No Evidence of Rush but Work is Proceeding Steadily

Construction work on the Kettle Valley railway west from Midway seems to be moving very slowly, though the work is supposed to be "rushed." The steel has now reached a point 15 miles north of Carmi, or about 70 miles west of Midway. The roadbed is in readiness close up to the summit and the present delay is occasioned principally by the construction of bridges, of which there are a great many along the line. The steel is laid to the site of the bridge and the bridge timber brought in and the bridge, the steel gang surfacing and ballasting the roadbed while the bridge is being constructed. A force of about a hundred carpenters are employed at Carmi framing the bridges in readiness for being installed.

CHURCH RE-OPENING

The special services in connection with re-openining of the church after renovation and change of the interior were held on Sunday last when services took place both morning and evening. Rev.s Cameron and McKenzie were both present in the morning, and in the evening Mr. McKenzie conducted the service alone. There was a good turnout, especially at the evening service, as Hedley has never yet managed to get into the habit of churchgoing in the morning. The improvement effected by the changes made has been most marked, and the artistic touch given it resulted in lending a pleasing effect which was heightened by the handsome floral decorations so tastefully arranged by those who had the matter in hand and generously donated by Mr. Hamilton and Mesdames Wirth, Mairhofer, Jones and Clare. The choir furnished special music for both occasions.

THE CONCERT

On Monday evening following, the ladies of the congregation held an ice cream social on the grounds which was well patronized. Following the social the people assembled in the church where the choir, assisted by Miss Daly of Keremeos and Mrs. Lyon of Hedley, presented a musical concert. Vocal solos were rendered by Messrs. Howe and Barrett which were well received by the audience. Miss Daly of Keremeos delighted those present with her rendition of Kingsley's "Three Fishers" and being heartily recalled responded with a "Lullaby Song." Mrs. Robertson of Detroit captured her listeners with her clear, sweet, soprano voice in her "Abide With Me," and as an encore, sang "The Singing in God's Acre." Among other items deserving of special mention were a ladies' quartette and a male quartette, and last but not least, the violin selections of Mrs. G.B. Lyon which by many were regarded a rare treat. Her first selection was Gounod's "Ave Maria", played with excellent expression and marked purity of tone which showed the wonderful advance she has made in her violin studies. For encore she gave Schumann's "Traumerei", ever a favorite with artists on the violin. The choir in their chorus numbers sang in good style and reflected credit on their leader and organist, Mr. L. K. Farr. Rev. Mr. McKenzie made a splendid chairman and was never at a loss for something to say as the programme proceeded. The proceeds were; door recipts $47.40 which the choir will vote to some special purpose at the Friday evening's rehearsal; receipts from ice cream sales, cake sales and small donations $21.00 making a total of $68.40.

GAME LAW TYRANNY

To hear some of the complaints in regard to the enforcements of the new game law one would think that all common sense had been pushed to the background and tyranny substituted. No man without a licence to carry a gun can, according to the construction of some of our game wardens, defend himself with a gun against the destruction of his property or personal safety on the roads, by any animal that roams the wilds. If this is true it is time some horse sense were hammered into the heads of the men enforcing the law.—Enderby Press.

EVERYBODY NOTE THESE FIGURES

The Output of the Nickel Plate Mine in Camp Hedley to End of July, 1913, is $5,104,372.87

As there seems to be a persistent misconception on the outside as to the output of the Nickel Plate mine in Camp Hedley and statements are every once and a while given out that grossly understate the real output the Gazette has come to the conclusion that it will be necessary to present the correct figures at regular intervals, until all will get the correct amount or something approaching that. Earlier in the year we had occasion to present the output in detail to correct a misstatement in the Nelson News which placed the output up to the end of 1911 at $2,500,000 to $2,700,000.

Now we have to draw attention to wrong figures given again in the official guide book compiled in Ottawa for the use of members of the International Geological Congress which places the output of the Nickel Plate up to the beginning of 1913 at $3,250,000. This we think must be an oversight on the part of the compiler, and when attention is brought to the error it will doubtless be corrected in due time before any more of the books are placed in circulation.

Meanwhile isn't it about time the Nelson News had acknowledged its error of last January and that a correction should be forthcoming?

