THE CITY.

Improvements at Electric Light Station—Better Water Supply and Froviding Good Streets.

The city council has spent a considerable sum of money this season in improving the dam and flume at the electric light station and work done should make a permanent job of it for some time to come, and should result in improved efficiency of the electric lighting service.

THE STREETS.

The present condition of the streets each fall is a matter of considerable complaint and though a large sum was spent on them last fall they are again in bad state through the wet season wherever the traffic has been heavy. Especially is this the case on Third Street east, upper McKenzie ave. Second and First street. Discussing this matter the other day with Mayor O'Brien, he stated he saw no prospect of getting over this difficulty of bad streets each spring and fall except by procuring a rock crusher for the city and macadamising the streets. This would make a thoroughly good and permanent job of them and would give Revelstoke streets second to none in the province. He considers the city council should keep pace with the progress of the city and would advocate the city procuring a rock crusher during the coming year and making a special feature of permanent street improvement.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Another matter that the Mayor considers should have urgent attention is the provision of an improved water supply both for fire purposes and domestic use. He considers that during the coming winter a record should be kept of Eight mile Creek to ascertain how far that creek is to be depended on in winter, for in summer it is all that could be desired. The city will not, however be able to incur such an extensive work as that for two or three years.

Mr. O'Brien thinks that meantime however good use could be made of the stream on which Dan McIntosh and R. Gordon recently reported. At small cost that stream could be connected with the present system and from the information available the Mayor thinks a pipe line could be laid which would give a fall of 400 feet, thus giving a pressure which would be ample to protect the city against fire. By using wooden pipes similar to those the Camborne Water Supply Co. have laid and the C. P. R. have laid at Glacier and other points the cost of providing this improved service could be brought within the reach of the city and would provide for all practical purposes till the city could financially undertake the Eight Mile Creek scheme. These are two important features of civic policy which would, we believe, be endorsed by the citizens. The improved water supply scheme should, if carried out, result in a considerable reduction of insurance rates.

HAROLD NELSON.

Visit of the Famous Canadian Actor.

On Monday night Harold Nelson will begin a two nights season here. Monday he appears in "Quo Vadis," and Tuesday in Hamlet.

The great religious drama, "Quo Vadis," abounding in stirring incident and thrilling situation, and telling a remarkable story, should draw a very large audience when Harold Nelson and his complete company presents it here. Mr. Nelson, who is admitted to be Canada's best legitimate actor, promises his many friends here a more elaborate performance than has ever been given in this part of the country. He brings to us a strong company, new and beautiful scenery and costuming both rich and historically accurate. It has taken considerable courage and much capital to prepare productions of this magnitude, but Mr. Nelson has faith that the western people will discriminate between a high grade performance and the cheap and nasty show with which we are too often inflicted.

"Hamlet," which Mr. Nelson is to present on Tuesday, is said by the critics to be the greatest achievement of this brilliant Canadian actor. Mr. Nelson will produce the immortal drama here with special scenery and costuming, also special electrical effects.

THE HOSPITAL

Favored by Visit From Countess of Minto.

As the Countess of Minto passed through Revelstoke on Thursday on her return from Japan she had the governor general's special car cut off No. 2 at the hospital and spent the time till No. 2 was ready to pull out in visiting and examining the institution which she has done so much to assist. Her excellency was received on behalf of the hospital board by Messrs. F. Fraser, Atkins and Phipps and at the hospital she was welcomed by Mrs. Kilpatrick, president of the ladies' guild, the nursing staff and Dr. Sutherland, who showed the distinguished visitor through the institution. Her excellency addressed kindly remarks to each of the patients. The hospital was found to be in first class order in every respect and her excellency expressed her pleasure at finding it so well conducted.

Mr. Phipps, as treasurer, explained to her excellency the financial results of the institution, Lady Minto expressing her surprise at what had been achieved.

