Memorial Campaign Will Start November

Executive Appointed To Submit Suggestion and Estimate of Probable Cost

At a meeting of the general committee of the Kelowna District Memorial held Monday evening in the council chamber, it was decided to defer any active collecting compaign for funds until November 1st, for various reasons, the present time not being considered suitable for such an undertaking.

Since the public meeting held April 9th, representatives from the various districts have been appointed, the committee now consisting of the following: chairman, J. W. Jones, M.L.A.; city representatives: Mayor Sutherland, Mrs. Calder, Ven. Archdeacon Greene, Ald. W. J. Mantle and Messrs. E. C. Weddell and L. V. Rogers; representing the G.W.V.A., J. C. Anderson, H. S. Atkinson and J. Inglis; Benvoulin, E. A. Day and W. A. Scott; East Kelowna, A. H. Shaw and Mrs. J. E. Reekie; Ellison, P. Sands; Glenmore, J. M. Cushing and J. N. Thompson; Westbank, W. G. Gore and W. Hewlett; Ok. Mission, R. H. Stubbs and R. Gray. Of these fourteen were present. City clerk G. H. Dunn was appointed secretary.

A letter from Rutland stated that though the people of that district had decided to erect a memorial of their own in the school grounds the Kelowna committee was invited to solicit subscriptions there also.

After these preliminaries the chairman invited the members of the committee to frankly express their opinion as to the expediency of initiating an active campaign in the immediate future.

From reports presented it appeared that there was still much difference of opinion as to the form the memorial should take, and that owing to this interest in the scheme was not so keen as might have been expected. It was stated as the general opinion of a majority of the public, that a monument should be erected first as a token of respect to the dead, and then a suitable memorial hall if funds were available.

After much discussion on this subject, it was decided to appoint a sub-committee, consisting of Mayor Sutherland, Ald. Mantle, J. N. Thompson, J. C. Anderson, and E. A. Day for the purpose of submitting a recommendation as to the class of building and monument an estimate of the cost, the manner in which they could be financed, and the proportion of coat to be allocated to each district.

Messrs L. V. Rogers, E. C. Weddell and Mrs. W. B. M. Calder were appointed a publicity committee.

The treasurer desires to acknowledge the following subscriptions:

Previously acknowledged	$1524.00
Black, T. C. & A. H.	5.00
Louden, Miss J. W.	2.50
Windsor, Mr. & Mrs. C. B.	5.00
Lee, M. H.	5.00
Total	$1541.50

After a long period of illness which lately became more acute, there passed away Monday at their home on the Black Mountain road Rutland, Lucy Laura, the wife of J. M. Bailey, eldest son of Postmaster Bailey of Kelowna. The deceased lady, who was 33 years of age, was a daughter of Mr. Geo. Whelan, of Ellison, born and reared in that district. She leaves a family of two young children.

The funeral took place Tuesday, the service held at the house being attended by many old friends and relatives. The numerous floral tributes which were sent sestified to the general sympathy and affection in which she was held. Interment took place at the Kelowna cemetery.

The G.W.V.A. are calling a special meeting for May 31st to consider resolutions to be submitted to the provincial and Dominion conventions. All resolutions must be handed to the secretary not later than May 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kennedy were passengers to the coast today.

Local Teachers Discuss Salary Question

A meeting of the Kelowna teaching staff was held on the 12th inst. to consider the reply of the trustees to the teachers' request for an increase of salary. The increase asked for was 15 per cent. on all salaries above $1,500 and 20 per cent. on all salaries under that figure. The trustees replied by offering each teacher on the staff who was satisfactory, five dollars per month over the scheduled increase due next term.

It was resolved at the meeting that as the question of teachers' salaries had been discussed in the city council, and as the report of that meeting had been widely discussed throughout the city and district, some attempt should be made to correct a certain false impression that had spread abroad. Unfortunately, the discussion of the handling of taxes under the new Municipal Act became confused with the School Board estimates and the impression was left in the public mind that the threatened closing of the schools, which was mentioned apparently as a criticism of the Municipal Act, was due to the huge increases the teachers were demanding.

