ATTEMPTED MURDER

Italian Tries to Behead Fellow-laborer—Victim in Hospital Here—Culprit Captured

Italian navvies working on the V. V. & E. grade spoilod the reputation for good behavior which they enjoyed when working in this vicinity.

On Saturday night one of them, Carmenuchi Dominick, made a murderous assault with a razor on Jim Volpe in which he attempted to behead him. The affray took place in Princeton on the platform in front of the Tulameen hotel. The men had been working out on the line at station work and came into Princeton that afternoon. There was no quarrelling nor altercation between them at the time and the affair was altogether treacherous and cold-blooded, for the assailant went over to Thomas' store after they had been drinking for a while and bought a razor with which he returned. Suddenly and without warning he slashed at Volpe catching him first at the back of the neck and drawing the razor around to the wind pipe he narrowly missed the jugular vein. The long wound while deep in places is not regarded by the doctor as serious. Volpe was brought to the railway hospital at Hedley. When first cut he sat down on a bench and made no outcry for several minutes until finally he called for a doctor and by this time Dominick had time to escape.

Constable Hewatt, however, on learning of the affair took prompt steps for his apprehension and the telephone was used to head him off. He kept off the wagon roads and a couple of days later was caught about half way between Princeton and Nicola, presumably on the One-mile Trail. The only reason Volpe can assign for the assault was that in his capacity as foreman of the gang he had occasion at times to collect from the men to send out members who were injured and on these occasions Dominick would not contribute and was disagreeable and a little friction was caused terminating as above.

NEARING COMPLETION

Oroville-Wenatchee Line soon Ready for the Rails.

(Oroville Gazette)

The heavy blasting that has reverberated through the valley for the past week was the work of a gang of men engaged in connecting the "Y" on the east side of the Okanagan river with the grade of the Oroville-Wenatchee branch. The contractors ran against some pretty heavy rock work at that point requiring the burning of a goodly quantity of powder. When this short link is finished there will be a continuous road bed for a long distance all ready for the ties and rails. The grade is about entirely completed from Oroville to Tonasket, and the gaps from that point to Pateros, the present terminus, are being rapidly filled in. There is some bridge and culvert work to be finished, but from present indications there is no known reason why the entire length of the line should not be ready for the steel.

START IN EARLY

Canadian Northern Atlantic Liners to be Record-Breakers

Quebec, June 15.—What is believed to be a trans-Alantic record has been established by the steamer Royal Edward, of the Royal Steamship line, which arrived in port at 3 p.m. today.

The Royal Edward left Bristol at 7 p.m. on Thursday last, and by reaching here at 3 p.m. today establishes a record which is fifty minutes ahead of the best time yet made, which was by the Empress of Ireland.

LIKE BOLT FROM BLUE

News of Wireless Disclosures Comes as Unwelcome Surprise to Stockholders—Tinhorns Jubilant

Daily papers reaching here on Friday last had surprisingly unwelcome news for holders of United Wireless Telegraph stock. The despatches appearing in these dailies told of the arrest on behalf of the United States Post Office Department of C. C. Wilson, president of the company, S. C. Bogart, vice-president and Tompkins, head of the leading selling agency, the charge being that of using the mails for frandulent purposes. The despatches went on to say that stock was being loaded on to the public at grossly inflated prices and that the operating department was being conducted at a loss.

This latter statement on the part of post office inspectors, however, is denied both by the principals arrested and by the heads of the operating and construction departments who claim that a substantial profit results from the operating of the system.

If the condition of affairs is anything like as bad as the first reports indicate then it is evident that the swindle has been much more widespread than the mere arrest of these three would warrant and that those fiscal agents who issue the literature upon which stock was sold under misrepresentation were equally culpable for the false statements sent out.

In Canada most of the stock sold was in Manitoba, especially Winnipeg and Brandon, and territories. In British Columbia most of it was placed in Victoria and Vancouver and a few places in the interior, Hedley included, for which latter the writer is to blame, but all the sales were made in perfect good faith under the coast agency of Charles L. Parker, of Vancouver who was selling under his father Geo. H. Parker, Seattle, who was general fiscal agent for the west.

The heads of the operating department say that this denouement will not effect the operating department which is on a basis quite separate from the stock-vending and stock manipulating end of the affair, and while it would be folly to disregard the seriousness of the situation which would lead the P. O. department to proceed as they have done or to try to minimize the calamity, it is more than probable that the first reports given out to the press were more or less exaggerated.