Following is a detailed statement of production year by year:

Value up to end of 1907	$1,617,229.49
1908, 44,068 tons at $13.35 per ton	588,507.80
1909, 31,100 tons at $11.58 per ton	360,138.00
1910, 44,828 tons at $12.31 per ton	551,832.68
1911, 57,815 tons at $11.99 per ton	693,201.85
1912, 70,455 tons as per statement	788,715.05
1913, For first six months	439,094.50
1913, for July	65,653.50
Total	$5,104,372.87

GRAND FORKS' HOT PROBLEM

Doukhobours Chase Constables Off the Premises With Knives, Pitchforks and Rocks

Fleeing before a fusilade of flying rocks, after being viciously attacked with knives and pitchforks in the hands of Doukhobor men and women, Constable Geo. Stanfield, Chief of Police Savage and chauffeur Stanaway made their escape from a local Doukhobor colony Monday afternoon, carrying with them marks on their bodies. It was the same colony of Doukhobors that recieved William Blakemore with open arms on his visit last fall and whom he idolized in his report to the Govenment as being so peaceable and law-abiding.

The officers had been sent by Coroner Black to bring a certain Doukhobor to give evidence at the death of the Doukhobor woman. The officers went quietly to get their man, and were simply summoning him to the inquest. But the Doukhobors, who on previous occasions have chased the officers off their premises in a similar way, went after the officers so viciously with various weapons, the women flourishing knives in their faces and men with forks, that the officials had to retreat and leave their man behind. Even in the retreat the Doukhobors hurled stones at the automobile in which they were effecting escape.

THE CHIEF'S FUNERAL

Early on Thursday morning of last week the remains of Charlie Allison, late chief of the Chu-chu-wey-ha Indians on the various reservations adjoining Hedley, were laid at rest in the burial plot near the mission church of the O. M. I.

Burial mass was conducted by Rev. Father Conant O.M.I. who has for several years past been the faithful pastor of the band. As there must have been fully 100 Indians present it is evident that almost every settlement or reservation between Chopaka and Princeton must have been represented. The little church was packed full and there must have been 30 or more Indians outdoors alongside the church who responded to the services being held inside which was rendered practicable by means of the open windows. This service was very lengthy but there appeared to be no flagging of interest or attention on the part of the Indians present.

The service in the church being ended the bell tolled and the Indians fyled out and formed a procession, carrying the remains to the burial plot on the mound a few yards in the rear. The characteristic feature was devoutness and solemnity without a single trace of the emotional, and the service together with the ceremony at the grave made a spectacle that for impressiveness was one not soon to be forgotten.

A CORRECTION

W. Simons returned last Saturday from Spokane and Creston in Washington. His father died in the hospital in Spokane on August 10th and since that date he was busily engaged in winding up the estate which is very considerable, as his father died possessed of 1400 acres of land at Creston. In conversation with him on his return we were put in possession of facts in connection with his affairs which shows that we were misled altogether in the information which was given us by different parties and which had appeared to be general in the town for weeks. On account of such misinformation we were led to do him an injustice in the item which appeared in last issue in reference to his children being left in a destitute condition here and also in reference to his unpaid bills. Feeling that an injustice was done him we believe it to be our duty towards him and particularly towards ourselves to make a correction as full as possible and at the first possible opportunity, for the knowledge that one has done an injustice, no matter how unintentional, is not a pleasant one to contemplate. Mr. Simons admits that he has owed bills here and to a considerable amount and still owes such, but denies that he has ever tried to evade any just debt, and for our own part we have no reason whatever to doubt his statement in the matter. He informs us that he has been in communication every week with the girl who was left in charge of the children and it was a most malicious thing on the part of those who concocted and spread the stories which have been in circulation here. While he had every reason to be aggrieved with what appeared in last issue of this paper, he used no offensive language, made no threats nor did he even damand or request either apology or correction, but that is no reason why he should not have it and as full as possible. We regret exceedingly that the item in question was likely to place his position in a false light, and especially under such circumstances.

JUSTICE CLEMENT'S CASE

Change of Venue from Ottawa to Vancouver Probable

A Vancouver dispatch says that it is probable that the venue in the action of the Dominion against Mr. Justice Clement, of the supreme court of British Columbia, will be changed from Ottawa to Vancouver. It is an action to recover an excess of travelling fees alleged to have been charged by the judge. It is claimed that while residing in Vancouver Judge Clement put in bills and was paid for constant trips from Grand Forks to that city. The amount involved is about $3000.

