MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

WILL PROSECUTE FOR TAMPERING WITH WATER METER

The Mayor and Aldermen Calder, Copeland, Cosens, Sutherland, Taylor and Thompson attended Friday's meeting of the city council.

Several matters of correspondence were disposed of, amongst which was an application from Kwong Lee Yuen for permission to move the old Willits store to a lot on Ele Avenue near Abbott street. As the proposed location was within the fire limits, the council refused the application.

The mayor and city clerk were appointed delegates to represent the council at the convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities to be held in Vancouver, Sept. 4th.

The city clerk stated that the waterworks foreman had reported a case of tampering with the water system. He had turned off the water from a certain house and later had discovered that the stop cock had been tampered with and the water turned on again.

The council decided to take steps to prosecute the owner of the house in question.

Alderman Calder said his attention had been called to the fact that one of the business blocks had been fitted up with water sprinklers on the roof, and these sprinklers had been in continuous use for at least a month. The sprinklers were used to cool the block. The service was not metered.

Alderman Calder said he had ordered the use of the sprinkler discontinued until arrangements had been made with the council for them.

Alderman Sutherland strongly advised that all water services be metered at the beginning of next year as he was aware of several cases where water was being wasted.

School Trustees' Meeting

The board of school trustees met on Tuesday last, those present being Messrs. Biggar, Trench, McKenzie and Knowles.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read, the report of the boiler inspector was considered, it was decided that a copy of the report should be sent to the architect and that his attention be drawn to the fact that while the boilers are quoted as standing a pressure of 64 pounds, the radiators only bearF a pressure of 10 pounds.

The secretary was instructed to advertise locally for tenders for wood as follows: 25 ricks of pine or fir, or cotton wood, for the frame school and 10 ricks for the temporary high school in Leon avenue; tenders to be submitted by Sept. 15th and the wood (in 20-inch lengths) to be delivered Oct. 1st.

In the absence of Mr. N. D. McTavish for a few weeks, Mr. R. Whillis, was appointed to fulfil the duties of secretary.

The following accounts were passed, after which the meeting adjourned:

Provincial Govt	$10.00

Fall Fair Sports Will Take New Form

The committee in charge of the sports to be held at the fall fair on September 23rd and 24th are planning to strike a new line in this annual event, which has hitherto been given up solely to horse races which were never satisfactory, owing to a variety of causes, chiefly the scarcity of good local horses. There will be races this year, of course, but other things beside. Indeed if success attends the efforts of the committee Kelowna will be treated to the best two-days sport ever held in the Okanagan. The affair will take the character of a "round up" and it is up to the riders of the district to show what we can do here in that line. Kelowna can boast some of the cleverest riders in the valley, and their reputation will be at stake, as there will no doubt be competitors from other points.

The list of events will include Pony race, 14 hands and under, Shetland pony race, Cowboy races, Klootch races, Thread and needle races Harness races, Tandem races, Chariot races, Bicycle races, Motor Cycle races, Tug of war on horseback, Bucking horse contests, Steer riding, Wild horse races, Fancy trick roping, fancy riding, Roping contests and other events too numerous to mention.

Visit of Summerland Players

A large crowd greeted the Summerland Players at the Opera House on Saturday evening last, when Mr. Wm. Sauter and his company presented "In Honor Bound", a little society playlet which gave Mr. Sauter just one of those emotional roles in which he appears at his very best. His portrayal of Sir George Carlyon, was exceedingly good, and he was ably supported by Mrs. Featherstonehaugh, as Lady Carlyon, Miss Heber Percy as Rose Dalrymple and Mr. Oliver Villiers as Phillip Graham.

During the interval between the first and second parts of the program Mr. Wm. Bentley sang "The Prologue to Pagliacchi," and Mr. Sauter read Tennyson's "Lady of Shallott," Miss Phyllis Higgin rendering an effective pianoforte, accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Soames and Mr. Sauter reproduced "The Man In The Street," a capital little original sketch of London life. The representation of the Cockney street musician by Mr. Soames was decidedly realistic and all-together the sketch was probably the cleverest thing which has been in Kelowna for a long time.

Mrs. Watt, of Victoria, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. R. S. Hall, returned home on Wesdesday morning.

The five-year-old son of Mr. J. B. Knowles sustained a fractured leg from falling while playing with a dog.

AUTOMOBILES NOT WANTED

Prince Edward Island is the scene of a quiet contest between the farmers who are opposed to permitting the use of the automobile on the island, and the wealthier class who wish to use them. The government, some time ago pledged itself not to allow automobiling if the farmers at their annual school meeting so expressed themselves The vote was overwhelmingly against the auto. Now, however, the auto owners have secured permission to use their machines within a limited area about Charlottetown. They are endeavoring to secure extensions of the privilege.

NEW GOLD STRIKE VERY RICH

Dr. Cairnes, Dominion geologist, who has returned from White River and the Shushanna district in the Yukon, the scene of the latest gold excitement reports that the new strike is undoubtedly very rich. The known area is yet of necessity limited, but gold has been found on four creeks. The formation is good for the deposit of gold.. The claims extend to the Canadian side. All Cairnes' party staked claims. Dr. Cairnes approved the customs proposal to expedite the movement of goods into the Shushanna district where they were greatly needed. He strongly advised against men going in without ample supplies.

NEW MEAT MARKET SOON TO BE OPENED

CASORSO BROS'. FINE NEW STORE WILL BE ONE OF THE BEST EQUIPPED IN PROVINCE

The huge new block being erected by Messrs. Casorso Bros., our local meat merchants is now approaching its final stages, and it is expected that the meat market will be opened in the early part of next month. When the store is finished Messrs. Casorso Bros. will have, without doubt the best equipped premises in the interior of B. C., outside of Vancouver, and not even there will be found one more modern and up-to-date in its plant and fittings. A complete refrigerating plant, driven by a 25 horse power gasoline engine, with large ammonia compressor and network of pipes covering every part of the premises has been put in at great expense. The firm has also installed an ice-making plant, with storage capacity for about a carload of ice. Separate storage chambers, with carefully insulated walls are provided for poultry, fish, mutton and beef. The store windows themselves will be perfect refrigerators, cooled with brine pipes and lined with sanitary glazed tiles, The glass counters too, will all be artificially cooled. A new feature will be a separate cutting room, cooled to a low temperature, thus avoiding exposing meat, as much as possible in the front store. Throughout the whole plant the utmost care is being taken to ensure scrupulous cleanliness and perfect sanitation.

Provision is also being made for an extensive packing department, where Messrs. Casorso Bros., will cure their own hams and bacon, and manufacture lard, polonies, and sausages. The plant for this purpose is of the most modern description, and is being installed under the supervision of an expert who will afterwards have charge of the various manufactures. Attached to this department is a smoke house and cold storage chambers. Messrs. Casorso claim that by thus manufacturing their own products they will be able to make a great saving on their cost as compared with shipping in the goods from outside points, besides having the advantage of greater freshness.

The opening ceremony is to be made a notable event, and the public are to be given an opportunity of inspecting every part of the store and its elaborate appointments.

DEATH OF L. A. PALMER

The death took place last Thursday at Kamloops, of Mr. L. A. Palmer, superintendent of the Government Telegraphs for this district. Mr. Palmer has been in poor health for a long time, but has managed to go about his duties until recently.