Before leaving her excellency referred to the sustentation fund she is establishing for the Victorian Order of Nurses and expressed the hope that British Columbia would assist the object. $125,000 is required, of which $100,000 has been raised in the east.

The hospital management expresses its gratitude to her excellency for the interest she has shown in the institution.

COUNTY COURT.

CIVIL CASES.

Judge Forin held a sitting of the county court at Revelstoke on Thursday. The adjourned hearing of the case, McCallum v. Ward on the partnership claim was resumed. G. S. McCarter for plaintiff and J. M. Scott for defendant. Judgment in favor of defendant.

CRIMINAL.

In the case against Burke for larceny the charge was dismissed, and his honor warned accused of the narrow escape he had had.

The young man charged with forgery of cheque at Arrowhead pleaded guilty and was allowed out on suspended sentence, his honor advising him to return to his parents.

CHALLENGE.

Editor KOOTENAY MAIL:

Sir,—I would like to match G. C. McLaughlin, of Nelson, B. C., with any of your local men in a catch-as-catch-can match for $100 a side and up, to take place there some time this month. McLaughlin strips at 164 lbs. and is willing to meet any man on the mat not over 180 lbs.

L. BERT WHIGAM, Mgr.
Rossland, B. C., Nov. 5.

THE MINES.

Meetings of shareholders of the Calumet and B. C. Gold Mines are called at Calumet for Monday next and at Hancock, Mich., on Tuesday to recommend directors for election at the annual meeting.

The Camborne Miner says: "While excavating a site for a blacksmith shop at the Mammoth on Goat mountain 5½ tons of the richest silver-lead ore ever discovered in the Lardeau were taken out. Eleven assays have been made and the lowest gives values of $306 to the ton while others run up to $722.

Tom Wills was down from the Silver Dollar and says the rich free-gold strike made on that property is about the finest showing he ever saw. Gold is freely sprinkled through the quartz. Clifton & Darragh, who have charge, are jubilant over the rich discovery. The lead is 9 ft. wide and assayed up to $350."

Spent Over $2,000 Doctoring.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man to-day. For sale by all druggists.

EDMONTON.

A Boom Town—Real Estate Selling at High Figures.

W. de V. LeMaistre, who returned Sunday from a trip to Edmonton, says that town is booming. Building is going apace. A building seven storeys high is projected. A town lot sold for $15,000, and prices for lots are high all round. Everything is prosperous. The crops have been good though the season was a backward one. There are now six banking institutions there. Mr. LeMaistre bought two lots and will build on them. He leaves Revelstoke next month to enter business there. He met many old friends from Kootenay and they are doing well.

Mr. LeMaistre also gives excellent accounts of the progress of Calgary. There are now half a dozen banking institutions there and the town is growing rapidly.

ARROWHEAD.

R. R. Hall of Peterborough, Ont., is in town.

E. Alair is here and is pushing ahead with the the erection of Messrs Reid and Young's store.

A long felt want has been filled by the establishment of a barber chair at the Lakeview hotel. We will now be able to get a hair cut or shave without having to go to Revelstoke.

On Friday evening Mrs. and Mrs. J. Donovan gave a very enjoyable progressive whist party. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe Mrs. Barber, Mrs. McKechinie Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lugate Mrs. Theo. Ludgate Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Capt. and Mrs. Forsland, Mr. and Mrs. Barlee Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, and Messrs Heffron and Taylor. A very pleasant evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served about eleven o'clock and after a few more games of whist everyone went home, having had a most delightful evening.