LOCAL TRAIN WRECK

Gravel Slide Near Princeton Derails Part of Westbound Train

The westbound train on the Great Northern otherwise known as No. 396, met with a mishap on Saturday about a mile out of Princeton. The accident occurred in a gravel cut near where the spur to the Cement Works leaves the main track. Two flat cars had been taken up ahead of the engine down near Allison, and a slide of gravel in which was a large boulder became loosened and rolled down on to the track as the train was passing. It struck a wheel of the front flat car and knocked it off the track, derailing the second flat and also the front trucks of the engine, although the other wheels of the engine and the rest of the train following it stayed on and suffered no hurt, and none of the passengers were injured in any way. Brakeman Silvernail who was riding on the flats was not so fortunate and while those two cars were being demolished he was thrown off, but fortunately thrown clear of the wreck. It was thought at first that he was seriously injured, and a report went out that his ankle had been broken. Dr. Campbell was on the train and took the injured man in charge. No bones were broken but a badly bruised ankle, arm and shoulder will keep him a prisoner for a fortnight or more. He was removed to the hospital in Princeton, and on Monday was well enough to be taken to his home in Oroville.

The passengers walked into Princeton and their luggage and the mails conveyed there. Another engine was sent from Oroville to clear up the wreck but it was ten o'clock when the train reached Princeton and an hour later than that when it got back to Hedley on the return trip.

WILL NOT SUB-LET

McArchur Brothers to Build the Coquihalla Link of K. V. Themselves

MacArthur Brothers Company, the successful tenderers for the building of the western division of the Kettle Valley Railway, are losing no time in getting to work. Word was given some time ago to experienced station men to stay at Hope and be ready at short notice. Last night C. E. Tinkler, of San Francisco, arrived from the coast to assemble a force of men.

Fears were entertained in some quarters, based on guesses made by Vancouver newspaper men, that the work would be begun at the eastern end and material and supplies drawn from Merritt. Such fears, however, are groundless. Early in the week a business man in Hope received a letter from the firm's office in Vancouver stating that Mr. Hitchcock would be general manager on the contract, that he would make his headquarters in Hope, and that work would begin in a few days.

It is further evident from the numbers of men arriving every evening that agents of the firm in Vancouver are engaging men for the work.

There are to be no sub-contractors. When representatives of the K. V., V. V. & E., and Great Northern Railways agreed on the acceptance of MacArthur Brothers' tender, it was stipulated by the two last named interests that that firm should take the whole work directly and sub-let only to station men.

It is likely that the beginning will be made on the east side of the Coquihalla and that the first construction camp will be established there.

Boring in midstream for the piers for the Fraser River bridge is now in progress under J. Powers with an augmented crew. The idea of throwing a cable across the river has been abandoned and the scow will be held in position by anchors.

The Cement Works at East Princeton are up against an enforced shutdown of some five weeks or more while repairs are being made. Faulty material used in construction while the boilers were being put in has resulted in a subsidence that required immediate attention. The circumstance has given rise to a great deal of talk, and judgement should be withheld until full and reliable information is obtained.

FORCEFULLY PUT

It is not always we can agree with the editorial utterances of our cotem. the Similkameen Star of Princeton, but the following aptly put ideas on the United States attitude in reference to the Panama Canada is something which we can endorse. In doing so we are pleased also to know that we are in accord with the best American papers and best American statesmen —men like Senator Root and journals like the Scientific American. The Star says;

"When a man or a nation will sacrifice honor by breaking a promise or violating a treaty for money gain, then that man or nation is in danger of great humiliation, loss, and probable downfall. To lose the respect of fellowmen is a most deplorable condition, destructive of happiness and obliteration from good society and friendship. That a great nation like the United States should repudiate a treaty regarding the Panama Canal to appease the insatiate greed of millionaires and monopolists for more dollars is one of the most pitiable phases of unrighteous depravity on record. No doubt it is galling Uncle Sam to know that ninety per cent. of the ships to use the canal will be British but he ought to be 'sport' enough to stand by his pledge and word of honor. Let him or anyone read the treaty and then see if there is not a definite and explicit promise which he now wants to ignominously break. Here is a section of the treaty:—

> "The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respects to the conditions or charges of traffic; such conditions and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable".