The deceased was 52 years of age and although for a number of years engaged in telephone and telegraphic work came into the district first as a Baptist minister.

The funeral, on Saturday was attended by a large number of influential people, the pall bearers being Judge Swanson, Dr. J. S. Burris, Dr. M. G. Archibald, J. M. Benzie, Rev. W. A. Wyllie and L. T. Shaw.

For one hour, while the funeral was taking place all the telegraph offices in the district were closed. Amongst the wreaths was one from the staff of the Kelowna office.

PUBLIC INVITED TO TOBACCO HARVEST

The harvesting of the tobacco crop by the British North American Tobacco Company, which was commenced last Monday week is proceeding rapidly, aided by the very favorable weather which we have had lately. It is just now perhaps at its most interesting stage, and in order to give the public an opportunity to see something of the process, the company are arranging that tomorrow (Friday) the tobacco fields, including those at Benvoulin, where some thirty acres were covered in with cheese-cloth, will be thrown open for inspection, and an invitation is given to all interested to pay them a visit.

Runaway's seem to be the fashion during the past month. This week has witnessed no less than three.

Kamloops Drops Out of Baseball League

Owing to a severe attack of "Cold feet" the Kamloops baseball club, scheduled to play here this afternoon are not coming. They have decided, at this late hour that they will be further ahead to forfeit the game posted at the beginning of the season than to play the two remaining games and take the chance of finishing at the bottom of the league.

Kamloops, has for the past three or four years been looked upon as the best baseball town in the interior and in fact in the province with the single exception of Vancouver. They have always, until this unfortunate incident been looked upon as "good sports", but we cannot further consider them as such, when, with only two games to play to complete the schedule they have "thrown up the sponge" and quit, knowing as they do, that their action would be a black-eye to the game throughout the league circuit.

It is to be regretted that such a move has been taken, as this may retard the formation of the league another year, however we trust that some new "sporting" blood will be gathered together and that next season they will come back, and "stick" and regain the fame they have enjoyed so long and have in so unsportsmanlike a manner thrown away.

Rev. C. Campbell Brown will speak in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning. Mr. Brown has resided in China for 20 years and is the author of a number of widely read books on Chinese subjects.

Owing to the great interest being taken in baseball the local hardware men are now out after their portion of the honors that are flying about and have arranged a game with the local grocers. The date for the game has not yet been arranged but will be forthcoming in the near future.

Kelowna is surely becoming a baseball town. Games are coming so thick and fast that it is difficult to keep track of them all. Last evening the Manhattan Beach boys crossed bats with a party of Englishmen at the city park. The result was some very exciting and comical features. A fair crowd witnessed the contest which ended 13 to 4 in favor of the Manhattan team.

The Kelowna Study Club will meet on Thursday evening, Sept. 4th at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George Robison, Glenn Avenue. There will be election of officers and the subject for study during the year, decided upon. The club had a very enjoyable and profitable year last year, the subject for study being "Canadian Literature" All members are requested to be present at this meeting, and all ladies who desire to become members will be welcome.

Benvoulin Notes

(From our own Correspondent.)

The crops are looking up around Benvoulin. For instance Mr. Weeks is trotting in cucumbers by the hundreds of dozens and a few more warm days will set the tomatoes rolling.

Miss A. Hunter is the teacher in our school this season.

Quite a number of our young folks are going away and among them Miss Margaret Reid, for whom a farewell surprise party was given at the home of her father, where a very enjoyable evening was spent and ended with "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The following Monday evening another farewell party was given to Miss Mary Day and the Miss Renwicks at the home of Mr. A. Day, where the light fantastic was tripped till two or three o'clock in the morning.

A very enjoyable picnic was held at the polo grounds on Thursday last in honor of the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Reid, and though the day was none too warm the revellers kept their temperatures up with games etc.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP AT OYAMA

LOCAL TROOP TAKE PART IN ENJOYABLE MEET DURING THE PAST WEEK

The July issue of the Headquarters Gazette of the Boy Scouts Association states that it should be the aim of every Scoutmaster to get his troop into camp during the summer months, whether it be a series of week-end camps, an itinerant party, caravan or any other form, adding that the benefit to be derived therefrom is worth all the rest of the year's training owing to the opportunity of putting the knowledge gained to a practical use. A valuable opportunity was given to the Kelowna troop of spending a profitable week in camp from August 18th to 23rd, when about a hundred boys from Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby, Lumby and Kelowna assembled at a point on Kalamalka Lake about a mile from Oyama post office. The journey to camp, made by way of Vernon was of the most chilling description, owing to the cold and wet weather augmented by a storm which made the passage of Long Lake by scow too dangerous a proceeding, and the party were forced to put in for shelter. It was a hungry crowd, therefore which, on arrival at the camp site, had to turn in and pitch eighteen bell tents and receive a supply of bedding for the night. However under the able supervision of Sergt.-Major Sparks the whole assembly were housed in less than half an hour. The spirit of competition at once asserted itself and the friendly rivalry between troops was largely responsible for the efficient way in which the camp details were carried out.

The camp was essentially for cadets but Scouts were admitted by special arrangement. The expenses were borne mainly by the Dominion government, with a view to encouraging the cadet system of training; it was therefore with much satisfaction that the Kelowna troop hailed the possibility of attending a well organized camp without the attendant depletion of the troop funds.

The daily routine was admirably arranged in such a way as to cause no undue fatigue to the boys while the accommodation was excellent, the tents being in first class order, an ample supply of blankets and no over crowding in the tents. The way in which all set to work to erect mess tent, tables, forms, cook houses etc., was splendid, the result being that meals were taken in comfort. The combined efforts of the quartermaster and three cooks ensured a plentiful supply of good food, well cooked and in surprising variety. No cases of sickness were reported but a few minor accidents brought out the utility of ambulance work, as studied by the boy scouts, wounds, severe nose-bleeding and other minor ailments being skilfully attended to by the Kelowna contingent who were looked upon as the "handy-men" of the camp. Many opportunities were afforded of doing "good turns", and the local troop earned the praise of all present for their willingness to undertake whatever fatigue duty might arise whether called upon or not. The mornings were chiefly devoted to two drills or exercises of one hour each, while bathing parade occupied the latter part of each afternoon. In this a picket was appointed to be an duty for the purpose of watching for any possible accidents and Kelowna again filled the bill with four of the strongest swimmers in the troop who remained on duty until every other bather was out of the water and then bathed together. The only cycles in camp were from Kelowna and were requisitioned for errands, etc. The excellent discipline which prevailed in camp was due partly to the fact that on the first day an example was made of two miscreant seniors who, after disporting themselves in the company's boat without leave were promptly dismissed from camp. In accordance with a desire of many of the boys Friday morning was devoted to the interests of a "field day" a brief tactical exercise being prepared for the defence of the camp against a hostile force; although the camp was successfully held the attackers were understood to have won on points for the way they manoeuvred their forces over very difficult ground. A good program of sports was arranged for Friday afternoon and a large number of excellent prizes were awarded. In this the honors went to the Enderby troop; and the day concluded with a much appreciated camp fire.

At 5 a.m., on Saturday the work of striking tents began and at a given signal every tent disappeared as quickly as it had been put up. The marquee was lowered and stowed away, and by nine a.m., hardly a trace of the camp remained.