When the heads of the company and the fiscal agents have deceived the people in the manner in which they have done it is difficult to believe anything which they have given out regarding the company and its workings, nevertheless the writer a year ago was through the company's factory at Seattle under a special permit from R. H. Armstrong, the superintendent of construction on the Pacific coast, and was taken through by the factory superintendent Nelson and shown the whole process of manufacture of wireless equipment; saw the large force of operators employed on the day shift, and a stack of orders on the fyle which was piling up faster than they could turn out the work.

The writer was first attracted to the enterprise by an old friend, then and now a resident in Tacoma who was closely connected with large manufacturing and shipping interests and who was putting his spare cash into United Wireless which he regarded as a good investment. He had nothing whatever to do with the sale of stock and consequently was not trying to influence with any mercenary object in view nor did he know at the time or since that the conversation was having any influence. He is now in the Washington state legislature.

We were all led to believe that the proceeds of the stock was all going into extension of the system and were furnished by the fiscal agents and head office with minute details as to what those extensions consisted of. Only a couple of weeks ago a stockholder in Hedley who wrote the fiscal agent in Seattle asking how the company could pay dividends on a capital of $100,000,000, that being what $50.00 per share would represent, and received the reply that with only five per cent of the ships which would have to be equipped in the next few years they could pay good dividends on $100,000,000 and expected to pay a dividend after the next annual meeting. They now claim to be doing over 85% of all the wireless business done.

Surely the same authority which licenced the company in the first place and which has now gone after the principals will also have power to compel restitution, and if the steals have been of the gigantic proportions which they are represented a reasonable proportion of the loot should be recovered for shareholders and the rest handed over to the constructing and operating departments to provide sufficient manufacturing facilities to keep pace with the demand for equipment, so hat innocent stock-holders may yet have a fair run for their money.

COLONIAL DEFENCE

Lord Lucas Makes Suggestion In Regard to Improvement of Forces

London, June 18.—In the house of Lords on Monday Lord Lucas, parliamentary secretary to the war office, speaking in connection with Lord Kitchener's resignation, said that so much benefit to the forces of the Dominions was anticipated from the recent visit of Lord Kitchener to Australia and that of General French to Canada that if as a result of the next colonial conference visits to the Dominions for the purpose of inspection and advice on military matters could be made more or less systematically by an officer of high rank and distinguished military service, the government believe it would produce more useful results. If this should be agreed to the most appropriate officer to carry out such a duty would be the commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean.

Lord Lansdowne remarked that he could imagine nothing more unfortunate than that the Canadian and Australian governments should read this proposal for the first time in the public press.

Lord Lucas said he had made qualifications with regard to Canada and Australia. The governments of these countries certainly would be consulted before anything was decided.

FORTUNATE G. T. P.

Which Has Mr. Fielding to Do Its Borrowing

The latest Canadian loan floated by Fnance Minister Fielding brought 99½, and the rate of interest we have to pay on it is three and a half per cent.

We are borrowing this money for the purpose of lending to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The rate the Grand Trunk Pacific pays us for it is three per cent.

On every hundred dollars we borrow for the Grand Trunk Pacific we lose fifty cents, and after that we lose a half of one per cent. per annum, because we have to pay that much more for the money than we are to get for it.

How long would it take Mr Fielding to ruin a big bank if he were manager and conducted its affairs in that manner?—Halifax Herald.

EATS UNCLE SAM'S MUTTON

Washington Sheep-Raisers Supply Southern B. C.

(Oroville Gazette.)

Geo. W. Loudon and Clay Fruit passed through Oroville Monday with bands of sheep, headed for markets in British Columbia. Mr. Loudon was taking out 650 head; and his destination was Vernon. He expected to make the drive in about ten days. Mr. Fruit had a bunch of 230 which his assistants were herding over the hill to Greenwood. The animals were yearlings. Both gentlemen unload large consignments across the border every summer. Mr. Loudon states that a few years ago there was no market for lambs on the British Columbia side of the border, although a good demand for matured mutton has always existed. Now the Canadians have acquired a taste for lamb, and it is difficult to fill orders.

RAILWAYS RETRENCHING

Northern Pacific President Says Action is Due to Increased Taxes and Wages

St. Paul, Minn., June 19.—The railways of the Northwest with offices here, issued orders to-day stopping practically all construction work. The Northern Pacific road discharged 2,000 men, the Great Northern 3,000, the Northwestern 600 and the Milwaukee system 1,200.

Later the offices of the Saute Fe announced the discharge of 4,000 and the Rock Island 1,500 men.

President Elliot, of the Northern Pacific, gave as causes for the retrenchment policy of the roads increased taxes, wages, cost of materials and the better service demanded by the public also the increased power of the state and national railway commissions with reference to rates.

