CORRESPONDENCE

An Outsider's View of the Strike.

We, who are passive spectators of the struggle between the C. P. R. and its maintenance of way employees must realize that the orderly conduct of the men is worthy of great praise. Notwithstanding the fact that in their ranks are representatives of many nationalities they are a unit in loyalty to the question at issue, and we have yet to be informed from reliable source of any defection, true assertions are made through the press of men returning to their posts voluntarily but what credence can be placed in those organs of information(?) who not content with intentional misrepresentation use every means in their power to alienate the sympathy of the public as well as to attempt to array one class of workmen against another by appealing to the vanity of members of the higher branches of skilled labor whose sense of justice we feel is outraged by this despicable attempt to make them appear as callous to the welfare of their poorer paid colleagues. Does it not require skilled labor to perform the duties of trackmen, pumpmen, bridgemen etc.? Is not the skilled labor of the engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen as well as the precious lives of the passengers dependent upon the labor which is skilled though of a lesser degree of those who are now trying to obtain from the corporation a recognition of their rights and remuneration sufficient to enable them to live? Have not these men been busy in summer's heat and winter's blasts diligently examining the roadbed to see that it is firm and solid, that the elevation is correct, securing loose spikes, tightening started nuts, or adjusting springing coupling plates, hence it must follow that there is a common interest between the motive power men and those whose duties are to look after the maintenance of way.

We should not curl up in our shells with an it's-no-business-of-mine expression in this matter but as long as wrong is perpetrated every citizen should endeavor to effect a conciliation between the two contending parties and to this end it would be an excellent plan to have a public mass meeting.

THE STRIKERS

Appointment of Police Condemned

Prominent Citizens Address a Mass Meeting of Trackmen.

A mass meeting of the strikers and railway union men was held Wednesday evening in Selkirk Hall, and although the notice given was very short the hall was crowded to the doors. T. J. Graham occupied the chair and on the platform with him were Mayor Brown, Thos. Taylor, M. P. P., J. M. Kellie and R. Gordon. In a few brief remarks the chairman opened the meeting and then called on Mr. J. M. Kellie to address the gathering.

Mr. Kellie expressed his sympathy with the men in this strike and believed they were not asking any more than what they were entitled to. The dividends of the C. P. R. of late years had been enormous which showed the company to be in a most prosperous condition and the men should share in the prosperity. The speaker in forcible terms condemned the provincial government for their action in placing special constables along the right of way. As long as the men conducted themselves in the orderly way which they have done up to the present, they would have the sympathy of the entire community.

Thos. Taylor, M. P. P., was the next speaker, and expressed his pleasure at the opportunity afforded him of addressing the meeting though the occasion was neither a fortunate or a happy one. Strikes were to be deplored but at times were necessary. In regard to the appointment of the special police by the government, he resented this action as much as any one in the audience. The matter will be taken up by me and sifted to the bottom. He could positively state that the men who were acting as special constables will be paid by the C. P. R. With regard to the strike, few felt more keenly than he on this matter. Thirteen years ago I worked as a trackman near Palliser, for nearly a year, and considered I was under-paid. Cannot see now how I lived on the wages I then received. Had I been then as some of you are—married and with a family—don't know how I could have existed. The trackmen have my sincerest sympathy. Higher wages produce a higher class of workmen. In regard to the bridgemen, he was not acquainted with their work, but hoped their demands were not too arbitrary. In regard to the conduct of the men, they could not have been more orderly than they are here, notwithstanding rumors to the contrary which were being circulated on the coast. Must also congratulate the gentlemen present on the harmony and unity which exists among the men all along the line. He believed the proper way to solve the difficulty is by arbitration, and the question will probably have to be settled in that way yet. Time is not far distant when compulsory arbitration will be the rule throughout the Dominion. When we consider the trouble caused by strikes we must consider the matter seriously and no better scheme than compulsory arbitration has yet been brought forward.