The gratitude of all was expressed to those who were responsible for the conduct of the camp and the party broke up with a feeling of intense satisfaction at having spent a most profitable week.

It was gratifying to hear the resolutions, made by many members of progress to be accomplished before next year's camp, and the results of last week's experience will be shown in due course.

The camp was ably handled by Col. Bott, assisted by Capt. Nangle, Lieut. Finch, Scoutmaster Sparks and Sergt. Holland, while Dr. Morris of Vernon acted as medical officer. The cooking arrangements were most successfu carried out by Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. King and Miss Russell of Vernon.

Bad Auto. Accident Near Summerland

The lower turn on the Switchback road north of Peach Orchard was the scene of an auto accident at 5.30 on Wednesday afternoon last that very nearly resulted fatally.

Dr. D. Ferguson Busteed of Kamloops, in company with his mother, Mrs. Busteed, wife of C.P.R. Engineer F. F. Busteed, now in charge of the double tracking of the B. C. division of the C.P.R., and formerly general manager at Vancouver, also his sister and brother Frank, who are touring the Okanagan, were coming in from the north and while it is claimed that the car was going slowly in making the right about turn at that point the car skidded, toppled over and rolled down the bank.

A. Ponder and A. Vickery, two men living near, heard the crash and hurriedly 'phoned Dr. Andrew before going to aid the injured. Mr. and Mrs. McLachlan, living in the Hogg cottage, also hurried to give assistance. As speedily as possible the victims were extricated from the wreck and medical assistance given. Others to hurry to the scene were Constable Graham and Supt. Mitchell, the latter kindly volunteering to take them to the hospital in his automobile.

It was found that Mrs. Busteed had suffered a broken collar bone, besides being badly shaken up. Dr. Busteed had his hand badly torn and bruised beside a scalp and foot wound.

A number of stitches had to be taken in the hand which required nearly an hour to dress. The younger brother, Frank, suffered a badly crushed foot, while Miss Busteed, who was driving the car, escaped with little injury and a general shaking up.

Mr. F. F. Busteed, father of Dr. Busteed was telegraphed for and arrived on Thursday night.

The car was r[illegible]d pulled onto the road. Thursday morning and was found not so seriously damaged as expected. The front axle was sprung, the top torn and other minor damage done. It was sufficiently repaired on the spot to bring in under its own power and taken down to the wharf for shipment out.

Both Mrs. Busteed and the boy are doing well at the hospital, and all will return, home, perhaps tomorrow.

The accident is the worst that has yet occurred at that point and emphasizes the necessity of sign boards advising drivers to go very slowly at these sharp turns.—Summerland Review.

Yesterday was the day fixed for the voting on the two new money by-laws for raising money for sewerage and schools. The first was by-law No. 137 to raise $12,000 and No. 138 to raise $9,000 to meet the discount on sewerage and school debentures due to the unexpected fall in the market value of bonds. The council has adopted this method of making good the deficiency in preference to taking the money from current revenue, which would have meant a big increase in the rate of taxation for the year with the result that tax payers this year would have beeo saddled with a considerable proportion of the cost of what is provided for the benefit of the citizens generally for years to come.

The result of the voting shows that this view of the situation was appreciated by the electors. There were 53 votes cast in all, in the case of by-law 137, 49 of these were in favor, with 2 against and 2 spoiled. The voting for by-law 138 was almost unanimous 53 being for and 1 against.

As a result of the vote the council will be enabled to fix the rate at about 18 mills, a less rate than last year.

Although the depressed condition of the money market has been felt in Kelowna, as in almost every other place in the country and especially in the smaller towns and cities of the west, the policy of economy pursued by the council in cutting down every possible expenditure will enable them to avoid the awkward financial predicaments which many other towns are having to face. It is unfortunate but nevertheless it is true, that money is too dear at the present time to go very extensively into public improvements, and the council have shown prudence and business sense in thus holding their hands.

In spite of all this, however, through the saving in other departments, the board of works will, before the end of the year, have been enabled to appropriate some $7,500 for street work, which is one thing which cannot wait alltogether.

Many causes contributed to the formation and consolidation of the great nations of the past. War, commerce, immigration, law, literature and religion have all had their part, more or less prominently. Each empire has had its period of growth, its zenith of power and its age of decline. All were doomed from the first to ultimate failure for the most powerful of all factors had been lacking in their growth and development. That factor is the feeling of national unity combined with pride of race.

It is this sentiment in the British people, and their overseas descendants to the third and fourth generations, that holds the great empire together. But these feelings become weakened with lack of intercourse. The feeling of oneness gives place to the feeling of distinction and separation as time progresses. Hence it is that anything tending to increase the sentimental interest of the different parts of the empire in each other tends also to increase the feeling of unity in its widely separated parts.

The recognition of this fact has led to the various conferences of the leaders of the governments of greater Britain held in London within the last decade or two. At these conferences matters of empire importance are discussed and although the conferences without legislative power, they have already done much to stimulate the interest of the different Dominions in one another.

The latest active recognition of the unity idea takes the shape of a proposal emanating from Earl Gray, former governor general of Canada that all the great Dominions of the empire shall combine to erect buildings for their London offices on one site. The proposed buildings shall be known as "The Dominion House." The site selected consists of two and one-half acres between Aldwych Crescent and the Strand, perhaps the most central part of London. The government of Australia has already begun on one corner of this site the erection of the Commonwealth building, the corner stone of which was recently laid by the King with fitting ceremony.

The proposed location of the new Dominion House has historic surroundings. In the immediate vicinity are the House of Parliament, the Law Courts and St. Paul's Cathedral, each with its record of accomplishment in carrying out the ideals of a great people. The new Dominion House will also stand as the embodyment of the great idea of world-wide empire sufficient to fill the imagination and inspire the minds of the dwellers in the dominions beyond the seas with the importance of their heritage and pride in the accomplishment of their race.

We are pleased to learn that the local rowing enthusiasts are determined, as suggested in last week's issue, not to let their interest in water sports die out with the recent regatta but will continue so long as the fine weather lasts. A programme of events is being arranged for the Thursday afternoon, two weeks from today, viz., September 11th, which will include several rowing races with the new four-oared shells, teams for which are practicing each evening. Swimming, diving and canoe races may also be included, and arrangements will be announced later.

CO-OPERATION

A great many fruit growers apparently imagine that after they have formed a co-operative association they have solved the fruit problem. No co-operation can be a success unless thoroughly co-operative. In the first place an association must have the loyal support of all of its members and the community. Even with this, without the right kind af co-operation along that line the fruit-grower must not look for any great success. In fact co-operation in the fruit industry must be a co-operation at home, the right kind of co-operation with the railways, the right kind of co-operation with the dealers and the retailers and the right kind of co-operation with the consumer. In other words, the association must co-operate all along the line up to and with the consumer by supplying him with the right kind of fruit, properly packed, properly graded and at a price that is reasonable, so that it will not prevent consumption.—Better Fruit

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

New Westminster, Aug. 27—Leading the way for fairs in western Canada, the management of the provincial exhibition which opens in New Westminster on September 30 and continues until October 4, have this year offered the grand total of $60,000 in prizes and attractions.