The other afternoon Mr. Kerr's pig—a gentleman pig, we understanding,—happened to be strolling through the back premises of the Lakeview Hotel when he fell into the well. Though there are other pigs in town it was decided that this was too valuable a life to be lost and with assistance of several public spirited citizens and all the small boys in town his piggship was hoisted out none the worse for his bath. We trust that care will be taken by residents to cover all wells securely in the future or some of our citizens will be suddenly bereft of the excellent roast and will say with Tennyson (slightly altered)

Oh! for the taste of a vanished ham,
And the sound of a grunt that is still.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Maridor-Goulding company played at the opera house Monday and Tuesday evenings under the auspices of the band, but were received by rather small houses. The cornet solos of Miss Goulding and dancing by little Hazel Raymor proved to be the chief features of the entertainment. Miss Maridor's recitations were also well received, and Miss Basset caused some merriment by her comic songs addressed to some of our most bashful young bandsmen. Those who attended both evenings were somewhat disappointed the second night on finding that, despite the announcement of the manager to the contrary, the program was practically a repetition.

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1903

The Laurier government should now make the best of the Alaskan boundary decision by building a government owned and operated line from Vancouver to the Yukon.

The Columbian says the liberals are unpatriotic who refuse to support the McBride government. The history of the liberal party of recent years is an effective answer to such a charge.

R. G. McPherson, M. P. for Burrard, is proving one of the most valuable members of the House of Commons, and during the past session he did splendid work not only for his constituency, but every movement for the benefit of this province or of the dominion as a whole found in him a warm champion.

The government papers are circulating a statement that Manager Walker, of the Bank of Commerce, asks the liberals of British Columbia to support the McBride cabinet in its financial difficulties. Manager Walker had so little faith in the McBride government that when he saw the verdict of the people after the elections, he immediately shut off their credit, and it is considerably far-fetched that he should ask the liberals to support a government in which he himself so emphatically showed he had no faith. Besides, Manager Walker is too shrewd a man to make himself supremely ridiculous by any such statement as that he is alleged to have made.

Particulars to hand of the mishap to No. 2 near North Bend last week show the company and the travelling public have to thank the vigilance of the engineer for saving thousands of dollars worth of railway property and many lives. With the assistance of the electric headlight the engineer was able to discern the danger in time to reverse his engine and apply the brakes thus preventing the whole train being hurled to destruction down the Fraser canyon.

We trust the people of Revelstoke will not allow the skating rink to be closed this season for want of interest. There are no more healthful social recreations than curling and skating. The rink is an excellent building for these purposes and if it should be closed through indifference on the part of the townspeople it will be a matter of the greatest regret. It is the duty of every town to provide healthful recreation for its people, and a good rink is in this way one of the best assets of a city.

VANCOUVER BY-ELECTION.

Premier McBride has shown great shrewdness in the reconstruction of his cabinet by taking care not to give the liberals a chance at more than one seat. Vancouver is a liberal city and now that it has put Joseph Martin out of politics for the present the liberals there ought to combine to give the province the benefit of a strong administration as soon as possible. The Vancouver electors ought to be above Capt. Tatlow's scheme of bribery at five cents a head for crows and should embrace the opportunity to redeem their former reputation for standing strong for clean government by selecting and returning one of the best liberal representatives in the city. All eyes are on Vancouver in this by-election, in which the progressives of that city should fight shoulder to shoulder.

THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT.

The post office department, like every department under the management of the ministers of Sir Wilfrid Laurier (says the Victoria Times), is practically impregnable against criticism. All the efforts of its chief have been consistently and steadily directed to placing it upon a business basis. Now that the revenues and the expenditures have been balanced with a trifle on the right side, additional attention will be given to the cases of employees whose lot has already been considerably improved as compared with the time when Sir Adolphe Caron provoked strike and Sir Hibbert Tupper advised drastic treatment in the form of discharge of every employee who dared to protest against injustice and oppression.

THE OUTLOOK.

Some alarm has been caused lest the financial depression which has set in in the United States should extend to Canada. We believe there is little ground for fear. The commercial returns of the United States would indicate that country has reached its limit of expansion for some time to come. It is different with Canada. Every workshop is full of orders. There is a plethora of money in the banks, which have conducted their business on a safe and sound basis. Canada is no longer so intertwined with the United States that we need be affected by every financial breeze which is stirred up across the border. The United States is no longer the great and almost only market for Canadian produce. All that was altered by the Dingley tariff and statistics show the exports of Canada to the United States are small compared with their former relation to the population of the country. Canada is today growing as never before in her history. The great north-west and British Columbia offer fields for millions of homeseekers, and the outlook in this country is brighter than it has ever been. Let the people of Canada have faith in their country and they can make it the grandest and most prosperous country on the face of the earth.

