IMPROVEMENTS ARE CONSTANT

Solutions of telephone problems are nearly always made in advance of necessity. Improvements are experimented with constantly so that the standard of service may be at all times the very best. It is not that a standard may be maintained, but that the standard may continue to be as close to perfection as it is humanly possible to have it. Problems of speed, accuracy and transmission are always before telephone engineers, and the great and precise mechanisms through which the volume and complexity of telephone traffic is handled are mechanically perfect in the light of present invention.

City Council

The Council had a lively meeting on Feb. 27th. Present Mayor Gulley, Alds. Mowat, Taylor, Docksteader, Kerr and King.

Ald. Kerr presented a very able and detailed report of his negotiations and interviews with the Bank of Montreal representative regarding settlements of rents due the city. After considerable discussion the first part of Ald. Kerr's report received unanimous confirmation. The second part recommending that the matter of the two months rent in dispute be left in abeyance for the time being was not adopted, the majority of the Council favoring the settlement put forward by the Trustee and the Canadian Mortgage Co's lawyers that each party take one month's rent. The Councillors were in complete accord on the opinion that the City was entitled to the whole amount but decided that the amount sacrificed did not warrant a court action.

The two miles of street from the north to south boundary of the city has been classified by the provincial engineers as a primary highway and costs of work done on that section will be settled by the City and Province on a 25-75 per cent basis.

Estimates By-Law No. 1 received a first, second and third reading.

The Water committee and City Clerk reported continued trouble by frozen mains and explained the difficulties to be contended with owing to the prolonged severe weather is adding to the difficulties by reducing the flow in the reservoirs.

The auditors report for 1921 was examined and adopted unanimously, the Council expressing their gratification at the manner in which the various changes occasioned by the Private Bill had been dealt with.

Next meeting of the Council will be held on Monday, March 13th.

Boy Scouts

In place of the usual weekly meeting last week a social evening was given to both Scouts and Cubs by a number of ladies who are interested in the troop, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr. As is natural on such occasion there were no absentees, and the appearance and behavior of the troop was at its best. All kinds of games were indulged in and the boys were ably handled by the young ladies in charge of them. A rather unique competition then followed. Each Scout and Cub was given paper and pencil and told to make a drawing of anyone in the room. Some drawings were very good, others fair and some gave the idea that they would become cartoon artists. Prizes were given for this and were judged as follows:

1st, Scout Jesse Puddy.

1st, Cub,—Sixer Lloyd Eustis. Most comical drawing Cub Dick Morrison.

A glorious supper was set before the boys and full justice was done to the good things prepared for them.

In conclusion the best thanks are due to the ladies who took time and trouble in this connection Mr. and Mrs. Kerr for the use of their home, and to W. Walmsley for kindly donating the prizes.

Midway News

At the Old School House on Feb. 20th, a very enjoyable time was spent when the gentlemen members of the Whist club entertained the ladies. Thirteen tables for progressive whist were provided. The lady's prize was made and donated by Richard Hielscher and was won by Miss Nora Jackson. The gents prize donated by T. Clark was won by the donor. After cards an excellent supper was served, which was provided entirely by the gentlemen. H. Borders took up a collection from the ladies, in a frying pan much to the amusement of all. Dancing occupied the rest of the evening. The gentlemen left nothing to be desired in giving the fair sex a good time.

Joe Landers severely lanced his foot with an axe while working in the woods near Midway.

The local hockey team will play in Greenwood on Friday night.

J. R. Jackson has returned from the coast.

Rock Creek Women's Institute

The February meeting of the Rock Creek Women's Institute was held Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m., Feb. 25th. The meeting was well attended, much interest was taken in the subject of organizing a Boy Scout corps in this vicinity. Major Glossop read very interesting papers on the subject. Major Gray, Mr. Rock and Mr. Morsh spoke of the benefit to the boys and the country, as to making better citizens. It was decided to hold a meeting of parents, boys and others interested, at Riverside Hall on March 11th at 2.30 p. m. A vote of thanks was tendered to the gentlemen for their interest and kind promises of support in the movement. The meeting then proceeded on minor subjects and adjourned by singing God Save the King. Tea was then served by Mrs. E. Madge and Mrs. W. O'Donnell.

