MINING RECORDER

W. E. McLaughlin Appointed.

W. E. McLaughlin, president of the Conservative Association, and recently checker at the C. P. R. freight sheds, has been appointed mining recorder at Revelstoke over W. D. Armstrong, who has held the position for some time, and was entitled to it by reason of his having been some years in the service and in the course of which he fulfilled his duties with the utmost satisfaction to the public and the government.

Mr. McLaughlin had many friends who wished to see him get the position, but we don't consider these appointments should go to outsiders so long as there are men in the service capable of filling them, as such a policy is likely to lead to the disorganisation of the civil service and the lowering of the standard. There is a strong feeling in the city that Mr. Armstrong has been most unfairly treated in this matter by the Minister of Mines, Hon. Col. Prior, by whom the new appointment has been made.

N. W. DEVELOPMENT CO.

Sawmill Ready for Work--Stamp Mill Arrives.

H. Z. Breck, manager for the Northwest Development Company, is pushing ahead the enterprises of his company. The sawmill plant is all in position and ready to start work as soon as the electric motor to drive the machinery turns up.

The machinery for the 10-stamp mill has arrived at Revelstoke and M. Winslow was here yesterday to get a special wagon to handle it from Comaplix to the mine, one piece weighing seven tons. By next month these stamps should be pounding out gold.

GOLDEN.

News of Progress.

F. C. Lang, mining recorder of Golden, was in the city yesterday. He reports good progress in that section. Twelve carloads of mining machinery and supplies are at Golden station waiting to go up the Columbia river by steamer to Wilmer. The mining machinery consists of a compressor plant for the Red Line.

R. R. Bruce, manager of the Paradise, having received intimation from Hon. W. C. Wells that the government will aid the construction of a road up Spring Creek, is having the road laid off and will start construction as soon as possible. The road will enable ore to be shipped from the Paradise mine at a profit.

The Laborers Cooperative Association, who are operating at Sicamous, Canyon Creek, and Ice River, are putting in a smelter at Golden and expect to have it running by Christmas. They will also start a daily newspaper at Golden.

GOLDFIELDS.

J. Howson and H. Keefer will build a three-story hotel here.

The Kootenay Lumber Co. will open a branch store.

J. A. Magee has arranged to erect a barn and stable.

THE MINES.

The cost of smelting at Northport is $3.90 a ton.

The Le Roi made profits of $207,000 for June and July.

Mining stocks show a revival. War Eagle has risen to 18.

Copper has reached the lowest stage yet recorded in the present drop in price.

Le Roi ore carries half an ounce gold, 1.3 per cent copper and an ounce of silver per ton.

We are informed that W. B. Pool has made a strike of six feet of ore on the Imperial group on Fish Creek.

The 12000 ft. tunnel on the Bunker Hill and Sullivan, started five years ago, will be completed next month.

The ore shipped from the Le Roi for the past two months shows an average value of $17.67 to $17.70 a ton.

The slag losses at Northport are only a third of one per cent; yet the smelter deducts 1. 3 for loss from custom ore.

F. B. Wells has gone to Smith Creek to see the progress of work on the placer ground in which he is interested.

The Northwest Development Company are crown granting the Goldfinch claim which they recently purchased.

J. I. Woodrow intends visiting the placer ground in which he is interested in the Big Bend in the course of a week or so.

Reports are in circulation about a $90,000 deal at Camborne with a payment of $40,000 cash. These reports are absolutely untrue.

A rich find of copper is reported on Fry Creek, Kootenay Lake. The ore body is 80 feet wide, can be traced for 6000 feet, and assays 75 per cent copper.

G. M. Clark returned on Saturday from doing assessment work on his claim, the Mascot, in Standard Basin. He struck some fine ore on the property.

W. A. Bauer, P. L. S. who has spent a good deal of time surveying claims in Fish Creek, expresses a high opinion of the future of the gold prospects there.

T. Bain will return next week from the mica properties at Big Bend, on which he has been conducting assessment work for the owners. He had a very hard trip to the property.

G. P. Reumens, superintendant of the Standard, was in the city this week and reports work started and being pushed ahead in No. 4 tunnel to get below the ore chute outcropping on the Commander.