Louis Hill, president of Great Northern denies the accuracy of the report so far the G. N. R. is concerned, and blames the rumor on Wall street which he holds responsible for any retrenchment that may occur and says that Wall street has no faith in anything.

A FICTITIOUS ANGUS

Residents of Okanagan Falls Protest Against Effort to Drag Them In

The Gazette has received a letter from a resident and property-holder in Okanagan Falls who gives his name as a guarantee of good faith but does not wish to have it made public, requesting the editor to have the people at the Falls placed in a proper light as regards "the Penticton racket," as he calls it.

He says there is no one by the name of Angus McLeod known at Okanagan Falls and is quite sure that no one of that name owns any property there. He thinks the one who wrote the letter over that signature which appeared in the Penticton Press, knowing that there were a number of English at the Falls "wanted to get them tangled up in that Penticton racket". Neither are any of the property-holders in Okanagan Falls in sympathy in the slightest degree with the sentiments in the original article which precipitated the trouble, and he says that it is not a square deal on them to be made to appear as if they were in sympathy with disloyal sentiments when they are not.

The "Angus McLeod" letter should hardly be taken seriously and while it is abusive and insulting towards Englishmen it is really Canadians who have most cause to be ashamed of it in as much as the writer of it tries to make it appear that Canadians share the absurd views it expressed. It is only at the request of our protesting friend from Okanagan Falls that we pay any further attention to the matter which the public will now be pleased to forget.

HAMILTON--MEGRAW

A quiet wedding occurred in Hedley on Thursday evening June 16th, at the residence of the editor on Kingston Avenue, when his sister Miss Sara Megraw was united in marriage with Mr. S. E. Hamilton.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Cameron at 8 p. m. before a few wedding guests which had to be limited to the more intimate friends of the contracting parties and took place under a large bell of syringa in full bloom. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of embroidered silk net over Japanese silk. She was followed by Miss Avonia Jones as flower girl bearing a bouquet of roses and was given away by her brother. The wedding presents were numerous, beautiful and valuable and attested the kindly good-will of the donors towards the bride and groom, an asset which is appreciated above all others.

After the cerecony was over a dainty supper of served and the remaining part of the evening pleasantly spent before the wedding guests took their departure.

CANADA'S TURN

(Toronto World.)

The remarkabla growth of the eastern cities of the United States, which set in forty to twenty-five years ago, of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Chicago and then Cleveland and a score of other places, was primarily due to the opening up of the western states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and later on of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Dakota, Kansas, etc. As these new states were settled by the thousands and thousands of new settlers that rushed into them, millions and millions of dollars came from them to the eastern cities for goods, and a little later on millions and millions more every year in the way of interest on eastern investments in these western states. Millions flowed from the west to these eastern cities and towns, and they all grew like magic.

The same thing is now coming to Canada: Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, even the territories, are now sending millions of dollars each year to Toronto and other Ontario cities and towns for manufactures, for goods, and also as interezt on investments: so are they to Montreal and places east of Ontario. And this flow from the west is bound to grow and to add to the greatness of cities like Toronto.

The people of the United States from their experience, know the value of such a flow of dollars from the abundant west, and they would like to see the Canadian stream diverted to the south and south east.

But our business is to keep our lines of trade full east and west, to improve our railway lines between our east and the west and to keep our own trade for our own people.

Toronto is growing into a great city. It draws much from the west. It has a new source of revenue in new Ontario, in the silver belt, in the clay belt if we open them up to the full. Let us widen the narrow neck around the big lake and let us keep close touch with our own west.

Nicola is going to celebrate Dominion Day.

O. H. Carle, of Keremeos, was a visitor to Hedley on Saturday.

Hugh Megraw returned to McKinney on Friday after a short visit to friends in Hedley.

L. W. Shatford M. P. P. returned to Penticton last week after spending a fortnight on the coast.

Bob McCurdy returned to Keremeos with O. H. Carle on Sunday, having pretty fully recovered from his recent injury.

Keep Princeton in view for your Dominion Day outing. Special features and special train service. Fuller particulars later.

Mr. D. H. Whiteman of the Bank of B. N. A. staff at Brandon arrived in Hedley on Saturday to take the position of teller in the branch here.

Mrs. Henderson and her daughter Winnie, of Superior Wis., are visiting for a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and her brother A. Megraw.

Mr. Arthur Clare left on Monday to represent Hedley lodge A. F. & A. M, at the meeting of the Grand Lodge which takes place this week at Cranbrook.

Construction work is going on as brisk as ever and the rumor that the railways are retrenching by laying off men does not apply in the case of this particular piece of work.

