.

PUPILS WHO WIN

High School Examinations Result in Many New Teachers

Two Out of Six Candidates Are Successful in This City

The results of the education department's examinations for high school and teachers' certificates reached the city on Tuesday last.

The results throughout the province are probably the best on record. Of 298 candidates for high school certificates 177 have been successful. Of Grand Forks' 6 candidates 2 were successful.

The lists of teachers' certificates granted are long, but probably nearly all are advances or renewals to present members of the profession.

A noteworthy feature is the number of graduates of British and Canadian universities who have come to the province this year to enter the teaching profession. Certificates have been granted to no fewer thau 42.

The list of successful candidates at Boundary and Kootenay centres is given below. The maximum marks are: Seniors, 1100; intermediate, 1300; junior, 1500. The qualifying mark is 50 per cent, that is 550, 650 and 750 respectively:

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1907

A great reception was given Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his return to Canada from attending the colonial conference in London. From the time the premier set foot on Canadian soil until he arrived at Ottawa he was the recipient of royal tokens of the esteem in which he is held by Canadians, without regard to party. As a consequence of the premier's visit to England, Canada has become better known and her aspirations better understood. Trade relations between this and other countries have been improved, all of which will redound to the advantage of the Dominion and all the people will participate in the results. With the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Georgian Bay canal and the inauguration of the "All-Red Route," Canada will have made large strides in the fulfillment of her destiny, and the people will have abundant cause to bless Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party, a party which has been well described as the party of progress.

The federal government does not intend that there shall be any more ignorance of Canadian conditions, of climate, opportunities for the homeseeker, and knowledge of the Dominion as an attractive field for investments. To this end, a dozen representative newspaper men have been brought to this country from the old country, and they will be given a trip across Canada. After visiting the Maritime provinces, they will proceed to the Pacific coast, at a time when the harvesting will be in full swing. Such a trip will impart much practical knowledge and result in a better class of immigrants coming to our shores, and also be an advantage in that it will make Canadian affairs better known to the investor and capitalist abroad.

When the Grand Forks city council struck a tax rate of 25 mills there was a vigorous kick made. But people are so prone to kick before they are hurt that very little attention was paid to the protest. This week the Nelson city council made a tax levy of 37 mills on land and 2 mills on 50 per cent of improvement. This should have a healthy effect in silencing the local kickers.

STREET CORNER GOSSIP

John W. Hansel and T. M. Knappen, of the Hansel Langan-Knappeu company, of Wiunipeg and Chicago, have returned east, after spending a week in this city and the North Fork country. It is stated today that the work of surveying the North Fork lands on which this company hold an option will be commenced next Monday.

Mrs. Lee Tutt, who has heen ill at Grand Forks hospital for a short time, has recovered sufficiently to leave that institution.

Miss Josephine Mary Brown and Mr. Isaac Skidmore united in marriage at the residenoe of Wm. Searle iu Phoenix last week.

A steam boiler was this week hauled up to the Golden Eagle mine, situated about eleven miles from this city, on the North Fork, preparatory to the installation of machinery. This property is reported to be looking exceptionally well at present. It is located about a mile from the Kettle Valley line, up the mountain side, and an aerial tramway can easily be constructed to it. There is a carload of good ore now on the dump ready for shipment.

The verdict of "not guilty" in the Haywood murder trial, while it was received with evident satisfaction by the union men, evoked no demonstration in this city.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs Lee Tutt is on the sick list this week.

Canada's Royal Mint

The Canadian Royal mint, which is the first mint outside the capital of the empire to be designatued "royal," is expected to be completed in November. At presented all Canadian coins are minted in London, but after November they will be turned out at the Ottawa mint. The profit, which is at present nearly half a million dollars, will then accrue to the Dominion government. Dr. Bonar, the recently appointed deputy of the Royal mint, will return to England shortly and will take up his residence in Ottawa this fall. The experts who will have actual charge of the coinage will be brought out from England, but the bulk of the employees will be Canadians. All the machinery except that for the actual minting has been manufactured in Canada

Ever Have Cramps?

Kind of fierce to be tied up in a knot at midnight with cramps. Keep Nerviline handy. Ten drops quiets cramps instantly. Used occasionally Nerviline prevents this trouble entirely. From Stratford, Ont., Wm. Dee writes: "Nothing I know of will give such relief to cramps, colic or pain in the stomach as Nerviline. If you feel squeamish and sick, just ten drops of Nerviline in water and you're well the next minute." Think of the protection and comfort in a 25c bottle of Nerviline and get it today.

Marriage Entanglement

SPOKANE, Aug. 2.—Judge E. H. Sullivan, in the Spokane county superior court, has opened the final chapter in a matrimonial entanglement which, twelve years ogo, was widely discussed in British Columbia, California and Washington. The action was instituted by Mrs. Mattie Brunage Purdy against William J. Purdy, who were married in Spokane October 10, 1895, suit being filed March 8, 1907. The court has taken the matter under advisement, aud will probably render a decision before the end of this month. The complaint is desertion and that Purdy had a wife when he married the petitioner. It is recited that on their wedding trip in California Mrs. Purdy became suspicious her husband had transgressed, and the honeymoon terminated suddenly in San Francisco, the bride returning to Spokane alone. Upon her arrival she received a letter in which it was stated Purdy had a wife when he married the second time, and wished her well. He also apologized for his actions and begged his second wife to be considerate. Warrants were issued for Purdy charging him with bigamy, based on tbe claim of Rebecca Purdy, of Harwich, B. C., who appeared on the scene a few weeks after he had left town, that he was her husband. She declared they had been married in Harwich and had one child, a boy.