The Camborne Miner says H. Bodine, F. Twiefer and C. McDowell have returned from a prospecting trip across country between the Columbia River and Enderby. They saw no indications of mineral.

The War Eagle and Centre Star will ship 12,000 tons a month and with reductions in transportation and smelting $5 ore can be mined at a profit. The Silica mill at Sheep creek has been remodelled to handle 100 tons a day.

The Sunshine Limited, the former owners of the Silver Cup mine, is in liquidation and creditors are requested to send in particulars of their debts or claims by Oct. 20th to the liquidator, Charles Hill, College Hill, London England, or to his agent J. V. Armstrong, Revelstoke.

From all points come cheering reports of the improved outlook of the mining industry. Mr. Ferrier, manager for the Gooderham-Blackstock Syndicate at Rossland says there is a very noticeable improvement in the mining industry, and in general business in the Kootenays.

D. McCallum, who came in Saturday from Laforme Creek, reports having made several open cuts and stripping on his claims, also 25 feet of tunnel. The latter showed up a fine body of galena. The property is only eight miles from Albert Canyon and would thus be convenient for shipping ore.

J. V. Armstrong, manager for the Sunshine Limited, has now received the assay certificates of the 700 tons of ore taken out of the Silver Cup mine last winter and shipped since the opening of the Lardeau railway to the Trail smelter. Mr. Armstrong is well pleased with the results of the big shipment.

Capt. Hughes, of the Duquesne Mining Company, who went to visit the Company's property on Smith Creek, is much pleased with the appearance of the property, which is reported to be looking better than ever. Mr. Bradley is expected in today from Smith creek and Capt. Hughes will return with him to the Blue Jay next week. The Captain says the Duquense Company will go on till they prove whether the old channels of Smith Creek carry payable gold or not.

RAIL AND STEAMER

The annual meeting of the C. P. R. will be held October 1st.

Canadian Pacific stock is strong in Montreal at high water mark of 140.

An excursion train was wrecked at Birmingham, Ala, killing 25 and injuring 50.

Owing to the fall in the river s. s. Revelstoke came through the Canyon to the city Saturday and is now sailing to and from the old wharf.

Engineer Caldwell and Fireman Gould, who were in the wreck at Albert Canyon leave the company's service as the result of the enquiry.

Railway companies have to face a new liability. Damages have been given in two cases against the Northern Pacific for not running trains on time.

The Steamer Revelstoke is now crowded with freight for the upper river owing to the logging camps, Blue Jay and Standard mines getting in winter supplies.

President Wilson, of the B. R. T. of A., has issued a circular dealing specially with the case of the bridgemen. This is the result of complaints made by D. L. Swanney, the representative of the bridgemen at the settlement at Montreal, that the bridgemen are dissatisfied with the settlement. President Wilson points out the reason no increase was given bridge foremen, who are drawing $3 a day, is that the company contend they make another $2 to $3 a day out of the boarding cars. Carpenters were raised 15 cents and bridgemen 25 cents, involving the company in an increase to the bridgemen of the Pacific division of $10,579.40 a year.

CITY COUNCIL.

Regular meeting held Friday. Present: Ald. Taylor, McLeod, McMahon, Law, Hume, and Manning. In the absence of the Mayor, Ald. Taylor presided.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Statement of expenses for scarlet fever quarantine. Resolved $13.50 expenses be charged Messrs. McLean and Bongard.

Water, Light and Power Company, enclosing resolution accepting offer of city of $62,500 for Company's property, such resolution being endorsed by two-thirds shareholders.

Ald. Taylor retired from the chair during consideration of this question, and Ald. Hume acted as chairman. The matter of improving the water supply was discussed, aldermen considering the extension could not be made this fall. Resolved that a bylaw be submitted to authorise the completion of the purchase, the interest and sinking fund to be a first charge on the earnings.

C. E. Shaw resigning position as city clerk from Sept. 25th, and thanking mayor and aldermen for courtesy to him. Accepted. Ald. McLeod and Taylor spoke in high terms of the valuable and efficient services rendered the city by Mr. Shaw.

Statement of cost of fixing J. Lawson's corner. Mr. Lawson to be asked to pay $65.

Hospital trustees, asking sidewalk. Works committee to carry out matter and put in extra light at hospital.

