MOLSON IN JUNE

Great Northern Trains Will be Running to THat Point by That Time

Contractors Increase Forces and Work Is Being Rapidly Pushed

Engineer R. A. Turrell, in charge of Vancouver, Victoria & Eastern construction work at Molson, is reported from that city as saying that if the work on the grade is not completed so that rails can be laid as far as Molson by June, 1906, it will not be the fault of the engineers in charge of the work in that section. They have orders to see that it is done, and Great Northern engineers generally carry out their instructions.

Ever since orders were received three weeks ago to "keep out of the way of the steel" contractors in that territory have been increasing their forces, putting on night crews and rushing work generally wherever it is possible to do so. Fortunately, laborers have been plentiful and the weather is all that could be desired, so to that extent contractors are working to good advantage.

"The work near Molson," says Mr. Turrell, "is really the heaviest to be found anywhere between Oroville and Midway, but there are so many cuts and fills fo be made that a greater number of crews can be employed there than on the British Columbia side, so it is quite probably that we will have finished before the contractors between the boundary and Midway are ready for the rail laying crew. In any event, however, I look for trains to be running into Molson before the middle of the coming summer."

Winters, Pearson & Boomer have moved their huge steam shovel from the rock cut near the upper end of Sidley lake to a point near Charles Rinehart's place, a distance of about three miles. Work with this big piece of machinery was carried on successfully at the first location for a time, but when hard rock was struck it had to be discontinued in order to get good results. This cut when completed will be 1600 feet long and will require the removal of 55,000 cubic yards of gravel.

The largest cutou the work is to be found on Ernest Ennerson's contract, between Molson and the boundory line. While it is only 1200 feet in length, the amount of dirt to be taken from it will be 70,000 yards. Mr. Ennerson now has eight crews of men working on this cut. He has a day and a night crew at each end and has cross-cut it at the middle, and has a day and a night crew working each way from that point.

Contractor Ennerson had a narrow escape from being crushed to death this week. He was cadgh between two gravel cars and given a terrible squeeze. Dr. Schwabland was summoned and after a thorough examination announced that no bones were broken, but the pasient is so badly bruised that he is hardly able to move.

SUNSET SAUNTERINGS

The Spokesman-Review says: "The Inland Empire Railway company, recently organized here with a capital of $20,000,000 by Jay P. Graves and associates, is credited by a Seattle report with intending to build an electric road from Spokane to the Okanagan country and Phoenix, B. C. The report says: 'A. L. White, secretary of the Granby Smelting company, and C. Zimmerman, a consulting engineer of New York, have been in Seattle for the past three days making a trip through the Okanagan country and through the territory between Spokane and Phoenix, B. C., in the interests of the Inland Empire Railway company, which proposes to build an electric line from Spokane to Phoenix, and also into the Okanagan mining districts.' F. Lewis Clark, vice-president of the company, refused to discuss the matter. Jay P. Graves is out of town." The Sun is anxious to know why an electric railway should want to climb the hill up to Phoenix, and then come down again, without calling at Grand Forks.

It is reported from Spokane that there is considerable mystery surrounding the incorporation of a $10,000,000 smelter company, as both the principals and the prospective location of the new plant are unknown. The name of the new concern is the International Smelting company. In this city the news has just leaked out that a party of promiuent capitalists made a secret inspection of a smelter site near here a few days ago. If we could only find the connecting link beeween these two mysteries, we would proceed to cast some light on the snbject.

BY-LAW DOOMED

Notice of Amendment Given at a Special Meeting of the Council

Considerable Difference of Opinion on Liquor Traffic Among Aldermen

A special meeting of the city council was held Wednesday evening, all the members being present except Ald. Lequime, who is absent from the city. The meeting was called on so short notice that even The Sun knew nothing about it, and missed the pleasure of attending. Necessity therefore compels us to report the proceedings from hearsay.

As far as can be learned, the only business transacted was giving notice by Ald. McDonald that at the next regular meeting he intended to introduce an amendment to the new hotel license by-law. Considerable divergance of opinion is said to have existed among the aldermen on the license question. Ald. Clements and Cooper favored the eight-hotel by-law now in force, while the balance of the members were divided between the old by-law and a new measure granting licenses to an unlimited number of hotels.

It is also reported that the editor of our codtemporary took part in the proceedidgs, although The Sun has no recollection of him having been elected as a member of the council. This will probably have to be endured during the next twelve months, as his inclination for telling funny stories on the slightest provocation appears to be incurable.

