THE WAR.

Fighting is Imminent.

Tatchekiao, July 15th.—The Japanese have withdrawn from the west side of the railroad and are massing their armies on the Russian left. Reconnaissances in force carried out by Russian cavalry and artillery yesterday and today almost as far south as Kaichou failed to disclose the Japanese. Fighting is imminent at Tatchekiao and Haicheng. The Japanese are entrenched six miles south of Tatchekiao. Much skirmishing is taking place. The weather is favorable for the movement of troops. No rain has fallen for a whole week. It is rumored that a Japanese column has appeared on the Mukden road.

The general staff has not received confirmation of the reports of the occupation of Niu Chwang by the Japanese. No news has been received here from Port Arthur or from the Vladivostock squadrons. The Emperor's absence may account for the dearth of news.

LUMBER SUIT.

Nagle vs. Harbor Lumber Co.

The trial of Nagle vs. Harbor Lumber Company, is proceeding at Vancouver. Mr. Davis is for plaintiff, Mr. McCaul for Harbor Lumber Company, and G. S. McCarter for Empire Lumber Company. The plaintiff entered into an agreement with defendents to stake certain limits, he to receive a seventh interest. The suit is brought to enforce this agreement. The plaintiff in March, 1903, entered into an agreement with the Fred Robinson Lumber Company to stake certain limits, the plaintiff to receive one-seventh of the profits to be derived from the timber on said limits. The Fred Robinson Company became the Harbor Lumber Company. The Harbor Lumber Company in turn sold their assets, including the limits in question, to the Empire Lumber Company, the consideration for the sale being certain shares in the Empire Lumber Company.

Plaintiff now asks for an account of said sale, and that the proportion of the amount of shares be handed over to him, or in the alternative that the Empire Lumber Company be declared a trustee for his share of the profits to be derived from the timber limits staked by him.

Mr. McCaul, for defendants, stated that they would consent to a reference and judgment for the handing over to the plaintiff of whatever shares in the Empire Lumber Company should be found to be his proportion. Mr. Davis contended that they were entitled to their alternative remedy.

Mr. Justice Drake decided that as the pleadings stood the only order that he could make would be one for for a reference.

Mr. Davis then moved to make certain amendments to the statement of claim, so the plaintiff may press his alternative remedy.

Since writing the above the amendment with statement has been abandoned; judgment for decree as consented to; action referred to registrar to take account; question of costs reserved.

YOHO BATH HEATER.

"The representatives of the Yoho Bath Heater Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, who recently visited Revelstoke demonstrating the special features of the famous heater, appointed W. M. Lawrence agent. This heater produces continually running boiling water in 90 seconds and the only fuel necessary to supply it is an old newspaper and a handful of chips.

The Victoria and Vancouver papers refer to it as being the wonder of the 20th century, it being so constructed that it can be used in mining and lumber camps, on the farm and in the house, in fact its usefulness has no bounds. The cost of this celebrated heater is $17.50."

THE WAR.

Japs Capture Kaiping and Eight Guns at Port Arthur.

London, July 11.—Special despatches from Tokio assert the Japanese captured eight guns during fighting around Port Arthur, July 4th, and they reconnoitered from a war balloon.

Che Foo, July 11.—There was heavy firing as Port Arthur from midnight until three o'clock this morning.

Tokio, July 11.—After three days severe fighting, characterized by the desperate attacks of the Japanese and the stubborn resistance of the Russians, General Oku's army occupied Kaiping, (Kaichou) last Friday, driving the Russians northward in the direction of Haicheng. The Russians had strongly fortified the semicircle south of Kaiping. Their forces consisted of over thirty thousand men.

The operations began Wednesday by the Japanese driving 1,600 Russians from the heights south of Kaiping constituting the first line of defense. The Japanese occupied the positions and the Russians retreated northward. On the same day the right wing of the Japanese army south-east of Kaiping defeated a small force of Russians, and the left wing occupied the heights to the south-east. On Thursday the entire Japanese army forced its way close to Kaiping, overcoming the stubborn resistance of the Russian infantry, cavalry and artillery located in the narrow defiles. The Russians held many strong positions in the mountainous country, but despite their desperate resistance they were forced to abandon them one by one. During the night the Russians were greatly reinforced by the troops brought from the north by train, in preparation for a big battle Friday.

The Japanese began the last day's fighting at daylight with an artillery fire from guns placed on the heights previously captured from the Russians. At 8 o'clock in the morning they drove the Russians from their positions and forced them into the last line of defences around the town. The Russians evidently saw the town was doomed, as General Oku reports that many troops were withdrawn during the morning. The Russians finally took positions on the tops of the high precipices and again offered a stubborn resistance. About noon they were again forced to withdraw, the Japanese occupying the last line of defences. The Japanese pursued the enemy despite the severe artillery fire from the Russian batteries on the high hills to the north. The Japanese artillery finally occupied new positions and silenced these batteries.

FIT REFORM.

New Addition to Macdonald & Monteith's Business.

Another evidence of the prosperity and progressiveness of Revelstoke is shown by the establishment of a Fit Reform wardrobe in this city. This will be welcome news to the men of our town as the sterling quality of these goods is known all over Canada. Up to a few months ago there was no Fit Reform store between Winnipeg and Vancouver, and the manufacturers, believing that there were openings in the interior, decided to open agencies in Revelstoke and Nelson. With their characteristic enterprise Messrs. Macdonald & Monteith have secured the agency for Revelstoke, and will open about October 1st a full and complete stock of this famous clothing.

As anyone who has been into a store where Fit Reform is sold knows, these goods are displayed in handsome old oak cabinets, with glass fronts, giving the store a splendid appearance, and keeping the clothing in first-class condition.

Messrs. Macdonald & Monteith, finding their shoe trade increasing greatly, have decided to increase their stock in this line, and will be in a position to show the finest stock of men's and boys shoes in Revelstoke. Previous to this they have only catered to the men's trade but realizing that the wants of the "small boy" must be supplied, they will add to their stock a full assortment of boy's clothing, furnishings and shoes.

This progressive firm are also installing a handsome flat case of Old Oak, to match the clothing cabinets, and also a large plate glass show case for furnishings. When these are installed, and other intended improvements made, Revelstoke can boast of the finest and best appointed clothing and furnishings store in B. C.

We congratulate Messrs. McDonald & Monteith on their enterprise and progressive spirit, and wish them the success they deserve in endeavoring to give the men of Revelstoke a thoroughly up-to-date establishment to supply their wants.

LABORS CALL.

Sir William Mulock, minister of labor, has given notice of a bill to prevent employment of aliens on government works subsidized by government. This will apply to professional men as well as mechanics and laborers.

The Bond, the Calgary labor paper, has ceased publication.

POLITICAL.

Duncan Ross, liberal candidate for Yale-Cariboo, has returned from a successful canvass of Similkameen and Nicola. His opponent, Mr. Burrill, is traversing Cariboo.

Hon. Mr. Fielding's prediction of a surplus of $19,500,000 for the year is being realised now that the year's accounts are being closed. There is an increase of revenue in all branches except for government railways, the deficit in this being occasioned by increased wages.

The general impression now is that the dominion elections will take place in October.

B. C. ALPS.

Doings at Tourist Resorts.