R. Rogers applying for position of city clerk. Held over.

REPORTS.

The finance committee reported of the loan of $7000 for sidewalks and street improvements, $5,088.20 had been expended, leaving approximately $2000 for further street improvements and city scales.

Ald. McMahon insisted the road by Hugh Smythe's should be done.

CITY CLERKSHIP.

It was resolved to call applications for position of city clerk and treasurer, bonds for $3000 to be furnished, salary to be $1000 a year.

GENERAL.

Ald. Manning asked for a light at Lougheed's corner, and Ald. McLeod supported the request. Agreed to.

Ald. McMahon complained the sidewalk on Front St. had not been put in, though it was included in the schedule of improvements; and should be done.

The chairman said the mayor had seen the people there and they had agreed to have the money spent instead on the fire hall.

Ald. Law supported Ald. McMahon's suggestion. It was decided to leave the matter over till the mayor could explain.

Ald. McLeod complained of the piece of sidewalk between the city hall and Queen's Hotel, which he considered disgraceful, and also of the sidewalk at Douglas Street, which he characterised as dangerous.

Ald. McLeod said as the council could not get a poundkeeper the only course was for people whose gardens were injured to put the stock in the pound themselves and get the fees.

The council adjourned till Tuesday.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

The adjourned meeting to arrange for submission of the water and light bylaw was held Tuesday. Present: The Mayor, Ald. Law, McMahon, Manning, McLeod.

The necessary petition having been submitted, it was resolved to submit bylaw to borrow $62,500 for the purchase of the Water, Light and Power Company's property, the poll to be taken on 17th.

The city clerk was instructed to mail a copy of the reports of H. B. Smith C. E., to each householder.

T. Downie, chief despatcher, leaves on Sunday on a well-earned holiday.

Enough freight cars are being sent west to overcome the shortage on the Pacific Division.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed among C. P. R. employes at the company's proposal to deduct 10 per cent from the medical contribution to cover cost of collection.

The C. P. R. have given notice to redeem the balance of $1,314,500 of their original land grant bonds at a premium of 10 per cent, thus wiping out the original loan of $25,000,000. A separate issue of $15,000,000 is still outstanding.

On Wednesday the tender and several cars of a freight train went off the track at Horseshoe pit west of Revelstoke. A rail broke while shunting on two cars of sand. The Limited was delayed four hours and No. 2 about two hours.

The Kootenay Mail

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1902.

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the sidewalk on Front street from F. B. Wells's store to the Duquesne company's office. This piece of work should certainly be carried out as it was part and parcel of the loan schedule and to omit it now would be a breach of faith with the citizens interested.

A matter that must shortly attract the attention of the legislature is the accumulation of large estates and the squeezing out of the small settler. This mischevious practice is now extensively carried on in the Okanagan valley and is proving a great drawback to the district. The progressive land tax will solve the difficulty and is the best and most effective remedy in sight.

We ask the citizens to roll up and vote for the bylaw for the purchase of the water and light franchises and property. By doing so they will pay a well deserved tribute to the mayor and aldermen who have brought about the deal. The ownership of the water and light franchises by the city is a great step in advance, and will bring in an assured and increasing revenue to the city treasury.

Revelstoke is the last part of the province to have any kick against the Dunsmuir government, at whose hands the public requirements of this section have had good attention In addition to official salaries, maintenance of buildings, administration of justice and education the government spent $18,433 on roads and trails in this riding in 1900, and $36,299 in 1891. The revenue of the riding for 1900 was $25,718, and for 1901, $30,097.

A feature of taxation that deserves greater attention in the raising of provincial revenue is the income tax. With a properly adjusted tax of this character its effects would be so thorough and far-reaching that no special mineral tax would be necessary. It is safe to say that the government is beaten wholesale out of the income tax as it is now levied. A man or company with a good income can afford to pay taxation and ought to do so, whereas it is well known the government does not get a tithe of the revenue that ought to be realised from this source.

The minority shareholders of the the Revelstoke Water, Light and Power company who were opposed to the city's offer of $62,500 being accepted are, it is reported, working up all the opposition they can against the bylaw with a view to defeating it, and so defeating in that way the majority shareholders. It therefore behoves every believer in civic ownership of public franchises to roll up on polling day and support the mayor and aldermen in carrying the bylaw.