NEWS OF THE CITY

West Kootenay Power & Light Company to Increase Its Field

Knights of Pythias and Rathbone Sisters Enjoy a Sleigh Ride

Judge Townsend, of the West Kootenay Power & Light company, is in the city, soliciting the endorsation by the city council, board of trade and influential citizens of a petition to the legislature to amend the company's franchise so as to increase its scope, a private bill to this effect having been introduced in the local house. The present franchise limits the company's field of operation to within a radius of fifty miles of the city of Rossland. The proposed amendment will empower the company to transmit power and light to any point in the county of Yale where it may be desired—all of which is a good thing for the county of Yale. Mr. Townsend is meeting with no opposition to his mission,

The members of the Knights of Pythias and Rathbone Sisters of this city participated in a sleighing party last Wednesday to M. Miller's ranch. The guests were royally entertained at Mr. Miller's home, danciug, songs and music, games of various kinds, and cards kept the party in high spirits until 2 o'clock in the morning. A fine supper was served, and all declared, on their homeward journey, that they had spent one of the most enjoyable evenings this winter. The following are some of those composing the party: Misses Campbell, Kate Ross, Margaret Eyre, Stendal, Mesdames Stendal, L. E. Tutt, Mahan, J. Hammar, H. A. Sheads, Meagher, Latham, Brown, Stewart, Messrs. W. Fee, Stendal, Stendal Jr., Dr. Kingston, Jeffery Hammar, W. R. Dewdney, H. A. Sheads, W. Stewart, J. Stewart, L. E. Tutt, O. S. Hull, Meagher and Geo. Hansen.

The meeting of the Kettle Valley Rifle association, which was to have been held in the city hall tonigth for reorganization purposes, was postponed until next Friday night, as only a few of the members put in an appearance at the appointed time. It is to be hoped that parties interested in the reorganlzation of the association will be on hand at the city hall promptly at 8 o'clock next Friday night. It a continued lack of interest in the association is shown, the rifles that are now here will be returned to Ottawa.

A new diamond drill is being installed at the Betts & Hesperus mine, four miles from this city. The management intends to thoroughly prospect the claims owned by the company by diamond drilling, and several thousand feet of work will be done in this way within the next few months.

Clyde M. Graves, son of Jay P. Graves, manager of the Granby smelter, and Miss Blanche Flournoy were married in Spokane yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. M. Flournoy. The wedding party consisted of Miss Flournoy and her matron of honor, Mrs. James E. Bell; Frank T. Post, who gave the bride away; Clyde M. Graves and his best man, Alex M. Winston. Mr. and Mrs. Graves will spend their honeymoon in Europe.

George A. McLeod, manager of the McKinley Mines, Ltd., returned to the city Tuesday evening from an extended trip through the eastern States.

The Okanagan, published at Vernon, is now issued twice a week, having adopted the same size and publication days as The Sun. The Revelstoke Mail-Herald is also published semi-weekly now.

It is reported that silver-gold ore running $150 to the ton has been struck in the Strathmore mine, near Greenwood.

During the past few days there has been some talk on the streets concerning the establishmenr of a co-operative general store, but nothing tangible regarding the scheme can be learned.

M. D. White has moved his jewelry store to the building formerly occupied by Dr. Westwood on First street.

The Great Northern company is contemplating opening a down-town office in the store-room recently vacated by M. D. White, on Bridge street.

INCREASE CREWS

Dominion Company Requires More Miners Since Second Furnace Blew In

Rawhide's New Seven-Drill Air Compressor Arrives

The force of miners employed by the Dominion Copper company in Phoenix camp has been considerably increased since the company blew in the second furnace at its Boundary Falls smelter. The Brooklyn is working full time, and three shifts are working at the Stemwinder. The new seven-drill air compressor for the Rawhide, after many delays, has arrived at the the mine. It is the first compressor of this make in the Boundary. It will use electric power from Cascade.

At the company's Boundary Falls smelter the two furnaces are handling as much as 750 tons of ore in 24 hours. Not quite 5000 tons were smelted last week.

The company hopes to secure no inconsiderable tonnage from the Idaho, adjoining the Brookiyn and Granby mines. This property has never shipped.

Opposition Will Fight the Big Land Grant on Kaien Island

Land Act Prohibits Alienation of Land for Railway Purposes

A Victoria dispatch says that the Grand Trunk Pacific may not be allowed to enter iuto peaceable possession of the land which they have arranged for at Kaien island through Mr. E. V. Bodwell. In a speech in the legislature, Mr. A. J. Macdonald, leader of the opposition, made a sweeping attack on the whole scheme, and defied the attorney-general to take the matter to the courts for a test. The government made the grant under section 39 of the Land Act, which states that the government can make such grants from reserves for the purposes of public advantage, but which expressly prohibits their alienation for railway bonuses.