The Hotel Sicamous has been filled to its utmost capacity and the manager has had difficulty in accommodating guests. This popular hotel will have to be enlarged before long.

Miss Mollison, formerly of the Lake Louise hotel, has been appointed manageress of the Sanitarium hotel at Banff.

Esward Whymper, the celebrated mountaineer, is so struck on the Canadian Alps that he cannot keep away from their charms and is back for another season's exploration, making his headquarters at Field and Laggan.

H. McKay and W. Moulds have made a strike of rich copper-gold ore on Hall creek on the Duncan, and placer leases have been applied for on the benches.

J. M. KELLIE.

What he Saw and Heard in the East.

J. M. Kellie, who returned last week from a visit to eastern cities on private business, says he found matters improving again in American cities except in the case of the lumber industry, which is dull both in Canada and the States. In the latter lumber has fallen fifty per cent on the prices of a year ago.

In his travels through Manitoba and the Northwest he found the prices of lumber well maintained, and found the lumber used there nearly all, if not all, produced in B. C.

Mining investments are very dull throughout the east.

At Ottawa Mr. Kellie found great satisfaction with the appointment to the Senate of Mr. Bostock, who is regarded as one of the most highly esteemed and influential men of the west.

Mr. Kellie did his utmost to promote the interests of the Big Bend by urging on his friends in both houses a grant for construction of a tramway past Death Rapids so as to allow of the opening of the upper river, and has good hopes of such a grant being made.

He says Mr. Galliher, M. P., is working indefatigably for the interests of his constituents. Another splendid B. C. member is R. G. McPherson, of Vancouver, who is doing great service for the coast.

POLICE COURT.

On Monday T. Skinner was arrested, charged with a criminal assault on his step-daughter. The case was heard in camera, before Magistrate Gordon on Wednesday night, when, after hearing the evidence of Mrs. Skinner and her daughter, who is under 16 years of age, he was committed for trial. So far he has not succeeded in getting bail, and has been taken to Kamloops.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late William Foster, who died suddenly on the C. P. R. express near Kamloops on July 4th, while returning from the wedding of his eldest son at Revelstoke, took place Friday at Vancouver. Deceased was born 72 years ago at Stroud, England, and leaves a widow, four sons and four daughters to mourn his loss. The sympathy of friends was shown in the many flowers which covered the casket. Wreaths were sent from Mr. T. Kilpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. Burnett, office staff of the Mainland Transfer Company, Kelly Douglas & Company, office staff Evans, Coleman and Evans, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Angus, Halcyon Club, West End Lacrosse Club, Mr. T. Campbell; design, D Company, Duke of Cornwall's Own Rifles; crosses, sergeant's mess, Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, Mr. W. R. Rowlings; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. E. Chapman, Mrs. and Miss Eveleigh, Miss Daisy Trythall, Miss Queenie Maitland, Mrs. J. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bessell, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Southcott, Mr. and Mrs. F. Garner, Mrs. Clayton Leonard, Miss Eva Potter, Miss Gladys Davidson, Miss Edna Potter, Miss Rosalie Morris, Mrs. Welch and Miss F. Holmes, Mrs. Charles Layland, Mr. and Mrs. J. Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. R. Barker, Mr. Ross Fraser, Miss Eva Sharpnell; flowers, Mrs. W. H. Dorman, Rev. and Mrs. F. Irvine, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Baker.—News-Advertiser.

CLEANING HOUSE TIME

is near at hand. The question of what to do with your walls to have them sanitary, neat and attractive, has to be decided.

You will not want to use kalsomine, because after it has been on a short time it rubs off on everything that comes in contact with it; and then when you wish to do it over again comes the nasty muss of washing off the old coat, which costs as much as to put it on in the first place. Wall-paper with its mouldy paste is unsanitary, and stops wall respiration. The Doctor says, "Walls to be healthy must breathe."

CHURCH'S COLD WATER

is a porous cement and admits of the free passage of air. It is permanent, and sanitarians endorse the use of it. Anyone can do plain tinting, and with the aid of instructions we give, and designs we furnish, an ordinary workman can do very nice decorating. Cheaper than paint or paper. ALABASTINE is for sale by all Hardware and Paint Dealers—in packages only. For book of tints and further particulars, write mentioning this paper to

The best disinfectant of all is sunlight. It destroys by its very brightness all sorts of germs and at the same time helps the growth of plants and animal life. Doubtless all have noticed that mould grows during the night and in dark damp cellars. Bright sunlight quickly destroys germs, mould or other organisms. That is why it is best to let the sunlight into your houses for its purifying influence.

At the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce, chief consulting surgeon, started experiments some three years ago, with the Finsen light in conjunction with the X-ray in the treatment of diseases. He got excellent results therefrom, and was among the first to adapt this remarkable cure to many cases which it was formerly supposed must of necessity be treated by the knife.

Not only is Dr. R. V. Pierce notable for his surgical achievements at his hospital in Buffalo, but nearly a third of a century ago he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that would be easily procured and ready to use. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains the patient's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and in this way, fever, night-sweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. It fortifies the body against the germs of consumption, grip and malaria; it builds up the tissues and puts on healthy flesh.

Those desiring to know something about the body in health and disease, also medicine and surgery, without technicalities, should read the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," which can be had for 50 cents in one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ODD KOREAN HABITS

TEAR BASKETS AND HEART CLOTHS AND THEIR USES.

"Secret" Mourning That Every One Knows of and Respects—The Quaint Toilet of a Masampho Belle. A Strange Headdress For Women.

There is a great deal of poetry about all Koreans. This does not make the visitor in their country love them less.

"Why do you shake your husband's gown so ferociously every morning?" the writer said to a hostess in Seoul. "Are you afraid a spider may be weaving in it?"

"Oh, no, moonface," was the reply. "He must be in Japan now—so far it is—and his spirit comes every night to this gown. So tired must he be in the morning to go back so far into his body again."

And she wept copiously, dropping each tear very carefully into a metal lined little basket hung from her waist. If her husband had died on his journey the basket would have been nearly full by this time; every one who has any regard for her would have added a drop or two, and her mourning would have been as intricate a performance as a case in international law. Even as it was, the tear basket was steeped in incense and many heartbreaking songs and proverbs wailed over it. Weep flowers—that is, any sort of bloom that withers soon—may be pressed and strung around the basket. The wing of a wounded bird may decorate one side; a motherless child may imprint a kiss upon it for the good of the spirit.

"Do men ever wear the tear basket for women?" I once inquired.

"Oh, moonface, you are curious so much," was the reply. "Women never go away from men in Kowit."

"But they die."

"Yes, and then verra often the good men wear the tear basket in secret mourning."

There is much secret mourning in Korea, and it is like the Irishman's secret—everybody knows it and respects it. A woman who has loved the wrong man may wear secret mourning clothes for him and don the tear basket filled with tears of persons who have not deigned to speak to her in the lifetime of the loved one. At certain hours she may wail round his grave and leave the best of everything to eat on his tomb for his hungry spirit. The worldly mate of the departed looks on, and often it seems she is flattered by the performance. A slave may mourn secretly for the queen, and anybody who wants to may sympathize without hurt for a beheaded criminal.