Anaconda Shavings

(By Spoke-Shave)

A very pretty wedding took place at the Greenwood Catholic Church on Tuesday, Feb. 21st, when Joe Ricci, of Vancouver, an old timer in this locality was united in marriage to Miss Marie Fiorito, of Anaconda. Rev. Fr. Cocola, of Grand Forks, tied the nuptial knot. Frank Malatta was best man, with Mary Campoletto as bridesmaid. In the evening the happy couple gave a dance some 50 guests being present, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed themselves. At mid-night the supper was served by Mrs. Malletta and Mrs. Bombini. The bride, according to custom, cutting the wedding cake. Dancing continued until 2.30 a.m. Previous to dispersal E. F. Keir on behalf of all present wished them the best of prosperity and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Ricci will leave for Vancouver in a few days where they intend taking up their future residence. Both were the recipients of many presents.

The Social Club dance of Friday last was another success, a good attendance of members being recorded. Lively business discussion took place a thing that terminated disastrously for the bachelors members who were called upon by an unanimous majority to provide the supper for the next dance to be held Friday, March 10th. Ladies are requested to bring extra dishes for this unique event. Bachelor members of the club please take note—a meeting re preparations for this supper will take place at the dance room at 8 p.m. on March 3rd. when Geo. Bryan will preside. Kindly make it a point to be present.

Will the august individual, of incomprehensive meanness, undoubtedly inherited from some Billy Syke's specie, kindly return the rubbers it borrowed without consulting the owners at the Hard Times dance.

Mrs. R. Folvik was the guest of Mrs. Roylance, of Boundary Creek for a few days last week.

Kettle Valley Notes

Captain Davies left on Monday morning's train for Vancouver.

Two carloads of wheat are being shipped from Rock Creek this week.

Major F. E. Glossop went to Grand Forks on Tuesday's train.

Public Opinion And The Law

In most emphatic manner, as recorded by positively overwhelming majorities at the polls, the people of the three Prairie Provinces declared that they not only desired the prohibition of the sale of all intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes but that they wanted a stop put to all importation of such liquors into these Provinces. In a word, the mass of the people expressed themselves as decidedly in favor of complete prohibition as applied to the liquor business in all its forms.

Acting upon the declared will of the people, the Legislatures of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta passed prohibitory laws to the full extent of the powers enjoyed by them, and the Dominion Parliament supplemented such legislation by an Act under which the importation of liquor into these Provinces was made illegal.

It should naturally follow in a presumably law-abiding British country that the traffic in intoxicants for beverage purposes would cease, and that the number of violators of the law would be few and confined to that criminal class to be found everywhere who set all law at defiance. It was to be presumed also that, taken as a whole, the citizens of these Provinces would be alert and united in seeing that the law they had themselves invoked was observed, and that those few who deliberately violatd it were sought out and punished.

If a man sees another setting fire to his neighbor's house, or discovers him in the act of burglary, he does not remain silent and inactive, but immediately notifies the police and gives all the assistance it is in his power to give to have the criminal apprehended and convicted. But if this same citizen witnesses an open violation of the prohibitory liquor laws he will, in nine cases out of ten, yes, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, not only remain silent and inactive, but will actually enjoy a hearty laugh over the spectacle of the law's violation. And if by any chance he is summoned to give evidence in the matter his ignorance of the whole proceeding proves to be simply colossal.

Yet these self same citizens are denouncing the Governments for failure to enforce prohibition, are critical of the moneys being expended in the effort to enforce the law, and are found expressing the opinion that prohibition is a failure. If prohibition is a failure, as these people say, and if the law officers are not wholly successful in enforcing the law, who is responsible? Does the blame rest on the Legislatures which passed the laws at the behest of the voters, or on the Governments, law officers and police who are endeavoring to the best of their ability to have the laws observed? No, the blame rests with the people themselves who, while having respect for other laws, seem to regard prohibition laws as a huge joke.

If bootlegging is rampant; if all manner of vile concoctions are being sold and consumed; if "home brew" is the product of many homes in defiance of the law and to the utter demoralization of hundreds of people, not Legislatures, nor Governments, nor police, but the average citizen, who would be insulted and indignant if he was charged with not being a good citizen but a disloyal one, is alone responsible.