Mr. Macdonald says the government act was in the very teeth of the provisions of the Land Act, and that if it is allowable under this Act there is no reason why the government cannot grant every townsite along the whole line of the Grand Trunk in British Columbia for a distance of 800 miles to the same corporation, thus conferring a most valuable kind of a subsidy on the railway, without consulting the representatives of the people.

The grant at Kaien island covers fifteen square miles, twice the area of Victoria. The opposition has called for all the papers in the matter.

Mayor Naden, of Greenwood, has given notice that an amendment to the liquor license by-law will be brought in restricting the number of licenses to thirteen, the number now in force. Ald. Nelson has given notice that an amendment to this will be made with a view to sustaining the present by-law. Mayor Naden proposes to decrease the licenses, hut increase the license fee, so that the city's income may not be lessened.

Jay P. Graves, manager of the Granby Consolidated, is president of four electric railway companies, viz., the Spokane Traction company, the Spokane Terminal company, the Spokane & Inland Railway company, and the Inland Empire Railway company.

Harry Sibble, representing the Western Clarion, Vancouver, B. C., was in the city this week, and called at The Sun office Mr. Sibble came over the Great Northern grade between Princeton and Midway, and says that construction work at all the camps is progressing favorably. He believes that tracklaying will be commenced early in May.

The Great Northern Bulletin, published by the passenger department of the Northern Northern railway, has found its way to The Sun office. It illustrates and describes the fruit growing industry of Washington and this province, and and a number of scenes from Covert's ranch near this city are given.

"The liquor license by-law now in force to remain as it is, unless its repeal or amendment is requested by a petition of the majority of ratepayers."—Mayor Hutton's Platform.

No such petition has been sent n to the council; and yet, even before a l the aldermen have taken the oath of office, Mayor Hutton called a special meeting of the council, and notice has been given that the by-law will be annulled or amended. It is difficult to reconcile this action of the new city administration with Mr. Hutton's pre-election pledges, unless we assume that he is irrevocably bound to the saloon element, and that he gained his election under false pretenses.

The stories being circulated to the effect that it will cost fabulous sums to defend the by-law in the courts are without foundation, and are evidently being spread broadcast with the object of turning public sentiment against the law. The Sun has obtained the opinion of one of the leading barristers in the city on this subject. If the corporation lost the case, which is not probable, it would cost the city between $500 and $600; and, on the other hand, if the city came out victorious, the expenses would be reduced to about $150.

In view of these facts, it would appear that the only sensible way to proceed in the matter would be to test the validity of the by-law, and then, if demanded by the ratepayers, submit the question respecting the number of licenses to a vote of the people. That would settle the matter for all time to come. But as long as there is one bar-room to every one hundred men, women and children in the city the liquor traffic question cannot be regarded as a dead issue.

The Sun in its last issue entirely forgot to wish its numerous readers in the Celestial empire a happy new year, and takes this opportunity to correct the oversight.

Broken Sleep-Tired Next Morning

Sleep not only rests, but builds up the body. Cut down the hours of sleep, and you cut down health in the same proportion. Rebuilding then ceases, nerves go to smash, you grow tired, weak and wretched.

To restore sleep you must get more bodily strength, more nutritious blood, healthier nerves. Ferrozone solves the problem, makes you sleep soundly, gives endurance, vim, ambition. No more morning weakness—instead the fire of youth will run in your veins, supplying abundance of energy and vigor. Witchery expresses the instant effect of Ferrosone; try it. All druggists.

A Rare Treat

Manager Johnson has secured the famous "Juvenile Bostonians," composed of twenty-five clever and talented little artists from Yankeeland. INDIAN SUMMER.

Here, here—
It is no wrong steer—
This is the place,
And the case
Looks good.
What would
We do without it?
Speaking of a hit,
In its russet frock
It's a winner by the clock.
A gay and joyous hummer,
Our own Indian summer—
That's right.
Bright
And gorgeous as a red barn
Or a skein of yarn.
It calls us to look
At a picture you don't find in the book
Or on the wall.
Tall
And stately trees
Fling to the breeze
Their banners of red and gold,
As you have been told
Before.
But you needn't get sore
On hearing it again,
For when
Nature takes her paint brush in hand
Human artists must stand
Back and admire,
For this is a higher
Branch than they can hope to reach.
Nature can teach
Them a few of the tricks of the trade
And throw their handmade daubs into the gloomiest shade.
Come. It's a free show—
The rainbow
Brought down from the skies
And cut into chunks of convenient size.
It's gorgeous, glorious, great, grand,
awe inspiring and then some,
By gum!
But why waste
Sauce? Get a dictionary and add adjectives to suit the taste.

An Interesting Forest.

