BRITISH ELECTIONS SOON

Believed to Come On in December or January

London, Nov. 11.—An early general election being assured, the only question now agitating the country is as to whether it will take place in December or January. Herbert H. Asquith, the prime minister who must decide this question, thus far has kept his own counsel He left town quietly this afternoon and not even the members of his cabinet knew his destination until the newspapers announced his arrival at Sandringham, where King George is in residence. The object of his visit is to acquaint his majesty, who like his father often confers with the cabinet ministers, of the failure of the constitutional conference and to advise him of the course the government intends to pursue.

RESIGN OR DISSOLVE.

It is believed that the cabinet has decided not to carry on any further work with parliament without such guarantees as would insure success to the government's policy. Ordinarily the resolution on the veto power of the house of lords, which passed the house of commons at the last session would be discussed in the upper chamber and the government would await rejection before taking action. The refusal of the constitutional conference to accept the government's compromise makes discussion of the veto resolution useless, in view of the Radicals and the opinion prevails that the government either must resign or advise the dissolution of parliament.

LOCAL GOLF

Rolls has won the golf ladder top from Hincks at last and now has on his hands the responsibility of defending the title which Hincks successfully defended so often, for this was about the fifth time they have played for the honor of the ladder top, and in the various contests some sensational finishes were made. The last game took place on Saturday evening and while both of them have made lower scores over the course than on this occasion yet the play of both was steady and represented good golf. It was Rolls' day on and with the exception of the first hole of the first round which Hincks won Rolls was never down a hole again until the 14th when Hincks forged ahead with one hole up and on the 17th hole Rolls regained the lost hole and made it all square. It therefore depended on the winning of "Primrose Way" and in the playing "through the green" Hincks had rather the best of it for he was well on to the edge of the bank above the putting green for four and Rolls' fourth landed him in the little rocky gulch hazard to the right. A penalty stroke was lost for him to secure playable position and his sixth, a high lofter out of the hazard, cleared a space of some 55 yards and lit on the putting green where a couple of putt shots holed in and the match was won. Hincks, over canny to avoid going over the precipice approached short twice and some more bad luck on the putting green lost him the hole. It is just such sensational finishes as this which makes golf the fascinating game it is.

Notwithstanding the lateness of the season the links during the past fortnight have been in prime condition for play, and barring a little tingling of the hands from cold in the early morning and in the evening the conditions for enjoyable play have been ideal.

TREE DISTRIBUTION

The Demand for Government Trees Continues to Increase

The work of free tree distribution to homesteaders on the prairies inaugurated in 1910 by the Forestry branch of the Department of the Interior has made steady growth, and by the 1909 report of the Superintendent of Forestry (included in the annual report of the Department of the Interior, lately issued is shown to be still on the increase.

For some years past the number of trees distributed each spring has been in the neighborhood of two and a half millions. The nursery station at Indian Head, Sask., has reached almost its capacity, and if the distribution is to be enlarged the nursery capacity must be correspondingly increased.

In the spring of 1909, 2,570,000 trees were sent to 1,010 applicants. In the spring of 1910 about the same number of trees was sent to 3,173 applicants.

The increase in the number of applicants is also strikingly shown by the fact that in 1908 the average number sent to each applicant was 1,400 while in 1910 the number has had to be reduced to 800. The number of trees distributed remained practically the same. The number who received trees however, increased from 1,424 in 1908 to 3,173 in 1910. In 1909, too, the number of new applications for trees was 2,235, in 1910 this number had increased to 3,832.

Farmers are urged to grow their own maple and ash trees from seed. Caution must, however, be exercised as to where this seed comes from, and if possible, native seed procured. In the summer of 1908 many Manitoba maples were found to have been killed back, either wholly or partially, during the preceeding winter, These had been raised from seed obtained from Dakota, and to this fact their inability to resist the weather seems due. The forestry Branch has previously had similar experiences with seed obtained from Minnesota and from Eastern Canada. Failure of the local supply of seed, however, occasionally makes it necessary to resort to imported seed.

Further interesting particulars regarding this work are given in the report above mentioned, which is to be had free on application to R.H. Campbell, Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa.

