RANCHERS MEET

Interesting Lecture on "Nature Studies as Applied to the Orchard"

The meeting of the Kettle Valley Farmers' Institute, held in the city hall last Tuesday evening, was fairly well attended. In the absence of President Morrison, the chair was taken by S. C. Galloway. Owing to the fact that the addresses delivered at the National Irrigation Congress had not been printed, Mr. Galloway was unable to make a report. All told, he had listened to fifteen addresses. The most practical, from our standpoint, was that delivered by Mr. Thompson, city engineer of Seattle. The papers will be forwarded to the secretary in three weeks' time. The practical demonstrations on pumping and irrigating the land was gone into very thoroughly.

Mr. Joseph Tweedle, of Stone Creek, Ont., was then introduced. He took for his subject, "Nature Studies as Applied to the Orchard," which he handled in a very interesting manner. Starting in at the planting of the tree, then the soil, and the care it should have, showing the effect on the leaves and the fruit; pruning to allow the light through the branches; the diseases which are most prevalent, and their treatment. Mr. Tweedle spoke from practical experience in the orchard. Those who were fortunate enough to hear him tendered the speaker a vote of thanks.

Mayor Fripp introduced the Agricultural Association question, stating that he had been requested by a number of the citizens to bring this matter before the farmers and fruit growers, and asked for their co-operation. After a brief discussion it was quite clear that every one favored the idea, and a committee, composed of Messrs. Collins, Honsberger, Ed Ruckle, Lawrence and Holmes, was appointed to meet a committee from the board of trade relative to the formation of an agricultural association; also the raising sufficient funds to collect exhibits for the Nelson, Kaslo and Spokane fairs.

Every one present was asked to remember Prof. Craig's lecture on "Commercial Fruit Growing" on August 31st. Prof. Craig is one of the most prominent horticulturists on this continent and well worth hearing. The meeting will be held in the city hall. Mr. Burrell, M.P., will also be present.

A Beautiful Sight

One of the prettiest scenes in the Kettle Valley at this season of the year is to take a drive through the Covert estate. The 25,000 trees comprising that orchard are now dressed in their most valuable garb —fruit. On some of them are to be seen both ripe fruit and blossoms. This is a novelty that does not often occur in this section. The Sun, last Sunday, was piloted through the entire estate by Mr. Covert, the pioneer orchardist of the valley, who never tires of expatiating on the subject of fruit growing, or to point out the efficiency of the $10,000 irrigating system on the place. There are more things than apple trees to see in this model orchard. Some of the gardens are worth a five-mile trip. Mr. Honsberger has one that will well repay a person to travel twice that distance to see. Mr. Honsberger's orchard is undoubtedly the best in the valley. The yield of prunes this year will be heavier than in any previous season.

A Meteorological Station

Fred Clark, secretary of the Kettle Valley Farmers' Institute, yesterday received the following letter from the meteorological office in Victoria:

Mr. Fred Clark, Secretary Kettle Valley Farmers' Institute, Grand Forks, B. C.—Dear Sir: I have received from my director, Mr. R. F. Stupart, a copy of your letter to him of the 6th of August respecting a rain gauge for your station. I beg to inform you that one will be sent you directly I receive a fresh supply from Toronto. Of course you will understand that observations are to be taken every day at a stated hour, and that copies of the register are to be sent at the end of each month to this office. Forms and registers will be supplied. It is also to be understood that this work is voluntary and without remuneration. Will you please let me have the name and address of the proposed observer. I remain yours truly,

E. Baynes Reed.

Mr. William Cooper has been appointed official observer.

Opening of School

The opening exercises at the Grand Forks public and high schools will be held next Monday morning. On account of resignations at the eleventh hour, the trustees were short one teacher at the time The Sun went to press, but they had hopes of filling the vacancy before Monday morning.

All new scholars must obtain a certificate of good health from the medical health officer. Blanks for this purpose can be obtained either from the secretary of the school board or Dr. Kingston. The old scholars are not required to go through this procedure.

A Model Store

Woodland & Co. have finished moving their drug and stationery stocks to the new double-store brick block opposite P. Burns & Co.'s on First street. They now have as handsome a store as is to be found in the west. Everything is up to date, both in regard to the architectural beauty of the store front and interior furnishings. Their stock is most complete. The firm is entitled to commendation for its enterprise. The building was erected by Messrs. Bower and Pribilsky, the designer being Robert McIntosh.