Next to the tear basket the heart cloth is the quaintest symbol of Kowit emotions. One is never permitted to know of this precious ornament unless it is worn for his or her sake. In old Korea it was placed over the heart of the beloved before being worn in any other breast. One heart cloth often does for a whole family, being worn by different members in turn. Characters representing poetic sayings are appliqued upon it, such as:

"Without thee I dwell with the spirit of the withered tree."

"My heart beats only to thine."

"Ahu—peace."

"The sun will come again."

In some parts of the country heart cloths are placed over the body of the dying and then given to the shang-gooo, head male mourner, and the joo-fooo, leading female mourner.

Masampho is a quaint and picturesque town, nearly as much so as Fusan, from which it is not far removed. One of the sights of Masampho is her shopping district, which consists of innumerable mats spread out on the ground, upon which are exhibited the wares of their owners, who squat beside them.

But the chief joys of Masampho are her deliciously strange little women—the never to be forgotten Masamphonese, wild eyed, glossy haired dumplings, with cherry lines for mouths, who waddle around and about, quacking in fascinating tones.

The Masampho belle's toilet is worthy of the time she spends upon it. Her face is washed with honey oil instead of water. Sometimes she sifts a fine powder scented with her favorite flower over it.

She may stain her complexion to suit her fancy, but generally she prefers it to be the natural color, which is a beautiful ecru. Though she may never be seen by man, save husband or father, during curfew time or women's hours—8 p. m. and 3 a. m.—she may go out freely visiting friends and relatives. Her hair is brushed with a fragrant bunch of switches and glued into many different forms. Sometimes it makes a butterfly or a tortoise and at other times a lot of leaves or a little sampan.

When it is properly shaped, big jade or glass pins are stuck in. The only cap she ever wears has no crown. Its back is shaped like a helmet, and there are two long tassels hanging from the forehead and neck brim. Her cotton trousers are as full as a divided skirt and become narrow at the ankles, where they meet little socks made of grass and picturesque shoes. Her skirt is very full and shirred at the top into an eight inch band. This fits tightly around the chest and under the arms. The jacket worn is not over seven inches in length and runs the gamut of Korean blues and greens, which are somewhat the tints of the peacock's tail.

If of the common people, she may allow her small feet and ankles to show, but if of noble blood her skirts must sweep the streets. All women carry with them a long cape, so that if by any possibility they should meet a man they may throw it quickly over their heads, leaving only a slit in front for the eyes.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Boiled cabbage is much sweeter when the water is changed in boiling.

Don't throw away pieces of bread. Put them aside and dry or roll and save for scalloping or crumbling.

Add one-quarter of a cup of boiling water to any rule for sponge cake to make it roll easily for jelly cake.

To stir the yolks of eggs into soup or hot custard so that they will be smooth first beat them and then add a teaspoonful of cold water.

In making gingerbread, if the molasses and butter are heated together before the other ingredients are added the cake will be nicer.

Milk toast is improved by the addition of a little grated cheese just before serving. Grated cheese is also a pleasant addition to a dish of mashed potatoes.

FISH, FOOD NOT THE BEST.

Many Fallacies About a Diet on Sea Products Are Extant.

It is doubtful whether any given food in common use contains constituents which have a selective action, so to speak, on the property of ministering to one part of the body more than another. As a rule, when a food is assumed to have specific reparative properties—as, for example, a so called brain or nerve food—the fact really is that such food is easily and quickly assimilated to the body's general advantage; in a word, in such a case repair quickly overtakes waste and a real purposeful nutrition and restoration are accomplished. The administration of such elements as phosphorus or iron in medicine is, of course, a different matter, but these elements are evenly distributed in the materials of a daily diet.

It is often stated that fish is a food which ministers particularly to the needs of the brain, because it contains phosphorus. As a matter of fact, fish does not contain more phosphorus than do the ordinary meat foods, and it certainly does not contain it in a free state. The notion that fish contains phosphorus had no doubt its origin in the glowing phosphorescence of fish in the dark. This phosphorescence is due not to phosphorus at all, but to micro organisms. The belief, therefore, that fish is a brain food is just about as reasonable as the idea that because a soup is thick and gelatinous "it will stick to the ribs" or as sensible as the celebrated advice to Verdant Green to lay in a stock of Reading biscuits to assist his reading.

Fish, of course, is excellent food, partly because of the nourishing nature of its constituents and partly because of its digestibility. But it is in no sense a specific for brain or nerve.—London Lancet.

The Tomato.

The tomato has a curious history. After the revolution of Santo Domingo many French families came from there to Philadelphia, where they introduced their favorite "pomme d'amour." Although introduced from South America as early as 1500 into England, it was looked upon with suspicion and its specific name, lycopersicum, derived from lykos (wolf) and persikon (a peach), referring to the beautiful but deceptive appearance of its fruit, intimates pretty closely the kind of estimation in which it was held. It is now, however, almost universally used.

Cooking a Fowl.

The only way in which a fowl is usually made tender enough to eat is to cut it up and cook as fricassee, roast chicken being considered possible only when one wishes to pay the extra price for young birds. It must, however, be the toughest of hens or roosters which does not succumb to the "pot roasting" process if carefully done. Prepare as for roasting and place in a pot deep enough to hold the fowl without crowding, one-half pound of suet for three pounds of chicken. Cut up an onion and let it cook till brown, when add the chicken, covering tightly. It should simmer for six hours. Roast quickly for half an hour.

Thimbles.

A soreness in what is called the thimble finger and even serious inflammation are sometimes caused by the use of cheap thimbles. These thimbles, which are composed of lead or something equally injurious, may be tempting by reason of their low price, but they are not safe. Silver thimbles are the best, but for those to whom they prove too expensive nothing is better than thimbles of highly burnished steel. By a person who gains her living with her needle a steel thimble is always liked, for it will outlast two or three of the more expensive silver ones.

Agate Ware.

To clean agate ware put the ware on the stove filled with water, and into the water put a tablespoonful of salsoda (washing soda), and then after awhile use a scouring soap, and you will be pleased with the result; also put your bean pot on the stove and a good generous tablespoonful of soda, and it will wash as easily as a cup. A little soda put in your greasy baking pans and keeping them warm while washing your other dishes will help along that most disagreeable task.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

THE OBSTINATE FLAME.

How to Extinguish a "Blower" by Letting Him Blow.

Of course you know what a "blower" is. The meaning that we have in mind is not to be found in the dictionary, but you are doubtless familiar with the term boaster, which is the same thing.

The next time you encounter him tell him that you don't believe he can blow out a candle placed only a foot from his experienced mouth without any other obstacle than his own breath between them.

If he accepts the challenge seat him comfortably at the table, place the lighted candle in front of him and, put ting to his lips a large tin funnel, with the center of its mouth opposite and near the flame, tell him to blow through that.

He may blow until he becomes black in the face without extinguishing the candle. The harder he blows the more it doesn't go out.

After he has given it up say, "It is easy enough when you know how," put the funnel to your lips and blow out the candle. How? Simply by bringing the rim instead of the center near the flame.

When you blow through a funnel your breath spreads and follows the conical surface, leaving a region of dead calm in the center. Your friend blew all around the flame without touching it, but you extinguish it with a puff.

