WANTS, Etc.

FOR SALE.—New farm wagons. 3, 3¼ and 3½ inch. Made in Canada. At Kinneys.

So far this year the government has paid $5,750 bounties on sea lions at $2 each. Most of the lions were killed off the north end of Vancouver Island, and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

If J. L. Stamford is really serious about mining around Nelson he should begin by fulfilling the promises he made years ago, and by which he obtained money from people who had faith in his word, note and honor.

Around Home

James Galloway was in town on Saturday.

Grand Forks will hold a tax sale upon October 15.

Sam McConnell is indisposed, and is in the hospital.

Flour is cheaper in Grand Forks than Greenwood.

Nat Darling and Al Campbell were in town last week.

There will be a baby show at the Fair on October 1st.

The Skylark is shipping a carload of ore this week.

No liquor licence will be granted at Deadwood next year.

Just now all drinking water should be boiled before use.

John Meyer of the 54th Battalion is in town upon sick leave.

At Anyox the Granby smelter is treating 3,000 tons of ore daily.

An assay office is being built at Franklin by James Thompson.

Jimmy McDougall of the 54th returned to Vernon last Friday.

At Molson last week several horses were sold for war purposes.

BORN.—On September 15, to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Charlton, a son.

The Red Cross bazaar and dance last Thursday netted about $450.

The Victoria mine at Nelson is again shipping ore to Greenwood.

Exhibitors should make their entries early for the Greenwood Fall Fair.

Angus Munn and Wm. Lennie, of the Dominion customs were in town last week.

Ola Lofstad received word this week, that his eldest sister had died in Denmark.

In Franklin Camp, ten men are developing the Gloucester claim for the Granby.

Ben Peterson recently returned to Hazelton, from a prospecting trip in the Cibola district.

Ore from Buchanan's mine at Boundary Falls is being treated at the Greenwood smelter.

Mr. Landers had a leg broken last week, while branding calves on his ranch near Midway.

The Emma mine at Denoro will be pumped out for examination by the B. C. Copper Co.

A new stock of shotguns, rifles, ammunition and hunters supplies has just arrived at Kennedy's store.

At the Fair on October 1st, there will be rock drilling, log rolling, tug-of-war, and other sports.

A. T. Garland, of Kaslo, was in town last week. His son Ralph is the champion swimmer of Kaslo.

The Great Northern railway is again only running trains three times a week between Oroville and Princeton.

Some of the section men on the K. V. Ry. have been inoculated with the serum that is said to prevent typhoid.

D. A. MacDonald and K. C. B. Frith are spending a week at Beaverdell with their mutual friend, F. F. Ketchum.

Franklin camp has a lively appearance. A mining expert from San Francisco was there last week getting samples.

Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Sept. 26th, service at 11 a. m. The beautiful "Rally Day" service will be used. All welcome.

Two hunters from Midway shot a grouse. A coyote got away with the bird. The hunters avenged the act by killing the coyote.

Fred J. Smyth, editor of the leading paper in Princeton made a flying trip to Moyie last week, to take a look at his old cabin and other treasures.

The Farmers Institute will hold a Fall Fair in Larsen's Hall, at Rock Creek, upon Friday, October 22. There will be dancing in the evening.

Fred Frederick, of Phoenix, took 14 prizes for his Rhode Island Whites at the Spokane Fair. His poultry should do well at the Greenwood Fair.

This summer on his ranch at Grand Forks, A. D. Morrison raised 2,500 pounds of grapes. He has 19 varieties and they all do well. Growing grapes should become a great industry in the Kettle Valley.

Henry Lee died on Monday at his ranch near Midway from senile decay, aged 85 years. He is survived by his wife and several sons and daughters. The funeral took place at Midway on Wednesday.

Judging from the heated discussion in the postoffice the other evening, there is more than one man in the city who has a grievance against the "judge."

Private Clifford J. Schenck of the 48th Battalion is the youngest bomb thrower among 40,000 in England. He expects shortly to be throwing bombs in France.

It is a close season for Chinese pheasants. The Chinese hen pheasants look like prairie chickens, and hunters are warned not to shoot them. There are quite a number of these pheasants at and around Jackson's ranch near Midway.

The Women's Institute of Greenwood wish to publicly tender their most hearty thanks and appreciation to the residents of Greenwood and district for their very generous support and contributions, which so materially helped to make the "Red Cross Bazaar" such a great success.

Since the "pink teas" were abolished, the police court in Greenwood does very little business, and it looks like a useless bill of expense to the taxpayers. The court never was much of a terror to unbroken evil-doers. In recent months the odor of perfumes has disappeared from its chairs, and the old court has seen its best days.