No legislation, no matter how good it may be, nor how well framed, nor how efficiently enforced, can be effective and successful unless it has the sympathy of an overwhelming public opinion and the support of the individual citizen.

It is this lack of public conscience in regard to this question that is bringing the prohibition laws into disrepute. And to the extent that the enactments of the Legislatures and Parliament in this respect are being flouted and violated, all law is weakened and a premium placed on law-breaking and lawlessness. Surely the man or woman who winks at the violation of one law has failed to appreciate the fact that he or she is thereby undermining all the forces of law and order which exist for his or her protection.

In view of the failure of most people to regard the prohibition laws seriously, and the very apparent lack of any public conscience on the issue, one would be inclined to think that the people had changed their views and that there is no such thing as any pronounced public opinion on the question. Nevertheless it is conceded in all quarters that there is strong public opinion in favor of prohibition, and that if the question was again submitted to a vote of the people prohibition would be overwhelmingly sustained.

Under these circumstances it is imperative that all good, law-abiding citizens abandon their present indifference on the subject of the violation of the liquor laws. It is essential if the law be kept on the statute books that it be observed. That can only be done through a united public opinion backing up the law, and actively co-operating with the representatives of constituted authority in seeing that it is respected.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 5

JEHOVAH'S MERCY TO A HEATHEN CITY

That the book of Jonah is historical we believe for the following reasons: First, its record and use in the Scriptures. That the writers of the Bible intended the impression of its historicity is without the shadow of a doubt. The suggestion that it is a parable is absolutely gratuitous. Second, the unbroken testimony of tradition among the Jews is that it is historic. Third, the testimony of Jesus Christ (Matt. 12:39-41). The words of Jesus Christ are final.

I. Jonah's Second Commission (vv. 1, 2).

When called the first time to go to Nineveh, he found the task too great for him. For his unfaithfulness, he was chastised. He repented and God restored his commission. The Lord said to him, "Preach the preaching that I bid thee" (v. 2). God knows how he wants His work done. Happy is the missionary, minister, Sunday school teacher, who preaches God's Word just as He gave it.

II. Jonah's Preaching (vv. 3, 4).

1. His field (v. 3). "Nineveh was an exceeding great city." Not only was the city large, but its inhabitants were noted for their cruelty.

2. His message (v. 4). "Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown." This means that forty days were given by God for repentance ere the judgment would fall. God is long-suffering, not willing that any should perish, but that all should repent (II. Pet. 3:9). Though He is merciful, yet there is a limitation to it. He says, "Yet forty days."

III. The Repentance of Nineveh (vv. 5-10).

1. They believed God (v. 5). They believed that God was speaking to them through the prophet about their sins, and impending judgment.

2. They proclaimed a fast (vv. 5-8). The king and people joined sincerely in this movement. The call was for them to turn away from their sins. Their penitence was genuine, for they not merely put on sackcloth, the visible sign of mourning, but they cried to God (v 8).

3. They reasoned that God would repent (v. 9). Though they had no assurance that God would have mercy, yet they reasoned that the sending of a prophet and the giving of a time before the fall of doom implied that God would be merciful if they repented. They were wise in so doing. We today know that God will have mercy if we repent (Acts 3:19). What utter folly to go on in sin in the face of the assurance that God will judge.

5. God's mercy shown (v. 10). "God saw their works that they turned from their evil way." God's eye is omniscient. Wherever there is a soul who is turning from sin in penitence, He sees. No one has ever went over sin unnoticed by God. God rejoices when a sinner repents (Luke 15:10).

In the book of Jonah we have portrayed the typical history of Israel:

"1. Jonah was called to a world mission, and so was Israel. (2) Jonah at first refused compliance with the divine purpose and plan, and so did Israel. (3) Jonah was punished by being cast into the sea, and so was Israel by being dispersed among the nations. (4) Jonah was not lost, but rather especially preserved during this part of his experience, and Israel is not being assimilated by the nations, but being kept for God. (5) Jonah, repentant and cast out by the fish, is restored to life and action again, and Israel, repentant and cast out by the nations, shall be restored to her former national position. (6) Jonah, obedient, goes upon his mission to Nineveh, and Israel obedient, shall ultimately engage in her original mission to the world. (7) Jonah is successful in that his message is acted upon to the salvation of Nineveh, so Israel shall be blessed in that she shall be used for the conversion of the whole world." Dr. Gray's Commentary.