Mayor Brown was then called on and stated that he was entirely in the dark regarding the main questions to be discussed. He would like to hear the true cause why special constables were put on in the first place and suggested that a memorial be presented to the government through our member asking for such information. Everyone in Revelstoke was in sympathy with the strikers. He congratulated one and all on the order they had kept and if this was maintained had no doubt they would win.

R. Gordon then made a few remarks in which he said we should demand from the government an explanation as to their action in placing the special police along the line. Had no doubt our member could exonerate himself from any blame in connection with the matter. Mr. Taylor had stated that this action of the government was against his feelings and wishes and he believed him. A petition was in circulation a few days ago demanding from our member an explanation of this matter and the speaker thought if this petition or a fresh one were placed with force before the government it would prevent them or any future government from a repetition of this action.

The chairman stated the gold commissioner had received instructions on the 14th of June—3 days before the strike—regarding the appointment of special police, and he wanted to know if those men were engaged before the strike was called. He understood they were. These policemen were also supplied with danger signals and were practically doing the duty of trackwalkers and watchmen.

H. W. Edwards then addressed the meeting after which a vote of thanks was passed to the speakers of the evening.

The following petition with several hundred names attached, was presented to Thos. Taylor, M. P. P., to lay before the government:

"We, the undersigned, constituents of your riding desire information from you through the medium of the press, why special provincial constables have been sworn in to be employed in the capacity of C. P. R. watchmen.

"What grounds were advanced for the authorization of enlisting the services of special provincial police.

"Have you protested?"

The meeting then adjourned.

The Waragraph.

The attendance at the waragraph moving pictures in the opera house last evening was not as large as it should have been considering the excellence of the entertainment. The audience, although small, was highly appreciative. The pictures were well shown and included the late Queen's funeral procession, a number of scenes in South Africa, also a number of pictures of the Boer war and its heroes. A large collection of miscellaneous views and scenes add variety to the entertainment. Mr. Noel in his female impersonations made a hit and his dancing was particularly good. To-night the Waragraph Co. will give a change of programme presenting in a series of beautifully colored moving pictures the fairy tale of Cinderella and the glass slipper. Children will be admitted this evening for 10 cents.

GALLIHER BANQUETTED.

Member for Yale-Cariboo Presented With a Gold-Headed Cane.

(Ottawa Free Press, 18th.)

Joyful was the greeting at the festive board at the Hotel Cecil last evening when the fellow guests of W. A. Galliher, M.P. for Yale-Cariboo, tendered him a complimentary dinner. There was a large number present and a most enjoyable time was spent. The menu was excellent and the card was unique. It was prettily arranged with green covering beating a harp and on one corner was tied a piece of lead.

The following was the menu:

Anchovy Salad.
Cansomme Vermicelle.
Boiled Sea Salmon. Tarter Sauce.
Minced Chicken on Toast with Spinach.
Roast Spring Lamb, Mint Sauce.
Emerald Mayonnaise.
Deviled Crabs in Shell.
English Plum Pudding. Ice Cream.
Assorted Cakes. Strawberries and Cream.
Cafe Noir.

After doing full justice to the repast a pleasant time was spent in speech-making. A. E. Lussier was chairman with Mr. Galliher to his right and Mr. Genslinger to his left. In a short complimentary address Mr. Lussier proposed the health of the guest, which was heartily honored. Mr. Galliher in reply made a speech in which he reviewed the happy sojourn he had made in Ottawa and assured the gathering that he would take back to the coast kind recollections of his many good friends here. He hoped to return next session and meet the same old boys who have tendered him this banquet.

Complimentary speeches were delivered by R. H. Moir, W. A. Hopkins, R. McDonald, Colonel Johnson, J. M. McCrombie, Dr. MacCarthy, C. F. King, H. W. May, James Templeton and J. Buchanan. At the conclusion of the speeches G. P. Gallagher, who was vice-chairman, on behalf of the other guests presented Mr. Galliher with a gold headed cane. Mr. Galliher in return thanked the donors for their gift and hoped to return to the city and Hotel Cecil next session.