TO MINE OWNERS

Editor Hedley Gazette

Dear Sir;—Will you be good enough to make public, for the information of those interested in mining in your district, that I shall be glad to receive particulars of progress made during 1910 at all district mining properties. The information desired is that relative to development work done during the year, plant and machinery put in, ore production made (if any), surface improvements made, transportation facilities provided, and all other particulars indicating progress during the year. Information concerning localities that give promise of having mines after development shall have been done, will also be welcome. It will not be practicable for me to visit all the mining districts before preparing the general reviews and summaries I have undertaken to supply, so districts can only have notice in proportion to the information received. My reviews will be given wide publicity, arrangements for this having already been made, so I hope to receive from mining men in your district the information requisite to allow of its being given due prominence.

Communications should be addressed to me at Post Office, Nelson, B. C., and to be of most service should reach me, if possible, before the last day of November, but even if later I shall be able to use them in smaller measure. Most of my "copy", will have to be ready for the printer, though, by the of the first week in December.

Thanking you in advance for your kind co-operation, I am,

Yours truly,
E. JACOBS

DEMOCRATS WIN

But Republicans Maintain Control of Senate

New York, Nov. 11.—The political upheaval was followed by a general survey of the field, which disclosed in greater detail and precision just what had been accomplished.

Latest calculations on the national House of Representatives, based on complete, but unofficial returns, show the Democrats will have a safe working majority of thirty.

The outcome of the United States Senate is now definitely settled. The Republicans are assured of seventeen new Senators, which, with thirty-four holdover Senators, gives them a total of fifty-one. The Democrats are assured of fifteen new Senators, which, with twenty-five holdovers, gives them a total of forty. One Senatorship is still in doubt—the successor of Mr. Carter, in Montana, where there is a prospect of a tie.

IS GETTING BASHFUL

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Disinclined to Take Part in Next Year's Imperial Conference

Leeds, Eng., Nov. 9.—A prominent Canadian journalist has informed the Yorkshire Post that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is disinclined to come to the next Imperial conference. He is getting on in years, and during the last conference, he was worried by politicians on both sides with requests to speak; these made him very uncomfortable. Again, the political situation in Canada is developing in a way which calls for the premier's continued presence there.

TRANS-CANADIAN ROAD

Hon. Thomas Taylor Requests Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan To Aid Project

Victoria, Nov. 10.—Hon. Thomas Taylor, provincial works minster, has addressed Premier Sifton, of Alberta; Premier Scott, of Saskatchewan and Hon. Mr. Rodgers, of Manitoba, each of whom administers the department of works in his respective cabinet, soliciting their co-operation in the continuation of a trans-Canadian trunk road and automobile highway, of which the British Columbia through trunk road will form an important and picturesque portion.

FOUND DEAD

On Monday evening Mike Costello and Leonard Bradshaw went down to Fifteen-mile and on entering the old hotel they found the door blocked up on the inside with wood placed against it and old Joe Raines, better known around town as "Cottonwood Joe," dead in an armchair.

The old man had been down there cutting wood and was stopping alone in the house. He was a hard drinker and quite old, and hence there is no reason to believe that there could have been anything in the nature of foul play. There was a report that when found his knees were tied about with a strip of blanket, but the impression of those who saw him afterwards was that he had been in bed when a heart spasm had siezed him and this bit of bedding clung to him when he had just sufficient strength to reach the armchair.

On discovery the word was brought back to Hedley when constable Sproule and coroner Dr. McEwen went down and on seeing the place decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

TARIFF NEGOTIATORS

Leave For Home—Only Appendicitis Threatens.

Ottawa, Nov. 11—Henry Hoyt and Charles M. Pepper, American tariff negotiators, leave for Washington tomorrow morning. Mr. Hoyt has been indisposed for a couple of days and it was feared that he was threatened with an attack of appendicitis. He is better tonight, however, and will be able to leave for home tomorrow.

CANADA AN ALLY

Bourassa Defends Policy—Willing to Have Navy if Majority of People Say So

Montreal, Nov. 14.—"What's your attitude towards the British connection," the Toronto Telegram asked the above question in the course of a long talk with Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist, the man of the hour. Mr. Bourassa answered quite promptly: "It is" said he "that I want to keep it standing as long as possible. In my mind the only way is to leave the old principle of autonomy to develop itself from the political, fiscal and military standpoints.