CONCILIATION AND ARBITRATION.

It comes as a matter of surprise that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers should condemn Sir William Mulock's arbitration bill to be introduced at next session of the Dominion parliament. Trades unions have so far consistently fought for the principle of arbitration and conciliation. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose by the adoption of the principle. President Wilson of the B. of R. T. of A. puts the case well when he says the man who does not want to arbitrate has got something he is not entitled to. New Zealand and Australia are pointed to as lands without strikes. Why so? Because on their statute books the principles of conciliation and arbitration are duly recognized.

THE MINERAL TAX.

We are glad to see the mine owners of South Kootenay taking a reasonable stand regarding the mineral tax, and proposing its reform rather than its abolition. Mines must bear their share of taxation, but that taxation should be equitably adjusted, and probably the fairest way of levying the tax would be to place it on the balance left after paying freight, treatment and mining charges. In that case the ratio of taxation would have to be raised from 2½ to 3 per cent, but on such a basis as that suggested only those mines which were making a clear profit would have to pay the tax. The objectionable feature of the mineral tax as it stands is that it is essentially a tax on the employment of labor, and a tax levied in that way is injurious to industry of all kinds.

ASIATIC IMMIGRATION.

Sir Edmund Barton, premier of Australia, in an interview at New York, put very clearly the case for restriction of Asiatic immigration, and in doing so confirmed the stand which Joseph Martin urges should be taken in this province. Sir Edmund said:

"Mr. Chamberlain naturally made, as I expected, strenuous objections to some provisions of the bill, particularly as regards the difficulty that will arise in preventing subjects of the Empire from dwelling where they will in it, and irritation is certain to be caused in Japan, especially in view of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

"Nevertheless, Mr. Chamberlain had to waive his objections. The strength of sentiment in Australia behind the bill is practically unanimous, so that to antagonize the unanimity of the demand would be impossible."

The case of Joseph Genelle is a scandal on the administration of Canadian justice. He has been twice arrested and brought before the courts on a baseless charge, dragged from his business to the Yukon and mulcted in much loss of time and law costs. The officers who are responsible for this outrage should be dismissed as unfit to be trusted with such authority, and Mr. Genelle ought to receive some compensation for the cruel wrong done him.

The Fort Steele Prospector gets pretty near the truth when it remarks: "Why should the petty spleen of a lot of disgruntled politicians be gratified by an appeal to the country? They express no principle and their voices speak for none in the country but their own disappointed ambition."

The Camborne Miner says of the visit of the minister of mines: "Col. Prior created a most excellent impression on all whom he met in this division and the consensus of opinion is that the important position of minister of mines for this province is most ably filled by the present incumbent."

The Cranbrook, B. C., Herald declares that within the next five years southeast Kootenay will have a population of 100,000.

With $36,000,000 on deposit in the banks and a 60,000,000 bushel wheat crop in sight, Canada has no kick coming.

EVANGELISTS.

Visit of Messrs. Kerby and Turk.

The Evangelists Rev's. Turk and Kerby, will open evangelistic services in this town on Sunday next. A Bracebridge paper says of the services held by these gentlemen in that town:

"The coming to town of Messrs. Kerby and Turk, the pastor evangelists, has created great interest among the citizens and this feeling is still increasing. The two brethren have already won the confidence and hearts of the people. These men are not after the ordinary and common revivalist. They are pastors, and have served some of the leading churches in the Dominion are in close and sympathetic touch with pastors and christian life and work. They are wise builders, making sure of foundation principles and not trusting to the fever of feeling. They speak as men who know and testify as men who have seen. They are not narrow denominationalists but have the note of universality which marks sure truth, their motto being "all things to all men, if by any means we can save some."

This campaign has not followed in the wake of former revivals, inasmuch as their labors are not confined to the churches, but like the early disciples they have gone everywhere in the interest of men. Through the courtesy of the managers of the two tanneries services have been held for the men during noon hour. This is a new thing in Bracebridge—a religious service in the tannery. How the men listened as the evangelists addressed them and rendered some of their sweet songs. These sons of toil we are sure greatly appreciated this privilege. The J. D. Shier Co. with equal heartiness permitted a service among their numerous employees and these men were favored with a heart to heart talk and duets for which the evangelists have become deservedly popular.