There are a good many queer things about air currents that would never have been thought of if they had not been found out by experience. This is one of them.—New York World.

Clever Sparrows.

One of the prettiest sights as regards seamen's pets was afforded by six sparrows which were tamed and trained by an old bluejacket on board a coal barge. He had trained them to such a degree that they would march in regular military order, "turning" and "wheeling" as desired by merely moving his hand. On each of their heads he had fastened a small piece of scarlet cloth, cut so as to form a cockscomb, which gave the birds a very saucy appearance as they went through their varied evolutions.

Animal Notes.

Naturalists tell us that sometimes a single beaver will go off and live by himself, leaving the colony to which he belonged. Whether these "bachelor beavers" have been put out of their native towns or leave of their own free wills we do not know.

A gentleman on one of our western ranches found a nest of young rabbits and took them in to his cat, supposing she would make a meal of them, but she surprised everybody concerned by adopting them and bringing them up along with her kittens.

A Woman's Success.

Embroidering baby clothes was my first financial venture. I was a very ambitious housewife and wanted money for some new things for the house, so I began by embroidering little sacks, for which I charged $1.50. For the more elaborate ones I received $2. White broadcloth coats with large collars brought $3, and at the end of a year the amount footed up to $260. The work was dainty and fascinating, and my friends and acquaintances were quick to take advantage of the opportunity to secure hand wrought pieces for their wee tots. I bought a pattern of the size for the age of the baby and followed the directions given with it for the making. My customers furnished their own materials, which relieved me of any outlay in money. As the articles made were all white, they had to be kept spotless and required extreme care in the handling.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Training a Daughter.

To train her daughter in courtesy the mother must begin at a tender age. The twig is so easily bent that it scarcely resists the guiding hands. Even with this training the girl may, when half grown, come to a stage when self assertion shows itself and when she feels that it is quite the thing for her to force herself upon people's attention. All growing things have their trying age. But this, too, will pass away, and if the girl has started right there is not much difficulty in inducing her to believe that she and all her affairs are not of paramount importance to the public at large; that gentleness and consideration command more love and popularity than self assertion and carelessness of the concerns and whims of others.

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1904.

It is to be hoped the board of trade and citizens generally will spare no effort to have Revelstoke's case well presented to the railway commissioners in their coming visit. All who have grievances against the railway company should not miss the opportunity of presenting their case and the question of discriminating tariff just instituted against Revelstoke, together with the refusal of the company to give Revelstoke the same concessions as formerly held, and since accorded to Nelson and Calgary, are matters that should be forcibly presented to the railway commissioners.

FORESTRY.

One of the most urgent changes of policy required of both the dominion and provincial governments is in regard to forestry. To us in British Columbia this question comes home with keen interest. Here are millions of acres which will never be fit for anything else than growing timber. Timber wealth is one of the greatest resources, and lumbering one of the most important industries in a country, and steps should be taken to conserve such a source of wealth and industry. Here the forests are destroyed by fire and the axe of the woodman with no precaution to replace them. Governments could make no better investment than to employ an army of men reforesting those timber lands unfit for agriculture, so that the interests of the future shall be safe-guarded.

SCOTCH OPINION OF DUNDONALD.

The Ayrshire Leader, the leading paper published at Lord Dundonald's Scotch home, justifies the action of the Laurier government in dismissing him, and says:—

"The fact remained that he has most properly been relieved of his command. It is all very well to make military men masters of the situation when a country is at war or in a condition of revolution. In either of these events the civilian must stand on one side; but otherwise it is the civilian who must be the master and the soldier who must be the servant, if we are to avoid the domination of militarism. Lord Dundonald was a paid servant of the Government of Canada, and he had no right to take the pay of the Government and constitute himself a critic of the Ministerial policy.

"The gallant Earl, however, seems to have forgotten his position for the time being, and to have spoken both hastily and inadvisedly. The Minister concerned has been able to show that he has been extremely careful not to permit his political leanings to over-rule or obscure his better judgment, and that, on the score of the complaint made by Lord Dundonald, he has appointed more officers of the other political side than of his own. But altogether, apart from this, the really important matter involved is the right of the civil government to be superior, save in war or in revolution, to the military authorities. There has of late years been a tendency in this country unduly to exalt militarism; and militarism will probably be none the worse of the sharp lesson that has been administered to it in Canada."

THE PRESS IN CANADA.

The length to which party journalism goes in Canada is a matter for condemnation. Just as Canada copied the worst features of American politics, foreign to the patriotic system of the mother country, so her journalists have adopted the unscrupulous methods of party. While a newspaper, in its editorial columns, is expected to voice the sentiments and arguments of the party whose principles it has adopted its news columns and speeches should be absolutely fair and impartial. That is the tradition of the British press, and it is a splendid one. The Globe of Toronto is one of the few leading newspapers in Canada that aims to maintain the standard. The Montreal Star, one of the leading eastern papers, is an unscrupulous party sheet from its editorial to its smallest paragraph, without the least respect for facts or justice. In British Columbia the Colonist has been at times a fair and clean paper, and it was hoped that when Mr. Gosnell took the editorial chair the standard of the paper would be improved. But it is with regret that the well-wishers of the province note its pioneer newspaper attempting to outrival the Montreal Star in misrepresentation and appeal to party prejudice. Even the machinery of the associated press is used to spread partisan misrepresentation rather than facts. Fortunately the people of today have advanced in education and independence of thought, and judge for themselves to a greater extent than formerly. Public opinion is no longer led by the press to any serious extent, but the pity is that the press, with its honorable traditions, should place partisanship before the highest welfare of the country and the people.

The Empire Lumber Company has had to close down its Comaplix mill on account of high water.

Accounts of the placer mining season at Cariboo are most encouraging. Excellent reports come from the Cariboo Consolidated, where J. B. Hobson, the able manager, has already taken out $60,000 of gold. This fine output in such a short time was sent to Vancouver in three bricks and purchased by the Bank of Commerce.

SMELTER TOWNSITE.

Another Extension Being Placed on Market.

As all the more valuable lots in the smelter townsite have been sold and the demand for more lots is brisk, it has been decided to survey into lots, the blocks on Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Streets, between the park site and the town. Already some of these lots have been purchased pending survey.

Eighth Street will be cleared, graded, and sidewalk laid. Considerable improvements have been effected since Mr. Lendrum took over the unsold portion of the townsite from the original owners.

The new addition to the town will make a valuable extension for the erection of residences, and already some of the best houses in the city are being built in that vicinity. The land is level and the soil admirably adapted for garden purposes and fruit-growing. The Revelstoke Insurance Company are agents for the vendor.

CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN.

On Sunday evening the Revelstoke Orangemen marched in procession to St. Andrews' church, where their chaplain, Rev. W. C. Calder, preached the annual sermon. There was a good turn out, and the preacher's remarks were appropriate to the occasion. He dealt particularly on the fact that the principles of Orangemen were not offensive but defensive, and that, instead of being animated by harsh feelings to those of a different faith they had the kindliest sentiments towards them. He traced the origin and subsequent development of the order, and reviewed the principal reforms which they have been instrumental in securing for the world at large. They are willing to concede to others what they claim for themselves, viz: liberty of conscience, and an open Bible.