RAILWAYS.

The people should now take up in earnest the question of public ownership and operation of railways. Information from Okanagan valley states owing to the excessive freight rates crops of fruit have to be allowed to go to waste that under reasonable conditions should be marketted at a profit. The great north-west affords a market for all the fruit that British Columbia can produce, but these exorbitant railway rates prevent that market from being utilised.

Another serious feature of corporation railway management has just developed in the wholesale dismissals in the east of men employed by the C. P. R. There is no complaint of business being bad. The reason given is the American railways have started this policy and the Canadian railways have to follow suit. What hollow argument! Canada has bolstered her railway and political systems too much from the United States, and it is time it ceased. The only true railway policy of a country is that which provides for the railways being run in the public interest and no one can accuse the existing railway systems of such policy. No, they are run for their profit-earning capabilities first, and the public can go to hides where it conflicts with this feature of railway management. This condition of things has got to be ended, and it is up to the people to end it. We recognise that here in British Columbia little can be done unless the railway reform movement is supported by the people of the whole dominion. But the movement can be promulgated in British Columbia, and the good work will assuredly spread its influence. We saw an instance in Revelstoke this week of railway rates which constitutes nothing less than legalised highway robbery, and where one bad case comes to light there are a thousand concerning which the public hear nothing. The railway policy has done more than anything else to propagate the socialist movement. The same policy will lay the foundation for the destruction of its own system as at present existing. Let fair compensation be given the shareholders in these railways but let the people own and operate them in their own interest through the government, and Canada will forge ahead by leaps and bounds.

TRANSPORTATION.

The article which we republish from the Rossland Miner regarding the question of transportation on the Arrow lakes means an important question. In the sixties steamers ran on the river from Little Dalles southward beyond Northport, right up to the Big Bend. One of the steamers was the "Marion," commanded by Captain Sanderson. No navigator knows the river better than he.

In 1897 the C. P. R. took over the present line of steamers and cut out the Illecillewaet which plied into Thomson's Landing from Arrowhead, and the Lytton which plied between Robson and Northport, touching at Waneta, B.C., on the Nelson and Fort Sheppard Railway. The reason why the former steamer was cut out was because it did not pay, the public preferring to patronise a rival steamer, and the reason why the latter steamer was cut out was to prevent the O. N. R. obtaining any of the traffic.

Since 1897 there have been slight changes of conditions along the Columbia river in B. C. starting from the Big Bend and running down to Waneta (which is in the province of B. C. and a little south from Trail—on the opposite side—where there is station and, lip, with direct access, by the Great Northern to Rossland, Nelson, Kaslo, Sandon, Morrissey, Grand Forks, and other points in B. C. such as New Westminster, etc., not to mention those east and south. How many lumbering industries are there with big mills, large capacities, and all accessible from the river? One is surprised at the number of industries springing up and the number of men employed. The Miner is shown in its examination and short in the number of men employed. We should fancy the number 2000 will more correctly represent the number of men about to be employed on the lakes.

Then what have we got besides the lumber? Mines, ranches, etc., which have no outlet. Take the number of ranches that have been opened up within a few years, and again one is surprised and astonished at the quantities of small fruits and vegetables that are raised and for which there is practically no outlet, owing to inadequate means of transportation. The C. P. R., instead of helping out, has a policy of stifling opening industries by exorbitant rates, which are nearly prohibitive, with uncertain transportation. Lime kilns have been attempted to be opened up on the lake but operations had to be suspended owing to inadequate transportation.

One of the Rossland mining companies, the War Eagle, is building concentrating works at Trail, and is now figuring on putting on a steamer to take the concentrates from there to Northport.