Preparations are already proceeding apace, and Manager D. E. MacKenzie is daily in receipt of entries for the various departments. Numerous improvements have been made and many of the prizes have been increased, in addition to a large number of new classes in the different divisions.

A record for attendance was established during 1912 when over 60,000 people attending during the five days, but it is predicted that even this record will be broken this year.

The free attractions which will be staged in front of the grand stand will prove a good drawing card and no trouble of expense has been spared to make this feature a success.

The provincial exhibition held in New Westminster, apart from the fun and amusement that is provided, is considered the largest and most extensive truly agricultural exhibition in the province and the agricultural building, in which the district exhibits are displayed in competition for the famous Dewar trophy and the $3,000 in cash prizes, is well worth coming many miles to see. ...

Rows and rows of fruit, of vegetables, grains and grasses, dairy produce and every product of the farm and garden in countless varieties and the very best specimens that can be obtained are here placed on view.

The Fraser and Okanagan valleys, the Cariboo country, Kamloops, and Revelstoke districts, Vancouver Island, the Skeena river district and further north Fort George and Quesnel were all represented last year and it is expected that these and many more will this year send in exhibits.

All entries closed on September 20.

SCHOONER "AMERICANA" GIVEN UP FOR LOST

The schooner Americana is now 170 days out from the Columbia River for Sydney, and is practically given up for lost. The barkentine T. P. Emigh has arrived at Adelaide 119 days out from Puget Sound. The passage of the Emigh is an exceedingly long one compared with other similar voyages and when it is considered that the Americana is out 49 days longer than the Emigh, little hope can be held out for her.

The Americana is owned by the Pacifif Shipping Company of San Francisco. She was built in Scotland in 1893. ...

Another British vessel that has been given up for lost is the British steamer Wyneric, which sailed from Baltimore on April 5th for Guayaquil, and has not since been heard of. The Wyneric is a vessel of 3,141 net tons. She is uninsurable at Lloyd's and has for some time been posted as missing.

ANOTHER FIRE AT REVELSTOKE

The second disastrous ire within the last two weeks occurred last Sunday at Revelstoke, when the West Kootenay steam laundry was reduced to ashes. The property loss amounts to about $20,000, partly covered by insurance.

The laundry was one of the best equipped in the province and employed about forty hands. It was owned by a local company.

OIL BOOM KEEPS CALGARY LAND OFFICE BUSY

The Calgary office of the Dominion Land department continues to be besieged with applicants who wish to file on tracts in the oil district to the southwest of the city.

Although drilling operations have been continued for a year without oil being struck there seems to be a general idea that something will happen in the near future. In consequence there is a miniature stampede on the steps of the Calgary land office every morning and the police have been called upon several times to stop the free fights which have arisen between rival applicants for the premier position in the waiting line.

Both the wells which are now being drilled are down over 2,000 feet and the heads of the companies concerned are sanguine as to the results.

BASEBALL

During the season about to draw to a close the Kelowna baseball club in the Interior League have gained the support of a large number of people. Starting the season, as they did with a team of local boys they were soon outclassed by the other cities, owing to the fact that the other cities secured their players from all over the country. The Vernon Club were gathered in from the east and west, only a couple local men remaining on the line up. Kamloops, likewise secured an entirely new combination from the outside, most of the men coming from Seattle and Tacoma. During the last month not one of the players representing Kamloops last season has entered the line up with the exception of Cresler who took part in one contest. Revelstoke imported many players during the last winter and opened the season with only about three of the old players in the game. The local aggregation soon dropped behind and it was seen that if Kelowna wished to make a fair showing in the league race that some new material would have to be obtained. Consequently a meeting was called of the officers of the club and the business men and supporters. It was stated that the local club depended entirely on the support they received from the public to keep up the team and meet the expenses which amounted to a considerable sum. The attendance at the home games was not large enough to meet the expense incurred on the long trips to Revelstoke and Kamloops and if the club was to remain in the league financial support must be solicited.

Mr. F. S. Coates, acted as chairman of the meeting, and offered to start a subscription to raise money to get players, able to successfully compete with the other clubs. Those present very generously came to the front and aided the club and new material was immediately sent for.

Since the arrival of these new players Kelowna has been furnishing a class of ball that would do credit to any city, ten times as large as Kelowna. Since then the attendance has increased steadily and now crowds who attend the home games give evidence that the efforts of the local promoters has not been fruitless.. Of course we have very little chance of winning the pennant this season, as the other clubs were too far ahead when the team now representing Kelowna was gathered together. However, at the present time Kelowna is recognized as the best combination in the league. The papers of the various cities in which the locals have performed during the last month are all very high in their praise for the Kelowna club. Had Kelowna obtained the players they now have at the opening of the league race Kelowna would have led the way to the flag without difficulty.

This condition has been brought about by the executive of the club, who have not only worked hard and faithfully to secure the support of the people, but have subscribed and solicited subscriptions to support the club.

With the brand of ball furnished by the local team during the past month the handful of men who have worked so faithfully to give Kelowna baseball such as they have, must feel proud of the success they have achieved.

The question is already asked by numerous fans, who realize the fact that Kelowna has a baseball team able to cope successfully with any club in the country, "What about the next season?"

This question must be answered by the people themselves. The management must have good support if we are to have good baseball. Arrangements have already been completed whereby most of the men now here here will return next spring and some will remain during the winter.

Next season they will open the race for the flag with brighter prospects, as far as a good team is concerned. All the requirements are summed up in the fact that the people must suppart the game. If this is done Kelowna will be furnished with a ball team of which they can justly feel proud.

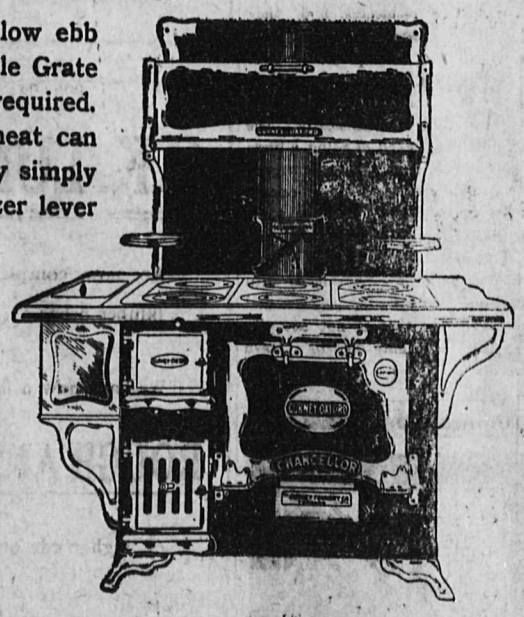
The Gurney-Oxford
Attracts Madam To The Kitchen

THE GURNEY-OXFORD has a large following of fashionable cooks who dip into the culinary art simply for the pleasure they derive from trying dainty recipes previously not attempted. They are all most enthusiastic supporters of the Gurney-Oxford because it contains many exclusive devices that make a perfect cooking equipment.

Its oven is evenly heated in every corner to insure deliciously dainty cakes, golden brown biscuits, and light flaky pastry. A special Divided Flue carries the heat to every hole on the range. The top is perfectly smooth and clean, requiring no black lead polish.

But most important is the Economizer. It is a small lever that moves around a series of six notches giving the exact degree of heat required for any particular dish. The heat of the range can be shut off and the kitchen kept cool between meals by turning the lever to a certain number.