Tulameen Mining

Mr. Norcross, superintendent of the B. C. Copper Co., returned from Bear Creek the end of last week, where he has been looking over the mining properties owned by Jack Thynne, E. Todd, Louis Marcott, Judge Murphy, Wm. Armstrong, Chas. F. Law, and also the Swede group owned by John Holm and Golan Williams. He spoke as being well satisfied with his trip of inspection and took samples from all these properties. He expects to be up again in a very short time.

There is considerable placer mining going on up Tulameen, some very fine specimens of gold and platinum being taken out.

The Great Northern Railway will put up all their ice at Tulameen this winter.

The Coalmont Collieries announce that they will open up again shortly.

Chas. Connell has a large number of men opening up his silver-lead property on Treasure Mountain.

Mining and other things, in a general way, are taking on a brighter color, and activity is noticed along these lines. Crops, hay, grain and vegetables are excellent all through the Otter Valley.—Merritt Herald.

Skidegate Gold

What promises to be a rich gold discovery has been made at Skidegate on the Queen Charlotte Islands. The discovery was made by a well known mining man, Mr. McLennan.

The gold lead, which was located close to the Indian reserve, runs into the reserve, so that the Indians may reap a rich reward. The values are estimated at from $200 to $2,000 a ton.

The values will be investigated. The Indians and other residents are very much excited over the new discovery.—P. R. Journal.

Perfidious Albion

One of the German professors busy attacking Britain is Hugo Munsterberg. Here is one of his recent efforts:

"It is no wonder that England has so many Colonies. Look how she got them! It's the system! England, you know, would send an expedition headed by a missionary to some outlandish place or other. The missionary would disembark on the white beach. He would gather the natives together under a palm, and, holding up his hand, he would say, 'Let us pray.' Then when all the natives had their eyes shut in pious prayer, up would go the English flag."

Western Float

Another meat shop has been opened in Trail.

In Trail this month 42 buildings are being erected.

The police have cleaned the hop joints in Kelowna.

Milton Wegner of Molson has been adjudged insane.

A plant for evaporing apples is being built at Kelowna.

Sid Norman is working the Great Western mine near Northport.

In Barkerville a boring machine is drilling holes, next to Kelley's hotel.

The population of Oroville is growing, and there are no houses to rent.

In July there were 201 births in Calgary, the same number as in the previous July.

Seven men are working at an antimony mine near Lillooet. F. A. Brewer is in charge.

This summer Phil McDonald and Charles French prospected in several ways from Rupe.

The Chicamun group of mineral claims at Orient has been sold to New York men for $200,000.

John Finlayson is the oldest prospector in Alaska. He lives in Wrangel, and is 103 years old.

On the west side of Slocan lake at Trout Creek some work is being done on the Fairy Queen mineral claim.

The editor of the Orient Sentinel sells gun licenses. Novel way for an editor to make the price of his mush.

Bill Doyle is near Seward, Alaska. At one time Bill was the champion bear hunter of Three Forks.

The war has caused several sky pilots in Fernie to embrace hard labor. It will probably be their salvation.

In Canada during the past year the consumption of liquor, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes has greatly decreased.

Alex Sproat recently appeared in the police court at Port Alberni charged with allowing his horses to run at large.

Ashley Holden of the Orient Sentinel did not get out a paper last week. He was too busy getting married.

Recently 4,000 boxes of Alberta butter were shipped from Vancouver to New Zealand. The table has turned over.

This summer several galena claims were located, between Carnes and La Form creeks, in the Big Bend above Revelstoke.

During August 70 pounds of butter were produced at Creston, from the milk of one Holstein cow. This is a record for Kootenay cows.

Charles Walmslay has an hotel in Seward, Alaska Near the same place Jimmy Godfrey has an interest in a shipping copper mine.

Captain John Irving of Victoria will return ta the sea, and command a freight steamer, running between Vancouver and Australia.

Dan Nordberg died in Chilcotin last month aged 84 years. He was a Cariboo pioneer, and built the first log cabin where Quesnel now stands.

Since acquiring the Kaslo Hotel in Kaslo, Walsh & Haydon have made it one of the best hotels in Kootenay, and are rapidly building up a large trade.

Last week the editor of the Oroville Gazette, was presented with a watermelon that weighed 40 pounds. He cut it with a crosscut saw, and was happy for a week.

J. B. Daniel, editor of the Prince George Herald is training for an aviator, and will join the British aeroplane brigade. He may soon be an angel and have real wings.

In Kaslo the other night a water closet caught on fire, and in less than five minutes the brigade had the conflagration under control. Kaslo has one of the best fire departments in Kootenay.

W. S. Greevy of Altoona, Pa., is making a mineralogical survey of the Lemon Mining Co.'s claims near Camp McKinney. The company may expend $50,000 upon these properties next year.