In the columns of a local newspaper the chairman of the School Board was reported as saying: "The Board's total receipts from the city for the whole of 1918 came to only $13,431, so the Board's increase for 1919 showed an advance of 40 per cent., which Mr. Bigger declared was accounted for by increased salaries." As no public contradiction has been made of this statement it has been thought necessary to lay the facts before the public, for it is recognized that no increases would be acceptable to the teachers which have not public opinion behind them.

While the teachers on the whole are grateful enough for the increases such as they are, they do not want the public to get the idea that the increases they are receiving from the School Board are so large that the schools may have to be closed on account of them. As a matter of fact, the increases for the regular staff will cost the city only $240 over the scheduled increases for the entire fall term. It will be readily seen that Kelowna schools would not be closed for the lack of any such sum.

Boy Scout Concert is Great Success

Theatre is Crowded Out Both Evenings

The Kelowna Boy Scouts and Cubs have every reason to feel satisfied with the result of their sixth annual entertainment which took place last Thursday and Friday, for not only was the program provided a good one and successfully carried out, but the Kelowna Theatre was altogether inadequate to accommodate the crowd which sought to gain admission, and especially on the second evening many had to go away disappointed, all the seats and standing room being filled long before the entertainment commenced. The increasing popularity of the concert may also be taken as a mark of the general appreciation of the good work which is being accomplished by the movement in Kelowna under the leadership of Scoutmaster E. Weddell and Cubmasters Gordon and Bartholomew.

The purpose of the concert is the raising of funds for the annual summer camp for the boys, and on this account its success is all the more pleasant. Much hard work had been entailed in the preparation for the many items on the programme, which was a varied and interesting one.

The sounding of "Reveille" brought the audience to attention, when the first number, a patriotic chorus, "Home Again," was sung by the Troop. This was followed by some well-executed marches by the Bugle Band, who under the training of Mr. Fred Gore, are becoming wonderfully adept. The Cubs then took the platform with a tableau drill and chorus, followed by an exhibition of signalling by six of the Scouts, Scout Small "brought the house down" with a comic song about his fascinating manner with the girls. It was then the Cubs' turn to sing, which they did very lustily in the chorus, "When you come back."

In one of the Scouts' first concerts, they achieved a great success with an amusing sketch, "The Dentist's Den," and this was now repeated, proving as popular as ever.

After a brief interval the chorus, "Motor King," was sung by the Troop, and an exhibition of knot tying given by the Cubs.

An interesting ceremony at this point was the presentation of badges by the Provincial Commissioner, the Rev. and Hon. T. R. Heneage. Before doing so Mr. Heneage spoke of the Boy Scout movement generally, and had some encouraging things to say about the Kelowna troop in particular. He spoke of the great service which the Boy Scouts had been to their country during the war. Enlistment of leaders had crippled some of the troops in B.C., but many of those who left to fight for their country were now coming back offering their services again.

In place of the presentation ceremony on the second evening an amusing exhibition of blindfold boxing was given.

Scout C. Richards next told how Jimmy tended the baby, a method not to be recommended. More marches by the Bugle Band, an exhibition of physical training by the Troop, and a number of bugle calls, brought the programme to the concluding item, a chorus, "Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning!" sung with much feeling and emphasis.

The accompanists were Miss Betty Gaddes, Miss Dorothy Leckie, and Miss Denison, while Mr. J. N. Thompson conducted the choruses. During the evening, the president of the local Association, Mr. P. DuMoulin, thanked all who had contributed to the success of the concert by training the boys and in many other ways.

Ask for Road Man for This District

Board of Trade Sends Resolution to Government

The Kelowna Board of Trade held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, the attendance being smaller because of the counter attraction of the Navy League meeting held the same evening. A number of matters were discussed from the state of the roads to the high cost of living.

