THE EVENING SUN

VOL. 1 GRAND FORKS AND COLUMBIA, B.C. TUESDAY, MAY 20, 1902. NO. 157

TRAIN SERVICE SOON

Between Grand Forks and Marcus on V., V. & E.

The tracklayers on the V., V. & E. have now nearly reached Carson, and no more stops will be made until the road is completed to Republic.

A regular train service between Grand Forks and Marcus in a couple weeks, which will no doubt be appreciated by our citizen, as it will enable them to make the round trip to Spokane and return without wasting an entire week.

In Columbia the work ot grading the depot spur is progressing steadily, though it will not be rushed until after the Hot Air injunction has been set aside.

TOWN TOPICS

All miners' licenses should be renewed on or before May 31st, if trouble in respect to holding claims is to be avoided. All existing licenses expire on that date.

Alderman Harvey, chairman of the council committee on roads and bridges, has labored hard and unceasingly to save the First street bridge during the present high water, and his efforts have so far been crowned with success, for which he is entitled to the thanks and commendation of the entire community.

The Granby mines shipped 9771 tons of ore last week; the Mother Lode 2336 tons, the Winnipeg 35 tons, and the No. 7 Mine 60 tons.

It is probable that the Grand Forks lacrosse team will, this fall, visit Spokane, Seattle and V ncouver, where exhibition matches will be played. During the season games will be played here with the Kaslo, Nelson and Medicine Hat teams.

Boundary mines shipped 12,202 tons of ore last week, making a total for the year of 184,415 tons.

The Carson wagon bridge was washed out by high water at 1 o'clock Saturday morning

The Columbia wagon bridge came out of the late fight with high water with flying colors.

Your advertisement in The Sun is a constant reminder to the public that you are still alive.

The California mine will make regular shipments by rail to the Granby smelter on and after June 1. The ore will have to be hauled six miles to the railway.

A special train will run from Cascade to Midway and return on Thursday, May 24, in order to give the people an opportunity to attend the Victoria day celebration in Greenwood. It will leave Grand Forks at 8 a.m., returning here at 10 p.m. the same day. Our citizens are making prepartions to attend the celebration en masse.

The high water during the past week has handled Grand Forks very gently. In the city proper very little damage was done. Residents in Ruckle's addition suffered the severest loss. Here the water played havoc with s reet grades, sidewalks, fences and wood piles. Some of the streets in that addition at present look as if they needed a surveyor to relocate them.

The Granby Smelter treated 9459 tons of ore last week, bringing the total for the year up to 129,335 tons.

A nine months' working bond on the Riverside group, near Rock creek, has been secured by a A. A. Monroe, of Montreal, and associates. The group comprises the Riverside, Emmeline and Badger Fraction. An expenditure of $5000 has been made in development work. A carload of ore shipped to the Granby smelter netted $31 a ton and a carload to the Boundary Falls smelter netted $41 per ton. There are over 1500 tons of high grade ore blocked out in the mine. Work will be continued on the property under the terms of the bond.

FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1902

An Eastern show agency has made a proposition to give a balloon ascension in Grand Forks on Dominion day. A capital idea. We certainly have a superior quality of Hot Air for inflating purposes.

The failure of the board of trade to take decisive action on the railway resolution is, to put it mildly, regrettable. As the matter now stands, the business community of Grand Forks is placed in the light as being antagonistic to the V.. V. & E. This is an erroneous impression. Public sentiment overwhelmingly favors the early entry of the road into the city and to the smelter, and the same is true of the majority of our business men. The failure of the board to act decisively simly means that a small clique, who are either interested as stockholder in the puppy in the manger or else receive favors from the C. P. R., were able to defeat the will of the majority, and nothing more. For the members who battled in favor of the ea ly entry of another transcontinental railway into our city, there is unstinted praise; for those who voted against the resolution simply because the lash of the Townsite and loan companies hung over their heads, there is pity and sympathy, but for those who antagonized it through selfish motives, there is nothing but scorn.

