Kelowna Twenty-Fifth Annual Fall Fair and Exhibition

Display of Fruit and Produce Ahead of any Previous Year - Many Attractive District Exhibits by United Farmers

Not on any occasion during the twenty-five years of the Kelowna Fall Fair's existence has such a great display of fruit and cut flowers, vegetables, fancy work, &c., been seen as was gathered together for the exhibition of Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Considering some of the difficulties, financial and otherwise, under which the Association has been struggling during the past few years, this was very gratifying to all concerned. The entries of fruit came in freely, and though owing to the early date at which the Fair was held this year, there was a noticeable lack of color, a wonderful array of fruit was packed closely upon the tables. There was, too, a very fine display of cut flowers and plants, the Women's Institute having combined their annual flower show with the Fair this year. The ladies took a very prominent part in this year's event, having taken charge under the direction of Mrs. Cartridge, of the Fancy Work and Household sections, their efforts being rewarded by a wondeful collection of exhibits. They also had charge of the arrangements for refreshments, which were served in a tent near the main entrance.

The great feature of the exhibition were the handsome exhibits put up by the different locals of the U.F.B.C. in the district. These occupied a large part of the wall space, and made a very striking effect. Kelowna, Rutland, Woods Lake, Glenmore, Okanagan Mission and Ellison locals all had booths, and judging by the results must have expended a great deal of time and thought upon them. Rutland carried off the first prize of $100 with a total score of 170 marks, Kelowna second with 155, and Woods Lake third with 103. Two sets of 100 marks were given, the first for attractiveness, neatness and general artistic aspect and arrangement of the exhibit, and the second set for the variety and quality of the items of which it was made up. Kelowna had undoubtedly the most striking display, but the Rutland farmers had gathered together a really excellent collection of fruit, vegetables, field crops, dairy, poultry, preserves, etc., which won them the prize. Woods Lake had a splendid booth, but having confined themselves mostly to fruit and vegetables lost marks heavily from the absence of the rest. Glenmore also had a very striking display mostly of fruit, while Mission and Ellison had also gathered very interesting collections. The newly-named Hollywood district near Rutland had also a pretty booth, but could not compete as they had no United Farmers local there.

Two notable displays of vegetables and flowers were from the gardens of F. M. Keevil and C. Tucker, carrying off prizes in various classes.

The Summerland Experimental Farm and the District Horticultural branch had their usual interesting and instructive displays.

The poultry section was a great improvement over last year, while the stock had fallen off a little except as to Holstein cattle, of which there was a great array.

The outdoor sports did not come up to specifications. The horse racing fell somewhat flat owing to lrck of entries, and the baseball tournament had to be abandoned as some of the teams did not appear. Good mixed teams were raised from those who did come and excellent matches played each day. On Wednesday, too, the New Westminster lacrosse team who are touring the valley, had an exhibition game with Kelowna, beating the home team.

The Fair was opened Wednesday evening by Mayor Sutherland who warmly congratulated the management on the fine showing, and especially President E. R. Bailey and Mr. J. L. Pridham for their many years of faithful service. Mr. Pridham presented the diplomas in the district competition.

The Kelowna City Band was in attendance at intervals during the two days and enlivened the proceedings by well-played selections.

Following is a list of the prize winners in the different classes, except the special prizes which owing to lack of space are held over to next week.

City Council Hold Short Meeting

The city council held a meeting Tuesday evening, mainly for the purpose of advancing certain by-laws dealing with sale of tax sale property, and also with a further loan from the bank for current expenses. Except for the usual batch of correspondence, there was little other business of importance to transact.

A matter which was laid over to the next meeting was an offer from the Okanagan Loan Co. on behalf of F. E. R. Wollaston of 56.73 acres of land adjoining the city cemetery for the sum of $2,500.

Decisive Vote Against Park Exchange Scheme

The result of the plebiscite taken Wednesday on the question of the exchange of land in the park for hotel purposes and the tone of the public meeting last week leaves no doubt as to the attitude of the general public towards any proposal to take away any portion of the park. While the desire for a tourist hotel is generally very strong it is evident that the public will not sanction any such sacrifice to get it. Objection was also based upon a very general opinion that the site in question would not be suitable even in its enlarged form. Whatever other reasons the voters may have had, they left no room for doubt as to their wishes. Out of 196 votes polled, 142 were against the proposal, 52 for and 2 spoilt.