Suffering Gone She is Enthusiastic

Dame Edmond Roy Singing the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills

For Six Years She Was Troubled With Pains and Aches But Found the Relief She Looked For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Petits Mechins, Matane Co., Que.—(Special).—Rejoicing that she is again in good health after six years of suffering, Dame Edmond Roy of this place is singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"You can tell everyone," says Dame Roy, "that the pain in my side has disappeared and that my strength has come back."

"I suffered for six years," she continues, "I was also troubled with rheumatism, cramps in the muscles, backache and headache. I took only eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

The reason that Dame Roy got such prompt help from Dodd's Kidney Pills is that every one of her troubles is a symptom of Kidney trouble. Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels, and break up colds. The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and in healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

How To Make Quick Bread

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH

An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

Even the woman who prides herself upon being an efficient household manager occasionally finds herself short of yeast bread. And while a diet of quick bread is not to be recommended as a three-times-a-day food every woman should know how to make up a quick bread to help in an emergency.

Tea biscuit or baking powder biscuit takes but twelve to fifteen minutes to bake, while an egg muffin or a plain muffin takes over twenty minutes. It is well to commit to memory the standard proportions for these two quick breads.

Two measuring cupfuls or one pint of flour, four level teaspoonfuls of good baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt—these are the dry ingredients that should be mixed and sifted two or three times.

If you wish to make biscuit, with the tines of a silver fork run in one level tablespoonful of butter or butter substitute until the mixture looks like meal. Cut in enough sweet milk with a knife until the mixture is just stiff enough to be handled on a floured board. Gently pat the mixture into a rectangle one-half inch in thickness. Flour a biscuit cutter each time before cutting biscuits on a well-greased baking pan. Brush over the top with milk and bake in a quick oven twelve to fifteen minutes.

For emergency biscuit enough milk may be added so that the mixture will just about drop from a spoon. The biscuits should be dropped by the spoonful upon a greased plate at least two inches apart. Depending upon the size, these biscuits will bake in as short a time as ten minutes. The emergency biscuit eliminates the trouble of cutting, and thus saves time.

The same proportions of dry ingredients may be use for the muffin mixture. Enough milk to make a drop batter is then beaten in and one or two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or butter substitute is beaten in at the end. If it is desired to enrich this mixture by the addition of an egg the beaten egg is added to about a half cupful of milk and then enough more milk is used to produce a batter that will drop easily but not run from the spoon.

Part graham flour or part rye flour or part bran may be used instead of all wheat flour. One level tablespoonful of sugar may be added. Half a cup of cleaned, boiled currants may be added. The muffin cups should be filled about half full and of course they must have been well greased. Just before removing the muffins from the oven brushing them over with milk will aid you in getting a rich brown appetizing crust.

Mothers, Advice for You!

London, Ont.—"I wish I could tell all the women in the world who suffer with woman's trouble, what a wonderful medicine Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is. My earliest experience with it was during my first expectancy. I became dropsical and my people were quite alarmed about my condition. The doctor's medicine did not seem to reach my trouble at all so my husband urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to please him I did. Before I had finished the second bottle the distress and dropsy left me and I felt in absolutely perfect health. I had no further trouble from that time on. I afterwards took Favorite Prescription whenever in a nervous rundown condition and it always strengthened and built me up."—Mrs. Lily Stoddart, 438 Ontario St.—

Mrs. Ardiel Says She Was Astonished By The Wonderful Change

"It's no wonder so many people praise Tanlac to the skies—it is different from any other medicine I have ever taken as it does even more than is claimed for it," said Mrs. C. A. Ardiel, 147 Lorne St., West, Vancouver, B.C.