The fire is held at a low ebb on a special Reversible Grate until a baking oven is required. Then the necessary heat can be obtained quickly by simply turning the Economizer lever to another notch.



Such control as this enables many smart women to invent some very tempting dishes which they set triumphantly before their friends. It will pay you to investigate the Gurney-Oxford.

D. Leckie - Kelowna

Dear Sid,—In answer to yours of recent date, I will say, and say it most emphatically, I will not come to Vancouver for your wedding. As I told you before the only way you could get me to return to such a climate would be under the influence of either an anaesthetic or Scotch, and furthermore, I would not come to see a friend rush blindly on to sure destruction. So forget it. If you are bound to pull off this foolish stunt, you'll have to do it without being aided and abetted by me.

We have been makin se all history in Kelowna this last week. Two games which will go thundering down the pages of history were played. The first one between the perpendiculars and horizontals was perpetrated last Thursday. The game was won by the gentlemen with the Gothic style of architecture by a neck—I guess because they have more than the gents of the Aldemanic construction. The game was replete with sensational fielding and batting. In fact one of our most prominent real estate men (who is built more for safety than speed) just missed a chance of being a hero. He was ambling around in the field with gazelle-like?? ease and grace, when the batter knocked a liner in his direction. Here was his cue to make a sensational one-hand, running catch. Nothing loth he started with the dazzling speed of a canal boat after the flying ball, but just as he reached up to grasp the sphere with his unerring mit, his feet refused to track and came together in a head-on collision. The ball bounded joyfully on its way, while our rotund friend had to be reminded that ladies were present. This was but one of the many exciting incidents which will serve to make the game live long in the annals of local baseball.

The other game, played Monday was between several of the local grocery stores. These guys may be able to weigh out sand and chicory and sell wooden nutmegs, but as ball players they are a large bunch of onions. There were sure some weird and wonderful stunts pulled off in this game, but one thing is to be considered, that is, the do or die spirit shown by some of the players. If they thought that their hands were not sufficient to stop a6ball, they did not hesitate to thrust their alabaster bosoms, in its way. This is the kind of stuff from which martyrs are made. Honest, Sid I wouldn't have missed this game for a good deal. Haven't laughed so much since Heck was a pup.

On Thursday next we are to have at the Opera House a couple who should prove of exceptional interest, they are Miss Lucy Webling, who by the way, created the title role in the first production of Mrs. Brunett's immortal play "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and and Mr. Walter McRaye, who as a delineator of the French Canadian dialect stands without a peer, two such talented people should prove a great drawing card.

Before I forget it Sid I want to tell you of a picture we had last Tuesday, which to me was the finest film I have ever seen. The title was "Why". The picture was an allegorical one showing the misery and untold suffering caused by the insatiable greed for great wealth and the evil effects of drink, than which there is no greater evil on earth. Even war, with all its honors does not cause a tithe the suffering. It also showed the pitiful results of child labor, how some of the rich achieve wealth by trampling over the bruised and emaciated bodies of little children, who deserve a little pleasure, but get nothing but work. I am no Socialist, Sid, but I hope God speeds the day when such abuses are speedily rectified. If some of the narrow-minded, self righteous people who are ranting about the demoralizing influence of moving pictures could have seen this picture, it would change their views somewhat.

Now after that outburst I think this epistle should be brought to a close, so with many and heartfelt wishes for your continued happiness and prosperity, and that of your future bride, I remain as ever, your obedient servant and friend.

JIMMY.

LIST OF PRAIRIE APPLE DEALERS

The success of apple growing as an industry depends to a great extent on the securing of a good market. There are thousands of householders, more especially in the prairie provinces, who are longing for fresh fruit of a sort that can be stored and drawn upon during the winter months. The difficulty of the one class is to reach buyers for the fruit, and of the other to find a supply at a moderate price. To bridge the gulf that separates the two classes, and thereby do both an individual service, the Dairy and Cold Storage commissioner has issued a list of the wholesale and retail apple dealers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and sections of New Ontario, whose addresses were available. These, which number about 275 dealers and firms, with few exceptions are said to be in a position to buy at least one carload of fruit. This information is given in circular No. 8 of the Dairy and Cold Storage branch, copies of which may be secured free from the Publication branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

A FRENCH BUDGET CURIOSITY

Among the curiosities of the French Budget is an item of £69,082 10s. for indemnities to the victims of December 2, 1851, when Prince Napoleon was elected president for ten years. Inquisitive persons ask how6 old these victims may be, for one can scarcely be the victim of a coup d'etat before attaining the age and privilege of a citizen and elector. The "Official Journal's asserts that there are still 11,000 of these poor people, but it is challenged to give a list of them, with their ages and descriptions of how they became victims.

There is a legend that in a village of the South of France almost the whole population have been created "victims" who consequently always vote for the government, and spend a life of idleness and ease, playing bowls and smoking their pipes, reaching a ripe and happy old age, and transmitting their grievances and their claims, as well as their electoral obligations, to their sons after them. Electoral reform alone seems likely to eliminate this £70,000 from the Budget.

DOMINION BOTANIST ON TOUR OF CANADIAN WEST

Mr. H. T. Gussow, the Dominion Botanist, Ottawa, who is now on a trip through the Canadian west, states that the most distressing single feature of the weed problem is that arising out of the unnatural abandonment of cultivation of land close to all our large centres. About almost every city, the closest farms—the farms whose natural destiny would be to be utilized for market gardens, city milk production, poultry farms, etc.— have been subdivided; they are now neither cultivated nor occupied by residences, and they are prolific disseminations of weed seeds which ripen and spread all over the agricultural land surrounding. Thus the land that, from an agricultural viewpoint, is intrinsically the most valuable, instead of being a blessing, becomes a curse. There is urgent need for some radical economic reform —single tax on land values or some more effective means— which will prevent the subdivision craze from spreading farther and being back into into cultivation, through tax sales and otherwise, land that is not actually needed for legitimate city or town expansion.

FATS VS. SLATS

On Thursday afternoon last the most noteworthy game of baseball even witnessed in the Okanagan Valley was played on the local grounds. A glance over the following line up will at once satisfy the public that the battle was between the lightweights on one side and on the other side those who refuse to mount the scales for fear the platform would prove to frail to hold their "enormous" weight.

The teams lined up as follows:

Slats

Fats

The game was called at 4 o'clock, with Mr. F. S. Coates handling the indicator and Mr. McKenzie working on the bases.

The long boys won the toss of the coin and took the field, allowing the "huskies" to tire themselves out by going to bat first and swing their war clubs against the leather and ambling around the bases at top speed, (snail's pace) until tired out and then catch them asleep off the bases before their short legs were able to get them back to safety.. During the contest Messrs Meikle and Elliott gave a very good rendition of the Alphonse-Gaston game, when both started for a ball, which rolled between them. "All yours Steve!" shouted Meikle. "No, you take it John" answered Elliott. Then both made several starts and stops, before the unruly sphere was recovered.

In the third inning the heavyweights leaned heavily on the "shoots" served up by Washburn, and for a time the field resembled a merry-go-round at a country circus. This brought six runs across the plate and gave the "Fats" a good lead.

The "Slats" kept plugging along "all the time" and slowly cut down the big lead and in the eight inning tied the score.