FALSE PATRIOTISM.

"If we try to bring it closer and to create a false and artificial patriotism, to cause Canada to make greater sacrifices for other parts of the empire than for this, then it will serve to hasten what has been called the drifting apart.

INDEPENDENCE COMING

"I may say frankly that I consider independence the natural destiny of Canada, but I would prefer to maintain the partnership as long as possible, and if Canada does become independent I believe she should always remain an ally of Great Britain in peace and in war.

Henri Bourassa, in short, stands for Canada first and then the British connection. He describes Nationalism as a movement for creating a national feeling, but not for fostering separation.

MISREPRESENTED IN ONTARIO

He declared that he had been systematically misrepresented in Ontario as to the navy. This is his position: "I think the government scheme is satisfactory to none, and I am not surprised that it is attacked not only by us, but by strong imperialists.

"It is as Mr. Fielding said, a Canadian navy in time of peace and an imperial navy in time of war. I don't think we should take any new obligations towards the empire without knowing what rights it would confer on Canada. This is what I have said in Drummond and Arthabaska and elsewhere.

RUINOUS TO CANADA

"We say the people of Canada should be fully informed of the nature and consequences of the imperialistic movement and if a majority are for it, we will be the first to submit. We think it would be ruinous to Canada and British interests and claim the right to do so. It will hurt Great Britain by providing causes of disagreement."

RAILWAY DEAL RUMORED

C. N. R. Said to Have Bought V. V. & E. Line to Cloverdale

New Westminster, Nov. 12.—A rumor is in circulation in this city to the effect that the Canadian Northern Railway Company has brought from the V. V. & E., its line to Cloverdale. It has been the general impression for some time that the Canadian Northern Railway intends to take over the V. V. & E. from New Westminster to Abbotsford, and also the line under construction to Chilliwack. Work on the line east of Abbotsford has been stopped by the Great Northern, giving further grounds for the rumor.

RISKING NOT SAVING

An extraordinary action on the part of the Humane Society of Canada was that in which they refused the society's medal to the Indian Johnny Baker who saved the lives of three Vancouver girls from drowning in the narrows of Burrard Inlet. Their reason for refusal was that he had used a canoe in the rescue instead of swimming in after them and running the risk of being able to save perhaps not more than one of the three with a possibility of losing his own life without effecting even the rescue of any one of them. By this action on their part the society practically proclaim to the public that they prefer harebrained foolhardiness to a sane wholesome desire to save human life. The Indian in this case had presence of mind and sufficient sense to recognize the fact that the safer plan for him to dopt was to use the means of life saving with which he was most familiar and which offered the surest hope of success. In fact his conduct should make him more deserving of recognition than if by a piece of arrant foolhardiness he had abandoned his canoe and attempted the rescue without it. The feat of handling a canoe in such a place and for such a purpose was in itself so difficult and dangerous that members of the recklessly bloodthirsty Humane Society should be ashamed of the position in which this acton of their officials has placed them in slighting his brave deed, for that is practically what it amounts to. A few years ago we had a sample of what the Humane Society are disposed to applaud in the accident which occurred at Ottawa when a daughter of Minister Blair was drowned while out on the river skating. Her escort, a young man named Harper, with more foolhardiness than common sense and giving no heed to ways or means of rescue jumped in after and was drowned along with her. A great fuss was made over him and a monument erected in his honor in the City of Ottawa and as long as it lasts it will be a monument to his lack of power to act sanely in emergency. Compare his fate with the feat of plain Johnny Baker (Indian) and if the latter is not more deserving of a monument, then i the eyes of silly sentimentalists of the Humane Society type common sense ceases to pass at a premium.

Camsell's report on Camp Hedley accompanied with explanatory topographical map and structure sections has been issued from Ottawa under the authority of the Department of Mines. It is far more complete than anything expected and is altogether a most exhaustive treatise on the geology and resources of the camp. Mr. Camsell has our heartiest congratulations. More extended notice in review of contents will appear later.

Town and District.