"Star does not desire to play the role of a buttinsky but it is sure of pardon if it suggests to our neighbors that close adherence to its pledged word is the only method by which it can maintain its heretofore high standing among nations. Further there is a certain retribution and compensatory punishment in store for all who forsake honor for mere pelf. The ghosts of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln will forever haunt the 'White House' if a president should be found weak enough to deny other nations the same rights and equality that he would expect to receive from them.

RESTRICTIONS WAIVED

American Goods Destined for Diggings Will Be Permitted to Cross Yukon Without Deposit

Dawson, Y. T., Aug. 18.—The Canadian Customs Department has waived the restrictions on American goods crossing the Yukon to the diggings at the strike on Chestna river in Alaska, near the head of the White river. Such goods in transit will be allowed to pass without deposit, and where supervision is necesary to see that the goods are taken into the United States the expense of the same will be paid for by the Canadian Customs Department.

This arangement has been made on the recommendation of Commissioner Black and Dr. Alfred Thompson, M. P., and by Hon. Mr. Hazen, minister of marine, while in Dawson. No duty is being charged on Canadian goods being taken across the boundary to the new strike. Many are outfitting at Dawson, the nearest supply point.

Dr. D. D. Cairnes, Dominion geologist has just arrived at Dawson from the new camp, and reports the strike rich and that the only feasible route is up the White river by steamer 90 miles to Donjek and thence by pack horse to the diggings, 60 miles. Large amounts of gold were being taken out when the party left camp. Dr. Cairnes brought with him some splendid samples of nuggets and coarse gold and he reports the formation ideal for deposit placer gold and that the same extends to the Canadian side of the line.

Mr. George MacClean, comptroller for the Yukon, has been transferred to Ottawa and Mr. G. A. Jeckell appointed to succeed him.

PROMISING PROPERTY

Owners of Aufeas at Hope Confident they have Another Nickel Plate

After a long delay due to the necessity of timbering, the driving of the Aufeas tunnel was resumed during the week and up to last night eight feet more had been driven still all in ore, making a width, now known, of more than 17 feet and the farther wall not reached.

Details of the assays, a brief summary of the result of which was given last week, are now to hand. Only seven samples were taken all differing in appearance—the ore is not uniform in either character or appearance. A piece of white quartz assayed $3.35, dark quartz $4.29, mispickle and quartz $6.04, a large piece of dark ore $6.60, mispickle and white quartz $9.37, pyrites $173.02 and pyrites and dark quartz $62.46. The last two results were checked by a second assay. The total for the seven samples was $265.13, an average of $37.87. The highest value in silver was 65 cents, in copper one per cent.

After the hanging wall is reached a thorough sampling will be made across the whole width of the lead, the assay of which will give more accurately the average value of the ore body.

The resemblance to the Nickle Plate property is further exemplified by the occurance of the high grade ore in strata separated by layers of quartz which are themselves heavily mineralized. At the Nickle Plate the whole ore body, strata of mispickle and intervening quartz, is milled giving a value of about $11 a ton. A similar method will ultimately have to be followed at the Aufeas. The first test gives ground for hope that the ore will be distinctly higher grade than the Nickle Plate's but there are not enough data to warrant an assertion to that effect. One difference between the Aufeas and the Hedley Camp property is that in the latter the strata are horizontal, in the Aufeas they are vertical.—Review.

MANUFACTURERS are of two kinds—the honest and dishonest. The one makes the best goods, the other makes the worst. Each has his own particular scheme of life.

The honest manufacturer aims to make the best goods he can and to advertise them so that all the world will know of their merits. He courts investigation. He wants customers to hold him to a rigid accountability.

The dishonest manufacturer hopes to profit by deception. He produces an article that will be offered as "just as good" though he knows it is inferior. He seeks to make a larger profit than the honest manufacturer, and this larger profit is necessary because he has to find new customers day after day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Boeing and daughter went down to Oroville on Friday last to spend Sunday with friends.

H. C. N. (Pruss) Etches of Keremeos was in town between trains on Friday. "Pruss" we may explain is short for prussic acid, which is hydrocyanic acid with symbol HCN.