New Telephone Building

The British Columbia Telephone company's new building on Bridge street, which was designed by and erected under the supervision of Mr. J. B. Henderson, has been completed. It is a compact structure, and should answer admirably the purposes for which it was erected. It is slightly removed from the street, and the front view of the building is pleasing.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Advertising Evidently of More Importance Than Civic Improvements

All the members except Ald. Sheads were present at the meeting of the city council last Monday evening.

The clerk was instructed to request W. G. McMynn, government agent at Greenwood, to ask the government for plans of the proposed isolation hospital.

The water and light committee was authorized to purchase a new fire wagon.

The council authorized the payment of the past month's accumulation of accounts.

Ald. Lequime presented a full report in regard to the new Davis block, which was accepted by the council.

The health and relief committee reported that Mr. Forrester had made preparations to move his dairy barns outside the city limits.

The Grand Forks grade bylaw was introduced by Ald. Davis, and it was advanced to its third reading. The bylaw gives the council power to establish traffic grades.

Ald. Davis introduced a bylaw to provide for municipal improvements, charging one-third of the cost to the city and the remainder to property owners benefited, was discussed informally and laid over till the next meeting, with the understanding that sidewalks on Bridge and First streets be 12 feet wide, on Winnipeg avenue 10 feet wide, and on Second street, south of Bridge, 8 feet wide. Other widths will be decided upon when the bylaw comes up for consideration.

The matter of grading the street on the north bank of the North Fork to connect with the government's Cascade road, was discussed, but the council concluded that there were no funds available for this purpose.

Mr. Belton modestly asked the council for $300 to carry out an advertising scheme of questionable merit. The council granted him $250, notwithstanding the fact that the plan is being worked with poor success by commercial organizations in other cities.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Some shipments of Wealthy apples were made from this city last week.

James Welsh, a smelter employee, left last week for London, England.

Miss Effie Ross has returned home from a protracted visit to Winnipeg.

Miss Olive Henderson, of Chilliwack, is visiting her parents in this city.

Sam Horner had a lively runaway last Monday, but no damage was done.

Miss Cosgrove has returned from a two weeks' business and pleasure trip to Seattle.

John Kirkup, government agent at Rossland, was a visitor in the city on Thursday.

Martin Burrell, M.P., will lecture in the Okanagan country next week on fruit raising.

Some people cannot distinguish between faking and grafting and legitimate business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henniger are spending a couple of weeks at the Seattle exposition.

The Bonthron block is now nearly completed, the plate glass front having been put in.

S. R. Almond has been inspecting the government roads in this vicinity during the past week.

It is the act of an ingrate to insult the people by calling them "soreheads" after taking their money.

A. B. Hood, manager of the E. T. bank, and Judge Hood, of Phoenix, returned from Vancouver on Tuesday.

The hot weather during the past week has had a tendency to make some people meditate on conditions in the future state.

Miss Irene Moore, of Vancouver, one of the new teachers in the Grand Forks public school, arrived in the city yesterday.

I. A. Dinsmore, formerly a resident of this city, but now provincial constable at Midway, was a Grand Forks visitor yesterday.

In the boat race at Christina lake last Sunday, Johnson's steam yacht defeated Spraggett and Bertois' gasoline launch by two minutes.

How would it do for the people who want the city to use the ratepayers money to advertise their wares to do a little advertising on their own account?

Joe McDonald this week received the news of the death of his brother, which occurred in Seattle on Saturday last. Deceased was a captain of the Seattle police force.

The provincial timber commissioners will hold a session in Grand Forks on September 18th. All persons who have any information to present, either written or verbal, are invited to be present.

Paul S. Couldrey, who has been manager of the Le Roi Two Mining company, at Rossland, for the past seven years, has accepted a position with the B. C. Copper company at Greenwood.

Miss K. and H. Draper, teachers in the public school, and Mrs. Draper arrived in the city on Tuesday from the coast. They will take up their residence in the house lately occupied by A. A. Steeves.

A farewell gathering was held at the Methodist parsonage on Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Keller. An interesting musical program was rendered, and light refreshments were served.