Then rumor has it that one of the big lumber firms is meditating building a powerful boat to run lumber down to Waneta, B.C., on the G. N. R., and then have an independent outlet to the markets, and an independent route to get in supplies. If two tramp steamers were put on plying between Waneta and Comaplix by Arrowhead there would be ample freight to keep them employed and the country would be getting better every year which would increase traffic. The Great Northern was approached two years ago, but the company was not then in a position to entertain proposals. Possibly a company may be formed as suggested by the Miner to put on two small freight steamers. Figures have been gone into, information obtained as to navigation, and information procured from those who are familiar with the river and willing to undertake the navigation.

LUMBERING

Argument For a Duty.

T. F. Paterson, of Canadian Pacific Lumber Co. Port Moody, says information has been secured on good authority that 450 carloads of lumber from Washington State alone had been shipped to Manitoba and the Northwest during October. This amount was enough to demoralize the market, in view of the prices at which the Americans were dumping it on the Canadian market. In one case at least this lumber had been sold in Winnipeg at a price over and above freight rates, that would net the seller on the coast $6.32 per thousand.

"That price," said Mr. Paterson, "is less than they can buy the logs for in Puget Sound ports at the present time. The Americans are selling in Canada so that they may get rid of their overplus stock and at the same time not demoralise their own market. That price represents an absolute loss, and it is probable that all of the 450 cars which came into this country since the 1st of October have been sold at a loss. The reason is it pays often to sell at a loss in an outside market, without demoralizing their own market. For instance if we in British Columbia had no duty to contend with on shingles, we would often wish to unload large stocks into American markets at a profit, merely nominally 15 cents per thousand, at the same time keeping intact the market in Manitoba and Ontario. But when a market like that of Central and Eastern Canada once becomes demoralized, it is a very difficult matter to raise it or to do business there advantageously for a long time thereafter."—Province.

GREAT FIELD AVAILABLE

Where Great Northern Can Gain Much Traffic.—An Inexpensive Method of Reaching Great New Country.

Rossland Miner.

A few years ago the Columbia river between Trail and Northport was navigated continuously, in fact this was the only means of access to the heart of the district of which Trail was then the center. The practicability of the river is, therefore, demonstrated so far as its navigability is concerned. It may be news to most Rosslanders that within recent months a certain corporation went into the question afresh, acquired information as to the channel between Trail and Northport and took up the matter of placing a steamer on on the run. The idea was dropped because of the business exigencies arising thereafter, and the instance is only quoted to show that the problem is still to the fore and that many things might be more surprising than that steamers should again run regularly between Waneta and Trail and up the Columbia river as far as the Big Bend, which is north of Revelstoke.

It is a source of surprise to the few who have given the transportation question any thought that the Great Northern has not long since taken advantage of the open door to the heart of the great and rich country drained by the Columbia river, when a trifling outlay would accomplish the trick and place the big American road in a position to compete for business that is now enjoyed exclusively by the Canadian Pacific.

THE ARROW LAKE TRADE.

As a starter a small steamer plying between Waneta and Columbia river-Arrow lake points could not fail to be decidedly remunerative, besides affording a convenience to the people along the water front. After a test of this business the company would be almost certain to take the steps necessary to develop the trade tributary to its main line.

The first source of business to the Great Northern on Arrow lakes would be the lumber trade. Camps at Revelstoke, Arrowhead, Nakusp, Kingston creek, Big Bend, Caribou creek, Fish river, Comaplix, Thompson's Landing, and other points will in the course of the next twelve months be employing approximately 1,000 men. All these camps can be reached by a steamer plying to Northport, and it goes without saying that the business resulting therefrom would in itself be a substantial source of revenue. Unless the Great Northern goes in the Canadian Pacific will have an excellent opportunity to milk the cow. Then there is the matter of hauling the output of the lumber camps and mills from the producer on the Arrow lakes to the consumer in the Boundary, the Slocan and the Northwest Territories. The Great Northern could handle a considerable amount of the business the longer haul being offset by lighter grades that are to be encountered on the Canadian Pacific with the cheap water transportation for much of the added distance. The competition which the Great Northern would give the producers would stimulate the business internally, inasmuch as the lumber people make no bones about stating that exists tariffs on lumber for export from British Columbia or the Territories are so high as to account wholly for the present enhanced price of lumber east of the Rockies.