The matron of the Hedley Hospital acknowledges the receipt from Mrs. E. M. Daly of a sack of potatoes, another sack of mixed vegetables, three boxes of apples and a box of peaches.

George Allison is back in the hospital again. His foot was getting more uneasy and he came up to have the Dr. look at it, and on examination the doctor sent him back into the hospital again.

There was a break in the flume early Monday morning which occurred about halfway between the watchman's cabin and the dam. Repairs were effected in time to start up again before evening.

F. H. French and family accompanied by Miss Allen and R. S. Collin made an auto party over to Penticton on Thursday last for the regatta. They returned about midnight and report a very pleasant trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams left on Saturday for a short holiday at the coast. They went out by way of Penticton, and accompanied Mr. Jones in the Company's car which took them over to catch Sunday's boat up the lake.

Homer McLean was down from the auto road camp on Saturday evening. Earlier in the summer they were short of men but now they have no trouble getting all they require. The work is going on nicely and the road is almost completed to Hardy creek.

G. P. Jones left for Victoria on Saturday to appear for the Hedley Gold Mining Company at the hearing before the comptroller of water rights when the matter of water right for power purposes, on the Similkameen river, is expected to be decided.

Miss Blake left for Princeton on Saturday morning to enter on her duties as teacher after a pleasant visit in Hedley where she was a guest of Mrs. G. P. Jones. She was thus a passenger on the train which suffered wreck a mile or two from Princeton.

A bell tower has been erected on Irene St. about half a dozen steps east of Scott avenue and the fire bell mounted thereon. The next evening an alarm was rung to which the brigade responded by a quick run with the reel to the Bank of B. N. A. corner.

Mrs. Donald McCallum and Mrs. R. C. Clarke of Keremeos were visitors to Hedley between trains on Friday. It was Mrs. McCallum's first visit to Hedley and she was much taken with some of the pretty flower gardens here for which Hedley is now becoming noted.

Considerable interest is manifested in the valley regarding the probable election of a new Indian chief to succeed the late Charlie Allison. Nothing has been learned as yet when the Indians will elect a new head as their local executive officer, and while rumor suggests some names as being in the running, it is all merely conjecture.

The disappointment caused by cancellation of the Similkameen tour for the visiting geologists took a very tangible form in the case of Mr. Ralph Stokes, M. E., assistant engineer of the Canadian Mining and Exploration Company. He was here three weeks ago and came back to Hedley last week from Banff expecting to meet them here, knowing nothing of the cancellation until he arrived. Mr. Stokes was a delegate from South Africa to the congress but was unable to take in the meetings in Toronto owing to his professional engagements here in the west, but had made his arrangements to be with the party on this and some of their other trips in British Columbia.

Tim Griffin returned last week from his camp on Cedar Creek where he has been doing some development work on some promising claims.

School re-opened in Hedley in the lower department with the new teacher in charge. Mr. Hill did not open his room owing to the lack of supplies which had not come to hand. The dealer on the coast who had been given an order for the text-books required was unable to fill all of the order and thus the delay was occasioned. It is expected the missing texts will be along the begining of the week

M. C. Hill principal of Hedley superior school returned from Nelson last week where he had spent several weeks of the holidays taking a special course of physical drill which was prescribed by the department for all teachers in the province, except in a few instances where the department had already been advised of the proficiency of certain teachers in that line.

M. Mackenzie whom we referred to in last issue as being moved from the Hedley branch of the Bank of B. N. A. to Victoria, later received a telegram to report at once in Quesnelle. In all probability he is being sent there temporarily to relieve the manager for a spell and will go to Victoria later. The sudden call disarranged the plans of some of his friends who were intending to give him a send-off, for Mac made many staunch friends in Hedley.

The Gazette was pleased to have a call on Saturday morning from Dr. and Mrs. Campbell of Princeton. The doctor has recently located in Princeton for the practice of his profession. The editor was pleased to find that he remembers the doctor when he was a bright mischievous juvenile ready for any boyish prank that the juvenile mind can devise. He comes from a family of medical practitioners and as he likes the appearance of the Similkameen he can be counted on to make good here.