In regard to the former, the Rutland farmers had written asking endorsation for a resolution demanding dismissal of the road superintendent. Although the purpose of the resolution found strong support, it was ultimately decided to adopt one asking for the appointment of "an officer with full power to build roads to be stationed in the Kelowna district."

It was Mr. Denison who moved that "owing to the abnormal and unprecedented high prices of the necessaries of life in the shape of food at the present time, and the immediate necessity of prompt action being taken to remedy this state of affairs, be it resolved that this Board respectfully urge the Kelowna Women's Institute to take the matter up and heartily endorse the action taken by the ladies at the coast at a mass meeting held May 14th, urging the Dominion government to take steps to limit the exportation of foodstuffs."

This provoked a lengthy discussion but the motion was eventually lost on the ground that such a course would conflict with the export of fruit.

Mr. M. Hereron, appointed at a meeting of the council of the Board to assist returned soldier farmers in the choice of land, reported that so far eleven soldiers, mostly local men, had made application to purchase and settle on land in this vicinity.

Mr. L. E. Taylor send a number of suggestions regarding game regulations, pointing out in regard to deer the inadequacy of the work performed by the provincial police. He promised to take the matter up personally with coast associations and the government departments on his next visit to the coast.

On the suggestion of Mr. P. P. Woodbridge it was agreed that the council of the Board should appoint a committee to consider the advisability of making exhibits at Vancouver, Calgary and other points.

Resolutions were to be forwarded to the C.P.R. asking for sleeping car accommodation from the Landing to the coast, and also for an inquiry into the reason for the delay at the Landing to which north-bound travellers are subjected.

An informal discussion re telephone connection with the coast elicited the information that the different telephone companies had the matter under consideration and would make an announcement in the near future.

Several more returned men came in during the past week. Fred Small arrived Saturday. Badly wounded in the leg he has spent much time in hospital. His brother George came in Tuesday. On Wednesday H. Francis of Rutland, and J. Marty were arrivals.

Sergt. J. B. and Mrs. Whitehead arrived Monday from Victoria where they have spent some weeks since the former's return from overseas.

Miss Winter returned this week from Red Cross nursing at Camp Hospital 33, Pontanazen, near Brest.

Rev. S. W. Fallis, formerly pastor of Calgary Central Church and now in charge of the publishing interests of the Methodist Church of Canada, will preach at both services in the United Church Sunday. Mr. Fallis is a cousin of Lieut.-Col. Fallis, well known to Kelowna people.

Decide to Form Local Navy League Branch

Lt. Helmsing Lectures on Raid on Zeebrugge

Twice before has Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper been announced to speak in Kelowna on the subject of the Navy League, and each time something has happened to interfere with that intention. It was, therefore, excusable that the audience gathered in the Methodist church Tuesday evening, should feel keenly disappointed when the announcement was again made that he had been detained at the coast and could not appear as advertised.

Fortunately, Lt. Helmsing, who was announced to accompany Sir Charles and lecture on the subject of "The Zeebrugge Raid," had managed to get here, and undertook both that duty and the explanation of the aims and objects of the League, with a view to establishing a branch in Kelowna. This was the real purpose of the meeting, and was successfully carried out at a meeting following the lecture when the necessary number of signatures were obtained to an application for a charter.

The chair was taken by Capt. T. W. Stirling, O.B.E., R.N., lately returned from four years' service with the British Admiralty.

He regretted the absence of Sir Chas. Tupper, who had wired that he had been detained on highly important business of a public nature.

Speaking of the work of the British Navy during the war, he said it was now a common-place fact that but for it the war could not have gone on, and when he spoke of the Navy he meant not only the Royal Navy, but the naval reserve and men of the mercantile marine. But for their heroic devotion England would not have been able to feed herself a week. Some of the men had gone down in torpedoed ships two or three times, and had still remained faithful to their exacting duties. England's safety lay in her naval power, and it was essential that the strength of the navy and mercantile marine be kept up, and that foreigners be excluded from the service.