"A critic by any other name is a 'knocker' just the same," remarks an exchange. This is the shallow judgment of a paid flatterer. The Sun has a more logical definition of a critic. The bestowal of unmerited praise is as pernicious as is the indulgence in unjust criticism; but both are useful and indispensable when used with proper di crimination. No one but a saphead would tolerate a flatterer and sycophant, and a wise and honest man should not take umbrage at the critic's just strictures. To praise mediocrity, breeds conceit and an undue importance of self in the weak-minded; to criticise defects, spurs men on to renewed efforts, that finally lead to perfection. To condemn the mistakes and misdeeds of public and official personages is the duty of the critic, but the flatterer, in order to bask in the sunshine of men in power, always applauds, and thus become a party to the crime. To put it in an epigrammatic form: One line of honest criticism is worth pages of fulsome flattery.

Why should the officials' private car of the Hot Air road have been cached in the C. P. R yard while Mr. T. P. Coffee, vice-president of the Dominion Permanent Loan company, was on his tour of inspection? Some one must have been remiss as to the proper amount of courtesy due Mr. Coffee, or else the the C. P. R. objected to the use and display of the palace on wheels.

T. P. Coffee, vice president of the Diminion Permanent Loan company, while in Grand Forks last week, deprecated the existence of "wild-cat" mining properties. The Sun would give a great deal to learn Mr. Coffee's private views concerning "wild-cat" railroads.

Boiled down to the brevity of a market report, the present status of the Hot Air road may be summarized as follows: Two bridges gone, one engine in the river, one coach in the ditch; Holland, Morris, the private car and the last spike safe.

The Cascade correspondent of the Rossland Miner says Grand Forks has a "bush lawyer." The first person who sends in the correct definition of a "bush lawyer" will receive a year's subscription to The Sun. We want it for publicatton.

Situation, Environments and General Resources.

The City of Columbia is situated near the junction of the North Fork of the Kettle river with the main Kettle river, and is distant about 300 miles east of Vancouver.

The natural situation of the city for beauty is not excelled in America. A verdure-clad and flower-bespangled rolling prairie, traversed by a river of bright, sparkling waier, fringed with forest trees and surrounded by mountains, forffing a charming combination of picturesquesness and grandeur

The Columbia & Western railway, which was constructed by the Canadian Pacific Railway company, has its station, freight warehouse and yards in the center of Columbia, and the Vancouver, Victora & Eastern Railway company, has located its depot, freight sheds and yards along the east line of the corporation, thus giving the city connections with two transcontinental lines.

The Canadian Pacific railway company has large interests in the city, having selected the site on account of the superior natural advantages as a railway centre.

The climate, taken all the year around, is the best in Canadn—part of the summer is rather hot and dry, but the rest of the year is enjoyable.

Throughout the Kettle River valley there is an extent of fertile agricultural land, part of which is now being cultivated.

Apples, plums, pears, prunes, cherries and all the small fruits grow abundantly. The valley surrounding Columbia, divided into small fruit and vegetable farms, will sustain a large population.

Building material is plentiful in the district. Lumber can be procured at fair prices, and brick lime and stone of good quality can always be obtained when required.

The mining interests are of the first importance to this country, and will do much to build up Columbia. Large mineral lodes have been discovered through the mountains adjacent to the city, and what were mere prospects a short time since are now large paying mines.

Water is supplied the city by pumping from a beautiful spring of exceptional purity, capable of supplying a city of 50,000 inhabitants.

The Granby smelter and converter—the most modern and perfect plant of the kind in America—employing hundreds of men, is contiguous to the city,

Owing to the fine climate, the central situation, the beautible environments, the bright prospects for future growth and prosperity, Columbia will be an educational centre, a city of homes, as well as a wholesale distributing point; and when finally allied and wedded to her sister sister, will be the best and largest city in the interior.