The Labor Day programme completed by the Miners' Union for their sports shows that an attractive bill of fare in the sports line has been provided, and sufficient has already been learned of the crowd coming to ensure one of the most successful celebrations ever held here. For the rock-drilling it is known that at least five teams from the valley will compete and word has been received that two teams are coming from Rossland. The baseball offers also to be a drawing card and to meet the wishes of those in Keremeos and Princeton lacrosse will also form part of the sport. For it a prize of $100 is allowed. The dance committee are busy getting in readiness for that part of the entertainment to be provided for celebrants.

A subscriber in Saskatchewan in renewing his subscription tells of the speed with which towns on the prairies grow. Neville, the town from which he writes is something less than two years old and the initial number of a new paper just started shows 288 inches of local advertising which would make 15 columns of the Gazette. There is in the town almost every trade and profession represented and all of them carry ads. It is no wonder such a town should go ahead when it has enterprising citizens of that kind behind it. The crops in that section are going to be particularly good this year in spite of the fact that heavy hail storms did much damage. The hail insurance companies have in consequence been required to make good large losses to the farmers.

INDIANS WIN BALL GAME

The Indians down the valley brought up their ball team on Sunday afternoon and played Hedley. That they sprang somewhat of a surprise goes without saying and at the end they had the long end of a 14 to 12 score, While as a team they have much yet to learn about the finer points of the game they have a few players who were exceptionally good and especially the shortstop and catcher. Witchy Allison the Indian shortstop is credited with some of the finest pick-ups seen on the grounds here and the Indian catcher who perhaps understands the game better than any of the rest of his side, played a good game behind the bat, while his pegging to second was deadly in its accuracy and rapidity. Of course Hedley had not their best team on, but nevertheless they know now where they can get a team that will give them a good practice game any time they want it.

Don't forget that the hunting season opens on Sept. 1st and that Louis C. Rolls & Co. has a full line of guns and ammunition on hand at the lowest prices.

Town and Lower Valley.

Dr. Jermyn is building a row boat on the Osoyoos lake.

Babe Kruger, constable of Fairview, was in town last week.

Mrs. (Rev.) McKenzie was a visitor to Hedley on Monday.

Miss Nellie Maneiy returned home to Similkameen last Sunday.

K. C. Brown of Princeton was a visitor to town over the week end.

Mrs. R. C. Clarke and Mrs. Donald McCallum were visitors to Hedley on Friday.

Mrs. Boyd and daughter, Genevieve, left on Monday evening's train for Spokane.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Carmichael, on Friday morning 22nd of August, a daughter.

After the cool spell it was a great treat for many to have another good swim in the Similkameen river.

Now that the cool spell is over the peaches will just come rolling in and will make a busy time for the shippers.

H. Whiting has been appointed agent for Rock Creek and Keremeos and country intervening, for the Coldstream Nurseries.

The Noxious Weed Act was enforced at Rock Creek last week. A. Cameron and H. Martin were fined $5.00 and costs each for contavening.

A party including Mrs. and Miss Bromley, Miss Ella Innis, Messrs. Robert Hogg, Sam and Robert McCurdy drove up to Hedley to take in the concert at the mining city.

Owing to the lateness of the train Mrs. McCurdy and her daughter, Lilian, had to stay over night in Keremeos going down the valley Sunday with G. G. Keeler in the transport.

Miss Annie Easton, after spending a pleasant holiday in the coast cities, returned last Friday and on Monday went down to Similkameen where she took charge of the school at that place.

W. M. Frith, Mrs. Frith and children, Miss Bromley, Miss Margaret Clark and Joe Bromley returned from Osoyoos Lake where they had spent a most pleasant and enjoyable two weeks' holiday.

J. M. Young and his road gang have moved camp two or three miles further west along the Hedley road. Good work has been done on the road, and if we have a little more rain shortly will be in fine shape.

The party which went to Hedley for the concert arrived back since the starting of these notes, and report a very pleasant time and a splendid concert. As I typewrite these feeble lines some are still sleeping; now make a noise like a snore. ÷»—æ—

Seventy boxes of apples were shipped by J. A. Brown to Vancouver where they will be put on the boat for Australia. This is the first shipment for the Australian market from this valley. The apples were grown on the Similkameen Fruit Lands property.