Road supervisor Turner was in town last week and gave further directions to road-foreman, Harry Rose, with reference to further local improvements here. The work on Ellis street was completed and the local force were almost out of a job.

Angus Stewart returned on Saturday last from a visit to his home in New Glasgow, N. S. and has plenty of work now ahead of him in connection with installation of the new machinery recently arrived for the plant at the power house.

Mrs. R. Wheeler and children arrived in Hedley on Thursday last from California. Mr. Wheeler went down to Oroville to meet her, and they are occupying the cosy handsome residence put up for them on the smelter flat overlooking the town.

S. F. Chamberlain who has been teller in the Bank of B. N. A. for the past year has been moved to Vancouver, and on Sunday morning started out on horseback to reach there via the Hope Trail. Mr. Chamberlain had many friends in the town who are sorry to see him go.

The William Briggs Co., publishers, of Toronto, have issued a very pretty illustrated copy of Rev. A. N. St. John Mildmay's soul-stirring poem "Sea Room," the Vancouver ballad-epic. The soul-stirring Kiplingesque swing of it and the beauty in the typographical execution should make it a favorite memento to send to friends at a distance. The poem is copyrighted.

Anton Winkler of the Grand Union has given another proof of his public spiritedness in the handsome ore cabinet which he had put in by Boeing & Brass. The idea is a new one, for the cabinet is built into the wall with glass on either side. That is the sort of thing that is wanted in Hedley and strangers coming into the town will have an opportunity of seeing what we have got. Prospectors and claim-owners who have good ore should now do their part by bringing in specimens to put in it.

Vancouver for the first time enters the lists in the exhibition line and have issued their prize lists for the exhibition from August 15th to August 20th. The prizes given make those of the smaller fairs look cheap. It is likely to be of special importance to fruit-growers and the Similkameen growers with the generous assistance offered by W. H. Armstrong should take full advantage of their opportunity to make a name for themselves. Now is the time to begin to prepare for it and not wait until the date for making entries has nearly closed.

The Ladies' hospital auxiliary held the most successful tea last Friday night of all the periodical entertainments they have yet given and the ladies whose turn it was to provide the entertainment are being congratulated on the good showing they made, the proceeds amounting to $51.50. It was held in the evening, ice cream being served and to vary the programme an aunt Sally show was run by Mrs. Reveley which was calculated to afford greater accuracy in shying clubs at chickens in the garden or cats on the woodshed roof, the one who was successful in knocking the pipe out of aunt Sally's mouth being rewarded with a free dish of ice cream.

Malcolm McAuley was an angry man on Saturday night after having to ride from Keremeos to Bromley's to recover his own milk cow with bell on and a beef animal belonging to E. M. Crooker which had been driven off with a drove of cattle which the Indian Terbasket and others were taking up the river to the ranges above Princeton. In view of what happened to Mac about a year ago and something else which happened somebody else not many moons ago, Mac would have been qualified to preach a little sermon, with variations, on the text "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors."

Claman Players in "Are You Crazy" coming to Hedley, Friday June 24th. Reputation is the showman's stock in trade. The public is loyal but it is also fickle and demands the best possible, and will not tolerate inferior amusements. The Clamans are more than willing to leave it to the theatre goers of this city if the play offered by this company with the assistance of the orchestra is not the best performance they ever attended. The play they present, "Are You Crazy," is entirely new and they fully guarantee to please. This company carry a Band and orchestra and will give a concert both afternoon and evening.

Town and Lower Valley.

It is understood that Nigel Ewart will receive the appointment of constable at Princeton in the place of Mr. Hewatt who succeeds to H. A. Turner's office of mining recorder at Fairview.

Bob McCurdy who has been undergoing repairs in the Hedley dry-dock for injuries recently received in a runaway accident is home again looking little worse fer his unpleasant experience.

Mrs. Barber left last week for Nanaimo where she will make her residence. Mr. Woolgar and children have moved into the building recently occupied by Mrs Barber, which Mr. Woolgar has purchased from Manuel Barcello.

',Are you Crazy" or "The Three Twins," a humorous farce with orchestral accompaniment willbe presented by the Claman players in the town hall on Saturday evening next, June, 25th. According to the bills there are 16 people in the company and the play—in which each person imagines everyone else is crazy— is said to be irristibly funny. On Friday, July, 15 the Sherry Musical Comedy Co. will also give a a vaudeville performance here. No doubt both companies will draw good houses.

Chief Bunbury passed up the valley on Monday, riding from here to Princeton. He was giving the stabbing affair in the Dago camp at Princeton his personal attention. Several special constables were sworn in here for the occasion and posted at various points to keep a sharp out-look for the Dago who used the carving knife on his fellow countryman.