For the "Slats" Trench, Webb and Washburn were the star performers. It was reported immediately after Urquhart picked one out of the clouds that "Bob" Brown was looking after a couple of the boys, but after receiving a most flattering offer from the coast manager all hands have decided to stick here for the rest of the season, however, a couple of the braves have signified their intention to join the Beavers next spring.

Gaddes, Cooper and Bowser were approached by "Bob" but his offer was not financially sufficient to tempt the players to leave this beautiful city by the lake.

McKENZIE CO. VS. OXLEY ROBISON CO.

Following close upon the heels of the great baseball contest between the "Fats" and "Slats" of Thursday afternoon came another great exhibition of almost equal importance.

On Monday evening the McKenzie Co. contested with the Oxley-Robison combination the superiority of the grocers of the city of Kelowna. The McKenzie Co., after five innings were played were awarded the game by a score of 8 to 5. The game was called at the close of the fifth inning on account of darkness.

Although at times the players on the field were bunched to such an extent that it was very difficult to figure out the positions played by each men, to the naked eye the team lined up in the following manner:

Oxley- Robison

McKenzie Co.

During the exciting contest many plays were pulled off that made the wise ones sit up and take notice. The most daring base stealing ever witnessed in this city was taken by both teams. The fielding was of the "gilt edge??" variety, no errors being credited to either side.

For the McKenzie Co. Mr. McKenzie was the star performer and his wonderful speed on the bases was a revelation to the crowd of onlookers. The rest of the team also gave a good account of themselves and pounded the ball hard "all the time" and "straight ahead, forcing the peerless pitcher of the Oxley-Robison outfit to flee to the tall timber at the close of the third round.

For the Oxley-Robison combination the star performers were hard to select from that brilliant aggregation, each individual played the game as it has seldom been seen in these parts and with one possible exception were a well balanced team. The one exception, is, of course, as one would expect "John" Oxley, the peerless rooter of the Kelowna club. "John" is more than a rooter now, he has graduated to the ranks of the star player and those who witnessed the contest on Monday evening will long remember the "big healthy swings" he took —at the atmosphere mostly— how he faced the redoubtable pitchers of the opposing team, [illegible] and dared them to put the ball over the plate, and "hit his bat", will be written on the minds of the Kelowna fans.

As is customary in this section of the country among the baseball teams the game was protested because the McKenzie Co., had the most runs and the game must be played over at a future date.

The umpires had their lives insured shortly before the game started but fortunately there was no blood shed. Casad officiated behind the plate with Alberts on the bases.

TEN MILES FOR CATALOGUE

The maddest man in Chase the other day was Jim Baillie of Turtle Valley. He received by mail a card notifying him that there was an express parcel for him at the Chase station. Jim had been expecting the arrival of a couple of boxes of berries, so he hitched up a team and drove down to Chase, a matter of ten miles or so as the crow doesn't fly, but as the road runs. He passed in his post card notice and Mac handed out an Eaton catalogue. The Eaton house is likely to notice a shrinkage in its business with the Baillie household this fall.—Inland Sentinel

PRIMITIVE COAL MINING IN CHINA

Coal mines in Chungking are abundant, and as much of the coal is very near the surface, it is easily worked. The methods employed, however, are most primitive and, although the cost of labor is exceedingly low, the present mode of mining is comparatively expensive. The coal now mined in the province is mostly used for domestic purposes, although a certain amount is even now employed for industrial enterprises, says the American Consul at Chungking. In Szechun, as in most parts of China, the supply of wood for fuel is extremely short. Most of the trees have long since been cut down, and the hills each year are scraped bare, dry grass and leaves being raked and swept up with the utmost care. As wood is so scarce it has become very expensive. Even now coal competes with it successfully, and if modern machinery were introduced the market for coal would gradually widen. ...

A handful of raw pig iron, weighing about five pounds is worth five cents. From it sixty table knife blades can be made, of a value of $15. Converted into steel watch springs, there can be about 110,200 of these tiny coils made from it. They sell at $1.75 a dozen, which would bring the neat sum of $16,070.83 for the five cents' worth of raw metal.

Announcement

"In consequence of a large number of manufacturers having discontinued their discounts and considerably shortened their terms to the wholesale trade, it has become necessary for us to curtail our terms accordingly. We have, therefore decided that groceries purchased by the retail trade on and after September 1st, 1913, shall be sold at net prices, subject to draft payable forty-five days from date of shipment. Sugar and Produce, including smoked meats, lard, butter, cheese and eggs, will be sold net, subject to draft payable thirty days from the date of shipment; and that all overdue accounts shall bear interest at 8 per cent., per annum."

The above letter, signed by all the wholesale grocery houses on the coast has been received by all the local grocers, and as a result they have been forced to protect themselves in a similar manner, consequently they have asked us to insert the following notice:

On account of the shortening of their terms by the wholesale grocers and the elimination of all discounts, we are forced to discontinue the 5 per cent., discount on monthly accounts on all amounts contracted after September first. We will still continue to give credit to a limited number with the understanding that the accounts be paid not later than the 15th of the following month, but cannot allow any discount whatever except to cash purchasers, that is, to those who pay the cash across the counter at time of purchase. To all such we will continue to give 5 per cent., cash discount.

Regretting that we have been forced to cut off the monthly discount after September 1st.

We are sincerely,

Poultry Keeping on a City Lot

BY J. R. TERRY
Secretary B. C. Poultry Association.

Much pleasure and profit are oftentimes afforded householders by the keeping of a few fowls, whereby they can secure fresh, wholesome eggs, and now and again the best meat obtainable, by killing off their surplus stock.

In any city there are very few yards so small or situated so that a few fowls could not be profitably kept. When considering such a question the chief points to remember are, sunlight, reasonable space, shade and good drainage. There are, certainly, other points almost as important, but the above are those that should be mainly

In recent years probably no one topic has caused so much discussion or elicited so many diverse explanations as to its origin and solution, as that of the "high cost of living." It is our present intention to endeavor to show how this problem may be partly met or solved by the "keeping of poultry on the city lot, back yard or garden." consider at the outset.

Quite a few would-be poultry keepers are deterred oftentimes by the fear that the space at their disposal is not large enough. True, a back yard or a garden only a few feet square is not of sufficient area to permit of the profitable rearing of stock, but providing the utmost care is taken as to cleanliness and attention, there is no reason why a few hens should not be successfully kept.

Location of House and Yard

When building, always endeavor to locate the house as far from the dwelling of owner as possible. (We refer, now, to where it is proposed to keep fowls in the ordinary back yard, of say, 50 or 60 feet wide, by perhaps 30 to 50 feet deep). There are good reasons for this. Chief among these, are those of a sanitary nature and that the dwelling house may not obstruct sunlight entering the pen or house of fowls.

Always enclose the yard with wire netting, and this to be not less than six feet high. Where wire is not used and the fowls allowed to run through your own and neighbors' yards, gardens or front lawns, unpleasant consequences invariably arise.

If the lot it surrounded by a board fence, a wire netting two or three feet wide may be strung along the top of the fence, securing the same to scantling or poles nailed to the fence.

If the owner desires to use part of the yard for a vegetable garden as well, a dividing fence of netting should be put up, and by having the whole lot wired, the fowls may be allowed access to the garden after the vegetables have been removed. This will afford the owner an opportunity to clean up and spade over the poultry run in the meantime.