"Three years of suffering from stomach trouble have ended with me in the last few weeks and all on account of the wonderful benefit I have received from Tanlac. When I began taking it nothing agreed with me and I dreaded for mealtime to come round as the sight of food nauseated me. My sleep was broken, my nerves were on edge and I felt as miserable as a human being could feel.

"All this was quickly changed by Tanlac and I am like a different person now. I never dreamed a medicine could do what Tanlac has done for me."

Alberta's Seed Fair

Oats and Wheat Almost Perfect, Says Judge F. S. Grisdale

Never has there been such an exhibit of grain in Alberta, both as to quality, and quantity, as is shown at the provincial seed fair held in Edmonton, stated F. S. Grisdale, following the completion of his work as judge at that fair. In some of the oat classes the first four prize winners were so close that the decisions might have been reversed without much criticism. They were almost perfect, he stated.

This was true of both oats and wheat, and compared most favorably with the first prize winners at world competitions. There was a splendid exhibit of alfalfa seed, some of it, though not all from the irrigated districts. One sample that came into the prize money was grown way north of Vermilion, and it was suggested by Mr. Grisdale that if such good seed can be grown in clovers and alfalfa, it should be put on a commercial scale.

Ontario Loss in Oat Crop

Cost Farmers More to Raise than the Selling Price

That the oat crop raised in Ontario last year actually cost the farmers of the province more to raise than they obtained from its sale is indicated in striking manner by the results of the acre-profit competition. Young farmers from eight counties competed and only one, Cecil Luther, of Lennox and Addington, was credited with a profit, and then only $1.43.

The results with potatoes showed better profits, running from $57.40 to $536.80 on the test acre.

More Light on Power Alcohol

British Are Continuing Investigation Of Important Problem

The possibilities of securing an abundant source of alcohol for power purposes affords a question which deeply concerns many regions of the world. The British Department of Scientific and Industrial Research is continuing investigations of this important problem. A special officer was appointed to collect data from different parts of the world as to the possibility of producing alcohol in bulk from local vegetable materials. The actual building up of alcohol from various substances such as calcium carbide has also been carefully studied. At present the results attained are not altogether promising; and the British authorities consider that the best prospect lies in evolving a process, either mechanical or bacteriological, of producing alcohol commercially from tropical vegetation or waste vegetable materials.

WHAT DOES YOUR MIRROR REVEAL?

Does it Tell You That Your Blood is Thin and Watery

When a growing girl becomes pale, complains of exhaustion, dizzy spells, headache and stomach trouble, she should know that these things are evidences of anæmia or bloodlessness. A glance in the mirror will tell the story. There is immediate need for a tonic, a system builder that will completely restore the missing qualities to the blood that every part of the body will share in the benefit.

A good example of the result of wise treatment in cases of this kind is given by Mrs. George R. Smith, of Quensport, N.S., who says: "I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly for what they have done for my three daughters. My eldest daughter, Edna, at the age of 14, became run down, and I got her three boxes of the pills, and by the time she had taken them she was in good health, and is now a healthy married woman. My second daughter, Martha, at the age of 16, was awfully run down and pale. In fact she had always been a delicate child, but gradually became worse. At last she could not go upstairs without having to sit down and rest, and could not even do any kind of light work without being greatly fatigued. Finally I gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them we found they did her more good than all the other medicine she had taken, and she is now in good health. Then my younger daughter, Greta, now 15, became so run down that she had to stop going to school. But after taking eight boxes of the pills she is now a big, healthy girl. I feel that after what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in my home there can be no doubt of their value, and I hope someone else will benefit from our experience."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

First Stamp Dealer Dies

Had Been Conducting Prominent Trade in London Since 1860

London's first stamp dealer, William Simpson Lincoln, has died at the age of 78.

When at school in 1854, Mr. Lincoln began collecting, and became the possessor of about 210 varieties, which he kept in a small book.

Two years later he began exchanging with a fellow collector, and this was soon followed by ventures in dealing. From 1860 onwards he took a prominent part in the trade, conducting his business from a small shop in High Holborn. Over twenty years ago he moved to his present premises.

Cream Lace Lightens Black Satin Frock

By Marie Belmont

Black satin is the fabric for spring and when it is developed with the new skirt of circular movement the effect is charming indeed.