GLORIOUS TWELFTH.

Orange Celebration at Vernon.

Many of our citizens took advantage of the excursion to Vernon on Tuesday last, and they all report having a most enjoyable day's outing. Seldom, if ever, has Vernon had as many visitors in one day, and it was remarked a more orderly and respectable crowd could nowhere be found. The day was passed in games and amusements, and all arrived home at six o'clock next morning tired and sleepy, but satisfied with what pleasure they had in the famed Okanagan Valley.

The Orangemen, Armstrong, Vernon and Revelstoke Brass Bands, and Salmon Arm Drum and Fife Band formed a procession and paraded the streets. At the recreation grounds the baseball teams, representing Vernon and Enderby, had a short tussle, which resulted in a win for Vernon by 9 to 8.

After lunch the Orangemen again paraded the former procession being augmented by the lodges from down the lake. About 1000 people participated, and it may be safely said that this was the largest procession ever held in the Okanagan.

At the conclusion of the parade firemen's sports were held, and after four o'clock the lacrosse match, Kamloops v. Vernon. The Kamloops team was strengthened by Rennie and Jamieson from Revelstoke, and resulted in a win for Kamloops by 4 to 1. The match was the poorest exhibition of the national game it has ever been the misfortune of the writer to witness. The passing on both teams was poor, and any school team in the province could play a better game.

At night a concert was held in the town hall, and about 11 p. m. the train for the north left Vernon, the Revelstoke contingent reaching home at 5:30 a. m.

Gentlemen:

I only think it my duty to testify to the merits of the Piano which I received from you on December 16th last and reached me in safety. For tone, touch and finish its equal is not to be found.

It has been well tested by a great number of leading London pianists and I am pleased to say it has met with their entire satisfaction.

I can only say that whenever opportunity affords itself I can but only recommend your make of Piano and praise them to the highest degree.

You are at liberty to make what use of this you may wish, and trusting it will come under the notice of those requiring a good reliable instrument

Believe me gentlemen
Yours very faithfully,

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Charles Francis Paget the Victim.

(Accidentally omitted last week.)

The family of Mr. C. Paget were suddenly plunged into mourning, Tuesday evening, by the receipt of a telegram from Sicamous, announcing the death, by drowning in Shuswap River, of Charles Paget, who was C. P. R. operator at that point. In company with the express agent he went out some distance from the shore bathing. Both of them were in the water paddling the boat inwards, when the deceased stated his intention of swimming to the shore, and immediately started to do so. Not being an expert swimmer, his companion soon saw that something was wrong and went to his assistance, but his efforts were of no avail, and Paget sank in 10 or 12 feet of water. A Mr. Taylor rushed to the spot and rescued the body, but the vital spark had fled, the combined efforts of two physicians failing to resuscitate him. As death was so plainly accidental no inquest was thought necessary.

The body arrived here on Wednesday evening and was taken to the home of the parents. The funeral, which was in charge of the I. O. F., took place on Thursday morning, from the family residence to St. Peter's Church, where Rev. C. A. Procunier conducted the funeral service, and thence to the cemetery, where the last sad rites were performed.

The deceased was a young man of sterling qualities, and a general favorite in the community where he has lived many years, and had but recently been promoted to the position he held when so suddenly struck down.

To his sorrowing parents and relatives the MAIL extends its profound sympathy, in this the hour of their sad bereavement.

That the deceased was held in the highest esteem was evidenced by the large number of floral wreaths, crosses, anchors, etc., on and surrounding the casket. We noticed the following names attached, but it is quite possible that we may have missed some. Those we observed were from the I.O.F., O.R.T. Mrs. B. Lawson, Mrs. Sibbald, Mrs. Coursier, Miss Norma Smith, Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Doran, of Sicamous, Mrs. Holton, Miss McPhadden, Mrs. S. H. Bolton, Mrs. W. M. Lawrence, Mrs. Somes, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd, Miss Hall and the Salvation Army.

ARROWHEAD.

From our own Correspondent.

There are rumours of yet a third mill to be built in this vicinity.

After a meal such as we have not enjoyed for many a day, we took leave of our hospitable host and hostess having spent a most pleasant afternoon.

The timbers for the Presbyterian church have been hauled and the Hospital building is progressing rapidly. With their souls and bodies well looked after Arrowheaders should progress both morally and physically.

The Rev. Mr. Solly, of Trout Lake, has been placed in charge of Arrowhead, which is exceedingly pleasing to members of the church of England, as Mr. Solly is very popular not only with his own congregation but members of all other denominations.

On the same piece of ground there are raspberries, currants, red and black, gooseberries, as well as fruit trees of all kinds. Around the Shaw homestead are vegetables of all kinds, and looking remarkably well, the soil being a rich black loam that looks as though it would grow anything.

Your correspondent paid a visit to the ranch of John Shaw, at the head of Galena Bay, last week and it goes without saying received a most hearty welcome from both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw. A short walk from the lake, and crossing a beautiful little creek, we came to Mr. Shaw's house not yet quite finished. When completed it will be one of the prettiest residences in this vicinity. Another short walk over a hard, level trail, through the shady woods brought us to the strawberry patch, where six of Mr. Shaw's family were picking berries with a rapidity that betokened lots of practice, and splendid berries they were—large, luscious and ripe. That the children have had lots of experience in picking will be understood when we say that Mr. Shaw has picked nearly 100 crates or 2400 boxes of berries this season.

ARMSTRONG.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Enderby football club play a return match here on Saturday next.

The newly formed fire brigade holds its first meeting on Monday evening.

A new waterworks company is being formed to supply Eastview with water.

Rev. Knox Wright, of Vancouver, for many years resident here, is up on a months visit.

The hydrants are being put in place here and the contract for fire hall was let to G. Moberly.

Mr. Holt, of Portsmouth, Eng., has purchased James Wright's property and has moved in with his family.

The crowd from Enderby to Vernon looked very nice on the 12th. The orange colors look well on the green background of fig leaves.

Conway Pelley met with a rather serious accident on Tuesday. He was chopping and the axe glanced and buried itself in the leg just above the ankle.

A reward is being offered by the Eves and Adams of Eden for a recipe for preserving fig leaves without them losing their pliable qualities. They want them for winter use.

W. H. Ireland has returned here to reside. He has been absent about four years in Manitoba and coast, but thinks Armstrong, the hub of Spallumcheen, is good enough for him.

Armstrong had the largest lodge at Vernon on the 12th. Considering that this lodge is away the youngest in the district it speaks well for the rustling abilities of Messrs. Rogers, Meldrum and Hamill.

Hon. Robt. Green, chief commissioner of lands and works, passed through town on Sunday. He informed an Armstrongite in Vernon that he was looking around to see the needs of the country. But Armstrong gave a grit majority, so little Bobbie did not stop off.

PRESENTATION.