Mr. Galliher is extremely popular among his associates and during his stay in the Capital made many friends. He left for home to-day.

Waverley & Tangier Plant to be Sold.

Grant Govan's Big Splurge in B. C. Recalled.

Interest in the short but expensive history of the concern known as the Goldfields of British Columbia will be revived locally by the news that the entire plant, purchased some years ago, has changed hands and will at last be put to a useful purpose in aiding in the development of British Columbia's mineral resources.

It will be remembered that the Goldfields of British Columbia was floated in the London market some four years ago by Mr. Grant-Govan, the so-called Cecil Rhodes of British Columbia, for a sum approaching two million pounds sterling. Among the properties acquired by the concern were the Waverley and Tangier mines situated twenty odd miles from Albert Canyon in the Illecillewaet country.

Glittering pictures of the marvelous wealth of these mines were held up before the astounded eyes of the great British public, and people fairly tumbled over one another in their anxiety to get in on such a brilliant opportunity.

BIG PURCHASES.

To further increase the confidence of the investing public no less than $80,000 worth of most expensive machinery was ordered, shipped and paid for. Nearly five hundred men were put to work building a road from Albert Canyon to the mines and in clearing a townsite. Vast quantities of provisions and stores of all sorts were obtained and a start was made to get the machinery and plant in to the scene of operation.

READY FOR SLAUGHTER.

The effect of all this on the market may be imagined. One pound shares jumped to thirty-two shillings, and the lamb seemed ready for the slaughter.

It may seem incredible, but it is nevertheless a fact, that all this was done without a thorough examination of the properties having been made. Managers, engineers and officials of different kinds were engaged at princely salaries and the end was not long in coming. A few tons of ore were taken from the mines and then the crash came.

The property was left just as it stood. Scattered all along a twenty mile route were portions of valuable machinery, comprising a fully equipped sawmill, a compressor plant and the best concentrating plant in the province. The stores were similarly left, but the bulk of the property was in sheds at the canyon.

The unfortunate stockholders in England had the sole satisfaction of knowing that their money had been spent on the best of everything.

BOUGHT THE PLANT.

The property has remained there ever since, but this week negotiations were concluded between the liquidators, Messrs. Wilson & Senkler of this city, and the owners of the Marble Bay mines of Texada Island, for a transfer of the entire plant and stock—of everything in fact except the claims themselves and the buildings. This includes the compressor, sawmill, concentrator and hoisting plant and machinery, all stores and supplies, wagons, sleighs and harness. Mr. J. J. Palmer, one of the owners of the Marble Bay property, has sent an expedition up the line to bring in the machinery at once, and it will be set up at Texada at the earliest possible moment.—Province.

Didn't Marry for Money.

The Boston man, who lately married a sickly rich young woman, is happy now, for he got Dr. King's New Life Pills, which restored her to perfect health. Infallible for Jaundice, Biliousness, Malaria, Fever and Ague and all Liver and Stomach troubles. Gentle but effective. Only 25c. at the Canada Drug and Book store.

HIGHLY GRATIFIED

Two Prominent Englishmen Express Their Opinion of B. C.

(From Victoria Times)

There are at present in the city two gentlemen, who while their visit to British Columbia and to Victoria is primarily a business one, are so impressed with the wealth and potentiality of the Pacific province that they are likely to give it the best kind of advertisement among the very class in England whose attention it is desirable to enlist.

The gentlemen referred to are W. F. Bennett, senior member of the firm of Wm. Bennett, Sons & Co., the famouse fuse manufacturers of Camborne, Cornwall, and J. M. Holman, of Holman Bros., the well known manufacturers of all kinds of mining machinery.