Death of I. S. Chamberlin

The death took place last Sunday in the Kelowna Hospital of Ithamer S. Chamberlin, more familiarly known as "Ike" Chamberlin, a Kelowna blacksmith, who has been a well-known figure here for many years. Ike had been suffering from Bright's disease for a considerable time, and last winter became so ill that he had to go down to the coast and spent several weeks in the Vancouver Hospital. Although in a critical condition several times, he managed to rally enough to return to Kelowna about a couple of months ago. Those who had known him previously were shocked at his changed appearance, and it was obvious that he was still far from well. The past few weeks he spent out in the country, endeavoring to recuperate, but finally had to be brought into the hospital a few days ago in a dying condition.

Ike was a native of Cumberland, Ont., about sixty years of age and unmarried. He set up as a blacksmith in Kelowna about fifteen years ago. He was always a great supporter of the local races, and possessed one or two good horses, the care of which formed his chief hobby.

The funeral took place this morning from the undertaking parlors, where a service was held, the Rev. E. D. Braden officiating. A brother, Mr. A. N. Chamberlin, from Cabri, Sask., attended the funeral. A sister, Mrs. Rathwell, was here with her husband for some time this summer, but had to return to the coast a few weeks ago.

Collapse of Building has Fatal Results

While some Kelowna men were engaged last week in taking down the old skating rink at Phoenix, which they had purchased for the sake of the lumber in it, an accident happened which resulted in the death of a little boy belonging to a Phoenix family, and injuries to Mr. Mitchell, manual training instructor on the Kelowna school staff.

The skating rink was a skeleton structure, consisting of semi-circular arches with timbers spiked on at right angles two feet apart, and the whole covered with galvanized iron. It was about a hundred and seventy feet long and at either end was a lean-to building containing seating space above and waiting rooms below. These end buildings and most of the timbers on the arches were still in place and it was thought that a good deal more timbers would have to be removed before the arches could be pulled down with a block and tackle, when without a moment's warning, the whole structure swung endwise and lay flat. The only explanation seems to be that the building had settled a little in one direction during the years it had stood, and that the arches, being a little out of plumb, went down by their own weight. The little boy had been warned away with others several times, but seems to have gone around to play on the other side, where he was struck by a falling timber and instantly killed.

An inquest was held the same evening, when a coroner's jury, after hearing all the evidence pronounce death accidental with no blame attaching to those in charge of the work.

Mr. Mitchell was removed to Grand Forks hospital, where he is doing well, according to a wire Tuesday.

MR. KERR REPLIES

To the Editor, Kelowna Record,

Dear Sir: In your issue of the 2nd the Rev. R. G. Edwards tries to discredit my assertion that Vermont abolished prohibition after fifty years trial, and New Hampshire abolished it after forty-eight years' trial. Allow me, therefore, to quote Philip Snowdon, a life-long total abstainer, an eloquent temperance orator, and formerly a member of the British parliament. On page 115 of his book on "Socialism and the Drink Question," he says: "The two states which have most recently repealed their prohibition laws are Vermont and New Hampshire, and these were the most populous of the then existing prohibition states, though their density was not one-twelfth that of this country. Vermont had been under prohibition since 1852 when the majority for prohibition was 13,000 votes. It is significant of much that two generations born and reared under prohibition should in 1902 repeal the statute and give power to the towns to adopt a licence system. The case of New Hampshire is very similar."

Mr. Edwards doubts the truth of my assertion that millions of human beings who drink wine or beer from earliest childhood every day of their lives are healthier and longer-lived than the white people of the United States. He need not doubt very long for he will find full corroboration on page 253 of the New York World Almanac for 1914. He will there find the official government figures of the United States, and of many foreign countries, and he will learn that the United States stands tenth among the nations in health and longevity, being surpassed by New Zealand, Australia, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Britain and France. New Zealand, Australia and Britain are far from being teetotal countries. In all the other countries except, perhaps, Sweden, every boy and girl drinks wine or beer twice a day from earliest childhood, except among the poorer classes.