F. S. Stevens, of the Eastern Townships Bank staff at Princeton was a visitor in Hedley over Sunday.

Why is it they are steadily coming to the front? Good clear Havana throughout, makes Estimo cigars good.

Mrs. J. J. Armstrong, of Keremeos, and her daughter, Mrs. Carmichael, of Princeton, were in town on Monday, having brought up baby Carmichael for treatment at the hospital.

The annual ball in aid of the Hedley Hospital fund will take place on January 20th. This date should be kept in mind. It has been suggested that the ball be merely a plain dress ball and perhaps there may be a masquerade ball later on in the winter.

A largeshipment of Christmas goods toys etc. reached Hedley last week, for Rolls & Co. Santa Claus will sure find things ready for him this year.

Robt. Stephenson has been making satisfactory recovery and is coming out of the hospital this week. The carbuncle which laid him temporarily on the shelf was a stiff ordeal for one at his years, but it is hard to kill an old Cariboo veteran.

Burns Bowerman and Hugo Boeing were out deer hunting on Sunday and secured one up on the mountain near George Cahill's place. They are rather scarce this year and very few have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cooper, of Keremeos, and baby daughter are spending a few days with Dr. and Mrs. McEwen. Mr. Cooper is one of the budding orchardists of Keremeos who have planted out fruit lots and otherwise improved their holdings. His trees have done particularly well and in a few years more will give him nice return for the money and labor spent on them.

Geo. E. Massie, tailor, came over from Grand Forks last week. The man he left in charge of his shop in Hedley had deserted his post. It was another case of "the deil among the tailors," and booze was the medium by which "the muckle auld deil" wrought his confusion. A more abstemious knight of the goose is the kind of employee Mr. Massie is now on the lookout for.

Duncan Woods arrived in town yesterday after an absence of about a year in eastern Canada. He is looking sleek and fat and has apparently enjoyed the trip. He says eastern Canada is enjoying a period of great prosperity and especially is this so in the case of Quebec. The development of electric power in that province is one of the main things contributing to the general prosperity. He was in Quebec during the recent by-election and says the real import of the vote in Drummond-Arthabasca is Quebec's unqualified opposition to anything in the shape of militarism for Canada.

Coast dailies were supplied with a news item from Penticton regarding the first snowfall in the district which according to report has been somewhat heavy between the upper portion of Keremeos Creek and the Okanagan valley, but it was rather inaccurate in including Hedley in the area covered with the beautiful. As a matter of fact all the snow we had here was only a few flakes flying in the air and melting as soon as they touched the ground there being nothing to show on the ground. So far as Keremeos is concerned it is not likely that there was much more than we had in Hedley.

Working on the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure the water pipes are being inspected and precautions being taken to prevent freezing. Unfortunately when the water pipes were first laid down they were not laid to grade but followed the contour of the ground up and down hill, along the centre of the street and when the street has since been graded the pipe on the higher points of ground is brought too near the surface. In a few such places the pipe is being lowered to a safe distance which is a precaution that will pay in the long run.

Mr. I. L. Merrill, president of the Hedley Gold Mining Co. came in on Tuesday to make a visit of inspection to the mine and works. He and Mrs. Merrill spent most of the summer on the coast of Maine but have been back at their home in Los Angeles for the past month or two. Had it not been for the delays on the part of manufacturers in getting forward machinery he would now be able to see all of the new equipment at work, but as some of the electric motors required for machines in the mill, are not yet to hand, it will be a fortnight or more before all of the new equipment is in operation.

G. L. Coles, general agent for the Mutual Life of Canada, was in town this week in the interest of that concern and reports the Mutual Life company as taking a greater hold on the insuring public year by year. This is due to the fact that the public are becoming more alive to the importance of being in a company where all the profits go to the policy-holders and there are no stock-holders to absorb any of them; and it is wholly because to this that the Mutual which began business in 1870 with a total income of only $4,055.52 and assets of $6,216.33 had at the end of 1909 a total income of $2,749,847.41 and assets of $14,518,441.61.