He spoke of the enormous traffic which had crossed the Atlantic during the war, all of which would have been impossible if the enemy flag had not been driven off the seas during the first few months of the war. The Navy had made possible the enormous operations in various parts of the world, and the huge transport of troops.

Lt. Helmsing then undertook on behalf of Sir Chas. Tupper to explain something of the great work which the Navy League was accomplishing.

The Navy League of Canada, which was formed in 1917 as a branch of the older institution in England, arose out of a need that Canada should support an organization to afford relief to dependents of her sailors. There were now 22 branches in B.C., each with a considerable membership.

During 1918-19 a sum of $1,728,000 had been raised in Canada. Of this one million went to the support of the overseas organization, and the balance to the foundation of sailors' homes at various Canadian seaports, extensions of existing institutions and relief work generally.

The objects of the League were to impress on the public mind the importance of the Navy to the Empire; to provide homes and medical care for sailors coming ashore; to form Boys' Brigades which would train boys in a knowledge of seamanship; and to engage in relief work amongst the dependents of sailors who were in need of assistance.

He urged the forming of a branch in Kelowna, and explained the procedure necessary to follow. The annual fee was $2 per annum, junior membership being 25c.

A resolution proposed by Mayor Sutherland and seconded by Archdeacon Greene, that a branch of the League be formed in Kelowna was carried unanimously.

Lights were then turned out and Lt. Helmsing proceeded with this lecture on the Zeebrugge Raid. No more thrilling story has ever been told than the exploits of Capt. Carpenter and his 1600 volunteers in blocking the entrance to canal at Zeebrugge. The lecture was illustrated by a profusion of photographs and maps which made the whole operation very clear to the audience.

Government is Scored By Opposition Leader

First Political Meeting Since 1916 Election Campaign

For the first time since the memorable election campaign of 1916, Mr. W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservative opposition appeared before a Kelowna audience last night, and in a characteristic address, from which none of the old fighting spirit was absent, severely criticised the Liberal administration not only for their want of faith in not carrving out their pre-election promises, but for the wasteful muddle to which they had reduced affairs during their three years of office. In the most bare-faced manner, he said, they had manipulated things to provide jobs and rewards for party supporters, forgetting the outcry they had made against patronage before the election.

The meeting was held in the Kelowna Theatre, Mr. Leslie Dilworth presiding.

The first speaker was J. W. Jones, M.P.P., member for the district, who after reviewing some of the events which had taken place since the last election, went into a detailed comparison of the finances of the province at the present time with those of the late government. The Liberals had accused the old government of extravagance but instead of carrying out their promises of retrenchment and economy had plunged the province deeper and deeper into debt.

The enormous and unwarranted increase in the cost of the civil service, he believed would account for much of it. Soft jobs, he said, had been provided for numerous friends of the government at fat salaries, and gave many glaring cases of overpayment. Government road provided an outstanding instance of Liberal mismanagement for while appropriation had been cut down to a mere fraction, overhead charges had actually increased. High salaried officials had been appointed, but the roads were left in a neglected state.

The Agricultural Aid Act introduced by the late government and modelled upon those in successful operation in New Zealand and other countries, had been in operation only a short time when the Liberal government came into power. They had immediately substituted the Land Settlement Act with six highly paid members whose proceedings had become a standing joke.

In their provision for returned men the government had been equally unhappy, the speaker dealing at some length with their latest undertaking, the purchase of 22,000 acres south of Penticton. This land which he had fonnd upon enquiry had originally cost the company $28,000 had been sold in the same condition to the government for $350,000.

In conclusion Mr. Jones said that since his election as representative of the district, while he had been unsparing in his criticism of the government where he had thought it necessary, he had not hesitated to support any measure which he believed was for the benefit of the province.