On Wednesday evening T. More, of the C. P. R. despatchers staff, was entertained at the manse and presented by the congregation with a handsome gold chain and locket in token of the high esteem in which he has been held during his residence here. The best wishes of many friends in Revelstoke go with him to Vancouver to which point he has been promoted. The Rev. W. C. Calder read the following address:

"To Mr. THOMAS MORE:

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, adherents of St. Andrew's church, learn with unqualified regret of your removal from this town. While rejoicing in your promotion to a larger and more important sphere of labor, that rejoicing is tempered with sorrow in the loss which we sustain. Your association with this congregation in its material as well as its spiritual work has deeply impressed us. Your exceeding great care in the performance of every duty entrusted to you, your patience and quietness of spirit exemplify a character worthy of our deepest respect. You have been so closely identified with the church in its life and work, your absence will leave a vacancy difficult to fill. The heartiness and fullness of your support of Ordinances have largely contributed to the financial success of the work of the congregation. As an evidence of our appreciation we present you with this chain and locket. Its intrinsic value but slightly expresses our feelings toward you, and as you carry it from day to day it will ever speak to you of our love and respect. Our prayers for your welfare, happiness and health will follow you as you go forth from our midst. May the peace of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ be ever with you. His love and fellowship keep you warm in your spiritual aspirations and be the "tie that binds" our hearts for time and eternity."

LUMBERING.

The C. P. R. have granted a 40 cent rate to B. C. lumbermen on fir, hemlock and Spruce consigned to Manitoba.

The Crows Nest Lumber Company's Wardrope mill was burned last week involving a loss of $15,000 partly insured.

The B. C. lumbermen condemns the McBride government for the manner in which they neglect the protection of the forests, one of the most valuable assets the province has.

The steamship lines which the Dominion government has arranged to subsidize on the Atlantic Coast and Pacific Coasts between Canada and are expected to develope important markets for lumber.

To a deputation representing the Ontario Lumbermen's Association, who requested the same duty of $2 per thousand, placed on lumber by the United States, should be imposed by this country. Hon. Mr. Fielding, while holding out no hope that the deputation's request would be granted this year, gave them to understand that something would probably be done for them next year.

Good housekeepers are seldom caught unprepared. When a few friends drop in they are never without a packet of fragrant, delicious Blue Ribbon Tea. Only one best tea. Blue Ribbon's it.

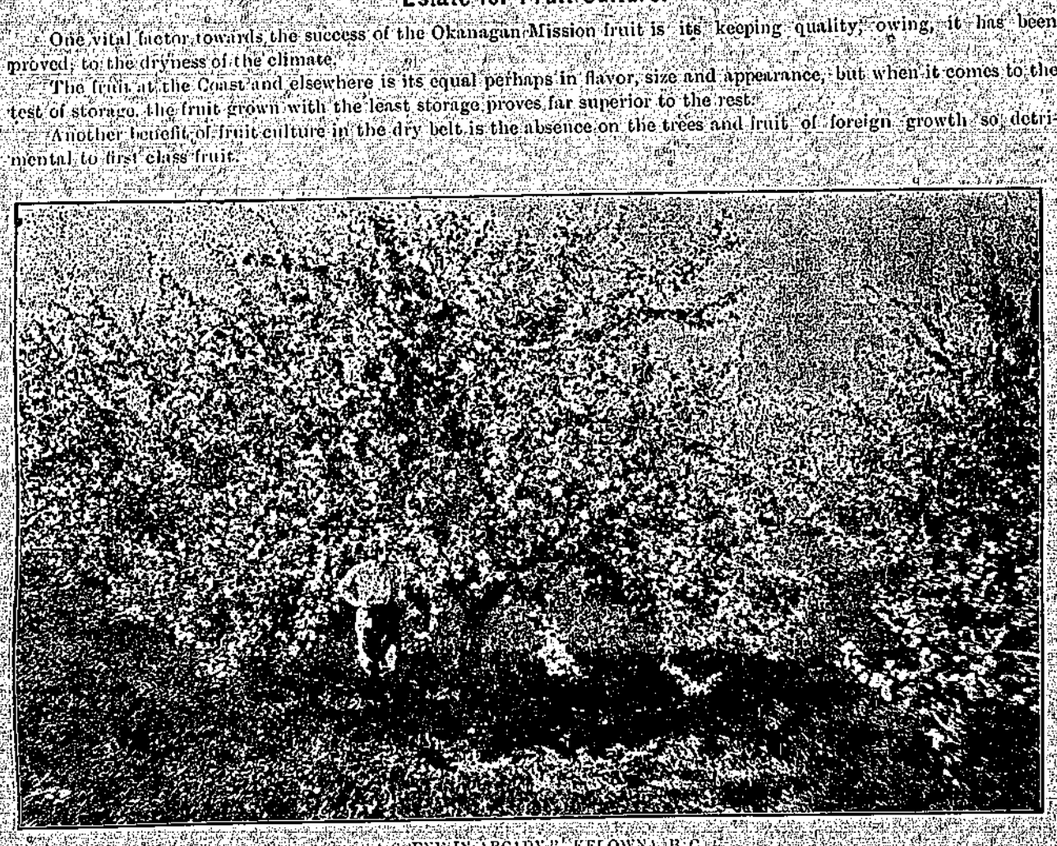
FRUIT GROWING AT KELOWNA.

Report by R. M. Palme, Esq., Freight Rate Commissioner for British Columbia, formerly Government Fruit Inspector for B. C., on the Suitability of Lequime Estate for Fruit Culture.

One vital factor towards the success of the Okanagan Mission fruit is its keeping quality, owing, it has been proved, to the dryness of the climate.

The fruit at the Coast and elsewhere is its equal perhaps in flavor, size and appearance, but when it comes to the test of storage, the fruit grown with the least storage proves far superior to the rest.

Another benefit of fruit culture in the dry belt is the absence on the trees and fruit of foreign growth so detrimental to first class fruit.



"A SCENE IN ARCADY."—KELOWNA, B. C.

Pests such as San Jose Scale and the Codlin Moth are unknown, and the fact that only two sprayings a year are required, and these for aphis, gives a tremendous advantage over the American Orchards, where six and seven sprayings are the rule, and are imperative for any fruit crop.

CLIMATE.

A word or two on climate would not be out of place. The Climate of Kelowna is not given to extremes of heat or cold, with cool nights, without exception, in the hottest Summers.

In point of climate the Okanagan Mission Valley yields the palm to none. No doubt the beneficial influence of the Lake is the cause, exerting an equalizing effect on the temperature in summer and winter.

After the cold of an Eastern Winter, and the heat of a Summer, hot alike day and night, it is no wonder that settlers from the east feel that they have indeed at last arrived at and verify the saying that if you only own a barren hill top you have the climate.

It is a well known fact, and one worthy of note, that any one who has lived in the valley and left it is as sure to come back as the swallows in spring. There is an irresistable fascination about it, indescribable but unmistakable.

PRICE OF LAND AND TERMS OF SALE.