On Friday afternoon, through the kindness of the esteemed principal of the Public School, a meeting of the High School and Entrance pupils was held, and all who listened to the stirring address of Rev. Mr. Kerby on "Power our Aim," will long remember the occasion.

Sunday afternoon the mass meeting for men in the Town Hall broke all records of christian work in Bracebridge. Never before had so many men crowded the building. The address of Mr. Kerby on the "Artifical Man" was one of the most eloquent and helpful that the men of Bracebridge have ever been privileged to hear. Never did men listen to anything with more eagerness and interest than did this audience to that magnificent address. The speaker on rising immediately captured the attention and held it closely unto the end. His manly appeals for manly men cannot fail to produce in the lives of those who listened, a higher type of manhood. "The Holy City" arranged by the evangelists themselves, was rendered in duet form, and never since that song was written has it been given with better effect than on this occasion. How eagerly the audience listened as the voices of the singers, like the brush of some master artist painted the "City" on the canvas of the mind."

It is to be hoped large audiences will gather to hear these distinguished gentlemen.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Thousands of children die during the hot weather months, because summer complaints and stomach troubles come suddenly, and mothers do not have the means at hand to promptly check and cure them. In homes where Baby's Own Tablets are used these precious little lives can be saved, and no home where there are infants and young children should be without them.

Baby's Own Tablets will promptly cure all stomach and bowel troubles, and are a great relief to teething children. The Tablets are sold under a positive gaurantee that they contain neither opiate nor harmful drug. Crushed to a powder they can be given with absolute safety to a new born babe. Mrs. R. Ferguson, 105 Mansfield street, Montreal, says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them the best medicine I have ever given my children. My baby has always been small and delicate and suffered so much last summer with his teeth that I did not think he would live. Then he was attacked with dysentery, a feverish skin and cough. As the doctor's medicine did not help him I sent for Baby's Own Tablets and they did him a great amount of good, and he is now getting on splendidly. I gladly give my experience for the benefit of other mothers." If your druggist does not keep these Tablets they will be sent by mail post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

CORPORAL McFADDEN'S LEG

By John Winthrop Green.

Copyright, 1901, by John Winthrop Green.

WHEN the Sixteenth New York marched with Grant into the Wilderness, Corporal McFadden of Company B put $300 in the bank. The bank was his shoe—the one on his left foot. In due time the Confederates were found in line of battle across the line of march, and the Sixteenth was deployed, with a hundred other regiments, to face them. Skirmishing had only begun when Corporal McFadden had his leg shattered by a bullet. Of course it was the left leg. He was carried to the field hospital in the rear, and, after a brief examination, the surgeon said:

"Sorry for you, corporal, but we must amputate the leg to save your life."

It was a case in which the victim had nothing to say. When he returned to consciousness his left leg had been amputated at the knee, and he was lying among a hundred other wounded men. The loss of his money occurred to him at once, and he made the fact known to a comrade who had been shot in the shoulder.

"Go out and find my left leg and that $300, and I'll give you half the money," said the corporal, and the man agreed.

It was easy enough to find the "scrap heap" of legs and arms, but not so easy to identify a left leg. There were

"But there's something inside the sock," said Smith.

rights and lefts to the number of a hundred, with the heap growing all the time. The messenger made a selection and removed the shoe, but there was no money. He tried again and again, but did not hit it. Then he gave up and searched no further. Soon after he let go, a soldier who had been slightly wounded in the head came along and looked the "scrap heap" over and said to himself:

"There are some good shoes here, and it would be a pity to bury them with legs and feet. I'll change mine for a better pair."

In myriad pulling the relics he came upon Corporal McFadden's left leg. He removed the shoe and found it a fit. Then he found a right one and was provided for. Grant moved by the flank that night, and the Confederates did the same. The field was left in possession of the Union forces. Next morning the work of burial began. While a big hole was being dug for the amputated arms and legs Corporal McFadden sent word to the sergeant in charge of that detail about his $300.