Stuart J. McGuire, manager of Love's drug store in Phoenix, was drowned while bathing in Loon lake, five miles from Phoenix, last Sunday. The body was recovered, and has been shipped to Revelstoke for interment.

Owing to the ignorance of our contemporary, the report is now going the rounds of the press that the fruit crop in the Kettle Valley is a failure this year. Of course it is a failure! The ranchers on the Covert estate have ordered two carloads of boxes. They will probably keep them for next season—or pack cabbages in them! Mr. Honsberger will ship twelve carloads of prunes, a considerable increase over past years. Other sections of the valley are also making preparations for the packing season. There will be no fruit in the Kettle Valley this year.

Bush Fires

Sparks from a C.P.R. engine started a bush fire near W. J. Brown's ranch, between this city and Cascade, on Thursday, and some railway ties and a stretch of Mr. Brown's fence have been destroyed. The fire is still spreading, and fears are entertained for the safety of the West Kootenay Power company's high-tension line.

Making Progress

Construction work on the new Grand Forks hotel is progressing very rapidly at present. Sam Horner has the contract for the masonry work, and has nearly completed laying the cement blocks of the first story.

A GOOD RECORD

Nine of the Ten Candidates Pass in the High School Examinations

The results of the high school examinations were announced in Victoria last Saturday. Out of 1019 candidates writing, 653 secured passing marks. Grand Forks high school made a remarkably good showing. The result here follows:

Advanced Course, Junior Grade—Candidates 5, possed 5. Maude J. Harrigan, 694; Marjorie Kerman, 588; James R. Galloway, 572; Helen McEwen, 560; Madeline J. Stendal, 542.

Preliminary Course, Junior Grade —Candidates 5, passed 4. Netta C. Reid, 634; Lillie Denmark, 627; Caroline O. Munro, 576; James P. O. Atwood, 507.

Miss Maude J. Harrigan wins the gold medal offered by P. Burns, of Calgary, to the pupil having the highest number of marks in the advanced junior grade.

The prize offered by Martin Burrell, M.P., to the pupil having the highest number of marks in the preliminary grade, was won by Miss Netta C. Reid.

Miss Ida Hartinger won the governor-general's bronze medal, a gold medal offered by Mayor Fripp and a $50 scholarship in the Spokane university for general proficiency in the McGill matriculations.

Game Protection

An order in council, dated August 3rd, provides as follows:

That the disabilities as to the shooting of duck of all kinds, geese and snipe, with respect to the mainland and the islands adjacent thereto, shall be removed from the 1st day of September, 1909, to the 28th day of February, 1910, both days inclusive.

That the disabilities as to the sale of duck of all kinds, geese and snipe, with regard to the province, shall be removed from the 1st day of October, 1909, to the 28th day of February, 1910, both days inclusive.

That the disabilities as to the shooting of grouse of all kinds (except prairie chicken) with respect to the mainland (except East and West Kootenay) and the islands adjacent thereto, shall be removed on the 15th day of October to the 31st December, 1909, both days inclusive.

That the disabilities as to the shooting of deer on the mainland, and the islands adjacent thereto, shall be removed from the 1st day of September, 1909, to the 15th day of December, 1909, both days inclusive.

That the disabilities as to the sale of deer on the mainland shall be removed from the 1st day of September, 1909, to the 15th day of November, 1909, both days inclusive.

The order in council of the 23rd March, 1909, with regard to an open season for geese, has been rescinded in respect to the mainland.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1909