The frock above of soft black satin finds individuality in its insets of cream colored radium lace and its attractive metal girdle. The circular skirt is reappearing and promises wide popularity. A compromise of this mode is sometimes seen in circular insets at either side.

Veritably, dresses may be built around fancy girdles this spring. The girdle here is of two slender silver chains enclosing at intervals square ornaments containing flat red stones.

The Cause of all the Trouble

Low Price of Farm Products Affecting Trade

The field crops of Canada had in 1921 an aggregate value of $985,949,000, according to the preliminary estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The value placed on the crops of Quebec was $192,773,000, but revised figures have raised the amount to $219,154,000, a substantial betterment of $26,381,000. Whether final figures will increase in estimate for other provinces is uncertain, but what is sure is that the income of the farmers of Canada has suffered a serious diminuation in the last two years. In 1919, field crops had a value of $1,537,170,000, so that it may be assumed the harvest of 1921 represented a loss of not less than half a billion dollars, or approximately one-third in gross value. The loss in net return should not be so great, since the price of farm labor was less than in 1919, and the cost of commodities purchased by farmers had also been somewhat reduced. The fact remains, however, that $500,000,000 taken out of the revenue of farmers from field crops must adversely affect the general trade of Canada, and necessitate the carrying over of loans to farmers until another crop has been gathered under more favorable economic conditions. —Montreal Gazette.

Work of Land Speculators

Edge Has Not Yet Been Taken Off Western Progress

"The Premier of Manitoba is sharpening the axe for land speculators," says the Toronto Globe, which adds: "But not before land speculation has taken the edge off Western progress." The Globe is mistaken. The edge has not been taken off Western progress, except as Western progress has been affected by the same world conditions that affect the progress of Toronto. And it will be Western progress principally that will later send Toronto's unemployed back from the streets to the factories.—The Calgary Herald.

Hens Pay the Rent

Industry Has Been Thoroughly Organized in Orkney Islands

Agricultural co-operation is booming in remarkable fashion in the far north of Scotland. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that the poultry industry has been more thoroughly organized in the Orkney Islands than in any other part of Britain. Eggs to the estimated value of £350,000 are exported every year. One of the district co-operative societies has an annual turnover of £10,000 for poultry and eggs—or more than four times the rental of the district embraced by the society. Last year one of thirteen co-operative societies collected and sold 79,862 dozens of eggs at the average price of 2s. 2d. per dozen, approximately £8,600. And the co-operative societies' collections, large though they are, are only a fraction of the eggs produced in the islands. Certainly the reproach that it "dies an undischarged bankrupt" cannot be levelled against the Orkney hen. On the contrary, it is winning honor as the hen that pays the rent.

If you look up at the stars on a clear night, you will often notice that some of them appear to twinkle as if their light keep increasing and diminishing.

The stars do not actually move, nor is the effect due to any fault with your eyes. The Policy of Delay

Germany Hoping to Get Out of Reparations Payment

The prolonged shuffling and repeated delays of the German Government in the matter of reparations have all the marks of a policy deliberately calculated. To gain time, to tire out the allies, to hope that something lucky may turn up in the chapter of accidents—those have been the obvious motives. We are now more than two years from the signing of the treaty of peace. In that period Germany, with a population of 60,000,000, has paid only about half the sum which France, with a population not much more than half hers, paid to Germany in the two years following 1870.—New York Times.

Feeding the Colt

Hay and Roughage Should be Supplemented With Grain

There are not many farmers but what will agree, that if you stunt the colt, you stunt the horse; and that if you have a stunted yearling you seldom obtain a good mature horse. On the other hand, a growthy yearling does not need the feed nor care afterwards that the stunted one demands. In order to get the growth in the winter, it is necessary that the colt be fed some grain in connection with hay and roughage. If timothy or prairie hay are fed as roughage, the grain must be of nitrogenous character, as oats and bran. If good alfalfa or clover hay is accessible for the colt, these feeds with oats will make a very desirable ration. Young colts make larger growth than older horses in proportion to the feed consumed, and hence it is a paying proposition to put grain into the young stock.