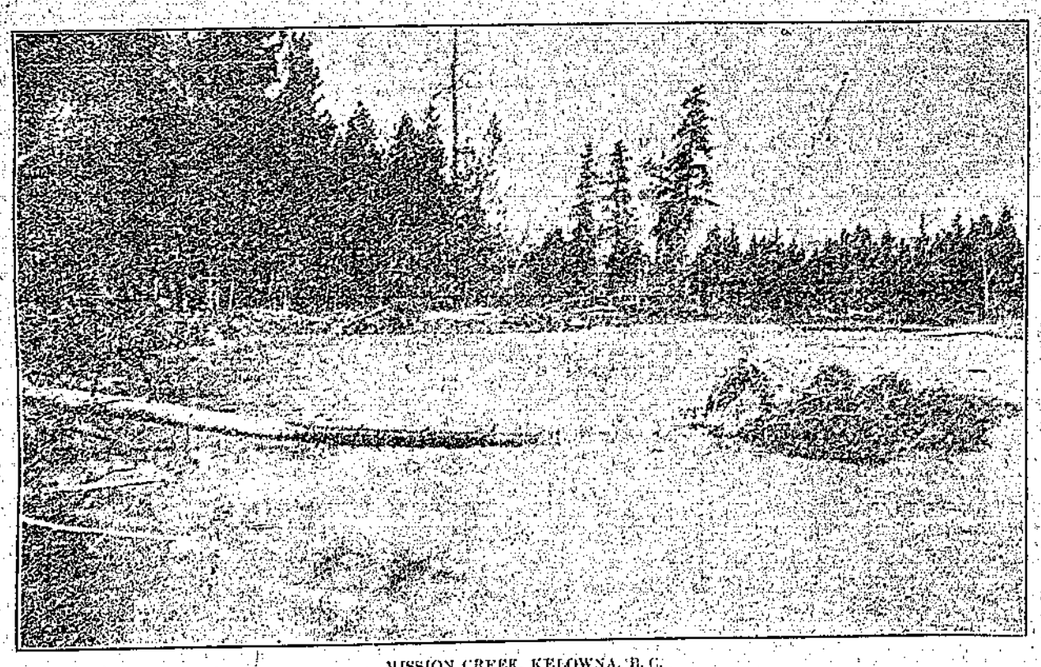
Land in residential lots of 1, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10 acres along the shores of the Okanagan Lake, varies in price from $150 to $175 and $200 per acre, according to the state of the land, whether cleared or brush, situation as to Lake Frontage and distance from Kelowna.

First Class Fruit Land on the bottom runs as high as $200 an acre where it is all cleared and in clover or other crop, down to $100 an acre.

Bench Land in the "Belle View Orchards" district may be bought for $75 an acre, all cleared, with water for irrigation and domestic water supply, a small rental being charged for the upkeep of the irrigation ditch.

The Company's terms,—one-third cash and the balance in equal instalments over a period of seven years at six per cent—puts the land within the reach of all.

The Company's Ancient Water Rights are of such a size and such a standing as to amply insure there always being an ample supply of water in the dryest season.



MISSION CREEK, KELOWNA, B. C.

FRUIT GROWING AT KELOWNA.

R. M. Palmer, formerly Government Fruit Commissioner for British Columbia, makes the following report on the Lequime estate which is being subdivided into fruit farms by the Kelowna Land & Orchard Company:—

Of Fish Creek and Lardeau—Report of Geological Survey.

The report of R. W. Brock of the geological survey on Fish creek and the Lardeau has been anxiously looked forward to by mining men interested in these sections and is distinctly favorable to the prospects of these sections of the province. Mr. Brock points out that the rocks at the head of Menhinick and Murray creeks are derived from basic eruptives, and the green and grey schists are in all probability altered eruptive rocks. At the head of Menhinick, Gainer, Cariboo, and Murray creeks occur green eruptive rocks which are gabbros with pyroxene crystals and plagioclase. In all the mineral zones a green, yellow weathering, rock occurs, frequently schistose and occasionally developing serpentine. It carries much lime, and is usually called dolomite though distinctly eruptive and technically a diabass schist. Coarse grained porphyritic grano-diorite occurs up Fish river, to the north. The oldest rocks correspond to the Slocan series of West Kootenay. The sedimentary series is much cut up by granitic intrusive rocks and highly metamorphosed. The green schists are important on the Lardeau river and below Camborne. The band of these schists extends southeasterly, crossing Beatrice mountain, the Nettie L. and Silver Cup, crossing the Lardeau river at Tenderfoot, and extending to Poplar.

FISH RIVER CAMP.

This camp, situated on the lower part of Fish river, was located as a silver-lead camp, but at present the principal development is confined to gold leads. The ores occur in two zones. Camborne is situated on the south-western edge of one of these which extends north-westward up Menhenick creek and south-eastward across Pool and Mohawk creeks, over Great Northern mountain to Ferguson camp. Its extension south-eastward from the latter camp will be referred to later.

MINERAL BELTS.

This zone consists of a somewhat narrow belt of slate and phyllites cut by the greyish-green, yellow-weathering diabase-schist lying between somewhat broad bands of the green schist. In width and continuance this zone is somewhat irregular, owing to the nature of the green schist already alluded to, which may divide it into a number of subordinate bands, but in general it is easily traceable across the country. Farther to the north, at the head of Pool and Lexington creeks, and on Boyd, Kellie, McRae, Bullard and McDougal creeks is the lime-dyke series—the second mineralized zone. This runs with considerable regularity south-eastward. The green schists, so far observed, contain no ore bodies. A long line of claims has been staked all along the lime dyke series. The ores so far found are mostly galena with some blende, tetrahedrite, a little copper and iron pyrites, with quartz, calcite, siderite, and some sericite as gangue. Some of the ores carry high silver values, but some, as the Alma, on Pool creek, are large, low-grade ore bodies. Many of these claims have been crown granted and are now lying idle. Little work of any kind was being done on this belt during the past season, attention being largely confined to the more southerly zone.

EVA GOLD LEAD.

Claims were located some time ago on this belt for silver-lead. In 1900 an inexperienced prospector discovered a quartz vein with some specks of galena on the lower slope of Lexington mountain, between Pool creek and Fish river, which he staked as a silver-lead claim. Assays revealed a high gold content, and a number of gold claims were staked on this lead. The Imperial Development Syndicate, Limited, of Nelson, was formed to take over and work some of these claims, under the management of Mr. A. H. Gracie. After some development, the Eva group was sold to the Calumet and B. C. Gold Mines, Limited. The Imperial Syndicate is now exploiting the Cholla group.

The main lead has been followed from Fish river south-eastward over the shoulder of Lexington mountain for about a mile, and it probably extends to Pool creek.

EVA GROUP.