On Saturday evening the new generator in the power house was given a trial spin and turned over for a few hours before the full installation had been completed. Contrary to expectation it was the new Goldie & McCulloch engine which gave it the first whirl and they formed a graceful partnership. When the full installation has been completed and everything connected up for keeps, with the exciter attached, the machine will be run light for two or three days for drying out purposes before it is given its full load and after that it will have a heavy load to carry through, day in and day out, for all the machinery of the mill will be electrically propelled as well as electric railway up at the mine. The steam connections were made before the water pipe was connected up and that was why the generator was first propelled by steam.

Rev. Mr. Cameron arrived in town on Friday last from his trip to the Apple show in Vancouver and is (metaphorically speaking) full of apples. The show, he says, was most impressive and highly educative. He thinks Keremeos will do better at subsequent fairs than they have done this time although he thinks that much has been accomplished for the district by the effort put forth by Similkameen fruit growers. It always takes some time to learn what points are necessary to be attended to and in another year they will be better prepared to see that all the points which were this year overlooked will be fully up to the mark next time. While away he spent a few days in the noted fruit district of Wenatchee and brought back with him some fine specimens of their apples, among which was the black Ben Davis, which as a variety seems to be very much in advance of the old Ben Davis.

At the meeting of the directors of the Hedley Hospital on Monday night the matter of members came up and there was a generally expressed desire to have a larger and more active membership. A fact which seems to have been lost sight of during the hybernating spell which the hospital passed through was that the constitution called for an annual payment of $10 to constitute bona fide membership. Of course many have been giving more than that in an indirect way but not so as to constitute membership and it has been suggested that the by-law be amended so as to reduce the membership fee to $5.00 and make an active canvass to have all residents become members of the Hospital Society. The smaller fee of $5.00 then need not preclude additional indirect contributions, At present there are very few who have complied with the requirements and as a result there are very few genuine members.

King Kennedy, the old reliable show man, is to be in Hedley on November 29th with an entire new lot of moving pictures and his conjuring tricks which he loves so dearly and couldn't be persuaded to dispense with. King Kennedy was the old stand-by who used to come in regularly once a year and give us a show when no other entertainer would look near us, and Hedley will doubtless give him a good house as we have always done. Moreover, he announces this year for the first time that this may be his last appearance in Hedley. Jenny Lind, P. T. Barnum, Patti and many other celebrities announced last appearances many times before they actually quit the footlights and if we are to infer that King Kennedy will follow their example we may expect his annual appearances for ten years more at the most, but of course he may prove the exception in this respect. He has cut out all the prize-fighting features which last year for the first time had a place among his pictures and marred his entertainment. The general character of his moving pictures in the past has been that they are both amusing and instructive and doubtless it will be the same this year.

KEREMEOS, the Centre of Lower Similkameen----Famed for Fruit Growing

Town and Lower Valley.

E. M. Crooker has moved in his new residence on Tenth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Cooper are spending a week in Hedley and Princeton.

King Kennedy, conjuror, ventriloquist and moving picture artist is billed for Richter's Hall on the 28th inst.

Rev. Mr. Cameron will conduct service in Keremeos at 11 a. m. and in Hedley at 7.30 p. m. on Sunday next.

Mr. Hargraves and sons came down from their pre-emptions up the Ashnola last week and have gone to Penticton to spend the winter.

Mrs. Scott and daughter Irene and Mr. T. S. Drennen and family left on Wednesday for Vancouver where they will take up their residence.

For Sale at a bargain—One single buggy. One set single harness (nearly new) one Saddle, and New horse blanket and one bridle--$75 cash is the price. Inquire of W. D. Lawson.

Miss Mildred Kirby has entered the lists of competitors in the Saturday Sunset's voting competition and is out to win some one of the many handsome prizes offered.

Mrs. Flynn who has been the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George B. Clarke, for the past month, left on Monday for her old home at Heathcote, Ontario, where she will visit friends and relatives.

By means of a liberal government grant a furnace will shortly be installed in our public school building. An effort was made to heat the rooms by means of stoves last winter but proved very unsatisfactory.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will give a social evening, combined with a sale of work in the town hall on Wednesday evening 23rd inst. A programme will be rendered and refreshments served.

O. H. Carie left on Monday to attend the Spokane apple show. Much valuable information is to be gained at these large fairs and no doubt O. H. will get some pointers which will be of service to him in his business of fruit dealer.