The Granby gets coke for its Anyox smelter from Cumberland. It is stated that the company recently signed a contract for a five year supply, about 250,000 tons.

At the city hall in Kaslo, W. E. Hodder has the biggest geranium in the world. It is 12 feet high, and more than six feet wide. He accounts for its great size from the fact that he placed grouse bones at its base.

Charles Rendell's Death

Corporal John McNeill in a letter to Mr. Simms, of Vernon, tells how Charles Rendell was killed in the war. On the 18th of August in company with other soldiers he was fixing some trenches when the enemy began to shell them. While seeking shelter from these shells Charles was wounded in the back by a piece of shrapnel, and died that night from his wounds. All his comrades, among whom were several Vernon boys felt his death very keenly. He was greatly beloved by all his comrades, and was a man who never skirked his duty. He proved himself to be a brave soldier, and a thorough gentleman, either under fire or any other condition of warfare. It is the wish of the Platoon Commander, N. C. O., and men with whom he was associated that you would convey to Mrs. Rendell and family their deepest sympathy for them in their terrible bereavement. We have lost a good comrade; they have lost a good husband and a kind father. He died as a soldier should, doing his duty.

B. C. Timber

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 22.—Under the direction of the Hon. the Minister of Lands, an attractive pamphlet entitled "British Columbia Timber" has been prepared for distribution among the buyers in overseas markets. It is intended to draw the attention of importers overseas to the forest products of the province, and especially to the facilities for exporting British Columbia lmuber. Consisting of nearly forty pages, and containing nearly thirty illustrations, the pamphlet treats of the principal exportable woods, their qualities and uses, together with information concerning their strength values, and suitability for various uses.

A Hop Camp

Any visitor to Agazziz now would find much interest in a visit to the hop fields, a few miles from Agassiz, along the shores of the Frazer.

In two fields, of about 1000 acres, more than a thousand Indian men and women are engaged in picking, earning from $2.00 to $4.00 per day. This is the annual harvest for the Indians of the Fraser Valley from Lytton to Chilliwack. The season lasts from a month to six weeks and this year there is a big crop.

The Indians with their children live in camps arranged like barracks, some of wood, some of canvas, but all perfectly clean and well ventilated. In central aisles are huge cooking ranges on which they cook their salmon, beans, potatoes and bread. Miles of clothes line provide for the laundry of the camp which is an Indian village magnified but concentrated. —Hope Review.

Here is a Hindu fable of the creation of a women. It's a fable far more poetical than our Christian belief, which tells us that woman was formed out of a man's rib. Read on:

"Twashri, at the beginning of time, created the universe and man; but when he came to create woman, he found that he had exhausted his materials, and no solid elements remained.

"Twashtri mused a while. Then an idea came to him, and, in order to make the first woman, he took moonlight and the undulations of the serpent, the slenderness of reeds and their soft movements in the wind, the tears of a raincloud, the velvet of flower petals, the grace of a roe, the tremor of grasses, the vanity of a peacock, the softness of the down on a dove's breast, the hardness of diamonds, and the sweetness of honey, the cruelty of a tiger and the warmth of fire, the cold of snow, the chatter of a jay, and the coo of a dove and out of these things Twashtri created woman.

The average man thinks his intelligence is above the average.

LACK of confidence prevents good times.

THE greatest mining boom in the history of America is just now in blossom.

THE spirit and enterprise of a community, is always mirrored in its local newspaper.

IT is a mockery of justice, to permit a stuttering individual, to hold a judicial position.

IT is easy for anyone to cure themselves of the booze habit. Cut out meat and condiments, and eat plenty of fruit.

PROHIBITING the use of meat will benefit the people more, than the prohibition of liquor. We need to reform our eating habits more than anything if we would be sane, happy and healthy.

THE Hedley Gazette is in the throes of a religious controversy. As all religions are founded upon theory and fiction, that paper will never run out of copy while its columns are open to the advocates of any particular kind of theology. The Golden Rule is all we need on this earth, and the rest of religion is excess baggage.

Goats and Their Milk

Mr. V. D. Hondt, Goat Heaven Farm, Spangle, Washington, writes in the Goat Keeper as follows:

On an area of 15,000 square miles Switzerland produces yearly $8,000,000 worth of goats and goat products. Spain, Italy and Greece are heavy producers of goats and goat products.

France, Belgium, and Germany are heavy producers, and are noted for the high milking qualities of their stock.

In Great Britain the British Goat Society (under supervision of the government) yearly publishes a stud register giving the names and owners of pedigree stud goats selected by the committee, and recommended for stock purposes.

In Bavaria the country is noted for its larger number of centenarians. This fact is attributed by doctors to the daily use of Yoghurt, a product of goat's milk.