The last mentioned firm has a wide market, including the West Coast of Africa, Transvaal, Brazil, Argentina, San Salvador, Costa Rica and India. Mr. Holman's visit to British Columbia was for the purpose of personally introducing the famous Holman Power Rock Drill, popularly known as the Banket Drill. However, the position occupied by Mr. Holman is rather unique, as for twenty years past he has had charge of contracts for every large tin mine in Cornwall. Messrs. Holman are also large stockholders in the celebrated Dolcoath tin mines, the largest in the world, the workings of which are over 3,000 feet deep, and have been worked from a remote period.

Messrs. Bennett and Holman have just completed a month's tour of Kootenay and Boundary, accompanied by their Canadian representative, Rowland Machin, of this city, and express themselves as highly gratified with their cordial reception. The Bennett fuse is already in use in most of the big mines in the interior, and the single bit drill, which Mr. Holman succeeded in placing in many of the mines, promises to leap into great popularity.

In conversation yesterday Mr. Holman stated that not only did he regard the present visit as one which would result in financial benefit to himself, but from a personal examination of the mines, he was impressed with the belief that British Columbia in many respects, is a far better field for the investment of capital than the West Coast of Africa, where so many hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling have been invested by British capitalists.

Unfortunately neither of the gentlemen can prolong their stay in Victoria as they are booked to sail on the Britannic from New York on July 3rd, but Mr. Holman intimates that he will return next year bringing Mrs. Holman with him and will make a leisurely tour of the province, with which he has certainly fallen in love.

It may be mentioned incidentally that the Holman firm, which conducts its business in a quiet corner of the old land, captured a special gold medal for power drills at both the Paris exhibition and the Greater Britain exposition.

The Canadian general agent, Mr. Machin, has been granted three months' vacation in recognition of the ability with which he has pushed the business of the firms indicated.

Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Havil, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg.

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have of great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine, calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjees stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer riflemen. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. It is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them God speed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, in every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of Patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont. Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte, and the Charge of General French's Cavalry on the Retreating General Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to any one who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cents (none free); four for 60 cents; $1.00 per dozen; 26 for $2.75; 50 for $5; 100 for $8.00. Write to-day for a dozen and make money.

Family Record.

Size 16x22.

One of the most beautiful pictures in colors. Upon a background of Pure Solid Gold rests the Family Record in the shape of a handsome volume with Gold Clasps upon a cushion of crimson velvet with a beautiful gold tassel. On the pages, under different headings, are spaces in which to write the name and date of birth. On either side is a beautiful scroll on which to record marriages and deaths. On top of the picture are the words, "Family Record," in the richest lettering known to the printer's art. Under this are spaces for father's and mother's pictures. In the lower part of the picture is a beautiful home scene. The dear old grandparents, the handsome, stalwart husband, and happy young wife, the loving daughter and baby boy—the idolized grandchild—are all gathered around the table, while grandfather reads a portion of God's Holy Word. A truly beautiful scene. Underneath are the words, "God Bless Our Family." Around this picture are eight spaces for photographs of other members of the family, each space enclosing a gem flower piece. Elsewhere on the picture are scattered creeping vines, buds and blossoms in rich confusion, the whole resting on, and thrown into bold relief by the gorgeous background of Solid Gold which produces a picture of dazzling beauty.

BOYCE TALKS

To Striking Trackmen at Nelson.

He Promised the Assistance of Miners Federation

Edward Boyce, president of the Western Federation of Miners, addressed the striking C. P. R. trackmen and sympathizers at Nelson on Tuesday evening. C. J. Clayton, president of the trades and labor council, presided, and in a few remarks introduced Mr. Boyce who said:—

I am very glad indeed to have the pleasure of meeting with you this evening, although I am sorry that I am not better prepared to speak to you upon this question. It is, however, unnecessary that I should at this time attempt to go into a history of the difficulty which now confronts a part of the railway employees of this great corporation, but, friends, it is very easy for a laboring man who has had experience to speak on this question. I take it for granted that there is no difference whatever between this strike or lockout, whichever you may choose to call it, and any other contest between organized labor on the one hand and organized capital on the other. They are all the same. But there is one fact connected with this strike or lockout which is gratifying to me above all things; something which gives me pleasure and delight to know. What I mean is this: I am delighted to know that although the old brotherhood, composed of the men employed in the other departments of the railway, although not actively engaged with the trackmen, are certainly in sympathy with them.