Mrs. J. A. Brown after spending a number of months in Manitoba where she had been called owing to the illness of her mother, returned Wednesday morning looking very well and pleased to say that her mother was well enough so that she could leave for home.

Three or four citizens of the Empire and a couple of Uncle Sam's were around bright and early and got the flag pole up and hoisted the good old Union Jack at the school house on Monday morning before Miss Scott took charge of the children. The school opened with most of the old pupils present, and after a little time was taken getting them in their various classes, Miss Scott dismissed the school so that they would feel quite at home to start with fresh energy on Tuesday morning.

On Sunday Anderson's and Green-Wood's auto was commissioned by a party including T. W. Coleman, K. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Carle and children, Miss Olive Vader, J. D. Smith and W. R. Hope for the day. They left town about 10 a.m. and going by Richter's pass, they camped for lunch at Osoyoos Lake. Here they visited Mr. Frith and his party who were camping on the lake. From there they went to Fairview where they had supper after which they went on to Penticton and returned to Keremeos after spending a most pleasant day.

The church-goers of Keremeos thought the pastors had been playing them a practical joke on Sunday. As no person here except Mr. Cameron and Mr. McKenzie have keys of the church building and both were in Hedley running "the double-header" spoken of in last week's Gazette, the parents and kiddies who gathered for Sunday school were unable to get in. As next best thing they all of them said the golden text to themselves and went home. Of course the kiddies were broken-hearted with the disappointment and, incidentally, the holiday which resulted from it.

George Riddle of Hedley is there. Where? At the wheel of the auto. Yes, he came in Keremeos that way with an eagle eye on the road ahead. He was fairly pushing back the dust. He is getting to be a regular chauffeur, and before long we expect to see him in Hedley running an auto bus between the town and the depot. After a little repair work Mr. Turner took the wheel and took a trip to Green Mountain and return accompanied by Mrs. D. J. Innis and children, Miss Ella Innis and the writer of the episode. A very pleasant time was spent by the whole party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Clark with whom they had supper before returning.

RUSH TO JOIN THE ARMY

Colonel Denison, the magistrate of the Toronto police court, is a very genial, very informal, rather sophisticated old gentleman with confidence in the evidence of his own eyes and ears, and a faculty of quick decision. Sometimes the prison habitues, who wouldn't feel natural unless they were riding to or from jail try to touch him in a vulnerable spot, says Robson Black, writing in August Canada Monthly under the title of "A Dollar and Costs." Four American racetrack sharps were arraigned on charges of vagrancy. The first said "not guilty, your honor," the second, "not guilty, your lordship," the third, "not guilty, your excellency," and the fourth, "not guilty, your highness." "What's this, what's this?" spoke the colonel, amazed; "I would like to know who has been training this American quartette?" "I wouldn't worry," suggested Mr. Robinette, "they probably think they are facing the Privy Council."

"Now Colonel," argued a frescoed drink-fiend, smiling a smile of bogus mirth. "I'm an Old Country army man like yourself, and had my little fall and want a chance to find a job."

"Army man, eh? whereabouts?"

"Dublin Fusiliers, sir."

"You ought to be ashamed to be where you are. Clear out and don't come back."

The next prisoner was a hall-marked Italian. "Colonel," said he, "I expec' you to be easy wid anoder ole army man?"

"Old army man, eh! What regiment?"

The prisoner thought a moment and replied "Cork."

"Cork what?"

"Cork Refuses," he faltered.

"To the jail," cried the colonel: and then he looked sardonically at the clerk of court and remarked: "Did you ever see such a rush to join the army?"

MINING NOTES

Oroville is rejoicing in the possession of an operating mining property at their door. It is the Owasco three miles west of the town and formerly known as the Okanogan Free Gold Mines. The owners have a ten stamp mill in operation. Of the enterprize the Oroville Gazette says: "The managers go along installing machinery of the best, operating on systematic plans, meet their bills promptly, purchase homes in town as though here to stay, and are not hawking stock over the country. If the mineral in paying quantities is in the ground they will find it and take it out. If the mine is of no value they propose to find that out. The problem will be solved within a few months. If success follows the owners will receive large returns upon their investment. If failure results there is not left behind a trail of deluded stockholders to mourn the loss of hard earned dollars injudiciously invested."