Mr. Bowser was well received and it was apparent that much of the animosity which had been stirred up at the last election had subsided. He recalled grimly the attacks of his political opponents at that time who had accused him of almost every crime in the calendar. "What have they ever proved against me?" asked Mr. Bowser. "Not a thing!" To-day he had a clearer conscience than his accusers, and they had been kept busy investigating scandal in their own ranks. The elaborate audit of the accounts had cost $18,000 and the report had never been tabled. It had not contained a single line against the old administration. Time had shown the foolishness of the insinuation that he had been concerned in the plugging inquiry and the very man who had accused him of complicity with MacKenzie & Mann had been proved to have $15,000 from them in campaign funds.

There had been a great outcry against orders-in-council, and the Liberals had passed 4,718 since they took office.

The Civil Service Act which was to have abolished patronage had been delayed for fourteen months, and with a friend of the government as examiner Liberals were being put in everywhere except for a few returned soldiers, as the result of pressure.

He referred to the tremendous increase in taxation, and to the many costly and ridiculous blunders which were constantly being made. They had spent huge sums for new furnishings and had purchased to date 77 automobiles at a cost of $63,719. These were costing $25,000 a year to keep up.

He created much amusement by poking fun at the airplane experiment for forest patrol which ended disastrously and cost $8,500, and to certain steamboat purchases. These things, he said, were not only humorous but serious as people's money was being wasted.

The credit of the province had fallen away under this kind of thing and was only now beginning to come back.

The present government was not sincere on the returned soldier question and it was not surprising that much dissatisfaction had been stirred up.

He paid a tribute to the great assistance Mr. Jones had been to him as leader of the opposition. No member of the House had been more assiduous in his duties.

In conclusion he touched upon the local question of irrigation. He believed the only solution was a bold policy of government ownership of storage systems, and that no good could come of the delay and feeble attempts at relief whic constituted present government's policy.

In company with Mr. Jones the opposition leader left this morning for Penticton.

School Column

By Principal Gordon

Singing is proving to be an attractive form of school exercise. It is a pity the Assembly Hall is not available for combined class singing. Much better results would be obtained if the children could be assembled to hear each class sing occasionally. We require music books very badly. These have been ordered for four months now but up to the present the School Board has not been able to obtain them. The teachers are doing their best with rote singing, but that can scarcely be called an enlightened form of education. Some of the teachers are expecting to attend the summer School of Music this summer at Victoria. We hope next term to see a uniform system of class singing throughout the school. But in any case the teaching of music will never be on a proper educational basis until a supervisor is appointed who can visit each room at least once a week and give trained advice and assistance to the teachers.

As far as one can see at present only about sixty per cent. of the total number of pupils in the Entrance classes will be able to go through. Had the winter not been so hard on children as it has been, and had their attendance been unbroken, some who may fail might have been able to reach the required standard; but as it is they will be well advised to remain in the Entrance class another year.

If it could be arranged, the best plan would be for those pupils who are to repeat in the Entrance, to do Entrance work up till Christmas and thereafter to begin the study of High School subjects as a preparation for the regular High School course. But I am doubtful if the Department of Education would sanction such a conrse.

I am convinced, however, that pupils are better to fail in the Entrance examinations than in the first year High School examinations. If pupils go in ill-prepared they become so discouraged that they drop out.

• • •

The grading of the rest of the school will be equally disappointing. I can unhesitatingly say that the teachers have made a strong effort to get the pupils as far forward as possible; but with the best of intentions they cannot force nature. Had the mumps not come upon the school we might have recovered from the influenza epidemic. As it is we ask the parents to be assured that whatever we consider to be in the best interests of each child will be done.

• • •

The school gardens are all planted. The principal's Entrance class is working on a model home garden. The other classes are working on the individual plot system.