IMMENSE HORTICULTURAL POSSIBILITIES

Everyone familiar with the situation is aware that along the Columbia and its extensions are areas of bench lands aggregating thousands of acres. Where these have been cultivated they are shown to be admirably adapted to orchard and small fruit culture, the productiveness of the soil in this direction being practically equal to that of the soil of the famed Okanagan valley. So long as the Canadian Pacific has the monopoly of the business on the river just so long will these areas remain in their primeval condition, for the express charges are so exorbitant and the freight arrangements so far short of what is required to develop the country that ranchers come out of the shipping transaction with a skinny margin, while the transportation people carry off the profits. Here is a magnificent field for a competing line such as the Great Northern would be, and the ranchers would support any line that would afford relief from existing intolerable conditions and new land would be cultivated in hundreds of acres.

GENERAL ADVANTAGE.

Higher up the river is the Big Bend country, easily accessible by a line of river boats. The district is rich in minerals, and improvements in respect to transportation would have the effect of opening up the country with a bound.

The outlook for transportation business along the Columbia is so bright that the action of the Great Northern in permitting the Canadian Pacific to enjoy the territory exclusively for so long is almost unaccountable. The Miner's constituents have no special regard for the Great Northern as a corporation, but they do want the competition in transportation, and what is badly needed there is a feeling that the Great Northern can give this measure of competition and make a big thing out of themselves without the initial outlay for construction that ordinarily accompanies such enterprise. Further steps will probably be taken to bring about the desired results.

NEW PATENTS.

Rowland Brittain, Patent Attorney, Vancouver, reports J. B. Macdaughlin, of the land surveyor's department, Cranbrook, received this week a Canada Patent on an improved supplementary grain door for box cars. The object of this invention is to enable box cars to be used for grain carrying traffic, and it consists of a supplementary door of a height approximate to the load level of grain, and slidable across the door space within the car on a rail which can be telescopically shipped within the casing provided for the door when not in use. As the lateral pressure of the grain against such a door would form a serious hindrance to its movement in opening, a capable aperture is provided toward the middle lower edge through which the grain will flow out, and the pressure being relieved the supplementary door may readily be moved within its housing for the discharge of the grain.

WHY I AM A LIBERAL.

No. 14.

"One of the first acts of the Liberal Government in coming into power was to take steps to settle the Manitoba school question in an amicable and fair way without any resort to tyrannical measures proposed by the conservative party and which sounded the death-knell of that party. Members of the Manitoba cabinet went to Ottawa and met Laurier, when terms of settlement were drawn up which proved acceptable to all parties and made substantial provision for the rights of the minority. The settlement was, however, opposed by Archbishop Langevin and others of the ultramontane school the archbishop threatening with separation from the church all Catholics who endorsed it. L'Electeur, a French Liberal paper, was proscribed for endorsing the settlement and Catholics were forbidden to read, subscribe to, or advertise in that paper, which simply altered its name and has been more prosperous than ever under its new title of Le Soleil.

Catholics were likewise enjoined from reading any other paper supporting the settlement.

THE PLEDGE.