Type of Building

For the coast district and adjacent islands, an open-front house may be used. In the interior, a front composed of either coarse cotton, moveable glass or a combination of both, is preferable.

The type of house proper in any locality may be the same, and may be built according to owner's ideas. These are the types generally used:

Woods' house, a semi-monitor, or, in other words, the roof on the south side starts from a point usually two feet lower from the ridge than the north side; this allows windows to be placed perpendicularly in the portion above; Tolman house, with an uneven roof, having generally two-thirds of its area sloping to the south, and the rest to the north. The southern roof also comes down a foot or two lower than the north side; the common shed roof, with slant to north; the combination roof; which is practically a Tolman house reversed; so that the south roof is smaller in size than the north; the gable, etc. Of the roof styles enumerated, the shed roof is generally cheapest to build. Where driving rains are experienced, it is advisable to place a hood in front of the opening. If possible, the door should be in either the east, south, or west side, and, where not much light is obtainable, a window may be put in either the west or east side.

A board floor is generally used, and it is advisable to build the house up off the ground a few inches, to avoid dampness and harboring of rats. In severe climate, the houses may be banked with stable manure or earth, during the winter.

A foot board should be placed in the doorway, to prevent the litter from jamming the door, and this will also save considerable snow shoveling in winter.

Where the house is located near a fence or building to the north of it, thereby offering protection from wintry winds and storms, it need not be built so deep as when erected in a more exposed position. In any case, it should not be less than 8 feet deep in coast and island sections, and not less than ten feet in colder regions. Where the fowls are confined to the house during the winter, they should be given at least six square feet of floor space each. In milder sections, four may be found satisfactory.

During the hot summer months, as much shade as possible should be supplied in the yards, either by natural growth, such as corn, sunflowers, artichokes, etc., or by cotton screen or board shelter.

Equipment

Very few fittings will be needed. The fewer the better. See that all are portable. Roosts of 2 x 3, or barked poles may be placed running east and west, and from nine inches to a foot space allowed for each bird, according to breed. A dropping board, two feet wide for a single roost, or 3 to 3½ feet for two roosts, should be placed under roost. This should be cleaned every few days, or not less than twice weekly, and the board disinfected with lime or liquid disinfectant. The house interior should be limewashed once yearly, all fittings being removed at same time. The roosts may be painted with creosote or tar, to prevent the breeding of red mites. In severe climates a dust-bath box should be provided. It should be so placed that plenty of sunlight can play upon it. It should be about half filled with earth, with which has been mixed some powdered sulphur. It may be necessary to raise the box on edge to prevent litter getting in. Nest boxes should not be less than 14 inches square, inside measurement, and about one nest to from three to five birds allowed. The nesting materials should be frequently changed, and burned when removed. A water pan,6 preferably enamelled, should be placed on a board at least a foot above the litter, the board being broad enough to allow the bird standing room when drinking. a grit and shell receptacle, and, if desired. a dry-mash box, or trough or board for wet mash. A board for wet mash is preferable. It is much easier to clean than a trough.

The simplest and best form of dry-mash hopper is just a plain box, any size or depth, with the top removed. a lath should be nailed all around the top, flush with the outside edge. This prevents birds from scratching out the mash.

Breeds to Select.

Choose one of the popular breeds, and, above all, get healthy, vigorous stock, and buy only those of a good laying strain. If one finds it difficult to make a choice, it is advisable to visit a local fair or poultry show, and then select.

If one wishes to buy mature stock the best time to buy is between the months of July, August and September. If pullets, then the months of September, October, and November will be found most suitable. Where the owner does not intend to rear chicks, but will secure layers by purchase, no male bird is necessary. On the contrary, they are a detriment and expense. Where a male is needed for breeding purposes, it should not be kept after the close of the breeding season, unless a show specimen. All males should be killed or marketed soon after the middle of June. The Department's Bulletin, "Natural and Artificial Incubation" supplied free on application, fully described methods to be adopted when owners wish to rear their own stock.

Above all, purchase from reliable breeders. The writer cannot urge too strongly on this point. It is courting almost certain failure, and consequent disappointment, to purchase stock from dealers and hucksters. Very few of the latter-mentioned people can supply you stock that will give satisfactory results. Numerous instances have been brought to the writer's notice, where fowls of uncertain age, and suffering from almost every known poultry disease, have been palmed off on unsuspecting people who have bought generally because the birds are secured at at price at which reliable breeders cannot afford to sell.

By writing the secretary, care of Department of Agriculture, Victoria, a list of members of the Provincial Association will be forwarded free, giving a full list of breeds kept.

Feeds and Feeding

Wheat should form the staple food, and, with other hard grain, should be feed in deep litter to promote exercise and health. During the winter months, cracked corn may be fed to advantage, feeding it in equal proportion to the wheat. The amount to feed is best judged by the owner. Care should be taken to see that very few grains are left at a reasonable time from feeding. The times of feeding may may be set to suit the owner. Where a dry-mash is fed, it is not necessary to feed more than twice daily, morning and afternoon. It is important, however, that the feeding periods be punctual and regular. Especially is this so during the winter months, when the birds naturally seek the roost earlier in the afternoons.

Where it is not intended to raise chicks, a wet mash, consisting of table scraps, dried off with ground cereals, may be profitably fed. Care should be exercised in feeding table scraps, however. Salted meats of all kinds, pickles, mustard, or pepper, are feeds of a doubtful character. Trouble of a diarrhoeal and ovarian nature arises very frequently. Fat meats, potatoes or any peelings, should be given sparingly. Peelings, if fed should be cooked, and mixed with bran or shorts. A wet mash may be fed in the morning, or at noon, rather than at the evening meal. The latter should be of hard grain. The wet mash may be composed of table scraps (if large they should be run through meat-shopper), and a sufficient quantity of bran, or ground oats or shorts, so that the mixture may not be too sticky.

Clam or oyster shell, and charcoal, should always be before the birds.

To keep the birds in condition, to get fertile eggs, and, incidentally to reduce the feed bill, green food should be supplied daily. This may be lawn clippings, dandelion leaves, cabbage, kale, rape, clover, alfalfa, chickweed sprouts or mangolds, It is absolutely necessary that green food be fed regularly in some form ar other.

The dry mash consists of a mixture of any of the following, compounded to the owner's liking— bran, shorts, white middlings, cornmeal and ground oats, wheat, barley, or rice. Where sufficient table scraps are not forthcoming, fine-ground beet scraps should be added, the latter to consist of not more than 16 per cent., of the ration. The mash can also be fed as a wet one is desised.

Unless considerable yard room is available, and also taking the losses by cats, rats, etc., into consideration it is much cheaper to purchase pullets or mature stock annually than to rear them.

Pullets at six or more months of age, may be considered purchased at a reasonable price if secured for not more than $2.50 or $3.00 apiece. Yearlings hens may be bought at from $1.00 to $2.50, each, according to breed and age.

Diseases.

Fowls in good condition, fed and treated rationally, very seldom suffer from disease. It does not pay to doctor sick fowls, excepting on very rare occasions. This only when fowls are needed for exhibition, or when they are suffering from slight colds or accidents.