I must say, in connection with this, that up to the present time the railway men in this respect have been neglectful of their own interests. I must say that heretofore it was unfortunately true, that the engineers and the conductors, who were receiving wages above the trackmen, did not appear to realize that the trackmen were identical with their own interests. Heretofore they apparently did not realize that the reduction of the wage standard of the trackmen bore as heavily upon themselves as upon the trackmen, and for this reason: Because they were skilled, because they were men of a required higher grade of intelligence, they did not realize that by reason of any reduction in the wage scale of the trackmen their own positions were in jeopardy, and that they had a common interest with the men who tamped the ties or the men who built the bridges. I am glad to know that in this strike this has been changed, and that these men are all in sympathy with the trackmen. I am glad to know this, because I know that some time ago the trackmen were despised, not only by their employers, but also by their associates who happened to receive a dollar a day more than they did. When I say this, I am speaking from experience because I remember when I worked on a railway and held that very exalted position of shoveling coal. At that particular time I happen to know full well that the engineers and conductors did not consider that they had any interests in common with me whatever.

I am glad to know that at last the workingmen have been brought to understand that a union of all forces is necessary; that, in short, it is the only way in which we can hope to successfully combat our enemies. Therefore, although not prepared fully to speak upon this question, I feel so pleased with the change which has taken place that I am almost tempted to continue speaking.

To all the men who are in the sound of my voice, and who have entered upon the present struggle, I say stand firm for your rights at the present time, for God Almighty knows you have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Your jobs count for very little. Most of you have been hunting and struggling all your lives for jobs, such as they are; but now, after all those years, how much better off are you than when you first began your search and struggle? How much better off are you than when you first started out to seek employment from this great corporation?

I have here the schedule of wages paid and the advances asked. The scale of wages paid is really amusing. Were it not for the seriousness of it, it would make a hermit smile. Switchmen $60 per month and they want $70, bridge foremen $3 per day and they demand $4, section foremen $65 and they want $70. Then we come to the sectionmen. They are getting $1.35 and $1.40, and they demand as much as $1.75 per day. The only thing I am afraid of is, if these sectionmen get all they ask they will die with gout. Gentlemen, in reading over this schedule of wages which is paid by the C.P.R., and the wages demanded by its employees, I must confess that I cannot see any injustice in the demands that have been made. I believe, gentlemen, that your demands are reasonable and fair. I believe that your demands are honorable, and as I stated before, you at least have nothing to fear. Even by losing your positions in this struggle for your rights I think you are ahead. A man who will continue to work at $1.40 per day and struggle to support himself and family, and at the same time expect to enjoy some of the comforts of this life must soon awake to the fact that he is making a serious mistake in thinking that he can do so. How long would the men who own the stocks of this railway exist on $1.40 per day? They would not attempt to do so for 24 hours. This is an occasion when you are entitled to the support not only of the men who are employed with you in the other departments of the railway, but of the support of all the laboring men of Nelson and of this entire community. All are as directly interested in this strike as are the trackmen themselves. To you, business men of the city of Nelson, I say that this fight is your fight, notwithstanding the fact that you are afraid to call your soul your own, because your hand is in the lion's mouth, the mouth of this great corporation. Nevertheless I say the time has come when you must stand with the laboring men. There is no middle ground to take. The line is now clearly drawn between organized capital and organized labor. Will you stand with the laboring men who have always and at all times supported you? From whom do the business men make their living? How much do they realize from this corporation? This is the phase of the question they should consider. They are more interested than the trackmen themselves, because the latter have been reduced to almost the last notch in the barometer of existence. It is therefore the business men who now stand in danger, hence it is to their interest to stand by the trackmen in this struggle. These stock and bonholders are no respecters of persons.