In the elections the ultramontanes even prepared a pledge which they submitted to candidates that they would oppose any settlement not satisfactory to the bishop, and to enjoin their supporters from saying one word in favor of the settlement. To their credit the Catholic Liberal candidates refused to sign any such pledge and Laurier, speaking at Montreal said:—'I have taken the work of confederation, where I found it when I entered political life, and determined to give to it my life, and nothing will deter me from continuing to the end in my task to preserve at all price our civil liberty. Nothing will prevent me from continuing my effort to preserve that state of society secured by our fathers at the price of so many years and so much blood.'—Truly may Willison remark:—'If we remember the rigid and absolute character of Catholic teaching, if we consider how the ancient church is rooted in the reverence and affection of her children, if we reflect that many of the communities of Quebec are wholly French and Catholic, and recognise the almost divine diligence of the spiritual teachers in the ministrations of comfort and mercy, we can perhaps barely understand how sorely and sadly many Catholic Liberals faced the hard battle for the principles of free government, and what splendid courage was needed to maintain the unwelcome conflict."

A TRAITOR TO LIBERTY.

The one man in parliament who condemned the settlement was Sir Charles Tupper and how he gloried in his attempted tyranny in attempting to pass the remedial bill, as expressed in his own words, in which he said: 'There was no effort that I could make that was not made, that I put forth the most strenuous efforts possible not only on the floor of this house but with members of the party, individually as well as collectively, for the purpose of carrying that measure to a successful conclusion."

APPEAL TO ROME.

As in the eighties, when the hierarchy launched the full power of the church against the liberal party Laurier again appealed to Rome against their conduct in the settlement of the Manitoba school question, and Mgr. Merry Del Val was sent to inquire into the matter. While no public statement has ever been given out, we know the voice of the hierarchy thereafter ceased in party affairs, and Canada owes to Laurier not only the work of a patriotic, progressive, and clean administration, but the suppression, let us hope for ever, of the mischief and sectarian strife which the ultramontanes sought to introduce into and maintain in our public affairs.

At the last elections, for the first time in Canada, the people witnessed a complete cessation of all attempts to unduly influence the votes of the people by spiritual threats, and the inauguration of the recognition of the conscience of people, of whatsoever religious sect, in civil affairs. This is as it should be. Let our hearts utter praise to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has brought about this grand achievement of liberty in Canada.

NEW BUILDINGS.

The brick work of the new Imperial Bank building is almost completed, and reflects the highest credit on the subcontractors, Messrs. Fromey and Wilson, who did their work under great difficulties owing to the bad weather experienced right along. J. A. Karnahan, the contractor, will now rush the work of roofing and the interior carpenter work. The building is a credit to the bank and to the city.

A brick store is projected on McKenzie avenue.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC!

Views of Frank Oliver, M. P.

Referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific charter granted last session F. Oliver, M. P. for Alberta, says:

"This is the first attempt that has been made in the history of Canada to deal with the transportation question as a transportation question. Some people make comparison with the C. P. R., but the latter was built, rather with a view to its political uses than its strictly commercial or transportation side; and transportation was secondary. The government has this session taken up the transportation side, which of course involves the political side, with a view to meeting the conditions that have arisen not only through the growth of the country but also to get over the faults and failings which were the outgrowth of previous and less satisfactory arrangements.

"In the first place, with the railway commission bill they took hold of the railway question as it affected existing railways throughout the Dominion, and reversed the position as between the people and the railways. Up to this time the only railway question was between the railway companies, and the people were on one side. By the railway commission bill, the rights of the people have been taken up, and they have been placed on one side, and the railway rights on the other. This is the first definite recognition that it is the people who build the railways, that it is the people who pay for them; therefore the people should have the right to control the railways. That is the work of the railway commission bill.

"The leading feature of the transcontinental railway provisions, besides the building of the railway and development of country, and the creation of trade, that is from end to end is: While it is provided that the traffic shall pay the interest on the cost, it is also provided that the traffic shall not be called upon to pay more than the minimum rate of interest on the actual cost. Under these circumstances the railway is enabled to transport freight at a lower rate than one which has to pay interest on overcapitalization, and the control of rates which rests in the hands of the government provides the means whereby the people will not be called upon to pay more than interest on cost in their rates. The eastern section of the line will break the winter blockade on grain and other trade in the already producing portion of Manitoba and the west, and the western portion will develop a greater area of producing country than that already provided with railway communication."