Considerable indignation has been expressed by some of the ratepayers at the action of the city council in voting a sum of money for advertising purposes. Publicity work is all right—when it is carried on through the proper channels. But city governments are not organized for the purpose of engaging in the advertising business. That should be relegated to independent societies. Grand Forks had such an organization—the 20,000 club—a couple of years ago. Although it expended thousands of dollars in publicity work, without deriving one cents' worth of benefit, there was no exception taken to it, because the money was collected for this specific purpose. The ratepayers, however, pay taxes for defraying the legitimate expenses of city, for the repayment of the public debt, and for needed public improvements. If there is any surplus after these demands have been satisfied, then there might be some excuse for diverting the funds to charitable or other channels. But there is no such surplus. Everybody knows that important public improvements are being held up for lack of funds. On Monday night the council could not see its way clear to grade a short street to connect with the government road; a number of our sidewalks can be used as teeter planks, and the streets between the business section and the railway stations are in a worse condition than any portion of the government road between this city and Cascade. These defects should have been remedied before the council undertook to do any advertising. What good will a few folders, distributed in the east, or an occasional Grand Forks date in outside papers do, if strangers, on arriving here, find the city in a dilapidated condition? Well graded streets, substantial sidewalks, shade trees, and a healthy city, will do more to advertise Grand Forks than anything else. When we obtain these things people who come here to investigate our prospects will remain; and it might also be the means of retaining some of the old-timers, people who have given the best years of their lives in an endeavor to build up the city. It is folly to say that a city of the age and importance of Grand Forks is not known throughout the Dominion. When we do our share of the improvements, there will be no lack of settlers. The advertising scheme proposed is not a new one, although some of the aldermen thought it was quite novel. The Sun is in receipt of about a dozen letters per day from people and cities all over the continent asking for free advertising. But all respectable newspaper offices keep large waste baskets. And that is the place to which most of the stuff sent out from this city will be consigned. We are aware that advertisements from other localities in this province appear in the eastern press, but the advertising is done by independent organizations and private individuals, and not municipal corporations.

The city council appears to favor a twelve-foot sidewalk for Bridge street and a ten-foot one for Winnipeg avenue. There is no reason why the walk on the latter thoroughfare should not be of standard width, at least as far west as Third street. The opera house and public hall are located on the avenue, and the crowds on theatre nights are quite equal to the tr[illegible] on any street in the city. Besides, the daily travel on the avenue is really larger than the residents of the first mentioned street really have any conception.

HANDBOOK

New Edition Issued Nov. 15, 1906.) Is a dozen books in one, covering the history, geography, geology, chemistry, mineralogy, metallurgy, terminology, uses, statistics and finances of copper. It is a pracical book, useful to all and necessary to most men engaged in any branch of the coppes industry.

Its facts will pass muster with the trained scientists, and its language is easily understood by the everyday man. It gives the plain facts in plain English without fear or favor.

It lists and describes 4636 copper mines and companies in all parts of the world, descriptions running from two lines to sixteen pages, according to importance of the property.

The Copper Handbook is conceded to be the World's Standard Reference Book on Copper

The mining man needs the book for the facts it gives him about mines, mining and the metal.

The investor needs the book for the facts it gives him about mining, mining investments and copper statistics. Hundreds of swindling companies are exposed in plain English.

Price is $5 in Buckram with gilt top; $7.50 in full library morocco. Will be sent, fully prepaid, on approval, to any address ordered, and may be returned within a week of receipt if not found fully satisfactory.

CYNICAL SAYINGS

Slander loves a shining mark.

To run through a fortune a fellow must be pretty rapid.

Being in love is the business of some people and the pleasure of others.

The headache that he didn't have is the one man most enjoys.

Should auld acquaintance be forgot? Not unless he owes you $10.

It is as hard to lose some women as it is to win others.

In the matter of hot air many a man can heat his own furnace.

Travel may broaden a man, but others can stay at home and get fat.

The things that make man discontented is not what he has, but what he wants.

Even the man who borrows trouble is apt to kick if he gets more than he bargained for.

Philosophy is the thing that makes you take other people's distresses with equanimity.

Being pleased with yourself is a condition of mind not intended to be put on dress parade.

Some people seem to have a genius for putting off on yesterday the things they hate to do today.

Some people would rather be right than anything else, because it is human nature to yearn after the unattainable.

Some gallant gentlemen are willing to give their ballot to the ladies if that will help any.

It might be harsh to say that a woman's brain is in inverse ratio to her hat.

Being obedient is almost a lost art, being practiced only by some old fashioned children and a few modern husband.

Some people seem to regard divorce as a sort of illustrated supplement to marriage.

Many people believe in economy, but they don't all seem to be wise in the way they economize.

Just why women seem to think that men do not need much to eat during the stress of housecleaning time has never been made quite clear.