Goat's milk being very digestable and rich, is recommended by doctors for the use of babies and invalids.

The goat is immune from the dreaded disease tuberculosis, or the white plague, so common among cattle and people.

With millions of acres of the finest brush land in the world lying idle in the mountains, with the babies in the cities clamoring for proper food, the Pacific Northwest, and in fact the whole United States offers opportunities for the milk-goat industry, the possibilities of which can hardly be estimated.

Rapid Progress

A servant in South-east London was telling her mistress the other day of the boasting indulged in by the servant next door about her young man in khaki.

"I can't understand how he's got on so fast," she remarked. "He's only been in the army a few months, yet she told me in November that he was a corporal, last week she said he'd been made a sergeant, and now he s to be court-martial."

Mines and Mining

Ore was encountered a few days ago in the lowest tunnel on the Freddie Lee, situated up Cody gulch, and being operated by A. W. McCune. The find consisted of only a small stringer and is regarded as encouraging. This tunnel, which is designed to open up the property at depth, is now in 270 feet, and, according to indication, has about 60 more feet to go before getting underneath the main ore shoot of the mine. The Freddie Lee was one of the first shippers of the Slocan, and for a time, prior to the advent of transportation, ore had to be packed for a long distance to water transportation.

It is reported that the Silver Hoard has closed a contract for a 50-ton daily capacity mill, to be installed as soon as the building can be erected and machinery assembled. The decision of the directors to provide a concentrator is said to have been based on the report of the consulting engineer, Harold Lakes, who has been conducting a milling test of a 50-ton shipment of Silver Hoard ore at the Canadian Consolidated mill at Rossland. It is said that Mr. Lakes' report states that a high percentage of recovery of the values is possible by simple wet concentration, followed by flotation, and the system to be employed in the mill will be devised and the installation superintended by him.

About a hundred tons of high grade ore are ready for shipment from the Mountain Con, which is located several miles above Sandon on the north fork of Carpenter creek, and according to the smelter returns from the last car, Messrs McClurg and Bennett of Sandon, and Yawkey and Poss, of New York and Detroit, who are operating the Con, should do well on their season's operations. The last car slightly netted over ten thousand dollars.

Good progress is being made on the wagon road being constructed to connect the Florence mine, on Princess creek, with the Highland concentrator at Cedar creek. The mill, which is owned by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., has been secured by the Wolfe interests for the treatment of ore from the Florence mine, and will be in operation shortly. Definite plans as to the means of haulage to be employed have not yet been decided upon, but it is stated that caterpillar tractors are being considered. The Florence is now in shape to deliver a big tonnage of milling ore, and negotiations have been in progress for the securing of a market of 200 tons of zinc per month which is expected the property will be able to ship.

After being compelled to store its zinc product for the last three months, the Rambler-Cariboo has favorable prospects of securing a zinc contract with Denver or Kansas City smelters, making possible the marketing of 500 tons held in reserve, according to Dr. W. B. McPhee, who returned to Spokane a few days ago from a trip to the mine. The mine is producing 400 tons of silver-lead concentrates and zinc per month. The last zinc contract expired May 25 after the shipment of four cars that netted a total of approximately $15,000. "The Denver and Kansas City zinc companies are evidently in the market for our zinc and terms are being considered," Dr. McPhee is reported as saying. "The mine is now working 45 men, operations being underway in tunnels Nos. 3, 7, 8, 10 and 12. In tunnel No. 10 a face of five feet of ore has been opened. The silver-lead concentrates now being shipped are bringing from $1800 to $2000 a car and the crude ore about $2500,"—Kaslo Kootenaian.

When Jamie sat quiet for any length of time, his mother always trembled. It usually meant some question best defined as a "poser."

And on this occasion he hadn't moved for ten minutes. Then it came: "Mother, do angels sleep?"

"Yes, dear, I suppose so."

Do they lie down, mother? How can they. with those big wings?"

"I'm sure I don't know, Jamie. I've never thought about it."

Silence again, and she hoped he had forgotten but Jamie was thinking deeply. "I've got it, mother," he cried at last. "I'll bet they roost!"

No News Value

A "cub" reporter on an up State paper was sent out by the city editor to get a story on the marriage of a young society girl and a man well known in the city.

The "cub" was gone about an hour and then returned and went aimlessly over to his desk, by which he sat down. Shortly afterwards the city editor noticed his presence and his evident idleness. "Here, kid," shouted the superior, "why aren't you at work on that wedding?"

"Nothing doing" replied the boy.

"Nothing doing? What do you mean? Didn't the wedding take place?"

"Nope, the bridegroom never showed up, so there ain't nothin' to write."—Philadelphia Times.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations.

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district inwhich the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.