For sixty or seventy years the United States has been gradually becoming dry, either by local option, prohibition or moral suasion. What has the United States to show to show for its dryness? Physically it stands tenth among the nations of the world. Where does it stand intellectually? Once it was the freest of all countries; today it has less freedom of speech and of the press than any European country except Russia. To-day there are multitudes of men and women undergoing sentences of ten, fifteen and twenty years imprisonment in the United States for making speeches and writing articles which would have been considered quite innocent in England, France or Germany. That is what happens to a nation when it begins tampering with liberty.

Against all this what has Mr. Edwards to say? He gives a quotation from Shakespeare which might lead the unwary to suppose that the poet disapproved of wine. A few lines further down Shakespeare says, "Good wine is a good familiar creature if it be well used; exclaim no more against it." Mr. Edwards also gives us the "opinions" of two life insurance men, who think that teetotallers live longer than moderate drinkers. I am not interested in opinions. If Mr. Edwards has any figures to show that teetotallers live longer than moderate drinkers, let him publish them. I do not think he will, for prohibitionists have been asked for fifty years to produce those figures and they have not done it yet.

Yours truly,
R. B. KERR.

Local Boy Scouts

Edited by Pioneer. Sept. 7th, 1920

One of the requirements of a first class scout is that he must go on foot or row a boat alone with another scout to a point seven miles away and return again, or if conveyed by vehicle (railways not allowed) or animal, go a distance of fifteen miles and back. He must write a short report of the journey and it is preferred that he should take two days over the journey.

• • •

Too many of our scouts after having obtained their second class badge do nothing towards obtaining their first class badge, but rather go in for the easier proficiency badges, even although a second class scout can only hold six of these. As a troop (if we are able to carry on this coming season without quarters) we must make the first class badge the definite objective for every second class scout in the troop by Christmas or the concert next year at the latest. Now is the time of year especially with the hunting season just opened too, that the requirements we have given above should be met. Any live boy who fails to get off into the hills for a hike or a hunt now is missing a great deal.

Conclusion of 1920 camp diary by "Wolf":—

Saturday.—We felt terribly grand, lazy and a few other uncomplimentary things about ourselves when we did not arise till 7.30. The Commissioner had promised me some terrible form of awakening by the name of a "cold pig" or other monstrosity if I slept in after reveille, but when the bugle went the Commissioner found himself as much indisposed to arise as myself so I considered the incident happily ended for me. The troop was delighted to know there was to be no tent inspection and instead a general clean up and packing of kit. When this was over we felt like having only one thing, a good swim, and we were permitted to have one, even though our bathing suits were already packed with our kit.

After lunch the troop lined up and after the S.M. had said a few words and the Vernon Troop and its two representatives, P L's. Shatford and Ball, been given three cheers and a tiger, the Commissioner spoke a few words to us and voiced all our sentiments by saying the camp had been an unqualified success. The S.M. and A.S.M. Harris of Summerland announced their intention of paddling to Kelowna in the canoe. Of course the S.M. was not allowed to leave camp without having thousands of cameras snapped in his face, but eventually at about 1.15 p.m. they embarked in the good canoe. Their departure reminded me somehow of the "Lady of Shalott" and I was nearly overcome with my emotions as the canoe gradually diminished before our gaze, owing to the strength with which their bronzed arms wielded the paddles. We rested till 2 o'clock, then moved the kit into one big pile and had a swimming parade.

The cars and truck conveying the cubs to their abode arrived just as we had left the water and we engaged ourselves in unloading the latter before reloading it with our supplies. Loaded with supplies and shouting scouts it started for home just after three, accompanied on the road by cars full of scouts owned and driven by Messrs. Cunningham, Harvey, Taylor and Groves. We reached our unloading place, Hewetson and Mantle block, about 3.30 and unpacked and stored away all the kit. The tents, surplus grub and cooking utensils had been left in camp for the use of the cubs, so our work was lighter than usual.