BOUNDARY BREVITIES

A dispatch from Vancouver states that J. M. Cameron, of this city, has been adpointed C.P.R. trainmaster at Vancouver as successor to S. L. Prenter. Mr. Cameron has been C.P.R. trainmaster at this point for one year and nine months.

Percy Andrews left on Tuesday for a three months' vacation trip to his old home in Lincolnshire, England.

It has been hot enough during the past week to drive people to drink.

Miss Maud Bruce, of Calgary, has resigned as one of the teachers of the Grand Forks public school owing to an accident to her mother.

One of the small fly wheels in the blower room at the Granby smelter burst last Wednesday, and plowed its way through brick walls and did some other damage. Fortunately none of the workmen were injured.

Work of clearing away the rubbish and old foundation from the site of the new Eastern Townships building has now been completed. The Sun is authorized to state that active construction work on the new block will be commenced next Monday.

Mr. J. H. Keller and family left on Wednesday for New Westminster. Mr. Keller has been principal of the Grand Forks high rchool for a year, and has accepted a similar position in the Royal City.

John Simpson left on Tuesday for Enderby, where he will take charge of the high school.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS BY REV. DR. LINSCOTT FOR THE INTERNATIONAL NEWSPAPER BIBLE STUDY CLUB.

Paul on Christian Love. I Cor. xiii:1-13.

Golden Text—And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three, but the greatest of these is love. I Cor. xiii:13.

Verse 1—What is the utmost which can be claimed for the gift of eloquence?

Why is an eloquent man without love like a brrss band with cymball accompaniments?

Will eloquence without God make a man acceptable to God?

Will eloquence without love make a man acceptable to his fellows, or give any lasting satisfaction to himself?

Verse 2—Is there any necessary moral praise due to a man who has the gift of prophecy, and has intuitive knowledge of mystery?

Is there any more necessary praise to be accorded to a big man than to a little man?

If God gives the man faith so he can remove a mountain and he at the same time is without love, what good is the faith to him?

Verse 3—Do some people give liberally, and suffer personal inconvenience, who have no real love in their hearts and if so, what is it which prompts to these acts?

If a man gives when it can be seen, and does not give when it cannot be seen, is there any love in his heart, or any real merit in his charity?

Should the church refuse to accept of money for the gospel, or for charity, from those who clearly give to be seen of men?

Do those who give without love, but to be seen of men, reap any benefit from it, or does it hurt them?

Can you conceive of a man giving his body to be burned, for his religion with an impure motive, or without love in his heart?

What is the only thing which recommends us to God in and of itself?

Verses 4-7—What proof can you give that love is long suffering and kind?

If we really love a person will we ever speak of him or his injury, no matter what the provocation may be?

What is it in love which tends to patience, politeness, kindness, gentleness, and humility?

May a person be controlled by love, and be envious at the some time, and if not, why not?

Does love always make a man think of "the other fellow" before himself?

What does love take all its pleasure from?

Verses 8-13—Can despondency or doubt, or depression, or hopelessness, or any other bad feeling, occupy the heart that is filled with love?

What will be the relative values or uses in heaven, of faith, hope, eloquence, knowledge, love?

What is really the sum total of all things, or that which sums up in itself all the blessedness, nobility, and happiness, that the mind can conceive, or the heart crave, and why is it so?

(This question must be answered in writihg by members of the club.)

Lesson for Sunday, Sept. 5, 1909. —Paul's Third Missionary Journey—Farewells. Acts xx;2-38.

A Costly Orchid

A baby orchid set up on a stand, in a bed of moss, at the Horticultural society's flower show in the grounds of Holland house, London, England, collected the largest crowd of enthusiasts in the whole exhibition.

The baby orchid is the offspring of cochlioda noetzliana and Miltonia vexillana. It has been named Miltonioda Harwoodii. The lip of what is hoped will be the founder of a new fumily is a pale fresh pink, while the sepals and petals are a warm shade of rose. The growers, who won a gold medal for their fine collection of orchids, are Messrs. Charlesworth.

A reporter asked a member of the firm the value of baby Miltonioda. "It is impossible to fix it," he said. It is invaluable. If I said £10 000 I should not be far wrong."

Another baby, twelve months old, which was exhibited at the show last year, has been cultivated to quite a respectable size. It is the Odontioda Charlesworthii.