On this group, now being operated by the Calumet and B. C. Gold Mines, Limited, the greatest amount of work on the lead has been done. The lead here consists of two veins, lying in and along two fault planes, connected by numerous cross-veins and stringers. The direction of the lead is about 120°, cutting the formation at a low angle. At the camp level the confining faults are 175 feet apart, and dip 80° away from one another. Since they are converging upwards, at No. 6 tunnel, 500 feet above, they are closer together, being 90 feet apart. Below, at No. 3 tunnel, the west fault changes its dip eastward. The country rocks are spotted phyllites, cut by the yellow weathering diabase schist. The veins are of quartz, carrying siderite and sulphides, the latter usually in small quantities only, together with free gold. The sulphides consist of pyrite, sometimes crystalized in the form of cubes, and pyritohedra, a little galena and zinc blende. In the Eva shaft the sulphides, especially pyrite, are present in quantity. The veins vary in width from a few inches to many feet. Gouge along the faults has usually confined the ore-bearing solutions within these planes and the crushed country rock between them, so that the veins occur along these lines and in the country rock between them. The southerly vein is called No. 1, the northerly No. 2. Large masses of quartz may be developed, especially where cross-veins join No. 1 and No. 2 veins. The cross-veins have not been observed to extend through No. 1 and No. 2 out into the country rock. In places the lead is of solid vein matter, sometimes banded, and with divisional planes parallel to the walls or to the stratification of the country rock. Sometimes the veins hold inclusions of the country rock, more or less replaced or mineralized by vein matter; in other places the quartz is deposited in bands between the lines of stratification. The rock between No. 1 and No. 2 veins, and the cross veins, is itself often somewhat mineralized with quartz and pyrite, assaying perhaps $2.50 per ton. Slight faults subsequent to the vein formation, sometimes interrupt the continuity of the vein. Gold may be panned from the quartz almost everywhere, but the values are not evenly distributed. At No. 5 tunnel the vein and the cross vein, which form a small cliff with 50 feet exposed, are said to run $90 per ton. The quartz in the winze between No. 5 and No. 3 tunnels is said to sample $73 and the dump $50.

RAIL AND STEAMER.

Jim Hill is stated to have control of the Granby mines, and is rushing his branch road to Phoenix to cut out the ore haulage from the C. P. R., who will retaliate by building a railroad into Similkameen from Spences Bridge.

The railway commission left Ottawa this week and will hold sittings at Revelstoke and Vancouver.

The C. P. R. will put in a slip at Gerrard.

Investigating a wreck on the C. P. R. near Regina the other day the official in charge asked a brakeman to explain the location of the train crew when the train went into the ditch. He said: "The con was up in front fumbling the tissues, the eagle eye was oilin' the pin, the hind screw was back in the dog house lighting the glim, and I was up ahead bending the rail." How is that for train talk?—Calgary Herald.

NAKUSP.

Synopsis of Regulations for Disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $20 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—Persons of eighteen years and over, and joint stock companies holding free miner's certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end on the line of the lode or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent of the sales of the products of the location.

Placer Mining, Manitoba and the N.W.T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5, renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims for either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 1,000 feet. Where steam power is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N.W.T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged beds or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan River, where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory.—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental, $100 per mile for the first year, and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty, same as placer mining.

Placer Mining in the Yukon Territory.—Creek, river, gulch and hill claims shall not exceed 250 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being from 1,000 to 2,000 feet. All other placer claims shall be 250 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of mining recorder's office. One extra day allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim of 1,000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1,500 feet altogether, on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee, $10. Royalty at the rate of two and one-half per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned, and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year; if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum.—All unappropriated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the North-west Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 640 acres. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well and such other land as may be determined, will be sold to the discoverer at the rate of $1.00 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by order-in-council.

SWEDE GROUP.

Rich Ore Body Struck.

B. Crilly, of the Great Northern Mines, received a telegram from Supt. Morgan stating that another ledge had been located on the Swede group. The lead is eight feet in width.

Eight pounds of iron carbonates taken from the ledge and panned yielded $10 in gold. This is $1.25 to the pound, which is rich ore anywhere. The extent of the find is not known yet as the ledge had not been stripped for any distance.

Mr. Crilly states that the timbers are being got out for the mortar and other parts of the frame for the ten stamps that are to be added to the Great Northern mill at Camborne.—News.

FRUIT GROWING AT KELOWNA.

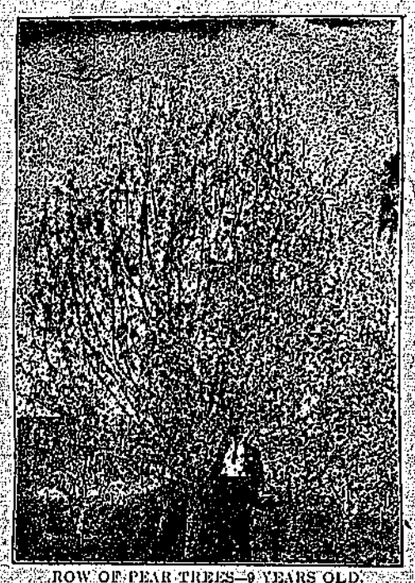
SIX-YEAR-OLD APPLE TREES.



ROW OF PEAR TREES—9 YEARS OLD.

VICTORIA, B. C., MAY 16th, 1904.

THE KELOWNA LAND & ORCHARD CO., LTD.,

KELOWNA, B. C.

Dear Sirs:

In accordance with your request I have examined and beg to submit the following report on the Lequime Estate, Kelowna, Osoyoos Division of Yale, in regard to the suitability of certain portions of the Estate for Fruit Growing purposes.

The portions of the Estate examined consist of the Bottom or Meadow Lands lying along and having a comparatively slight elevation above Okanagan Lake, and the Level Bench Land, generally known as the Lequime Flats, lying at a considerable elevation above the Lake, containing approximately 2,000 acres.

FIVE-YEAR OLD ORCHARD.
Kelowna, B. C.

The soil of the bottom lands is a deep, rich, alluvial deposit of a fine loamy texture and very uniform in character. That of the bench lands varies somewhat, but is generally a fine warm loam on the surface, intermixed in places with surface stone, and underlaid with a lighter subsoil mixed with small stone.

With the exception of comparatively small areas of the lower-lying bottom lands, where alkaline salts are present in excess or where the level of the water is too near the surface, the tracts dealt with will classify as First-Class Fruit Lands.

Kelowna is justly famed for the excellence of the fruit produced in the orchards of the district, form, colour and quality are alike perfect in well grown specimens. The soil of the Lequime Estate ranks with the best of that of the producing orchards, and the large compact areas of suitable fruit lands are especially well adapted to the development and economical working of commercial orchards.

All kinds of deciduous fruits which succeed in the temperate zone may be grown to perfection, including Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries, Peaches, Quinces, Strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, loganberries, gooseberries, currants, and other small fruits, provided water for irrigation is furnished as required.

APPLES.
Blenheim Orange, Laden With Fruit.

On the Bottom Lands, owing to their retentive nature and the natural subirrigation of the soil from the lake during the time of high water, comparatively little surface irrigation is necessary or desirable; on the Bench Lands a plentiful supply of irrigation water is necessary to ensure success. Such a supply, I understand, is available, and the contour of the land favours equable and quick distribution without waste.

The climate of the district is eminently favourable to Fruit Production, its dryness prevents or checks the development of those fungous diseases which in moister and less favoured districts affect both trees and fruit, and the immunity of the district from destructive storms is a most important feature.

The Natural Advantages of soil and climate are all that can be desired, and with the application of care and skill to the business of fruit-growing may be relied upon to produce fruit which will equal or excel that of the most favoured sections of the Pacific Slope.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) R. M. PALMER.

In his sermon on Sunday evening Rev. W. C. Calder stated that last anniversary of the Orange celebration a Revelstoke paper said the Orangemen were scratching up members and hoped they would scratch a hole deep enough to bury themselves. The press of Revelstoke is entitled to some explanation from Mr. Calder of such a charge as we venture to say neither of the Revestoke newspapers made any such absurd statement. The people look to the pulpit to stick to the truth and to guard against appeals to race and religious prejudice based on wild imagination.