"He's crazy," replied the sergeant. "Here's a whole wagon load of left legs, all looking alike, and how are we to pick out his?"

No effort was made to do so. After an hour or so the last limb was tossed into the pit, and the men began shoveling in the dirt. As they worked away the sergeant suddenly said:

"There, now, but you've overlooked that leg in the bushes. You, Smith, haul it out and dump it in."

"But there's something inside the sock," said Smith. "Hold easy now, till I see what it is."

With his knife the soldier ripped up the sock, and there was the corporal's greenbacks. Only three of the party saw the money. They winked at each other and pocketed the find and later on made a divide. That closed the incident for several weeks. Corporal McFadden was sent to a hospital in Washington and soon rallied. The soldiers who had rifled his money went to the front, and one day before Petersburg Smith was mortally wounded. To ease his conscience he told about the "divide," and a chaplain wrote down his confession. When the other two men were called up, they denied the story. A surgeon and a staff officer became interested with the chaplain on one side, and the captain of Company B, the colonel of the Sixteenth and others took up the other side. Curiously enough, the soldier who stole McFadden's shoe came forward and acknowledged it, but it was a long time before the money could be traced. By this time colonels, brigadiers and major generals had become interested, and Corporal McFadden's name was a household word in the Army of the Potomac. At length the guilty private broke down and confessed. He got off with three months in a military prison, while the sergeant was drummed out of the army. Between them they had to make good the $300, and the boys of the Sixteenth chipped in as much more and so the soldier who lost his leg and his shoe and his bank deposit didn't come out so badly after all. On the day Lee surrendered, and while we were having a lively skirmish, a staff officer rode up and ordered us to fall back and announced that negotiations were in progress. There were cheers all along the line, but later on we began to doubt the good news.

"Boys," shouted an Irishman in Company B, "don't ye be afeared of the news. Sure, an army that can find McFadden's money can smash the Confederate states, and we'll all be going home by this time tomorrow!"

Strange Caves Formed by Animals.

That there are some animals which cannot thrive without salt is well known, but no very clear demonstration of this was forthcoming until M. Desuzinges, a French traveler, noticed some remarkable caves in the Oristadt district of the Transvaal and discovered, to his surprise, that they had been gradually formed by animals licking the salt of which their walls were largely formed.

"Each of these grottoes, or caves," he says, "is as large as an ordinary drawing room, and the natives assured me that they had been entirely hollowed out by the antelopes, which are known in this country as 'dwicks.' Wishing to learn why the animals busied themselves in making such excavations, I examined the caves and found that their walls were impregnated with salt, its presence being clearly revealed by very characteristic crystallizations. A day or two later, as I was hunting, I noticed 14 antelopes rush out of one of these caves as soon as they heard me approaching."

M. Desuzinges also says that the elks in the Transvaal have a similar habit and may often be seen searching for salt near quarries or deposits of marl.

Intellects.

There are one story intellects, two story intellects and three story intellects, with skylights. All fact collectors who have no aim beyond these facts are one story men. Two story men compare, reason, generalize, using the labor of the fact collectors as well as their own. Three story men idealize, imagine, predict; their best illumination comes from above through the skylight. There are minds with large ground floors that can store an infinite amount of knowledge. Some librarians, for instance, who know enough of books to help other people without being able to make much other use of their knowledge, have intellects of this class.

Your great working lawyer has two spacious stories. His mind is clear because his mental floors are large, and he has room to arrange his thoughts so that he can get at them—facts below, principles above and all in ordered series. Poets are often narrow below, incapable of clear statement and with small power of consecutive reasoning, but full of light, if sometimes rather bare of furniture in the attics.—Holmes.

Dentistry In Japan.

You must know that a Japanese dentist never uses anything but his fingers when extracting a tooth. They have no surgical instruments. This is how they are able to work: A number of holes are bored in a plank of wood and pegs inserted in them. The plank is laid on the floor, and the novice pulls them out with the finger and thumb of his right hand. By this practice strength and dexterity are acquired. Then an oak log with oak pegs is tried, and the young man is kept on this for a year.

The third year is put in by operating on a slab of marble, which contains numberless pegs of the hardest wood. After this he is qualified to go into business. A thorough workman will grab a patient with his left hand and yank out five or six teeth with the right hand without even stopping to rest. It seems impossible, but practice and long training will enable any one to accomplish it.