The Magic Pills

The following clever verse was written by Ernest Harker, specially for the Musical Revue Play give in Rock Creek on Friday last:

It's a fine old crowd that's gathered here
To take their Magic Pills.
They are guaranteed to cure cold feet,
And all your minor ills.

They'll drive the corns right off your feet
They really are worth buying.
They'll change your sorrow into smiles,
And stop the baby crying.

Times may be bad, they could be worse,
We've all enough to eat,
So cheer up boys and don't begrudge,
The dollar for your seat.

The sawmills' tried to kill this town
They nearly did you bet,
They ran away with most our logs,
And they haven't paid up yet.

But things are looking up I see,
Why Ames is back, lo' lummy,
He's looking fine and fit you know,
God bless his little tummy.

Billy Johnson's coming to live in town,
At least that's our belief.
He's made his pile at ranching.
By selling five cent beaf.

He's going in for gardening,
When he gets his ground laid out.
Let's hope he doesn't flood the market,
With spuds and sour-krout.

Arthur Rusch is ready to fix your car,
If your spark doesn't get any better,
He'll make her go, you can rest assured,
And adjust your carburetter.

He's courting a nice little girl just now,
Its catching like the flu.
Let's hope he will win her heart some day,
To help him struggle through.

Then Jimmy Pittendrigh is seeking a girl.
Since he lost the little teacher,
He's not so tall as he used to be,
Through stooping down to reach her.

Then there's Harker and Pawsey, in a nice little home,
It really seems absurd,
But a fact is a fact whatever you say,
It's a cage without a bird.

Let's hope the miners in the creek,
Will find the precious metals,
Sam Johnson's built his villa there,
And must intend to settle.

Then there's a poultry business started,
Just down at Kettle Valley,
So if your fond of chickens,
That is the place to rally.

Major Gray surrounded with hens,
He's gathering eggs all day.
He'll stick to his task as a poultryman,
Till he makes the roosters lay.

The ranchers occasionally come to town,
With hay seeds stuck in their gills,
But this is the night they all turned out,
The night of the Magic Pills.

Well I hope you've enjoyed these Magic Pills,
I trust they will work alright,
They are meant to act quite gently,
And not keep you up all night.

Rock Creek Women's Institute

EDITOR THE LEDGE,
Sir:

In reference to a communication appearing in your issue of Feb. 23rd, the members of the Rock Creek Women's Institute wish to state that Mrs. McLennan was correct in stating that the resolution referred to by her, was not passed at the annual meeting, but it was passed at the first regular monthly meeting held on January 28th at which she was not present. The misunderstanding probably grew out of the fact that the account of the two meetings occurred under one heading.

Providence Mine

EDITOR THE LEDGE,
Sir:

Referring to an item by President of Board of Trade in last week's issue, stating it is contended that Providence bulkhead or dam is of no use to Providence mine, and a menace to an adjoining property. This not contended by mining authorities, some who came here as requested at no small expense to the public it is stated; and the bulkhead was built to prevent Providence Creek from running into the mine, which purpose it serves.

Characters circulating similar rumors have played an important part in handicapping this town by depriving it of a payroll this winter, causing several families to suffer.

Rock Creek Musical Revue

Huge Success. Greatly Appreciated

Audience Calls for the Author. Presentations Made

The eagerly anticipated play "The Magic Pills" took place at the Co Operative Hall at Rock Creek on the evening of the 24t ult. produced by the Rock Creek Dramatic Society under the auspices of the Women's Branch of the United Farmers of British Columbia. It is no exaggeration to say that there has never been such a dramatic success in the neighborhood before, which was a great encouragement to those responsible for its production for future efforts.

The story of the play, like most modern revues, is of a simple nature and is used as a foundation for songs, dances and other dramatic effects. It can be told very shortly.

A silk merchant in New York being harrassed by his wife's extravagances, makes the acquaintance of a quack doctor, who prescribes certain magic pills, which, when taken, will remove him from his present worries and transplant him to other lands which in this case were Japan, Egypt and Spain, in each of which he still has a wife who unfortunately for him seems no better than his first one.

It would take too long to describe his various adventures in the different climes, and readers auxious to know will probably have an opportunity to satisfy their curiosity at a future date.