* * * * *

In our own experience we have found that the money interests are not satisfied even now, to use a common phrase, to take an even chance with the people in the legislatures of the country. The money interests employ the shrewdest legal talent they can to represent them in the courts. They also go further and maintain a lobby not only at the legislatures but also at the seat of national government. They employ the shrewdest and best writers they can get to represent their interests in the press, and to shape public opinion and blindfold the people to their true interests. They even invade the sanctity of the church and by their influence and manipulations endeavor to control the ministers of the gospel. But they go even further, and here they strike at the foundation of the state, and endow colleges and libraries in order to make their impress upon the minds of the young.

We hold that the man or woman who produced a dollar is entitled to what he or she produces, and until laborers obtain due recognition there will always be strikes and there will always be lockouts. Such are the fruits of the system of concentration and monopoly. I sincerely hope that the citizens of Nelson and the entire province will render all the assistance they can to the employees of what is one of the greatest monopolies on the American continent in their present struggle for what at the best is a mere pittance in wages. It is your bounden duty to do so. All I can say is this, that so far as I am concerned, individually and in my official capacity, I consider it a very great pleasure to do all I can. And I have no hesitation in saying to these men who are making such a noble and magnificent stand that the Federation of Miners stand ready to help them financially at this moment if they call upon them. Because we are as much interested in this fight as you are. Let you lose this fight and we are simply lowered another notch, but let you win this fight and we can say that we have maintained our position. You men cannot lose very much, but if you do lose the entire community will suffer. To you workmen, who are struggling for this pittance, I say again stand firm for your rights as long as you have anything left to eat. You cannot realize, perhaps, how far reaching and important this struggle is. You are making history much faster than you think. The time is not far distant when you and I will pass away, but those who come after you will bless you for the stand you are making. You are struggling not for yourselves alone but for the benefit of humanity, and those laboring men who strive honestly to better the condition of their fellow man are doing a noble and splendid work indeed. Remember the eyes of the working people of this whole continent are on you. Every move you make is watched carefully and earnestly in the hope of your ultimate success.

MINING NOTES

Prospectors and mine-owners are invited to contribute to the KOOTENAY MAIL information of a reliable character regarding their properties, describing surface showings, development work and results attending it, assays, and new discoveries. The editor desires to make the MAIL a means of furnishing to investors reliable information concerning the progress and development of the mineral resources of North Kootenay.

Gus Hedstrom foreman for the Duquesne Mining Co. left Wednesday with an additional force of men for the company's property on Smith creek.

The total amount paid in dividends by the Payne Mining Co. is $1,438,000, which is said to be the largest paid by any mine in Canada.

A large deposit of coal has been discovered on the east side of the Kootenay river from Thunder Hill. The coal is said to be of good quality.

Mr. Hugh Sutherland, managing director of the Dominion Copper Company stated in Montreal the other day that a contract has been awarded for the erection of a 100 ton smelter in the Boundary district. The location will be decided upon by the directors this week. The smelter must be ready for operation in October.

Mr. W. H. Jeffery when seen this week with reference to his proposed scheme for building a smelter here, said the people with whom he was in communication with were Chicago capitalists and have accepted the proposition. Only a few details have now to be arranged to have every thing completed and work commenced on the erection. Mr. Jeffery left Wednesday morning for the Boundary country to examine a mining property. He will return Saturday.—Kaslo Kootenaian.

RICH STRIKE ON RUFFLED GROUSE.

On Tuesday last Ole Peterson came down from the Ruffled Grouse property located on Trout creek, with some of the finest ore which has yet been discovered in the camp. The lead from which the ore was taken is about three feet wide and contains from ten to twelve inches of high grade galena ore, the balance being carbonates. The ore yielded when assayed $1155 in all values.