All the contagious diseases, such as roup, colds, tuberculosis, "blackhead" enteritis, cholera, chicken-pox, canker, gleet, etc., may be successfully warded off by preventing draughts, infection from other diseased fowls, supplying sunlight, keeping dropping boards clean, replenishing litter when needed, and removing same when soiled, regular sweeping of yard, spading same after sprinkling lime all over, and supplying permanganate of potash in the drinking water all the time.

In conclusion, the6 association feel assured that if householder in all of the cities, towns and villages of the province could be persuaded to keep a few head of poultry in their back yards where none at present are kept large sums of money would be kept within the province, instead of, at the present time, leaving it for the purchase of imported eggs and meats; yards that are at present non-productive, cauld be made to help solve the vexed question of the high cost of living: and the poultry industry of the province could be placed on a still higher plane than it has at present so proudly secured.

REPORT OF DOMINION MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

Hon. Martin Burrell, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, has published his report for the year ending March 31, 1913. It contains a very concise account of the experimental farm system in Canada. It also contains the orders-in-council that were passed affecting agriculture.

ducts it is pointed out that for the

Regarding the trade in dairy pro- first time in 60 years no butter was exported to the United Kingdom, but on the other hand more than six and one-half million pounds were imported into Canada during the year.

In addition to other work accomplished by the seed branch, almost nineteen thousand samples of farm seeds were tested for farmers and seed merchants.

The live stock department by means of public sales, distributed upwards of 1,300 breeding sheep, about one-third of which were pure-bred rams. In the record of performance test about 1080 cows have been entered.

A general outline of the great amount of work accomplished by the central farms at Ottawa, and the fifteen branch farms and stations is given in the report. In Saskatchewan it is pointed out that the new spring wheat, Marquis, yielded at the rate of 81 bushels per acre. The more recently introduced variety, Prelude, was sent out for the test last year. More will be available for seeding in 1913.

Copies of this extensive report are available to those who apply for it to the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

COAL BLOWN HOME BY TUBE

Hammersmith (Eng.) Borough Council, which has a municipal electricity undertaking, and has to arrange for the storage and delivery of large quantities of coal, reports in favour of a curious scheme proposing to bring the coal from the wharf to the electricity works by blowing it through a pipe. To enable the coal to pass through the pipe water also would have to be blown through, and the report declares that the mixture of coal and water could be forced through at a velocity of 7 feet per second. Upon delivery at the electricity works the coal would be allowed to settle down in the tanks, when the surplus water would be drawn off and returned to the river. The cost of the scheme is estimated at $50,000.

TO STRENGTHEN TOWER OF PISA

A message from Rome states that steps are being taken to strengthen the famous leaning tower of Pisa, which is inclining more and more, although imperceptibly, from the vertical. Its condition is considered to be becoming dangerous. A committee, presided over by the Director-General of Fine Arts, has decided to drain the subterranean part of the tower, into which water from the River Arno has percolated, and ta broaden the foundation.

Amusements

At the Opera House Thursday, September 4th, an extra attraction to the feature pictures provided will be the appearance of Miss Lucy Webling and Mr. Walter McRaye with a programme of dramatic recitals, which will include "The Palace of Truth" by Alfred Sutro, author of "The Walls of Jerico," "Sauce for the Gander," by S. There Smith, "When Charles was King," a costume playlet, and a scene from Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew."

Miss Webling has had a long and enviable career, having created the role of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the age of eight, and played it 540 times at Terry's theatre, London, since when she has supported all the leading English actors, and will be remembered more recently for her beautiful conception of "Mimi" in Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

Mr. McRaye, long known for his splendid interpretation of Dr. Drummond's French "Habitant" characters, the Folk Lore of old Quebec, has toured Canada, England and the United States for many years, and has never failed in his efforts to provide wholesome amusement. He has, during recent years, made a study of so-called "Tabloid" drama, and has fixed upon a group of plays sure to find response in popular fancy. Mr. McRaye is a finished actor and impersonator, and has scored many hits at home and abroad.

Sir Gilbert Parker, novelist and member of the Imperial Parliament is making his present trip to Canada almost solely to look after his interests in British Columbia and also to write a novel with local color, from the Pacific coast.

THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF REFRIGERATION

The third international congress of refrigeration is to be held in Chicago September 17 to October 1, 1913. It will be attended by delegates from over forty different countries, from 1,200 to 1,500 foreign delegates alone being expected. There will also be present delegations from the boards of health and aldermen of all the large cities ofthe east. At the first meeting of this organization, held in Paris in 1906, there were 8,000 people in attendance, and at this meeting a larger attendance is expected than at any previous industrial convention ever held in this country.

This will also be an exceptional opportunity for anyone interested in the building or running of cold storage houses to investigate the different types of machinery and of houses. At the meeting of the different sections papers will be presented which will embody the best thought of all countries on questions of refrigeration and its application to foods and the industrial arts. The proceedings of the congress will be printed in five different languages and all delegates will be furnished with a copy in the language he prefers.

The United States government lends its official sanction to the congress and exhibit and will prepare an exhibit of its own, illustrating the best practice of icing and storing fruit and other food products.

A banquet will be given the delegates at which will be served only such foods and beverages as are customarily held in cold storage. It is proposed to give each guest at the banquet a handsome souvenir menu giving an officially certified history of each article of food served. Northwestern apples held in storage under government experiment will be one of the articles served.

BAYONETS AND TELEPHONES

A regular army bayonet, converted from an instrument of war and destruction into an implement of peace and conservation, now forms part of the hand telephone kit of every forest ranger in the United States Forest service, says the "Electrical World." These bayonets have binding posts fixed to their ferrules, and are used as ground rods to establish a return connection with the single conductor telephone lines which are being built all through the wilds of the principal national reserves. The most important use for these lines is the reporting of forest fires. When a ranger wishes to communicate with headquarters he takes a coil of bare wire from his kit, throws it over the nearest telephone wire, and "saws" on the two ends until a good connection is established. Meanwhile, his bayonet has been thrust deep into a moist place in the earth, and with the circuit thus completed, the lonely wayfarer can talk, report his position, or summon help.

THE SPARROW IN CANADA

A Canadian correspondent writes to an English paper: "In Montreal there is one bird very well able to look after itself; that is the English sparrow, which swarms in every street They were originally introduced into Montreal, and have now spread across Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver and down into the United States. They were brought over as scavengers; two thousand were liberated in this city, one thousand at each end of the city. At the time they were in great demand anyone who had a pair frequenting their house being considered very lucky. However, today they are not thought of so highly, as their numbers have decreased their value."

ATTEMPT TO CHEAT GALLOWS

Harry Wagner, alias Ferguson, "The Flying Dutchman," awaiting execution at Nanaimo for the murder in April of Provincial Constable Westaway at Union Bay when the latter attempted to arrest him while in the act of burglarizing the store of Messrs. Fraser and Bishop, made a determined attempt to kill himself in his cell at the Nanaimo jail last Friday morning.

Hurling himself head first against the stone wall of the death cell, Wagner attempted to batter out his brains. One of the guards who have been on watch continuously since the prisoner was sentenced, was busying himself with some prison detail at the time, and Wagner took advantage of the fact that the jail official's attention was diverted to make his attempt at self destruction. He was quickly overpowered and heavily shackled, while an additional guard was placed on duty.

Wagner was hanged in the courtyard at the jail yesterday morning.