As a general criticism it can be said that the scenery, "make up" and dresses could hardly have been improved on. The company showed they had profitted by careful rehearsing and spoke their lines well and audibly and the whole affair went with a swing which is sometimes lacking in amateur preformances.

Where so many performers take part, it is impossible to mention everyone, but it can be said that all have every reason to be satisfied with themselves.

The first act, an office scene in New York, was remarkable for its accuracy of detail. Eileen and Teddy Pittendrigh acted to the manner born and Messrs. Rock and March elicited much merriment from the audience.

The second act, Japan, was particularly noticeable for the prettiness of the scenery and the dainty dancing and singing of the Japanese Geisha girls. The song "Three Little Maids" scoring a well merited encore and made onlookers long to visit the land of the Chrysanthemums. A special feature was a song by Miss King which was rendered in a highly artistic manner.

The humorous of which there was plenty was ably provided by Messrs Paley Wilson and H. Martin.

The third act, Egypt, if less dainty and pretty struck a sterner note with a more sustained story. Paley Wilson scored a well deserved success with his "Cobbler Song," as did Mrs. Rock and Mr. Hatton in their rendering of "Cigarette." Steve Pittendrigh was remarkably good for a first effort. Commander Lewis and his band of robbers amply justified their own words by their appearance and actions, viz that they were "offenders and assassins" and we should certainly prefer to meet them in a well lighted hall than in a lonely spot on a dark night.

May and Jessie Caldwell in their Symbal Dance scored a great and well deserved success. When it comes to describe Miss Hookham's Eastern dance, the pen falters and words become mere things. It was a revelation of ravishing enchantment and the writer has the sworn statement of the manager of the Co-Operative that several young gentlemen, at the termination of the aforesaid dance, asked him if he had any pills that would take them to Egypt. We fancy they could have not been in stock as they are still at large in Rock Creek (that is the young gentlemen, not the pills.)

The Fourth and last act, Spain, was very noticable for its scenic effects, specially painted by Messrs. Bodman and Gane, with a most stricking and artistic effect.

Mr. Hatton established himself as a favorite from the start with his excellent humorous songs and acting. Capt. Atkinson as a Spanish Toreador, looked and acted the part, but we must regretfully confess that we did not approve of the colors of his tie, oh shades of the Morning Post. Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Gane in their Spanish dance successfully made the young gentlemens' thoughts waver between Japan, Egypt and Spain by their grace and agility. Mr. Smith sang the "Bandillero" with effect and Mr. Bodman as the English guide plainly showed that he was an old hand at the game of acting.

Thus terminated the play for the first time leaving the proper wife in the proper husband's arms.

On the fall of the curtain, a tableau of all the performers was staged and on the cry of author from the audience a presentation from the company was made to Mrs. Fenwick Wilson. Some beautiful carnations which were to have been presented to her and Miss Hookham by admiring friends unfortunately did not arrive in time and were presented next day.

This description would not be complete without mentioning Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Hamilton who so ably accompanied the performers, and also Messrs. Bodman and Gane who under great difficulties "made up" the company in a manner that could not have been beaten by a professional.

Finally Mrs. Fenwick Wilson, author and producer, business manager, stage manager and ballet mistress, it would be agreed by all, that only by her efforts could the play have taken place. Only by one endowed with the courage, tact, resourcefulness and energy could it have been made the undoubted success it was.

The play was followed by supper served by Mrs. McLennan and Mrs. Martin and sustained the high reputation of the Farm Women for their culinary efforts. And the dancing, people never seemed to require a rest, but that is not surprising with the floor improving every moment and the music, well! we need only mention that among others we saw Mrs. Kennedy, Victoria Shillcock and Mrs. Clark at the piano, Messrs. Crawford and Whiting with their violins and Mr. Snell with the drums.

Alas, all good things come to an end and at about 5 a.m. the mundane things of this earth began to obtrude themselves, from a vision of petite Japanese Geishas lovely languorous Eastern beauties, passionate Spanish Signoras, we awoke to the fact that sleep is a physical necessity, that cows must be milked, that chickens must be fed and so happily but tired and rather cold we wended our way home, buoyed up by the hope that the event was but the first of a series.