• • •

A visit was paid to the school last Friday by representatives from the I.O.D.E.; namely, Mrs. B. MacDonald and Mrs. Telford.

Frail, Sickly Children Improve Rapidly on Vinol

The reason we so strongly recommend Vinol for frail, sickly children is because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycerophosphates — but no oil — the very elements needed to build them up. It is delicious to the taste, and children love it.

These Two Mothers Have Proved This.

Bainbridge, N.Y.
"My little daughter, 13 years old, overworked and was run-down, tired all the time, nervous, had headaches, couldn't eat and had to stay out of school. Vinol has built her up. She has a good appetite, no more headaches and has returned to school again."—Mrs. Lester Andrews.

Williamson, W. Va.
"My little boy was weak, puny, and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended and it built up his strength and made him healthy. Now he romps and plays like other children. We certainly believe in Vinol for children."—Harley Clay.

A little of the real state of affairs exposed.

Senator Robertson, speaking in the Senate last Thursday, said: "Perhaps we will have to ask the people of this country why it is that a pair of shoes that the manufacturer sells for $6 is sold to the consumer for $12 . . . I can say in all candour that the manufacturer's profit in most instances is not unreasonable to anything like the same degree as are the profits of the people who handle their goods after they leave the factory."

I believe he spoke the truth and some of you people are being "Germanized." See my window for HONEST profits.

Random Remarks

By the Chiel

"A chiel's amang ye takin' notes and feth, he'll prent them."—Burns.

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay;
And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

There are a lot of sorrowing bereaved ones throughout the world to-day. The great war and the influenza have claimed as victims untold numbers, and perhaps those facts account for the great revival of interest in what is called spiritualism. Explain it as we may there is no doubt about the widespread interest in the subject which is being manifested at present. With its promise of communion with those loved and lost, it is not surprising that the "ism" referred to should prove attractive to some types of mind at this time.

* * *

"We protest against hatred being perpetuated for ever; a curse being established for ever." This is part of a recent statement by Mr. P. Schiedeman, a German gentleman of some considerable notoriety. He would only use hatred when it suited his party, I suppose. What about the "Hymn of hate" now? Does it no longer express the German national sentiment? Can it be that the change of heart—as the phrase goes—has at last affected our friend, the enemy? I think not, and believe the following couplet about describes the situation:—

When the Devil was sick, the Devil a saint would be;
When the Devil was well, the devil a saint was he!

I was, unfortunately, prevented from attending the scouts' concert, but all I have heard about the performance only increases my chagrin at being unable to be present. The affair drew houses which the place could not accommodate and was in all respects a complete success.

* * *

I have just had an opportunity of reading this month's issue of "The Veteran," the official organ of the G.W.V.A., and desire to say that it is a first-class production. There is a splendid editorial on the subject of the general unrest prevalent throughout Canada, with pointed reference to the danger of an outbreak of Bolshevism and the means of prevention. The whole tone of the paper is insistent on the wisdom of reasonableness and moderation on the part of returned men in regard to their relations with the authorities. But if you don't happen to take the paper I would advise you to borrow it, and—read it, of course.

A local merchant, whose advertisement is usually of a striking nature, raises the question of naming your authors when quoting. One of Dickens' characters, Captain Cuttle to wit, was greatly given to quotation and most punctilious in regard to naming his author, but woefully inaccurate, both in quotation and ascription, and this recollection leads me to recall a very good (or bad) case of misquotation on the part of a friend of mine. Finishing a rather lengthy expression of opinion, and with an air of "and this is a conclusion of the whole matter," he perpetrated the following: "As John Bunyan says in his 'Henry the Eighth': 'A man's a man for a' that!'"

Mrs. Barlee left this morning on a visit to England.

Mr. Chapman who this week relinquishes proprietor-ship of the East Kelowna store, begs to thank his many friends and customers for their kind patronage during the past few years, and hopes that the same will be transferred to his successor, Mr. R. G. How.