Our 1920 camp was over and if the opinion of all scouts is to be taken, it is one of the best we have had yet. Certainly on looking back over those twelve days we can say that we could hardly have spent a better time at any scout camp. Though the number at camp was small, by working together not the slightest trouble was experienced in doing any task, and we were most certainly combined at any time when there was any fun on the horizon. Three cheers and a tiger for our 1920 scout camp and may our next one be just as successfull

From the celebrated novel by Sir Gilbert Parker. A soul stirring storm of the Canadian Northland. Charlie Steel, the most admired and feared, hated and desired man in Montreal was not the man of her choice, but to resist the spell of his mastery, Kathleen could not, dared not. It is the story of a man who doubted faith and the life hereafter until—you will find the answer in this gripping story. Don't miss it.

Mrs. Pollard went down to Vancouver Tuesday.

C. W. Adams left Saturday for the coast.

Mrs. Cook and Margaret were passengers last weekend to Calgary.

Mr. R. A. Braden, of New Westminster, came up last week on a visit to his son, the Rev. E D. Braden

The canneries are now getting busy with the tomatoes, which, however, are a little slow in ripening up this year. Given a few weeks of good warm weather, there should be a heavy pack.

The Kelowna Football team covered themselves with glory Monday at Kamloops by beating the Kamloops team by 2 to nil and bringing home the handsome Robertson Challenge Cup which has been in possession of the Kamloops team since 1912.

The Court of Revision of the Provincial voters' list is to be held Monday next in the court house commencing at 10 a.m. Objections can be heard at this meeting and adjustments made to the list. It should also be noted that any person who is eligible for a vote and who has not already made application, has a last chance to do so in person at this court.

"The Right of Way"

"The Right of Way" in motion picture form, an adaptation of the famous novel by Sir Gilbert Parker, in which Screen Classics, Inc., presents the magnetic and versatile star, Bert Lytell, will be shown at the Empress Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, September 15th and 16th.

As those who have read the book—and it is estimated by Harper & Bros., the publishers, that they number well into six figures—will recall, this is a stirring, picturesque and unusual story of Canadian life in Montreal and again on the fringe of the north woods. The action revolves chiefly about the character of Charley Steele, called, for his dash and manner by his friends and enemies, both of which were numerous, "Beauty" Steele. The famous courtroom scene in which, after clearing a man of the charge of murder, Steele snaps at him, "Out of my sight—you're as guilty as hell!" opens the drama; and this same striking unexpectedness, this suddenness and almost stunning surprise is repeated in the various incidents which go to make up the novel which won for Gilbert Parker the title Sir Gilbert Parker.

"The Right of Way" promises to be one of the real screen events of the season.

Mrs. Barneby is a visitor for a short time to Seattle.

G. H. Fox was a passenger to Vancouver last weekend.

Earl Macdonald was a passenger to Victoria Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Swart are Penticton visitors this week.

Geo. Williams of Penticton was up today for the Fair.

A. F. McLeod was a visitor this week from Fernie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Munro and family came in Monday from Winnipeg.

Messrs. Murdock and Shelder have this week purchased the milk business of J. Birch and added it to their own.

The attendance at the Kelowna Theatre Tuesday evening to hear "Robin Hood" was almost a record, and the quality of the piece fully deserved the crowd it drew. It was a well staged and excellent performance.

The services at the Kelowna United Church Sunday next will be as follows: 11 a.m., Communion service, anthem "O, For a Closer Walk with God" (Foster), evening service at 7 30, when Mr. Drury Pryce will play "The Prophet Bird" (Schumann).

On Sunday next in the Salvation Army hall, special services will be conducted by Brigadier and Mrs. Coombs from Vancouver. There will be Sunday School at 11 a.m. and holiness meeting at 3 p.m. Salvation meeting will be held at 7.30 p.m. and at this service there will also be enrollment of converts. Everybody welcome.

Thieves entered the store of W. M. Crawfotd last night by removing a pane of glass from the back door. They ransacked the till and cash register and made away with some fifteen dollars in cash, in addition to a cheque for a small amount. Cash was evidently the object of the burglars, for they did not molest any of the stock.