LUMBERING.

The Big Bend Lumber Co. have sixty men now employed at the logging camp on the Camborne-Beaton road.

The Revelstoke Lumber Company propose to go in for big improvements at the Eddy boom, with a view to providing against possible loss of logs in future.

It is estimated if the present demand continues, there will be 700 million feet of lumber sent from British Columbia mills to Manitoba and the North West next year.

James Leamy, dominion timber agent, has been looking up specimens of timber to send to St. Louis exhibition. Mr. Leamy secured at Sumas a section of hollow cedar, seven feet long and twenty-seven feet across the stump.

At the B. C. Shingle and Lumber Association Thursday the resolution adopted at Nelson urging the dominion government to place an import duty on lumber, was concurred. It was pointed out unless an import duty was imposed at an early date the output of the British Columbia mills would have to be considerably curtailed, which would result in throwing a large number of men out of work.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you get the best. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.

The business man who keeps out of advertising or stops it because it is an expense will eventually find it rather expensive to be in business at all. The best medium with which to place your advertising is the KOOTENAY MAIL.

Mrs. Spurling is offering her house on Third street for sale as she intends very shortly leaving for England. Anyone wishing to obtain a very desirable residence should take advantage of this opportunity.

Says the Rossland Miner: "One of the first principles of loyalty to the town in which you live is to patronize home industries as much as possible. The individual who sends money away for supplies that are procurable at home is an enemy to the prosperity of the community in which he lives. It is the falsest kind of economy to deal with eastern department stores."

Do you want the news of the approaching session FREE? Subscribe for the Victoria Daily Times for 1904 and receive the paper free until the end of this year. This offer is for cash-in-advance subscribers to the Daily ($5.00) or the Twice-a-week ($1.00). Full and impartial reports, half-tone cuts of members, cartoons and corridor gossip. Four page colored comic supplement every Saturday. Remit to the "Times," Victoria.

Kurtz & Co., the pioneer cigar manufacturing firm of British Columbia, draw attention through our advertising columns to their brands of cigars, Kurtz's Own, Kurtz's Pioneer and Kurtz's Spanish Blossom. W. McGirr, who represents the firm, was in the city this week and is making regular trips through Kootenay. He reports an increasing demand for the firm's products which he finds favorite brands with those who have once tried them. They carry the union label.

An incorrect map or a map not up-to-date is little better than no map at all. The new map of the Dominion of Canada being sent as a premium to subscribers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal this season is not only correct, but is so up-to-date as to show the new Alaskan boundary lines as awarded October 20th. It is the only map to-day to show that information. The publishers send a copy Free along with two beautiful pictures to all subscribers of that great family paper. The price of the paper is one dollar per year, including all three premiums.

Social and Personal

Miss Tomlie left Tuesday on a visit to Mrs. W. H. Elson of Kamloops.

Mrs. D. McLean was called to the coast owing to the death of her sister.

J. Purvis and his bride have returned from their honeymoon trip to Portland and are spending a few days in Vancouver before leaving for Field, where they will reside.

Last night Mrs. H. A. Brown entertained in a most enjoyable manner the members of the Shakesperian Society. The main feature of the evening was the guessing of quotations from standard authors—Burns, Pope, Shakespeare, Milton, Tennyson, Moore, Byron, Scott, Coleridge, and Canadian Poems and Lays. The first prize went to Rev. C. A. Procunier and the second to Mrs. Wilks. The prizes were handsomely bound morocco editions of Coleridge and Canadian Poems and Lays. During the evening songs were contributed by Mesdames Wilks, Bews and Brown; Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Grant played selections. On entering the hall the guests were greeted with the appropriate quotation from Burns: "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us, To see ourselves as others see us."

Wakeful Children.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 57 N. Tenth St., Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two doses of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by all druggists.