The vein which crosses the Ruffled Grouse is a very strong one and is capped over with iron but where the strike was made a large portion of the capping had fallen over so that when Peterson and Livingston had begun work it was not very long before they penetrated through the capping and exposed the ore which gave the astonishing results given above. The owners say there is lots of the ore in sight and as soon as they finish an assessment they are compelled to attend to right away they will return and get out a shipment. The property is very convenient being only about a quarter of a mile above the valley and within about a mile or so from the wagon road.

Specimens of the new strike, which are to be seen in almost every business place in town, speak for themselves as to their value. They are plentifully impregnated with grey copper and several of them contain quantities of black sulphurets. The ore resembles very closely the Ethel, and in some respects the Horseshoe a property located by Ed. Hillman on Trout creek last summer.

Where the discovery was made is only about 400 or 500 feet from the Copper Chief and the vein crosses this property. It is just possible that the iron found by Malcolm Matheson some few days ago when he was doing his assessment work may be the capping to this very lead and that when it has been removed ore quite as rich as that obtained on the Ruffled Grouse will be the result. Malcolm is up there now and it is quite likely that the near future will have more to tell of the value of the new strike to adjoining property.—Trout Lake Topic.

The Crow's Nest Southern Railway company have signed an agreement with the provincial government to build under the terms of the act passed at the last session of the legislature the section of the railway in British Columbia of the line which is to connect the Crow's Nest coal mines with the Great Northern railway at Jennings, Montana. Although the company have two years in which to build the road they say it will be completed by October first next. There are five miles to build in British Columbia and 95 miles in Montana. Under the act the British Columbia government has control of the rates.

The lawn social advertised by the ladies of the Methodist church for last night was held notwithstanding the serious drawback caused by the heavy fall of rain during the day. Various stands for the sale of work, flowers, candies, etc. were conducted on the lawn while refreshments in the way of ice cream, strawberries and other delicacies were owing to the coolness of the evening served in the parsonage. Music was furnished by the band.

The lawn social in aid of the Presbyterian Church, which was held at the residence of Mrs. W. M. Lawrence on Tuesday evening, was largely attended. The grounds were beautifully decorated and illuminated with bunting, Chinese lanterns and lamps. Refreshments were served during the evening. The The strawberry and ice cream booth was were well patronised as was also the flower stand. A musical programme was contributed by several of the ladies and a number of selections by the Revelstoke Band were also much appreciated. John D. Sullivan, the engineer in charge of the Lardeau branch, was in Nelson yesterday. He says that a start has been made in the laying of steel and that about half a mile of it had been laid when he left. The station grounds have been laid out on the Trout Lake end of the branch at a point known as Selkirk, where a new town will be started. On the Kootenay lake end of the line the old town of Lardo will be the terminus.—Nelson Tribune.

A good story comes from Rossland. Paddy Nolan, a C. P. R. section boss, lives in that town. The other day he was approached by a high official of the company, who was anxious to know how he stood on the issue of the strike. Paddy, it is said, looked the h. o. square in the eye and said in his richest Irish brogue: "What would you do Mr. Downie, if you were in my place? I am now getting $1.65 a day and may be in two weeks I'll be getting $2 a day. Mr. Downie, I'm going to stroike."

Mayor Carlson, of Kaslo, who has the contract for grading on the Lardeau branch of the A. & K. Railway, has his wagon road, for hauling supplies, to within twelve miles of the foot of Trout lake, and it is his intention, as soon as the road is completed, to cover the line with men and push the work through as fast as possible. The surveyors are camped at Tenderfoot creek and expect to have the survey completed in a week or ten days. It is the company's intention to establish two permanent survey camps, one about three miles below Selkirk City and one at the first crossing about three miles below Poplar creek. A tie-camp is located about one and a half miles from the foot of the lake and a gang of men are clearing the right of way at Poplar creek. An engine and seven cars are busily engaged hauling supplies to Duncan City, and ere the snow flies the long talked of railway to the foot of Trout lake will be a reality.—Topic.