The largest continuous distinct forest district in west Prussia is known as the Tucheler Haide and extends over an area of thirty-five square miles. It is subject to great and sudden changes of temperature. Snow has fallen as late as May 19, and night frosts have occurred as late as the 1st and 3d of June. Prehistoric remains are found belonging to the later stone and to the bronze ages. The inhabitants are occupied almost entirely with forestry and agriculture. Polish is still the prevalent language, though German is now generally understood.

"Let the Catts Goe."

From an account sent by one Bragge to the East India company in 1621 it would appear that a very particular value was placed upon imported cats. Here is the entry: "Item, for 20 Dogges and a greate many Catts which, under God, ridd away and devoured all the Ratts in that land (Bermuda), which formerly eate up all your corne, and many other blessed fruites which that land afforded. Well, for theis, I will demand but 5lb. apiece for the Dogges, and let the Catts goe. 100 lb. Os. Od."

Thrashing Trollope.

During Anthony Trollope's early days in the postoffice it was the custom for the junior clerks to take turns in the waiting room to answer questions. One day, when Trollope was on duty, a young woman came to make some complaint, and she went away much displeased and upset by what she considered to be the gross rudeness with which she had been treated by him.

Next day, Trollope being again on waiting room duty, two stalwart young men appeared, and, having ascertained that they were in the company of the clerk, who had been in attendance there on the previous day, they shut the door and proceeded to give A. T. a most severe thrashing. The pair together completely overpowered the future novelist, whom they informed, when they had sufficiently chastised him, that this was punishment for his insolence to the young woman who had called at the office on the previous day and who was their sister.—Westminster Gazette.

What Ailed Him.

"This liver is rotten, and my mother sent it back," said the small boy, depositing his package on the counter.

"What's the matter with the boy?" asked the proprietor, coming up.

"Liver complaint," briefly explained the clerk.

Synopsis of Regulations Governing the Disposal of Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt in the Province of British Columbia.

A LICENSE to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths excepting those situated West of Yale, for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:—

Sawn lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B.M.

Railway ties, eight and nine feet long, 1½ and 1¾ cents each.

Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent, on the sales.

A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in unsurveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up to 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from ½ to 1½ cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 12½ to 25 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 3 cents for railway ties; and 50 cents per cord on shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of twenty-one years at a rental of two cents an acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for agricultural purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead, is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land to each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the Department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle, to be actually his own property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be accepted instead of the cultivation.

(2) If father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of the Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such persons as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for a patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent or a homestead inspector.

Before making an application for a patent, the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Liked One Legged Wives.

The late Augustus Hare tells of a one legged woman who became the third wife of a prosperous widower. One day while searching the closets she came upon two cork legs, each labeled with the name of a different woman. In fear and rage she went among the relatives of her husband asking questions. But they pacified her by saying that both his first and second wives had also been obliged to wear an artificial limb and that the husband's married life in each case had been so happy that he had sworn never to marry any but a one legged woman.

Education.

Education is not a certain amount of raw knowledge which you have been able to stow away. There are many men full of facts who in a moment's conversation show they are without an education. True, education is the awakening of the mind to see and enjoy—it is giving it wings by which to mount higher, see more clearly and enjoy more fully.

Genius.

"That boy of yours looks like a genius."

"Well, I reckon he must be. He's got a most amazin' appetite, would ruther sleep in the garret than on the first floor, walks in his sleep, tries to play football with the stars an' climbs a tree whenever he sees a bailiff comin'!"

Barred the Old Man.

Agent of Apartment House—I think you say you have no family. House Hunter—Only my husband and myself. My husband's father will live with us part of the time, but he's old and childish, and— Agent—Childish? I'm sorry, madam, but I can't let you have the rooms.

Relieved.

"Ah!" she said, with a sigh of relief, as the flames licked up the last bit of what had once been her happy home. "that old Bible with the date of my birth in it is gone, anyway."

See and Saw.

"W'at is yer goin' t' do wid dat saw, Mr. Doctor?" asked the alarmed colored patient in the hospital ward as he saw the surgeon come in the room with a saw and other instruments.

"Oh, Sam," replied the physician, with a 2 by 6 smile, "I'm just going to see if I can saw where your trouble is."—Exchange.

Japanese Playing Cards.

"Japanese playing cards," writes a correspondent who has given some study to the playing cards of different countries, "are unlike those of any other country on earth. In shape they resemble those used in France and other countries on the continent, but they are very much smaller than ordinary cards, being but two inches in length by one in breadth. The backs of the cards are almost invariably black and with true Japanese artistic instinct are pasted over the edges of the cards so as to leave a narrow rim to form a frame on the face of the card. The symbols are stenciled and the card varnished or enameled, thus causing it to be extremely slippery. The pack consists of forty-nine cards, the extra one, which has a plain white face, being used or not at option as a 'joker.'"