Mrs. J. J. Armstrong and Mrs. R.H. Carmichael were in Hedley between trains on Monday. The latter had taken her infant daughter up for medical treatment and on the doctor's advice left her in the hospital for treatment, the little one having contracted cholera infantum.

Notwithstanding anything that may be said to the contrary the Keremeos exhibit of fruit at the National Apple show was a complete success. Considering the very limited quantity of fruit from which the selection had to be made the number of prizes secured was most creditable, while from an advertising standpoint our district exhibit excelled all others. To Mr. W. H. Armstrong, who spent so liberally his time and money in this connection is due a vote of thanks from the entire valley.

R. J. Armstrong of the lower valley was slightly injured in a railway wreck which occurred on the main line of the Great Northern a short distance east of Spokane early last week. Mr. Armstrong had a large shipment of sheep which he was bringing from Montana on the regular west bound freight when it collided with an east bound apple special rounding a sharp curve. As stated Joe's injuries were very slight and the sheep which are to stock his ranch near Chopaka escaped without any damage.

L. A. Clarke and his gang of workmen, who have been engaged in making the new road out of Penticton, have made such good progress that the new thoroughfare is now ready. Some finishing touches will have to wait over till next season but in its present condition the road is a decided improvement over the old, giving better grades and considerably lessening the time required to drive from Penticton to Keremeos. An interesting feature of the new portion of road is the manner in which it plays leap frog with Beaver Creek in its course up the canyon, crossing and recrossing about a dozen times to the mile; the builders rightly considering that it was easier to build bridges than to remove the rocky bluffs with which they were continually confronted.

It is understood here that the owners of the tungsten claims on the Washington side of the International boundary line south of the Ashnola are asking the co-operation of the B. C. government towards the immediate construction of a wagon road up the Ashnola to their property with a view to installing a reduction plant near the forks of the river and beginning active mining operations at an early date. It appears that the claims are unapproachable from the United States side and that the Ashnola canyon is the only feasible means of entrance. The owners of the claims are said to be willing to construct the portion of the road above the forks if the government will build the lower. We trust that reports are correct and the company mean business as the establishment of such reduction works on this side would mean much to this district. As far as the road is concerned there should be no difficulty as government engineers have already surveyed the route for such a road and there is no reason why immediate construction should not follow if circumstances demand it.

He Played The Position

MRS. NEIGHBOR—"They tell me me your son is in the college football eleven."

MRS. MALAPROP—"Yes, indeed."

MRS. NEIGHBOR—"Do you know what position he plays?"

MRS. MALAPROP—"Aint sure, but I think he's one of the drawbacks."

U.C CURES INSANITY.

rass Band Shown to Have Amazing Curative Powers.

A striking experiment in the treatment of feeble-minded patients under the care of the Metropolitan Asylums Board, at their home at Witham, Essex, has demonstrated the "curative" effect of music.

At the Witham Home, the Metropolitan Asylums Board has placed for treatment all the boys classed as feeble-minded, between the ages of 12 and 21, the object being to train as many of them as possible to become self-supporting. For this purpose various trades are taught, but the progress made was very slow, and the signs of success few until it was decided to start a brass band among the patients. The result has been really extraordinary, for not only has the band advanced rapidly in musical proficiency, but the members of it, once their interest was awakened in the playing, have made ever-increasing strides toward complete sanity.

The superintendent of the home, T. C. Gibbs, states that the progress made by the players since the formation of the band had been marvelous, and the band boys had become distinctly in advance of other inmates of the home in mental qualities. There have been several astonishing instances where individual boys, whose cases at one time appeared hopeless, had made such marked progress since playing in the band that they would shortly be discharged as mentally fit.

"The music," he added, "has had a charmed effect upon the patients, who have advanced under its influence by leaps and bounds. I have great faith in the future treatment of the class of boys we receive here."

As a result of the success which has been attained, the committee which controls the Witham Home has decided to provide the band boys with special uniform, and a suggestion is being considered to employ a whole-time regimental bandmaster on the staff of the school in place of the leader of the local town band at Witham, who has imparted the musical instruction so far given, at practices held twice a week.