The Interested Englishman.

A story is told of an aristocratic English immigrant who happened to be on board of a train that was held up by robbers near Grand Junction, Colo. The desperadoes put the conductor and fireman out on a pile of rocks alongside the tracks and kept them covered with pistols.

Being content with pillaging the express and mail cars, they did not interfere with any of the passengers, but the Englishman was so delighted at the notion of encountering an adventure that he insisted upon leaving his car. When the porter tried to restrain him, he replied, "But I want to observe how they rob a train in this blooming country, don't you know." He did actually get as far as the platform, when a bullet through his hat persuaded him to retreat.—Saturday Evening Post.

COMMERCIAL

BANKING.

It is not often that the United States banking system finds defenders when compared with the Canadian, but Hon. Charles G. Dawes, ex-Comptroller of the Currency, says:—"I get out of patience when I hear the criticisms made against the banking systems of the United States. Why, the banking power of the United States, which, as we know, is formed by the surplus deposits currency issues of the banks together, which in 1890 was only a little more than the United Kingdom, and was a little less than that of continental Europe, has within these ten years grown until it is within 12 1-2 per cent of the entire combined banking power of Great Britain and continental Europe both put together, within ten years! And this is the system which we are asked to alter and change and to model upon those centralized banking systems."

In 1896, there were 38 chartered banks in Canada; at present there are 35. With regard to the per centage of the cash reserve to liabilities, out of 35 institutions 8 hold a cash reserve of 9 per cent, 14 a reserve of from 5 to 9 per cent, and the balance less than 5 per cent.

LABORS CALL.

Sir Edmund Barton, premier of Australia, gave a New York interviewer the following pointer on compulsory arbitration: "We in Australia are much in advance of your country in the matter of dealing with industrial conditions. By the terms of our arbitration law; great strikes are made practically impossible. Arbitration is compulsory, and when disputes arise between employers and employed, both parties are required to submit the issue to a board of arbitration, which is under government control."

The trades union congress, sitting in London, England, is attended by 500 delegates, representing a million and a quarter workers. The principal resolution demands legislation creating a supreme court of arbitration, with compulsory power to settle disputes.

The trouble with the Yukon telegraphers has been settled, the Dominion government having conceded their demands.

A test case is on at Toronto as to the right of trades unions to fight employers by means of the boycott.

A PLAGUE OF DEAFNESS.

The statistics of Aural Specialists and of Special Clinics devoted to the treatment of ear diseases show that there is an alarming increase in the number of people who are afflicted by deafness. The cause of this increasing prevalence of defective hearing is attributed by the medical profession to a greater tendency of late years to catarrhal ailments. At the Drouet Institute careful observations of the history of the cases under treatment verifies this opinion, as more than half of the patients attribute the cause of their deafness to taking cold, or to catarrh of the nose and throat extending to the ears.

An instance of an obstinate form of defective hearing, attributed to such a cause, is contained in the following extract from the records of the Institute: Mr. P. Eade, who suffered from Deafness for 12 years, states that the ear trouble originated in a violent cold which settled in the head and ears. This patient also had noises in the head, discharges from the ears, and a catarrh of the nose and throat. In fact, complications of the most severe character were present in this case, and yet the cure effected by the Drouet method was complete.

Clacton-road, St. Oysth, Nr. Colchester, England.
March 14th, 1902.

Dear Sir,—I am glad to say that my hearing is quite good now. I don't want to hear any better. I can hear as well now as I could 13 years ago, therefore I don't think I shall need any further treatment or advice. Everything is quite clear now; my throat and the nostrils are quite cured. Thanking you for your kindness and what I call a complete and radical cure.—Yours respectfully,

PRESTON EADE.

Those who are interested in Deafness, or diseases of the ear, nose, or throat, can obtain a free copy of the "Journal for the Deaf," with a "Supplement" containing detailed accounts of upwards of 40 cases cured during the past month, by addressing the Secretary, Drouet Institute, 72 Regent's Park-road, N. W., London, England. Each journal is accompanied by a Patients Report Form, which enables applicants to receive full particulars for applying this treatment at home.