Claman Players in "Are You Crazy" coming to Keremeos, Saturday, June 25th. Don't fail to see the Clamans in "Are You Crazy" at the opera house. Each year they bring a brand new show. And each year the show is better than the last. The band and orchestra is still a decided feature. The show this season is sure to please all for it is one continuous laugh. To the brain-fagged business man, the overworked clerk, the drudging housewife, nothing is better than a good laugh before going to sleep. You can have it when you see, "Are You Crazy". This company carry a band and orchestra and will give a concert both afternoon and evening."

B. C. FRUIT CROP

Promise of Immense Crops But Labor Very Scarce Throughout Province

This is the first year that British Columbia will have exported any large amount of fruit. The Okanagan alone it is estimated, will ship 500 cars of fruit to the prairies. W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, says it is difficult to estimate what the whole output of the province will be, but he expects that they will ship at least 1,200 carloads, or over a million pounds.

Prices will rule low this year. The crop is very heavy in every line, prunes, pears, cherries and early apples being especially plentiful. If the weather should prove dry during the next two months Mr. Scott is of opinion that there will be some small fruit where the orchards are not properly cultivated, but where cultivation is carried on the fruit should be unusually heavy. One difficulty at present is that labor is so scarce that growers are not thinning their fruit properly. The result will be a large quantity of small fruit, instead of the finer grade, which demands higher prices.

The outlook on the islands of the Gulf as well as on Vancouver Island is splendid. All the trees are laden to the limit, and the growers should make money if they can secure the necessary labor to save the fruit while it is good. Labor is at present the great difficulty. In some districts it is impossible to get men at any price.

Strawberries are now selling at ten cents a pound and immense quantities are being consumed.

GROWTH OF FRUIT INDUSTRY

Vancouver Province)

The marvelous development of the fruit-growing industry in this province may be gauged by returns of inspection of imported nursery stock which Mr. Thomas Cunningham, the provincial inspector of fruit pests, has recently transmitted to the government as follows:

Number of trees and plants inspected at the Provincial Inspecting station, Vancouver, during the months of—

January, 1910	592,002
February, 1910	103,184
March, 1910	767,152
April, 1910	1,255,718
Total	2,718,056

This exceeds the number inspected during the same period of 1909 by 1,722,281—equal to 172 per cent.

Mr. Cunningham expects that the number of trees and plants to arrive during the other eight months of the year will bring the total up to the enormous number of four millions.

When it is considered that every tree and plant passing through the inspecting station is individually inspected one can form some idea of the vast amount of care and labor which this inspection entails. No other country in the world possesses such a perfect system of nursery stock inspection, and the fact that in the whole of the great Okanagan, Similkameen, East and West Kootenay and the Boundary country there is not a trace of infection of the San Jose scale nor the Brown-tail nor Gipsy moth in evidence is proof of the value of the inspection, and the equal freedom from the Codling moth in the sections referred to fully illustrates the importance of fruit inspection. The importance of this fact to the intending settler can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents.

To a representative of the Province Mr. Cunningham stated,

"If we keep on planting at the rate at which it is now progressing we shall soon need every acre of arable land in British Columbia for orchard purposes.

Asked if he did not think there was some danger of the business being overdone, his reply was characteristic.

"No we shall not overtake the market in twenty years.

"During the year 1909 we imported into the city of Vancouver 113,163 boxes of apples, pears, peaches, apricots, quinces and plums, every pound of which could have been grown in the province. To talk of overdoing the business in the face of this record is an absurdity that should never he mentioned.

"What are the prospects for the fruit crop this season?" was asked "Very good indeed, we expect to ship a thousand cars of fruit out of the province this year; indeed there may be more, and I expect a brisk demand owing in part to destructive storms in the great Mississippi Valley last April. The extent of the damage done to the fruit crop may be gauged by the report of the Horticultural Department of the State of Iowa recently issued, which shows the following averages of a normal crop;

Peaches, less than 1 per cent.
Pears, less than 1 per cent.
European varieties of plums, less than 1 per cent,
Currants and gooseberries, no crop.
Cherries four per cent.
Apples, 3 per cent.
American plums, 3 per cent.
Strawberries, 30 per cent.
Raspberries, 30 per cent.

"This deficiency will be made good by shipments from California, Oregon, Washington and the Southern States, and will have a marked effect on the demand for fruit in the Northwest provinces.

"The prospects were never better, but we must be careful ro keep up the quality of our goods and the packing must be neat and honestly done; nothing else will win; nothing else should succeed."
